a His first care was to restore religion.

3 And wee will bring againe the a arke of our God to vs: for we regarded it not in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the congregation was content that he should doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

2.Sam.6.2. b That is, Nilus.

c Oza punished because hee tooke vpõ him an office whereunto he was not called, for it was the priests office, Num.4.15: so that all good intents be condemned, except they be commanded by the word of God.

11 And Dauid was out of quiet, because the Lorde had rent a rent in Oza: and hee called the name of that place, The renting of Oza, vnto this day.

12 And Dauid was afrayde of God that day, saying, Howe shall I bring the arke of God home to me:

13 And so Dauid brought not the arke home to him to the citie of Dauid: but caried it into the house of Obed Edom, a Gethite.

14 And the arke of God remayned with Obed Edom, euen in his house, three moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed Edom, & all that he had.

b Dauid asked counsel at God before he enterprised warre.

11 And

11 And the Lorde sayde vnto him, Goe vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hande. And so they came vp to Baal Perazim, and Dauid smote them there, and Dauid sayde, God hath deuided mine enemies with mine hande, as a man woulde deuide water: and therefore they called the name of that place Baal Perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, Dauid gaue a commandemēt, and they were burnt with fire.

15 And when thou hearest a sounde goe in the toppes of the Mulberie trees, then goe out to battell: for God is gone foorth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistines.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all landes, and the Lorde made all nations feare him.

The xv. Chapter.

12 And sayde vnto them, Ye that are the principall fathers of the Leuites, see that ye bee holy with your brethren, that yee may bring the arke of the Lorde God of Israel, vnto ỳ place that I haue prepared for it.

13 * For because yee were not there at the first, the Lorde our God made a rent among vs, for that wee sought him not as the fashion ought to be.

1. Chro. 13. 10.

14 So the Priestes and the Leuites sanctified themselues, to fetch the arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the childrē of the Leuites bare the arke of God vpō their shoulders, with staues thereon, * as Moses commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

Exod. 25. 14.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe heads of the Leuites, that they should appoynt certaine of their brethren to sing, with instrumentes of musicke, Psalteries, Harpes, and Cimbals, that they might make a sound, and to sing on high with ioyfulnesse.

17 And the Leuites appointed Heman the sonne of Joel, and of his brethren, Asaph the sonne of Berechia, and of the sonnes of Merari, and of their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Cusaia.

18 And with them their brethren of the second degree, Zacharia, Ben-Jaziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaia, Maasiah, Mathathia, Eliphale, Mienia, Obed Edom, and Jeiel, porters.

28 And all they of Israel brought the arke of the Lordes couenant, with shouting & blowing of the Shaulme, and Trumpets, making a noyse with Cymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes.

c It is called a couenant, because it is the signe or sacrament whereby they were put in remembrance of the Lordes couenant made with them.

29 And as ỹ arke of the c couenant of the Lorde came into ỹ citie of Dauid, Michol ỹ daughter of Saul looking out at a windowe, sawe king Dauid dauncing and playing, and shee despised him in her heart.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 SO they brought in the arke of God, & set it in the middest of the tent that Dauid pitched for it: & they offred whole burnt sacrifices, & peace offrings before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an ende of offering the whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, a he blessed the people in the name of the Lord.

a Ye called vpon the name of God, desiring him to prosper the people, and giue good successe to their beginnings.

3 And he dealt to all Israel, both man and woman, a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine.

4 And he appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the arke of the Lorde, and to b shew forth and to thanke and prayse ỹ Lord God of Israel.

5 And Asaph was the chiefe, and next to him Zacharia, Jeiel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Mathathia, Eliab, Benaia, Obed Edom, and Jeiel, with instrumentes, Psalteries, and Harpes: but Asaph made a sounde with Cymbales.

6 Banaia and Jahaziel, Priestes, blewe with Trumpets continually before the arke of the couenant of God.

e Dauid gaue them this Psalme to prayse the Lord, signifying that in all our doinges, the name of God ought to be prayed, & called vpon. Psalm. 105. 1.

7 And that same time Dauid e did appoynt chiefely to thanke the Lord by Asaph and his brethren.

8 * Confesse you [it] vnto God, call vpon his name: cause the people to vnderstande his deuises.

9 Sing vnto him, sing Psalmes vnto him: talke you of all his wonderous workes.

10 Glory yee in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that doe seeke God.

11 Seeke God & his strength: Seeke his face euermore.

12 Remember the marueilous workes that he hath done: his wonders, and the iudgementes of his mouth.

13 O yee seede of Abraham his seruant, yee his chosen children of Jacob, he is God our Lord: his iudgements are in all the earth.

14 He hath bene mindefull alwayes of his couenant (for hee promised a worde to a thousande generations:) euen of his couenant that hee made with Abraham, and of his othe vnto Isahac.

15 And he appoynted the same vnto Jacob for a lawe, and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 16 Saying, Unto thee I will giue the lande of ‡ Chanaan, ‡ the lot of your inheritance.

‡ Kenaan. ‡ Corde, where with portions of inheritance were measured.

19 * Touch not mine anoynted, and do my prophets no harme.

Psalm. 140. 15.

20 * Sing vnto the Lord, all the earth: & shewe from day to day his saluation.

Psalm. 96. 2.

21 Tell of his glory among the heathen: his wonderfull deedes among all nations.

22 For great is the Lorde, and woorthie to bee praysed exceedingly: he is to bee feared aboue all gods.

23 For all ỹ gods of the people are ‖ but idols: but the Lord made heauen.

‖ Vanitie and no god.

24 Prayse and honour are in his presence: strength and gladnesse are in his place.

25 Giue vnto the Lorde, ye kinredes of people: giue vnto the Lord glory and dominion.

26 Giue vnto the Lorde the glory due vnto his name: bring sacrifices, and come before him, and worshippe the Lord in his glorious sanctuarie.

27 Let all the earth feare him: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue.

28 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: and let men tell among the nations that the Lord is king.

29 Let the sea roare, and the fulnesse thereof: let the fieldes reioyce, and all that is therein.

30 Then shall the trees of the wood reioyce at the presence of the Lord: because he commeth to iudge the earth.

31 O giue thankes vnto ỹ Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth euer.

32 And say ye, Saue vs, O God our saluation, gather vs together, and deliuer vs from among the heathen, that we may giue thankes to thy holy name, and triumph in the prayse of thee.

33 Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel for euer and euer: and let all the people say, Amen, and prayse the Lord.

34 And so hee left there before the arke of the Lordes couenant, Asaph and his brethren, to minister before the arke continually, euery day ‖ his dayes worke.

‖ Or, in his course.

35 And Obed Edom and his brethren, three score and eight: and Obed Edom the sonne of Idithun, and Hosa were appoynted to bee porters.

36 And Zadoc the Priest, and his brethren the Priests, Priests, were before the tabernacle of ỹ Lord in the high place that was at Gibeon, 37 To offer whole burnt offrings vnto ỹ Lord, vpon the whole burnt offering altar, perpetually in the morning and euening, according to all that which is written in the lawe of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

38 And with them were Heman and Idithun, and other that were chosen, whose names were expressed, to giue thankes to the Lorde, that his mercy [lasteth] euer.

39 And with them did Heman and Idithun sing with Trumpets & Cimbales, making a sweete melodie with instruments of musicke, and godly songs, and the sonnes of Idithun were porters.

40 And all the people departed euery man to his house, and Dauid returned to blesse his house.

The xvii. Chapter.

12 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Solomon.

1 AND *when Dauid dwelt in his house, he sayde to Nathan the Prophet, Loe, I dwell in an house of Cedar tree, but the arke of the Lords couenant remaineth vnder a curtaines.

*2.Sam.7.1.

a In tentes couered with skinnes.

2 And Nathan sayde vnto Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee.

3 And the same night the worde of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Goe and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lorde, Thou shalt not builde me an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel, vnto this day, but haue gone from tent to tent, and from one dwelling place to another.

b Meaning, wheresoeuer his arke went, which was a signe of his presence.

6 And wheresoeuer I haue b walked with all Israel, spake I euer one worde to any of the Iudges of Israel, whome I commaunded to feede my people, saying, Why haue ye not builte me an house of Cedar tree?

7 Now therefore, thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I tooke thee from the sheepe coate, and from following the sheepe, that thou shouldest bee captaine ouer my people Israel:

8 And I haue bene with thee whithersoeuer thou hast walked, and haue weeded out all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the greatest men that are in the earth.

9 And I haue ordeined a place for my people Israel, and made it fast, so that now they may dwell in their place, and moue no more: neyther shall the children of wickednesse vexe thē any more, as at the beginning.

10 And since the time that I commanded iudges to bee ouer my people Israel, I haue subdued all thine enemies: and I tolde thee that the Lord would builde thee an house.

11 This also shal come to passe: when thy daies bee expired, ỹ thou must go vnto thy fathers, I will rayse vp thy seede after thee, which shall bee of thy sonnes, and I will stablish his kingdome.

12 He shall builde me an house, and I will stablish his seate for euer.

13 *I will bee his father, and hee shall bee my sonne, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee. *2.King.9.14.

14 But I will stablish him in mine house and my kingdome for euer, and his seate shall bee sure for euermore.

15 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, did Nathan tell king Dauid.

16 And Dauid the king came, and sate before the Lord, and said, What am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast promoted me thus farre?

17 And yet this seemed litle in thine eyes, O God: but thou hast also spoken of thy seruants house for a great while to come, and hast looked vpon mee, as vpon a man of high degree, O Lord God.

18 What shall Dauid desire more of thee, for the honour of thy seruant? For thou hast knowen thy seruant.

19 O Lorde, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine owne heart, hast thou done all this magnificence, to shewe all great things.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreouer, what nation on the earth is like thy people Israel, to whom God hath vouchsafed to come, and redeeme them to bee his owne people, and to make thee a name of excellencie and terriblenesse, with calling out nations from before the people whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 Thy people of Israel diddest thou make thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord becamest their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, be true for euer, that thou Lorde doe as thou hast sayde.

24 Let it come to passe, that thy name may bee magnified for euer, that it may be sayde, The Lorde of hostes is the God of Israel, euen the God of Israel, & the house of Dauid thy seruant endureth stable before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast tolde thy seruant that thou wilt build him an house, & therefore thy seruant hath founde in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And nowe Lord, thou art God, and hast promised this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.

27 Now therefore, let it be thy pleasure to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue before thee for euer: For whom thou blessest, O Lord, the same is blessed for euer.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistines, 2 And against Moab, 3 Zoba, 5 Aram, 12 and Edom.

2.Sam.8.1. 1 AND after this, * Dauid smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and tooke Geth, and the townes that longed thereto, out of the handes of the Philistines.

2 And hee smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruantes, and payed him tribute.

3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zoba, vnto Hamath, as hee went to stablish his dominion by the riuer Euphrates.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charets, and seuen thousand horsemen, & twentie thousand footemen, and destroyed all the charets, but reserued of them an hundred charets.

5 And whē the Syrians of Damascus came to helpe Hadarezer king of Zoba, Dauid slue of the Syrians twentie and two thousand.

6 And Dauid put [souldiers] in Syria Damascus, & the Syrians became Dauids seruants, and brought him tribute: and the Lord preserued Dauid in all that he went to.

7 And Dauid tooke the shieldes of golde that were on the seruants of Hadarezer, & brought them to Hierusalem.

8 And from Thebhath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Solomon made the brasen lauatorie, the pillars, and the vessels of brasse.

9 And when Thogu king of Hemath heard, [Or, host.] howe Dauid had beaten all the ‖ strength of Hadarezer king of Zoba, [Or, Ioram.] 10 Hee sent ‖ Hadoram his sonne to king Dauid, to make peace with him, and to blesse him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Thogu had warre with Hadarezer) and [Hadoram brought] all maner of iewels of golde, siluer, and brasse, with him.

11 And king Dauid dedicated them vnto the Lorde, with the siluer & gold that he brought from all nations, from Edom, from Moab, from the children of Ammon, from the Philistines, and from Amalec.

12 And Abisai the sonne of Zaruia slue of the Edomites in the salt valley, eighteene thousand, 13 And put souldiers in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruantes: thus the Lord kept Dauid in all that he tooke in hand.

14 And Dauid raigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and righteousnesse among all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zaruia was ouer the host, and Iosaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder.

16 And Zadoc the sonne of Ahitob, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar, were the Priests, and Sausa was scribe, 17 And Banaia the sonne of Iehoiada, was ouer the Cherethites, & Phelethites; and the sonnes of Dauid were next vnto the king.

The xix. Chapter.

4 Hanan king of the children of Ammon doeth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie against Dauid, 15 and is ouercome.

1 AFter this, * Nahas the king of the 2.Sam.10.2. childrē of Ammon died, and his sonne raigned in his steade.

2 And Dauid saide, I will shewe kindnes vnto Hanon the sonne of Nahas, because his [a] father dealt kindly with me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him ouer the death of his father: and the seruantes of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanon, to comfort him.

a Because Nahas receiued Dauid and his company when Saul persecuted him, he would nowe shewe pleasure to his sonne for the same.

3 But the lordes of the children of Ammon sayde to Hanon, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father in thy sight, that hee hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to [b] search, to looke, and espie out the land?

b The malitious euer interpriete the purpose of the godly in the worse sense.

4 Wherefore Hanon tooke Dauids seruants, and [c] shaued them, and cut off their coates hard by their buttocks, and sent them away.

c They cut off halfe their beardes.

5 And there went certaine and tolde Dauid howe the men were serued: and the king sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the king sayde, Tary at Iericho, vntill your beards be growen, and then returne.

6 And when the children of Ammon saw that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, Hanon and the children of Ammon, sent a thousande talents of siluer, to hire them charets and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria, Maacha, and out of Zoba.

7 And they hyred thirtie and two thousande charets, and the king of Maacha and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselues together from their cities, and came to battell.

8 And when Dauid heard of it, hee sent Ioab and all the host of strong men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and put themselues in aray to battell, before the gate of the citie: & the kings that were come, kept them by themselues backe in the fielde.

10 When Ioab also sawe that the frunt of the battel was against him before and behinde, he chose out of all the chosen men of Israel, and put them in aray against the Syrians.

11 And the rest of the people hee deliuered vnto the hande of Abisai his brother, and they put 12 And he saide, If the Syrians be too strong for me, thou shalt succour me, and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, I will helpe thee.

13 Plucke vp thyne heart, and let vs play the men for our peoples sake, and for the cities of our God: and the Lorde shall doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Joab & the people that were with him, drue nigh, before the Syrians, vnto the battaile: and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians were fled, they ran away likewise before Abisai his brother, & gate them into the citie: & Joab came to Hierusalem.

16 And when the Syrians saw that they were put to the worse before Israel, they sent messengers, & fet out the Syrians that were beyond the ‖river: & Sophach the captaine of the host of Hadarezer, went before them.

‖Or, Euphrates.

17 And it was tolde Dauid: and he gathered all Israel, and went together ouer Jordane, and came, and set vpon them: and when Dauid had put himselfe in aray against the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled before Israel, & Dauid destroyed of the Syrians, seuen thousand charets, & fourtie thousand footemen, and killed Sophac the captaine of the host.

19 And when the seruantes of Hadarezer sawe that they were put to the worse before them of Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and became his seruants: neither would the Syrians helpe the children of Ammon any more.

2.Sam.10.1. 1 And * after ỳ yeere was expired, about the time that kings go out [a warfare] Joab caried out the ‖armie of the host, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came, and besieged Rabba: (but Dauid caried at Hierusalem) while Joab smote Rabba, and destroyed it.

2 And Dauid tooke the crowne of their king from his head, & founde that it had the weight of a talent of golde, and there were precious stones in it, and it was set vpō Dauids head: and he brought also exceeding much spoyle out of the citie.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, & tormented them with sawes & harrowes of yron, and with other sharpe ‖instruments, and so dealt Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon: and Dauid and all the people came againe to Hierusalem.

‖Or, axes.

2.Sam.21.20. 4 After this, * there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistines: at which time Sobochai the Hushathite slue Sippai that was of the children of Rephaim, and they were subdued.

5 And there was battell againe with the Philistines, & Elhanan the sonne of Jair slue Lahemi the brother of Goliah ỳ Gethite, whose speare staffe was like a Weauers beame.

6 And yet agayne there was warre at Geth, whereas was a man of a [great] stature, with foure and twentie fingers and toes, sixe on euery hande, and sixe on euery foote, and was the sonne of ‖Raphah.

[Or, a giant.

7 But when he defyed Israel, Jonathan the sonne of Simea Dauids brother slue him.

The xxi. Chapter.

1 Dauid causeth the people to be numbred. 14 And there die seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

1 AND Satan stoode vp against Israel, & * prouoked Dauid to number Israel. 2.Sam.24.1.

2 And Dauid saide to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe ye, and number Israel, from Beersheba to Dan: and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Joab answered, The Lorde make his people an hundred times so many moe as they be: but my lorde, O king, are they not al my lordes seruants? why then doeth my lorde require this thing? why will my lorde be a cause of a trespasse to Israel?

a Dauid offended in numbring the people, partly because he did it of ambition, but chiefly for ỳ he payed not to the vse of the temple, for euery one numbred halfe a sicle, according to the law.

4 Neuertheless, the kings worde preuailed against Joab: and Joab departed, and walked throughout all them of Israel, and came to Hierusalem againe,

5 And gaue the summe of the number of the people vnto Dauid: & all they of Israel were a thousand thousand, and an hundred thousand men that drue sworde: and Juda was foure hundred, threescore, and ten thousande men that drue sworde.

6 But the Leuites and Beniamin counted he not among them: for the kings worde was abominable to Joab.

7 And the Lorde was displeased with this thing, and smote Israel.

8 And Dauid said vnto God, * I haue sinned exceedingly in doing this thing: and now I beseech thee, doe away the wickednesse of thy seruant, for I haue done very foolishly. 2.Sam.24.9.

9 And the Lorde spake vnto Gad, Dauids ‖Sear, saying,

‖Or, prophet.

10 Goe, and tell Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I giue thee the choyse of three things: choose thee one of them, that I may doe vnto thee.

11 And Gad came to Dauid, and sayde vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde, Choose thee

12 Either three yeeres famine, or three monethes to be destroyed before thine aduersaryes, & that the swoorde of thine enemyes may ouertake thee: or else the swoorde of the Lorde, and pestilence in the land three dayes, and the angel of the Lord destroying thorowout all the coastes of Israel: and now aduise thy selfe what woorde I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid saide vnto Gad, I am in an exceeding straite: let me fall now into the hand of ỹ Lorde (for passing great are his mercies) but let me not fall into the hand of men.

14 So the Lorde sent pestilence vpon Israel: and there were ouerthrowen of Israel threescore and ten thousand men.

2.Sam.24.16. 15 *And God sent the angel vnto Hierusalem to destroy it: and as he was about to destroy, the Lorde beheld, and had compassion on the euill, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is ynough, let nowe thy hand cease. And the angel of the Lorde stoode by the threshing floore of ‖ Ornan the Iebusite.

‖ Or, Arauna.

16 And Dauid lyft vp his eyes, and sawe the angel of the Lorde stande betweene the earth and heauen, hauing a drawen swoorde in his hand, stretched out toward Hierusalem: then Dauid and the elders of Israel which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbred? It is I that haue sinned, and done euill in deede: and what haue these Sheepe done? Let thine hand, O Lord my God, be on me, and on my fathers house: but b not on thy people, that they should be punished.

b Thus he shewed true repentance, and a fatherly care towards his people. 2.Chro.1.1.

18 *And the angel of the Lorde commaunded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lorde in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 And Dauid went vp, according to the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the angel, and his foure sonnes were with him, and hyd themselues: but Ornan was threshing wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid, with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid saide to Ornan, Giue me the place of the threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: thou shalt giue it me for as much money as it is worth, that the plague may ceasse from the people.

23 And Ornan saide vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, & let my lorde the king doe that which seemeth good in his eyes: Loe, I giue thee Oxen also for whole burnt sacrifices, & threshing instruments for wood, and wheate for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And king Dauid sayde to Ornan, Not so, but I will buie it for as much money as it is woorth: for I wil not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer whole burnt offerings without cost.

25 *And so Dauid gaue to Ornã for that place sicles of gold, sixe hundred by weight. 2.Sam.24.24.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lorde, and he heard him from heauen in c fire vpon the altar of whole burnt offering.

c God declared that he heard his request, in that he sent downe fire from heauen, for else they might vse no fire in sacrifice, but of that which was reserued still vpõ the altar, Leuit. Chap.6. verse 13. and came downe from heauen, Leuit. Chap.9. verse 14. as appeared by ỹ punishment of Nadab and Abihu, Leuit. Chap.10. vers. 1.

27 And when the Lorde had spoken to the angel, he put vp his swoorde againe into ỹ sheath of it.

28 At that time, whẽ Dauid saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, he vsed to offer there:

29 (For the tabernacle of the Lord which Moses made in the wildernesse, and the altar of whole burnt offering, [were] at that season in the high place at Gibeon:

30 And Dauid could not goe before it to aske counsell at God, for he was afraide of ỹ swoord of the angel of the Lord.)

The xxii. Chapter.

2 Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the building of the temple.

1 AND Dauid saide, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the whole burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the straungers that were in the land of Israel, and he set Masons to hewe & polish stones for the building of the house of God.

3 And Dauid prepared plentie of iron for nailes, & doores of the gates, & to ioyne withall, and abundance of brasse without weight,

4 And Cedar trees without number: for the Sidons and they of Tyre brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid sayde, Solomon my sonne is young and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the Lord, must be magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignitie thorowout all countreys: I will therefore make ordinances for it. And so Dauid prepared many things before his death.

6 And he called Solomõ his sonne, and charged him to builde an house for the Lorde God of Israel.

1.Chro.28.5.

7 And Dauid said to Solomon, My sonne, I thought in my heart to builde an house vnto the name of the Lord my God:

a This declareth howe greatly God abhorreth the shedding of blood, seeing Dauid for this cause is staied to build the temple of the Lord, albeit he tooke no war in hand, but by Gods commandement, & against Gods enemies.

8 But the woorde of the Lorde came to me, saying, *Thou hast shed much blood, and hast made great battelles: thou shalt therefore not builde an house vnto my name, for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, and he shalbe shalbe a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemyes rounde about: for his name is Solomon, and I will sende rest and peace vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 He shall build an house for my name, and he shalbe my sonne, and I wil be his father, and I will establish the seate of his kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lorde be with thee, and prosper thee, and thou shalt builde an house to the Lord thy God, as he hath said of thee.

12 And the Lord shall giue thee wisedome and vnderstanding, & shall giue thee ‖ commandements for Israel, that thou maiest keepe the lawe of the Lord thy God.

‖ Or, charge.

13 For then thou shalt prosper, euen whē thou takest heede, & fulfillest the statutes & lawes which the Lorde charged Moses with for Israel: plucke vp thine heart therefore, and be strong, dread not, nor be discouraged.

14 Beholde, according to my pouertie haue I also prepared for the house of the Lorde an hundred thousande talentes of golde, and a thousand thousande talentes of siluer: and as for brasse and iron, it cannot be numbred (for it is verie much) and I haue prepared timber and stone: and thou maiest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer, thou hast workemen with thee ynowe, and Masons, & Carpenters, to worke in stone and timber, and many men that be actiue for euerie worke.

16 And of golde, siluer, brasse, and iron, there is no number: vp therefore and be doing, and the Lord shalbe with thee.

17 And Dauid commaunded all the lordes of Israel to helpe Solomō his sonne, [saying,]

18 Is not the Lorde your God with you? and hath he not giuen you rest on euerie side? for he hath giuen the inhabitours of the lande into my hande, and the lande is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Nowe therefore set your hearts and your soules to seeke the Lorde your God: vp, and build ye the temple of the Lord God, to bring the arke of the couenant of the Lorde, and the holy vessels of God, into the house so built for the name of the Lord.

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 Dauid being olde, ordeineth Solomon king. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the high priests.

1 SO when Dauid was olde and full of daies, he made Solomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And then he gathered together all the lordes of Israel, with the priestes and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeeres and aboue: and the number and summe of them was thirtie and eight thousand men.

4 Of which twentie and foure thousand were set to further the worke of the house of the Lorde: and sixe thousande were officers and iudges.

5 Foure thousande were porters, and foure thousand praised the Lorde with such instruments as was made to praise withall.

6 *And so Dauid made the ordinances among ẏ children of Leui, namely to Gerson, Caath, and Merari. 1. Chro. 6. 1. exod. 6. 17.

26 That the Leuites also shoulde now no more beare the tabernacle, and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 For according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeeres and aboue.

28 And their office was vnder the hande of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lorde, in the courtes and celles, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God:

29 In the shewe bread, in the fine flowre, in the meate offering, in the wafers of sweete bread, in the frying pan, in the grediron, and in all maner of measures and size:

27 Out of the spoiles wonne in battels they dyd dedicate to maintayne the house of the Lorde.

28 And all that Samuel the Seer, and Saul the sonne of Cis, & Abner the sonne of Ner, and Joab the sonne of Zaruia had dedicated: and whosoeuer had dedicated any thing, it was vnder the hand of Selomith and of his brethren.

29 Of the Izaharites was Chenania and his sonnes, appointed to the businesse [c] without ouer Israel: for they were officers and iudges.

5 Because Dauid was forbidden to build the temple, he willeth Solomon and the people to performe it, 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

1 AND Dauid gathered all the lordes of Israel, the lordes of the tribes, the lordes of the companies that ministred to the king by course, the captaines ouer the thousands, and ouer the hundreds, and the lordes that had the ouersight ouer all the substance and possession of Dauid, and of his sonnes, with the chamberlaines, and all the mightie and valiant, and all actiue men, vnto Hierusalem.

2 And king Dauid stood vp vpon his feete, & said, Heare me, my brethren and my people, I had in mine heart to build an house of rest for the arke of the couenant of the Lord, and for the [a] footestoole of our God, and had made redie for the building.

a So he called the arke, because on it God shewed himselfe present by miracles.

2.Sam.7.13.

4 Moreouer, the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to bee king ouer Israel for euer: for in Iuda would hee choose a captaine, and of the houshold of Iuda is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he had a lust to mee, to make me king ouer all Israel.

5 *And of all my sonnes (for the Lorde hath

6 And he ſaid vnto me, Solomon thy ſonne he ſhal build me an houſe and courts: I haue choſen him to be my ſonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will ſtablish his kingdome for euer, if hee will be ſtrong to do my commandements and my lawes, as [it goeth] this day.

8 Now therefore, in the ſight of all Iſrael, the congregatiō of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and ſeeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may enioy a good land, and leaue inheritance for your children after you for euer.

1.Sam.17.7. pſal.7.10. iere.17.1. 9 *And thou Solomon my ſonne, knowe thou the God of thy father, and ſerue him with a pure heart, and with a willing minde: for the Lord ſearcheth all hearts, and vnderſtandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: and if thou ſeeke him, he will be found of thee: but if thou forſake him, he will caſt thee off for euer.

10 Take heede now, for the Lord hath choſen thee to build him an houſe of a ſanctuarie: be ſtrong therefore, and play the man.

11 And Dauid gaue Solomon his ſonne the paterne of the porche, and of the houſes that longed thereto, of the ſtorehouſes, vpper chambers, inner parlours, and of the houſe of the mercie ſeate:

12 And the example of all that hee had in his minde, for the courtes of the houſe of the Lorde, and for all the celles round about, for the treaſures of the houſe of God, and for the treaſures of the dedicate things:

13 For the diuiſions of the Prieſts & Leuites that waited by courſe, and for all the workemanſhip that ſhould ſerue for the houſe of the Lord, and for all the veſſels that ſhould ſerue in the houſe of the Lord:

14 For gold, and for the waight of gold, for all veſſels of ſundry miniſtrations, for all maner of veſſels of ſiluer in waight, and for all veſſels whatſoeuer purpoſe they ſerued vnto:

15 The waight of gold for the candleſtickes, & the golde for their lampes, with the waight for euery candleſticke, & for the lampes thereof, & for the candleſtickes of ſiluer by waight, both for the candleſticke & alſo for her lamps, according to the diuerſitie of the vſe of euery candleſticke.

16 And by waight (he gaue) golde for ỹ tables of ſhewe bread, euen for euery table, and likewiſe ſiluer for the tables of ſiluer, 17 And pure gold for the fleſhhookes, cups, & drinking pots: and [pure] golde in waight for baſons, euen for euery baſon: & likewiſe ſiluer by waight, for euery baſon of ſiluer.

18 And for the altar of incenſe pure golde by waight, and gold for the paterne of the charet of the Cherubims that ſtretched out their wings, and couered the arke of the couenant of the Lord.

19 All [he ſayd] was giuen me by writing of the hand of the Lorde, which made me vnderſtand all the workemanſhip of the paterne.

20 And Dauid ſaid to Solomon his ſonne, Be ſtrong, and of good courage, and do manfully: feare not, nor be faint hearted, for the Lord God, euen my God, is with thee, and he ſhall not faile thee, nor forſake thee, vntil thou haſt finiſhed all the worke that muſt ſerue for the houſe of the Lord.

21 Beholde, the Prieſtes and Leuites are diuided in companies, for all maner of ſeruice that pertaineth to the houſe of God, they are with thee for all maner of workemanſhip, and ſo are all that excell in wiſedome for any maner of ſeruice, thou haſt alſo the princes and all the people wholy at thy commandement.

The xxix. Chapter.

2 The offering of Dauid, and of the princes, for the building of the temple.

1 AND Dauid the king ſayd vnto all the congregation, God hath ſpecially choſen Solomon ‖ my ſonne, which is yet yong and tender, & the worke is great: for the houſe ſhall not be for man, but for the Lord God. ‖ Others read, my onely ſonne.

2 Moreouer, I haue prepared with all my might, for the houſe of my God, gold, for veſſels of golde, ſiluer, for them of ſiluer, braſſe, for things of braſſe, iron, for things of iron, and woode, for things of woode, and Onix ſtones, and ſtones to bee ſet, ‖ glitteryng ſtones, and of diuers colours, and all maner of precious ſtones, and marble ſtones in great abundance. ‖ Some read, Carbuncle ſtones.

3 And becauſe I haue luſt to the houſe of my God, I haue of mine owne proper good, of golde and ſiluer which I haue giuen to the houſe of my God, beſide all that I haue prepared for the holy houſe, 4 Euen three thouſand talentes of golde of Ophir, and ſeuen thouſand talentes of tried ſiluer, to ouerlay the walles of the houſe withall.

5 The gold, for things of gold, ſiluer, for them of ſiluer, and for all maner of worke by the hands of artificers: and whoſoeuer is [a] willing, may this day [b] conſecrate his hand vnto the Lord.

a He was not onely liberall himſelfe toward the building of Gods houſe, but alſo prouoked other.

b That is, may offer to the building of the houſe of the Lord.

6 And ſo the auncient fathers, and the lordes of the tribes of Iſrael, the captaines of thouſands, and hundreds, with the lordes that were rulers ouer the kings worke, were willing:

7 And gaue for the ſeruice of the houſe of God,

God, fiue thousand talents of gold, and tenne thousand pieces [of gold,] and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eighteene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lorde, by the hand of Iehiel the Gersonite.

9 And the people reioyced when they were so willing to giue their goods, and with a perfect heart they offered willingly to the Lord, and Dauid the king reioyced with great gladnesse.

10 And Dauid blessed the Lord before all the congregation, and said, Blessed be thou Lord God of Israel, our father, for euer and for euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse, and power, glory, victory, and prayse: for all that is in heauen and in earth, is thine, and thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest aboue all, euen as the head of all.

12 And riches and honour come of thee, & thou raignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 And now our God, we thanke thee, & prayse thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to giue these things so willingly? but all things come of thee, and of that which we receiued at thine hand, we haue giuen thee.

15 For we be but strangers before thee, and iourners, as were all our fathers: *our dayes on the earth also are but as a shadow, & there is none abiding. Wisd. 2. 5.

16 O Lord our God, all this stuffe that wee haue prepared to build thee an house for thy holy name, commeth of thine hand, and is all thine.

17 I wote also, my God, that thou triest the hearts, and hast pleasure in vnfainednesse: & in the vnfainednesse of mine heart, I haue willingly offered all these things: and now haue I seene thy people which are found here to offer vnto thee willingly, and with gladnesse.

c Continue them in this good minde, that they may serue thee willingly.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and of Israel our fathers, c keepe this for euer in the desire of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Solomon my sonne a perfect heart, to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all, and build the house for the which I haue made prouision.

20 And Dauid said to all the congregation, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the king.

21 And they offred offrings vnto the Lord: & on the morowe after the said day, they offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong oxen, a thousand rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offerings, many sacrifices offered they for all Israel, 22 And did eate and drinke before the Lord the same day with great gladnes, and they made Solomon the sonne of Dauid king ỳ second time, and anointed him prince before ỳ Lord, and Zadoc to be the high priest.

23 And Solomon sate on the seate of the Lord, and was king in steade of Dauid his father, & prospered: & all they of Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the lordes, and men of power, and al the sonnes of king Dauid, submitted themselues, and were vnder king Solomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Solomon in dignitie, in the sight of all them of Israel, & gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 *And so Dauid the sonne of Isai raigned ouer all Israel. 3. Kin. 2. 11.

27 And the space that he raigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yeeres: Seuen yeeres raigned he in Hebron, and thirtie and three yeeres raigned he in Hierusalem.

28 And he died in a good age, full of dayes, riches and honour: and Solomon his sonne raigned in his stead.

6 The offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdome, 11 which he giueth him, and more. 14 The number of his charets and horses, 15 and of his riches.

‖ Or, Salomon.

1 And ‖ Solomon the sonne of Dauid waxed strong in his kingdom, *and the Lord his God was with him, & magnified him ‖ in dignitie.

3. King. 3. 1.

‖ Or, greatly.

2 And Solomon spake vnto all Israel, to the captains ouer thousands, to the captaines ouer hundreds, to the iudges, and to euery officer in all Israel, and to the ancient fathers.

3 And so Solomon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon: for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moses the seruant of the Lord made in the wildernesse.

4 But the arke of God had Dauid brought from Kiriath-iarim, into the place which Dauid had made therefore: for he had pitched a tent for it at Hierusalem.

Exod. 38. 1.

5 *Moreouer, the brasen altar that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon and the congregation went to visite it.

6 And Solomon went vp there before the Lord, to the brasen altar that was before the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thousand whole burnt offerings vpon it.

7 And the same night did God appeare vnto Solomon, and said vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Solomon said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to raigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lorde God, let thy promise, which thou madest vnto Dauid my father, be true: * for thou hast made me king ouer a people which is like the dust of ỹ earth in multitude:

3. Kin. 3. 9.

Sap. 9. 7.

10 * Giue me now wisedome and knowledge, that I may be able to [a] goe in and out before this people: for who els can iudge this people that is so great?

a That I may gouerne this people.

11 And God said to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and because thou hast not asked treasure, and riches, nor honour, nor the [b] liues of thine enemies, neither yet long life, but hast asked wisdome and knowledge for thy selfe, to iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee king:

b That is, to be reuenged on thine enemies.

12 Wisedome & knowledge is graunted vnto thee, and I will giue thee treasure, & riches, and glory: so that among the kings that haue bene before thee, or after thee, none was or shall be like thee.

13 And so Solomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, to Hierusalem, from the tabernacle of the congregation, and raigned ouer Israel.

14 *And Solomon gathered charets, & horsemen: and hee had a thousand & foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemẽ, whom he bestowed in the charet cities, and with the king at Hierusalem.

3. Kin. 10. 28.

15 *And the king made siluer and gold at Hierusalem, as plenteous as stones, and Cedar trees made he as plentie as ỹ mulberie trees that growe in the valleis.

3. Kin. 10. 26.

16 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnẽ: the kings marchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came also, and brought out of Egypt a charet for sixe hundred pieces of siluer, euen an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and so brought they [horses] for all the kings of the Hethites, and for the kings of Syria, by their owne hand.

The ii. Chapter.

3 Solomon sendeth to Hiram the king of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

1 AND Solomon determined to build an house for the name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon told out threescore & ten thousand men to beare burdens, & foure score thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and [a] three thousand and sixe hundred to oversee them.

a It is to be vnderstand of all sortes of officers and ouerseers.

3. Kin. 5. 2.

3 * And Solomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyre, saying, As thou diddest deale with Dauid my father, and diddest send him Cedar wood to build him an house to dwell in [euen so deale with me:]

4 Beholde, I build an house for the name o the Lorde my God, to offer vnto him holy things, and to burne sweete incense, & to set shewe bread before him continually, to offer whole burnt sacrifices of the morning, & euening, on the Sabboth dayes, in ỹ first day of euery new moone, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: for it is an ordinance to be continually kept of Israel.

5 And the house which I build shal be great: for great is our God, aboue all gods.

6 But who is able to builde him an house? when that heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens is not able to receiue him, what am I then, that should build him an house? nay, but euen euen to burne sacrifice before him [shall this building be.]

7 Send mee now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, and siluer, in brasse, and iron, in purple, crimson, [b] yellow silke, & that can skill to graue with the cunning men that are with me in Iuda and Hierusalem, whom Dauid my father did prepare.

8 Send me also cedar trees, pine trees, and [c] algume trees out of Libanō: for I wote that thy seruauntes can skill to hewe timber in Libanon: and behold, my men shall be with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber enough: for ẏ house which I am determined to build, shall be wonderfull great.

10 And behold, for the vse of thy seruaunts the cutters and hewers of timber, I haue giuen twentie thousand measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand battes of wine, and twentie thousand battes of oyle.

11 And Hiram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which he sent to Solomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, therfore hath he made thee king ouer them.

12 And Hiram saide moreouer, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which made heauen and earth, and that hath giuen Dauid the king a wise sonne, and one that hath discretion, prudence, and vnderstanding, to build an house for the Lorde, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 And now I haue sent a wise mā, and a man of vnderstanding, whom my father Hiram did vse:

14 The sonne of a woman of the [d] daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, and he can skill to worke in gold, and siluer, in brasse, and iron, in stone, and timber, in purple, and yealow silke, and fine white, & crimson, & can graue sundry maner of grauings, & to find out diuers maners of subtile worke that shall be set before him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lorde Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore, the wheate, and barley, oile, and wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruaunts:

16 And we will cut wood in Libanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Japho, from whence thou mayest cary them to Hierusalem.

17 And Solomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the number of them whom his father Dauid had numbred: and they were found an hundred, fiftie, and three thousand, and sixe hundred.

18 And he set threescore and tenne thousand to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundred officers to set the people a worke.

d It is also written that she was of the tribe of Nephthali, 3. Kin. 7. which may be vnderstand, that by reason of the confusion of tribes which then began to be, they maried in diuers tribes. So that by her father she might be of Dan, & by her mother of Nephthali.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The temple of the Lorde, and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 AND Solomō began to build the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem in mount [a] Moria, where the Lord appeared vnto Dauid his father, euen in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of ‖ Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And he began to build in the second day of the second moneth, the fourth yeere of his raigne.

3 And these are the paternes whereby Solomon was instruct to builde the house of God: the length was threescore cubites, after the olde measure, and the breadth twentie cubites.

4 And the porche that was before the length in the frunt, according to the breadth of the house, was twentie cubites, and the heigth was an hundred and twentie cubites: and he ouerlaid it on the inner side with pure gold.

5 And the greater house hee sieled with firre tree, which hee ouerlayed with the best golde, and graued thereto paulme trees, and chaines.

6 And hee ouerlaid the house with precious stone beautifully: and the golde was gold of Paruaim.

7 The house [I say,] the beames, postes, walles, and doores thereof, ouerlaid he with gold, & graued Cherubims on the walles.

8 And hee made the house most holy: whose length was twentie cubites, like to the breadth of the house, and the breadth thereof was also twentie cubites: and hee ouerlaid it with good golde, euen with sixe hundred talents.

9 And the waight of the nailes of golde was fiftie sicles: & hee ouerlaid the vpper chambers with gold.

10 And in the house most holy, hee made two Cherubims of image worke, like children, & ouerlaid them with gold.

11 And the winges of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: & the other wing was likewise fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 And euen so the one wing of the other Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was fiue cubites also, and reached to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 So that the winges of the sayde Cherubims were stretched out twentie cubites: and they stood on their feete, and looked inwards.

14 * And hee made a forehanging of ‖ yealow silke, silke, purple, crimson, and fine white, & caused the pictures of Cherubims to be wrought thereon.

Iere.52.21. 15 And he made before the house * two pillars of thirtie and fiue cubites high, and the head that was aboue on the toppe of euery one of them, was fiue cubites.

16 And hee made chaines of wreathen worke for the quier, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chaines.

17 And he reared vp the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left: and called the right Iachin, and the left Boaz.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The lauatorie. 6 The caldrons. 7 The candlesticks, &c.

3.Kin.7.23. 1 AND he made an * altar of brasse, twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and ten cubites high.

2 And he cast a brasen lauatorie of ten cubites from brimme to brimme, round in compasse, and fiue cubites high, and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it round about.

3 And vnder it, was the fashion of oxen, which did compasse it round about: with tenne cubites did they compasse the lauatorie round about, and there were two rowes of oxen, which were cast like molten worke.

4 And it stoode also vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, three toward the West, three toward the South, and three toward the East, and the lauatorie was set vpon them: and all their backes were toward the lauatorie.

5 And the thicknesse of it, was an hand breedth, and the brimme like ỹ brimme of a cup, with flowers of lillies, and it receiued & held three thousand battes.

6 And he made ten lauers, and put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to washe and cleanse in them such things as they offred for a whole burnt offering: but the great lauatorie was for the priests to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlesticks of gold, according to the paterne that was giuen of thē, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left.

8 And he made also ten tables, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right side, and fiue on the left: and he made an hundred basons of gold.

9 And he made the court of the priestes, & the great court, and doores to it, and ouerlaid the doores of them with brasse.

10 And he set the great lauatorie on ỹ right side of the East ende, ouer against the South.

11 And Hiram made pottes, shouels, and basons, and finished the worke that he was appointed to make for king Solomon in the house of God.

12 The two pillars, and the bowles, and the pommels on the top of the two pillars, and the two wreathes to couer the two bowles of the pommels, which were on the top of the pillars, 13 And foure hundred pomegranates on the two wreathes: two rowes of pomegranates on one wreath, to couer the two bowles of the pommels.

14 And he made two bottomes, & lauers made he vpon the bottomes.

15 The great lauatorie, and twelue oxen vnder it.

16 Pottes also, shouels, and fleshhookes: and all these vessels did [a] Hiram his father make to king Solomon for the house of the Lord, of bright brasse.

[a] Hiram is called Solomons father, because Solomon reuerenced him, and fauoured him as his father.

17 In the plaine of Iordane did the king cast them, euen in ỹ clay ground that is betweene Socoth and Saredatha.

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundāce: for the waight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God, the golden altar also, and the tables to set the [b] shewe bread vpon.

[b] In Hebrew, the bread of the faces, because they were set before the arke, where God shewed his face.

20 Moreouer, the candlesticks, with their lampes to burne, after the maner before the quier, and that of precious gold.

21 And the flowers, and the lampes, and the snuffers, made he of golde, and that perfect golde.

22 And the ‖ vessling knives, basons, spoones, and censers, of pure golde: and the doore of the temple, and the inner doores within the place most holy, and the inner doores of the temple were gilted.

‖ Some read, hookes: and others, instruments of musike.

The v. Chapter.

The thinges dedicated by Dauid, are put in the temple.

1 AND so all the worke that Solomon made in the house of the Lord was finished: *and Solomon brought in all the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and gold, and all the iewels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

3.Kin.7.51.

2 Then Solomon gathered the elders of Israel together, and all the heads of the tribes and ancient fathers of the children of Israel, vnto Hierusalem, to bring the arke of the couenant of the Lord out of the citie of Dauid, which is [in] Sion.

3 Wherefore, all the men of Israel resorted vnto the king, in the feast, euen in the [a] seuenth moneth.

[a] September.

4 And all the elders of Israel came, & the Leuites tooke vp the arke.

5 And the Priests and the Leuites brought away away the arke of the Tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, and they bare them.

6 And king Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him before the arke, offered sheepe and oxen, so many, that they could not be tolde, nor numbred, for multitude.
7 And the Priestes brought the arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, euen into the quier of the temple, within the place most holy, and set it vnder the wings of the Cherubims.
8 So that the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the arke, and the Cherubims couered both the arke and her barres aboue on high.
9 And the barres of the arke were so long, that the ‖ heades of the barres were seene without the arke, within the quyer, but not without: and there [the arke] remayned vnto this day.
‖ Or, endes.
10 But there was nothing in the arke, saue the two Tables which Moses put therein at Horeb, when the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, after they were come out of Egypt.
11 And when the Priests were come out of the holy place (for all the Priestes that were present, were sanctified, and did not then wayte by course:
12 That both the Leuites and the singers, vnder Asaph, Heman, and Idithun, were appointed to sundry offices, with their children and brethren, and were arayed in fine white, hauing Cymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes, and stoode at the East ende of the altar, and by them an hundred and twentie priests blowing with trumpets:
13 And the trumpet blowers and the singers so agreed, that it seemed but one voyce in praysing and thanking the Lorde, and when they lift vp their voyce with the trumpets, Cymbales, and other instrumentes of musicke, and when they praysed the Lorde, howe that he is good, and that his mercie lasteth euer:) the house of God was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the Priestes coulde not endure to minister by the reason of the cloude: for the Maiestie of the Lorde had filled the house of God.

The vi. Chapter.

3 Solomon blesseth the people. 4 He praiseth the Lord. 14 He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

3. Kin. 8. 12. 1 THen Solomon sayde, *The Lord hath spoken, howe that he will dwell in the darke cloude.
2 And I haue buylt thee an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for euer.
3 And the king turned his face, and blessed the whole congregation of Israel (and al the congregation of Israel stoode.)
4 And he sayde, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which hath with his ‖ handes fulfilled it that he spake with his mouth to my father Dauid, saying,
‖ Or, power.
5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the lande of Egypt, I chose no citie among all the tribes of Israel to buylde an ‖ house in, that my name might be there, neyther chose I any man to bee a ruler ouer my people Israel:
‖ Or, temple.
6 Sauing that I haue chosen Hierusalem, that my name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.
7 And when it was in the heart of Dauid my father, to buylde an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel,
8 The Lord sayd to Dauid my father, For as much as it was in thine heart to buylde an house for my name, thou diddest wel that thou thoughtest in thine heart.
9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not buylde the house: but thy sonne, which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall buylde an house for my name.
10 The Lorde therefore hath made good his saying that he hath spoken: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the seate of Israel, as the Lorde promised, and haue buylt an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel.
11 And in it haue I put the arke, wherein is the * couenant of the Lord that he made with the children of Israel.
* Meaning, the two tables.
12 And the king stoode before the altar of the Lorde, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes:
13 (For Solomon had made a brasen scaffolde of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites broade, and three of height, & had set it in the middes of the great court, and vpon it he stoode, and kneeled downe vpon his knees, before all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes toward heauen,) 14 And sayde, * O Lorde God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen, nor in earth, which keepest couenant, and shewest mercie vnto thy seruants that walke before thee with all their hearts.
2. Mach. 2. 10.
15 Thou which hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him: thou saydest it with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine handes, as it is to see this day.
16 And nowe Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him, saying, ‖ Thou shalt in my sight not be without a man that shall shall sit vpon the seate of Israel, so that thy children take heede to their wayes, to walke in my law, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And nowe Lord God of Israel, let thy saying be true, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (And will God in very deede dwell with men on earth? Beholde, heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens, doe not conteine thee, howe much lesse the house which I haue builded?)

19 Let it be thy pleasure therefore to turne to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lorde my God, to hearken vnto the voyce and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee.

20 And let thine eyes be open toward this house day and night, ouer this place whereof thou hast sayde, that thou wouldest put thy name there, to hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Hearken vnto the prayers of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: heare thou, I say, out of thy dwelling place, euen out of heauen, heare, and be mercifull.

b By withholding any thing from him, or els by denying that which is left him to keepe, or do him any wrong.

22 If a man sinne [b] against his neyghbour, and take an othe against him, and make him to sweare, and the othe come before thine altar in this house:

23 Then heare thou from heauen, and doe and iudge thy seruants, that thou rewarde the vngodly, and recompence him his way vpon his head, and iustifie the righteous, and giue him according to his righteousnesse.

24 And if thy people Israel be put to the worse before the enemie, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they turne and giue thanks vnto thy name, and make intercession, and pray before thee in this house:

25 Then heare thou from heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the lande which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen is shut vp, and there bee no rayne, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, and confesse thy name, & repent from their sinne, for the which thou chastenest them:

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and be merciful vnto the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, and guyde thou them into the good way to walke in, and sende rayne vpon thy lande which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

Chap. 20. 9.

28 And if * there be dearth in the land, or pestilence, corruption, or blasting of corne, Grashoppers, or caterpillers, or that their enemies besiege them in the ‖ cities of their lande, or whatsoeuer plague or sickneesse it be:

‖ Or, in the land of their gates.

29 Then what supplications and prayers soeuer shalbe made of any man, & of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall knowe his owne sore, & his owne griefe, and shal stretch out their handes toward this house:

30 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt be mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto al his wayes, as thou doest knowe euery mans heart: (for thou [b] onely knowest the heartes of the children of men,)

b God only knoweth the heart of man.

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 Moreouer, the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, if he come from a farre land for thy great names sake, and thy mighty hande, and thy stretched out arme: if they come, & pray in [c] this house, c He sheweth that before God there is no difference of persons. But all people that feareth him & worketh righteousnesse is accepted, Ac. 10.

33 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt doe according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for: that all people of the earth may knowe thy name, and feare thee, as doeth thy people Israel, and that they may knowe howe that in this house which I haue built, thy name is called vpon.

34 If thy people goe out to warre against their enemies by the way that thou shalt sende them, and they pray to thee in the way toward this citie which thou hast chosen, euen towarde the house which I haue built for thy Name:

35 Then heare thou from heauen their supplication and prayer, and helpe them in their right.

36 If they sinne against thee (as there is * no man but he doeth sinne) and thou be angrie with them, and deliuer them ouer before their enemies, and they take them, and cary them away captiues vnto a lande farre or neere:

3. King. 8. 46. 2. iohn. 1. 8. eccle. 7. 21.

37 Yet if they repent in their heart, in the land where they be in captiuitie, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, saying, We haue sinned, we haue done euill and wickedly:

38 And turne againe to thee with al their heart, and all their soule, in the land of their captiuitie where they keepe them in bondage, and so pray toward their land which thou gauest vnto their fathers, euen towarde the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy name:

39 Then heare thou from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, their supplication and their prayer, and iudge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people which haue sinned against thee.

40 Nowe, my God, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 *Now

Psalm.131.8. d That is, into thy Temple.

41 * Nowe vp, O Lord God, into thy d resting place, thou, and the arke of thy strength: O Lorde God, let the Priestes bee clothed with health, and let thy saints reioyce in goodnes.

42 O Lord God turne not away ẏ face of thine e anoynted: remẽber the mercies which thou hast promised to Dauid thy seruant.

e Heare my prayer, which am thine anoynted king.

The vii. Chapter.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glory of the Lord filleth the Temple.

2.Mac.2.10. 1 AND whẽ * Solomon had made an end of praying, there came downe fire frõ heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering, and the sacrifices, & the house was filled with the glory of the Lord.

2 And the Priests could not go into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And whẽ all the children of Israel saw how the fire and the glory of the Lord came downe vpon the house, they fell downe flatte vpon their faces to the earth, vpon the pauement, and worshipped, and confessed vnto the Lord, That he is gratious, and that his mercie lasteth euer.

4 And the king, and all the people, offered sacrifices before the Lord.

3.King.8.63. 5 * And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twentie and two thousande oxen, and an hundred and twentie thousande sheepe: and so the king and all the people, dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Leuites had the instrumentes of musicke of the Lorde, which king Dauid had made to confesse vnto ẏ Lorde, That his mercy lasteth euer, Dauid praysing God by them, and the Priests blew with trumpets before them, and all they of Israel stood.

7 Moreouer, Solomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lorde: for there hee offered whole burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receiue the whole burnt offeringes, and the meate offeringes, and the fatte.

8 So at the same time Solomon kept a a feast of seuen dayes, and all Israel with him, an exceeding great congregation, euen from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

a That was the feast of tabernacles.

9 And in the eyght day they made an assembly: For they kept the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

10 And the three and twentie day of the seuenth moneth, hee let the people depart into their tents, glad and mery in heart, for the goodnes that the Lord had shewed to Dauid, & to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

3.King.9.1. 11 * And so Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house: and all that came in his heart to make in ẏ house of the Lord, & in his own house, went prosperously forward.

12 And ẏ Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and saide to him, I haue heard thy petition, * and haue chosen this place for my selfe, to be an house of sacrifice. Deut.12.5.

13 If I shut vp heauen, that there be no rayne, or if I command the Locustes to deuoure the lande, or if I sende pestilence among my people:

14 And if my people, among whom my name is called vpon, do humble themselues, & make intercession, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes: then will I heare from heauen, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will b heale their land.

b I will cause the pestilence to cease, & destroy ẏ beasts that hurt the fruite of the earth, & sende raine in due time.

15 And from henceforth mine eyes shall bee open, and mine eares attent vnto ẏ prayer that is made in this place.

16 And therefore, now I haue chosen & sanctified this house, that my name may be there for euer: and mine eyes & mine heart shalbe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to do all that I haue commãded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my lawes:

18 Then will I stablish the seate of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenãt with Dauid thy father, saying, Thou shalt not bee without a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, & forsake my statutes and my commandementes which I haue set before you, and shall goe, & serue other gods, and worship them:

20 Then will I plucke thẽ vp by the rootes, out of my lande which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a iest among all nations.

21 And this house, which is most high, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by, and shal say, Why hath the Lord dealt on this fashion with this land, and with this house?

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lorde God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and caught holde on others gods, and worshipped them, & serued thẽ, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

The viii. Chapter.

2 The cities that Solomon built. 12 His sacrifices which he offered.

3.King.9.10. 1 AND * after a twentie yeeres, when Solomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house:

a Signifying that he was twentie yeres in building them.

2 He built the cities that Hiram gaue him, and caused the children of Israel to dwel there.

b Other reade, he ouercame it.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zoba,[b] and strengthened it.
4 And he builte Thadmor in the wildernesse, and repayred al the store cities which were in Hamath.
5 And he built Bethhoron the vpper, & Bethhoron the neather, strong cities, hauing walles, gates, and barres:
6 And Baalah, and al the store cities that Solomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, & euery pleasant place that Solomon had lust to builde in Hierusalem, and Libanon, and throughout al the land of his dominion.
7 And all the people that were left of the Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, & Iebusites, which were not of the children of Israel,
8 But were the children of them which were left after them in the lande, and were not consumed of the children of Israel, them did Solomon make to pay tribute, vntill this day.
9 But of the children of Israel, did Solomon make no seruantes for his woorke: but they were men of warre, & rulers, and great lords with him, and captaines ouer his charets and horsemen.
1.King.9.23. 10 *And king Solombns officers that ouersawe and ruled the people, were two hundred and fiftie.
11 And Solomon brought ỳ daughter of Pharao out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that hee had builded for her: for he sayde, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid king of Israel, for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lorde is come vnto it.
12 Then Solomon offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch:
13 Doing euery thing in his due time, and offering according to the commaundement of Moses, in the Sabboths, newe Moones, and solemne feastes, three times in the yeere, [that is to say,] in the feast of sweete bread, in the feast of weekes, and in the feast of tabernacles.
14 And Solomon set the sortes of Priestes to their offices, as Dauid his father had ordered them, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priestes day by day, and the porters by course at euery gate: for so had Dauid the man of God commanded.
15 And they omitted not the commandement of the king vnto the Priestes and Leuites, concerning any maner of thing, and concerning the treasures.
16 For Solomon made prouision for the charges from the first day that the foundation of the house of the Lorde was layde, till it was finished, that the house of the Lorde was perfect.
17 Then went king Solomon to Ezion Gaber, and to Eloth at the sea side in the land of Edom.
18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruants, ships, and seruantes that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Solomon to Ophir, & caried thence foure hundred and fiftie talentes of golde, and brought it to king Solomon.

The ix. Chapter.

1. 9 The Queene of Saba commeth to see Solomon, and bringeth gifts.

1 AND * whē the Queene of Saba heard of the fame of Solomon, shee came to proue him in hard questions at Hierusalē, with a very great company, with Camels that bare spices, and plentie of gold, and pretious stones: and when she was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that she had in her heart. 3.King.10.1. matth.12.42. luke.11.31.
2 And Solomon soyled her all her questions, and there was not one worde hid from Solomon, which he tolde her not.
3 And when the Queene of Saba had seene the wisdome of Solomon, and the house that he had builte,
4 And the meate of his table, the sitting of his seruantes, and the standing of his wayters, their apparell, his butlers, their apparell, ‖ his going vp by the which he went into the house of the Lorde: there was no more spirit in her.
5 And she sayd to the king, The saying which I heard in mine owne lande of thine ‖ actes, and of thy wisedome, is true.
6 I beleeued not the wordes of them, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy wisedome was not tolde mee: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.
7 Happie are thy men, and happie are these thy seruantes which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisedome.
8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which had lust to thee, to set thee [king] on his seate, that thou mightest be king for ỳ Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to make them continue euer, therefore made he thee king ouer them, to do right and equitie.
9 And she gaue the king an hundred & twenty talents of gold, and of spices exceeding great abundance, and precious stones: neyther was there any more such spice as the Queene of Saba gaue king Solomon.
10 And the seruants of Hiram, and the seruants of Solomon, which brought golde from Ophir, brought also Algume wood, and precious stones.
11 And the king made of the Algume wood

stayres in the house of the Lorde, and in the kings palace, and harpes, and psalteries for singers: and there was none such wood seene [before] in the land of Juda.

12 And king Solomon gaue to the Queene of Saba euery pleasant thing that shee asked, a besides that which she had brought vnto the king: and so she turned, and went away to her owne land with her seruants.

a Besides that, that is to say, the recompece of ꝑ which shee had brought vnto ꝑ king.

13 The waight of gold that came to Solomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred, threescore and sixe talents of golde.

14 Besides that which chapmen & marchantes brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and rulers of that countrey, brought gold and siluer to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: and sixe hundred sicles of beaten gold were spent vpon one target.

16 And three hundred shieldes made hee of beaten golde: and three hundred [pieces] of golde went to one shielde: and the king put them in the house that was in the forest of Libanon.

17 And the king made a great seate of Iuorie, and ouerlayde it with pure golde.

18 And there was sixe steppes to the seate, with a footstoole of gold fastened to the seate: and pommels on eache side of the sitting place, and two Lions standing by the pommels.

19 And twelue Lions stoode on the one side and on the other vpon the sixe steppes: so that there was no such woorke made in any kingdome.

20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of golde, and all the vessels of the house that was in the forest of Libanon were of precious golde: for siluer was counted nothing worth in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For ꝑ kings shippes went to Tharsis with the seruants of Hiram, euery three yeres once came the shippes to Tharsis, and brought golde, siluer, Iuorie, and Apes, and Peacockes.

22 And king Solomon passed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisedome.

23 And all the kinges of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisedome that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, rayment, harnesse, spices, horses and Mules, yeere by yeere.

25 *And Solomon had ‖ foure thousande stables for horses and charets, and twelue thousande horsemen: whome hee bestowed in the charet cities, and [some were] with the king at Hierusalem.

3.King.4.26. ‖Or, foure thousand horses in stalles.

26 And he raigned ouer al the kings that were from Euphrates vnto the lande of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as b stones, & Cedar trees as plenteous as the Mulberie trees [that growe] in the valleys.

b The abundance of these temporal treasures in Solomons kingdome, is a figure of the spiritual treasuries, which the elect shall enioy in heauē vnder the true Solomon Iesus Christ, 1. king.11.41.

28 And they brought vnto Solomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 The rest of the actes of king Solomon first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Nathan the Prophet, & in the prophecie of Ahiah the Silonite, and in the visions of Iddo the Seer of visions, against Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat:

30 And Solomon raigned in Hierusalem vpon all Israel fourtie yeeres.

31 And Solomon slept with his fathers: and they buried him in the citie of Dauid his father, and Roboam his sonne raigned in his steade.

The x. Chapter.

4 The rigour of Roboam. 13 He followeth lewde counsell. 16 The people rebell.

1 AND *Roboam went to Sichem: for to Sichem were al Israel come together to make him king. *3.King.12.1.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat (which was fled into Egypt from the presence of Solomon the king) heard it, hee returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: And so Ieroboam and al they of Israel came, and communed with Roboam, saying,

4 Thy father layde a grieuous yoke vpon vs: nowe therefore remit thou somewhat of the grieuous seruice of thy father, and of his heauy yoke that he put vpō vs, and we will serue thee.

5 And he sayd to them, Come againe vnto me after three dayes. And the people departed.

6 And king Roboam counselled with the Elders that had stande before Solomon his father, while he yet liued, and he sayde, What counsell giue ye me to answere this people againe?

7 And they tolde him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and shewe thy selfe lowly to them, and speake louing woords to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But hee left the counsell which the Elders gaue him, and tooke counsell with the yong men that were growen vp with him, & a that stood in his presence.

a Which were of his counsell and secretes.

9 And he sayde vnto them, What aduice giue ye, that wee may answere this people, which haue cōmuned with mee, saying, Abate somewhat of the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs?

10 And the yong men that were growen vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake vnto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it somewhat lyghter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My litle finger shall bee thicker then my fathers loynes.

11 For where my father put a heauie yoke vpon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chastised you with whippes, but I will chastise you with ‖ scourges.

‖ Or, scorpions.

12 And so Ieroboam & al the people came to Roboam the thirde day, as the king bade, saying, Come againe to me the thirde day.

13 ¶ And the king answered them cruelly, and king Roboam left the counsell of the aged men, 14 And answered them after the aduice of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, and I will adde thereto: my father chastised you with whippes, but I will chastise you with scourges.

3. King. 12. 31. 15 *And so the king hearkened not vnto the people: but the occasion came of God, that the Lord might make good his saying, which he spake by the hande of Ahia the Silonite, to Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat.

16 And when all Israel sawe that the King woulde not agree vnto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue wee in Dauid? For wee haue no inheritance in the sonnes of Isai: Euery man to his tent, Oh Israel, and nowe Dauid see to thine owne house. And so all Israel gate thē to their tents.

17 So that Roboam raigned ouer no moe of the children of Israel then dwelt in the cities of Juda.

18 Then King Roboam also sent Hadurам that was ruler ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that hee died: but king Roboam made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against ỹ house of Dauid vnto this day.

The xi. Chapter.

4 Roboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam.

1 AND when Roboam was come to Hierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Juda and Beniamin, nine score thousande chosen men of warre, to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Roboam.

3. King. 12. 22. 2 *And the word of the Lord came to Semeia the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Roboam the sonne of Solomon king of Juda, and to all them of Israel that are in Juda and Beniamin, and say,

4 Thus sayth the Lorde, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the wordes of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Roboam dwelt in Hierusalem, & built strong cities in Juda.

6 He built vp Bethlehem, and Etam, & Thecoa,

7 Bethzur, Socho, and Adullam,

8 Gath, and Maresa, and Ziph,

9 Adurahim, Lachis, and Azecah,

10 Zoraa, Aialon, and Hebron, which is in Juda and Beniamin, strong cities.

11 And hee repayred the strong holdes, and put captaines in them, and store of vittaile, and wine, and oyle:

12 And in all cities hee put shieldes & speares, and made them exceeding strong, hauing Juda and Beniamin on his side.

13 And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, resorted to him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbes, and their possession, and came to Juda and Hierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring vnto the Lorde.

15 And hee ordeined him Priestes for the high places, for the [a] deuils, & for the calues which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites, there went out of the tribes of Israel, such as submitted their hearts to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, and came to Hierusalem, to offer vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.

17 And so they strengthened the kingdome of Juda, and made Roboam the sonne of Solomon mightie three yeeres long: for three [b] yeres they walked in the way of Dauid and Solomon.

[b] So long as they feared God, and set foorth his word, they prospered.

18 And Roboam tooke him Mahalath ỹ daughter of Jerimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihael the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Isai:

19 Which bare him children, Jeus, Samaria, and Zaham.

20 And after her he tooke *Maacha ỹ daughter of Absalom, which bare him Abia, Atthai, Ziza, and Selomith. Iudg. 19. 1.

21 And Roboam loued Maacha the daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues and concubines: for hee tooke eighteene wiues & three score concubines, and begate twentie & eight sonnes, and three score daughters.

22 And Roboam made Abia, the sonne of Maacha, the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 [c] And he played wisely, and scattered all his children throughout all the countreys of Juda and Beniamin, vnto euery strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of vittaile, and obteined many wiues.

The xii. Chapter.

1 Roboam forsaketh the Lorde, and is punished by Sesac.

1 And

1 AND when Roboam had ſtabliſhed the kingdome, and became mightie, he forſooke the lawe of the Lorde, and [a] all Iſrael with him.

[a] As the prince is, ſo for the moſt part the people will be.

2 And in the fifth yeere of king Roboam, Seſac king of Egypt came vp againſt Hieruſalem (becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred charets, and three ſcore thouſande horſemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt: Lubim, [b] Sukim, and the Ethiopians.

[b] Which were a people in Africa called the Troglodites, becauſe they dwelt in holes.

4 And he tooke the ſtrong cities in Iuda, and came to Hieruſalem.

5 Then came Semeia the Prophet to Roboam, & to the lords of Iuda that were gathered together within Hieruſalem for Seſac, and ſayde vnto them, Thus ſayeth the Lorde, Ye haue left me, and therefore haue I alſo [c] left you in the hands of Seſac.

[c] God neuer leaueth vs vntill we haue caſt him away.

6 Whereupon the lordes of Iſrael & the king humbled themſelues, and ſayde, The Lord is righteous.

7 And when the Lord ſawe that they ſubmitted themſelues, the word of the Lord came to Semeia, ſaying, They ſubmit themſelues, therefore I will not deſtroy them, but I will deliuer them ſomewhat, and my wrath ſhall not bee powred out vpon Hieruſalem by the hand of Seſac.

8 Neuertheleſſe, they ſhall be his ſeruants: to knowe what difference is betweene [d] my ſeruice, and the ſeruice of the kingdomes of the world.

[d] God puniſheth his, not to deſtroy the, but to reforme them, 1. King. 10.

9 And ſo Seſac king of Egypt came to Hieruſalem, and tooke away the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the treaſures of the kings houſe, hee tooke all: and hee caryed away the ſhieldes of golde which Solomon made.

10 In ſteade of which, king Roboam made ſhieldes of braſſe, and committed them to the handes of the chiefe of the gard, and that kept the entrance of the kings houſe.

11 And when the king entred into the houſe of the Lorde, the garde came and fet them, and brought them againe vnto the garde chamber.

12 And when hee humbled him ſelfe, the wrath of the Lorde turned from him, that hee would not deſtroy altogether: and in Iuda all was well.

3. King. 14. 21. 13 *And ſo king Roboam wared mightie, and raigned in Hieruſalem: and Roboam was one and fourtie yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and hee raigned ſeuenteene yeeres in Hieruſalem, the citie which the Lord had choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael to put his name there: and his mothers name was Naama, an Amoniteſſe.

14 And he did euill, becauſe he prepared not his heart to ſeeke the Lord.

15 The actes alſo of Roboam firſt and laſt, are they not written in the ſayinges of Semeia the Prophet, and of Iddo the Seer, which noted the genealogie? and there was warre alway betweene Roboam and Ieroboam.

16 And Roboam ſlept with his fathers, & was buryed in the citie of Dauid, and Abia his ſonne raigned in his ſteade.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 Abia maketh warre againſt Ieroboam. 4 He ſheweth the occaſion. 12 He truſteth in the Lorde, and ouercommeth Ieroboam.

1 THe eighteenth yere of king Ieroboam, began Abia to raigne ouer Iuda.

2 And he raigned three yeeres in Hieruſalem: (His mothers name alſo was Michaia, the daughter [a] of Uriel of Gibea:) and there was warre betweene Abia and Ieroboam.

[a] Called other wiſe Abſolom.

3 * And Abia ſet the battell in aray, with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thouſand choſen men: and Ieroboam ſet himſelfe in aray to fight againſt him, with eyght hundred thouſande pickt men, which were ſtrong, and men of armes. 3. King. 15. 7.

4 And Abia ſtoode vp vpon Zemaraim, an hill which is in mount Ephraim, and ſayd, Heare me thou Ieroboam and all Iſrael.

5 Do not you know howe that the Lord God of Iſrael gaue the kingdom ouer them of Iſrael to Dauid for euer, euen to him, and to his ſonnes, with a [b] ſalted couenant?

[b] With a firme and perpetuall, becauſe euery thing which is ſalted is preſerued from corruption: hee meaneth alſo that it was made ſolemnly, and confirmed by offering ſacrifices, where as they vſed ſalt, as was ordeined, Num. 8. 19.

6 And Ieroboam the ſonne of Nabat the ſeruant of Solomon the ſonne of Dauid, is riſen vp, and hath rebelled againſt his Lord.

7 And there gathered vnto him lewde men, the children of Belial, and preuayled againſt Roboam the ſonne of Solomon, when Roboam was [c] yong and tender hearted, and could not ſtand before them.

[c] In heart & courage.

8 And nowe yee ſay that yee be able to preuayle againſt the kingdome of the Lorde, which is in the hande of the ſonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and haue the golden calues which Ieroboam made you for gods.

9 And haue ye not caſt out the Prieſtes of the Lorde the ſonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you prieſtes after the maner of the nations of other lands? ſo that whoſoeuer commeth and conſecrateth his hande with a yong ore and ſeuen rammes, the ſame may be a prieſt of them that are no gods.

10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, whome wee haue not forſaken, and the Prieſtes are the ſonnes of Aaron which miniſter vnto the Lorde, and the Leuites waite vpon their office.

11 They burne vnto the Lorde euery morning and euening, whole burnt sacrifices, and sweete incense: the shewe bread set they in order vpon a pure table, and prepare the candlesticke of golde, with the lampes of the same, to burne euer at Euen: and truely wee keepe the watch of the Lorde our God, but ye haue forsaken him.

12 And beholde, God himselfe is our captaine, and his Priestes blowe with the Trumpets, and crye alarum against you. O yee children of Israel, fight not against the Lorde God of your fathers: for it will not prosper with you.

13 But for all that, Ieroboam conueied men priuily about, to come behinde them: and so they were before Iuda, & the lyers in wayte were behinde them.

14 And when they of Iuda looked about, beholde, the battell was before and behinde, and they cryed vnto the Lorde, and the Priestes blewe with the Trumpets.

15 And the men of Iuda gaue a shoute: and as the men of Iuda shouted, it came to passe that God smote Ieroboam and all Israel, before Abia and Iuda.

16 And the children of Israel fledde before Iuda, and God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abia and his people slewe a great slaughter of them: there fell downe wounded of Israel fiue hundred thousande chosen men.

18 And so the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time, and the children of Iuda preuailed, [d] because they leaned vnto ỹ Lord God of their fathers.

d The causes of victorie.

19 And Abia followed after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, Bethel with the townes belonging thereto, Iesana with the townes that belonged thereto, and Ephron with her townes.

20 And Ieroboam recouered no strēgth againe in the dayes of Abia: and the Lorde plagued him, and he dyed.

21 But Abia waxed mightie, and married fourteene wiues, and begate twentie and two sonnes, and sixteene daughters.

22 The rest of the acts of Abia, his maners and his sayings, are written in the story of the prophet Iddo

The xiiii. Chapter.

3 Asa destroyeth idolatrie, and commandeth his people to serue the true God.

1 SO Abia slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, [1.King.15.8.] and Asa his sonne raigned in his steade, in whose dayes the land was in quietnesse tenne yeeres.

2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For hee tooke away strange altars, and the high places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the groues:

4 And commanded Iuda to seeke the Lorde God of their fathers, and to doe according to the lawe and commandement.

5 And he put away out of all the cities of Iuda, the high places and the images: and the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 And he built strong cities in Iuda, because the lande was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he sayd vnto Iuda, Let vs builde these cities, and make about them walles, towres, gates, and barres, for the lande is yet in rest before vs: because we haue sought the Lorde our God, we haue sought him, and hee hath giuen vs rest on euery side. And so they built, and it prospered with them.

8 And Asa had an armie of men that bare shieldes and speares, out of Iuda three hundred thousand, and out of Beniamin that bare shieldes, and drewe bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousande: all these were valiant men.

9 And there came out against them Zarah of Ethiopia, with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred charets, and came as farre as Mareša.

10 And Asa went out before him, and they ioyned the battell in the valley of Zephata, beside Mareša.

11 *And Asa cryed vnto the Lord his God, and sayde, Lorde, it is no harde thing with thee to help with many, or them that haue no power: helpe vs therefore, O Lorde our God, for we trust to thee, and in thy name we goe against this multitude: thou art the Lorde our God, and no man shal preuayle against thee. 1.Sam.14.6.

12 So the Lorde smote the Ethiopians before Asa and Iuda, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, followed after them vnto Gerar: and the Ethiopians host was ouerthrowen, that there was none of them left, but were destroyed before the Lord and before his host: and they caried away a mightie great pray.

14 And they smote all the cities rounde about Gerar, for the feare of the Lorde came vpon them: and they spoyled al the cities, and there was exceeding much spoyle in them.

15 They smote also the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Hierusalem.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The exhortation of Azaria. 8 Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 14 They sweare togethers to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

1 AND the spirite of God came on Azaria the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, & sayd vnto him, Heare me, Asa, & all Iuda & Beniamin, Beniamin, the Lorde is with you, while ye be with him: and when ye seeke him, he will bee found of you; and againe, whē ye forsake him, he also will forsake you.

a For ỳ space of twelue peres vnder Roboam, and three peres vnder Abia, true religion was neglected, and idolatrie planted.

3 Nowe for a long [a] season Israel hath bene without the true God, and without Priests to teach, and without lawe.

4 And when any man in his trouble did turne vnto the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him that did goe out and in, but great sedition was there among all the inhabiters of the earth.

6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God did moue all aduersitie among them.

7 Play ye therefore the men, and let not your handes slacke: for your woorke shall bee rewarded.

b Ye had two names, both Azaria, and Obed.

8 And when Asa heard those wordes, and the prophecie of [b] Azaria the sonne of Obed the Prophet, he tooke courage, and put away the abominable idoles out of all the land of Juda and Beniamin, and out of the cities which he wanne in mount Ephraim, and renued the altar of the Lord that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Juda and Beniamin, and the strangers with them, out of Ephraim, Manasse, and Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they sawe that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled together at Hierusalem the [c] third moneth, the fifteenth yere of the raigne of Asa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lord ỳ same time, of the spoyle which they had brought, seuen hundred oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart, and all their soule.

d A lawe of death for idolaters, Deut. 13.

13 And whosoeuer woulde not seeke the Lorde God of Israel [d] shoulde die for it, whether hee were small or great, man, or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, shouting and blowing with trumpets and shawmes.

15 And all they in Juda reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lorde with all their heart, & sought him with all their lust, & he was founde of them: and the Lorde gaue them rest round about on euery side.

3 King. 15. 12.

e His grandmother, and herein he shewed that hee lacked zeale: for she ought to haue died both by the conant and lawe of God.

16 * And king Asa put [e] Maacha his mother out of authoritie, because shee had made an idole in a groue: and Asa hoke downe her idole, and stamped it, & burnt it at the brooke Cedron.

17 But al the high places were not taken away out of Israel, though ỳ heart of Asa was perfect all his dayes.

18 And hee brought into the house of God the thinges that his father had dedicate, and that he himselfe had dedicate, euen siluer, and gold, and vessels, 19 And there was no more warre vnto ỳ thirty and fiue yere of the raigne of Asa.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Asa for feare of Baasa king of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Syria. 7 He is reproued by the Prophet.

1 IN the thirtie and fifte yeere of the raigne of Asa, came Baasa king of Israel against Juda, and built Rama, to the intent that he would let none passe out or in to Asa king of Juda.

2 And Asa fet out golde and siluer out of the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and [out] of the kinges house, and sent to Benhadad king of Syria that dwelt at ‖ Darmesec, and sayde,

‖ Or, Damascus.

3 There is a confederation betweene me and thee, betweene my father and thine: beholde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde, that thou wilt come and breake thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that he may depart frō me.

4 And Benhadad graunted vnto king Asa, and sent the captaines of his armies to the cities of Israel: and they smote Ijon, Dan, and Abilmaim, and all the strong cities of Nephthali.

5 And when Baasa heard this, he left building of Rama, and let his woorke cease.

6 And then Asa the king tooke all Juda, and caried away the stones and timber of Rama wherewith Baasa was a building, & he built therewith Geba and Mispah.

a God reproueth such leagues as are made with infidels.

7 At that time Hanani the Seer came to Asa king of Juda, and sayde vnto him, [a] Because thou hast trusted in the king of Syria, & not rather put thy trust in the Lord thy God, therfore is the host of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

1. Chro. 4. 9.

8 *Had not the Ethiopians and Lubim an exceeding great host, with many charets and horsemen? and yet because thou trustedst in the Lorde, he deliuered thē into thine hand.

2. Mac. 9. 5.

9 * For the eyes of the Lord behold al ỳ earth, to strengthen them that are of perfect heart towarde him: herein thou hast done foolishly, and therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warre.

b The prophet of God is punished for speaking his message, and thus the wicked in stead of turning vnto God by repentance, contemne the admonition of the Prophets and ministers of God,

10 And so Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a [b] prison house, for hee was displeased with him, because of this thing: and Asa destroyed [certaine] of the people the same season.

11 And beholde, these deedes of Asa first & last, are written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

12 And Asa in the thirtie and ninth yere of his raigne fell sicke in his feete, and his disease continued very long, and in his sickenesse hee sought not the Lord, c but Phisitions.

c Yée thewety that it is in vaine to séeke to the phisicions, except first we séeke to God to purge our sinnes, which are the chiefe causes of all our diseases, and after vse the helpe of the phisicion, as a meane by whom God worketh.

13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and dyed in the fourtie and one yeere of his raigne.

14 And they buried him in his owne sepulchre, which he had made for him selfe in the citie of Dauid, and layde him in the bedde which was filled with diuers kindes of spices, and sweete odours, made by the craft of the apothecaries: and they made a very great burning.

The xvii. Chapter.

5 Iosaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee aboliseth idolotrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught.

1 AND Iosaphat his sonne raigned in his steade, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put souldiers in all the strong cities of Iuda, and set rulers in ỹ land of Iuda, and in the cities of Ephraim which Asa his father had wonne.

3 And the Lorde was with Iosaphat, because he walked in the former wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim:

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandementes, and not after the doings of Israel.

5 And the Lord stablished the kingdome in his hande, and all Iuda brought him presents, so that hee had abundance of riches and honour.

6 And hee lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he put downe yet more of ỹ high places and groues out of Iuda.

7 In the thirde yeere of his raigne hee sent to his lords, euen to Benhail, Obadia, Zacharia, Nethanel, and to Michaia, that they shoulde a teach in the cities of Iuda:

a Iosaphat sent visitours abroade into the countreys to sée religion reformed, and the people truly instructed.

8 And with them hee sent Leuites, euen Semeia, Nethania, Zebadia, Asael, Semiramoth, Iehonathan, Adonia, Tobia, & Tobadonia, Leuites: and with them Elisama and Ioram, Priestes.

9 And they taught in Iuda, and had ỹ booke of the law of God with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iuda, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lorde fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands that were rounde about Iuda, and they fought not against Iosaphat.

11 And some of the Philistines brought Iosaphat giftes, and tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him cattell, euen seuen thousand and seuen hundred rammes, and seuen thousand and seuen hundred hee goates.

12 And so Iosaphat prospered and grew vp an high: and he builte in Iuda castles, and cities of store.

13 And he had great ‖ substance in the cities of Iuda: but the men of armes & strongest souldiers were in Hierusalem.

‖ Or, great workes.

14 And these are the ‖ offices of them in the house of their fathers: ỹ captaines ouer thousandes in Iuda, Adna the captaine, and with him of fighting men, three hundred thousande.

‖ Or, numbers.

15 And next to his hande was Iehonana captaine, and with him two hundred and fourescore thousand.

16 And next him was Amazia the sonne of Zichri, which of his owne good will offered him selfe vnto the Lorde, & with him two hundred thousand mightie men of warre.

17 And of the children of Beniamin, Eliada a man of might, and with him armed men with bowe and shielde two hundred thousand.

18 And next him was Iosabad, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousand that were prepared for the warre.

19 These wayted on the king, besides those which the king put in the strong cities throwout all Iuda.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 Iosaphat maketh affinitie with Achab. 10 Foure hundred Prophetes counsell Achab to goe to warre. 14 Micha is against them. 29 The effect of his prophesie.

1 AND * Iosaphat had abundance of riches and honour, and ioyned affinitie with Achab. * 3. King. 22. 3.

2 And after certaine yeere hee went downe to Achab to Samaria: and Achab slue many sheepe and oxen for him, & for the people that he had with him, and entreated him to go vp with him vnto Ramoth [in] Gilead.

3 And Achab king of Israel sayde vnto Iosaphat king of Iuda, Wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth [in] Gilead? And hee answered him, I will be as thou, and my people shal be as thine, [and we wil go] with thee to the warre.

4 And Iosaphat sayde vnto the king of Israel, Seeke counsell, I pray thee, at the worde of the Lord this same day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered together of Prophets foure hundred men, & sayde vnto them, Shall we go to Ramoth [in] Gilead to fight, or should I cease? And they said, Goe vp, and God shall deliuer it into ỹ kings hand.

6 But Iosaphat sayde, Is there yet here neuer a Prophet more of the Lordes, that wee might aske of him?

7 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, There is yet one man, by whome wee may aske the Lorde, but I hate him, for hee neuer prophecieth me good, but alway euill: and the same is Michea the sonne of Iemla. And Iosophat saide, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called one of his chamberlaines, and sayd, Fetch hither quickly Michea the sonne of Iemla.

9 And the king of Israel and Iosaphat king of Juda sate eyther of them on his seate in their apparell, in a threshing flooze beside the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophecied before them.

10 And one Zedecia the sonne of Chanaana had made him hornes of yron, and sayde, Thus sayeth the Lorde, With these thou shalt push Syria, vntill they be brought to nought.

11 And al the prophets prophecied euen so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth[in]Gilead, and it shal prosper with thee: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to cal Michea, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the prophetes[speake]good to the king with one assent: let thy wordes therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, that thou speake that which is pleasant.

13 And Michea sayd, As the Lord liueth, euen what my God sayth, that will I speake.

14 And when he was come to the king, the king sayd vnto him, Michea, should we goe to Ramoth[in]Gilead to fight, or leaue off? And he sayd, Go vp, and all shalbe well, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king sayd to him, So and so many times doe I charge thee that thou say nothing but the trueth to me, in the name of the Lorde.

16 Then he sayde, I did see all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard, and the Lord sayde, [b] These haue no master: let them returne euery man therefore to his house in peace.

b Ye prophecieth howe the people should be dispearsed, & Achab slayne.

17 And the king of Israel sayd vnto Iosaphat, Did I not tel thee, that he would not prophecie good vnto me, but euill?

18 But he sayde againe, Therefore heare the worde of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his seate, & all the company of heauen stoode on his right hand and on his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shal deceiue Achab king of Israel, that he may go vp and be ouerthrowen at Ramoth[in]Gilead? and one sayd this, another sayd that.

20 And there came out a spirite, and stoode before the Lorde, and sayde, I will deceiue him. And the Lord sayd vnto him, Wherein?

c They that wil not beleeue þ trueth, God sendeth strong delusions, that they should beleeue lyes.

21 And he sayd, I will goe out, and be a [c] lying spirite in the mouth of all his prophetes. And the Lord sayde, Thou shalt deceyue him, and shalt preuayle: goe out, and do euen so.

22 And nowe therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouthes of[all]these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken euill against thee.

3.King.22.22.

23 *And Zedecia the sonne of Chanaana went to, and smote Michea vpon the cheeke, and sayde, By what way went the [d] spirite of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

d Thus the hypocrites boast of the spirit which they haue not, & declare their malice against them in whom the true spirit is.

24 And Michea sayd, Behold, thou shalt see the day when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber for to hide thy selfe.

25 And the king of Israel sayde, Take ye Michea, and bring him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the kings sonne.

26 And ye shall say, Thus sayeth the king, Put this fellowe in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and water of trouble, vntill I come againe in peace.

27 And Michea sayde, If thou come againe in peace, then hath not the Lorde spoken by me. And he sayde, Hearken to ye people euery one of you.

28 And so the king of Israel and Iosaphat the king of Juda went vp to Ramoth[in]Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel sayd vnto Iosaphat, I wil change me when I go to the battel: but see that thou haue thine owne apparell vpon thee. And the king of Israel chãged himselfe, and they came to the battell.

30 But the king of Syria had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, See that ye fight not against small or great, saue against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iosaphat, they sayde, It is the king of Israel: and therefore they compassed about him to fight. *But Iosaphat cryed out, and the Lord helped him, and God ‖ chased them away from him.

1.Kin.22.32.

‖ Or, moued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets perceiued that it was not the king of Israel, they turned backe againe from him.

33 And a[certaine]man drew a bow ‖ at a venture, and smote the king of Israel betweene the ioyntes of his habergin: and he said to his charetmã, Turne thine hand, that thou mayst cary me out of the host, for I am wounded.

‖ Or, in his simplicitie.

34 And the battell encreased that day: howbeit, the king of Israel caused his charet [e] to stand still against the Syrians, vntill Euen: and about the time of the sunne going downe, he dyed.

e He dissembled his hurt, that his souldiers might fight the more courageously.

The xix. Chapter.

1 After Iosaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he calleth againe the people to the honouring of the Lord.

1 AND Iosaphat the king of Juda came home againe in peace to Hierusalem.

2 And Iehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer, went out to meete him, and sayd to king Iosaphat, Wouldest thou helpe the vngodly, and loue them that hate the Lorde? Therefore is wrath come downe vpon thee from before the Lord:

3 Neuertheless, there are some good actes found in thee, in that thou hast hewen downe the groues out of the land, and hast prepared thine thine heart to seeke God.

4 And Iosaphat dwelt at Hierusalem, & turned, [a] & went out to the people from Beersleba to mount Ephraim, & brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

a He visited al his country, & brought his people from idolatrie, to the knowledge of the true God.

5 And he set iudges in the land, throughout all the strong cities of Iuda, citie by citie,

6 And sayde to the iudges, Take heede what ye doe: for ye execute not the iudgementes of man, but of God, which is [b] with you in the iudgement.

b To preserue you, if you do iustly, and to punish you if you do contrary.

7 Wherefore now let the feare of the Lord be vpon you, and take heede, and be doing [the thing that pleaseth him:] for there is no vnrighteousnesse with the Lord our God, * that he should haue any respect of persons, or take rewardes.

Iob.34.19. act.10.34. rom.2.11. 1.pet.1.17.

8 Moreouer, in Hierusalem did Iosaphat set of the Leuites and of the Priestes, and of the ancient fathers ouer Israel, in the iudgement and cause of the Lorde, and they returned againe to Hierusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shal ye doe in the feare of the Lorde faithfully, and with a pure heart:

10 What cause soeuer come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, betweene blood and blood, betweene law and commandement, betweene statutes and ordinances: yee shall warne them that they trespasse not against the Lorde, and so wrath come vpon you and your brethren: thus doe, and ye shall not offend.

11 And beholde, Amaria the high Priest is among you in all matters of the Lorde, & Zebadia the sonne of Ismael, a ruler of the house of Iuda, for all the kings matters: There be officers of the Leuites also before you, take courage to you therefore, & be doing [manfully,] and the Lord shalbe with such as be good.

The xx. Chapter.

3 Iosaphat and the people pray vnto the Lord. 22 The marueilous victorie that the Lorde gaue him against his enemies. 30 His raigne and actes.

1 AFter this also, the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, and with them other of the Ammonites, came against Iosaphat to battell.

2 And there came some that tolde Iosaphat, saying, There commeth a great multitude against thee from the other side of the sea, and out of Syria, and beholde, they be in Hasason Thamar, which is in En-gadi.

3 And Iosaphat feared, and set himselfe to seeke the Lorde, and proclaymed fasting throwout all Iuda.

4 And Iuda gathered themselues together, to aske counsell of the Lorde: and they came out of all the cities of Iuda, ‖ to make intercession to the Lorde.

‖ Or, to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iosaphat stoode betweene the congregation of Iuda and Hierusalem, in the house of the Lord, before the newe court,

6 And sayde, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen, & raignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen, and in thine hande is power and might, and there is no man that is able to withstand thee?

7 Art not thou our God which diddest cast out the inhabiters of this land before thy people Israel, and gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy louer, for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a temple therein for thy name, saying,

9 * If euill come vpon vs, as the sworde of iudgement, pestilence, or hunger: then if we stande before this house in thy presence, (for thy name is in this house) and cry vnto thee in our tribulation, heare thou, and helpe.

2.Chro.6.28.

10 * And nowe behold the children of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, * by whome thou wouldest not let them of Israel goe, when they came out of the lande of Egypt, but they departed from them, and destroyed them not.

1.King.8.37. Deut.2.9.

11 See how they reward vs, to come for to cast vs out of thy possession, which thou hast giuen vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for we haue no might against this great companie that commeth against vs: neither wote we what to do, but our eyes [a] be vnto thee.

a We only put our trust in thee, & waite for our deliuerance from heauen.

13 And all Iuda stoode before the Lorde, with their yong ones, their wiues, & their children.

14 And there was Iahaziel the sonne of Zacharia, the sonne of Benaia, the sonne of Iehiel, the sonne of Matthania, a Leuite, of ỹ sonnes of Asaph, and vpon him came the spirit of the Lord in the middes of the congregation:

15 And he sayde, Hearken all Iuda, and ye inhabiters of Hierusalem, and thou king Iosaphat, Thus sayeth the Lorde vnto you, Be not afrayd, nor faynt hearted, by reason of this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morowe goe ye downe against them: beholde, they come vp by the clift of Ziz, and ye shal finde them at the ende of the brooke, before the wildernesse of Ieruel.

17 Ye shall not neede to fight in this battel, but step forth, and stande, and beholde the helpe of the Lord which is with you: feare not, nor let your hearts fayle you, O ye of Iuda and of Hierusalem, to morowe go out against them, for the Lorde will be with you.

18 And Iosaphat [b] bowed his face to the earth, and all Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem fell before the Lord, worshipping the Lorde.

b Declaring his faith and obedience to the worde of the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Caathites, and of the children of the Corahites, stoode vp to prayse the Lorde God of Israel, with with a loude voyce on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they gate them out vnto the wildernesse of Thecoa: & as they went out, Iosaphat stoode, and saide, Heare me, O Iuda, and ye inhabiters of Hierusalem: Put your trust in the Lorde your God, that ye may be found faithfull: giue credence to his prophets, and so shal ye prosper.

21 When he had consulted with the people, and set some to sing vnto the Lorde, and to prayse him in the beautie of holinesse, and to goe out before the armie, and to say, Prayse the Lord, for his mercie lasteth euer.

22 And when they beganne to showte, and to prayse the Lord, the Lord laide ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iuda, and they were ouerthrowen with strokes among themselues.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab, rose against the inhabiters of mount Seir, and they slew and destroyed them: and when they had made an ende of the inhabiters of Seir, euery one helped to destroy an other among themselues.

24 And when Iuda came towarde Mispah in the wildernesse, they looked vnto the multitude, and behold, they were dead carkeises fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iosaphat and his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they founde among them abundance of goods, rayment, and precious iewels, which they tooke for themselues, more then they could cary away: so that they were three dayes in gathering of the spoyle, it was so much.

26 And the fourth day they assembled in ỹ valley of blessing: for there they [c] blessed ỹ Lord, and therefore they called ỹ name of the same place, The valley of blessing, vnto this day.

[c] Gaue thākes vnto the Lorde for that victorie.

27 And so all the men of Iuda and Hierusalem, returned with Iosaphat their head, for to goe againe to Hierusalem with gladnesse: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Hierusalem with Psalteries, and Harpes, and Shawmes, vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God fell on the kingdomes of all landes, when they had heard that the Lord fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 And so the realme of Iosaphat was in tranquilitie, and his God gaue him rest on euery syde.

31 And Iosaphat raigned vpon Iuda, and was thirtie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and he raigned twentie and fiue yeres in Hierusalem, and his mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and bowed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit, * the high places were not taken away: for ỹ people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers. 1.Kin 22.43.

34 The rest of the actes of Iosaphat first and last, beholde, they are written among the sayings of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which noted them in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 After this, did Iosaphat king of Iuda ioyne himselfe with Ahazia king of Israel, whose minde was to do wickedly:

36 He ioyned himselfe with him, to make ships to goe to Tharsis: and they made the shippes in Ezion Gaber.

37 And Eliezer the sonne of Dodauah of Maresa, prophecied against Iosaphat, saying, Because thou hast [d] ioyned thy selfe with Ahazia, the Lord hath broken thy workes. And the shippes were broken, that they were not able to go to Tharsis.

[d] God would not haue his to ioyne in societie with idolaters and wicked men.

The xxi. Chapter.

1 Iosaphat dyeth. 3 Ioram succeedeth him. 4 which killeth his brethren. 16 He is oppressed of the Philistines. 18 His miserable ende.

1 IOsaphat also slept with his fathers, and was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: and Ioram his sonne raigned in his steade.

2 And he had brethren which were the sonnes of Iosaphat, Azaria, Iehiel, Zacharia, Azaria, Michael, & Sephatia: all these are the sonnes of Iosaphat king of Iuda.

3 And their father gaue thē many great gifts of gold and siluer, & other ‖ speciall substance, with strong cities in Iuda: but the kingdome gaue he to Ioram, for he was the eldest. ‖ Or, precious.

4 * And Ioram rose vp against the kingdome of his father, and preuayled, and slewe all his brethren with the swoorde, and diuers of the lordes of Israel. 4.King 8.16.

5 Ioram was thirtie and two yeres old when he began to raigne, & he raigned eight yeeres in Hierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, like as did the house of Achab, for hee had the daughter of Achab to [a] wife: and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit, * the Lord woulde not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the couenant that he had made with Dauid, as he promised, to giue a light to him & to his sonnes for euer.

8 In his dayes the Edomites rebelled, when they were vnder the dominion of Iuda, and made themselues a king.

9 And Ioram went forth with his lordes, and all his charets were with him: and he rose vp by night, & smote the Edomites, which compassed him in: & the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled still, so that they would not be vnder the hand of Iuda vnto this day: that that ſame time alſo did Libna rebell from being vnder his hande, becauſe he had forſaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer, he made high places in the mountaines of Juda, and cauſed the inhabiters of Hieruſalem to [b] commit fornication, and prouoked Juda [to idolatrie.]

[b] Meaning idolatrie, becauſe the idolater breaketh promiſe with God, as doeth the adultreſſe woman with her huſband.

12 And there came a writing to him frō [c] Elia the Prophet, ſaying, Thus ſayeth the Lorde God of Dauid thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the wayes of Joſaphat thy father, and in the wayes of Aſa king of Juda:

[c] Some thinke that this was Eliſeus, becauſe he had the double ſpirit of Elia.

13 But walkedſt in the wayes of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Juda, and the dwellers of Hieruſalem, to goe a whoring like to the whoredome of the houſe of Achab, and haſt ſlayne thy brethren, euen thy fathers houſe, which were better then thou:

14 Beholde, with a great plague will the Lord ſmite thy folke, thy children, thy wiues, and all thy goods:

15 And thou ſhalt ſuffer great payne, euen a diſeaſe of thy bowels, vntill thy guttes fall out by reaſon of thy ſickneſſe day by day.

16 And ſo the Lorde ſtirred vp againſt Joram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and the Arabians that were beſide the Ethiopians.

17 And they came vp into Juda, and walted it, and caryed away all the ſubſtance that was found in the kings houſe, and his ſonnes, and his wiues, ſo that there was neuer a ſonne left him, ſaue ‖ Joahaz, which was the yongeſt among his ſonnes.

‖ Or, Ahazia.

18 And after all theſe things, the Lorde ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And in proceſſe of time, after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out in his ſickeneſſe, and ſo he dyed of very euill diſeaſes: and they made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to raigne, he was thirtie & two yeeres olde, and raigned in Hieruſalem eight yeeres, and liued ‖ wretchedly: howbeit, they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the ſepulchres of the kings.

‖ Or, depoſed, chap. 22.

The xxii. Chapter.

10 Athalia putteth to death all the kings linage. 11 Ioas eſcapeth.

1 AND * the inhabiters of Hieruſalem made Ahazia his yong ſonne king in his ſteade: for the men of warre that came [a] with the hoſt of the Arabians, had ſlayne all his eldeſt ſonnes: And ſo Ahazia the ſonne of Joram king of Juda was made king.

4. King. 8. 24.

[a] Meaning the Philiſtines.

2 [b] Fourtie and two yeeres olde was he when he began to raigne, and he raigned one yeere in Hieruſalem: his mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of [c] Amri.

[b] Which is to be vnderſtand, that he raigned twenty yeeres, his father yet liuing, but after his fathers death he was confirmed king, when he was fourtie & two yeres old.

[c] She was Achabs daughter, who was the ſonne of Amri.

3 And hee walked alſo in the wayes of the houſe of Achab: for his mother by her counſel enticed him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did that which was euill in the ſight of the Lord, as did they that were of the houſe of Achab: for they were his [d] counſailours after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

[d] Euill counſailours make an euil king.

5 And hee walked after their counſaile, and went with Joram ſonne of Achab king of Iſrael, to fight againſt Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth [in] Gilead: and the Syrians ſmote Joram.

6 And he turned to be healed in Jezrahel, of the woundes which were giuē him at Rama, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria: and Ahazia the ſonne of Joram king of Juda, went downe to ſee Joram the ſonne of Achab at Jezrahel, becauſe he was diſeaſed.

7 And it came of God that Ahazia ſhoulde be deſtroyed for his comming to Joram: for whē he was come, he went out with Joram againſt Jehu the ſonne Nimſi, whom the Lorde had anoynted to deſtroy the houſe of Achab.

8 And when Jehu was executing iuſtice vpon the houſe of Achab, & found the lordes of Juda, and the ſonnes of the brethren of Ahazia that wayted on Ahazia, he ſlue them.

9 And he ſought Ahazia: and they caught him (where he was hid in Samaria) and brought him to Jehu, and when they had ſlayne him, they buryed him: becauſe, ſayde they, he is the ſonne of Joſaphat, which ſought the Lorde with all his heart: And the houſe of Ahazia had no power to keepe ſtill the kingdome.

10 * But when Athalia, the mother of Ahazia, ſawe that her ſonne was dead, ſhe aroſe, and [e] deſtroyed all the kings ſeede in the kinred of Juda.

4. King. 11. 1.

[e] To the intent that there ſhould be none to make title to the crowne, & ſo ſhe might vſurpe the gouernment.

11 And Joſabeth the daughter of the king, tooke Joas the ſonne of Ahazia, and ſtale him from among the kinges ſonnes that were ſlayne, and put him and his nurſe in a priuie chamber: & ſo Joſabeth the daughter of king Joram, the wife of Jehoiada the Prieſt (and the ſiſter of Ahazia) hid him from Athalia, that he was not ſlayne.

12 And ſo he was with them hid in the houſe of God ſixe yeeres, and Athalia raigned ouer the land.

The xxiii. Chapter.

2 Ioas the ſonne of Ahazia is made king. 14 Athalia is put to death. 17 The temple of Baal is deſtroyed. 19 Iehoiada appoynteth miniſters in the temple.

1 AND * in the ſeuenth yeere, Jehoiada being bolde, tooke the captaines of hundreds, Azariah the ſonne of Joram, and Iſmael the ſonne of Jehohanan, Azaria the ſonne of Obed, Maaſia the ſonne of Adaia, and Eliſaphat the ſonne of Zichri, and made a bond with them.

the ancient fathers of a Israel, and they came to Hierusalem.

3 And all the Congregation made a bonde with the king in the house of God: and hee sayd vnto them, Behold, the kings sonne must raigne, as the Lord hath sayde of the children of Dauid.

4 This is it therefore that ye shall doe, The thirde part of you shall on the Sabboth come to the Priestes, Leuites, and keepers of the porches,

5 And another thirde part shalbe by the kings house, & another third part shall be at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shalbe in the courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 But there shall none come into the house of the Lorde, saue the Priestes and Leuites that minister, they shal go in, for they are holy: but al the people shal keepe the wath of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compasse the king rounde about, and euery man shall haue his weapon in his hand, & what other man soeuer doth come into the house [of the Lord] he shall be slayne: and let them be with the king when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 And the Leuites, and al Iuda, did according to all things that Iehoiada the Priest had cõmanded, and tooke euery man his men that came in on the Sabboth, with them that went out on the Sabboth day: neither did Iehoiada the Priest let the companies depart.

9 And Iehoiada the Priest, deliuered to the captaines of hundreds, speares, shieldes, and bucklers, that had pertayned to king Dauid, and were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people (euery man hauing his weapon in his hande) from the right side of the temple, to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, round about the king.

11 And they brought out the kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and the ‖ testimonie, and made him king: and Iehoiada and his sonnes anoynted him, and sayd, God saue the king.

12 When Athalia heard the noyse of the people running, and praysing the king, she came to the people in the house of the Lord.

13 And shee looked, and beholde, the king stoode ‖ in his place at the entring in, and the lords and the trumpets were by the king, and all the people of the lande reioyced, blowing with trumpets: and the singers were with instruments of musicke, and such as could sing prayse: but Athalia rent her clothes, and sayd, Treason, treason.

14 And Iehoiada the Priest went out to the captaines of hundreds, that were gouernours of the host, and sayd vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges: and b who so followeth her, let him be slayne with the sworde: For the Priest sayde, That they shoulde not slay her in the house of the Lord.

b Meaning, to take his part.

15 And they layde handes on her, tyll shee was come to the entring of the horse gate, beside the kings house, and there they slue her.

16 And Iehoiada made a bonde betweene him, and all the people, & the king, that they should be the Lordes people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and c destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and slewe Matthan the Priest of Baal, before the altars.

c According to their couenant made.

18 And Iehoiada ‖ put the officers for the house of the Lord vnder the hand of the Priests and Leuites, as Dauid had distributed them in the house of the Lord, to offer whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, as it is written in the lawe of Moses, with reioycing, and singing, as it was ordeyned by Dauid.

‖ Or, appointed.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none which was vncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundreds, and all the nobles, and the gouernours of the people, and all the folke of the lande, and caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they came through the high gate into the kinges house, and set the king vpon the seate of the kingdome.

21 And all the people of the lande reioyced, and the citie was in tranquilitie after that they had slayne Athalia with the sworde.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 Ioas repayreth the house of the Lord. 23 Ioas is killed of his owne seruants.

1 IOas * was seuen yeeres olde when he began to raigne, & he raigned fourtie yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Zibia, of Beersheba.

* 4. King. 12. 1.

2 And Ioas did that which was right in the sight of the Lorde all the dayes of a Iehoiada the Priest.

a Vpon was a faithfull counsailour, & gouerned him by the worde of God.

3 And Iehoiada gaue him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And after this, Ioas was minded to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he gathered togethet the Priestes, and the Leuites, and sayde to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iuda, and gather of all Israel, money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and see that ye haste the thing: Howbeit, the Leuites were slacke.

6 And the king called Iehoiada that was the b chiefest, and sayde vnto him, Why requirest thou not of the Leuites to bring in out of Iuda and Hierusalem, the collection of money, according to the commaundement of Moses the seruant of the Lord, & of the congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of witnesse?

b For he was the high priest.

7 For wicked Athalia and her children, brake vp the house of God, and all the thinges that were were dedicate for the house of the Lorde, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 And at the kings commaundement they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the Lord:

9 And made a proclamation thorow Iuda and Hierusalem, to bring in to the Lord *the taxation of money that Moses the seruant of God set vpon Israel in the wilderneſſe. Exod. 30, 12.

10 And the lordes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest ‖ vntill it was full. ‖ Or, vntill they had made an ende.

11 And at the same time they brought in the chest, vnto them which were in the kings businesse, by the hand of the Leuites, and when they sawe that there was much money: the kings scribe, and one appoynted by the high Priest, came & emptied the chest, and tooke it, & caryed it to his place againe. Thus they did day by day, and gathered much money.

12 And the king and Iehoiada gaue it to such as did labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hired Masons and Carpenters to repaire the house of the Lorde, and so did the artificers in yron and brasse, to mend the house of the Lord.

13 And so the workemen wrought, & the worke mended thorowe their handes: and they made the house of God as it ought to be, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Iehoiada, and therewith were made vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister withal, ‖ chargers, & spoones, vessels of golde and siluer: and they offered whole burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually, all the dayes of Iehoiada. ‖ Or, morters, or bowles.

15 But Iehoiada waxed olde, and dyed full of dayes: for an hundred and thirtie yeeres olde was he when he dyed.

16 And they buryed him in the citie of Dauid, among the kings, because he dealt well with Israel, and with God, and with his house.

17 And after the death of Iehoiada, came the [c] lordes of Iuda, and made obeysance to the king: and the king hearkened vnto them. c Which were flatterers and idolaters.

18 And so they left the house of the Lorde God of their fathers, and serued groues and idols, and then came the wrath of God vpon Iuda & Hierusalem for this their trespasses sake.

19 And he sent prophets to them, to bring them againe vnto the Lorde, and they testified vnto them, but they would not heare.

20 And the spirite of God came vpon Zacharia the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stoode by the people, & sayde vnto them, Thus sayth God, Why transgresse ye the commaundements of the Lorde, that ye can not prosper? For because ye haue forsaken the Lorde, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him, [d] and stoned him with stones, at the commandement of the king, euen in the court of the house of the Lord. d Idolaters are euer cruel.

22 And so Ioas the king remembred not the kindenesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, * but slue his sonne, and when he dyed, he sayd, The Lord looke vpon it, and require it. Matt. 23. 35.

23 And when the yeere was out, the host of Syria came vp against him, and they came against Iuda and Hierusalem, and destroyed al the lordes of the people, from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king to Damascus.

24 For the Syrians came with a small company of men, & the Lorde deliuered a very great host into their hād, because they had forsaken the Lorde God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Ioas.

25 And when they were departed from him, they left him in great diseases: and his owne seruants conspired against him, for the blood of the [e] children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he dyed: and they buryed him in the citie of Dauid, but not in the sepulchres of the kings. e Meaning Zachari, one of Iehoiada his sonnes.

26 And these are they that conspired against him: Zabad the sonne of Simeath, an Ammonite, and Iehosabad the sonne of Simrith, a Moabite.

27 [f] And his sonnes, and the summe of the taxe that was rayled in his time, and the repairing of the house of God, beholde, they are written in the story of the booke of the kings: and Amazia his sonne raigned in his steade. f That is, concerning his sonnes.

The xxv. Chapter.

3 Amazia putteth them to death which slew his father.
14 He falleth to idolatrie.

1 AMazia was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and he raygned twentie and nyne yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Iehoadan, of Hierusalem.

2 And he did that which is [a] right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart. a Meaning in respect of his predecessours, albeit, he had his imperfection.

3 And as soone as hee was setled in the kingdome, he slue his seruants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slewe not their children, because it is written thus in the law and booke of Moses, where the Lorde commanded, saying, * The father shall not dye for the children, neyther shal the children dye for the fathers: but euery man shall dye for his owne sinne. Deut. 24. 16. 4. king. 14. 6. ezec. 18. 20.

5 And Amazia gathered Iuda together, and made them captaines ouer thousandes, and ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, thorowout all Iuda and Beniamin: and hee numbred them from twentie yeeres olde, and aboue, and founde among them three hundred thousande chosen men able to goe to battell, and that coulde handle speare and shielde.

6 He hyred also an hundred thousande strong fighting men out of Israel, for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 And there came a man of God to him, and sayd, O king, let not the armie of Israel come with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, [to wit,] with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt needes [be faithlesse,] come on, and take the battell in hand, and God shall make thee fal before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amazia sayd to the man of God, What shal we do then for the hundred talents which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? The man of God answered, The Lorde is able to giue thee much more then they be.

10 And Amazia separated the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to goe home againe: wherefore they were exceeding wroth with Juda, & returned home in great anger.

11 And Amazia tooke heart, and caried out his people, and went to the salt valley, & smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Juda take aliue, and caried them vnto ý top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, that they all to burst.

b That is, the hundred thousand of Israel.

13 But the souldiers of the b armie which Amazia sent away that they should not go with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Juda, from Samaria, vnto Bethron, & smote three thousand of them, & tooke much spoile.

14 And after that Amazia was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the goddes of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his goddes, and bowed himselfe before them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amazia, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which sayd vnto him, Why hast thou sought the goddes of the people, which were not able to c deliuer their owne people out of thine hand.

c That which can not deliuer others, nor saue it selfe, is no God, but an idole.

16 And as the Prophet talked with him, the king said vnto him, Haue men made thee of the kings counsell? Ceasse, why wilt thou be beaten? And the Prophet ceassed, and said, I am sure that God is minded to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and agreest not vnto my counsell.

17 Then Amazia king of Juda, tooke aduice, & sent to Joas the sonne of Joahaz the sonne of Jehu king of Israel, and sayd, Come, that we may see one another.

2. King. 14. 8. 2. King. 14. 9.

18 And Joas king of Israel, * sent to Amazia king of Juda, saying, * A thistle that is in Libanon, sent to a Cedar tree of Libanon, saying, Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and there came a wilde beast of Libanon, and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the Edomites, and thine heart maketh thee proude to glorifie thy selfe: Now therfore bide at home, why doest thou prouoke vnto euill, that thou mayest perish, both thou, & Juda with thee?

20 But Amazia would not hearken to him: for it came of God, euen to deliuer them into the hande of their enemies, because they sought counsell at the gods of Edom.

21 And so Joas the king of Israel came vp, & they saw either other, both he, & Amazia king of Juda at Bethsames, which is in Juda.

22 And Juda was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tent.

23 And Joas the king of Israel tooke Amazia king of Juda the sonne of Joas, the sonne of Joahaz, at Bethsames, and brought him to Hierusalem, and tare the wal of Hierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim, vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And hee tooke away also all the golde and siluer, and all the vessels that were founde in the house of God with Obed Edom, and the treasures of the kinges house, the children also that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amazia the sonne of Joas king of Juda, liued after the death of Joas sonne of Joahaz king of Israel, fifteene yeeres.

26 The rest of the actes of Amazia first & last, are they not written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel?

27 And after the time that Amazia did turne away from the Lorde, they conspired treason against him in Hierusalem, and when he was fled to Lachis, they sent to Lachis after him, and slue him there:

28 And brought him vp with horses, & buryed him with his fathers in the citie of Juda.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 Ozias obeying the Lorde, prospereth in his enterprises. 16 He waxeth proude, and vsurpeth the Priestes office.

1 THen all the people of Juda * tooke Ozias, which was sixteene yeeres olde, and made him king in the rowne of his father Amazia. 4. King. 14. 21. and 15. 1.

2 And he buylt Eloth, and brought it againe to Juda, after that the king was laid to sleepe with his fathers.

3 Sixteene yeeres olde was Ozias when he began to raigne, and he raigned fiftie and two yerees in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Jecholia, of Hierusalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lorde, according to all as did his father Amazia.

a This was not that Zacharia which was the sonne of Jeholada, but some other Prophet of that name.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of a Zacharia, who had vnderstanding in the visions of God: and as long as hee sought the Lorde,

God

God mad him to prosper.

6 And hee went to battell against the Philistines, and brake downe the wall of Geth, and the wall of Jabne, and the wall of Asdod, and built cities about Asdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God holpe him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gurbaal, and Hamehunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue tribute to Ozias, and his name spread abroad euē to the entring in of Egypt: for he plaied ꝑ man exceedingly.

9 Moreouer, Ozias builte towres in Hierusalem by the corner gate, & by the valley gate, and at the turning of the wal, and made them strong.

10 And he builte towres in the wilderneſſe, and digged many welles: for he had much cattell in the valleys and playnes, plowmen, & vinedressers in the mountaines, and in Charmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 And Ozias had an host of fighting men, that went out to warre in ꝑ armie, according to the number of their office, vnder the hande of Jeiel the scribe, and Maasia the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hanania, [which was] one of the kings lords.

12 And ꝑ whole number of the ancient fathers, and of the men of might, were two thousand, and sixe hundred.

13 And vnder the hand of them, was the armie of the men of warre, euen three hundred and seuen thousande, and fiue hundred, that made warre with the power of an armie, helping the king against the enemies:

14 And Ozias prouided them throughout all the host, shields, speares, helmets, habergines, bowes, and slings for to cast stones.

15 And he made subtile engins in Hierusalem, which he inuented, and layde on the towres and corners, to shoote arrowes & great stones withall: and his name spread farre abroad, because he had prepared to himselfe marueilous strength.

b Prosperitie puffeth vp the heart of man, & maketh him often to forget God.

16 But in his strength b his heart arose to his destruction: for he transgressed against ꝑ Lord his God, & went into the temple of the Lord, to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azaria the Priest went in after him, & with him foure score Priestes of the Lorde, that were valiant men:

18 And they stoode against Ozias the king, and sayd vnto him, It parteineth not to thee, Ozias, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the children of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: c come therfore out of the sanctuarie, for thou hast trespassed, & it is no worship for thee before the Lord God.

c Though his zeale & intention seemed good, yet because they were not ruled by gods word, his fact was wicked, & iustly punished.

19 And Ozias was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it, & so while he had indignation against the priests, the leprosie sprang in his forehead before the priestes in the house of the Lord, euen beside the incense altar.

20 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, with all the other priests, looked vpon him, and beholde, he was become a leper in his forehead, and they thrust him from thence, and he hasted to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 *And Ozias the king continued a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt seueral in an house, being a leper, and shut out of the house of the Lorde: and Jotham his sonne had the gouernance of the kings house, and iudged the people of the land. *1. Sam. 15. 5. leuit. 13 46.

22 The rest of the actes of Ozias first and last, did Esai the Prophete, the sonne of Amos, write.

23 And so Ozias slept with his fathers, & they buryed him with his fathers in the field of the buyral which [was] beside ꝑ sepulchres of the kings: for they sayde, He is a leper. And Jotham his sonne raigned in his steade.

The xxvii. Chapter.

1 Iotham raigneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8 His raigne, and death. 9 Ahaz his sonne raigneth in his steade.

1 IOtham *was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and he raigned sixteene yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Jerusa, the daughter of Zadoc. *2. King. 15. 33.

2 And hee did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, in all poyntes as did his father Ozias, saue that he came not into the a temple of the Lorde: and the people did yet wickedly.

a To wit, to offer incense against Gods word, as Ozias his father did, Chap. 26. 16.

3 He buylt the hygh gate of the temple of the Lord, and on the wall (where the house of ordinance was) he buylt much.

4 Moreouer, he built cities in the mountaines of Juda, and in the wood countrey he buylt castels and towres.

5 He fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preuayled against them, and the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talentes of siluer, and tenne thousand measures of wheate, and tenne thousand of barley: so much did the children of Ammon giue him the second yeere, and the third also.

6 So Jotham became mightie, b because hee directed his wayes before the Lord his God.

b All prosperitie commeth of God, who neuer sayleth them that put their trust in him.

7 The rest of the actes of Jotham, and all his warres, and his conuersation, loe, they are written in the booke of the kinges of Israel and Juda.

8 He was fiue and twentie yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and raigned sixteene yeres in Hierusalem.

9 And Jotham slept with his fathers, & they buryed him in the citie of Dauid: and Achas his sonne raigned in his steade.

The

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 Achas an idolater is giuen into the handes of the Syrians and the king of Israel. 23 Achas encreaseth his idolatrie. 26 His death, and successour.

4.Kin.16.2. 1 ACHAS * was twentie yeeres old when he began to raigne, & raigned sixteene yeeres in Hierusalem, and he did not that which is right in the sight of the Lord, as did his father Dauid:

4.Kin.16.3. 2 * For he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and made molten images for Baalim.

3 He offred incense in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, & burnt his children in fire, after the abominations of the Heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He offred also, and burnt incense in the high places, and on mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the king of the Syrians, which smote him, and caried away a great multitude of his captiue, and brought them to Damascus: and he was deliuered into the hand of the king of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For Pecah the sonne of Romelia slew in Juda an hundred and twentie thousand in one day, which were all fighting men: and that because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

‖ Or, tyrant. 7 And Zichri a ‖ mightie man of Ephraim, slew Maasia the kings sonne, and Azrica the gouernour of the house, and Elcana that was next to the king.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand women, sonnes, and daughters, and caried away much spoile of them, and brought the spoile to Samaria.

9 But there was a prophet of the Lordes, whose name was Obed: and hee went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and said vnto them, Beholde, because the Lorde God of your fathers is wroth with Juda, [a] he hath deliuered them into your hand, and yee haue slaine them with cruelnes that reacheth vp to heauen.

a All vnrighteousnesse commeth of God.

10 And now ye purpose to keepe vnder ỹ children of Juda and Hierusalem, and to make them bondmen and bondwomen: and do ye not lade your selues with sinne in the sight of the Lord your God?

11 Now heare me therefore, and deliuer the captiues againe which ye haue taken of your brethren: for els shal the great wrath of God be vpon you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the heads of the children of Ephraim, as Azaria the sonne of Johanan, Berechia the sonne of Mesillemoth, & Ezechias the sonne of Sallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stoode vp against them that came from the warre:

13 And said vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for where as we haue offended toward the Lord already, ye intend to adde more to our sinnes and trespasse: for our trespasse is great already, and there is a fierce wrath against Israel.

14 And vpon that, the men of armes left ỹ captiues and the spoile before the lordes and all the congregation.

15 And the men that were now rehearsed by name, rose vp, and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and shooed them, and gaue them to eate and to drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Jericho the citie of palme trees, to their brethren: and then they returned to Samaria againe.

16 At that same tyme did king Achas send vnto the kings of the Syrians, to haue helpe of them.

17 And the Edomites came againe, and slew some of Juda, and caried away captiues.

18 And the Philistines inuaded the cities in ỹ lowe countrey, and toward the South of Juda, and tooke Bethsames, and Aialon, & Gederoth, and Socho, with the townes longing thereto, and Thimna with the townes of the same, Gimso and the townes thereof, and dwelt there.

19 For the Lord brought Juda lowe, because of Achas king of ‖ Juda, which made Juda naked, and transgressed sore against the Lord.

‖ Or, Israel.

20 And Thilgath Phalnasar king of the Assyrians, came vpon him, and troubled him, rather then strengthened him.

21 For Achas tooke away a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the kings house, and out of the lordes houses, and gaue vnto the king of the Assyrians: and yet it helped him not.

22 And in the very tyme of his tribulation, did king Achas trespasse yet more against the Lord.

23 For he offred vnto the gods of Damascus, which [b] smote him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Syria helpe them, therfore will I offer to them, that they may helpe me also: but they were his destruction, and [the destruction] of all Israel.

b As he falsly supposed.

24 And Achas gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and brake them, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lorde, and made him altars in euery corner of Hierusalem.

25 And in all the cities of Juda he made high places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and angred the Lord God of his fathers.

26 The rest of his actes, and his workes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.
27 And Achas slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Hierusalem: but brought him not into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel, and Hezecia his sonne raigned in his stead.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 Hezecia repaireth the temple, and adui tiseth the Leuites of the corruption of religion.

4.Kin.18.1. HEzecia began to raigne whē he was fiue and twentie yeeres olde, and hee raigned nine and twentie yeeres in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Abia, the daughter of Zacharia.
2 And he did that which was right in ỹ sight of the Lord in all pointes, as did Dauid his father.
3 He opened the a doores of the house of the Lorde, in the first yeere and first b moneth of his raigne, and repaired them.
4 And he brought in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them together into the East streete,
5 And said vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites, and now be sanctified, and halowe the house of the Lorde God of your fathers, c bring filthinesse out of the holy place.
6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the ‖ habitation of the Lord, and turned their backes on it.
7 And beside that, they haue shut vp ỹ doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, and haue neither burnt incense, nor offered whole burnt offrings in the holy place vnto the God of Israel.
8 d Wherefore the wrath of the Lord fell on Juda and Hierusalem, and he hath brought them to trouble, to be wondred on, and to bee hissed at, euen as ye see with your eyes.
9 For lo, our fathers were ouerthrowen with the sword, and our sonnes, our daughters, and our wiues were caried away captiue for the same cause.
10 And now it is in mine heart to make a couenant with the Lord God of Israel, that hee may turne away his heauie indignation from vs.
11 Now therefore, my sonnes, be not negligēt: for the Lorde hath chosen you to stand before him, and for to minister and serue him, and to burne incense.
12 Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azaria, of the children of the Caathites: e of the sonnes of Merari, Cis the sonne of Abdi, and Azaria the sonne of Jahalelel: and of the sonnes of the Gersonites, Joah the sonne of Zimma, and Eden the sonne of Joah:
13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Simri and Jehiel: and of the sonnes of Asaph, Zacharia and Matthania:
14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Jehiel, & Simei: and of the sonnes of Idithun, Semaia, and Oziel.
15 And they gathered their brethren, and purified themselues, and came according to the commandement of the king, and the wordes of the Lorde, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.
16 And the priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleannes that they found in the temple of the Lord, into the court of ỹ house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to carry it out into the brooke Cedron.
17 They began the first day of the first moneth to purifie, & the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an ende.
18 And they went in to Hezecia the king, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, the altar of whole burnt offering, with all his vessels, and the Shewe bread table, with all his ‖ apparell:
19 And all the vessels which king Achas did cast aside when hee raigned and transgressed, them we haue prepared and sanctified, and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.
20 And Hezecia the king rose early, and gathered the lordes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.
21 And they brought seuē oxen, seuen rammes, seuen sheepe, and seuen hee goates, to bee a sinne offring, for the kingdome, for the sanctuarie, and for Juda: and he commanded the priests, the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.
22 And they slew the oxen, and the priestes receiued the blood, and c sprinkled it on the altar: likewise when they had slaine ỹ rammes, they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar: they slew also the sheepe, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.
23 And then they brought forth the hee goates for the sinne offering, before the king and the congregation, and f put their handes vpon them.
24 And the priestes slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar, to make satisfaction for all Israel: for the king commaunded that the whole burnt offering and the sinne offering [should bee made] for all Israel:
25 And set the Leuites in the house of the Lord, with cymbals, psalteries, and harpes, according to the commandement of Dauid, and a Which Achas had shut vp.

b An example for all princes, that first of all they establish the true religion of god.
c Meaning, all the idols, altars, groues, and whatsoeuer was occupied in their seruice, and wherewith the temple was defiled.
‖ Or, tabernacle.
d The contempt of religion, is the cause of Gods plagues.
e For without sprinkling of blood, nothing could be sanctified.
f They that offred a sinne offring, must lay their hāds vpon it: Meaning that they themselues had deserued that death: & also that they did consecrate it to God, thereby to be sanctified, Exo. 29. 10.

and of Gad the kings Seer, and Nathan the prophet: for so was the commandement of the Lord through the hand of his prophets.

26 And the Leuites stoode, hauing the instrumentes of Dauid: and the priests helde the trumpets.

27 And Hezecia commanded to offer the whole burnt offring vpon the altar: And when the whole burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began also, and the trumpets, with the instruments that were ordeined by the hand of Dauid king of Israel.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, singing a song, and blowing with the trumpets: and all this [continued] vntill the whole burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offring, the king and all that were present with him, bowed themselues, and worshipped.

2 Chr. 16.8. 30 And * Hezecia the king, and the lordes spake to the Leuites, to prayse the Lorde with the wordes of Dauid and of Asaph the Seer: and they sang praises with gladnesse, and the other bowed themselues, and worshipped.

31 And Hezecia answered and sayd, Now ye haue consecrated your handes vnto the Lord: goe to therefore, and bring the sacrifices and thanke offerings into the house of the Lord. And the congregation brought in the sacrifices and thanke offerings, and whole burnt offerings, as many as were of a free liberal heart.

32 And the number of ỹ whole burnt offrings, which the congregation brought, was threescore and ten oxen, an hundred rammes, and two hundred sheepe: which [were] all for the whole burnt offering of the Lord.

33 And there [were] dedicated sixe hundred oxen, and three thousand sheepe.

34 And the priests were too fewe to slay all the whole burnt offrings: but their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended ỹ worke, and vntill the priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were purer hearted to be sanctified then the priests.

35 And thereto the whole burnt offeringes were many, with the fatte of the peace offerings, and the drinke offerings that belong to the whole burnt offering: and so the seruice, pertaining to the house of the Lord, was finished.

36 And Hezecia reioyced, and all the people, that God had made the folke so readie, and that the thing was so soone done.

The xxx. Chapter.

The keeping of the Passeouer by the kinges commandement.

1 AND Hezecia sent to all Israel and Iuda, and wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasse, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, & keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king helde a counsell with his lordes, and all the congregation of Hierusalem, to keepe the feast of Passeouer in the [a]second moneth:

3 For they could not keepe it at that tyme, because the priests were not sanctified sufficiently, neither was the people gathered together to Hierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5 And they decreed that it should be proclaimed throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that they should come and holde the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Hierusalem: for they had not done it of a great [season] as it was [b] written.

6 So the postes went with letters of ỹ kings and of his lordes, throughout all Israel and Iuda, and at the commandement of the king they said, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and Israel, and hee will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hand of the kings of the Assyrians.

7 And bee not ye like your fathers and your brethren, which trespassed against the Lorde God of their fathers, which gaue them vp to be destroyed, as ye see.

8 And now be not ye stiffenecked like as were your fathers: but yeeld your selues vnto the Lord, and enter into his holy place, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lorde your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shal turne away from you.

9 For if ye turne againe vnto the Lorde, then shall your brethren and your children finde compassion in the presence of them that tooke them captiue, and they shal come againe vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 And so the postes went from citie to citie, through the land of Ephraim, and Manasse, euen vnto Zabulon: [but they] laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheless, yet diuers of Aser, Manasse, and of Zabulon, submitted themselues, & came to Hierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iuda, and he gaue them one heart to do the commandemẽt of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Hierusalem much people, & there was present a mightie great congregatiõ, to hold the feast of sweete bread in the second moneth.

14 And they arose, and remooued the altars that were in Hierusalem: and all the altars for incense did they away, and cast them into the brooke Cedron.

15 And they slew the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests & Leuites which were [c] ashamed, sanctified thẽselues, and brought in the whole burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

c Seing their owne negligence, and the readinesse of the people.

16 And they stoode in their office after their maner, and according to the lawe of Moses the man of God: and the priests sprinckled the blood [which they receiued] of the hand of the Leuites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, and therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of ỹ Passeouer for euery one that was not cleane, to sanctifie him vnto the Lord.

18 For many of the people, and very many of Ephraim, Manasse, Issachar, and Zabulon, were not cleansed, and yet did eate the Passeouer, against the lawe appointed: but Hezecia prayed for them, saying, The good Lorde be mercifull toward euery one,

19 That prepareth his heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he bee not [cleansed] according to the purification of the sanctuarie.

d That is, did accept them as purified.

20 And the Lorde heard Hezecia, and [d] healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Hierusalem, held the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes with great gladnesse: and the Leuites and the priestes praysed ỹ Lorde day by day, [singing] with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

‖ Or, to the heart.

22 And Hezecia spake ‖ comfortablie vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge [to sing] vnto the Lord: & they did eate throughout that feast seuen dayes long, and offered peace offrings, and thanked the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assemblie tooke counsell to do so other seuen dayes: and they helde those seuen dayes with gladnesse.

e Hezecia bestowed his goods liberally, for the setting forth of Gods glory.

24 For Hezecia king of Juda, did giue to the congregation [e] a thousand yong oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe: and the lordes gaue out to the congregation a thousand oxen, and ten thousand sheepe, and a great number of the priests were sanctified.

25 And all the congregation of Juda, with the Priests and Leuites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Juda, reioyced.

26 And there was great gladnesse in Hierusalem: for since the time of Solomon ỹ sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was no such ioy in Hierusalem.

27 And the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people: & their voyce was heard [of the Lorde,] and their prayer came vp vnto heauen his holy dwelling place.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezecia appointeth Priestes and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing.

1 AND when all these things were finished, all Israel that were present in the cities of Juda, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, & all to brake the high places & altars throwout all Juda & Beniamin, in Ephraim also & Manasse, vntil they had vtterly destroied them all: and all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, and to their owne cities.

2 And Hezecia appointed sundry companies of the Priests and Leuites, after the diuersitie of their ministrations, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the whole burnt offring, & peace offrings, to minister, and to giue thanks and prayse in the gates of the [a] hoste of the Lord.

a That is, in ỹ temple when they assembled.

3 And the kings portion of his substance that he gaue, were daily whole burnt offerings in the morning and euening, and whole burnt offrings for ỹ Sabboth dayes, new moones, and solemne feasts, according as it is written in the lawe of the Lord.

4 And he bade the people that dwelt in Hierusalem, to giue a [b] part to the Priests and Leuites, that they might with more courage apply themselues to the lawe of the Lord.

b The tithes and first fruits for the maintenance of the Priests and Leuites.

5 And as soone as the kings commandement came abroad, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites, of corne, wine, oile, honie, and of all maner of fruites of the field, and the tithes of all maner of things brought they in plenteously.

6 And the children of Israel and Juda, that dwelt in the cities of Juda, they also brought in the tithes of oxen and sheepe, & other holy tithes, which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and laid them all by heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the heapes in maner of a foundation, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 And when Hezecia and the lordes came and sawe the heapes, they blessed the Lord, & his people Israel.

9 And Hezecia questioned with the Priests & the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, of the house of Zadoc, answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the heaue offrings into the house of the Lord, [c] we also haue had enough to eate, and yet remaineth plentie: for the Lorde hath blessed his people, and this heape is left.

c The ministers were liberally prouided for.

11 And Hezecia bade prepare the ‖ chambers in the house of the Lorde: and they did prepare them,

‖ Or, storehouses.

12 And

12 And caried in the first fruits, the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully, ouer which Chononia the Leuite had the rule, and Semei his brother next to him:
13 And Iehiel, Azaria, Nahath, Asael, Ierimoth, Iosabad, Eliel, Ismachia, Mahath, and Banaia, were ouerseers, ordeined by Chononia, and Semei his brother was an officer of Hezecia the king, and Azaria was the ruler of the house of God.
14 And Chore the sonne of Imna the Leuite, and porter of the East doore, had the ouersight of the things that were offered of a free will vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.
15 And vnder his hand were Eden, Miniamin, Iesua, Semaia, Amaria, and Sechania, in the cities of the priests, [appointed] of their fidelitie to giue to their brethren their partes, as well to the small, as to the great:
16 Also to their generation, being males, from three yeeres old and vpward, euen vnto euery one that entreth into the house of the Lorde, they shall giue day by day for their ministration, and for their giuing attendance, & for their diuers waitings by course,
17 Both to the generation of the Priests & Leuites, throughout the houshold of their fathers, from twentie yeeres & aboue, to waite when their courses came:
18 And to ỹ families of all their babes, wiues, sonnes and daughters, through all the congregation: for vpon the fidelitie of thē, were the holy things bestowed.
19 And to the children of Aaron ỹ priests which were in the fields and suburbes of their cities, citie by citie, the men whose names were expressed afore, should giue portions, to all the males among the Priests, and to all the Leuites, according to their number.
20 And of this maner did Hezecia throughout all Iuda, and wrought that is good & right and true before the Lord his God.
21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, according to the lawe and the commaundementes, he sought his God: and that did he with all his heart, and prospered.

The xxxii. Chapter.

1 Sennacherib inuadeth Iuda. 3 Hezecia prepareth for the warre. 7 Hee exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord.

1 After that these seruices were faithfully done, *Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came, and entred into Iuda, and compassed the strong cities, & thought to winne them for himselfe.
2 And so when Hezecia saw that Sennacherib was come, and that hee was purposed to fight against Hierusalem,
3 He tooke counsell with his lordes and men of might, to stop the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.
4 For there gathered many of the people together, and stopt all the wels, and the brooke that ran thorow the middes of the land, saying, Why shall the kings of the Assyrians come and finde much water?
5 And Hezecia went to lustily, and built vp ỹ wall where it was broken, and made the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the citie of Dauid, and made many dartes and shields.
6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people, and gathered them together to him in the large streete of the gate of the citie, & spake gently to them, saying,
7 Plucke vp your hearts, and be strong, be not afraid nor discouraged for the king of the Assyrians, and for all the multitude that he hath with him: for there be moe with vs then with him.
8 With him is an arme of [a] flesh, but with vs is the [b] Lord our God, for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. And the people tooke a courage through the wordes of Hezecia king of Iuda.
9 After this did Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, send of his seruaunts to Hierusalem (but he himselfe remained beside Lachis, hauing all his power with him) vnto Hezecia king of Iuda, and vnto all Iuda that were at Hierusalem, saying,
10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, Wherein do ye trust, O ye that dwell in Hierusalem which is besieged?
11 Doth not Hezecia entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death, hunger, & thirst, saying, The Lord our God shal rid vs out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians?
12 Hath not the same Hezecia put downe his high places and his [c] altars, and commanded Iuda and Hierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon the same?
13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all people of the landes? Were the gods of the people of other lands able or mightie to saue their lands out of my hand?
14 Which of all the gods of those nations that my fathers destroied, could deliuer his people out of my hand? And shall your God be able to deliuer you out of my hand?
15 Wherfore now let not Hezecia deceiue you, nor perswade you of this fashion, nor yet beleeue him: For as no God among all nations and kingdoms was able to rid his people out of my hand, & out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods bee able to keepe you out of my hand?
16 And yet moe things did his seruants speake a That is, the power of man.

against the Lorde God, and against his seruant Hezecia.

17 And Sennacherib also wrote a letter to raile on the Lord God of Israel, and spake against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of [other] landes haue not bene able to deliuer their people out of my hand: euen so shall not the God of Hezecia deliuer his people out of my hand.

18 And they cried with a loude voyce in the Iewes speach vnto the people of Hierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, and to make them faint hearted, and that they might take the citie.

19 And they spake against the God of Hierusalem, as against the gods of the nations of the earth, [which were] the workes of the hands of men.

20 But Hezecia the king, and the prophet Esai the sonne of Amos [d] prayed against ẏ [blasphemie,] and cried vp to heauen.

d Prayer is the best refuge in all troubles and dangers.

21 And the Lorde sent an Angell, which destroyed all the men of warre, and the lordes and captaines of the hoste of the king of the Assyrians, that he turned his face agayne with shame toward his owne land: & when he was come into the house of his God, they that came of his owne body slew him there with the sword.

22 And so the Lord saued Hezecia and the inhabiters of Hierusalem out of the hand of Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians, and from the hand of all other, and mainteined them on euery side.

23 And many brought offrings vnto the Lord to Hierusalem, and presents to Hezecia king of Iuda: so that he was magnified in ẏ sight of all nations from thencefoorth.

4.Kin.20.1. esai.38.1.

24 In those dayes * Hezecia was sicke to the death, and prayed vnto the Lorde: which answered him, and shewed him a wonderful miracle.

25 But Hezecia did not againe vnto God according to it that he had shewed him: for his heart arose, and there came wrath vpon him, and vpon Iuda and Hierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding, Hezecia submitted him selfe, after that his heart was risen vp, he, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem: and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezecia.

27 And Hezecia had exceeding much riches & honour: and he gate him treasures of siluer and gold, precious stones, and spices, shields, and of all maner pleasant iewels, 28 And made store houses for ẏ fruits of corne, for wine and oyle, and stalles for all maner of beasts, and coates for sheepe.

29 And he made him cities, and had of sheepe and oxen great abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezecia stopped the vpper water springs of [c] Gion, & brought them downe to the West side of the citie of Dauid: and Hezecia prospered in all his workes.

c Which also was called Siloe.

31 And when * the princes of Babylon sent vnto him ambassadours, to enquire of ẏ wonder that was done in the land, God left him, [f] to trie him, and that all that was in his heart might be knowen.

4.Kin.20.12.

f God tempteth his faithful, to trie them.

32 The rest of the deedes of Hezecia, and his goodnesse, beholde, they are written in the vision of Esai the prophet the sonne of Amos, in the booke of the kings of Iuda and Israel.

33 And Hezecia slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the most worthie place of the sepulchres of the sonnes of Dauid, & all Iuda and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasses his sonne raigned in his stead.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

1 Manasses an idolater, 9 causeth Iuda to erre, 11 he is led prisoner into Babylon.

1 MAnasses was twelue yeeres old when he began to raigne, & he raigned fiftie and fiue yeeres in Hierusalem:

4.Kin.11.2.

2 But did euill in the sight of ẏ Lord, like vnto the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe, and built the high places which Hezecia his father had broken downe: and he reared vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all ẏ hoste of heauen, and serued them.

4 And he built altars in the house of the Lord, where as the Lord yet had said, * In Hierusalem shall my name be for euer.

2.Kin.7.10.

5 And hee builded altars for all the hoste of heauen, in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he burnt his children in fire in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom: he was a sorcerer, he regarded the crying of birdes, vsed enchantments, and mainteined workers with spirites, and seers of fortunes, and wrought much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him withall.

7 And hee put the carued image, and an idoll which he had made, in the house of God: * of which house God said to Dauid and to Solohis sonne, In this house, and in Hierusalem which I haue chosen afore all the tribes of Israel, will I put my name for euer.

2.Kin.7.12. 3.kin.8.16.

8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remoue any more out of the land which I haue ordeined for your fathers, if so bee that they will be diligent, and doe all that I haue commanded them in all the lawe & statutes, and ordinances by the hand of Moses.

9 And so Manasses made Iuda, and the inhabiters biters of Hierusalem to erre, and to do worse then the heathen whom the Lorde destroyed before the children of Israel.

a Meaning by his prophets.

10 And the Lord spake a vnto Manasses, and to his people: but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lorde brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of the Assyrians, which tooke Manasses, & bounde him with fetters and chaines, and caried him to Babylon.

12 And when hee was in tribulation, hee besought the Lord his God, & humbled himself exceedingly before the God of his fathers, 13 And made intercession to him: & God was b intreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Hierusalem into his kingdome: and then Manasses knew that the Lord was God.

b Affliction giueth vnderstanding.

14 After this hee built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the West side of Gion, in ẏ valley as they come to the fish gate, and round about Ophel, and brought it vp of a very great height, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Juda.

15 And he tooke away strange gods, and images out of the house of God, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of God and Hierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 And he prepared the altar of the Lorde, and sacrificed thereon peace offrings, and thanke offrings, and charged Juda to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuertheless, the people did offer stil in the high places, [howbeit] vnto the Lorde their God onely.

18 The rest of the actes of Manasses, and his prayer vnto his God, & the words of the Seers that spake to him in the name of the Lord God of Israel, beholde, they are [written] in the sayings of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, & how that he was heard, and all his sinnes, and his trespasse, and the places where he made high places, and set vp groues and images before hee was humbled, beholde, they are written among the sayings of the Seers.

20 And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his c owne house, and Amon his sonne raigned in his roome.

c Because he had so horribly offended against the Lord, they did not burie him in the sepulchre of the kings, but in the garden of the kings house.

21 Amon was two and twentie yeeres old whē he began to raigne, and raigned two yeeres in Hierusalem.

22 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like as did Manasses his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the carued images which Manasses his father had made, and serued them, 23 And submitted not himselfe before ẏ Lord, as Manasses his father had humbled himself: but Amon trespassed greatly.

24 And his owne seruaunts conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the same people of the land made Iosias his sonne king in his roome.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

1 Iosias destroyeth the idols, 8 and reformeth the temple. 14 The booke of the lawe is found.

1 IOsias * was eight yeeres old when he began to raigne, and hee raigned in Hierusalem thirtie and one yeeres. * 4. Kin. 22. 1.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 In the eight yeere of his raigne, when hee was yet a child, he began to seeke after ẏ God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yeere he began to purge Juda & Hierusalem, from the high places, groues, carued images, and images of mettal.

4 And they brake downe the altars of Baalim euen in his a presence: and other images that were in greater honour then they, he caused to bee destroyed: and the groues, carued images, and images of mettall, hee brake, and made dust of them, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had offred vnto them.

a He would see the reformation with his owne eies.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priests vpon the altars of them, and cleansed Juda & Hierusalem:

6 And so did hee in the cities of Manasse, Ephraim, Simeon, vnto Nephthali, and in the wildernesse of them round about.

7 He plucked asunder the b altars & the groues, and did beate the images, and stampe them to powder, and cut downe all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, and returned to Hierusalem againe.

b The godly zeale of this good prince, is a worthie example for all princes to follow.

8 In the eighteenth yeere of his raigne, when hee had purged the land and the temple, hee sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia, & Maasiah the gouernour of the citie, and Joah the sonne of Joahaz the recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Helciah the high priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the entries had gathered of the hand of Manasse and Ephraim, and of all that yet remained in Israel, and of all Juda and Beniamin, and they returned to Hierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of the workemen that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord, and they gaue it to the labourers, that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and mend the house.

11 Euen to masons and carpenters, gaue they it, to get hewed stone, and timber, for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Iuda had destroyed.

c Faithfull officers.

12 And the men did the worke c vpon trust: & the ouerseers of them to courage them forward, were Iahath and Obadia, Leuites, of the children of Merari: and Secharia & Mesullam of the children of the Caathites, and other of the Leuites, which all could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And ouer the bearers of burdens, and ouer all that wrought in whatsoeuer workemanship it were, were there scribes, officers, and porters of the Leuites.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Helcia the priest found the booke of the lawe of the Lord [giuen] by Moses.

15 And Helcia answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I haue found the booke of the lawe in the house of the Lord. And Helcia gaue the booke to Saphan.

d For the king was commanded to haue continually a copie of this booke, and to reade therein day and night, Deut. 17.

16 And Saphan d caried the booke to ỹ king, and brought the king worde againe, saying, All that was committed to thy seruants, that doe they.

17 And they haue gathered together ỹ money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the handes of the ouerseers of the worke, and to the handes of the workemen.

18 And then Saphan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Helcia the priest hath giuen me a booke: and Saphan read in it before the king.

e For sorow that the word of God had bene so long suppressed.

19 And when the king had heard the wordes of the lawe, he e tare his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Helcia, and Ahican the sonne of Saphan, & Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Saphan the scribe, and Asaa, a seruant of the kings, saying, 21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for them that are left in Israel and Iuda, concerning the wordes of the booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this booke.

22 And Helcia, and they that the king had [appointed,] went to Hulda a prophetisse, the wife of Sallum the sonne of Thecuath, the sonne of Hasra, keeper of the wardrobe (for shee dwelt in Hierusalem within the second wall) and so they communed with her.

23 She answered them, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Euen thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters thereof, euen all the curses that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iuda:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue offred vnto other gods, to anger me with all maner workes of their handes: therefore is my wrath set on fire against this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Iuda, which sent you to enquire of the Lorde, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the wordes which thou hast heard, f The end of Gods threatnings, is for our repentāce.

27 Because thine heart did f melt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place, and against the inhabiters thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me, and taredst thy clothes, & diddest weepe before me, I haue heard it also, sayth the Lord.

28 Behold, I will take thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the mischiefe that I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters of the same. * And they brought the king worde againe. 4. Kin. 23 1.

29 Then the king sent, and gathered together all the elders of Iuda and Hierusalem:

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, and the Priests and Leuites, and all the people great and small, and [the king] did read in their eares all ỹ words of the booke of the couenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the king stoode at his standing, and made a couenaunt before the Lorde, to follow the Lord, and to keepe his commandements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and to fulfill the wordes of the couenaunt written in the sayd booke.

32 And hee set in their roome all them that were found in Hierusalem and Beniamin: and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did according to the couenant of the Lord God of their fathers.

g Because he had charge ouer al, & must answere for euery one that perished, he thought it his duetie to see that all should make profession to receiue the word of God.

33 And Iosias put away all maner of abominations out of all lands that pertained to the children of Israel, and g constrained all that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: and they turned not aside from the Lord God of their fathers, as long as he liued.

3 And saide vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lorde, Put the holy arke in the house which Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel did builde, it shalbe no more a burden vpon your shoulders: but now serue the Lord your God, and his people Israel.

4 And prepare your selues by your auncient houlholdes and companies, according to the writing of Dauid king of Israel, & the writing of Solomon his sonne:

5 And stande in the holy place, according to the diuision of the ancient houlhoulds of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the auncient houlholdes of the Leuites:

6 Kill the Passouer, and sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren, that they may doe according to ẏ word of the Lorde by the hand of Moses.

7 And Iosias gaue to ẏ people, sheepe, lambs, and kidds, all for the Passeouer, and for all that were present, thirtie thousande by tale, and three thousand oxen: and these were of the kings substance.

8 And his lordes gaue willingly both vnto the people, and to the priests, and vnto the Leuites, Helcia also, Zacharia, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the priests for the Passeouer offerings, two thousand & sixe hundred [sheepe,] and three hundred oxen.

10 And so the seruice was prepared, and the priests stoode in their places, and the Leuites in their distinct companies, at the kings commandement:

11 And they slue the Passeouer, and the priests sprinckled the [blood] with their hande, and the Leuites pulled off ẏ skinnes of the beasts.

12 And they set away the whole burnt offerings, to giue them vnto the people that were diuided by auncient houses: and that they should offer vnto the Lorde, like as it is written in the booke of Moses: and so [did they] with the oxen also.

13 And they rosted the Passeouer with fire, as the maner was: & the other dedicate beastes, sodde they in pots, caldrons, and pannes, and diuided them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterwarde they made ready for themselues, and for the priests: for the priests the children of Aaron [were busied] in offering of whole burnt offerings, & the fat vntill night: therefore ẏ Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers ẏ children of Asaph stoode in their standing, according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, Heman, and Idithun, the kings b Seer: and the porters waited at euery gate, and might not depart from their seruice: for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

b Meaning, the prophet.

16 And so all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to offer the Passouer, and to offer whole burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of sweete bread, seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer like to that kept in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel holde such a Passeouer as did Iosias, and the priests, and Leuites, and all Iuda and Israel that were present, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem.

19 This Passeouer was holden in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosias.

20 After all this, * when Iosias had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against Charcamis, beside Euphrates: and Iosias went out against him. 4. King. 23. 29.

21 Which sent messengers to him, and saide, What haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Iuda? ‖ Be not thou against thy self this day, for my warre is against another house, and God bade me make haste: leaue off therfore, and meddle not with God which is with me, least he destroy thee.

‖ Or, I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemie.

22 Neuertheless, Iosias would not turne his face from him, ‖ but rather tooke aduise to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the words of Necho, * out of the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

‖ Or, changed his apparell to fight with him. Zach. 12. 11.

23 And the shooters shot darts at king Iosias: and the king saide to his seruants, Carie me away, for I am sore wounded.

24 His seruants therefore had him out of that charet, & put him in another charet that they had: and when they had brought him to Hierusalem, he dyed, and was buryed in the sepulchre of his fathers: and all Iuda and Hierusalem mourned for Iosias.

25 And Jeremias lamented Iosias, and all singing men, and singing women mourned for Iosias in their lamentations, to this day, and made the same lamentations an ordinance in Israel, and beholde, they are written in the lamentations.

26 The rest of the acts of Iosias, and his goodnesse, as it is written in the law of the Lord, 27 And his sayings first and last, beholde they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iuda.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

1 After Iosias, reigneth Ioahaz. 4 After Ioahaz, Ioiacim. 8 After him, Ioiacin. 11 After him, Zedecia, 14. 17 In whose whose time all the people were caried away to Babylon, for contemning the admonitions of the prophets.

4.King.23.30. 1 AND * the people of the land tooke Joahaz the sonne of Josias, and made him king in his fathers steade in Hierusalem.

2 And Joahaz was twentie and three yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned three monethes in Hierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt put him downe at Hierusalem, and condemned the lande in an hundred talentes of syluer, and a talent of golde.

Matth.1.13. 4 And * the king of Egypt made Eliacim his brother king vpon Juda and Hierusalem, and turned his name to Joacim: and Necho tooke Joahaz his brother, and caried him to Egypt.

5 Joacim was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came vp Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, & bound him with two chaines, to carie him to Babylon.

7 Nabuchodonosor also caried of the vessels of the house of the Lorde to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 The rest of the actes of Joacim, and his abominations which he did, [a] and that which was found vpon him, beholde, they are witten in the booke of the kings of Israel and Juda, and Joacin his sonne reigned in his steade.

a He meaneth the markes of idolatrie, which were found printed in his body when he was dead. 4.King.24.8. Iere.37.1.

9 * And Joacin was eyght yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned three monethes and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, king Nabuchodonosor sent, & fet him to Babylon, with the goodly vessels of the house of the Lorde, and made Zedecia his fathers brother king ouer Juda and Hierusalem.

11 Zedecia was twentie and one yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem.

Iere.52.1. 12 * And he did euill in the sight of the Lorde his God, & humbled not himself before Jeremie the prophet at the mouth of the Lord.

13 And he rebelled against king Nabuchodonosor, which had receiued an othe of him by God: but he was stiffenecked, and too hard hearted, to turne vnto ỹ Lord God of Israel.

14 Moreouer, all the chiefe of the priests, and the people, transgressed wonderfully, after al maner of abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord, which he had halowed in Hierusalem.

15 And the Lorde God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising vp betimes, and sending: for he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and misused his prophetes, vntill the wrath of the Lorde arose against his people, and tyll there was no remedie.

17 And so he brought vpon them the king of Chaldee, which slue their young men with the sworde in their holy temple, and spared neither young man, mayden, olde man, nor him that stowped for age: he gaue them all into his hand.

18 And all the vesselles of the house of God, both great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the king, and of his lordes: all these caried he to Babylon.

19 And they burnt the house of God, & brake downe the wall of Hierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed al the goodly iewels thereof.

20 And the rest that had escaped the sword, caried he to Babylon: where they were bondmen to him and his children, vntill the time that Persia had the Empire:

21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by ỹ mouth of Jeremie, vntill the land had her pleasure of her Sabbothes: for as long as she lay desolate, she kept Sabboth, vntill threescore and ten yeeres were fulfilled.

22 And the [b] first yeere of * Cyrus king of Persia (when the word of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Jeremie, was finished) ỹ Lord stirred vp ỹ spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdome, and that by writing, saying,

23 Thus sayth Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdomes of the earth hath the Lorde God of heauen giuen me, and hath [c] charged me to builde him an house in Hierusalem, that is in Juda: Wherefore whosoeuer is among you of all his people, the Lorde his God be with him, and let him goe vp.

b That is, in the first yeere that he reigned ouer the Chaldeans. Iere.25.13. & 29.10.

c God had spoken about an hundred yeeres before Cyrus was borne, Esai.29 that Hierusalē and the temple should be built againe by Cyrus his anointed. He called, because God vsed his seruice for a time to deliuer his Church.

The first Booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie, 8 and restoreth them their holy vessels.

a After that he and Darius had won Babylon. 2.Chro.36.22. iere.25.12.

1 IN the[a] first yeere of Cyrus king of Persia, (that the word of the Lorde, *spoken by the mouth of Jeremie, might be fulfilled) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he caused to be proclaimed throughout all his empire, and to be written, saying, b For he was chief monarch of the world, and had many nations vnder his dominion.

2 Thus sayth Cyrus the king of Persia, The Lorde God of heauen hath giuen me[b] all the kingdomes of the earth, and hath commanded me to build him an house at Hierusalem, which is in Juda.

3 Whosoeuer nowe among you is of his people, the Lorde his God be with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem in Juda, & builde the house of the Lorde God of Israel, (he is the God) that is at Hierusalem.

4 And whosoeuer remaineth yet in any maner of place, where he is a stranger, let the mē of that place helpe him with siluer and gold, with good and cattell, beside that which they willingly offer for the house of God that is at Hierusalem.

5 Then gate vp the principall fathers of Juda and Beniamin, and the priests & Leuites, and all they whose spirit God had raised to go vp, & to build the house of the Lord which is at Hierusalem.

c The Babylonians and Chaldeans gaue them these giftes. Thus rather then the children of God shoulde want for their necessities, he wold stirre vp the hearts of verp infidels to helpe them.

6 And[c] all they that were about them, strengthened their hād with vessels of siluer & gold, with goodes, and cattell, and iewels, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 And king Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had taken out of Hierusalem, and had put in the house of his God.

8 Those did Cyrus the king of Persia bring forth by the hande of Mithridates the treasurer, and numbred them vnto[d] Sesbazer the prince of Juda.

d So ỳ Chaldeans called Zorobabel, who was the chiefe gouernour: so that the preeminence still remained in the house of Dauid.

9 And this is the number of them: thirtie chargers of golde, a thousand chargers of siluer, twentie and nine knyues:

10 Thirtie basons of golde, and of other siluer basons, foure hundred and ten: and of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of golde and siluer, were fiue thousande and foure hundred: all these did Sesbazer carrie away with them that came vp out of the captiuitie of Babylon vnto Hierusalem.

62 These sought the register of their petigree, and were not founde, therefore were they put from the priesthood.
63 And Hathirsatha saide vnto them, that they should not eate of the most holy, till there rose vp a priest [to weare] ‖ Urim & Thummim.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Israelites build the altar of God. 6 They offer to the Lord. 7 They prepare for the temple, 11 and sing vnto the Lord.

1 AND when * the seuenth moneth came, and the children of Israel were nowe in their cities, the people came together as one man, to Hierusalem. * 3. Esd. 5. 47.
2 And there stoode vp Josue ỹ sonne of Josedec, der, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the sonne of [a] Salathiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer whole burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.

a That is, the nephewe of Salathiel, for he was the sonne of Pedaia, Reade 1. Chro. 3. 19.

3 And the altar set they vpon his sockets: for there was a fearefulnesse among them, because of the people of those countreys, therefore they offered whole burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lorde, [euen] whole burnt offerings, morning and euening.

4 And they helde the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, * and offered whole burnt sacrifices dayly, according to the number and custome day by day.

Exod. 23. 16.

5 Afterwarde they offered dayly whole burnt offerings also, and in the newe moones, and in all the feast dayes that were consecrated vnto the Lord, and all maner of free will offerings, which they did of their owne free will offer vnto the Lorde.

6 From the first day of the seuenth moneth began they to offer whole burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde: but the foundation of the temple of the Lord was not yet laide.

7 They gaue money also vnto the Masons & ‖ Carpenters, and meate, and drinke, & oyle, vnto them of Sidon and of Tyre, to bring the Cedar timber from Libanus by sea vnto Joppa, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus the king of Persia.

‖ Or, workmen.

8 In the second yeere of their comming vnto the house of God at Hierusalem, in the second moneth, began Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iosue the sonne of Iosedec, and the remnant of their brethren, the priests and Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Hierusalem: and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeeres olde, and aboue, to see that the worke of the house of the Lord went forward.

9 And Iosue stoode with his sonnes and brethren, and Cadmiel, with his sonnes, and the children of Iuda, as one man, to set forwarde the workemen of the house of God, the children of Henadad, with their children, & their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the builders laide the foundation of the temple of the Lord, they appointed the priests in their ‖ aray with Trumpets, and the Leuites the children of Asaph with Cymbales, to praise the Lord after the ‖ manner of Dauid king of Israel.

‖ Or, diuise.

11 And they sang togethers when they gaue praise and thankes vnto the Lorde, Because he is gratious, and because his mercie endureth for euer vpon Israel: And all the people showted loude in praysing the Lorde, because the foundation of the house of the Lorde was layde.

12 But many of the priests and Leuites, and chiefe fathers, and auncient men, which had seene the first house, when the foundation was laide before their eyes, [b] wept with a loude voyce, and many showted aloude with ioy:

b Because they sawe that it was nothing so glorious as that temple which Solomon had built: Notwithstanding, Aggeus comforteth the and prophesieth that it shalbe more beautiful then the first, Agge. 2. meaning, because Christ and his Apostles should preache the gospell and worke miracles therein.

13 So that the people coulde not discerne the ioyfull sounde and gladnesse, from the noyse of the weeping among the people: for the people showted with a loude crie, and the noyse was heard farre off.

The iiii. Chapter.

2 The building of the temple is hindred, and howe.
11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answere.

1 BUt the [a] aduersaries of Iuda and Beniamin, heard that the children of the captiuitie builded the temple vnto the Lord God of Israel, a Meaning, the inhabitants of Samaria, whom the king of Assyria had placed in the stead of the ten tribes, 4. king. 17. 24. & 19. 37. these partly professed God, and yet worshipped idols also: and therefore were they great enemies to the Iewes.

2 And they came to Zorobabel, and to the principall fathers, and saide vnto them, We will builde with you, for we seeke the Lorde your God, as ye doe, and we haue done sacrifice vnto him since the time of Asor Haddon the king of Assur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 And Zorobabel, and Iosue, and the other ancient fathers of Israel, said vnto them, It can not be that you and we together should build the house vnto our God: for we our selues will builde alone vnto the Lorde our God of Israel, as Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 And the folke of the land ‡ discouraged the people of Iuda, and troubled them as they were building:

‡ Heb. made their handes weake.

5 And hyred counsellers against them, to hinder their deuise, as long as Cyrus the king of Persia liued, vntil the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 * And in the reigne of [b] Asuerus, at the beginning of his reigne, wrote they vnto him a complaint against the inhabiters of Iuda and Hierusalem.

3. Esdras. 2. 4.

b He was also called Artaxerxes, which is a Persian name, and signifieth an excellent warriour.

7 And in the dayes of Artaxerxes, wrote Mithridath, Tabel, and the other of his counsell, vnto Artaxerxes the king of Persia, with faire wordes: and the writing of the letter was in the Syrians speache, and interpreted in the language of the Syrians:

8 Rehum the Recorder, & Samsai the scribe, wrote a letter ‖ from Hierusalem to Artaxerxes the king, as it foloweth.

‖ Or, against.

9 Then Rehum the Recorder, & Samsai the Scribe, and other of their company, they of Dina, of Apharsath, of Tarpelai, of ‖ Persia, of Arache, of Babylon, of Susan, of Deha, of Elam,

‖ Or, Aphersa.

10 And other of the people, whom the great and noble Asnapper brought ouer, & set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are nowe beyond the water, and ‖ Cheeneth.

‖ Or, Chanaa.

11 This

11 This is the tenor of the letter that they sent vnto king Artaxerxes, Thy seruantes, and the men that are now beyond the water, and in Cheeneth[salute thee.]

12 Be it knowen vnto the king, that ỹ Iewes which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Hierusalem, a citie seditious and froward, and builde the same, and set vp the walles thereof, and lay the foundations.

13 Be it knowen nowe vnto the king, that if this citie be builded, and the walles made vp againe, then shall not they giue toule, tribute, and custome, and so they shall hinder the kings tribute.

14 And nowe we remembring that we were brought vp in the kings palace, and woulde no longer see the kings dishonour, therefore sent we out also, and certified the king,

15 That it may be sought in the booke of the Chronicles of thy progenitours, and so shalt thou finde in the booke of the Chronicles, & perceiue that this citie is seditious & noisome vnto the kings and ‖ landes, & that they cause other also among them to rebell of olde: and for the same cause was this citie destroyed.

16 Therefore doe we certifie the king, that if this citie be builded againe, and the walles thereof made vp, thou shalt hereafter haue no portion beyond the water.

17 Then sent ỹ king an answere vnto Rehum the Recorder, and Samsai the Scribe, and to the other of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and vnto the other that were beyond the water ‖ in Selam, and ‖ Cheeth.

‖ Or, peace and saluation. ‖ Or, Cheeneth.

18 The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me.

19 And I haue commanded to make search, and it is found that this citie of old hath made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition hath bene committed therein.

20 There hath bene mightie kings also at Hierusalem, which haue reigned ouer all countreys beyonde the water: and toule, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Giue ye nowe therefore commandement, that the same men be forbidden, and that the citie be not builded againe, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede nowe that ye be not negligent to doe this: for why shoulde the king haue harme thereby?

23 Nowe when the tenor of king Artaxerxes letter was read before Rehum & Samsai the Scribe, & their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Hierusalem, vnto the Iewes, and forbad them with violence and power.

c Not altogether, for ỹ prophets exhorted them to continue, cap. 5. verse. 1. but they vsed the lesse diligence, because of their troubles.

24 Then c ceassed the worke of the house of God at Hierusalem, and continued so vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

The v. Chapter.

1 Aggeus and Zachari doe prophecie. 3 The worke of the temple goeth forwarde, contrary to the minde of Thathanai. 6 His letters were sent to Darius.

1 THe * prophetes Aggeus, and Zachari the sonne of Iddo, prophecied vnto the Iewes that were in Juda & Hierusalem in the name of the God of Israel.

* Agge. 1. 1. 3. & 2. 1. 6. 6.

2 Then gate vp Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iosue the sonne of Iosedec, and began to builde the house of God at Hierusalem: and with them were the prophetes of God, a which helped them.

a Which encouraged them to goe forward.

3 At the same time came to them Thathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and their companions, and saide thus vnto them, Who hath commanded you to builde this house, and to make vp these walles?

4 Then saide we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the b eye of their God was vpon the elders of the Iewes, that they coulde not cause them to ceasse, till the matter was brought to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

b His fauour and the spirit of strength.

6 This is the tenor of the letter that Thathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and the counsellers of Apharsath, which were beyonde the water, sent vnto king Darius.

7 And the matter that they sent vnto him, was written thus within the letter, Vnto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the king, that we went into the prouince of Jury, to the house of the great God, which is builded with mightie great stones, & beames are laid in the walles, and the worke goeth fast forth, and prospereth in their handes.

9 Then asked we the elders, and sayde vnto them thus, Who commanded you to builde this house, & to make vp the walles thereof?

10 We asked their names also, that we might certifie thee, and write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs with these wordes, and sayde, We are the seruantes of the God of heauen and earth, and build the house that was builded of olde and many yeeres agoe, which the great king of Israel builded, and set vp.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nabuchodonosor ỹ king of Babylon, & of the Chaldees, which brake downe this house, and carried the people away captiue vnto Babylon.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus the king of Babylon, the same king Cyrus gaue commandement concerning this house of God, that it should be built againe.

14 And

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the temple that was at Hierusalem, and brought them into the temple at Babylon: those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple at Babylon, and they were deliuered vnto one Salbazar by name, whome he made captaine,

15 And sayd vnto him, Take these vessels, and go thy way, and set them in the temple that is at Hierusalem, and let the house of God bee buylded in his place.

16 Then came the same Salbazar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is at Hierusalem: Since that time also, vntill now hath it bene in buylding, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there be searche made in the kings [c] treasure house which is there at Babylon, whether it hath bene king Cyrus commaundement that this temple of God at Hierusalem should be buylded: and let the king sende his minde concerning the same matter.

[c] Where lay the registers of recordes of times.

The vi. Chapter.

1 At the commandement of Darius the king of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

1 THen * commanded king Darius, that searche should be made in the librarie of the [kinges] treasure house, which lay at Babylon: Esd.8.18.

2 And there was found in a coffer in the palace that is in ỹ prouince of the Medes, a volume, & therein was it thus witten, as a memorial,

3 In the first yeere of king Cyrus, gaue the same king Cyrus commãdement concerning the house of God at Hierusalem, that the same house shoulde be buylded in the place where they offer the sacrifices, & to ioyne the walles together of three score cubites height, and three score cubites breadth,

4 Three rowes of rough stones, and one rowe of newe tymber: and the expences shall be giuen of the kings house.

5 And let the golde and siluer vessels of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the temple at Hierusalem, and brought vnto Babylon, be restored, and brought againe vnto the temple at Hierusalem to their place, in the house of God.

6 Nowe therefore thou Thathanai captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, & your counsellours, and Apharsachei, which are beyond the water, get ye away from them.

7 Let the worke of ỹ house of this God alone, that the captaine of the Iewes, & their elders may buylde the house of God in his place.

8 I haue commanded what ye shall doe to the elders of Juda for the building of the house of God, that of the kings goods, euen of the tribute beyond the water, forthwith expences be giuen vnto the men, that they be not hindred.

9 And if they haue neede of calues, rammes, and lambes for the whole burnt offring of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, after the custome of the Priestes at Hierusalem, let the same be giuen them dayly, that there be no default:

10 That they may haue to offer sweete sauours vnto the God of heauen, & pray for the kings life, and for his children.

11 And such a commandement haue I giuen, that what man soeuer he be that altereth this worde, there shall a beame be taken from his house, and set vp, & he shalbe hanged thereon, and his house shalbe made a dounghill for the same thing.

12 And the God that set his name there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to breake downe this house of God which is at Hierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, that this be done with speede.

13 * Then Thathanai the captayne [of the countrey] beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, with their counsailours, according to that which king Darius had sent, so they did speedily. 3.Esd.7.1.

14 And the elders of the Iewes buylded, and they prospered through the prophecying of Aggeus the Prophete, and Zachari the sonne of Iddo, and they buylded, and they finished it according to the commandement of the God of Israel, and after the commaundement of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes, kinges of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth [a] Adar, euen in the [b] sixt yeere of the raigne of king Darius.

[a] That is, the twelfth moneth, & conteyneth part of Februarie, and part of March.

[b] Which was the two and fourtieth yeere after their first returne from Babylon.

16 And the children of Israel, the Priestes, the Leuites, and the other children of the captiuitie, helde the dedication of this house of God with ioy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred calues, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes: and for the reconciling of all Israel twelue bee goates, according to the number of the tribes of Israel:

18 And set the Priests in their sundry courses, and the Leuites in their diuers offices, to minister vnto God at Hierusalem, * as it is witten in the booke of Moses. Num.3.6, and 8.9.

19 And the children of the captiuitie helde the Passeouer vpon the fourteenth day of the first moneth:

20 For the Priestes and Leuites were purified altogether, and killed the Passeouer for al the children of the captiuitie, & for their brethren the Priestes, and for themselues.

21 And the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselues vnto them, from the filthinesse of the heathen of the land, to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eate, 22 And helde the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes with ioy: for the Lorde had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assur vnto them, to strengthen their handes in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

The vii. Chapter.

1 By the commandement of the king, Esdras and his companions come to Hierusalem. 27 Hee giueth thankes to God.

1 AFter * these thinges, there was in the raigne of [a] Artaxerxes king of Persia, one Esdras, the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Elcia,

2 The sonne of Sallum, the sonne of Zadoc, the sonne of Ahitob,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraia, the sonne of Ozi, the sonne of Bucci,

5 The sonne of Abisua, the sonne of Phinehes, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the chiefe Priest.

6 This Esdras also went vp from Babylon, & was a ‖ perfect [b] scribe in the lawe of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel did giue: and the king gaue him all that he required, according to the hand of the Lorde his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, & of the Nethinims, vnto Hierusalem, in the seuenth yeere of kiug Artaxerxes.

8 And he came to Hierusalem in the fifth moneth, euen in the seuenth yeere of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth, began he to goe vp from Babylon: and on the first day of the fifth moneth, came he to Hierusalem, according to the [c] good hande of his God [that was] vpon him.

10 For Esdras prepared his heart to seeke the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teache the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 And this is the tenor of the letter that king Artaxerxes gaue vnto Esdras the Priest, and scribe, which was a writer of the wordes and commandements of the Lorde, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, vnto Esdras the Priest and scribe of the law of the God of heauen, peace and salutation.

13 I haue commanded that all they of the people of Israel, and of the Priestes and Leuites in my realme, which are minded of their owne good will to goe vp to Hierusalem, goe with thee.

14 And therefore art thou sent of the king and of his seuen counsailers, to visite Juda and Hierusalem, according to the lawe of God, which is in thy hande:

15 And that thou shouldest take with thee siluer, and golde, which the king and his counsailers offer of their owne good will vnto the God of Israel, whose habitation is at Hierusalem:

16 And all the siluer and golde that thou canst finde in all the ‖ countrey of Babylon, with it that the people offer of their owne good will, and the Priestes giue willingly for the house of their God which is at Hierusalem: ‖ Or, prouince.

17 That thou mayest buye diligently with the same money, oxen, rammes, & lambes, with their meate offerings and drinke offerings, and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God which is at Hierusalem.

18 And looke what liketh thee and thy brethren to do with the remnant of the siluer and gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the ministration in the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God at Hierusalem.

20 And whatsoeuer thing more shalbe needeful for the house of thy God which is necessarie for to spend, thou shalt receiue the charges out of the kings treasure house.

21 I king Artaxerxes haue commanded all the treasurers beyond the water, that looke whatsoeuer Esdras the Priest and scribe in the lawe of the God of heauen requireth of you, * that ye fulfill the same speedily, 2.Chro.2.16.

22 Untill an hundred talents of siluer, and till an hundred quarters of wheate, & till an hundred battes of wine, and til an hundred battes of oyle, and salt without measure.

23 Whatsoeuer also is the commandement of the God of heauen, let the same be done without any delay for the house of the God of heauen, that he be not wroth against the realme, and against the king and his children.

24 And we certifie you, that ye haue no authoritie to require taxing and custome, and verely rentes, vpon any of the Priestes, Leuites, singers, porters, Nethinims, and ministers in the house of his God.

25 And thou Esdras, after the wisedome of thy God, that is in thine ‖ hand, set iudges and arbitrers [by my authoritie] to iudge all the people that is beyond the water, euen all such as knowe the lawe of thy God: and them that know it not, those see that ye teache. ‖ Or, minde.

26 And whosoeuer will not fulfill the lawe of thy God, and the kings law, let him haue his iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to be rooted out, or to be condemned in goods, or to be put in prison.

27 Blessed be ỹ Lord God of our fathers, which so had inspired the kings heart, to garnish the house of the Lord that is at Hierusalem:

* 3.Esd.8.1.

[a] The Hebrues write that the kings of Persia were called by this name, as Pharao was a comon name to the kings of Egypt, & Cesar to the Emperours of Rome.

‖ Or, ready, or, prompt.

[b] He sheweth here what a scribe is, who had charge to write the law, & expound it, whom Marke calleth a scribe, Mark.12.28. Matthew and Luke cal him a lawyer or doctour of lawe.

[c] According to the fauour and mercy of God.

28 And hath enclined mercie vnto mee in the presence of the king and his counsailours, and before all the kinges high estates: and I was comforted euen as the hande of the Lorde my God was vpon me, & so gathered I the heads of Israel together, that they might goe vp with mee.

The viii. Chapter.

1 The number of them that returned to Hierusalem with Esdras. 21 He causeth them to fast. 24 He admonisheth the Priestes of their dueties.

1 THese are nowe the principall fathers of them, *and this is the ‖ register of them that went vp with me from Babylon, what time as king Artaxerxes reigned.

*3.Esd.8.1. ‖ Or, pedigree. Reade Chap.7.

2 Of the children of Phinehes, Gersom: of the children of Ithamar, Daniel: of the children of Dauid, Hattus:

3 Of the children of Zechania, among the children of Pharos, Zacharí, and with him were numbred an hundred and fiftie men.

4 Of the children of the captaine of Moab, Elioenai the sonne of Zerahia, and with him two hundred men.

5 Of the children of Zechania, the sonne of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred men.

6 Of the children of Adin, Abed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him fiftie men.

7 Of the children of Elam, Esaias the sonne of Athalia, and with him seuentie men.

8 Of the children of Sephatia, Zebadia the sonne of Michael, & with him foure score mē.

9 Of the children of Joab, Obadia the sonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eyghteene men.

10 Of the children of Selomith, the sonne of Josaphia, and with him an hundred and three score men.

11 Of the children of Bebai, Zachari the sonne of Bebai, and with him twentie and eyght men.

12 Of the children of Asgad, Johanan the sonne of Hacatan, and with him an hundred and ten men.

13 Of the children of Adonicam that were the last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Jehiel, and Samaiah, & with them three score men.

14 Of the children of Biguai, Uthai, and Zabud, and with them seuentie men.

15 And I gathered thē together by the water that runneth towarde Ahaua, and there abode we three dayes: and I looked among the people and the Priestes, and found there none of the children of Leui.

16 Then sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, Semeia, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zacharia, and to Mesullam, the rulers, & to Joiarib and Elnathan, which were men of vnderstanding.

‖ Or, and I sent vnto,

17 ‖ And to those gaue I commandement vnto Iddo the chiefest at Casphia, and I told them what they shoulde say vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Nethinims at Casphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 And through the good hand of our God vpon vs, they brought vs a very wise man from among the children of Moholi the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, & Sarabia with his sonnes and his brethren, euen eyghteene.

19 And Hasabia, and with him Esaias of the children of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes, twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims whome Dauid and the princes gaue to minister vnto the Leuites, two hundred & twentie of Nethinims: which all were named by name.

21 And euen there at the water beside Ahaua I proclaymed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, & seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the kings souldiers & horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemie in the way: for we had spoken vnto the king, saying, The hand of our God is vpon al them that seeke him in goodnes, & his power & wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, & besought our God for this, and he was intreated of vs.

24 And I tooke out twelue of the chiefe priests, Sarabia, and Hasabia, and tenne of their brethren with them,

25 And wayed them the siluer and golde, and vessels that were appoynted for the house of our God, which the king and his counsailers, and his lordes, and all Israel that were there at hand, had giuen together.

26 And I wayed vnto their hande sixe hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessels an hundred talentes, and in golde an hundred talentes:

27 Twentie basons of golde of a thousande [a] drams, and two costly vessels of good brasse, as cleare as golde.

[a] A dram is the eyght part of an ounce.

28 And I sayde vnto them, Yee are consecrate vnto the Lord, like as the vessels are holy also: and the golde and siluer are giuen of a good will vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them: for ye shall way them downe before the chiefe Priestes, & Leuites, & ancient fathers of Israel at Hierusalem, in the treasuries of the house of the Lord.

30 Then tooke the Priestes and Leuites the wayed siluer and gold, and vessels, to bring it to Hierusalem vnto the house of our God.

31 And we brake vp from the water of Ahaua on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to goe vnto Hierusalem: and the hande of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemies, and of such as layde wayte for vs by the way.

 32 And

32 And wee came to Hierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 But on the fourth day was the siluer & gold & vessels wayed in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uria ỹ priest, & with him was Eleazar ỹ sonne of Phinehes, & with them was Iosabad the sonne of Iosue, & Noadia the sonne of Bennoi, the Leuites.

34 According to the number and weyght of euery one, was the weyght all written vp at the same time.

35 And the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered whole burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and sixe rammes, seuentie & seuen lambes, twelue hee goates for sinne[offering,] all to the whole burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kinges commission vnto thy kings officers, and to the captaines [that were] beyonde the water: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Esdras complayneth on the people that had turned themselues from God, and maryed with the Gentiles.
6 He prayeth vnto God.

1 WHen these thinges were done, the rulers came to me, and said, *The people of Israel, and the Priests & Leuites are not separated from the people of the landes, as touching their abominations: namely, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites. *3. Esd. 9. 6.

2 For they haue taken the daughters of the same to themselues, and to their sonnes, and the holy seede is mixed with the nations of the lands, and the hand of the princes and rulers hath bene principal in this trespasse.

3 And when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes & my garment, & pluckt off the heare of my head & of my beard, & sate ‖ mourning. ‖ Or, sate downe astonied.

4 And there resorted vnto mee all such as feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of the[people] of the captiuitie: and I sate ‖ mourning vntill the euening sacrifice. ‖ Or, astonied.

5 *And about the euening sacrifice I arose vp from my heauinesse, and rent my clothes and my rayment, & fel vpon my knees, and spread out my handes vnto the Lord my God, *Exod. 29. 39. num. 28. 3.

6 And sayde, My God, I am ashamed, and dare not lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our wickednesses are growen ouer our head, and our trespasse is waxed great vnto the [a] heauen.

7 Since the time of our fathers haue we bene in great trespasse vnto this day, and because of our wickednes haue we and our kings and our Priestes bene deliuerered into the hand of the kings of the nations, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as[it is to see] this day. [a] They signifie that they can growe no greater.

8 And nowe for a litle space grace hath bene shewed from the Lorde our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs [b] a nayle in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a litle life, to take breath in our bondage: [b] That is, a resting place: it is a similitude taken of them that remaine still in a place.

9 For we were bondemen, and yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of * the king of Persia, to giue vs life to set vp the house of our God, and to redresse the desolation thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iuda and Hierusalem. *Esa. 22, 23.

10 And nowe, O our God, what shall we say after this: for we haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 Which thou hast commaunded by thy seruants the Prophetes, saying, *The land vnto which ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the landes, which with their abominations haue made it full of vncleanesse on euery side. *Exod. 23. 32. deut. 7. 3.

12 *Therefore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, and their daughters shal ye not take vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace & wealth for euer: that ye may be strong, and ‖ enioy the goodnesse of the land, and that ye and your children may haue the inheritãce of it for euermore. *Deut. 23. 5. ‖ Or, eate.

13 And after that all these things are come vpon vs, because of our euill deedes & great trespasses (seeing that thou our God hast ‖ stayed vs from being [c] beneath for our iniquities) and hast giuen vs such deliuerance: ‖ Or, pardoned our iniquities. [c] That is, hast not vtterly cast vs downe, and destroyed vs for our sinnes.

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandementes, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of these abominations: wouldest not thou be angry towards vs, till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there shoulde be no remnant, nor any escaping:

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art righteous, for we remaine yet escaped, as[it is yet to see] this day: Behold also, in thy presence are we in our trespasses, and because of it may wee not stand before thee.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

1 AND when Esdras prayed after this maner, and [a] knowledged, wept, & lay before the house of God, there resorted vnto him out of Israel a very great congregation, of men, and women, and children: and the people wept very sore. [a] His sinnes, and the sinnes of the people.

2 And Sechania the sonne of Iehiel, one of the children of Elam, answered, and sayde vnto Esdras, We haue trespassed against our God, & haue taken strange wiues of the people of the lande: Yet nowe there is [b] hope in [b] Meaning, that Israel may repent & God receiue them to mercy

Israel

Israel concerning this thing.
3 For nowe we will make a couenant with our God, and put away al the wiues and such as are borne of them, according to the counsell of the Lorde, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, that we may do according to the lawe.
4 Get thee vp, for this matter belongeth vnto thee, we also wil be with thee: be of good comfort therefore, and do it.
5 Then arose Esdras, and tooke an othe of the chiefe Priestes and Leuites, and of all Israel, that they should doe according to this worde: and they sware.
1.Esd.9.1. 6 * And Esdras rose vp from before the house of God, & went into the chamber of Johanna the sonne of Eliasib: & when he came thither, he did eate no bread, nor drinke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of the people that had bene in captiuitie.
7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throwout Juda and Hierusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should gather themselues together vnto Hierusalem:
8 And that whosoeuer came not within three dayes, according to the deuice of the rulers & elders, all his substance shoulde be forfayted, and he should be put out from the cõgregation of them of the captiuitie.
9 Then all the men of Juda and Beniamin, gathered themselues together vnto Hierusalem, within three dayes, euen the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, & all the people sate in the streete of the house of God, & trembled, because of this matter, and for the rayne.
10 And Esdras the Priest stoode vp, & said vnto thẽ, Ye haue transgressed, & haue taken strãge wiues, to make ẏ trespasse of Israel yet more.
‖ Or, giue praise. 11 ‖ Confesse now therfore vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate your selues from the people of the lande, and from the strange wiues.
12 And all the congregation answered, and sayde with a loude voyce, It shalbe so, and we will do as thou hast sayde.
13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie weather, and the people are too faynt to tary without in the streete, neither is this a worke of one day or two: for ‖ we haue offended very sore in this thing.
‖ Or, we are many that haue offended in this thing.
14 Let our rulers stand therefore in all the cõgregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appoynted, & let the elders of euery citie and their iudges be with them, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned frõ vs.
15 Then were appoynted Jonathan the sonne of Asahel, and Jahasia the sonne of Thecua ouer this matter: and Mesullam and Sabathai the Leuites helped them.
16 And the children of the captiuitie did euen so: and Esdras the Priest, & the ancient heads throwe the house of their fathers, all men of great fame, separated themselues, and sate them downe in the first day of the tenth moneth, to examine the matter.
17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth, they were finishing the businesse, with all the men that had taken strange wiues.
18 And among the children of the priests, there were men found that had taken strãge wiues: namely, amõg the children of Josue the sonne of Josedec, and of his brethren, Maasiah, and Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedalia.
19 And they gaue their hands, that they would put away their wiues: and they that had trespassed, gaue a ramme for their trespasse.
20 And among the children of Immer, Hanani, and Zebadia.
21 Amõg the children of Harim, Maasia, Elia, Semeia, Jehiel, Ozias.
22 Amõg ẏ children of Pashur, Elioenai, Maasia, Ismael, Nethanael, Jozabad, and Elasah.
23 Among the Leuites, Jozabad, Semei, and Selaia (which same is Selitah) Phathaiah, Juda, and Eliezer.
24 Among the singers also, Eliasib: and amõg the porters, Sellum, and Telem, and Uri.
25 And of c Israel, among the children of Pharaos, Remeia, Jesia, Melchia, Miamin, Eliezer, Melchia, and Banaiah.
c Meaning, of the common people: for before he spake of the Priestes.
26 Among the children of Elam, Mathania, Zacharia, Jehiel, Abdi, Jerimoth, and Elia.
27 Among the children of Zatthu, Elioenai, Eliasib, Mathania, Jerimoth, Zabad, and Aziza.
28 Among the children of Bebai, Jehohanan, Hanania, Zabbai, and Athalai.
29 Among the children of Bani, Mesullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jasub, Saal, & Jeramoth.
30 Among the children of the captaine of Moab, Adna, Chelal, Benaia, Maasia, Mathania, Besalel, Bennui, and Manasse.
31 Among the children of Harim, Eliezer, Isiah, Melchiia, Semeia, and Simeon, 32 Beniamin, Malluch, and Semariah.
33 Among the children of Hasum, Mathenai, Mathatha, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasse, and Semei.
34 Among the children of Bani, Maadai, Amram, and Uel, 35 Banea, Badaia, Chelian,
36 Uaniah, Maremoth, Eliasib,
37 Mathaniah, Mathanai, Jasi,
38 Bani, Bennui, and Seinei,
39 Selemia, Nathan, Adaiah,
40 Machnadebai, Sasai, Sarai,
41 Asarel, Selemia, and Semariah,
42 Sallum, Amaria, and Joseph.
43 Amõg the children of Nebo, Jehiel, Mathathia, Zabad, Zabina, Jadau, Joel, & Banaia.
44 All these had taken strange wiues, & among the same there were some that had children.

The booke of Nehemias, or ſecond booke of Eſdras.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Nehemias bewayleth the calamitie of Hieruſalem. 5 He confeſſeth the ſinnes of the people, and prayeth to God for them.

1 THe wordes of Nehemias the ſonne of Hachalia. In the moneth [a] Cheſleu, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in the caſtel at Suſan, a Which conteineth part of November & part of December, & was their ninth moneth.

2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Juda: and I aſked them how the Jewes did that were deliuered and eſcaped from the captiuitie, and howe it went at Hieruſalem.

3 And they ſayde vnto me, The remnant that are left of the captiuitie there in the lande, are in great affliction and rebuke: the wall of Hieruſalem alſo is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And whē I heard theſe wordes, I ſate downe and wept, & mourned [certaine] dayes, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heauen:

Deut. 9. 4.

5 And ſayde, * O Lorde God of heauen, thou great and terrible God, thou that keepeſt couenant & mercie for them that loue thee, and obſerue thy commandements:

6 Let thine eares hearken, I beſeech thee, and let thine eyes be open, that thou mayeſt heare the prayer of thy ſeruant, which I nowe pray before thee day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſeruants, & knowledge the ſinnes of the children of Iſrael, which we haue ſinned againſt thee: both I and my fathers houſe haue ſinned.

7 We haue grieuouſly ſinned againſt thee, and haue not kept thy commandements, ſtatutes, and iudgements, which thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes.

8 I beſeeche thee call to remembrance the worde that thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes, and ſaydeſt, Ye wil tranſgreſſe, and I will ſcatter you abroade among the nations.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and do them: though ye were caſt out vnto the vttermoſt part of heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen to ſet my name there.

10 They are thy ſeruants & thy people whome thou haſt deliuered through thy great power, and in thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beſeech thee, let thine eare hearken to the prayer of thy ſeruant, and to the prayer of thy ſeruants, whoſe deſire is to feare thy name: and let thy ſeruant proſper this day, and grant him mercy in the ſight of [b] this man. For I was the kings Butler.

b That is, of king Artaxerxes.

The ii. Chapter.

1 After Nehemias had obteyned letters of Artaxerxes, 11 he came to Hieruſalem, 17 and buylded the walles.

1 IN the moneth [a] Niſan, in the twentieth yeere of king Artaxerxes, the wine ſtoode before him: and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the king: and I had not bene before heauy in his preſence.

a Which was the firſt moneth of the yeere, and conteineth part of March & part of April.

2 And the king ſayde vnto mee, Why lookeſt thou ſo ſadly, ſeeing thou art not ſicke? It is nothing els, but that thou art heauie hearted. And I was ſore afrayde,

3 And ſayde vnto the king, God ſaue the king for euer: how ſhould I not looke ſadly, when the citie and place of my fathers buryals lye waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?

4 And the king ſayde vnto me, What is then thy requeſt? I made my prayer alſo to the God of heauen,

5 And ſayde vnto the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſeruant haue found fauour in thy ſight, ſend me vnto Juda, vnto the citie of my fathers buryals, that I may buylde it.

6 And the king ſayde vnto mee, (the Queene ſitting by him) Howe long ſhall thy iourney continue, and when wilt thou come againe? And it pleaſed the king to ſende me, and I ſet him a time,

7 And ſayd vnto the king, If it pleaſe ẏ king, let him giue me letters to ẏ captaines which are beyonde the water, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Juda:

8 And letters vnto Aſaph the lord of the kings wood, that he may giue me tymber, to make beames for the gates of the palace which is hard by the houſe, & for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. And the king gaue me accoꝛding to the ‖ hande of my God which was good vpon me.

‖ Or, fauour.

9 And when I came to the captaines beyond the water, I gaue them the kings letters: and the king had ſent captaines of the armie, and horſemen with me.

10 Sanballat alſo the Horonite, and Tobia a ſeruāt the Ammonite, heard of it, & it grieued them ſore that there was come a man which ſought the wealth of the children of Iſrael.

11 And I came to Hieruſalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I gate me vp in the night ſeaſon, and a fewe men with me, neyther tolde I any man what God had giuen me in my heart to doe at Hieruſalem: & there was not one beaſt with me, ſaue it that I rode vpon.

13 And I departed in the night by the valley

poꝛt,before the dragon well,and to the doung poꝛt, & considered the walles of Hierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the poꝛtes thereof consumed with fire.

14 And I went ouer vnto the well poꝛt, and to the kings ‖ conduite,and there was no roume foꝛ the beast that was vnder me to passe.

‖Or,fish poole.

15 Then went I in the night by the brooke side, and considered the wall, & turned backe, and came home againe by the valley poꝛt.

16 And the rulers knewe not whither I went, oꝛ what I did,neyther did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, to the Pꝛiestes, to the noble men, to the rulers,and to the other that laboured in the woꝛke.

17 Afterwarde sayde I vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in,howe Hierusalem lyeth waste, and howe the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come therefoꝛe,and let vs buylde vp the wall of Hierusalem, and that we bee no moꝛe a rebuke.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, that it was gratious ouer mee,and the kings woꝛdes that he had spoken vnto me: and they sayde, Let vs get vp, and buylde. And they [b] strengthened their handes to good.

b They were encouraged,& gaue themselues to do well, and to trauayle in this woꝛthie enteꝛpꝛise.

19 But when Sanballat the Hoꝛite, & Tobia the seruant an Ammonite,& Gesem the Arabian heard it, they laughed vs to scoꝛne, and despised vs,& sayde,What is this that ye do? Will ye ‖ fall [c] away from the king?

c Thus the wicked when they will burde the children of God,enter lay treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the woꝛld, & also stiꝛreth the hatred of pꝛinces most against them.

20 Then answered I them,and sayd,The God of heauen,he it is that hath granted vs pꝛospeꝛitie,and we his seruants wil get vp & buildꝛ as foꝛ you ye haue no poꝛtion, noꝛ right, noꝛ remembꝛance in Hierusalem.

The iii. Chapter.

The number of them that buylded the walles.

1 AND Eliasib the high Pꝛiest, gate him vp with his bꝛethꝛen the Pꝛiestes, and they buylded the sheepe gate, they repayꝛed it,& set vp the dooꝛes of it: euen vnto the towꝛe Hea [a] repayꝛed they it, and vnto the towꝛe of Hananeel.

a In Hebꝛew, they sanctified it,that is, they finished it, & so dedicated it to the Loꝛde by pꝛayer,in desiꝛing him to maintaine it.

2 Next vnto him also buylded the men of Jericho: and beside him buylded Zachur the sonne of Amri.

3 But the fish poꝛt did the childꝛen of Asnaa buylde, which also layd the beames thereof,& set on the dooꝛes,lockes,and barres of it.

4 And next vnto them buylded Meremoth the sonne of Uria, the sonne of Haccos: and next vnto them buylded Mesullam the sonne of Barachia,the sonne of Meselabel: & next vnto them buylded Zadoc the sonne of Baana.

5 And next vnto him builded they of Thecoa: but the great men that were amõg them [b] put not their neckes to the woꝛke of their Loꝛd.

b The rich & mightie would not obey them which were appointed officers in this woꝛke, neither would they helpe thereunto

6 The olde gate buylded Jehoiada the sonne of Paseah, and Mesullam the sonne of Belodia, they layde the beames thereof, and set on the dooꝛes,lockes,and barres of it.

7 Next vnto them buylded Melatiah of Gibeon,and Jadon of Marona, men of Gibeon, and of Mispah; vnto the thꝛone of the Duke [which was] beyond the riuer.

9 Next vnto them builded Raphaiah the sonne of Hur,the ruler of the halfe part of Hierusalē.

10 Next vnto him buylded Jedaia the sonne of Harumaph ouer against his house: & next vnto him builded Hattus the sonne of Hasabnia.

11 But Melchia the sonne of Harim, & Hasub the sonne of the captaine of Moab,builded the other piece,& the towꝛe beside the furnaces.

12 Next vnto him buylded Sallum the sonne of ‖ Hallohes,the ruler of the halfe part of Hierusalem,he,and his daughters.

‖Or,the enchanters sonne.

13 The valley gate buylded Hanun, and the citizens of Zanoa,they buylded it,and set on the dooꝛes,lockes,& barres thereof, & a thousand cubites on the wall,vnto the doung poꝛt.

14 But the doung poꝛt buylded Melchiah the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Bethacharem:he repayꝛed it,and set on the dooꝛes,lockes,and barres thereof.

15 But the well gate repaired Sallum the sonne of Cholhosah, the ruler of the fourth part of Mispah: he buylded it,and couered it, and set on the dooꝛes, lockes, & barres thereof: and the wall vnto the fish poole Siloah by the kinges garden, and vnto the steppes that go downe from the citie of Dauid.

16 After him buylded Nehemias the sonne of Asboc, the ruler of the halfe part of Bethzur, vntil the other side ouer against the sepulchꝛes of Dauid,and to the fish poole that was repaiꝛed,and vnto the house of the mightie.

17 After him buylded the Leuites, Rehum the sonne of Bani: and next vnto him builded Hasabia the ruler of the halfe part of Ceilah in his quarter.

18 After him builded their bꝛethꝛen Bauai the sonne of Henadad the ruler of the halfe part of Ceilah.

19 And after him buylded Ezer the sonne of Josue, the ruler of Mispah, the other peece, hard ouer against the going vp to the house of ꝛdinance [that was] in the corner.

20 Againe, after him make toꝛth Baruch the sonne of Zachai, of [c] indignation, and repayꝛed the other peece from the turning corner, vnto the dooꝛe of the house of Eliasib the high Pꝛiest.

c Against him selfe, considering his owne slacknesse.

21 After him also builded Meremoth the sonne of Uria,the sonne of Haccos, the other peece, from the dooꝛe of the house of Eliasib, euen as long as the house of Eliasib extended.

a which dwelt in the plaine countrey by Iordane & Iericho. b yet had houses in Hierusalem.

22 After him buylded the Priestes, the [a] men of the playne.

23 After him buylded Beniamin and Hasub, ouer against their house: & after him wrought Azaria the sonne of Maasia, the sonne of Anania, by his house.

24 After him also buylded Bennui the sonne of Henadad, the other peece, from the house of Azaria, vnto the turning [of the wall,] and vnto the corner.

25 After him buylded Pala the sonne of Usai, ouer against the corner, and the hygh towre which lyeth out ouer from the kinges house that was beside the court of the prison: after him, Phadaia the sonne of Pharos.

1.Esd.5.43. 26 *As for the Nethinims, they dwelt in the strong holde, vnto the water gate, toward the East, and to the towre that lyeth out.

27 After him buylded they of Thecua the other peece, ouer against the great towre that lyeth outwarde, vnto the wall of the strong holde.

28 But from about the horse gate forth, buylded the Priestes, euery one ouer against his house.

29 And after them buylded Zadoc the sonne of Immer, ouer against his house: after him buylded also Semeia the sonne of Sechania, the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him buylded Hanania the sonne of Selemia, and Hanun the sonne of Zalaph the sixth, thee other peece: and after him buylded Mesullam the sonne of Barachia ouer against his ‖ store house.

‖ Or, chamber.

31 After him builded Melchia the goldsmithes sonne, vnto the house of the Nethinims, and of the marchantes, ouer against the gate Mephead, and to the parlour in the corner.

32 And betweene the parlour of the corner, vnto the sheepe gate, buylded the goldesmithes and the marchants.

The iiii. Chapter.

7 The buylding of Hierusalem is hindered. 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes buylde with one hand, and holde their weapon in the other.

1 BUt when Sanballat heard that wee buylded the wall, he was wroth in him selfe, and tooke great indignation, and mocked the Iewes:

2 And sayd before his brethren, and the souldiers of Samaria, What doe these impotent Iewes? ‖ wil the [heathen] suffer them? shall they offer? shall they perfourme it in one day? shall they make the stones whole againe, that are wrought to dust, and brent?

‖ Or, will they fortifie themselues?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and sayde, Though they buylde, yet if a fore goe vp, he shall breake downe their stony wall.

4 Heare, O thou our God, for we are despised, turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them ouer ‖ into despising in the land of their captiuitie.

‖ Or, for a pray.

5 [a] Couer not their wickednesse, and let not their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked the buylders.

a Let thy plagues declare to the world, that they set themselues against thee and thy Church: thus he prayeth only, hauing respect to Gods glorie, and not for any priuate affection or grudge.

6 And so buylded we the wall, & it was ioyned whole together vnto the halfe height thereof: and the people were minded to labour.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, Ammonites, and Asdodites, heard that the walles of Hierusalem were made vp, and that the breaches beganne to be stopped, they were very wroth,

8 And conspired al together to come and fight against Hierusalem, and to make an ‡ hinderance therein.

‡ Heb. make a slay.

9 Neuertheless, we made our prayer vnto our God, and set watchemen by them day and night, because of them.

10 And Iuda sayd, The strength of the bearers is feeble, and there is yet much more mother, and we are not able to buylde on the wall.

11 And our aduersaries sayde, They shall not know, neyther see, till we come in the middes among them, and slaye them, and cause the worke to ceasse.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs [b] ten times, that in all places where we go vnto, they are appointed to fall vpon vs.

b That is, often times.

13 Therefore set I the people after their kinreds, with their swordes, speares, and bowes, beneath in the lowe places behinde the wall, vpon the toppes of the stones.

14 And I looked, and gate mee vp, and sayde vnto the chiefe men, to the rulers, and to the other people, Be not ye afrayde of them: but thinke rather vpon the great Lorde which ought to be feared, and fight for your brethē, your sonnes, your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 Neuertheless, when our enemies heard that we had gotten word of it, God brought their counsell to nought: and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his labour.

16 And from that time forth, the halfe part of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them helde the speares, shieldes, bowes, and brestplates, and the rulers [stood] [c] behind all the house of Iuda.

c To encrease them, & to encourage them in their works.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and those that laded them, with one hande did euery one his worke, and with the other helde his weapon.

18 For euery one that builded, had his sworde girded by his thigh, and so builded they: And he that blewe the trumpet, was beside me.

19 And I sayde vnto the principall men, to the rulers, and to the other people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpō the wall one farre from an other.

20 Looke

20 Looke in what place therefore yee heare the noyse of the Trumpet, resort ye thither vnto vs, and our God shall fight for vs.

21 And we wil be labouring in the worke. And the halfe part of them helde their speares, from the morning spring, til the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time saide I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Hierusalem, that in the night season we may watch, and labour on the day time.

23 As for me, and my brethren, my seruants, & the men of the watch which followed me, we put neuer off our clothes, saue onely because of the washing.

The v. Chapter.

1 The people are oppressed, and in necessitie. 7 Nehemias forbiddeth vsurie.

1 AND there arose a great complaint of the people & their wiues against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were some that sayde, Our sonnes, and daughters, and wee are very many: therefore will wee take corne for them, that we may eate and liue.

3 Some also there were that sayde, Let vs set our lands, vineyardes, and houses to pledge, and take vp corne in the dearth.

4 But some there were that sayde, Wee haue borowed money for the kings tribute, & that vpon our landes and vineyardes.

a That is, although we are of the kinred & stocke that our rulers be of: yet they not regarding our necessitie, doe take our children & landes to gage: and so bring vs in like bondage as our brethren which remaine still in the captiuitie.

5 And nowe our flesh is as the a flesh of our brethren, and our children as their children: and loe, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruantes, and some of our daughters are subdued vnto bondage already, and no strength is there in our handes to redeeme them, & other men haue our lands and vineyards.

b Or multitude of people, eyther because they should be moued with pitie, or els ashamed, seeing 8 howe many were oppressed by them. & also might heare the iudgement of others, which shoulde be as it were witnesses of their cruel dealing towarde their brethren.

6 And when I heard their complaint, & such words, it displeased me sore.

7 And I aduised so in my minde, that I rebuked the counsellers, and the rulers, and sayde vnto them, Euery one of you taketh vsurie of his brother. And I brought a b great congregation against them,

And sayde vnto them, We after our abilitie haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren againe? and shall they be solde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and could finde nothing to answere.

c Who by this occasion wil blaspheme the name of God, seeing that our doings are no better then theirs.

9 And I sayd, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walke in ỹ feare of our God, because of the c rebuke of the heathen that are our enemies?

10 I, and my brethren, and my seruants, do lend them money & corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this vsurie.

11 Therefore, this same day, I pray you, see that ye restore them their landes againe, their vineyardes, oliue gardens, and their houses, and remit the hundred part of the money, of the corne, wine, and oyle, that ye haue exacted of them.

12 Then sayde they, Wee will restore them againe, and will require nothing of them, and will do as thou hast spoken. And I called the Priestes, and tooke an othe of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 And I shooke my lap, and sayde, God shake out euery man after the same maner from his house and labour, that mainteineth not this word, euen thus be he shaken out, and voyde. And all the congregation sayde, Amen, and prayed the Lord: And ỹ people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time forth that the [king] committed vnto mee to bee captaine of them that were in the lande of Iuda, euen from the twentieth yere, vnto the thirtie and two yere of king Artaxerxes, that is twelue yeeres, I with my brethrē liued not of such sustenance as was giuen to a captaine.

15 For the olde captaines that were before me, had beene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread & wine, beside fourtie sicles of siluer, yea and their seruants had oppressed the people: but so did not I, and that because of the feare of God.

16 ‖ But I laboured also in the worke vpon the wall, and wee bought no lande: and all my seruantes came thither together vnto the worke.

‖ Or, but rather I fortified a portion in ỹ worke of this wall.

17 Moreouer, there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared for me daily an oxe, and sixe chosen sheepe, and birdes were prepared for me: and euer once in ten dayes wine for all in abundance: Yet required not I the ‖ liuing of a captaine, for the bondage was grieuous vnto the people.

‖ Or, bread.

19 Thinke vpon me my God vnto the best, according to all that I haue done for this people.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Nahemias answereth with great wisedome and zeale to his aduersaries. 11 He is not discouraged by the false prophets.

1 AND when Sanballat, Tobia, & Gesem the Arabian, and the other of our enemies heard, that I had builded the wall, & that there were no moe ‖ gaps therein: (howbeit, at the same tyme had I not hanged the doores vpon the gates,)

‖ Or, breaches.

2 Sanballat and Gesem sent vnto me, saying, Come, that we may meete & take counsell together in the villages that are in the plaine of the citie Ono. Neuertheless, they thought to do me euill.

3 And I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great businesse to doe, and I can not come downe: Why shoulde the woorke ceasse, whilest I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Howbeit, they sent vnto mee foure times after the same maner: and I gaue thē the same answere.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant againe vnto mee the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand.

6 Wherein was written, It is tolde the heathen, and Gesem hath sayde it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell: for ỹ which cause thou buildest the wall, that thou mayest bee their king, according to these [a] woordes:

a As the fame goeth.

7 And hast ordeyned the prophets to preach of thee at Hierusalem, and to say, Hee is king of Iuda. And nowe shall this come to the kings eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take our counsell together.

8 And I sent vnto him, saying, There is no such thing done as thou sayest, for thou faignest them of thine owne heart.

9 For they were al minded to make vs afraid, saying, They shal withdrawe their hands frō their woorke that it shall not be finished: Now therefore, strengthen thou my hand.

10 And I came vnto the house of Semaia the sonne of Delaia, ỹ sonne of Mehetabeel, & he had shut himselfe within, & said, Let vs come together in the house of God, euen vnto the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple, for they will come to slaye thee, yea, euen in the night will they come to put thee to death.

11 And I said, Should any such man as I flee? Who is, that being as I am, will go into the Temple to saue his life? I will not go in.

12 And loe, I perceiued that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophecie against mee: for Tobia & Sanballat had hired him for money.

13 Therefore was he hired, that through feare I should so doe, & sinne, that they might haue an euill report of me, to lay to my charge.

14 My God, thinke thou vpon Tobia, and Sanballat, according vnto these their woorkes, and on the prophetesse Noadia, and the other prophetes that woulde haue put me in feare.

15 And the wall was finished in the twentie & fifth day of the moneth [b] Elul, in [c] fiftie & two dayes.

b Which was the firth moneth, and contained part of August, and part of September.

c After that I had sent Sanballat his answere.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, all the heathen that were about vs, were afraide, and their courage fayled them: for they perceiued that this woorke came of our God.

17 And at the same time were there many of the chiefe of Iuda, whose letters went vnto Tobia, and againe from Tobia vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iuda that were sworne vnto him: for he was the sonne in law of Sechania the sonne of Arah, and his sonne Johanan had the daughter of Mesullam the sonne of Barachia.

19 And they spake good of him before mee, and told him my woords: and Tobia sent letters to put me in feare.

The viii. Chapter.

2 Esdras gathereth together the people, and readeth the lawe to them.

1 AND al the people gathered themselues together as one man, in the streete that was before the water gate, * and they sayde vnto Esdras the scribe, that hee shoulde fetch the booke of the lawe of Moses, which the Lord commanded to Israel.

1. Esdr. 3. 1. 1. esdr. 7. 6.

2 And Esdras the Priest brought the lawe before the congregation, both of men, and women, and all that coulde vnderstande, did hearken vnto it, vpon the first day of ỹ seuenth moneth.
3 And hee read therein in the streete that was before the water gate, from the morning vntill the noone daye, before men and women that did hearken to it: and the eares of all the people were [enclined] vnto the booke of the lawe.
4 And Esdras the scribe stoode vpon a pulpet of wood which they had made for the preaching, and beside him stoode Matthathia, Sema, and Anaiah, Uriah, Helcia, and Maaseiah, on his right hande: and on his left hand stood Pedaia, Misael, and Melchia, and Hasum, Hasabadana, Zachary, and Mesullam.
5 And Esdras opened the booke before all the people (for hee stoode aboue all the people:) and when hee opened it, all the people stoode vp.
6 And Esdras prayed the Lorde the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, lifting vp their handes, and bowed them selues, & worshipped the Lord, falling downe vpon their faces to the ground.
7 And Iosue, Bani, Serebia, Iamin, Accub, Sebethai, Hodaia, Maasia, Celita, Azariah, Iosabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites caused the people to giue heede vnto the law: and the people stoode in their place.
8 And they read in the booke of the lawe of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.
9 And Nehemias, which is Athirsatha, and Esdras the Priest and scribe, and the Leuites that caused the people to take heede, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto ỹ Lord your God, bee not yee sory, and a weepe not. For all the people wept when they heard the wordes of the lawe.

a The Leuites do not reproue thē for mourning for their sinnes, but assure them of gods mercies, for asmuch as they are repentant.

10 And he sayd vnto them, Goe your way, and eate the fat, and drinke the sweete, and sende part vnto them also that haue not prepared for them selues, for this day is holy vnto our Lorde: bee not ye sory therefore, for the ioy of the Lord is your strength.
11 And the Leuites stilled all the people, and sayde, Holde your peace, for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.
12 And all the people went their way to eate, and to drinke, and to sende part vnto other, and to make great mirth, because they had vnderstand the words that were declared vnto them.
13 And on the next day were gathered together the chiefe fathers among all ỹ people, and the Priestes, and the Leuites, vnto Esdras the scribe, that they might vnderstand the wordes of the lawe.
14 And they founde written in the lawe which the Lord had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth:
15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaymed in all their cities, and throwout Hierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and fetche Oliue branches, Pine branches, Myrtil branches, Palme branches, and branches of the thicke tree, to make boothes, as it is written.
16 And so the people went forth, and fet them, and made them boothes, euery one vpon the roofe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streete by the water gate, and in the streete of the port of Ephraim.
17 And all the congregation of them that were come againe out of ỹ captiuitie, made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the time of Iosua the sonne of Nun, vnto this day, had not the children of Israel b done so: and there was very great gladnesse.

b That is, were not so vniuersally gathered together as one man, as verse 1.

18 And euery day, from the first day vnto the last, read Esdras in the booke of the lawe of God:

God: and seuen dayes held they the feast, and on the eight day they gathered together, according vnto the maner.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wiues.
5 The Leuites exhort them to prayse God.

3. Esdr. 9 4. a Meaning, the seuenth moneth, as Chap. 8. 2.

1 IN the *twentie & fourth day of a this moneth, came the children of Israel together againe, with fasting, and sackclothes, and earth vpon them.

2 And they that were of the seede of Israel, were separated from all the strange children, and stoode, and knowledged their sinnes, and the wickednesse of their fathers:

3 And stoode vp in their place, and read in the booke of the law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they knowledged, and worshipped the Lorde their God foure times [on the day.]

4 Then stoode vp vpon the stayres of the Leuites, Iosue, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Bunni, Serebiah, Bani, and Chanani, & cryed loud vnto the Lord their God:

5 And the Leuites, Iosue, and Cadmiel, Bani, and Pasabnia, Serebiah, and Hodia, Sebania, and Phathahia, sayde, Stande vp, and prayse the Lorde your God for euer, and let thankes bee giuen vnto the name of thy glory, which excelleth all thankes giuing and prayse.

6 Thou art Lorde alone, thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their host, the earth, and all thinges that are therein, the sea, and al that is therein, and thou preseruedst them all, and the host of heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lorde, the God that hast chosen * Abram, and broughtest him out of Ur in Chaldea, and calledst him Abraham: Gene. 11. 31. Gene. 17. 5.

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Iebusites, and Gergesites, and hast made good thy wordes: for thou art righteous,

9 And hast considered the miserie of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their complaint by the red sea,

10 And shewed tokens and woonders vpon Pharao and all his seruants, and on all the people of his lande: for thou knewest that they were presumptuous and cruell against them: and so madest thou thee a name, as it is this day.

Exod. 14. 22. 11 *And the [redde] sea diddest thou diuide in sunder before them, so that they went thorow the middest of the sea, ‖drie shod: and their persecutours threwest thou into the deepe, as a stone in the mightie waters: ‖Or, on dry land.

Exod. 13. 21. 12 *And leddest them on the day time in a cloudie pillar, and on the night season in a pillar of fire, to shewe thē light in the way that they went.

13 *Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sion, and speakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgementes, true lawes, good commandements, and statutes: Exod. 20. 1.

14 And declaredst vnto them by thy holy Sabboth, and commaundedst them precepts, ordinances and lawes, by the hande of Moses thy seruant:

15 *And gauest them bread from heauen, when they were hungry, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke, when they were thirstie, and promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the lande ouer which thou haddest lift vp thine hande for to giue them. Deut. 1. 8.

16 But they, and our fathers, were proude and hardnecked, so that they followed not thy cōmandements:

17 And would not obey, neither were mindfull of the wonders that thou diddest for them: but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious, & full of compassion, of long suffering, and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 *Moreouer, when they had made them a molten calfe, and sayde, This is thy god that brought thee out [of the land] of Egypt, and did blasphemies: Exo. 32. 4. num. 14. 14. 1. cor. 10. 7.

19 Yet forsookest thou them not in the wildernesse, according to thy great mercies: * and the cloudy pillar departed not from them on the day time to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire in ỹ night season, to shewe thē light in the way by which they should goe. Exod. 13. 22.

20 And thou gauest them thy good spirit to enfourme them, and withheldest not thy Manna from their mouth, and gauest them water when they were thirstie.

21 Fourtie yeres long diddest thou feede them in the wildernes, so that they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and nations, and diddest b scatter them into corners: so they possessed the lande of Sehon, and the lande of the king of Hesbon, and the lande of Og king of Basan. b Meaning, the heathen, Num. 21.

23 And their children multipliedst thou as the starres of heauen, and broughtest them into the land whereof thou haddest spoken to their fathers, that they should goe into it, and haue it in possession.

24 And the children went in, and possessed the lande, and thou subduedst before them the inhabiters of ỹ land, euē the Chanaanites, and gauest thē into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And

25 And they wan their strong cities, and a fat land, and tooke possession of houses that were full of all maner of goods, ‖ Welles digged out, vineyards, oliue gardens, and many fruitfull trees, and they did eate, & were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

‖Or, cesterns.

26 Neuertheless, they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy lawe behinde their backes, and slewe thy Prophets, ‖ which exhorted them earnestly, that they might bring them againe vnto thee, and did great blasphemies.

‖Or, Which protested among them to turne them to thee.

27 Therefore thou gauest them ouer into the hande of their enemies that vexed them, and in the time of their trouble, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest thē from heauen: and through thy great mercie thou gauest them sauiours, which helped them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But when they came to rest, they turned backe againe, to do euill before thee: therefore lettest thou thē in the hande of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them: and when they conuerted, & cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and many times hast thou deliuered them, according to thy great mercie,

‖Or, protestedst.

29 And ‖ testifiedst vnto them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy lawe: notwithstanding, they were proude, and hearkened not vnto thy commandementes, but sinned ‖ in thy lawes, which if a man doe, he shall liue in them: and ᶜ turned the shoulder away, and were stiffenecked, and woulde not heare.

‖Or, against thy iudgements.

ᶜ Which is a similitude taken of oxen þ shrinke at the yoke or burdē, as, Zach. 7. 11.

30 Yet many yeres diddest thou forbeare them, and ‖ testifiedst vnto them through thy spirite by the hand of thy prophetes, and yet woulde they not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the nations of the lands.

‖Or, protestedst.

31 And for thy great mercies sake thou hast not vtterly consumed them, neither forsaken thē: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Nowe therefore our God, thou great God, mightie and terrible, thou that keepest couenant and mercie, regard not a litle all the trauaile that hath come vnto vs, and our kings, our princes, our priestes, our prophets, and our fathers, and all the people since the time of the kings of Assur, vnto this day.

33 And truely thou art iust in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, for thou hast done right: as for vs, we haue bene vngodly.

34 And our kings, and our princes, our priests, and our fathers haue not done thy law, nor regarded thy commandementes, and thy ‖ earnest exhortations wherewith thou hast ‖ exhorted them.

‖Or, protestations.

‖Or, protested amongest thē.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou gauest them, & in the large and ‖ plenteous lande which thou gauest before them, and haue not conuerted from their wicked workes.

‖Or, fat.

36 Beholde, we are in bondage this day, and so is the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers to eate the fruites and goodnesse thereof, beholde, there are we bondmen.

37 And great is the encrease of it vnto ỹ kings, whome thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes, and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and cattel, euen as they will themselues: and we are in great trouble.

38 Nowe because of all this, make we a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, Leuites, and priestes seale vnto it.

The x. Chapter.

37 And that wee shoulde bring the first fruites of our dough and our heaue offeringes, and the fruites of all maner of trees, of wine also, and of oyle, vnto the Priestes, to the ‖ chestes of the house of our God, and the tythes of our lande vnto the Leuites, that the Leuites might haue the tithes in all the cities of our ministration.

‖Or, chambers.

38 And the Priest the sonne of Aaron shall bee with the Leuites, * when the Leuites take tythes, so that the Leuites shall bring vp the tythes of their tythes vnto the house of our God, to the store houses, and to the treasure houses.

Num.18.26.

39 For the children of Israel, and the children of Leui, shall bring vp the heaue offerings of the corne, wine, and oyle, vnto ỹ store houses there as are the vesselles of the Sanctuarie and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and singers, and we wil not forsake the house of our God.

23 The children of Leui the principall fathers were witten in the Chronicles, vntill ỹ time of Jonathan the ſonne of Eliaſib.
24 And theſe were the chiefe among the Leuites: Haſabia, Serebia, and Jeſua the ſonne of Cadmiel, and their brethren ‖ in their preſence, to giue prayſe and thankes, according as Dauid the man of God had ordeyned it, one watch ouer againſt another. ‖ Or, about them

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiacim the sonne of Iosue the sonne of Iosedec, and in the dayes of Nehemias the captaine, and of the priest Esdras the scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Hierusalem, they sought the Leuites out of al their places, that they might be brought to Hierusalem, to keepe the dedication and gladnesse with thankesgiuings, and singing with cymbales, ‖ psalteries, and harpes.

‖Or, vialles.

28 And the children of the singers gathered themselues together from euery side, out of the plaine countrey about Hierusalem, and from the villages of [a] Nethophathi, a Which were a certaine familie, and had their possessions in the fieldes, as 1.chro.2.54.

29 From the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreyes of Geba, and Asmaueth: for the singers had builded them villages rounde about Hierusalem.

30 And the priests and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought the princes of Iuda vpon the wall, and appointed two great ‖ quiers of men to giue thankes, which went on the right hande of the wall towarde the Dung gate.

‖Or, companie.

32 And after them went Hosaia, and halfe of the princes of Iuda,

33 And Azaria, Esdras, and Mesullam,

34 Iuda, Beniamin, Semeia, and Ieremi,

35 And certaine of the priestes children with trumpets: namely Zachari the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Semeia, the sonne of Matthania, the sonne of Michaia, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Semeia, Asarael, Pelalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nathanael, and Iuda, and Hanani, with the musicall instrumentes of Dauid the man of God: and Esdras the scribe [went] before them.

37 And beside the well gate, they went vp ouer against them vpon the steppes of the citie of Dauid at the going vp of the wall, beyond the house of Dauid vnto the water gate Eastwarde.

38 The other quier of them that gaue thankes, went ouer against them, and I after them, and the halfe part of the people, vpon the wal beyonde the furnace gate, vnto the brode wall, 39 And beyonde the port of Ephraim, and beyonde the olde gate, beyonde the fyshe gate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Mea, euen vnto the Sheepe gate, and they stoode still in the ‖ prison gate.

‖Or, the gate of the warde.

40 And so stoode the two quiers of them that gaue thankes in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me:

41 And the priests, namely Eliacim, Maasia, Miniamin, Michaia, Elioenai, Zachari, and Hanania, with trumpets:

42 And Maasia, Semeia, Eleazar, Azzi, Iehohanan, Melchiah, Elam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loude, hauing Iesrahiah for their ouerseer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices, and reioyced: for God had giuen them great gladnesse, so that both the wiues and children were ioyfull, and the myrth of Hierusalem was heard farre off.

44 *At the same time were the men appoynted ouer the treasure houses, wherein were the heaue offerings, the firstlings, and the tythes, that they shoulde gather them out of the fieldes about the cities, to distribute them vnto the priests and Leuites according to the lawe: for Iuda was glad of the priests and Leuites that serued. *2.Chro.31.11.

45 And both the singers and Porters kept the ward of their God, & the ward of the purification, *according to the commaundement of Dauid, and of Solomon his sonne. *2.Chro.24.25.

46 For in the time of Dauid and Asaph of olde were the chiefe singers [ordeined,] and the songes of praise and thankesgiuing vnto God.

47 In the time of Zorobabel and Nehemias, did all Israel giue portions vnto the singers and porters euery day his portion: and they ‖ gaue tythes vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites ‖ gaue tythes againe vnto the children of Aaron. ‖Or, sanctified. ‖Or, sanctified.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The lawe is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

AND that day did they reade in the *booke of Moses in the audience of the people, and therein was founde written, that the Ammonites & Moabites should neuer come into the congregation of God: *Num.22.5. deut.23.3.

2 *Because they met not the children of Israel with bread & water, but hyred Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing. *Num.22.5.

3 Nowe when they had heard the lawe, they separated from Israel euery one that had ‖ myxt himselfe therein. ‖Or, strangers.

4 And before [a] this had the priest Eliasib the ouersight of the treasurie of the house of our God, and he was kinsman vnto Tobia, a That is, before the children of Israel had vparated the strangers from among them.

5 And had made him a great chambet, & there had they aforetime laide the offerings, frankincense, vessels, & the tythes of corne, wyne, and oyle, which was commanded to be giuen to the Leuites, singers, and porters, and the heaue offerings of the priests.

6 But in all this [time] was not I at Hierusalem: for in the two and thyrtieth yeere of Artaxerxes king of Babylon came I vnto the king, and after certaine dayes obteined I licence of the king to come to Hierusalem.

7 And I gate knowledge of the euill that Eliasib did for Tobia, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.
8 And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobia out of the chamber,
9 And commanded them to cleanse the chambers, and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God, with the meate offering, and the incense.
10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen them, and that euery one was fled to his land, euen ẏ Leuites and Singers that executed the worke.
11 Then reproued I the rulers, and sayde, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered them together, and set them in their place.
12 Then brought al Iuda the tythes of corne, and wine, and oyle, vnto the treasures.
13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasure, Selemiah the Priest, and Zadoc the Scribe, and of the Leuites, Phadaia: and vnder their hande was Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Matthania: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute [the portions] vnto their brethren.
14 Thinke vpon me, O my God, herein, and wype not out [b] my ‖ mercie that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the officers thereof.
15 And the same time sawe I in Iuda some treading wyne presses on the Sabboth, and bringing in sheaues, and which laded Asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Hierusalem vpon the Sabboth day: and I rebuked them earnestly the same day that they solde the victualles.
16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fishe and all maner of ware, and solde on the Sabboth vnto the children of Iuda in Hierusalem.
17 Then reproued I the rulers in Iuda, and saide vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye doe, and breake the Sabboth day?
18 Did not your fathers euen thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? and ye make the wrath more yet vpon Israel, in that ye breake the Sabboth?
19 And when the portes of Hierusalem began to be [c] darke in the euening before the Sabboth, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged that they shoulde not be opened till after the Sabboth: and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there shoulde no burden be brought in on the Sabboth day.
20 Then remained the chapmen & marchantes once or twise ouer night without Hierusalem with all maner of wares.
21 Then reproued I them sore, and said vnto them, Why tarie ye all night about the wal? If ye doe it once againe, I will lay handes vpon you: from that time forth came they no more on the Sabboth.
22 And I sayde vnto the Leuites, that they shoulde cleanse themselues, and that they should come and keepe the gates, to halow the Sabboth day: Thinke vpon me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to thy great mercie.
23 In those dayes also sawe I Iewes that married wiues of Asdod, of Ammon, and of Moab, 24 And their children spake halfe in the speach of Asdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, but according to the language of the one people and of the other people.
25 Then I reproued them, & [d] cursed them, and smote certaine men of them, and ‖ made them bare: & tooke an othe of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, or for your selues.
26 *Did not Solomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? and yet among many Heathen was there no king lyke him, which was deare vnto his God, and God made him king ouer all Israel: * and yet neuertheless, outlandish women caused him to sinne. 3. King. 3. 7. 3. King. 11. 1.
27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to doe al this great euill, & to transgresse against our God, and marrie strange wiues?
28 And one of the children of Iehoiada, the sonne of Eliasib the high Priest, was ẏ sonne in lawe of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.
29 O my God, thinke thou vpon them that defile the priesthood, and the couenant of the priesthood, and of the Leuites.
30 Thus cleansed I them from al such as were outlandish, and appointed the courses of the priests and Leuites, euery one in his office:
31 And to offer the wood at times appointed, & the first fruites: Thinke thou vpon me, O my God, for the best.

The Booke of Esther.

The first Chapter.

3 King Ahasuerus maketh a royall feast. 10 Whereunto the Queene Vasthi will not come. 19 For which cause she is put away. 20 The kings decree touching the preeminence of man ouer his wife.

1 NOw the dayes of Ahasuerus, (this is Ahasuerus which reigned from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred and twentie & seuen prouinces.)

2 In those dayes, when the king Ahasuerus sate on his seate [a] royall, which was in the pallace of Susan:

a That is, had rest and quietnes.

3 In the thirde yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and seruantes: and the mightie men of Persia and Media, the captaynes also and rulers of his countreys were before him.

4 And hee shewed the riches and glorie of his kingdome, and the glorious worship of his greatnesse many dayes long, an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, ỹ king made a feast vnto all the people that were in the pallace of Susan, both vnto great & smal, seuen dayes long, in the court of the garden by the kings pallace,

6 Where there hanged whyte, greene, and ‖ yelow clothes, fastened with cordes of fine silke and purple in siluer rings, vpon pillars of marble stones: the ‖ benches also were of golde and syluer made vpon a pauement of ‖ greene, white, yelow, and blacke marble.

‖ Or, blewe, or violet coloured clothes.
‖ Or, beddes, or tables.
‖ Or, Porphyre, Marble, Alabaster, and blewe colour.

7 And they dranke in vessels of golde, & changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundance, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compel: for so the king had appointed to all ỹ officers of his house, that they shoulde doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 And the queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the pallace of Ahasuerus.

10 And on the seuenth day when the king was merie after the wyne, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagthan, Zethar, and Charchas, the seuen chamberlaynes that did seruice in the presence of king Ahasuerus, 11 To fecth the queene Vasthi with ỹ crowne regal into the kings presence, that he might shewe the people and princes her faireneſſe: for she was beautifull.

12 But the queene Vasthi woulde not come at the kings word by his chamberlaynes: then was the king very wroth, and his indignation kindled in him.

b That is, which were learned men, and knew the lawes & actes of their elders in times past.

13 And the king spake to the wise men which [b] knewe the times (for so was the kings maner towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgements:

14 And the next vnto him were Carsena, Sethar, Admata, Tharsis, Mares, Marsena, and Memuchan, the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which [c] sawe the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome.)

c Which were his chief counsellers, and might haue alwayes accesse vnto him.

15 What, shall we do vnto the queene Vasthi according to the lawe, because shee did not according to the worde of the king Ahasuerus, which he commanded by his chamberlaines?

16 And Memuchan answered before the king & the princes, The queene Vasthi hath not onely done euill against the king, but also against all the princes, & against al the people that are in al ỹ prouinces of king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deede of the queene shall come abroade vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbandes before their eyes, and shall say, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vasthi the queene to be brought in before him, but she would not come.

18 And so shall the princesses in Persia and Media say likewise this day vnto all ỹ kings princes when they heare of this deede of the queene: thus shall there arise too much despitefulneſſe and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there goe a commaundement from him, and let it be written according to the lawes of the Persians and Medians, & not to be transgressed, that Vasthi come no more before king Ahasuerus, & let the king giue her royall estate vnto another that is better then she.

20 And whẽ this commandement of the king, which shalbe made, is published throughout all his empire, which is great, all women shal honour their husbandes in honour both among great and small.

21 This saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the worde of Memuchan.

22 For he sent letters forth into all the kings prouinces, into euery lande according to the writing thereof, & to euery people after their language, that euery man should be lorde in his owne house: and this to be published after the language of his people.

The ii. Chapter.

2 After the queene is put away, certaine young maidens are brought to the king. 14 Esther pleaseth the king, and is made queene.

1 AFter these actes, when ỹ displeasure of king Ahasuerus was now ‖ alayed, he thought vpon Vasthi, & what she had done, & what was decreed against her.

‖ Or, appeased.

2 Then saide the kings seruantes that ministred vnto him, Let there be fayre young virgins sought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the prouinces of his empyre, that they shoulde bring together all the fayre young virgins vnto the pallace of Susan to the womens

4 And that the mayden which pleased the king, should be queene in Vashis steade. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In the palace of Susan there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mardocheus, the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, a man of Iemini,

4. King. 24. 15. 6 * Which was caried away frō Hierusalem with the captiuitie, when Iechonia the king of Iuda was led away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caried thence:

7 And he nourished Hadassa (that is Esther) his vncles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and she was a fayre & beautifull mayden, whom Mardocheus (when her father and mother were dead) receiued for his owne daughter.

8 So when the kings commandement and commission was published, & many maidens were brought together into the pallace of Susan vnder the hand of Hegai, Esther was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she founde fauour in his sight: & he caused ‖ ornaments

10 But Esther shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mardocheus had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womens house, that he might knowe howe Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 And when the appoined time of euery maiden came, that she shoulde goe in to the king Ahasuerus, after that she had bene twelue monethes according to the maner of ỹ womē (for so were the dayes of their purification accomplished, sixe monethes with oyle of myrrhe, & sixe monethes with sweete odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maydens vnto the king) whatsoeuer she required, that must be giuen her, to go with her out of the [a] womens ‖ buil-

14 In the euening she went, and on the morow she returned into the second house of the women, [abyding] vnder the hande of Saasgaz the kings chamberlaine, which kept the concubines: and she came in vnto the king no more, except it pleased the king to haue her, and that she were called by name.

15 Nowe when the course came of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, ỹ vncle of Mardocheus (which had receiued her as his owne daughter) that she should come in vnto the king, she desired nothing but what Hegai the kinges chamberlaine the keeper of the women saide: and Esther founde fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 And Esther was taken vnto king Ahasuerus into his house royall, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth [b] Tebeth) in the seuēth yeere of his reigne.

b Which conteineth part of December, and part of Januarie.

17 And the king loued Esther aboue al the women, & she found grace & fauour in his sight, more then all the virgins, so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her queene in steade of Vashi.

18 And the king made a great feast vnto al his princes & seruants, which feast was because of Esther, and caused the prouinces to be in [c] quietnesse, and gaue giftes as became the royaltie of a king.

c He released their tribute.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, Mardocheus sate in the kings gate.

20 And as yet had not Esther shewed her kinred and her people, according as Mardocheus had bidden her: for Esther did after the word of Mardocheus, like as if she had bene yet vnder his gouernance.

21 At the same time (while Mardocheus sate in the kings gate) two of the kings chamberlaynes, Bigthan and Theres, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay their handes on the king Ahasuerus:

22 Whereof also Mardocheus gate knowledge, and tolde it vnto queene Esther, and Esther certified the king thereof in Mardocheus name.

23 And when inquisition was made, it was founde so, and they were both hanged on tree: and it was written in the Chronicles before the king.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Haman after he was exalted, obteined of the king, that all the Iewes should bee put to death, because Mardocheus had not done him worship as other had.

1 AFter these actes did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite, and set him on high, and set his seate aboue all the princes that he had with him.

a This fact of Mardocheus seemed to come by the singular motion of Gods spirit, to the end he might execute his iust iudgement against wicked Haman, and also bring Mardochens to honour for the preseruation of his people: for otherwise to obey magistrates in all ciuil behauiour, is Gods commandement. Rom. 13.

2 And all the kings seruants that were in the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman, for the king had so commaunded concerning him: but Mardocheus [a] bowed not the knee, neither did him reuerence.

3 Then

3 Then the kings seruantes which were in the kings gate, sayde vnto Mardocheus, Why transgressest thou the kings commaundement?

4 And though they spake this dayly vnto him, yet woulde he not heare them, therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see howe Mardocheus matters would stand, for he had tolde them that he was a Iewe.

5 And when Haman sawe that Mardocheus bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, he was full of indignation,

6 And thought it too litle to lay handes onely on Mardocheus, for they had shewed him the nation of Mardocheus: wherefore he sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole empire of Ahasuerus, and that were of the nation of Mardocheus.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of king Ahasuerus, they cast Phur, that is, a [b] lot, before Haman from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth Adar.

[b] To knowe what moneth & day shoulde be good to goe about this thing, that it might haue good successe, but God disappointeth their lots and expectation.

8 And Haman sayde vnto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattered abroade, and dispersed among all people in all the prouinces of thine empire, and their lawes are diuerse from all people, and doe not after the kings lawes, therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written, that they may be destroyed: & so will I ‖ weygh downe ten thousand talents of siluer, by the hands of them ẏ haue the charge of this businesse, to bring it into the kings treasurie.

‖ Or, pay.

10 And the king tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite the Iewes enemie.

11 And the king said vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and doe with that people as it pleaseth thee.

‖ Or, secretaries. 12 Then were the kings ‖ scribes called, on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written according as Haman commanded vnto all the kings officers, & to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people in the countreys on euery side, according to the writing thereof, and to euery nation after their language, in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill, & to destroy all Iewes both young & olde, children and women, in one day, vpon the thirteenth day of ẏ twelfth moneth, (which is ẏ moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

Reade verse. 7. 14 * This was the tenor of the writing, that there shoulde be a commaundement giuen in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they shoulde be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes went in all haste according to the kings commaundement, and in the palace of Susan was the commaundement deuised: and the king and Haman sate & dranke, when in the meane time the [c] citie of Susan was disquieted.

[c] That is, the Iewes which were in Susan.

The iiii. Chapter.

5 Mardocheus giueth the queene knowledge of the cruel decree of the king against the Iewes. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

1 WHen Mardocheus perceiued all ẏ was done, he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cried loude and lamentably,

2 And came before ẏ kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, because he had sackcloth on.

3 And in all prouinces, countreys, and places, as farre as the kings word & commandement came, there was great lamentation among the Iewes, fasting, weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackclothes and in ashes.

4 So Esthers maydens, and her chamberlaynes came, and tolde it her: then was the queene exceedingly astonyed, & she sent rayment that Mardocheus shoulde put on, and lay the sackcloth from him: but Mardocheus would not take them.

5 Then called Esther Hathach, [one] of the kings chamberlaynes, which stoode before her, and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mardocheus, to knowe what it was wherefore he did so.

6 So Hathach went foorth to Mardocheus vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate:

7 And Mardocheus tolde him of all that had come vnto him, and of ‡ the summe of siluer that Haman had promised to weigh downe into the kings treasurie, because of ẏ Iewes, if he would destroy them.

‡ Heb. Declaration.

8 And he gaue him the copie of the kings commaundement that was deuised at Susan to destroy them, that he myght shewe it vnto Esther, & to speake to her, and to charge her that she shoulde goe in vnto the king, and make her prayer and supplication vnto him for her people.

9 And when Hathach came in, he tolde Esther the wordes of Mardocheus.

10 And againe Esther spake vnto Hathach, & commanded him [to say] vnto Mardocheus,

11 All the kings seruantes, and the people in the prouinces of the king knowe, that whosoeuer commeth within the court vnto the king, whether it be man or woman, which is not called, ‖ the commandement is, that the same shall die, except the king holde out the golden scepter vnto him, for then he shall liue: but I haue not bene called to come in vnto the king now this thirtie dayes.

‖ Or, there is a lawe of his,

12 And when Mardocheus was certified of Esthers wordes, 13 Mardocheus bade say agayne vnto Esther, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, then shall the Iewes haue ‖ helpe and deliuerance out of an [a] other place, and thou and thy fathers house shalbe destroyed: And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome ‖ for this cause sake?

15 Esther bade them giue Mardocheus this answere,

16 Goe & gather all the Iewes that are founde at Susan, and fast ye for me, that ye eate not and drinke not in three dayes, neither day nor night, I and my maidens will fast likewise: and so will I goe in vnto the king, which thing is yet contrarie to the commandement, and [b] if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mardocheus went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

‖ Or, breathing.
[a] This Mardocheus spake in the confidence of that faith which all Gods children ought to haue, which is, that God woulde deliuer thē by one meanes or other.
‖ Or, for such a time.
[b] I will put my life in danger, & referre the successe to God, seeing it is for his glorie, and deliuerance of his people.

The v. Chapter.

1 Esther entreth in vnto the king, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11 Haman prepareth a gallous for Mardocheus.

1 AND on the third day, Esther put on her royall apparell, and stoode in the court of ỳ kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king sate vpon his royall seate in the kings palace, ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the king sawe Esther the queene standing in the court, she founde grace in his sight: and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hande: So Esther stept forth, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then saide the king vnto her, What wilt thou, queene Esther? and what requirest thou? [aske] euen the halfe of the empire, and it shalbe giuen thee.

4 And Esther answered, If it please the king, let the king and Haman come this day vnto the banquet that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king saide, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may doe as Esther hath saide. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the king saide vnto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, ỳ it may be giuen thee? And what requirest thou? If it be euen the halfe of the empire, it shalbe done.

7 Then answered Esther, and said, My petition and desire is,

8 If I haue founde grace in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to fulfill my request, then let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and so will I doe to morow as the king hath said.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull & merie in his minde: but when Haman sawe Mardocheus in the kings gate, that he stoode not vp, nor mooued for him, he was full of indignation at Mardocheus.

10 Neuertheless, Haman refrained himselfe, and when he came home, he sent and called for his friendes, and Zares his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, & all the things wherein the king had [a] promoted him so greatly, and how that he had set him aboue the princes, and seruants of the king.

12 Haman sayde moreouer, Yea, Esther the queene did let no man come in with the king vnto the banquet that she had prepared, except me: and to morow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But in all this am I not satisfied, as long as I see Mardocheus the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then saide [b] Zares his wife, and all his friendes vnto him, Let them make a gallous of fiftie cubites high, and to morowe speake thou vnto the king that Mardocheus may be hanged thereon: then goe thou in merily with the king vnto the banquet. And Haman was wel content withall, and caused the gallous to be made.

[a] Thus the wicked when they are promoted, in stead of considering their charge, & humbling thēselues, waxe ambitious, disdainefull, and cruell.
[b] The comfort and counsell which he receiued of his wife, & friends, through the prouidence of God, was turned to his destruction.

The vi. Chapter.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mardocheus, 10 and commandeth Haman to cause Mardocheus to be had in honour.

1 THe same nigt could not ỳ king sleepe, and he commanded to bring the ‖ Chronicles and stories: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was founde written, howe Mardocheus had tolde that Bigthana and Theres the kings two chamberlaynes which kept the ‖ doores, sought to lay handes on king Ahasuerus.

3 And the king saide, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mardocheus therefore? Then saide the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, There is nothing at al done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court? (for Haman was come into the court without before the kings house, that he might speake vnto the king to hang Mardocheus on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king saide vnto him, What shalbe done vnto the man whom whom the king would faine bring vnto worship? (Haman thought in his heart, Whom desireth the king to bring vnto worship more then me?)

7 And Haman answered the king, Let the man whom the king pleaseth to bring vnto worship, be brought hither,

8 That he may be arayed with the royall garments which the king vseth to weare, & the horse that the king rydeth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head:

9 And let this rayment and horse be deliuered vnder the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man withall, whom the king is disposed to bring to honour, and cause him to ryde vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him: Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king pleaseth to bring to honour.

10 And the king saide to Haman, Make haste, and take as thou hast sayde, the rayment and the horse, and doe euen so vnto Mardocheus the Iewe, that sitteth before the kings gate: and let nothing faple of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then tooke Haman the rayment, and the horse, and arayed Mardocheus, and brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whom the king is disposed to honour.

12 And Mardocheus came againe to the kings gate: but Haman gate him home in all the hast mourning, and his head couered:

13 And told Zares his wife, and all his friends, euery thing that had befallen him. Then sayde his wise men, and Zares his wife vnto him, If it be Mardocheus of the seede of the Iewes, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely [a] fall before him.

a Thus God sometime putteth in the mouth of the very wicked, to speake that thing which he hath decreed to come to passe.

14 And whyle they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlaines, and caused Haman to make haste to come vnto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

The vii. Chapter.

3 The queene prayeth for her selfe, and her people.
6 She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallous which he had prepared for Mardocheus.

1 AND the king and Haman came to banquet with queene Esther.

2 And the king saide agayne vnto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wyne, What is thy petition, queene Esther, that it may be giuen thee? and what requirest thou? if it be euen to halfe of the Empire, it shalbe done.

3 And Esther the queene answered, and saide, If I haue founde grace in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, then graunt me my life at my desire, and my people for my petitions sake.

4 For we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: and would God that we were solde to be bondmen, and bondwomen, then would I holde my tongue: although the enemie coulde not recompence the kings [a] losse.

a Meaning, the tribute which the Iewes payde vnto the king.

5 The king Ahasuerus answered, and sayde vnto queene Esther, Who is he? and where is he that dare presume in his minde to doe after that maner?

6 And Esther saide, The enemie and aduersarie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was exceedingly afraide before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet, and from the wine in his displeasure, and [went] into the pallace garden: and Haman stoode vp, and besought queene Esther for his lyfe: for he sawe that there was a mischiefe prepared for him of the king already.

8 And when the king came againe out of ỹ palace garden into the place where they dranke wine, Haman had laide him vpon the bed that Esther sate vpon. Then saide the king, Will he force the queene also before me in ỹ house? As soone as that word went out of the kings mouth, they [b] couered Hamans face.

b This was the maner of the Persians, whē one was out of ỹ kings fauour.

9 And Harbona, one of the chamberlaines that stoode before the king, saide, Beholde, there standeth yet a gallous in Hamans house, fiftie cubites high, which he had made for Mardocheus, that spake good for the king. Then the king saide, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on ỹ gallous that he had made for Mardocheus: Then was the kings wrath pacified.

The viii. Chapter.

1 After the death of Haman, was Mardocheus exalted.
14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

1 THe same day did king Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the Iewes enemie, vnto queene Esther, and Mardocheus came before the king: for Esther tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mardocheus. And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the king, & fell downe at his feete weeping, & besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king helde out the golden scepter toward Esther. Then rose Esther, and stoode before the king,

5 And sayde, If it please the king, and if I haue found grace in his sight, and if it be acceptable before the king, and I please him, then let it be witten, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite may be called againe, which letters he wrote to destroy the Iewes which are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For howe can I suffer and see the euill that shall come vnto my people? or howe can I beare and looke vpon the destruction of my kinred?

7 And the king Ahasuerus saide vnto queene Esther, and to Mardocheus the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Esther the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon a tree, because he laide hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes as it liketh you in the kings name, and seale it with ỹ kings ring: For the writings that were witten in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, durst no man disanull.

9 Then were the kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the thirde moneth (that is in the moneth[a] Siuan) on the three & twentieth day thereof, and it was witten according to all as Mardocheus commanded vnto the Iewes, and to the princes, to the deputies and captaines in the prouinces which are from India vnto Ethiopia, namely, an hundred, twentie and seuen prouinces, vnto euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and vnto euery people after their speache, and to the Iewes according vnto their writing and language.

a Which conteineth part of May, and part of June.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring, & by postes that rode vpon horses, & swift young Mules, sent he the witings,

11 Wherein the king graunted the Iewes, in what cities so euer they were, to gather themselues together, and to [b]stande for their life, and for to roote out, to slay, & to destroy al the power of the people and prouince that would trouble them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goodes:

b That is, to defend themselues against all that would assaple them.

12 Upon one day in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The tenor of the writing was, howe there should be a commandement giuen in all and euery prouince, & published among all people, and that the Iewes shoulde be readie against that day to auenge themselues on their enemies.

14 And so the postes that rode vpon the swift Horses & Mules, made haste with all speede to execute the kings word: & the commandement was deuised in the pallace of Susan.

15 And Mardocheus went out from the king in royall apparel, of ‖ yelowe and white, and with a great crowne of golde, being arayed with a garment of ‖ silke and purple: and the citie of Susan reioyced and was glad.

‖Or, blewe.

‖Or, fine linen.

16 And vnto the Iewes there was come light and gladnesse, ioy and worship.

17 In all prouinces and cities into what place so euer the kings worde and commandement reached, [there was] ioy and mirth, a feast & good dayes among the Iewes: insomuch that many of the people in ỹ land became Iewes, for the feare of the Iewes came vpon them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 At the commaundement of the king, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The tenne sonnes of Haman are hanged.

1 IN the twelfth moneth (that is, ỹ moneth Adar) vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings word and commandement newe neare to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them, it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 For then gathered the Iewes together in their cities within all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, to lay hande on such as woulde doe them euill, and no man coulde withstand them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people.

3 And all the rulers in the prouinces, & princes, and deputies, and officers of the king, promoted the Iewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them.

4 For Mardocheus was great in the kings house, and the report of him was noised in all the prouinces: for this man Mardocheus waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sworde, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto their enemies.

6 And at the palace of Susan, the Iewes destroyed[a] fiue hundred men.

a Besides those three hundred that they slue the second day, as verse 15.

7 And slue Pharsandatha, Dalphon, Alphatha,

8 Phoratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9 Pharmastha, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha, the enemie of the Iewes: but ‖ on his goodes they laide no hands.

‖Or, on the pray.

11 At the same time was the king certified of the number of those that were slaine in the palace of Susan.

12 And the king said vnto queene Esther, The Iewes haue slaine and destroyed fiue hundred men in the palace of Susan, and the ten sonnes of Haman: What haue they done [thinkest thou] in other lands of ỹ king? And what is thy petition, ỹ it may be giuen thee? or what requirest thou more to be done?

13 Esther answered, If it please the king, let him suffer the Iewes which are in Susan, to morowe also to doe according vnto this dayes decree, decree, that they may hang Hamans tenne ſonnes vpon the tree.

14 And the king charged to do ſo: and the decree was deuiſed at Suſan, & they hanged Hamans ten ſonnes.

15 For the Jewes that were in Suſan, gathered themſelues together vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and ſlew three hundred men at Suſan: but on their goods they layd no hands.

16 As for the other Jewes that were in the kings prouinces, they came together, and ſtoode for their liues, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of their enemies ſeuentie and fiue thouſand, howbeit, they layd no handes on their goods.

17 [This they did] on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the ſame moneth reſted they, which day they held with faſting and gladneſſe.

18 But the Jewes that were at Suſan, came together, both on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth: and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and held that day with faſting and gladneſſe.

19 And therefore the Jewes that dwelt in the villages, and vnwalled townes, held the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with gladnes and feaſting, and [b] kept holy day, and euery one ſent preſents vnto his neighbour.

b As the Jewes do vnto this day, calling it in the Perſians language Phurim, that is, the day of lottes.

20 And Mardocheus wrote theſe wordes, and ſent letters vnto all the Jewes that were in all the prouinces of king Ahaſuerus, both nigh and farre:

21 That they ſhould make a law among themſelues, and hold the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the moneth Adar yeerely, 22 As the dayes wherein the Jewes came to reſt from their enemies, & as a moneth where in their paine was turned to ioy, and their ſorow into a ioyful day: and that in thoſe daies they ſhould make feaſtes and gladneſſe, & one to ſend gifts vnto an other, and to diſtribute vnto the poore.

23 And the Jewes promiſed to doe as they had begun, and as Mardocheus had written vnto them:

24 Becauſe Haman the ſonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, all the Jewes enemie, had deuiſed againſt the Jewes, how he might deſtroy them, and cauſed to caſt Phur, (that is, a lot) for to conſume them, and to bring them to nought.

25 *But when Eſther came before the king, he commaunded by letters, that his wicked deuice, which he imagined againſt ỹ Jewes, ſhould be turned vpon his owne head, and that he & his ſonnes ſhould be hanged on the tree. *Esther.37.

26 For the which cauſe they called theſe dayes Phurim, becauſe of the name of the lot, and becauſe of all the wordes of this writing, and what they themſelues had ſeene, & what had come vnto them:

27 And the Jewes ordeyned, and tooke it vpon them and their ſeede, and vpon al ſuch as ioyned themſelues vnto them, that they woulde not miſſe, but obſerue theſe two daies yeerely according as they were written and appointed in their ſeaſon.

28 And that theſe dayes are to bee remembred, and to be kept of childrens children among all kinreds in all landes and cities, in theſe dayes of Phurim, which are not to bee ouerſlipt among the Jewes, and the memoriall of them ought not to periſh from their ſeede.

29 And Queene Eſther the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Jewe, wrote with all authoritie to confirme this ſecond writing of Phurim.

30 And hee ſent the letters vnto all the Jewes, to the hundred twentie and ſeuen prouinces of the empire of Ahaſuerus, with wordes of peace and trueth:

31 To cõfirme theſe dayes of Phurim in their time appoynted, according as Mardocheus the Jewe, & Eſther the Queene had appoynted them: and they bound their ‖ ſoule & their ſeede to faſting and prayer. ‖ Or, ſelues.

32 And the decree of Eſther confirmed theſe wordes of Phurim, and was written in the booke.

33 And the king Ahaſuerus layd tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the ſea.

34 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mardocheus, wherewith the king magnified him, be they not written in the bookes of the Chronicles of the kinges of Medes and Perſia?

35 For Mardocheus the Jewe, was the ſecond next vnto king Ahaſuerus, and great among the Jewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that ſeeketh the wealth of his people, and ſpeaketh peaceably for all his ſeede.

The booke of Iob.

The first Chapter.

1 The holines and richesse of Iob, 5 the care of Iob for his children. 11 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 Hee tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

1 IN the land of Hus there was a man whose name was [a] Iob, and the same was a perfect & iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

[a] This Iob was a Gētile, declaring hereby that God hath his, euen among the heathen.

2 And he had seuen sonnes, & three daughters.

3 His substāce also was seuē thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, fiue hundred yoke of oxen, and fiue hundred shee asses, & a very great houshold: so that he was one of ỹ most pṛincipall [‡] men among all them of the [b] East [countrey.]

[‡] Hebr. children. [b] As well Arabians, Chaldeans, Idumeans, as others.

4 And his sonnes went & banqueted in their houses, euery one his day, & sent & called for their three sisters to eate & drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banqueting were gone about, Iob sent and sanctified thē, and gate vp early, and offered for euery one a whole burnt offering: for Iob said, It may be that my sonnes haue done some offence, and haue bene [c] vnthankefull to God in their hearts. Thus did Iob euery day.

[c] The Hebrew is, blesse God, which is some times taken for to curse, or blaspheme, as here, and 1. King. 21.

6 And vpon a day when the [d] children of God came and stood before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

[d] Meaning the angels which are called the children of God, because they are willing and readie to execute his will.

7 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? Satan answered the Lorde, and said, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking through it.

8 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how there is none like him in the earth? a perfect and a iust man, one that feareth God, and eschweth euill?

9 Satan answered, and said vnto the Lorde, Doeth Iob feare God [e] for nought?

[e] Ye feareth thee, not for thine owne sake, but for the commodite that he receiueth by thee.

10 Hast not thou ‡ preserued him & his house, and all that he hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his possession is increased in the land.

‡ Heb. made an hedge about him.

11 But lay thine hand now vpon him, & touch all that he hath, and he shal [f] curse thee to thy face.

[f] The Hebrew is, blesse thee, as it is before taken, the fifth verse to curse.

12 And the Lord sayde vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath bee in thy ‖ power, onely vpon himselfe see that thou lay not thine hand. And Satan went foorth from the [g] presence of the Lord.

‖ Or, hand.

[g] That is, vnto to execute that which God had permitted him to do, for els he coulde not go out of Gods presence.

13 And vpon a certaine day when his sonnes and daughters were eating & drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, & sayd, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 [h] And the Sabees came violently, & tooke them away: yea, they haue slaine thy seruāts with the edge of the sword, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

[h] That is, the Arabians, so called of Sheba the sonne of Keima, of whō Arabia felix was named the region of Saba.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heauen, and hath burnt vp thy sheepe, and seruants, and consumed them, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And while he was yet speaking, there came another, and said, The Chaldees made out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, & haue caried them away, yea, and slaine thy seruants with the sword, and I onely am gotten away alone to tell thee.

18 And while he was yet speaking, there came another, and said, Thy sonnes and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And beholde, there came a mightie great winde from beyond the wildernesse, & smote the foure corners of the house, which fel vpon thy children, and they are dead, and I am gotten away alone to tell thee.

[i] Not of impatience, but as mourners vse to do, thereby declaring that he was some thing moued according to the weakenesse of mans nature in afflictions. Eccl. 5. 14. 1. tim. 6. 7.

20 Then Iob stood vp, and [i] rent his clothes, & shaued his head, fell downe vpon the ground, worshipped, 21 And sayde, * Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I turne [k] thither againe: the Lorde gaue, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord.

[k] Whereby is meant the belly of the earth, which is the mother of vs all.

22 In all these things did Iob not offend, nor charged God foolishly.

The ii. Chapter.

9 Iobs wife tempted him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

1 AND on a day, the children of God came and stood before the Lord, and Satan came also among them, and stoode before the Lord.

[a] God alloweth Iobs innocencie, because he ceaseth not to feare God, although God tried him with plagues causelesse, at Satans request.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, From whēce commest thou? Satan answered the Lord, & said, I haue gone about the land, and walked through it.

3 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Haste thou not considered my seruant Iob? how there is none like vnto him in the earth, a perfect and a iust man? one that feareth God, & eschweth euill, and continueth still in his vprightnesse, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him [a] without cause.

[b] That is, as a man will be content with the losse of an other mans skinne, so he may spare his owne: so is Iob content to beare the losse of his children skins, liues, & bodies in patience, rather then to suffer his owne skin & body to be touched.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, [b] Skinne for skinne, yea, a man will giue all that euer he hath for his life.

5 But lay thine hande now vpon him, and touch touch his bone and his flesh, & he shall curse thee to thy face.

6 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Iob with sore biles, from the sole of his foote, vnto his crowne.

8 And he tooke a potshard to scrape him: and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 Then said his wife vnto him, Doest thou continue yet in thy perfectnesse? c curse God, and die.

c For death was appointed vnto him that blasphemed and cursed God, as Leuit. 24. 15. meaning that he should be soone rid out of his paine.

10 But he said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and d not receiue euill? In all these things did not Iob sinne with his lips.

d That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when he sendeth prosperitie.

11 Now when Iobs three friends heard of all ỹ trouble that came vpō him, they came euery one from his owne place, [namely] Eliphaz the Themanite, Bildad the Suhite, and Zophad the Naamathite: for they were agreed together, to come to shew their compassion vpon him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knew him not: then they cried, & wept, and euery one of them rent his clothes, and sprinckled dust vpon their heads ‡ in the aire.

‡ Hebr. Toward the heauen.

13 They sate them downe by him also vpon the ground seuen dayes and seuen nights, & none spake a word vnto him, for they sawe that his griefe was very great.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Iob complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth. 11 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

a That is, after the seuen dayes were fully finished.

1 AFter a this, opened Iob his mouth, and cursed his day.

2 And Iob answered, and said,

3 *Let the day perish wherein I was borne, b and the night in the which it was said, There is a man child conceiued.

Iere. 20. 14.

b He cursed not his dayes because he was wearie of it as one desperate, but rather wishing to be dissolued, least by further troubles he should be forced to offend God.

4 The same day be [turned to] darkenesse & not regarded of God from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let it be stained with darkenesse & the shadowe of death, let the [dimme] cloude fall vpon it, which may make it terrible, as a most bitter day.

6 Let the darke stormie ouercome that night, and let it not bee ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor counted in the number of the moneths.

7 Desolate be that night, and without gladnesse.

8 Let them that curse the day, and that bee readie to raise vp mourning, giue it also their curse.

‡ Heb. Twilight.

9 Let the starres of that ‡ night bee dimme though darkenesse of it, let it looke for light, but haue none, c neither let it see the dawning of the day:

c The Hebrew speach is, the eye liddes of the morning.

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorowe from myne eyes.

11 Why died I not in the birth? Why did not I perish as soone as I came out of the wombe?

12 Why set they me vpon their knees? Why gaue they me sucke with their brestes?

13 Then should I now haue lien still, I should haue slept, and bene at rest,

14 Like as the kings and ‡ lordes of the earth, which haue builded themselues ‡ speciall places:

‡ Heb. Counsellours. ‡ Heb. Desolate.

15 Or as the princes that haue had golde, and their houses full of siluer.

16 Or [why] was not I hid, as a thing borne out of time, [either] as yong children which neuer sawe the light?

17 There d must the wicked cease from their tyrannie, and there such as laboured valiantly, be at rest.

d That is, death is the end and helpe from the tirannie & wickednesse of them.

18 There the e prisoners rest together, they heare no more the voyce of the oppressour:

19 There are small and great, and the seruant [is] free from his master.

e Here Iob declareth the sore plagues he bare, counting himselfe in worse state the the vilest persons, & bound prisoners: of which cares, after opinion of the flesh, he accounteth death the onely end.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, & finde it not, though they search more for it, then for treasures:

22 Which reioyce exceedingly, and be glad when they can finde the graue,

23 From whom their endes are hyd, and concealed by God?

24 For my sighes come before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water:

25 For the thing that f I feared is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afrayde of, is happened vnto me.

f That is, aduersitie, which being in prosperitie, he feared.

26 Was I not happie? Had I not quietnesse? Was I not in rest? and nowe commeth such miserie vpon me.

The iiii. Chapter.

5 Eliphaz blameth Iob for impaciencie, 7 vniustice, and for the presumption of his owne righteousnesse.

1 AND Eliphaz the Themanite answered, and saide,

2 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be discontent? a But who can withhold himselfe from speaking?

a Because of thy sore affliction, and thy impaciencie.

3 Behold, thou hast bene an instructer of many, & hast strengthened the b weary hands.

b Meaning, thou hast holpen and comforted many in miserie, and canst thou not rule thy selfe now?

4 Thy wordes haue set vp him that was falling, thou hast refreshed the weake knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, & thou art troubled.

6 Is this thy feare, thy confidence, thy hope, and thy c vpright liuing?

c By this he gathereth that Iob was perfect before God, and feared God.

7 Consider, I pray thee, who euer perished being an innocent? or when were the godly destroyed?

& For

8 For as I haue proued by experience, they that plowe iniquitie, and sowe wretchednes, reape the same.
9 With the blast of God they perish, with the breath of his nostrels are they consumed away.
10 The roaring of the lion, and the voyce of the lion, and the teeth of lions whelpes are pulled out.
11 The [d] lion perisheth for lacke of pray, and the lions whelpes are scattered abroad.
12 But where as a thing was [c] hid from me, yet mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.
13 In the thoughts and visions of the night, when sleepe commeth on men, 14 Feare came vpon mee, and dread, which made all my bones to shake.
15 The winde passed by before my presence, & made the heares of my flesh to stand vp.
16 It stoode, and I knew not the face thereof, an image there was before mine eyes, and in the stilnesse heard I a voyce.
17 Shall man be more iust then God? or shall a man be purer then his maker?
18 Behold, he found not trueth in his seruãts, *and in his angels there was folly:
19 How much more in them that dwel in [f] houses of clay, and whose foundation is but dust, which shall bee consumed, as it were with a mothe?
20 They shal be smitten from the morning vnto the euening: yea they shall perish for euer, when no man regardeth them.
21 Is not their roialtie gone away with them? they shall die truely, and not in wisedome.

d That is, God will punish tyrants, which are compared to lions, although men neglecting their office, doe winke at them.
c Here Eliphaz sheweth the maner of diuine reuelation by the holy ghost, saying that which he wil now declare, is not humain reason, but as reuealed vnto him frõ God.
2. Pet. 2. 4.
f Meaning, mans body, which is nothing but dust and clay, 2. Cor. 5. 1.

The v. Chapter.

1 2 Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God, and the wicked.

1 CRie, I pray thee, if there be any that will answer thee, and [a] looke thou vpon any of the holy.
2 As for the foolish man, wrathfulnesse killeth him, and enuie slaieth the ignorant.
3 I haue seene my selfe when the foolish was deepe rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation.
4 His children were without prosperitie, and they were slaine in the gate, and there was no man to deliuer them.
5 His harueft was eaten of the hungry, and taken from among the thornes, and the thirstie drunke vp their labour.
6 It is not the earth that bringeth foorth iniquitie, neither commeth sorowe out of the ground:
7 But man is borne vnto labour, like as the sparkes flee vp.
8 But [b] I would alke counsell at the Lorde, and talke with God:
9 Which doth great things, and vnsearcheable, [and] maruels without number.

a He willeth Iob to consider the example of all that haue liued godly, whether any of them were plagued in such sort as he was.
b If I were in thy case, I would crane helpe of God, saith Eliphaz.

10 He giueth raine vpõ the earth, and powreth water vpon the streetes, 11 To set vp them that be of lowe degree, and that those which are in heauinesse may be exalted to saluation.
12 He destroyeth the deuises of the subtile, so that their hands are not able to performe that which they do enterprise.
13 *He compasseth the wise in their owne craftinesse, and maketh foolish the counsell of the wicked. 1. Cor. 3. 19.
14 They run into [c] darkenesse by faire day, and grope at the noone day, as in the night.
15 But hee deliuereth the poore from ỹ sword, from their threatnings, and from the violence of the mighty.
16 He is the hope of the poore, and the mouth of the wicked shalbe stopped.
17 Behold, *blessed is the man whom God correcteth, therefore refuse not thou the chastening of the almighty. Prou. 3. 11. iam. 1. 12. heb. 12. 5.
18 For he maketh a wound, and he healeth: he smiteth, and his hand maketh whole againe.
19 He shall deliuer thee in [d] sixe troubles, & in the seuenth there shall no euill come to thee.
20 In hunger hee shall saue thee from death, and when it is warre, from the power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and when destruction commeth, thou shalt not neede to feare.
22 In destruction and dearth thou shalt be merry, and shalt not be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
23 For the [e] stones of the land shall be confederate with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.
24 And thou shalt know that thy dwelling place shall be in rest, and thou shalt visite thy habitation, and shalt [f] not sinne.
25 Thou shalt see also that thy seede shall bee great, and thy posteritie as the grasse vpon the earth.
26 Thou shalt come also to thy graue in a full age, like a corne sheafe cut downe in due season.
27 Loe, this we our selues haue proued by experience, & euen thus it is: hearken thou to it also, that thou mayest take heede to thy selfe.

c That is, in things manifest and plaine, they want godly wisdom and grace to see.
d Alluding to the sixe dayes of Gods first worke, and the seuenth day he rested, meaning, that of al thy cares and troubles, God will deliuer thee, and bring thee to rest, as in the seuenth day.
e Shewing that when we haue God our friend, al creatures of his, will serue to our good.
f God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in al things, and not to be grieued.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous thẽ his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 Hee complaineth of his friends.

1 BUt Iob answered, and said,
2 O that my complaint were [a] truely weighed, and my punishment layd in the ballances together:
3 For now it would be heauier then the sand of the sea: & this is the cause that my words faile me.
4 For the arrowes of the almighty are vpon me, a Meaning, that his troubles are excessiue, & vnmeasurable, as the sandes of the sea.

me, the poison thereof hath drunke vp my spirite, and the terrible [b] feares of God are set against me.

b Declaring that he was not afflicted onely bodily, but also pricke inwardly in his minde.

5 Doeth ỹ wild asse roare when he hath grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

6 That which is vnsauerie, [c] shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in ỹ white of an egge?

c Can we beare tribulations that are vnsauerie and vnpleasant, seing we cannot away with things that are vnsauerie to the mouth?

7 The thinges that sometyme I might not away withall, are now my meate, for very sorowe.

8 O that I might haue my desire, and that God would graunt me the thing that I long for:

9 O that God would begin and smite me, that he would let his hand go and take me cleane away:

10 Then should I haue some comfort, yea, I would desire him in my paine that hee would not spare, [d] for I will not denie the wordes of the holy one.

d Meaning, that he had rather to die, thē to denie the wordes of the holy one, that is, thē through his impatience to distrust in gods promise.

11 For what power haue I to endure? and what is myne ende, ‡ that my soule might be patient?

‡ Hebr. If I should prolong my life.

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so that there is in me no helpe: & that my‖ substance is taken from me?

‖ Or, strength, wisedome, or lawe.

14 He that is in tribulation, ought to bee comforted of his neighbour: but the feare of the almightie is cleane away.

15 Mine owne brethren passe ouer by me, as the water brooke, and as the ouerflowing of waters which do hastily goe away.

16 Which are blackish by reason of the Ice, & wherein the snow is hid.

17 Which when they haue passed by, doe vanish: and when the heate commeth, they faile out of their place.

18 They depart from the course of their wonted chanel to other places, they run in vayne, and perish.

19 They that went to [e] Theman considered them, and they that went to Saba waited for them.

e The man was one of the twelue princes of Israel, and inhabited the South part of Arabia, of whom the region was called Thema, by the which men passe into the whole countreis of Arabia, thinking to finde water there to quēch their thirst, but they are deceiued.

20 But they were confounded in their hope, they came thither, and were ashamed.

21 Euen such truely are ye, now that ye see my miserie ye are afraid.

22 Did I desire you to bring vnto mee, or to giue me any of your substance?

23 To deliuer me from the enemies hand, or to saue me from the hand of the tyrants?

24 Teach me, and I will holde my tongue: and wherein I haue erred, cause me to vnderstand.

25 How strong are the wordes of trueth? and which of you can rebuke or reproue them?

26 Do ye imagine to reproue [f] words, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the winde?

f Doe you goe about by your taunts to make me deeme that I speake fondly, because I am in this miserable state?

27 Ye fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit to ouerthrow your owne friend.

28 And therefore be content, and [g] looke now vpon me, and I wil not lie before your face.

g To consider my cause whether I faine or no.

29 Turne I pray you, ‡ bee indifferent iudges: turne againe, [and ye shall see] myne vngiltinesse, whether there be any vnrighteousnesse in my tongue, or vaine words in my mouth.

‡ Heb. let there be none iniquitie.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth the shortnesse and miserie of mans life.

1 IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? are not his dayes also like the dayes of an [a] hired seruant?

a Meaning, that his cause is worse then either the hireling, or bondman.

2 For like as a bondseruant desireth ỹ shadow, and as an hireling would faine haue the reward of his worke:

3 Euen so haue I laboured whole moneths long in vaine, & many a carefull night haue I told.

4 When I laid me downe to sleepe, I sayd, O when shall I arise? and [b] measuring the euening, I am euen full with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

b Declaring his sore paine, in that euery houre was loathsome and grieuous vnto him.

5 My flesh [c] is clothed with wormes, and dust of the earth: my skinne is withered & become horrible.

c Thereby he sheweth why he was diseased, in that his disease was very strange and horrible.

6 My dayes passe ouer more speedily then a Weauers shuttle, and are spent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is but a winde, & that mine eie shall no more see pleasures:

8 Yea, and the eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: for yet thou [d] fasten thine eye vpon me, I come to nought.

d That is, fasten thy iudgement, which is so heauie that I cannot beare it.

9 The cloude is consumed & vanished away: so he that goeth downe to the graue [e] shall come no more vp, e Before the general iudgement.

10 Nor turne againe into his house, neither shal his place know him any more.

11 Therefore [f] I will not spare my mouth, but I will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitternesse of my minde.

f That is, seeing my life vanisheth as the wind, and that there is no returne after death, I will refreshe my selfe by expressing the griefes of my burdened minde.

12 Am I a sea or a whale fishe, that thou keepest me [so] in prison?

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort mee, I shall haue some refreshing by talking to my selfe vpon my couche:

14 Then fearest thou me [g] with dreames, and makest me so afraid through visions, g That is, I am in extreme afflictions continually night and day.

15 That my soule wisheth rather to perish and die, then my bones to remaine.

16 I am wearie, I shall not liue alway: [h] O spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

h Seeing I haue so little time to liue, giue me some rest.

17 What [i] is man that thou doest magnifie him? and that thou settest thy heart vpon him?

i As though Iob had said, there is no cause why thou shouldest esteeme man.

18 Thou visitest him early and euery day, euery moment doest thou trie him.

19 Why [k] goest thou not fro me, nor lettest me alone, so long till I may swalowe downe my spittle?

k Why doest thou not cease to punish me?

20 If haue offended, what shall I do vnto thee, O thou preseruer of men? Why hast thou set me [as a marke] against thee, so that I am a burden to my selfe?
21 Why doest thou not pardon my trespasses, and take away mine iniquitie? Behold, now must I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall not be.

The viii. Chapter.

Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

1 THen answered Bildad the Suhite, and said,
2 How long wilt thou talke of such things? how long shall the wordes of thy mouth be as a [a] mightie winde?
3 Doeth God peruert the thing that is lawfull? or doeth the almighty destroy the thing that is right?
4 For seeing that [b] thy sonnes sinned against him, did not hee send them into the place of their iniquitie?
5 If thou wouldest now resort vnto God betimes, & make thy praier to the almightie,
6 If thou wouldest liue a pure and godly life: should he not awake vp vnto thee immediately, and make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous?
7 Insomuch that wherein so euer thou haddest little afore, thou shouldest haue now great aboundance.
8 Enquire, I pray thee, [c] of the former age, & learch diligently among their fathers:
9 (*For we are but of [d] yesterday, and consider not that our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow.)
10 Shall not they shew thee, and tell thee, and vtter the words of their heart?
11 May a [e] rush growe without moistnesse? or, may the grasse growe without water?
12 No, but whilest it is now in his greenenesse, though it be not cut downe, yet withereth it before any other herbe:
13 So are the pathes of all that forget God, & the hypocrites hope shall come to nought.
14 His confidence shalbe destroyed, & his trust shalbe a [f] spiders webbe.
15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shal it not endure.
16 [But] the greene [tree] in the sunne shooteth foorth his branches in the garden.
17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folden about the house of stones.
18 If any plucke it from his place, and it deny, [g] saying, I haue not seene thee:
19 Behold, it will reioyce by this meanes, if it may grow in another mould.
20 Behold, God will not cast away a vertuous man, neither wil he ‖ helpe the vngodly.
21 Thy mouth shall be fill with laughing, and thy lips with gladnesse.
22 They also that hate thee, shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the vngodly shall come to nought.

The ix. Chapter.

Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

1 IOb answered, and said,
2 I know it is so of a trueth: for how may a man [compared] vnto God, be [a] iustified?
3 If he will argue with him, he cannot answer him one thing of a thousand.
4 He is wise in heart, & mightie in strength: who hath bene fierce against him, & hath prospered?
5 He [b] translateth the mountains or euer they be aware, it is hee that ouerthroweth them in his wrath.
6 He remooueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof shake withall.
7 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres as vnder a seale.
8 He himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the ‖ waues of the sea.
9 He maketh the waines of heauen, [c] the Oxen, the seuen starres, and the secret places of the South.
10 He doeth great things and vnsearcheable: yea, and wonders without number.
11 Loe, [d] when he goeth by me, I shall not see him, and when hee passeth, I shall not perceiue him.
12 If he be hastie to take away, who will make him [e] restore it? or who will say vnto him, What doest thou?
13 God will not withdrawe his anger, and the most mightie do stoupe vnder him.
14 How much lesse shall I answere him? or how should I finde out my wordes with him?
15 For though I were righteous, yet might I not giue him one worde againe, but meekely submit my selfe to him as my iudge.
16 If I had called vpon him, and hee had answered me, [f] yet would I not beleeue that he heard my voyce:
17 He troubleth mee so with the tempest, and woundeth me out of measure without a cause.
18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.
19 If [men will speake] of strength, loe, he is strong: if [men will speake] of iudgement, who shall be my pleader?
20 If I will [g] iustifie my selfe, myne owne mouth shall condemne me: if I wil be a perfect man, he shall prooue me a wicked doer.
21 [Though] I were perfect, yet I know not my soule, and am wearie of my life.
22 This is one point, and therefore I said, He destroyeth both the perfect and vngodly.

23 And a Ye declareth that those mens words which will diminish any thing from the iustice of God, are but as a puffe of winde that vanisheth away.

b And therefore are in stip plagued, but rather are more bound to God, because he hath giuen thee space to repent.
c Here Bildad confirmeth his sayings by the authoritie of the fathers. Psal. 143.4. d That is, lately borne.
e Meaning, that as a rushe without moisture cannot growe: so can not an euill man liue, with out repentāce quickened with Gods grace.
f Which is sunne to day, and to morow swept away: whereto is likened the house of the wicked, his riches, and his substance.
g That is, so that there remaineth nothing there to proone whether the tree had growen there or no.
‖ Or, take the vngodly by the hand.

a Iob answered to Eliphas and Bildads oratiõs, confessing mans iustice to be nothing, being compared to God.
b Here followeth the infinite power of God, whereby doth appeare mans weakenesse the more.
‖ Or, heighe.
c These be the names of certaine starres, declaring that the powers of heauen are at his commandement.
d Though his wonderous workes be before mine eies, yet am I not able to comprehend them. e Declaring that God doth all things iustly, and is vnsearchable in his doings, which not one can controll.
f A miserable case when mā is brought to such desperation, where as God himselfe saith, before they cry I will heare them.
g If I would stand in mine owne defence, yet God hath iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart & conscience.

23 And though he slay suddenly wᵗ the scourge, will he laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 As for the earth, it is giuen ouer into the hand of the wicked, and he shal [h] couer the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he, or who is he? [that can shew the contrarie?]

h That they cannot see to do iustice.

25 My dayes are more swift then a runner, they are gone, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed away as the ships that bee good vnder saile, and as the Eagle that flieth to the praye.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaining, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort my selfe:

28 Then am I afrayd of all my sorowes, for I know that thou wilt not iudge mee innocent.

i As if he had said, If I be wicked and shalbe iudged as the vngodly, why tariest thou so long to thrust me into the graue, why do I abide all this in vayne?

29 If I bee wicked, why then [i] labour I in vayne?

30 If I washe my selfe with snowe water, and make myne handes neuer so cleane at the well:

‖ Or, plunge me in the pit.

31 Yet shalt thou ‖ dip me in the mire, & [k] mine owne clothes shall defile me.

k Shewing our righteousnesse before God, to be nothing but as a defiled cloth.

32 For he that I must giue answere vnto, and with whom I goe to the lawe, is not a man as I am:

33 Neither is there any dayes man to lay his hand betweene vs.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, yea, let him make me no more afraid of him,

‖ Or, I haue nothing to make for me.

35 And then shall I answer him without any feare: but ‖ because I am not so, I hold mee still.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his frailenesse before God. 20 Hee desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A discription of death.

a I am more like to a dead man, then to one that liueth.

‖ Or, bitternesse.

1 My soule is [a] cut off though I liue, I will poure out my complaint against my selfe, and will speake out of the very ‖ heauinesse of my soule.

b That is, in thy secret iudgement do not lay things to my charge.

2 I will say vnto God, O [b] do not condemne me, but shew me wherefore thou contendest with me:

3 Thinkest thou it well done to oppresse me: to cast mee off, beyng the woorkes of thy handes: and to [c] maintayne the counsell of the vngodly?

c Wilt thou helpe the wicked, and leaue me destitute?

4 Hast thou fleshly eyes? or doest thou looke as a man looketh?

d That is, changeable, as though he would say, Art thou not the same God that thou wast wont to be, mercifull and good to Iob?

5 Or are thy dayes as the dayes of [d] man? and thy yeeres as mans yeeres?

6 That thou makest such inquisition for my wickednesse, and searchest out my sinne?

e That is, I cannot offend, by reason thou keepest me lowe in affliction.

7 Thou knowest [e] that I haue not done wickedly, and that none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thy handes haue made me, and fashioned me altogether round about, wilt thou then destroy me?

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou madest me as the mould of the earth, and shalt bring me into dust againe.

10 Hast thou not poured mee as it were milke, and turned me to cruds like cheese?

11 Thou hast couered me with skinne & flesh, & ioyned me together with bones and sinowes.

12 Thou hast graunted me life, and done mee good: and thy [f] visitation hath preserued my spirite.

f Thy fatherly care & prouidence whereby thou preseruest me.

13 Thou hast hidde these thinges in thine heart, [yet] I am sure that thou remembrest this thing.

14 If I did sinne, thou haddest an eie vnto me, and shalt not pronounce mee innocent from mine offence.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo is me therefore: if I haue done rightcously, yet [g] dare I not lift vp my head, so full am I of confusion, and see mine owne miserie.

g That is, I will walke in meeke humilitie.

16 And let it increase, hunt me as a lion, but thou wilt returne and shew thy selfe marueilous vpon me.

‖ Or, plagues.

17 Thou bringest fresh ‖ witnesse against me, & thy wrath increasest thou vpon me: diuers and many are the plagues that I am in.

18 Wherefore hast thou brought me out of the wombe? O that I had perished, and that no eye had seene me, 19 And that I were as though I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes few? Let him then leaue off from me, & let me alone, that I may comfort my selfe a litle,

21 Before I goe [thither from whence] I shal not turne againe, euen to the land of darkenesse and shadow of death:

22 Yea a land as darke as darkenesse it selfe, & into the shadow of death where is [k] none order, but the light [is there] as darkenesse.

k That is, no differences betweene light and darkenes.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Iob is vniustly blamed of Sophar. 7 The maiestie of God cannot be searched. 14 God is mercifull to the repentant. 18 The godly shall liue in safetie.

1 Then answered Sophar the Naamathite, and sayd,

2 Should not [he that maketh] many wordes be answered? Should he that [a] babbleth much be commended therein?

a For not he that speaketh much, but he that speaketh truely, speaketh well.

3 Should thy lies make mē hold their peace? and when thou mockest [others] shal no man make thee ashamed?

b Here Sophar lapeth to Iobs charge wordes that he spake.

4 For thou hast said, [b] my doctrine is pure, & I am cleane in thine eyes.

c Sophar goeth about to proue Iob to be iustly plagued.

5 But O [c] that God would speake, and open his lips against thee,

6 That he might shewe thee the [d] secretes of wisedome, how thou hast [deserued] double, according to right: Knowe therefore that d Which is, not to stand in iustifying thy selfe.

God

God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.
7 Art thou able to finde out [the secretes of] God? Or wilt thou attaine to the perfectnesse of the almightie?
e If man be not able to comprehend the heigth of heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, and the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures, how can he attaine to the perfect knowledge of the creator?
8 He is e higher then heauen, what art thou able to doe? deeper then the hell, how wilt thou then know him?
9 The measure of him is longer then ỹ earth, and broader then the sea.
10 Though he turne all things vpside downe, close them in, and gather them together, who wil turne him from his purpose?
11 For hee it is that knoweth vayne men, hee seeth their wickednes also, should he not then consider it?
12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man [new] borne, is like a wild asses colt.
13 If thou preparedst thine heart, and liftedst vp thine hands toward him:
14 If thou wouldest put away the wickednes which thou hast in hand, so that no vngodlinesse dwell in thy house:
f Such are the quiet mindes of those that truely repent. ‖ Or, spot.
15 Then mightest thou f lift vp thy face without ‖ shame, and then shouldest thou be sure, and haue no neede to feare.
16 Then shouldest thou forget thy miserie, and thinke no more vpon it then vpon the waters which passeth by.
‖ Or, age.
17 Then should thy ‖ life bee as clearе as the noone day, thou shouldest shine foorth, and be as the morning.
18 Then mightest thou be bold, because there is hope, and take thy rest quietly, as compassed with a trench.
Leui. 26. 5.
19 * Then mightest thou lie downe, and none to make thee afraid, yea, many one should make suite vnto thee.
20 As for the eies of the vngodly, they shall faile, and they shall not escape, and their hope [shalbe] sorow of minde.

The xii. Chapter.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how God changeth the course of things.

1 SO Iob answered, and said,
2 Then no doubt ye are the people, and a wisedome shall perish with you.
a As though he should say, your wisdome exceedeth all other, and when ye die, all wisedome should perish with you.
3 But I haue ‡ vnderstanding as well as ye, & am not inferiour to you: yea, who knoweth not these things?
‡ An heart. Prou. 14. 1.
4 * I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.
b That is, as he that despiseth the light in the night season may soone stumble, so they that refuse the afflicted which shine before Gods face, do get to themselues his wrath to their peril. c The Hebrewes read, whom God hath brought in with his hand.
5 Being as a light b despised in the heartes of the rich, and as one readie to fall.
6 The houses of robbers are in wealth & prosperitie, and they that maliciously meddle against god, dwel without care in those things that God hath c giuen richly with his hand.
7 Aske the cattell, d and they shall enforme thee: the foules of the aire, and they shall tell thee.
d For euen the cattell, and all creatures doe declare Gods power, as it is said, The heauens declare the glory of God.
8 Speake to the earth, and it shall shew thee: or to the fishes of the sea, and they shall certifie thee.
9 What is he, but he knoweth that the hand of the Lord made all these?
10 In whose hand is the f soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all ‖ mankind?
f For God doth not onely create his creatures, but also nourisheth, cherisheth, and preserueth them still. ‖ Or, flesh.
11 Doeth not the eares discerne the wordes? and the mouth taste the meate?
12 Among old persons there is wisedome, and in age is vnderstanding.
13 Yea, with God is wisedome and strength, counsell, and vnderstanding.
14 * Behold, if he g breake downe a thing, who can set it vp againe? if he shut a thing, who will open it?
Esa. 22. 22. apoc. 3. 7.
g Here Iob prooueth that nothing is comparable to Gods power, or can preuaile against it.
15 Behold, if he withhold the waters, they drie vp: if he let them go, they destroy the earth.
16 With him is strength and wisedome, both the deceiuer and he that is deceiued are h his.
h He sheweth that nothing is done in this world, without Gods will & ordinance.
17 He carieth away the wise men as it were a spoile, and maketh the iudges fooles.
18 He looseth the rule of kings, & girdeth their loines with a bond.
19 He leadeth away the great men into captiuitie, & turneth the mightie vpside downe.
20 He stoppeth the mouth of them that speake truth, and disappointeth the aged of their vnderstanding.
21 He poureth contempt vpon princes, & maketh the strength of the mightie weake.
22 Looke what lieth hid in darkenes, he declareth it openly, and the very shadowe of death bringeth he to light.
23 He encreaseth the people, & destroieth them, he maketh them to multiplie, and diminisheth them.
24 He taketh away the heart of them that bee heades of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.
25 They grope in the darke without light, and hee maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

The xiii. Chapter.

20 Iob prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

1 LOe, a all [this] haue I seene with myne eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstand it.
a Meaning, I know the power of God as well as you.
2 What ye know, that same do I know also, neither am I inferior vnto you.
b That is, you are vnmeete for my disease, which seeke not ỹ medicine to cure it, but rather to encrease it, with your lies and tales to trouble me.
3 Neuertheless, I talke with the almightie, and my desire is to commune with God.
4 As for you, ye are workmaisters of lies, and b vnprofitable physitions altogether.
5 Would God ye kept your tongue, for then might might ye be taken for wiſe men.

6 Nowe heare my reaſoning, and ponder the argument of my lippes.

c Marke what I ſhall ſay againſt you, for I blame you not in that ye declare Gods power, but becauſe you faine a carnall and humaine iuſtice to be in him: and ſo of true things ye conclud lies.

7 Will you ſpeake [c] wickedly for Gods [defence,] and talke deceitefully for his [cauſe?]

8 Will yee accept the perſon of him? or will ye contende for God?

9 Shall that helpe you when hee calleth you to reckoning? or as one man mocketh another, do ye ſo mocke him?

10 He ſhall ſurely reproue you, if ye do ſecretly accept any perſon.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? ſhall not his feare fall vpon you?

d Your fame ſhall come to nothing.

12 Your [d] remembrance is like vnto duſt, and your bodyes like the clay.

13 Holde your tongues before mee, that I may ſpeake, and let come on mee what will.

e That is, ſorrow and torment my ſelfe as though I ſhoulde rent and teare my fleſh with teethe.

f That is, to ſet my life in dangers.

14 Wherefore doe I [e] teare my fleſh with my teeth, and [f] put my ſoule in mine handes?

15 Loe, though hee ſlay me, yet will I truſt in him: but I will reproue mine owne wayes in his ſight.

g Here it appeareth that Iobs truſt and hope in God was not al periſhed, diſcharging him ſelfe of hypocriſie, wherewith they charged him.

16 He ſhall be my ſaluation: for there may no [g] hypocrite come before him.

17 Heare diligently my words, and ponder my ſayings with your eares.

18 Beholde, nowe haue I prepared my iudgement, and knowe that I ſhall be found [h] righteous.

h That is, not condemned for my ſinnes, as you doe reaſon.

19 What is he that will [i] go to lawe with me? if I now hold my tongue, I die.

20 Neuertheleſſe, do not theſe two thinges vnto me, and then will I not hide my ſelfe from thee:

i To proue that God plagueth me for mine offences.

21 Withdrawe thine hande farre from mee, and let not the fearefull dread of thee make me afraide.

22 Then call, and I will anſwere: or let mee ſpeake, and giue thou me an anſwere.

23 Howe many are my miſdeedes and ſinnes? let mee knowe my tranſgreſſions and offences.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face, and holdeſt me for thy enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro, and wilt thou purſue the drie ſtubble?

26 For thou layeſt ſharply to my charge, and puniſheſt me for the ſinnes of my youth.

k Thou makeſt me thy priſoner, and doeſt ſo oppreſſe me, that I can not ſtirre hand nor foote.

27 Thou putteſt my feete alſo in the [k] ſtockes, and lookeſt narowly vnto all my pathes, and makeſt the print thereof in the heeles of my feete:

28 And I as a rotten thing do conſume away, as a garment that is moth eaten.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 Iob deſcribeth the ſhorteneſſe and miſerie of the life of man. 14 Hope ſuſteineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

MAN that is borne of a woman hath but a ſhort time to liue, and is full of miſerie.

2 Hee commeth vp, and is cut downe [a] like a floure: he fleeth as it were a ſhadowe, and continueth not.

a This expreſſeth mans ſhortneſſe of life, and his vnſtableneſſe thereof, being compared to a flowre, to a ſhadowe, and to the graſſe in the fielde.

3 Doeſt thou [b] open thine eyes vpon ſuch one, and bringeſt me into thy iudgement?

b Meaning, that ſeeing man is ſo fraile, he ſhoulde not handle him ſo extremely.

4 Who can make it cleane that commeth of an vncleane thing? no body.

5 The dayes of man ſurely are determined, the number of his moneths are knowen onely vnto thee, thou haſt appointed him his boundes which he can not go beyond.

6 Goe from him, that hee may reſt, vntill his day [c] come which hee looketh for, like as an hyreling doeth.

c That is, death which he deſtroth as the hireling waiteth in the end of his labour to receiue his wages.

7 For if a tree be cut down, there is ſome hope yet that it will ſprowte, and ſhoote foorth the branches againe,

8 Though the roote of it be waxen olde in the earth, and the ſtocke thereof bee dead in the ground:

9 Yet when it getteth the ſent of water, it wil bud & bring forth boughs, like as a tree that is planted.

d Iob ſaieth not this as hauing no hope of immortalitie, but as one ſore tormented.

10 [d] But as for man, when hee is dead, periſhed, and conſumed away, what becommeth of him?

11 As the waters paſſe from the ſea, and as the flood decayeth and drieth vp:

12 So man after hee is a ſleepe riſeth not, hee ſhall not wake till the heauens bee no more, nor riſe out of his ſleepe.

13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the graue, and keepe mee ſecrete, vntill thy wrath were paſt, and to appoynt mee a time wherein thou mighteſt remember me.

14 May a dead man liue againe? All the dayes of my life will I waite ſtill, till my changing ſhall come.

15 Thou ſhalt [e] call [me] and I ſhall anſwere thee, ‖ deſpiſe not thou the worke of thine owne hands.

e Thou plagueſt me now, yet when thou ſhalt call me by an other day, I ſhall anſwere thee, for thou art merciful.

‖ Or, thou ſhalt loue.

16 For nowe thou [f] numbreſt all my goinges, and giueſt no delay vnto my ſinne.

f That is, thou haſt all my deedes numbred, ſparing me therefore.

17 Mine iniquitie is ſealed vp as it were in a [g] bagge, and thou addeſt [puniſhment] vnto my wickedneſſe.

g Thou haſt put all my ſinne in ſure, and ſuffereſt none vnpuniſhed.

18 The mountaines fall away at the laſt, the rockes are remoued out of their place.

19 The waters pearſe through the very ſtones by litle and litle, the floods waſh away the gruel and earth: ſo ſhalt thou deſtroy the hope of man.

20 Thou preuayleſt ſtill againſt him, ſo that hee paſſeth away: thou changeſt his ‖ eſtate, and putteſt him from thee.

‖ Or, face.

21 And whether his children come to worſhip or no, he can not tell: & if they be men of lowe degree, he knoweth not.

h While he liueth.

22 But while his h flesh is vpon him, it must haue sorowe: and his soule shall mourne within him.

The xv. Chapter.

Eliphas blameth Iob, because hee chalengeth wisedome and pureneſſe to himselfe.

1 THen answered Eliphas the Themanite, and sayde,

2 Shal a wise mans answere be as the winde, and fill his belly with ỹ a winde of the East?

a Wordes to no effect spoken, are likened to ỹ East winde, which drieth vp the moysture as soone as it falleth: so foolish words vainely perish as soone as they be spoken.

3 Shall hee reproue with a worde that is nothing worth, and speake the things which can do no good?

4 Surely thou hast cast off feare, and refrayneſt prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth setteth forth thine owne iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea thine owne lips shape an answere against thee.

b That is, art thou so ancient that all wisedome is in thy head?

7 b Art thou ỹ first man that euer was borne? or wast thou made before the hils?

8 Hast thou heard the secrete counsel of God? and doest thou restrayne wisedome to thy selfe?

9 What knowest thou that wee knowe not? and what vnderstandest thou, but wee can the same?

Eccle.18.12.

10 *With vs are both olde and aged men, yea, such as haue liued longer then thy father.

11 Thinkest thou it a small thing of the consolations of GOD? ‖ with thee is a lying worde.

‖Or, is there any secrete thing within thee?

c As one standing in thine owne conceite.

12 Why doeth thine c heart so bewitche thee? and wherefore winckest thou with thine eyes, d Or rather, answering him at thy pleasure: the Hebrewe is, answering him in thy spirite.

13 That thy minde is so d puft vp against God, and lettest such wordes goe out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he which is borne of a woman, whereby hee might be righteous?

‖Or, among his saintes there is none without fault.

15 Behold, he doeth not ‖ trust his saintes, yea the heauens are not cleane in his sight:

e Which hath a desire to sinne as he that is thirstie to drinke.

16 Howe much more then an abominable and vile man, which e drinketh wickednesse like water.

f Here he repeateth certaine places of the Leuiticall lawe for his proofe, which in deede the fathers so spake, but did not vnderstand them, as Eliphaz did.

17 I will tell thee, heare me, and I will shewe thee that I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue tolde, and haue not hid that which they receiued from their fathers:

19 Unto whom alone the earth was giuen, and no stranger went among them.

g He shall be alwayes in feare day and night, not knowing any thing certaine.

20 The f vngodly sorroweth all the dayes of his life, as it were a woman with childe, and the g number of a tyrantes yeeres are vnknowen.

21 A fearefull sound is [euer] in his eares, and when he is in peace, the destroyer shall come vpon him.

h That is, out of the troubles and feares which fall vpon him.

22 He beleeueth neuer to bee deliuered h out of darkenesse: for the sworde is alwayes before his eyes.

23 Hee wandreth abroade for bread where it is, knowing that the day of darkenesse is ready at his hand.

24 Trouble and anguish wil make him afraide, they shal preuaile against him, as a king with his armie.

25 For he hath stretched out his hande against God, and armed him selfe against the almightie.

26 He runneth proudely vpon him, and with a stiffe necke fighteth he against him.

i That is, abundance of riches hath made him so proude, that he forgetteth God.

27 Where as hee i coūereth his face with fatnesse, and maketh his body well liking.

k That is, he shall haue no certaine and sure place to dwell in.

28 Therefore shall his dwelling bee k in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes of stones.

29 He shall not be riche, neyther shall his substance continue, neyther shall the prosperitie thereof be prolonged vpon the earth.

l That is, such blessing as God gaue him, shall be turned into cursing.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenesse, the flame l shall dry vp his branches, with the blast of the mouth [of God] shall he be taken away.

31 He beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie, and yet vanitie shalbe his recompence.

32 He shall perish afore his time be worne out, and his m branche shal not be greene.

m That is, his progenie or offspring shall not continue.

33 He shalbe plucked off as an vntimely grape from the vine, and shall let his flowre fall as the Oliue doeth.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and the fire shall consume the houses of such as are greedy to receiue giftes.

Esai.59.4 psalm. 7.15.

35 *He conceaueth trauayle, and beareth vanitie, and their belly bringeth forth deceite.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Iob moued by ỹ importunacie of his friends, 7 complaineth in what extremitie he is, 19 and taketh God to witnesse of his innocencie.

1 IOb answered, and sayde,

2 I haue oft times heard such thinges: a miserable giuers of comfort are ye, all the sort of you.

a For they more bite him with cruell wordes, then comfort him. ‖Or, wordes of winde.

3 ‖Shall not vayne wordes come yet to an ende? or what maketh thee bolde so to answere?

4 I coulde speake as yee doe also: but woulde God that your b soule were in my soules steade, then coulde I frame wordes for you, and shake my head at you:

b Wouldest ỹe suffered that which I suffer.

5 I woulde strengthen you with my mouth, and releaſe your [payne] with the talking of my lippes.

6 For all my wordes my sorow will not ceaſe: and c though I holde my tongue, what am I eased?

c For God will haue his pleasure ouer me.

7 But now he hath made me wearie, thou hast made desolate all [d] my congregation.

d My household, children, & substance.

8 And that thou [e] hast filled mee with wrinckles, my flesh is recorde, and my leannesse riseth vp against me, and beareth witnes thereof in my face.

e Not by reason of yeares, but by reason of my griefe, shewing his extreme paynes.

9 His wrath hath torne [me,] he hateth mee, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemie looketh fiercely vpon me with his eies.

10 They haue opened their mouthes wide vpon mee, and [f] smitten mee vpon the cheeke despitefully, they gather them selues together against me.

f That is, despitefully hādled me, which striking on the cheeke signifieth.

11 God hath shut me vp with the vngodly, and deliuered me [g] into the handes of the wicked.

g To proue him, and not to destroy him.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: hee hath taken mee by the necke, hee hath all to shaken me, and set mee as a marke for him selfe.

h His plagues and afflictions wherewith he vexeth me. ‖Or, gall.

13 His [h] archers compasse me rounde about, he woundeth my reines, and doeth not spare, my ‖ bowels hath he [i] powred vpon the ground.

i God hath not onely stricken outwardly my body & all my substance, but also touched my inward parts.

14 He hath giuē me one wound vpon another, and is fallen vpon me like a gyant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skinne, and wallowed my ‡ head in the dust.

‡Heb. horne.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and in mine eyes is the shadowe of death.

17 Howbeit there is no wickednes in my hands, but my prayer is cleane.

18 O earth couer not thou my blood, & let my crying finde no roome.

19 For loe, my witnes is in heauen, and he that knoweth me is in the height.

20 My friends gaue me many words to scorne, and mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 O that a body might pleade with God, as one man doeth with another.

22 Yet the number of my yeres is come, & the way that I must go is at hande, from whence I shall not turne againe.

The xvii. Chapter.

1 Iob sayeth that hee consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friendes to repentance, 13 shewing that hee looketh but for death.

1 My breath is corrupt, my dayes are shortened, I am harde at deathes doore.

a In all Iobs extreme afflictions, yet this one made the rest most grieuous, þ they that shoulde chearefully comfort him, dyd cruelly bere him and mocke him. ‖Or, mockers.

2 a ‖ Frowarde men are with me, and mine eye must continue in the bitternesse of them.

b That is, make promise with me O God, that I may talke with thee, for I will not reason with them, for they are fooles.

3 O deliuer me, and [b] looke out one to bee my suretie in thy sight: What is he that knoweth who will promise for me?

4 For thou hast withholden their heartes [c] frō vnderstanding, therefore shalt thou not set [them] vp on high.

c That they can not vnderstande the cause of my punishment: but iudge me wicked, not knowing thy wisedome, whereby thou doest afflict thy children.

5 He that speaketh flatterie to his friende, the eyes of his children shall fayle.

6 Hee hath made me a byworde of the people, where as afore I was their ‖ ioy. ‖Or, tabret.

7 Mine eye is dimme for very heauinesse, and all my strength is like a shadowe.

8 Vertuous men therefore shall well consider this, and the innocent shall take part against the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also will [d] keepe his way, & he that hath cleane hands will euer bee stronger and stronger.

d Though the godly see themselues afflicted of God as the wicked are, yet they despaire not, knowing that the iust also are punished for the profit of them.

10 As for al you, turne you, and ‖ get you hence, [I pray you,] seeing I can not find one wise man among you. ‖Or, come nowe

11 My dayes are past, and my counsayles and thoughtes of my heart are vanished away, 12 Changing the night into day, and the light approching into darkenesse.

13 Though I tary neuer so much, yet the graue is my house, and I haue made my bed in the darke.

14 I sayde to corruption, Thou art my father: and to the wormes, You are my mother, and my sister.

15 [e] Where is then now my hope? or who hath considered the thing that I looke for? [My hope] shall goe downe with mee into the pit, and lie with me in the dust.

e Seeing I am but corruption.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 Bildad rehearseth the paynes of the vnfaithfull & wicked.

1 Then answered Bildad the Suhite, and sayde,

2 When will ye make an ende of your words? Marke well, and then we will speake.

a That is, shal God change þ accustomed order of his operation for thee: and not afflict the wicked as his order is?

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed so vile in your sight?

4 He destroyeth himselfe with his anger: shall the earth bee forsaken, or any stone remoued out of his place [a] because of thee?

5 Yea the light of the vngodly shalbe put out, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.

6 The [b] light shalbe darke in his dwelling, & his candle shalbe put out with him.

b His wicked doome shall perish, and from this place vnto the ende of the Chapter, Bildad goeth about to proue Iob wicked, because God plagueth him as he doeth the wicked man.

7 The steppes of his strength shall be restrayned, and his owne counsayle shall cast him downe:

8 For his feete are taken [as it were] in the net: and he walketh vpon the snares.

9 The grinne shall take him by the heele, and the thirstie of blood shall catch him.

10 The snare is layde for him in the ground, & a pitfall in the way.

11 Fearefulnesse shall make him afrayde on euery side, and shall driue him to his feete.

12 [c] Hunger shalbe his strength, and destructiō shalbe ready at his side.

c That is, he shall not attaine to that which he desireth, for all his power and might shalbe taken away by hunger.

13 Hee shall [d] eate the strength of his owne d Meaning, the vngodly shalbe the destruction of þ strength of his owne skinne, that is, of his children and posteritie.

skinne, euen the first borne of death shall eate his strength.

14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall bring him to the [e] king of feare.

e Which is, death, the most fearefull and terrible of all things.

15 [Other men] shal dwell in his house, and it shall be none of his, and brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shall be dryed vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streete.

f From prosperitie to aduersitie.

18 They shall driue him from the [f] light into darkenesse, and chase him cleane out of the worlde.

‖Or, sonne, nor nephewe.

19 He shal neither haue ‖ childrē nor kinsfolkes among his people, no nor any posteritie in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him shalbe astonied at [g] his day, and ‖ they that go before shalbe afraide.

g That is, at his fall. ‖Or, elders, or, ancients.

21 Such are nowe ỹ dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Iob reproueth his friendes, 15 and reciteth his miseries and grieuous paynes. 25 He assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

1 IOb answered, and sayde,

2 Howe long will ye vexe my soule, & trouble me with words?

3 Lo, ten times haue ye reproched me, and are not ashamed, but haue laughed mee to scorne.

4 Be it that I haue erred in deede, mine errour then remaineth with my [a] selfe.

a As though he would say, what haue you to do with ỹ, the fault is mine, and not yours.

5 But if yee will aduance your selues against me, and rebuke me for the shame that is come vpon me:

6 Know this then, that it is [b] God which hath ouerthrowē me, and hath compassed me with his net.

b He declareth that his affliction commeth of God, though he be not able to sée the cause in him selfe.

7 If I complayne of the violence that is done vnto me, I can not bee heard: & if I cry, there is no sentence giuen with me.

8 Hee hath hedged vp my way that [c] I can not passe, and he hath set darkenesse in my pathes.

c That is, I can not go frō these mp afflictions.

9 Hee hath spoyled me [d] of mine honour, and [e] taken the crowne away from my head.

d That is, of mp riches and substance.

e That is, destroyed mp children: for the crowne of the aged are children children, as it is in ỹ prouerbs.

10 He hath destroyed mee on euery side, and I am ‖ gone: my hope hath he taken away, as a tree pluckt vp by the roote.

‖Or, vndone.

11 His wrath is kindled against mee, he taketh me as though I were his enemie.

12 His [f] men of warre come together, which made their way ouer mee, and besieged my dwelling round about.

f That is, his great plagues layde on me.

13 Hee hath put my brethren farre away from mee, and mine acquaintance are also become strangers vnto me.

14 Mine owne kinsfolkes haue forsaken mee: and my best acquaynted haue forgotten me.

15 ‖ The seruantes and maidens of mine owne house tooke me for a stranger, & I am become as an aliant in their sight.

‖Or, they that dwelt with me.

16 I called my seruant, and hee gaue mee no answere: [no though] I prayed him with my mouth.

17 Mine owne wife might not abide my breath, [though] I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.

18 Yea, the ‖ yong men despised me, and when I rose, they spake euill vpon me.

‖Or, folkes.

19 All my most familiars abhorred me: and they whom I loued best, are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaueth to my skinne, and to my flesh, onely there is left mee the skinne about my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon me, haue pitie vpon me, O ye my friendes, for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye persecute me as God [doeth,] and are not satisfied with my flesh?

g Some reade, that he shall stande last on the earth, meaning, ỹ Christ shall come at the latter ende vnto iudgement, and raise vp them that lye in the dust. ‖Or, though after my skin the wormes destroy this body, yet shall I &c.

23 O that my wordes were nowe written, O that they were put in a booke, 24 And grauen with an iron penne in lead, or in stone, to continue.

25 For I am sure that my redeemer liueth, and that I shall [g] rise out of the earth in the latter day,

26 And ‖ shall be couered againe with my skin, and shall see God in my flesh:

h That is, the iudgement of God, the reuenger of iniquitie: meaning, though their wicked endeuour tooke place nowe, yet God will hereafter consider him, and be reuenged of the euill.

27 Whome I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall beholde, and none other for mee: this my hope is layde vp in my bosome.

28 But yee sayde, Why is he persecuted? and there was a deepe matter in me.

29 [h] But beware of the sword: for the sword will be auenged of wickednes, & be sure that there is a iudgement.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Sophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shal haue a short ende, 22 though for a time they florish.

1 THen answered Sophar the Naamathite, and sayde,

2 For the same cause do [a] my thoughts compell mee to answere, and therefore make haste.

a Because Iob bragged of his innocencie (as they thought) Sophar enterrupted his talke, as though he boasted in vaine, for that God accepteth none but the repentant sinner.

3 I haue [sufficiently] heard the [b] checking of my reproofe, therefore the spirite of my vnderstanding causeth me to answere.

b For two causes Sophar spake: one, because Iob in answering toucheth him: and for that he deemed his knowledge sufficient to answere againe.

4 Knowest thou not this of olde, & since God placed man vpon earth,

5 [c] That the gladnesse of the vngodly hath bene short, and that the ioy of hypocrites continued but the twinckling of an eye?

c Sophar euen to the ende of this Chapter, alleageth true sentences: but he erreth, in that hee thought Iob for impietie and hypocrisie to be plagued.

6 Though he be magnified vp to the heauen, so that his head reacheth vnto the cloudes:

7 Yet he perisheth for euer like his doung, [in so much] that they which haue seene him, shal say, Where is he?
8 Hee shall vanish as a dreame, so that hee can no more bee founde, and shall passe away as a vision in the night.
9 [So that] the eye which sawe him before, shall haue no more sight of him, and his place ‖ knowe him no more. ‖Or, see.
10 His children shall please the poore, and his hands shall restore their goods.
11 From his youth his bones are ful of sinnes, which shall lye downe with him in the ‖ earth. ‖Or, dust.
12 Whē wickednes was sweete in his mouth, he hid it vnder his tongue.
13 That hee fauoured, that woulde hee not forsake, but kept it close in his throte.
14 The bread that hee did eate, is turned to the poyson of serpents within his body.
15 The riches that hee deuoured shall hee parbreake againe: for God shall drawe them out of his belly.
16 He shall sucke the gall of serpentes, and the adders tongue shall slay him:
17 So that hee shall no more see the riuers and brookes of hony and butter.
18 The thing he hath laboured for, shall hee restore, and [d] shall not eate of it: great trauaile shall hee make for riches, but hee shall not enioy them,
19 Because he hath oppressed the poore, and not helped them: houses hath hee spoyled, and not builded them.
20 * Because hee coulde not perceiue when his belly was well, through his greedy desire, he shall not escape.
21 There [c] shall none of his meate be left, therefore shall no man looke for his goods.
22 When he had plenteousnesse of euery thing, yet was he poore, though he was helped on euery side.
23 And it shal come to passe, that wherewith he purposed to fill his belly, God shall powre the furie of his wrath thereon, and shall cause his indignation to reigne vpon him, and vpon his meate.
24 He shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bowe of steele shall strike him through.
25 The sword is drawen out, & goeth through the body, and glistereth of his gal: so feare shal come vpon him.
26 All darkenesse shalbe hid in their secrete places, [f] an vnkindeled fire shall consume him: & looke what remaineth in his house, it shall bee destroyed.
27 The heauen shall [g] declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall take part against him.
28 The substance that he hath in his house shal be taken away, and perish in the day of the Lords wrath.
29 This is the portion that the wicked man shall haue of God, and the heritage [that hee may looke for] of GOD, because of [h] his words. h Spoken against God.

d For euill gotten goods God wil soone take away, and restore to them from whom they were craftily spoyled and rauened. Eccle. 5. 12.

e That is, his heires and executours shall gape in vaine.

f That is, fire from heauen: & here Sophar toucheth Iob, for that his friends & children were consumed by fire.

g There is nothing hid that shall not bee opened, and the earth shall eyther be vnfruitfull, or bring forth things hurtfull to the wicked.

The xxi. Chapter.

1 Iob declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15 in so much that they blaspheme God.

1 IOb answered, and sayd,
2 HEare diligently my wordes, and that shalbe in steade of your consolations.
3 Suffer me that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
4 Is it with [a] man that I make this disputation? which if it were so, should not my spirit then be in sore trouble?
5 Marke mee, and bee abashed, and [b] lay your hand vpon your mouth.
6 For when I consider, I am afrayde, and my flesh is smitten with feare.
7 * Wherefore doe wicked men liue, come to their olde age, and encrease in riches? Ierem. 12. 1.
8 Their ‖ children liue in their sight, and their generation before their eyes. ‖Or, seede.
9 Their houses are safe from all feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Their bullocke gendereth, and that not out of time, their cow calueth, and is not vnfruitfull.
11 They sende forth their children by flockes, and their sonnes daunce.
12 They beare with them tabrets and harpes, and reioyce in the sounde of the instrumentes of musicke.
13 They spend their dayes in wealthinesse, but [c] suddenly they go downe to the graue.
14 They say also vnto God, [d] Go from vs, we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.
15 Who is the almightie, that we should serue him? and what profit shoulde wee haue if we should pray vnto him?
16 Loe, there is vtterly no goodnesse in their hand, therefore will I not haue to do with the counsell of the vngodly.
17 Howe oft shall the [e] candle of the wicked be put out, and their destruction come vpon them? O what sorowe shall God giue them for their part in his wrath?
18 Yea, they shalbe euen as hay before ỹ winde, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.
19 God will lay vp the sorowe of the [father] for his children: and when he rewardeth him, he shall knowe it.
20 Their owne miserie shal they see with their eyes, and drinke of the fearefull wrath of the almightie.
21 For what careth hee for his house after his death, when the [f] number of his moneths is cut short?
22 Seeing God hath the highest power of all, who can teache him any knowledge?

a As though he shoulde say, my cause is before God who I can not escape, and not before you.

b That is, kepe silence.

c Not being plagued with long sickness.

d They say this, not with tongue, but by the wickednes and impietie of their heare, they seeme so to say.

e That is, the great felicitie and wealth.

f For the wicked die vnwares, and neuer endure the course of their dayes to the ende.

g Meaning ỹ wicked: where Iob saith, that it is not for man to reason with God, why he doeth thus plague the iust, and prosper the vniust, for who can teach God wisedome?

23 g One dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie, 24 His breastes are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.
25 Another dieth in the h bitternes of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shal sleepe both alike in the earth, and the wormes shall couer them.
27 Behold, i I knowe what ye thinke, yea, and the subtiltie that ye imagine against me.
28 For yee saye, k Where is the princes palace, and where is the dwelling of the vngodly?
29 Haue ye not asked thē that go by the way? doubtlesse ye can not denie their tokens, 30 That the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and ỹ vngodly shalbe brought forth to the day of wrath?
31 l Who dare declare his way to his face? who will reward him for that he doeth?
32 Yet shall hee bee brought to his graue, and dwell among the heape [of the dead.]
33 Then shall the m slimie valley bee sweete vnto him, all men also must followe him, as there are innumerable gone before him.
34 Howe vaine then is the comfort that ye giue me, seeing falshoode remaineth in all your answeres?

h And this he meaneth by ỹ godly.

i Howe yee think me wicked, because I am plagued.

k Thus they call Iobs house by scorning & mocking at it.

l For no man can iudge by the wicked mens prosperitie what shal become of thē.

m That is, he shalbe content with a homely house of claye, which before was not content with a kingly palace.

The xxii. Chapter.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse, 13 and that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

a The whole course of this Chapter is, ỹ mā compared to God, is vniust, and therefore ought to repent.

1 Then a Eliphaz the Themanite gaue answere, and sayde,
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as hee that is wise may bee profitable to him selfe?
3 Is it any aduantage to ỹ almightie, that thou art righteous? or shall it profit him that thou makest thy wayes perfect?
4 Is he afrayde to reproue thee, and to steppe forth with thee into iudgement?
5 Is b not thy wickednesse great, and thy vngracious deedes innumerable?
6 For thou c hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and robbed the naked of their clothing.
7 To such as were wearie, hast thou giuen no water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.
8 But the mightie man had the earth, and hee that was in authoritie dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widowes away emptie, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.
10 Therefore art thou d compassed about with snares, and suddenly vexed with feare.
11 Shouldest thou then see no e darknesse? should not the water flood runne ouer thee?
12 Is not God on high in the heauen? behold the height of the starres, howe high they are.

b They knew not that Iob had so greatly offended: but they coniectured because God so plagued him, which was not for his sinnes so much as for to proue him, and therefore all their conclusions are false.

c Thou hast bene vncharitable and vniust.

d That is, therefore art thou thus plagued euery way.

e Trouble.

13 Wilt thou therefore saye, Howe f shoulde God knowe? can he iudge through the darke cloude?
14 The clouds couer him, that he may not see, and he walketh on the top of heauen.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the worlde, wherein wicked men haue walked?
16 Which were cut downe out of time, & whose foundation was an ouerflowing riuer, 17 Which said vnto God, Go from vs: & what could the almightie do for them?
18 He filled their houses with good things: but the counsell of the vngodly be farre from me.
19 The righteous sawe it, and were glad, and the innocent laughed them to scorne.
20 Is our substance hewen downe? As for the remnant of them, the fire hath consumed.
21 Therefore h reconcile thee vnto God, and be at peace: so shall all things prosper with thee right well.
22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law at his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.
23 For if thou wilt turne to the almighty, thou shalt be i built vp, and put all vnrighteousnesse from thy dwelling.
24 Thou shalt lay vp golde [as plentifull] as the dust, and the gold of Ophir as the flintes of the riuers.
25 Yea, almightie God shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.
26 Then shalt thou haue thy delight in the almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
27 Then shalt thou make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt ‖ keepe thy promises.
28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the k light shal shine in thy wayes.
29 When [the wicked] bee cast downe, thou shalt say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.
30 The innocent shall deliuer the Iande: l it shall bee preserued by the pureness of thine hands.

f He reproueth Iob, as though he denied gods prouidence, & that he coulde not see the things that were done in this world.

g Meaning, ỹ vngodly and euill persons.

h Eliphaz exhorteth Iob to repentance by the great goodnesse that commeth thereof.

i God will restore vnto thē all thy substance.

‖ Or, pay thy vowes.

k That is, the fauour of god.

l The place feareth the better, where the righteous are.

The xxiii. Chapter.

2 Iob affirmeth that hee both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, 10 and that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

1 Then Iob answered, and sayde,
2 Though my talke bee this day in bitternesse, and my plague greater then my groning,
3 O that I a might know him, and finde him, and that I might come before his seate:
4 I would pleade my cause before him, and fil my mouth with arguments:
5 I woulde knowe what answere he woulde giue me, and vnderstande what he woulde say vnto me.
6 Will hee pleade against mee with his great power? No, but he wil make me the stronger.

a Iob being admonished before to returne to God, sayth, if I shoulde come to him, where is he, or where might I finde him, to pleade my cause before him?

7 There the righteous might dispute with him, so shoulde I bee deliuered for euer from my iudge.
8 Behold, though I goe forward, I finde him not: if I go backewarde, I can get no knowledge of him:
9 If I goe on the left side where he doeth his worke, I can not attaine vnto him: againe, if I go on the right side, he hideth himselfe, that I can not see him.
10 But as for my way, he knoweth me, and trieth me, that as the gold I may be tryed.
11 My [b] foote doth keepe his path, his hie way haue I holden, and will not go out of it.
12 I wil not forsake the commandement of his lips, I haue esteemed the words of his mouth more then my necessarie [foode.]
13 He is one, and [c] who can turne him? he bringeth to passe what he desireth.
14 He [d] performeth the thing that is appointed for me, and many such things doeth he.
15 This is the cause that I shrinke at his presence, so that when I consider him, I am afraide of him.
16 For God maketh my heart soft, and the almightie putteth me in feare, 17 Because I am not cut off before the darkenesse, [neither] hath he couered the darke fro my face.

b That is, gods wayes, proning therefore himselfe not to deserue such grieuous plagues and afflictions for his faults.
c For God is immutable, & his decrées stand fast.
d That is, he hath decreed thus to punish me appointed hereunto, although I can not attaine to the secrete iudgement of God therein, and therefore I do feare his presence.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 How al things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17 and the destruction of the wicked.

1 WHy should not the [a] times be hidde from the almightie, and they that knowe him, see not his dayes?
2 For some men remoue the lande markes, robbe men of their cattell, and feede of the same.
3 They driue away the asse of the fatherlesse, and take the widdowes oxe for a pledge.
4 They cause the poore to turne out of ỳ way, so that the poore of the earth hide them selues together.
5 Behold, as wilde asses in the desart go they forth to their worke, & rise betimes to spoyle: Yea, the very [b] wildernesse ministreth foode for them and their children.
6 They reape the corne fielde that is not their owne, and gather the vineyard of the vngodly [which they possesse vniustly.]
7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the cold.
8 They are wet with ỳ showres of the mountaines, and imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.
9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the brest, and take the pledge from the poore.
10 They let him goe naked without clothing, and haue take away the sheafe of the hungry.
11 They that labour in their oyle milles, and treade their wine presses, suffer thirst.
12 Men of the citie cry out, the soules of the slayne also crye out, yet God regardeth not their complaint.
13 Those are they that flee from the light, they knewe not his wayes, nor continue in his pathes.
14 The murderer ryseth earely, and killeth the poore and needie, and in the night is as a theefe.
15 The [c] eye of the adulterer waiteth for the darkenesse, and sayeth, There shall no eye see me: and hideth his face.
16 In the darke they digge through houses, which they marked for themselues in the day time: they knowe not the light.
17 The morning is to thẽ euen as the shadowe of death: if one knowe them [they are] in the terrours of the shadowe of death.
18 [The vngodly] is [d] swift vpon the water: their portion shalbe cursed in the earth, and he shall not behold the way of the vineyards.
19 As the drie ground and heate [e] consume the snowy waters: so shall the graue the sinners.
20 The [f] pitifull man shall forget him, he shall be sweete to the wormes, he shall be no more remembred, and his wickednesse shalbe broke as a tree.
21 Hee hath oppressed the barren that can not beare, and vnto the widdowe hath hee done no good.
22 Hee [g] drewe the mightie after him with his power, and when hee was gotten vp, no man was sure of life.
23 And though they gaue him to bee in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.
24 They are exalted for a litle, but [shortly] are gone, brought to pouertie, and taken out of the way, yea, and vtterly pluckt off as the eares of corne.
25 Is [h] it not so? who will then reproue me as a lyer, and say that my wordes are nothing worth?

a The doings of me are such and so variable, that it seemed to Iob ỳ God was ignorant & careless, because he punished not the wicked, nor reuenged the godly.
b That is, they liue by robbery and theft.
c Not onely a tyrant, but also the adulterer escapeth free, & is not corrected.
d He fleeth to the waters for his succour.
e Although such abominable sinners liue vncorrected in this world, yet at the length hell shall deuoure thẽ suddenly.
f Because they pitied not others, they shal not be pitied at all.
g That is, whẽ they haue plagued & ouerrunne ỳ poore and weake, they will oppresse ỳ strong and mightie also.
h Then I lye not, and none of you can reproue me.

The xxv. Chapter.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

1 THen answered Bildad the Suhite, & sayde,
2 [a] Power & feare [is] with him, [who] maketh peace in his highnesse.
3 Is there any number of his armies? and vpon whom shall not his light arise?
4 But howe may a man, compared vnto God, be iustified? or howe can he be cleane, that is borne of a woman?
5 Beholde, the moone ‡ shineth not, and the starres are vncleane in his sight.
6 Howe much more then man that is but ‖ corruption, and the sonne of man [which] is but a worme.

a Bildad would proue here ỳ God plagueth the iust, yet afterwarde he prospereth, because God dealt not so with Iob, he concluded ỳ he was wicked.
‡ Compared with God.
‖ Or, worme.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth that no man can helpe God, and proueth it by his wonderfull workes.

1 IOb answered, and sayde, a Here Iob reprehendeth Bildad, for þ hee speaketh not ynough to Gods prayse, who needeth not mans wordes, neyther comforteth him being vnpde of comfort.

2 a Whome hast thou helped: him that is without strength? sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Where is the counsell that thou shouldest giue him which hath no wisedome? Hast thou taught him that is very wise?

4 To whome hast thou spoken these wordes? who made the breath to come out of thy mouth?

b That is, such thinges are in the waters without life, as metals and such like, wherein is expressed Gods great power.

5 b Are not dead things shapen vnder the waters, and in [places] neare vnto them?

6 Hell is naked before him, & destruction hath no couering.

7 He stretcheth out the North ouer the empty place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, & the cloude is not broken vnder them.

c His throne of maiestie, which are the heauens, hee couereth from vs.

9 c Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne, & spreadeth his cloude before it.

d That is, so long as the world endureth.

10 Hee hath cõpassed the waters with certaine boundes, d vntill the day and night come to an ende.

e Not that heauen hath pillars, but by the pillars he vnderstandeth all things vnder heauen.

11 The e very pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 Hee stilleth the sea with his power, and through his wisdome smiteth he the strength [thereof.]

13 His spirite hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath made the crooked serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but howe litle a portion heare wee of him? who can vnderstand the thunder of his power?

The xxvii. Chapter.

3 The constancie and perfectnesse of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

1 AND Iob proceeded, and went forth in his parable, saying,

b This was the order of þ Hebrewes to sweare.

2 a As God liueth, which hath taken away my iudgement, and the almightie that hath vexed my minde:

3 While the breath is in mee, and the winde that God hath giuen mee is in my nostrelles, b That is, I will not confesse that God plagueth me for mine offence.

4 My lippes shall talke of no vanitie, and my tongue shall speake no deceite.

5 God forbidde that I shoulde graunt your cause to bee right: as for mee, vntill mine ende come, will b I neuer goe frome mine innocencie.

c Of my former life past. d That is, because they reprehended me vnworthily, they rather might be accompted wicked, and the plague shall light on them, and be rid from me.

6 My righteous dealing keepe I fast, which I will not forsake: my heart shall not reproue me c of my dayes.

7 Therefore d mine enemie shall bee founde as the vngodly, and he that taketh part against me, as the vnrighteous.

e What auaileth it a man if he gaine all the world, & loose his owne soule?

8 For e what hope hath the hypocrite, though he be neuer so couetous, if God take away his soule?

9 Will f God heare his cry when trouble commeth vpon him?

f We haue no greater gift of God then the spirit of prayer, whereby if we pray, God doeth heare vs.

10 Hath he such delight in the almightie, g that he dare alway call vpon God?

g The hypocrite neither trusteth nor prayeth to God: yea, though he pray, God will not heare him

11 I will teach you in the ‖ name of God, and the thing of the almightie will I not keepe from you.

‖ Or, hand.

12 Behold, al ye your selues haue seene it, why then do ye thus vanish in vanitie?

13 [Saying,] This is the portion that þ wicked haue of God, and þ heritage that tyrantes shall receiue of the almightie.

14 If he haue many children [they shal perish] with the sworde, and his posteritie shall haue scarsenesse of bread.

15 His remnant shalbe buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though hee heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay:

17 He may well prepare it, but the godly shall put it on, and the innocent shall deale out the siluer.

h Which breedeth in an other mans garment, and is soone shaken out.

18 He buildeth his house as h the ‖ mothe, and as a booth that the watchman maketh.

‖ Or, spider.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gathered [to his fathers:] they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrour taketh holde vpon him as waters, and the tempest stealeth him away in þ night season.

21 A vehement East winde carieth him hence, and he departeth, a storme hurleth him out of his place.

22 [God] shal cast vpon him [such things] and not spare him, he woulde fayne flee out of his hand.

23 Then shall [men] clap their hands at him, and hisse him out of his place.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth that the wisedome of God is vnsearchable.

1 THere is a place where siluer is brought out of, and where gold is tryed,

2 Where iron is digged out of the ground, and stones resolued into brasse.

a Which a man cannot wade thorow. b As the fruitful fields tilled and plowed, bring forth corne: so it being deepely digged, there are found stones, out of the which fire is stroken. c The Saphires do shine with golden points, so that here by Saphires is ment clods of gold. All these things are found, but Gods wisedome who can reach?

3 [God] bringeth the darkenesse to an ende, and searcheth out all perfection, the stones [hidden] in darkenesse, and in the deepe shadowe.

4 The flooddes breake out against the inhabitantes, and the [waters] forgotten a of the foote, which were higher then a man, are gone away.

5 b Out of the same earth commeth bread, and vnder it, as it were, fire is turned vp.

6 The c stones of it are a place of Saphires, & the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a way that the birdes knowe not, that no Vultures eye hath seene:

8 Wherein the Lions whelpes walke not, & where no Lion commeth.

9 He

d Here he ſheweth Gods power, þ earth may be digged, hilles ouerthrowen, & fountaine made among ſtones, riuers turned from their courſe, but Gods wiſedome is not to be found.

9 He d putteth his hand vpon the ſtonie rocks, & ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.
10 Riuers flowe out of the rockes, and looke what is pleaſant his eye ſeeth it.
11 He bindeth the floods that they do not ouerflowe: and the thing that is hid bringeth he to light.

e Gods wiſedome is partly ſeene in theſe worldly things, but his heauenly wiſdome & ſecret iudgement is hid, and vnknowen to all men.

12 Where then is wiſedome found? & e where is the place of vnderſtanding?
13 No man can tell howe f worthy a thing it is, neither is it found in the land of the liuing.
14 The deepe ſayeth, It is not in mee: the ſea ſayth, It is not with me.
15 It can not be gotten for golde, neyther may the price of it be bought with any ſiluer.
16 No golde of Ophir, no precious Onyx ſtones, no Saphires may be valued with it.
17 No, neyther golde nor Diamonde ſhall be equall vnto it, the exchange of it ſhall not be for the place of fine golde.
18 No mention ſhall be made of Coxall, nor of the Gabis: for wiſedome is more precious then pearles.
19 The Topas of Ethiopia ſhall not be equall vnto it, neyther ſhall it be valued with pure golde.
20 Whence then commeth wiſedome, & where is the place of vnderſtanding?
21 It is hid from the eyes of al men liuing, and hid from the foules of the ‖ ayre.
22 Deſtruction and death ſay, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.
23 God ſeeth the way thereof, and knoweth the place thereof.
24 For he beholdeth the endes of the worlde, & looketh vpon all that is vnder heauen.
25 When he waied the windes, and meaſured the waters,
26 When he made a decree for the rayne, and a way for the lightnings of the thunder:
27 Then did he ſee it, then declared he it, prepared it, and knew it.
28 And vnto man he ſayd, g To feare the Lorde is wiſedome, and to forſake euill is vnderſtanding.

f That is, it paſſeth mans capacitie to attaine to it.

‖ Or, beauen.

g Meaning by this, that man hath ſo much of this excellēt wiſedome of God, as he doeth ſhewe in vertue of liuing, true obedience, & feare of him.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 Iob wiſheth the proſperitie of his time paſt. 7 He ſetteth forth auctoritie, 12 iuſtice, and equitie.

1 MOreouer Iob proceeded and went forth in his parable, ſaying,
2 O that I were as I was in the monethes paſt, and in the dayes when God preſerued me:
3 When his a light ſhined vpon my head, whē I went after the ſame light, and ſhining euen thorow the darkeneſſe:
4 As it ſtoode with mee when I was yong, when God proſpered my houſe:
5 When the almightie was yet with me, whē my children ſtoode about me:
6 When I waſhed my b ſteppes with butter, and when the ſtonie rockes gaue me riuers of oyle:
7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement ſeate, and when I prepared my ſeate in the ſtreete:
8 The c yong men ſawe me, & hid themſelues, and the d aged aroſe, and ſtoode vp:
9 The e princes left off their talking, and layd their hand to their mouth:
10 The mightie kept ſtill their voyce, and their tongue cleaued to the rooke of their mouth.
11 When the eare heard me, it bleſſed me: and when the eye ſaw me, it gaue witneſſe to me.
12 For I deliuered the poore when he cryed, and the fatherleſſe, and him that had none to helpe him.
13 The bleſſing of him that was ready to periſh, came vpon me, & I cauſed the widowes heart to reioyce.
14 I put vpon me righteouſnes, which couered me as a garment, & equitie was my crowne.
15 I was an eye to the blinde, and a foote to the lame.
16 I was a father to the poore: and when I knew not the cauſe, I ſought it out diligētly.
17 I brake the iawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the ſpoyle out of his teeth.
18 Then I ſayde, I ſhall dye in my neſt: and I ſhall multiplie my dayes as the ſand.
19 For my roote was ſpread out by the waters ſide, and the dewe lay vpon my ‖ corne.
20 Mine honour encreaſed more an more, and my bowe was ‖ euer the ſtronger in mine hande.
21 Vnto me men gaue eare, me they regarded, and kept ſilence at my counſell.
22 After my wordes they anſwered not, and my talke dropped vpon them.
23 They f wayted for me as for the rayne, and gaped vpon mee as [the grounde doeth to receiue] the latter ſhowre.
24 When I laughed on them, they g beleeued it not, and the light of my countenance would they not put out.
25 I tryed out their way, I ſate as chiefe, and dwelt as a king with his army about him: and when they were in heauineſſe, I was their comforter.

a That is, whē as his fauour preſerued me.
b That is, when I had al things moſt abundantly. For milke and ople ſignifie all plentifulneſſe: & here Iob deſcribeth his felicitie in times paſt, to the encreaſe of his griefe.

c As aſhamed at his countenance & aſhamed of their ponthfull lightneſſe.
d Knowing both his wiſedome and eſtimation.
e Dutie to heare him, for the great wiſedome that appeared in him, excelling them, cauſed their tongues to be in ſilence.

‖ Or, harueſt.

‖ Or, renued.

f Here is ſhewed of what excellencie an vpright and vertuous life is.
g That is, they beleeued not that I dalyed with them, but that I ſpake in good earneſt, & therfore would not diminiſh mine auctoritie.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Iob complayneth that he is contemned of the vileſt, 11. 21 becauſe of his aduerſitie & affliction. 23 Death is the houſe of all fleſh.

1 BVt a nowe they that are yonger then I, haue mee in deriſion: whoſe fathers I woulde haue thought ſcorne to haue ſet with the dogges of my cattell.
2 Whereto might the ſtrength of b their handes profite me? for the time was but loſt among them.

a Here is declared how greatly God doth bleſſe his godly, & here is ſhewed howe heauy a croſſe he layeth on them to proue them.
b They note deſpiſe me, which with all their power when I was in proſperitie could nothing helpe me, it was ſo weake.

c Here Iob declareth what abiects they were that now reuiled him, & sheweth that they are wicked like vnto their fathers, which dyed per they came to age.

3 For very [c] miserie and hunger they fled into the wildernesse, a darke place, horrible, and waste,

4 Plucking vp ‖ nettles among the bushes, and the Iuniper rootes for their meate.

5 And when they were driuen forth, men cried after them, as it had bene after a theefe.

6 Their [d] dwelling was in ỹ clifts of brookes, yea in the caues and dennes of the earth.

‖ Or, mallowes.

d Shewing hereby their baseneſſe and their pouertie, being such outcastes: yet now they scorne Iob, which is a great griefe to be mocked of such.

7 Among the bushes went they about crying, & vnder the thornes they gathered themselues together.

8 They were the children of fooles and villaines, which are the vilest in the earth.

9 Now am I their song, and am become their iesting stocke.

10 They abhorre mee, and flee farre from mee, and stayne my face with spittell.

11 Because God hath loosed my cord, and humbled mee, they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 Vpon my right hande rise the yong men against me, they haue hurt my feete, treading vpon mee, as vpon the wayes which they would destroy.

e That is, they ouerthrewe all my doings, without helpe of any other.

13 My [e] pathes haue they cleane marred, it was so easie for them to doe mee harme, that they needed no man to helpe them.

14 They fell vpon mee, as it had bene the breaking in [of waters,] and came in by heapes to destroy me.

15 Feare is turned vpon mee, and they pursue my soule as the winde, and my health passeth away as [f] a cloude.

f That is, most swiftly.

16 Therefore is my soule now powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of my trouble haue taken holde vpon me.

17 My bones are pearced through in the night season, and my sinowes take no rest.

18 For the vehemencie of sorowe is my garment changed, which compasseth me about, as the [g] collar of my coate.

g It is ỹ maner among the Hebrues to haue their garmentes sowed round in euery part, leauing a hole only in the highest of it to put forth the necke.

19 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When [h] I cry vnto thee, thou doest not heare me: and though I stande before thee, yet thou regardest me not.

h Iob layth not this as blaming God, but grieuous affliction moued affection.

21 Thou art become mine enemie, and with thy violent hand thou takest part against me.

22 [In times past] thou diddest [i] set mee vpon high, to be caried as it were aboue the winde, [but now] hast thou giuen me a very sore fall.

i That is, thou diddest set me in high authoritie, and suddenly thou puttest mee downe.

23 Sure I am that thou wilt bring mee vnto death, euen to the lodging that is due vnto all men liuing.

24 Notwithstanding, thou wilt not stretche out thine hand [against him that is] in the graue, though men cry in his destruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble: Had not my soule compassion vpon the poore:

26 Yet whereas I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and [k] where I wayted for light, there came darkenesse.

k In steade of comfort they gaue me mockes.

27 My bowels seethe in me without rest, for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without heate, I stoode vp in the congregation, and cryed.

29 I am a brother of dragons, and a fellowe of Estriches.

30 My skinne vpon me is [turned] to blacke, and my bones are brent with heate.

31 My harpe is turned to mourning, and my instrumentes of musicke, into the voyce of them that weepe.

The xxxi. Chapter.

Iob rehearseth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues.

1 I Made a [a] couenant with mine eyes, that I would not looke vpon a mayden.

a In this chapter Iob declareth his vpright liuing, not to boast against God, but to refel the false slander of his aduersaries.

2 For how great a portion [shall I haue] of God from aboue: and what inheritance of the almightie from an hygh?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and some strange thing to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he see my wayes, and tell all my goings?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my feete haue runne to deceiue:

6 Let me be weyghed in an euen ballance, that God may see mine innocencie.

7 If my steppe haue turned out of the way, & mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any [blot] haue cleaued to mine handes:

8 Then shal I sow, and another eate: yea, my ‖ posteritie shalbe cleane rooted out.

‖ Or, plantes.

9 If my heart haue bene deceyued by a woman, or if I haue layde wayte at my neyghbours dooze:

b Let her be a bond slaue to another man.

10 Then let my wife [b] grinde vnto another man, and let other men ‖ lye with her.

‖ Or, bow downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednesse, and sinne that is worthy to be iudged:

c Though mans punishment for adulterie be omitted, yet Gods plague wil neuer rest to consume and roote it out.

12 Yea, a [c] fire that vtterly should consume and roote out all my increase.

13 If I euer thought scorne to doe right vnto my seruants and maydens when they had any matter against me, d That is, if I in lawe haue reiected the cõplaint of my seruant, what should I doe when God calleth me to lawe.

14 When God [d] will sit in iudgement, what shall I doe? and when he will visite me, what answere shall I giue him?

e Iob expresseth the cause why he did pitie his seruats, for that they had one creator, and both made of the same substãce.

16 If I denied the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to wayte in vayne:

17 If I haue eaten my [f] morsell alone, that the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof:

f Meaning, that he hath bene beneficial to the poore, & the fatherlesse and widowes.

18 (For from my youth [mercy] hath brought me vp as a father, and hath guyded mee from my mothers wombe.)

19 If

19 If I haue seene any perish for want of clothing, or any poore lacking rayment:
20 If his loynes haue not blessed mee, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe:
21 If I haue lift vp mine hande against the fatherlesse, when I sawe that I might helpe him in the gate:
22 Then let mine arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.
23 For I haue feared the vengeance of God, and [knew very well that] I was not able to beare his burden.
24 Haue I put my trust in golde? or haue I sayde to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence?
25 Haue I reioyced because my power was great, and because my hand gat so much?
g Did I vse to worship the sunne or moone, as other gentiles which were idolaters.
26 Did I g behold the sunne when it shined? or the moone walking in her brightnesse?
27 Hath my heart bene secretly deceiued? or did I kisse mine owne hand?
28 (That were a wickednesse worthie to bee iudged: for then shoulde I haue denyed the God that is aboue.)
29 Haue I reioyced at ẏ hurt of mine enemie? or was I glad ẏ any harme happened vnto him?
30 I neuer suffered my mouth to sinne by wishing a curse to his soule.
h Meaning, that he did not hold his peace, or keepe at home in the mist suite or cause of any.
31 Did not the men of mine owne houlholde say, Who shal giue vs of his flesh? we can not be satisfied.
32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him that went by the way.
i That is, I will carry the booke that the aduersarie shal make vpon my shoulder, & wil accept it for a great gift, meaning, he would confesse his fault, if he had offended.
33 Haue I kept secrete my sinne, and hid mine iniquitie in my bosome, as Adam did?
34 If I feared a great multitude, or the despising of the meanest of a familie, I would haue kept silence, and not gone out of the h doore.
k That is, with great reuerence.
35 O that I had one which would heare me: beholde my signe that the almightie will witnesse for me, though mine aduersarie write a booke [against me.]
l That is, if the hyreling that hath laboured in the land, haue bene defrauded of his wages by me.
36 Surely I will take it vpon my i shoulder, and as a garland binde it [about my head.]
37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and go vnto him, as to a k prince.
m That is, if I haue by violence cõpelled my lande to be tared, and not giuen foode to the labourers.
38 If my lande l crye against mee, or that the m furrowes thereof make any complaint:
‖Or, husbandmen.
39 If I haue eaten the fruites thereof vnpayed for, yea, if I haue grieued the soules of the ‖ maisters thereof:
40 Then let thistles grow in steade of wheate, and cockle for barley.

Here ende the wordes of Iob.

The xxxii. Chapter.

6 Elihu reproueth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the spirit of God.

a The Hebrues reade, was iust in his owne eyes.
1 SO these three men ceassed to answere Iob, a because he held himselfe a righteous man.
2 But Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the kinred of Ram, was very sore displeased at Iob, because he called himselfe iust before God.
3 And with Iobs three friendes he was angry also, because they had found no answere, and yet condemned Iob.
4 Now taryed Elihu till they had ended their communication with Iob: for they were elder then he.
5 So when Elihu sawe that these three men were not able to make Iob answere, he was miscontent.
6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, answered, and sayde, I am yong, and ye be men of age, I was afrayd, and durst not shew forth my minde.
7 For I thought thus within my selfe, It becometh ‖ olde men to speake, and the ‖ aged to teach wisedome.
‖ Or, the dayes shal speake. ‖ Or, the multitude of yeeres shall.
8 Euery man no doubt hath a minde, but it is the inspiration of the almightie that giueth vnderstanding.
9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doth euery aged man vnderstande ‖ the thing that is lawfull:
‖ Or, iudgement.
10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I wil shew you also mine vnderstanding.
11 For when I had wayted til ye made an ende of your talking, & heard your wisdome, b what arguments ye made in your communication, b To proue Iob plagued for his offences.
12 Yea, when I had diligently pondered what ye sayde, I founde not one of you that made any good argument against Iob, that coulde answere his wordes, c And flatter your selues, as though you had ouercome him.
13 Least ye shoulde say, We haue c founde out wisdom, God shal cast him downe, & no man.
14 He hath not spoken vnto me, and I wil not answere him as ye haue done.
15 For they were so abashed, that they coulde not make answere, nor speake one worde.
16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stoode still, and answered no more,) 17 Then answered I in my turne, & I shewed mine opinion.
18 For I am full of ‖ matter, and the spirite within me compelleth me.
‖ Or, wordes.
d That is, I should breake in the middes, if I should not speake, my minde is so hot within me.
19 Beholde, my d belly is as the wine which hath no vent, like the newe bottels that burst.
20 [Therefore] will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lippes, and make answere.
e I will say trueth, all things layde apart.
21 I will e regard no maner of person, no man will I spare.
f The Hebrue word is, to alter the name, calling a rude man learned, or a wicked man iust.
22 For if I would goe about to f please men, I knowe not howe soone my maker would take me away.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

5 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man, and to drawe him from sinne.

a There is no cause why ye should despise me, although I be pong: for I am as you are, made by Gods spirit, created of the earth, & receiue life of him.

1 Wherefore heare my words, O Iob, & hearken vnto all that I wil say:
2 Beholde, I haue nowe opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my throte.
3 My heart doeth order my words aright, and my lippes talke of pure wisedome.
4 The [a] spirite of God hath made mee, and the breath of the almightie hath giuen me life.
5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.

b Iob before desired to plead his cause before God without feare, therefore saith Elihu, I am here in Gods steade, whome thou needest not to feare: for I am made of the matter that thou art.

6 Beholde, [b] before God, I am euen as thou: for I am fashioned and made euen of the same moulde.
7 Behold, my terrour shal not feare thee, neyther shal my hand be heauie vpon thee.

c I haue heard thee boast of thy righteous life, that thou art innocent & iust, therefore will I not proue thee wicked of thy former life, but by these thy words.

8 [c] Nowe hast thou spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:
9 I am cleane without any fault, I am innocent, and there is no wickednesse in me.
10 But loe, he hath picked a quarel against me, and taketh me for his enemie:
11 He hath put my feete in the stockes, and looketh narowly vnto all my pathes.
12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right, I will make answere vnto thee, that God is greater then man.
13 And why doest thou then striue against him: for he shall not giue thee accompts of all his wordes.

d God speaketh two maner of wayes vnto men, either by sleepe, or by his rod of sickenesse, & other plagues.

14 For God speaketh [d] once or twice, [and yet man] vnderstandeth it not.
15 In dreames and visions of the night, when slumbring commeth vpon men, that they fall asleepe in their beddes, 16 He openeth the eares of men, and correcteth them:
17 That he may withdrawe man from his purposes, and deliuer him from [e] pride, e For to beate downe the pride of man, God sendeth his plagues.

18 And keepe his soule from the graue, and his life from the sworde.
19 He chastneth him with sickenesse vpon his bedde, he layeth sore punishment vpon his bones:

f That is, sickenesse that decayeth life, can take no sustenance.

20 So that his [f] life may away with no bread, and his soule abhorreth to eate any dayntie meate:
21 Insomuch that his flesh is cleane consumed away, and his bones are broken that they can not be seene.
22 His soule draweth vnto the graue, and his life to ‖ death.

‖ Or, to the buryers.

23 Nowe if there be a messenger, one among a thousande, sent for to speake vnto man, and to shew him the right way:
24 Then the Lorde is mercifull vnto him, and sayeth, He shall be deliuered, that he fall not downe to the graue: for I am sufficiently reconciled.
25 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childes, and shal returne, as in the dayes of his youth.
26 He shal pray vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioye, for he will render vnto man his righteousnesse.
27 A respect hath hee vnto men, let man then say, I haue offended, I did vnrighteously, and it hath done me no good:
28 He hath deliuered my soule from destructiō, and [g] my life shall see the light.

g That is, my soule shal appeare cleare in the lande of the liuing.

29 Loe, all these worketh God ‡ alway with man,
30 That he bring backe his soule frō the graue to the light, euen the light of the liuing.

‡ Heb. twice or thrice.

31 Marke wel, O Iob, and heare me: hold thee still, and I will speake.
32 But if thou hast any thing to say, then [h] answere mee, and speake, for I desire to iustifie thee.

h That is, to shew thy selfe iust, and not wicked.

33 If thou hast nothing, then heare mee, and holde thy tongue, and I shall teach thee wisedome.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob that he calleth himselfe righteous.
12 He sheweth that God is iust in iudgements.

1 Elihu answered, and sayde,
2 Heare my wordes, O ye [a] wise men, hearken vnto mee, ye that haue vnderstanding:

o Here Elihu proueth that God cā not be vniust, because he is the iudge of the worlde, the gouernour and creator of all.

3 For the eare discerneth words, & the mouth tasteth meates.
4 As for [b] iudgement, let vs seeke it out amōg our selues, that we may knowe what is good.

b Let vs scan the cause by reasoning vprightly.

5 For Iob hath sayde, I am righteous, and God hath [c] taken away my iudgement.

c That is, he hath not dealt with me according to the equitie of my cause.

6 In my right I must be a lyer: my wound is incurable without my fault.
7 Where is there such a one as Iob, that [d] drinketh vp scornefulnesse like water,

d. That is, for his foolishnesse he beareth the scornefull reproches of the mockers.

8 Which goeth in the companie of wicked doers, and walketh with vngodly men:
9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing that he should walke with God.
10 Therefore hearken vnto me, yee that haue vnderstanding: farre be it from God that he should meddle with wickednesse, and farre be it from the almightie that he shoulde meddle with vnrighteous dealing.
11 For he shal reward man [after] his workes, and cause euery man to finde according to his wayes.

Psal. 103, 29.

12 Sure it is that God will not doe wickedly, neither wil the almightie peruert iudgement.
13 Who ruleth the earth but he: or who hath placed the whole worlde:
14 If he set his heart vpon [man,] and gather vnto himselfe his * spirite and his breath:
15 All flesh shall come to nought at once, and man shall turne againe vnto dust.
16 If thou nowe haue vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voyce of my wordes:
17 May he be a [e] ruler that loueth not right:

e As though Elihu would say, is it méete that the vniust & wicked shal be rulers, or innocents cōmit wickednes, or inferiors to cōtroule princes, or subiects to resist the king? howe much lesse then ought est thou to doe soto God the king of all kings?

wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?
18 Wilt thou say vnto a king, [thou art] wicked? or to princes, [Ye are] vngodly.
Rom.2.11. 19 * God hath no respect vnto the persons of the princes, and regardeth not the riche more then the poore: for they be all the worke of his handes.
f That is, suddenly before they are aware of it. 20 In the f twinckling of an eye shall they dye, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and passe away, and the mightie shalbe taken away without hand.
21 For his eyes [looke] vpon the wayes of mã, and he seeth all his goings.
22 There is no darkenesse nor shadow of death, that can hide the wicked doers from him.
23 For God will not lay vpon man more then he hath sinned, that he should enter into iudgement with him.
24 Hee shall destroy the mightie without seeking, and shal set other in their steade.
g God exalteth one, and humbleth another, as the foure monarchies of the worlde for example, that is, of the Assyrians, of the Persians, of the Grecians, and of the Romanes: as god doth mightily, so doeth he iustly.
25 Therefore shall he declare their workes: he shal h turne the night, & they shalbe destroyed.
26 The vngodly doeth he punish i openly.
27 Because they turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:
28 In so much that they haue caused the voyce of the k poore to come vnto him, and nowe he heareth the complaynt of such as are in trouble.
29 When he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him? whether it be vpon nations, or vpon one man onely?
h That is, he shal bring to light ỹ which lay in darkenesse.
i That is, in the sight of all men.
30 Because the hypocrite doeth raigne, and because the people are snared.
k Though their cruel and vnmercifull handling of them.
31 Surely of God onely it can be sayd, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.
32 If I haue gone amisse, enfourme thou me: if I haue done wrong, I will leaue off.
33 Will he perfourme the thing through thee? for thou hast reproued his [iudgement,] thine is the choyse, & not mine: but speake on what thou knowest.
l Elihu doeth not wish to Job any euill, but desireth God that he may acknowledge his offence: the which can not be brought to passe but by affliction.
‖ Or, vnto the ende.
34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.
35 Job hath not spoken of knowledge, neyther were his wordes according to wisedome.
36 O l father, let Job be ‖ well tryed, because he hath answered for wicked men:
37 Yea, aboue his sinne he doeth wickedly, triumpheth among vs, & multiplyeth his words against God.

The xxxv. Chapter.

6 Neyther doeth godlinesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 18 The wicked cry vnto God, and are not heard.

a Job holding his peace, Elihu went on in his talke.
1 Elihu a spake moreouer, and sayde,
2 Thinkest thou it right that thou sayest, I am more righteous then God?
3 For thou sayest, What aduantage wil it be vnto thee, and what profite shall I haue [if I be clensed] from my sinne?
4 I will answere thee a worde, and thy b companions with thee.
b To such as are like to thee in obstinacie, not leaning thy great errour.
5 Looke vnto the heauen, and beholde it, consider the c cloudes, which are hygher then thou.
c If ỹ cloudes are higher thẽ thou, howe much more is God excelling thee in all.
6 If thou hast d sinned, what hast thou done against him? if thine offences be many, what hast thou done vnto him?
d It doth nothing aduantage God whether we be good or euill, for he needeth not mans helpe, he is most mightie, his maiestie is most glorious.
7 If thou bee e righteous, what giuest thou him? or what will hee receyue of thine hande?
e As though he would say, if we do good, it is our owne: if we do euil, it is paine alla. ‖ Or, songs.
8 Thy wickednesse [may hurt] a man as thou art, and thy righteousnesse [may profite] the sonne of man.
9 They which are oppressed, cry out vpon the multitude, yea, they cry out for the power of the mightie.
10 But none sayeth, Where is God that made me? and that giueth ‖ vs occasion to praise him in the night?
11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisedome then the foules of heauen.
12 If any f such complaine, no man giueth answere, and that because of the wickednesse of proude tyrants.
f That is, God heareth them not, because they pray not heartily to him in faith.
13 For God will not heare vanitie, neither will the almightie regarde it.
14 Although thou sayest [to God] thou wilt not regarde it: yet iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.
15 But nowe because his anger hath not visited, neither called men to accompt with great extremitie:
16 Therefore doeth Job open his mouth in vayne, and he maketh many wordes without knowledge.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice, 9 and wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

1 Elihu also proceeded, and sayde,
2 Holde thee still a litle, and I shal shew thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.
3 I wil open vnto thee yet farre higher knowledge, and wil ascribe righteousnesse vnto my maker.
4 And truely my wordes shall not be vayne, seeing he is with thee that is a perfect in knowledge.
a And therefore credite my sayings, for I come to pleade for gods cause.
5 Behold, the great God casteth away no man, for he himselfe is b mightie in power and wisedome.
b And therefore he wil not destroy ỹ iust, the wise, & the godly, seeing they are theres in like vnto him.
6 As for the vngodly, he shal not preserue him, but shall helpe the poore to their right.
7 He shall not turne his eyes away from the righteous, but as c kings shall they be in their throne, he shall stablish them for euer, and they shalbe exalted.
c So God doeth exalt the godly, & they that loue him.

8 But

8 But if they be layde in chaynes, or bounde with the boudes of trouble, d If he shall plague the righteous, he wil declare the cause of the same.

9 Then will he [d] shewe them their worke, and their sinnes which they haue committed stoutely.

10 He openeth his eare also to discipline, and warneth them to leaue off from their wickednesse.

11 If they now will take heede and serue him, they shal weare out their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasure.

12 But if they will not hearken, they shall goe thorow the swoorde, and perish, or euer they be aware.

e Hypocrites that contemne God in their mouthes and not in their hearts, wil not acknowledge their offence, & so runne into desperation and confusion.

13 As for the [e] hypocrites in heart, they shall heape vp wrath [for themselues,] for they call not vpon him, though they be his prisoners.

‖ Or, youth.

14 Thus shall their soule perish in ‖ foolishnesse, and their life among the fornicatours.

‖ Or, open their eares.

15 The poore shall he deliuer out of his affliction, and ‖ rounde them in the eare when they be in trouble.

16 Euen so would he take thee out of the straite place, into a large place in the which there is no straitnesse: yea, and make thy table quiet, replenished with fatnesse.

f Thou hast allowed the counsell of the wicked, & layd aside the counsell of God as an vnjust.

17 Neuertheless, [f] thou hast commended the iudgement of the vngodly, and euen such a iudgement and sentence shalt thou suffer.

g Meaning, thou shalt be in paynes which can not be released for any price.

18 And seeing there is [g] wrath [with God] beware least hee take thee away in thy wealth, and all that thou hast to redeeme thee, can not deliuer thee.

19 Thinkest thou that he will regarde thy riches: [he shal not care for] golde, nor for all them that excell in strength.

20 Spend not the night in carefull thoughts, howe hee destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Beware that thou turne not aside to wickednesse, which hitherto thou hast chosen more then affliction.

22 Beholde, God is of a mightie high power: where is there such a teacher as he?

23 Who wil reproue him of his way? who wil say vnto him, Thou hast done wrong?

24 Remember that thou do magnifie his worke which men do prayse.

25 All men see it, yea, men doe beholde it a farre off.

h For he is God frō euerlasting, without beginning or ending.

26 Behold, so great is God, that he passeth our knowledge, [h] neyther can the number of his yeeres be searched out.

27 He turneth the water to small droppes, hee driueth his cloudes together to rayne:

i Gods maiestie is wonderfully declared in his creatures.

28 Which rayne the cloudes doe droppe, and let fall abundantly vpon men.

29 Who can consider the [i] spreading out of his cloudes, the couerings of his tabernacle?

30 Beholde, he doeth stretch his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

‖ Or, iudgeth.

31 For by these ‖ gouerneth he his people, and giueth them abundance of meate.

32 With the cloudes he hideth the light, and at his commandement he breaketh out.

33 Which dashing vpon the next cloudes, shew tokens of wrath.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

Elihu proueth that the vnsearcheable wisedome of God is manifest by his workes, 4 as by the thunder, 6 the snowe, 9 the whirle winde, 11 and the rayne.

a That is, at Gods wōderfull creatures, as the thūder, and such like.

b As though he would say, the thunder is the dreadfull voyce of God.

1 [a] AT this also my heart is astonyed, and moued out of his place.

2 Heare [b] then the sound of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the endes of the worlde.

4 A roring voyce foloweth it: for his glorious maiestie giueth a thunder clap, and he wil not stay when his voyce is heard.

5 God thūdereth marueilously with his voice, great things doeth he, which we can not comprehende.

6 He commaundeth the snowe, and it falleth vpon earth: he giueth the rayne a charge, and the showres haue their strength and fall downe.

c Which workes are as it were a confirmation of gods maiestie: for as soone as the thunder commeth, they flée for feare, wherein they shewe their owne weakenesse, and doe witnesse a maiestie of God on high.

7 With the force of [the rayne] hee shutteth men vp, that all men may knowe [c] his workes.

d Not onely mā, but beasts also are witnesses of Gods power & maiestie, when they runne to their dennes for feare of the thunder.

8 The beastes [d] creepe into their dennes, and remayne in their places.

9 Out of the South commeth the tempest, and colde out from the North winde.

e Meaning, the windes which are called the breath of God, which as they blowe hot or colde, so they freese or thawe the waters, making them lesser and greater.

10 At the [e] breath of God the hoare frost is giuen, and the broade waters are frosen.

11 He maketh the cloudes to labour, in giuing moystnesse, and againe, with his light he driueth away the cloude.

12 Hee turneth the heauens about by his gouernement, that they may doe whatsouer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole worlde.

13 He causeth rayne to come, whether it be for punishment, or for his lande, or to doe good to them that seeke him.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob, stande still, and consyder the wonderous woorkes of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the [f] light of his cloudes to shine?

f That is, the lightning.

16 Hast thou knowen the varietie of ỹ cloudes, and the wonderous workes of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 And howe thy clothes are warme, when the land is still through the south winde?

18 Hast thou helped him to spreade out the heauens, heauens, which are ſtrong, and bright as a g For the clearneſſe or brightneſſe of them. g moulten glaſſe?

19 Teache vs what we ſhall ſay vnto him: for we are vnmeete to frame our talke, becauſe h That is, of our ignorance. of h darkeneſſe.
20 Shall it be tolde him what I ſay? Shall man ſpeake when he ſhalbe deſtroyed?
21 For men ſee not the light that ſhineth in the cloudes, but the winde paſſeth and cleanſeth them.
‡ Hebr. colde. 22 The ‡ fayre weather commeth out of the North, the prayſe [thereof] is to God, who is terrible.
23 It is the almightie, wee can not finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: he afflicteth not.
i Alluding to Job. 24 Let men therefore i feare him: for there ſhall no man ſee him that is wiſe in his owne conceyte.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

God ſpeaketh to Iob, & declareth the ignorance of man in the conſideration of his creatures.

1 THen anſwered the Lorde vnto Job out a To ſhew his maieſtie, & to inſtruct Job, before whome he ſpake. of the a whirle winde, and ſayde, b That ſpeaketh to couertly & obſcurely. 2 What is hee that b darkeneth his counſell by wordes without knowledge?
c That is, prepare thy ſelfe to anſwere. 3 Girde vp thy c loynes like a man: for I will queſtion with thee, giue me an anſwere.
d Inferring by this, that if he could not conceine Gods wonderfull workes, much leſſe his vnſearcheable wiſedome. 4 Where d waſt thou when I layde the foundations of the earth? tell me, if thou haſt vnderſtanding.
5 Who hath meaſured it, knoweſt thou? or who hath ſpread the line vpon it?
6 Whereupon are the foundations ſet? or who layde the corner ſtone thereof?
7 [Where waſt thou] when the morning ſtarres prayſed mee together, and all the children of God reioyced triumphantly?
8 Who ſhut vp the ſea with doores, when it brake forth as out of the wombe?
9 When I made the cloudes a couering for it, and darkeneſſe as his ſwadling bande, ‖ Or, wings. 10 When I gaue it my commandement, making dores and barres for it, e Though the vngodly truſt in their eſtate to endure long, yet they ſhalbe as weake as clay, and as a garment ſhal ſome periſh. 11 Saying, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, but no further, and here ſhalt thou lay downe thy proude waues?
12 Haſt thou giuen the morning his charge ſince thy dayes, and ſhewed the day ſpring his place,
‖ Or, the high arme. 13 That it might take holde of the ‖ corners of the earth, and that the vngodly might be ſhaken out of it?
14 e They are faſhioned as is the claye to the ſeale, and ſhalbe as a garment.
15 The vngodly ſhall be diſappointed of their light, and ‖ the arme of the proude ſhall be broken.
f A iudge ought to be ſtiffe in the cauſe that he iudgeth: but ſeeing thou knoweſt none of theſe things that are viſible, why wilt thou preſume to iudge of things inuiſible? ‖ Or, bottome. 16 f Cameſt thou euer into the ‖ grounde of the ſea, or walkedſt in the lowe ſteppes of the deepe?
17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or haſt thou ſeene the doores of the ſhadowe of death?
18 Haſt thou alſo perceyued howe broade the earth is? If thou haſt knowledge of all this:
19 Then ſhewe me the way where light dwelleth, and where is the place of darkeneſſe?
20 That thou ſhouldeſt receyue it in the boundes therof, and know the pathes to their houſes.
21 Knoweſt thou afore thou waſt borne howe olde thou ſhouldeſt be?
g No man can go in the place where the ſnowe is gendred: much leſſe may Job clime vp to heauen to know Gods ſecrets. 22 g Wenteſt thou euer into the treaſures of the ſnowe, or haſt thou ſeene the ſecret places of the hayle?
‖ Or, hid. 23 Which I haue ‖ prepared againſt the time of trouble, againſt the time of battell and warre?
24 By what way is the light parted? and into what land breaketh the Eaſt winde?
25 Who diuideth the waters into diuers chanels? or the way of the lightning & thunder, 26 To cauſe it to rayne on the earth, where no man is, and in the wildernelle where none inhabiteth?
27 To ſatiſfie the deſolate and waſte grounde, and to cauſe the budde of the hearbe to ſpring forth?
h Meaning, God is the creator and maker of all things. 28 Who is the h father of the rayne? or who hath begotten the droppes of the deawe?
‖ Or, froſt of the heauen. 29 Out of whoſe wombe came the yce? who hath gendred the ‖ coldneſſe of the ayre,
‖ Some reade, hide. i The yce couered it, as though it were paued with ſtone. 30 That the waters are ‖ i hid as with a ſtone, and lye congeled about the deepe?
‖ Or, Arcturus. 31 Canſt thou binde the ſeuen ſtarres together? or looſe the bandes of Orion?
32 Canſt thou bring forth the morning ſtarre in his time? canſt thou alſo guyde ‖ the euening ſtarre with his ſonnes?
33 Knoweſt thou the courſe of heauen, that thou mayeſt ſet vp the ordinance thereof vpon the earth?
‖ Or, bottels. k For In groweth the earth by the warme ſhowre, & after he had ſhewed his maruailes in bowe, he commeth to the earthly creatures, as though God would ſay, The things on the cieſdes are vnknowen vnto thee, yea euen things on earth thou durſt not: howe much leſſe then durſt thou to reache to Gods ſecret wiſedome? 34 Canſt thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that they may powre downe a great rayne vpon thee?
35 Canſt thou ſende the lightnings, that they may go their way, ſaying vnto thee, Loe, here are we?
36 Who hath put wiſedome in the reynes? or who hath giuen the heart vnderſtanding?
37 Who nombreth the cloudes in wiſedome? who ſtilleth the vehement ‖ waters of the heauen?
l Whilſt he ſeeketh his meate for the Lion. 38 k To cauſe the earth to growe in hardneſſe, and the clottes to cleaue faſt together?
39 l Wilt thou hunt the pray for the Lion? or fill the appetite of the Lions whelpes, 40 When they couche in their places, and tary in the couert to lye in wayte?

41 Who

41 Who prouideth meate for the Rauen, when his yong ones crye vnto God, and flee about for lacke of meate?

The xxxix. Chapter.

God proceedeth in declaring the ignorance of Iob, in the consideration of his marueilous workes, in beastes and foules.

1 KNowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth their yong among the rockes? or [a] layest thou waite when the Hyndes vse to calue?

a He chiefly recyteth these beasts, for they bring forth their yongings with greatest payne.

2 Canst thou nomber the monethes that they goe with yong? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They lie downe, they calue their yong ones, and they are deliuered of their trauayle and payne:

4 Yet their yong ones grow vp, and waxe fat through good feeding with corne: they goe forth, and returne not againe vnto them.

5 Who letteth the wilde asse to goe free? or who looseth the bondes of the wilde asse?

6 Euen I which haue giuen the wildernesse to be their house, and the [b] barraine land to be their dwelling.

b Some read, Salt places, meaning, barraine ground.

7 He scorneth the multitude of the citie, neyther regarded the crying of the driuer:

8 But seeketh his pasture about the mountaines, and followeth the greene grasse.

c If thou canst not rule the Vnicorne, canst thou know Gods secrets, or appoynt him to do thy will?

9 Will the [c] Unicorne do thee seruice, or abide still by thy cribbe?

10 Canst thou binde the yoke about the Unicorne in the forowe, to make him plowe after thee in the valleys?

11 Wayest thou trust him because he is strong, or commit thy labour vnto him?

12 Wayest thou beleeue him that he will bring home thy ‖ corne, or carry it into thy barne?

‖ Or, seede.

13 [Gauest thou] the fayre wings vnto the Pecockes, or wynges and feathers vnto the Estritche?

14 [The Estritche] leaueth her egges in the earth, and heateth them in the dust.

15 She remembreth not that they might be troden with feete, or broken with some wilde beast.

d The Estrich when she hath laid her egges, hideth them in the sand, & by the heate of the sunne, the yong are brought forth, but she leaueth them as carelesse, forgetting the place where she put them, & so her labour is in vaine.

16 So harde is she vnto her yong ones, as though they were not hers, and [d] laboureth in vayne without any feare.

e To be naturall towarde her owne.

17 And that because God hath [e] taken wisedome from her, and hath not giuen her vnderstanding.

18 When her time is that she mounteth on high, she careth neither for the horse, nor the ryder.

f Thus in all creatures the glory of Gods maiestie is declared.

19 [f] Hast thou giuen the horse his strength? or learned him to ney couragiously?

20 Canst thou make him afrayde as the grasse-hopper? his stoute neying is fearefull.

21 He breaketh the ground [with the hookes of his feete] he reioyceth in his strength, and runneth to meete the haruest men.

22 He mocketh at feare, and is not afrayd, neyther startleth he backe from the sworde.

23 Though the quiuers rattle vpō him, though the speare and shielde glister:

24 Yet rusheth hee in fiercely, beating the grounde, he regardeth not the noyse of the trumpets:

25 But when the trumpets make most noyse, he sayeth, ‖ Tush, for he smelleth the battell a farre off, the noyse of the captaines, and the showting.

‖ Or, ha, ha.

26 Commeth it through thy wisedome, that the Goshawke flyeth with her wings toward the [g] South?

g That is, flée into the regiōs that are hot, when colde commeth.

27 Doeth the Eagle mount vp, and make his nest on high at thy commandement?

28 He abydeth in stonie rockes, and dwelleth vpon the high toppes of mountaines:

29 From whence he seeketh his pray, and looketh farre about with his eyes.

30 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: & where any dead body lyeth, there is he.

The xl. Chapter.

God declareth the weakenesse of Iob, by comparing the same to his great workes, and to the strength of Behemoth.

1 MOreouer, the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and sayde,

2 Shall he whom the almighty wil chasten, contende with him? Should not he which disputeth with God, giue him an answere?

3 Then Iob [a] answered the Lord, saying, a Here Iob confesseth his offence, & dare not speake: for when God doeth reprehend, who can answere?

4 Behold, I am vile, what shall I answere thee? [therefore] I will lay my hande vpon my mouth.

5 Once haue I spoken, but I wil say no more: yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

6 Then answered the Lorde vnto Iob out of the whirle winde, and sayde,

7 Gyrde vp thy loynes now like a man: I will demande of thee, and make thou answere.

b Meaning, that for a man to accompt himselfe iust, is to accuse God for vniust.

8 Wilt thou [b] disanul my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne mee, that thou mayest be righteous?

‖ Or, arme.

9 Is thy ‖ power then like the power of God? maketh thy voyce a sound as his doeth?

c Which no man is able to doe, for these things are only pertaining to God.

10 Decke thy selfe nowe with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selfe [c] with beautie and glorie.

d That is, cause them to die, if it lye in thy power.

11 Cast abrode the indignation of thy wrath, & behold euery one that is proude, & abase him:

e Which God can only do, & therefore trusting in thine owne strength, thou cōparest with God.

12 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place:

13 Hide them in the dust together, and couer their faces in [d] secrete.

f The Hebrues say, Behemoth signifieth an Elephant, so called for his hugenesse, by the which may be vnderstand the deuil.

14 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that [e] thine owne right hand shal saue thee.

15 Beholde [the beast] [f] Behemoth, whome I made with thee, which eateth hay as an oxe:

16 Loe,

Dixit iniustus. Psal. 36.

1 MY heart sheweth me the wickednesse of the vngodly: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.
2 For he flattereth himselfe in his owne sight: vntill his abominable sinne bee found out.
3 The wordes of his mouth are vnrighteous, and full of deceite: he hath left off to behaue himselfe wisely, and to doe good.
4 He imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed, and hath set himself in no good way: neither doth he abhorre any thing that is euill.
5 Thy mercy (O Lord) reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy faithfulnes vnto the cloudes.

41 Who prouideth meate for the Rauen, when his yong ones crye vnto God, and flee about for lacke of meate?

The xxxix. Chapter.

God proceedeth in declaring the ignorance of Iob, in the consideration of his marueilous workes, in beastes and foules.

1 KNowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth their yong among the rockes? or [a] layest thou waite when the Hyndes vse to calue?

a Ye chiefly recounteth these beasts, for they bring forth their yongings with greatest payne.

2 Canst thou nomber the monethes that they goe with yong? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They lie downe, they calue their yong ones, and they are deliuered of their trauayle and payne.

4 Yet their yong ones grow vp, and waxe fat through good feeding with corne: they goe forth, and returne not againe vnto them.

5 Who letteth the wilde asse to goe free? or who looseth the bondes of the wilde asse?

6 Euen I which haue giuen the wildernesse to be their house, and the [b] barraine land to be their dwelling.

b Some read, Salt places, meaning, barraine ground.

7 He scorneth the multitude of the citie, neyther regarded the crying of the driuer.

8 But seeketh his pasture about the mountaines, and followeth the greene grasse.

c If thou canst not rule the Vnicorne, canst thou knowe Gods secrets, or appoynt him to do thy will?

9 Will the [c] Unicorne do thee seruice, or abide still by thy cribbe?

10 Canst thou binde the yoke about the Unicorne in the forowe, to make him plowe after thee in the valleys?

11 Wayest thou trust him because he is strong, or commit thy labour vnto him?

12 Wayest thou beleeue him that he will bring home thy ‖ corne, or cary it into thy barne?

‖ Or, seede.

13 [Gauest thou] the fayre wings vnto the Peacockes, or wynges and feathers vnto the Estritche?

14 [The Estritche] leaueth her egges in the earth, and heateth them in the dust.

15 She remembreth not that they might be troden with feete, or broken with some wilde beast.

d The Estritch when she hath laid her egges, hideth them in the sand, & by the heate of the sunne, the yong are brought forth, but she leaueth þ egs as careles, forgetting the place where she put them, & so her labour is in vaine.

16 So harde is she vnto her yong ones, as though they were not hers, and [d] laboureth in vayne without any feare.

e In be naturall towarde her owne.

17 And that because God hath [e] taken wisedome from her, and hath not giuen her vnderstanding.

18 When her time is that she mounteth on high, she careth neither for the horse, nor the ryder.

f Thus in all creatures the glory of Gods maiestie is declared.

19 [f] Hast thou giuen the horse his strength? or learned him to ney couragiously?

20 Canst thou make him afrayde as the grasse-hopper? his stoute neying is fearefull.

21 He breaketh the ground [with the hookes of his feete] he reioyceth in his strength, and runneth to meete the harueste men.

22 He mocketh at feare, and is not afrayd, neyther starteth he backe from the sworde.

23 Though the quiuers rattle vpō him, though the speare and shielde glister:

24 Yet rusheth hee in fiercely, beating the grounde, he regardeth not the noyse of the trumpets:

25 But when the trumpets make most noyse, he sayeth, ‖ Tush, for he smelleth the battell a farre off, the noyse of the captaines, and the shouting.

‖ Or, ha, h

26 Commeth it through thy wisedome, that the Goshawke flyeth with her wings toward the [g] South?

g That is, into the regions that are hot when colde commeth.

27 Doeth the Eagle mount vp, and make his nest on high at thy commandement?

28 He abydeth in stonie rockes, and dwelleth vpon the high toppes of mountaines:

29 From whence he seeketh his pray, and looketh farre about with his eyes.

30 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: & where any dead body lyeth, there is he.

The xl. Chapter.

God declareth the weakenesse of Iob, by comparing the same to his great workes, and to the strength of Behemoth.

1 MOreouer, the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and sayde,

2 Shall he whom the almighty wil chasten, contende with him? Should not he which disputeth with God, giue him an answere?

3 Then Iob [a] answered the Lord, saying, a Here Iob confesseth his offence, & durst not speake: for when God doeth reprehend, who can answere?

4 Behold, I am vile, what shall I answere thee? [therefore] I will lay my hande vpon my mouth.

5 Once haue I spoken, but I wil say no more: yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

6 Then answered the Lorde vnto Iob out of the whirle winde, and sayde, b Meaning, that for a man to accompt himselfe iust, is to accuse God for vniust.

‖ Or, arme.

7 Gyrde vp thy loynes now like a man: I will demande of thee, and make thou answere.

8 Wilt thou [b] disanul my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne mee, that thou mayest be righteous?

9 Is thy ‖ power then like the power of God? maketh thy voyce a sound as his doeth?

c Which no man is able to doe, for these things are only pertaining to God.

10 Decke thy selfe nowe with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selfe [c] with beautie and glorie.

d That is, cause them to die, if it lye in thy power.

11 Cast abrode the indignation of thy wrath, & behold euery one that is proude, & abase him:

12 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place:

e Which God can only do, & therefore trusting in thine owne strength, thou cōparest with God.

13 Hide them in the dust together, and couer their faces in [d] secrete.

14 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that [e] thine owne right hand shal saue thee.

f The Hebrues say, Behemoth signifieth an Elephant, so called for his hugenesse, by the which may be vnderstand the deuil.

3 Put thou thy trust in the Lord, and be doing good: dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fedde.

7 Holde thee still in the Lorde, and abide patiently vpon him: but grieue not thy selfe at him whose way doeth prosper, against the man that doeth after euill counsailes.

8 Leaue off from wrath, and let goe displeasure: fret not thy selfe, else shalt thou be moued to do euill.

9 Wicked doers shall be rooted out: and they that patiently abide the Lord, those shal inherite the lande.

10 Yet a litle while, and the vngodly shall bee cleane gone: thou shalt looke after his place, and he shalbe away.

11 But the meeke spirited shal possesse ỹ earth: and shall be refreshed in ỹ multitude of peace.

12 The vngodly seeketh counsell against the iust: and gnasheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lorde shall laugh him to scorne: for he hath seene that his day is comming.

14 The vngodly haue drawen out the sworde, and haue bent their bowe: to cast downe the poore & needy, and to slay such as be of a right conuersation.

15 Their sworde shall goe through their owne heart: and their bowe shall be broken.

16 A small thing that the righteous hath: is better then great riches of the vngodly.

17 For the armes of the vngodly shalbe brokē: and the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the godly: and their inheritance shall endure for euer.

19 They shal not be confounded in the perilous time: and in the dayes of dearth they shal haue ynough.

20 As for the vngodly they shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall consume as the fat of lambes: yea, euen as the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The vngodly borroweth, and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull and liberall.

22 Such as be blessed of God, shall possesse the lande: and they that bee cursed of him shall be rooted out.

23 The Lord ordereth a good mans going: and maketh his way acceptable to himselfe.

24 Though he fall, he shal not be cast away: for the Lord vpholdeth him with his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and nowe am olde: and yet sawe I neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging their bread.

26 The righteous is euer mercifull, and lendeth: and his seede is blessed.

27 Flee from euill, and doe the thing that is good: and dwell for euermore.

28 For the Lord loueth the thing that is right: he forsaketh not his that be godly, but they are preserued for euer.

29 The righteous shall be punished: as for the seede of the vngodly it shalbe rooted out.

30 The righteous shall inherite the lande: and dwell therein for euer.

31 The mouth of the righteous is exercised in wisedome: and his tongue will be talking of iudgement.

32 The law of his God is in his heart: and his goings shall not slide.

33 The vngodly seeth the righteous: and seeketh occasion to slay him.

34 The Lorde will not leaue him in his hande: nor condemne him when he is iudged.

35 Hope thou in the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall promote thee, that thou shalt possesse the lande: when the vngodly shall perish thou shalt see it.

36 I my selfe haue seene the vngodly in great power: and flourishing like a greene Bay tree.

37 And I went by, & lo he was gone: I sought him, but his place could no where be found.

38 Keepe innocencie, and take heede vnto the thing that is right: for that shall bring a man peace at the last.

39 As for the transgressours, they shal perish together: and the ende of the vngodly is, they shalbe rooted out at the last.

40 But the saluation of the righteous commeth of the Lord: which is also their strength in the time of trouble.

41 And the Lord shall stande by them, and saue them: he shall deliuer them from the vngodly, and shall saue them, because they put their trust in him.

Domine ne in furore. Psal. 38.

1 PUt mee not to rebuke (O Lorde) in thine anger: neither chasten me in thy heauie displeasure. (O Morning prayer.

2 For thine arrowes sticke fast in mee: and thy hande presseth mee sore.

3 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy displeasure: neither is there any rest in my bones, by reason of my sinne.

4 For my wickednesses are gone ouer my head: and are like a sore burden too heauie for me to beare.

5 My woundes stinke, & are corrupt: through my foolishnesse.

6 I am brought into so great trouble and miserie: that I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loynes are filled with a sore disease: and there is no whole part in my body.

8 I am feeble and sore smitten: I haue roared for the very disquietnesse of my heart.

9 Lorde, thou knowest all my desire: and my groning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my strength hath fayled me: & the sight of mine eyes is gone from me.

11 My louers and my neighbours did stande looking vpon my trouble: and my kinsemen stoode afarre off.

12 They also that sought after my life, layde snares for me: and they that went about to do me euill, talked of wickednes, and imagined deceite all the day long.

13 As

13 As for mee, I was like a deafe man, & heard not: and as one that is dumbe, which doeth not open his mouth.
14 I became euen as a man that heareth not: and in whose mouth are no reproofes.
15 For in thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust: thou shalt answere for me, O Lorde my God.
16 I haue required that they (euen mine enemies) should not triumph ouer me: for when my foote slipt, they reioyced greatly against mee.
17 And I truely am set in the plague: and my heauinesse is euer in my sight.
18 For I will confesse my wickednesse: and be sorry for my sinne.
19 But mine enemies liue, and are mighty: and they that hate mee wrongfully, are many in number.
20 They also that rewarde euill for good, are against mee: because I followe the thing that good is.
21 Forsake me not, O Lorde my God: be not thou farre from me.
22 Haste thee to helpe me: O Lorde God of my saluation.

Dixi, Custodiam. Psal. 39.

1 I Sayd, I will take heede to my wayes: that I offend not in my tongue.
2 I wil keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle:) while the vngodly is in my sight.
3 I held my tongue & spake nothing: I kept silence, yea euen from good words, but it was payne and griefe to me.
4 My heart was hote within mee, and while I was thus musing, the fire kindled: and at the last I spake with my tongue.
5 Lord, let me know mine ende, and the number of my dayes: that I may be certified how long I haue to liue.
6 Behold, thou hast made my dayes as it were a span long: and mine age is euen as nothing in respect of thee, and verely euery man liuing is altogether vanitie.
7 For man walketh in a vayne shadowe, & disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and can not tell who shal gather them.
8 And now Lord, what is my hope: truely my hope is euen in thee.
9 Deliuer me from all mine offences: & make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.
10 I became dumbe, & opened not my mouth: for it was thy doing.
11 Take thy plague away from me: I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauy hand.
12 Whē thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beautie to consume away like as it were a moth fretting a garment: euery man therefore is but vanitie.
13 Heare my prayer, O Lorde, and with thine eares consider my calling: hold not thy peace at my teares.
14 For I am a straunger with thee, and a sojourner: as all my fathers were.
15 Oh spare me a litle, that I may recouer my strength: before I goe hence, and be no more seene.

Expectans expectaui. Psal. 40.

1 I Waited patiently for the Lord: and he enclined vnto me, and heard my calling.
2 He brought mee also out of the horrible pit, out of the myre & clay: and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.
3 And he hath put a newe song in my mouth: euen a thankes giuing vnto our God.
4 Many shal see it, and feare: and shal put their trust in the Lord.
5 Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lord: and turned not vnto the proude, and to such as go about with lyes.
6 O Lord my God, great are thy wonderous workes which thou hast done: like as be also thy thoughtes which are to vswarde, and yet there is no man that ordereth them vnto thee.
7 If I would declare them & speake of them: they should be mo then I am able to expresse.
8 Sacrifice and meate offring thou wouldest not haue: but mine eares hast thou opened.
9 Burnt offrings & sacrifice for sinne hast thou not required: then sayd I, Lo, I come.
10 In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I should fulfill thy will, O my God: I am content to do it, yea thy lawe is within my heart.
11 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great congregation: lo, I wil not refraine my lippes, O Lord, and that thou knowest.
12 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within my heart: my talking hath bene of thy trueth, and of thy saluation.
13 I haue not kept backe thy louing mercie & trueth: from the great congregation.
14 Withdrawe not thou thy mercie from me, O Lorde: let thy louing kindenesse and thy trueth alway preserue me.
15 For innumerable troubles are come about me, my sinnes haue taken such hold vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are moe in number then the heares of mine head, and my heart hath fayled me.
16 O Lord, let it be thy pleasure to deliuer me: make haste (O Lord) to helpe me.
17 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seeke after my soule to destroy it: let that be driuen backewarde and put to rebuke them wish me euill.
18 Let them bee desolate and rewarded with shame, that say vnto me: Fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.
19 Let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: & let such as loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praysed.

20 As for mee, I am poore and needy: but the Lord careth for me.
21 Thou art my helper and redeemer: make no long tarying, O my God.

Beatus qui intelligit. Psal. 41.

Euening prayer.

1 BLessed is he that considereth the poore (and needie:) the Lord shal deliuer him in the time of trouble.
2 The Lorde preserue him & keepe him aliue, that he may bee blessed vpon earth: and deliuer not thou him into the will of his enemies.
3 The Lord comfort him when he lieth sicke vpon his bed: make thou all his bedde in his sickenesse.
4 I sayd, Lord be mercifull vnto me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.
5 Mine enemies speake euill of me: when shal he dye, and his name perish?
6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanitie: and his heart conceiueth falsehood within himselfe, & when he cõmeth forth, he telleth it.
7 All mine enemies whisper together against mee: euen against me doe they imagine this euill.
8 Let the sentence of guyltinesse proceede against him: and nowe that he lyeth, let him rise vp no more.
9 Yea, euen mine owne familiar friend whom I trusted: which did also eate of my bread, hath layde great wayte for me.
10 But be thou mercifull vnto mee, O Lorde: rayse thou me vp againe, and I shall reward them.
11 By this I knowe thou fauourest mee: that mine enemie doeth not triumph against mee.
12 And when I am in my health, thou vpholdest mee: and shalt set me before thy face for euer.
13 Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel: worlde without ende. Amen.

Quemadmodum. Psal. 42.

1 LIke as the Hart desireth the water brookes: so longeth my soule after thee, O God.
2 My soule is a thirst for God, yea, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come to appeare before the presence of God?
3 My teares haue bene my meate day & night: while they dayly say vnto me, Where is now thy God?
4 Nowe when I thinke thereupon, I powre out my heart by my selfe: for I went with the multitude, and brought them forth into the house of God.
5 In the voyce of prayse and thankes giuing: among such as keepe holy day.
6 Why art thou so full of heauinesse (O my soule:) and why art thou so disquieted within mee?
7 Put thy trust in God: for I wil yet giue him thankes for the helpe of his countenance.
8 My God, my soule is vexed within mee: therfore wil I remember thee, concerning the land of Jordan, and the litle hill of Hermon.
9 One deepe calleth another, because of the noyse of the water pipes: all thy waues and stormes are gone ouer me.
10 The Lord hath granted his louing kindenes on the day time: and in the night season did I sing of him, and made my prayer vnto the God of my life.
11 I wil say vnto the God of my strẽgth, Why hast thou forgotten me: why goe I thus heauily, while the enemie oppresseth me?
12 My bones are smitten asunder as with a sworde: while mine enemies (that trouble me) cast me in the teeth.
13 Namely while they say dayly vnto mee: Where is nowe thy God?
14 Why art thou so vexed, O my soule: & why art thou so disquieted within me?
15 O put thy trust in God: for I wil yet thanke him which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Iudica me Deus. Psal. 43.

1 GIue sentence with me, O God, and defende my cause against the vngodly people: O deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.
2 For thou art the God of my strength, why hast thou put me from thee: and why goe I so heauily, while the enemie oppresseth me?
3 O sende out thy light and thy trueth, that they may leade me: and bring me vnto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.
4 And that I may goe vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I giue thankes vnto thee, O God, my God.
5 Why art thou so heauie, O my soule: and why art thou so disquieted within me?
6 O put thy trust in God: for I will yet giue him thankes, which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Deus auribus. Psal. 44.

1 WEe haue heard with our eares: O God, our fathers haue told vs: what thou hast done in their time of olde. Morning prayer.
2 Howe thou hast driuen out the heathen with thy hande, and planted them in: how thou hast destroyed the nations, and cast them out.
3 For they gate not the lande in possession through their owne sworde: neyther was it their owne arme that helped them.

4 But thy right hand and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance: because thou haddest a fauour vnto them.
5 Thou art my king (O God:) send helpe vnto Jacob.
6 Through thee will we ouerthrowe our enemies: and in thy name will we treade them vnder that rise vp against vs.
7 For I wil not trust in my bowe: it is not my swoorde that shal helpe me.
8 But it is thou that sauest vs from our enemies: & puttest them to confusion that hate vs.
9 We make our boast of God all day long: and wil prayse thy name for euer.
10 But nowe thou art farre off, and puttest vs to confusion: and goest not forth with our armies.
11 Thou makest vs to turne our backes vpon our enemies: so that they which hate vs, spoile our goods.
12 Thou lettest vs to be eaten vp like sheepe: and hast scattered vs among the heathen.
13 Thou sellest thy people for nought: and takest no money for them.
14 Thou makest vs to be rebuked of our neighbours: to be laughed to scorne, and had in derision of them that are round about vs.
15 Thou makest vs to be a byworde among the Heathen: and that the people shake their heads at vs.
16 My confusion is dayly before mee: and the shame of my face hath couered me.
17 For the voyce of the slaunderer and blasphemer: for the enemie and auenger.
18 And though all this be come vpon vs, yet do wee not forget thee: nor behaue our selues frowardly in thy couenant.
19 Our heart is not turned backe: neyther our steppes gone out of thy way.
20 No not when thou hast smitten vs into the place of dragons: and couered vs with the shadowe of death.
21 If we haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden vp our hands to any strange God: shall not God searche it out: for he knoweth the very secrets of the heart.
22 For thy sake also are wee killed all the day long: and are counted as sheepe appoynted to be slayne.
23 Up Lord, why sleepest thou: awake and be not absent from vs for euer.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face: and forgettest our miserie and trouble?
25 For our soule is brought low, euen vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.
26 Arise and helpe vs: and deliuer vs for thy mercies sake.

Eructauit cor meum. Psal. 45.

1 MY heart is inditing of a good matter: I speake of the things which I haue made vnto the king.
2 My tongue is the pen: of a ready writer.
3 Thou art fayrer then the children of men: full of grace are thy lippes, because God hath blessed thee for euer.
4 Girde thee with thy swoorde vpon thy thigh, O thou most mightie: according to thy worship and renoume.
5 Good lucke haue thou with thine honour: ride on, because of ỹ woorde of trueth, of meekenes, and righteousnesse, and thy right hande shall teache thee terrible things.
6 Thy arrowes are very sharpe, and the people shall be subdued vnto thee: euen in the middes among the kings enemies.
7 Thy seate (O God) endureth for euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a right scepter.
8 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: wherefore God (euen thy God) hath anoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.
9 All thy garments smell of Myrrhe, Aloes, and Cassia: out of the Ivorie palaces, whereby they haue made thee glad.
10 Kings daughters were among thy honourable women: vpon thy right hand did stande the Queene in a vesture of golde (wrought about with diuers colours.)
11 Hearken (O daughter) and consider, encline thine eare: forget also thine owne people, and thy fathers house.
12 So shall ỹ king haue pleasure in thy beauty: for he is thy Lord (God) & worship thou him.
13 And the daughter of Tyre shalbe there with a gift: like as the rich also among the people shall make their supplication before thee.
14 The kings daughter is al glorious within: her clothing is of wrought golde.
15 She shall be brought vnto the king in rayment of needle worke: the virgins that be her fellowes shall beare her company, and shall be brought vnto thee.
16 With ioy & gladnes shall they bee brought: and shall enter into the kings palace.
17 In steade of thy fathers thou shalt haue children: whome thou mayest make princes in all landes.
18 I will remember thy name frō one generation vnto another: therefore shall the people giue thankes vnto thee, world without ende.

Deus noster refugium. Psal. 46.

1 GOd is our hope and strength: a very present helpe in trouble.
2 Therefore will not wee feare though the earth bee moued: and though the hilles be caried into the middes of the sea.
3 Though the waters thereof rage and swell: and though the mountaines shake at the tempest of the same.
4 The riuers of the flood thereof shall make glad the citie of God: the holy place of the tabernacle of the most highest.

5 God is in the middest of her, therefore shall she not be remoued: God shall helpe her, and that right earely.
6 The heathen make much a doe, & the kingdomes are moued: but God hath shewed his voyce, and the earth shal melt away.
7 The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Jacob is our refuge.
8 O come hither, and behold the workes of the Lord: what destruction he hath brought vpon the earth.
9 He maketh warres to cease in all the world: he breaketh the bowe, & knappeth the speare in sunder, and burneth the chariots in the fire.
10 Be still then, and knowe that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I wil be exalted in the earth.
11 The Lorde of hostes is with vs: the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Omnes gentes plaudite. Psal. 47.

Euening prayer.

1 O Clappe your handes together, (all ye people:) O sing vnto God with the voyce of melodie.
2 For the Lord is high, and to be feared: he is the great king vpon all the earth.
3 He shall subdue the people vnder vs: and the nations vnder our feete.
4 He shall chuse out an heritage for vs: euen the worship of Jacob whom he loued.
5 God is gone vp with a mery noyse: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpe.
6 O sing prayses, sing prayses vnto (our) God: O sing prayses, sing prayses vnto our king.
7 For God is the king of all the earth: sing ye prayses with vnderstanding.
8 God raigneth ouer the heathen: God sitteth vpon his holy seate.
9 The princes of the people are ioyned vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for God (which is very hie exalted) doeth defende the earth as it were with a shielde.

Magnus Dominus. Psal. 48.

1 GReat is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the citie of our God, euen vpon his holy hill.
2 The hill of Sion is a fayre place, & the ioy of the whole earth: vpon the Northside lyeth the citie of the great king, God is well knowen in her palaces, as a sure refuge.
3 For loe, the kings of the earth: are gathered and gone by together.
4 They marueiled to see such thinges: they were astonied, and suddenly cast downe.
5 Feare came there vpon them, and sorow: as vpon a woman in her trauayle.
6 Thou shalt breake the shippes of the Sea: through the East winde.
7 Like as we haue heard, so haue we seene in the citie of the Lord of hosts, in the citie of our God: God vpholdeth the same for euer.
8 We waite for thy louing kindnes (O God:) in the middes of thy temple.
9 O God, according vnto thy name, so is thy prayse vnto the worldes ende: thy right hand is full of righteousnesse.
10 Let the mount Sion reioyce, & the daughters of Juda be glad: because of thy iudgements.
11 Walke about Sion, and goe rounde about her: and tell the towres thereof.
12 Marke well her bulwarkes, set vp her houses: that ye may tell them that come after.
13 For this God is our God for euer and euer: he shalbe our guide vnto death.

Audite hæc omnes. Psal. 49.

1 O Heare ye this all ye people: ponder it with your eares all yee that dwell in the worlde.
2 High and lowe, rich and poore: one with another.
3 My mouth shal speake of wisedome: and my heart shall muse of vnderstanding.
4 I will encline mine eare vnto the parable: & shew my darke speech vpon the Harpe.
5 Wherefore shoulde I feare in the dayes of wickednesse: and when the wickednesse of my heeles compasseth me round about.
6 There bee some that put their trust in their goods: and boast themselues in the multitude of their riches.
7 But no man may deliuer his brother: nor make agreement vnto God for him.
8 For it cost more to redeeme their soules: so that he must let that alone for euer.
9 Yea, though he liue long: and see not the graue.
10 For he seeth that wise men also dye, & perish together: as wel as the ignorant and foolish, and leaue their riches for other.
11 And yet they thinke that their houses shall cõtinue for euer: & that their dwelling places shal endure from one generation to another, & call the landes after their owne names.
12 Neuertheless, man wil not abide in honour: seeing he may be compared vnto the beastes that perish, this is the way of them.
13 This is their foolishnesse: and their posteritie prayse their saying.
14 They lie in ỹ hell like sheepe, death gnaweth vpon them, & the righteous shall haue domination of them in the morning: their beautie shall consume, in the sepulchre out of their dwelling.
15 But God shal deliuer my soule from ỹ place of hell: for he shall receiue me.
16 Be not thou afrayde though one be made riche: or if the glory of his house be increased.

17 For

17 For he shall carry nothing away with him when he dyeth: neyther shall his pompe followe him.
18 For while he liued, he counted himselfe an happy man: and so long as thou doest well vnto thy selfe, men will speake good of thee.
19 He shall followe the generation of his fathers: and shall neuer see light.
20 Man being in honor, hath no vnderstãding: but is compared vnto the beastes that perish.

Deus Deorum. Psal. 50.

Morning prayer.

1 THe Lorde, euen the most mightie God, hath spoken: and called the worlde, from the rising vp of the sunne, vnto the going downe thereof.
2 Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beautie.
3 Our God shall come, and shall not keepe silence: there shal goe before him a consuming fire, and a mightie tempest shall be stirred vp round about him.
4 He shall call the heauen from aboue: and the earth, that he may iudge his people.
5 Gather my saintes together vnto me: those that haue made a couenant with mee, with sacrifice.
6 And the heauens shal declare his righteousnesse: for God is iudge himselfe.
7 Heare, O my people, and I will speake: I my selfe wil testifie against thee, O Israel, for I am God, euen thy God.
8 I wil not reproue thee, because of thy sacrifices, or for thy burnt offerings: because they were not alway before me.
9 I will take no bullocke out of thy house: nor hee goates out of thy foldes.
10 For all the beasts of the forest are mine: and so are the cattels vpon a thousande hilles.
11 I know al the foules vpon the mountaines: and the wilde beastes of the fielde are in my sight.
12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the whole world is mine, and all that is therein.
13 Thinkest thou that I wil eate Bulles flesh: and drinke the blood of goates?
14 Offer vnto God thanksgiuing: and pay thy vowes vnto the most highest.
15 And call vpon me in the time of trouble: so wil I heare thee, and thou shalt prayse me.
16 But vnto the vngodly sayde God: why doest thou preache my lawes, and takest my couenant in thy mouth?
17 Where as thou hatest to bee reformed: and hast cast my wordes behinde thee.
18 When thou sawest a thiefe, thou consentedst vnto him: and hast bene partaker with the adulterers.
19 Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse: and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceite.
20 Thou satest and spakest against thy brother: yea, and hast slaundered thine owne mothers sonne.
21 These things hast thou done, and I helde my tongue, & thou thoughtest wickedly that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: but I will reproue thee, and set before thee the thinges that thou hast done.
22 O consider this, ye that forget God: least I plucke you away, and there be none to deliuer you.
23 Who so offereth me thankes and prayse, hee honoureth mee: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, will I shew the saluation of God.

Miserere mei Deus. Psal. 51.

1 HAue mercie vpon mee (O God) after thy great goodnesse: according vnto the multitude of thy mercies, do away mine offences.
2 Wash me thoroughly from my wickednesse: and cleanse me from my sinne.
3 For I knowledge my faultes: and my sinne is euer before me.
4 Against thee onely haue I sinned, and done this euill in thy sight: that thou mightest bee iustified in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.
5 Beholde, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.
6 But loe, thou requirest trueth in the inward partes: and shalt make me to vnderstand wisdome secretly.
7 Thou shalt purge mee with Hysope, and I shalbe cleane: thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter then snowe.
8 Thou shalt make me heare of ioy and gladnesse: that the bones which thou hast broken may reioyce.
9 Turne thy face from my sinnes: and put out all my misdeedes.
10 Make me a cleane heart, O God: and renew a right spirit within thee.
11 Cast me not away from thy presence: and take not thy holy spirit from me.
12 O giue me the comfort of thy helpe againe: and stablish me with thy free spirite.
13 Then shall I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked: and sinners shalbe conuerted vnto thee.
14 Deliuer me from bloodguiltinesse, O God, thou that art the God of my health: and my tongue shal sing of thy righteousnesse.
15 Thou shalt open my lippes, (O Lorde:) and my mouth shall shewe thy prayse.
16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, els would I giue it thee: but thou delightest not in burnt offerings.
17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirite: a broken and contrite heart (O God) shalt thou not despise.

18 O be fauourable and gracious vnto Sion: buylde thou the walles of Hierusalem.
19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousnesse, with the burnt offrings and oblations: then shal they offer yong bullocks vpon thine altar.

Quid gloriaris? Psal. 52.

1 WHy boastest thou thy selfe, thou tyrant: that thou canst do mischiefe?
2 Whereas the goodnes of God: endureth yet dayly.
3 Thy tongue imagineth wickednesse: and with lies thou cuttest like a sharpe rasor.
4 Thou hast loued vnrighteousnes more then goodnesse: and to talke of lyes more then righteousnesse.
5 Thou hast loued to speake all wordes that may do hurt: O thou false tongue.
6 Therefore shall God destroy thee for euer: he shall take thee, and plucke thee out of thy dwelling, and roote thee out of the land of the liuing.
7 The righteous also shall see this, and feare: and shall laugh him to scorne.
8 Loe, this is the man that tooke not God for his strength: but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, and strengthened himselfe in his wickednesse.
9 As for me, I am like a greene Oliue tree in the house of God: my trust is in the tender mercy of God for euer and euer.
10 I will alwayes giue thankes vnto thee for that thou hast done: and I will hope in thy name, for thy saintes like it well.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 53.

Euening prayer.

1 THe foolish body hath said in his heart: There is no God.
2 Corrupt are they, and become abominable in their wickednesse: there is none that doeth good.
3 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke after God.
4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abhominable: there is also none that doeth good, no not one.
5 Are not they without vnderstanding that worke wickednesse: eating vp my people as if they would eate bread: they haue not called vpon God.
6 They were afrayde where no feare was: for God hath broken the bones of him that besieged thee, thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath despised them.
7 Oh that the saluation were giuen vnto Israel out of Sion: oh that the Lorde would deliuer his people out of captiuitie.
8 Then should Iacob reioyce: & Israel should be right glad.

Deus in nomine. Psal. 54.

1 SAue me, O God, for thy names sake: and auenge me in thy strength.
2 Heare my prayer, O God: and hearken vnto the wordes of my mouth.
3 For strangers are risen vp against me: and tyrantes (which haue not God before their eyes) seeke after my soule.
4 Behold, God is my helper: the Lord is with them that vpholde my soule.
5 He shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: destroy thou them in thy trueth.
6 An offering of a free heart will I giue thee, and prayse thy name (O Lord:) because it is so comfortable.
7 For he hath deliuered me out of all my trouble: and mine eye hath seene his desire vpon mine enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 55.

1 HEare my prayer, O God: and hide not thy selfe from my petition.
2 Take heede vnto me, & heare me: how I mourne in my prayer, and am vexed.
3 The enemy crieth so, and the vngodly commeth on so fast: for they are minded to do me some mischiefe, so maliciously are they set against me.
4 My heart is disquieted within me: and the feare of death is fallen vpon me.
5 Fearefulnes & trembling are come vpō me: & an horrible dread hath ouerwhelmed me.
6 And I said, O that I had wings like a doue: for then would I flee away, and be at rest.
7 Lo, then would I get me away farre off: and remaine in the wildernesse.
8 I would make haste to escape: because of the stormie winde and tempest.
9 Destroy their tongues (O Lorde) & deuide them: for I haue spyed vnrighteousnesse, and strife in the citie.
10 Day and night they goe about within the walles thereof: mischiefe also and sorowe are in the middes of it.
11 Wickednesse is therein: deceite and guyle go not out of their streetes.
12 For it is not an open enemie that hath done mee this dishonour: for then I could haue borne it.
13 Neither was it mine aduersary that did magnifie himselfe against me: for then (peraduenture) I would haue hid my selfe from him.
14 But it was euen thou my companion: my guide, and mine owne familiar friend.
15 We tooke sweete counsell together: & walked in the house of God as friendes.
16 Let death come hastily vpō them, & let them goe downe quicke into hell: for wickednes is in their dwellings, and among them.

17 As

17 As for me, I will call vpon God: and the Lord ſhall ſaue me.
18 In the euening and morning, and at noone day will I pray, and that inſtantly: and he ſhal heare my voyce.
19 It is hee that hath deliuered my ſoule in peace, from the battell that was againſt mee: for there were many with me.
20 Yea, euen God that endureth for euer ſhall heare me, and bring them downe: for they will not turne, nor feare God.
21 He layde his hands vpon ſuch as be at peace with him: and he brake his couenant.
22 The wordes of his mouth were ſofter then butter, hauing warre in his heart: his wordes were ſmoother then oyle, and yet bee they very ſwordes.
23 O caſt thy burden vpon the Lorde, and hee ſhall nouriſh thee: and ſhal not ſuffer the righteous to fall for euer.
24 And as for them: thou, O God, ſhalt bring them into the pit of deſtruction.
25 The bloodthirſtie and deceitfull men ſhall not liue out halfe their dayes: neuertheleſſe, my truſt ſhall be in thee, O Lord.

Miſerere mei Deus. Pſal. 56.

Morning prayer.

1 BE mercifull vnto mee, O God, for man goeth about to deuoure me: he is dayly fighting and troubling me.
2 Mine enemies are dayly in hand to ſwallowe me vp: for they be many that fight againſt mee, O thou moſt higheſt.
3 Neuertheleſſe, though I am ſometime afrayde: yet put I my truſt in thee.
4 I will prayſe God becauſe of his worde: I haue put my truſt in God, and will not feare what fleſh can do vnto me.
5 They dayly miſtake my words: al that they imagine, is to do me euill.
6 They holde all together, and keepe themſelues cloſe: and marke my ſteps, when they lay in wayte for my ſoule.
7 Shall they eſcape for their wickednеſſe: thou (O God) in thy diſpleaſure ſhalt caſt them downe.
8 Thou telleſt my flittings, put my teares into thy bottell: are not theſe thinges noted in thy booke?
9 Whenſoeuer I cal vpon thee, then ſhal mine enemies bee put to flight: this I knowe, for God is on my ſide.
10 In Gods word will I reioyce: in the Lords word will I comfort me.
11 Yea in God haue I put my truſt: I will not be afraide what man can do vnto me.
12 Unto thee (O God) will I pay my vowes: vnto thee will I giue thankes.
13 For thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from death, and my feete from falling: that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

Miſerere mei Deus. Pſal. 57.

1 BE mercifull vnto me, O God, be merciful vnto me, for my ſoule truſteth in thee: and vnder the ſhadow of thy wings ſhal be my refuge, vntill this tyrannie bee ouerpaſt.
2 I will cal vnto the moſt high God: euen vnto the God that ſhall perfourme the cauſe which I haue in hand.
3 Hee ſhall ſende from heauen: and ſaue mee from the reproofe of him that would eate mee vp.
4 God ſhall ſende forth his mercie and truth: my ſoule is among Lions.
5 And I lie euen among the children of men (that are ſet on fire:) whoſe teeth are ſpeares and arrowes, and their tongue a ſharpe ſworde.
6 Set vp thy ſelfe, O GOD, aboue the heauens: and thy glorye aboue all the earth.
7 They haue layd a net for my feete, and preſſed downe my ſoule: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the middes of it themſelues.
8 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will ſing and giue prayſe.
9 Awake vp my glory, awake lute and harpe: I my ſelfe will awake right earely.
10 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: and I will ſing vnto thee among the nations.
11 For the greatneſſe of thy mercy reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.
12 Set vp thy ſelfe, O GOD, aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.

Si vere vtique. Pſal. 58.

1 ARe your mindes ſet vpon righteouſneſſe, O yee congregation: and doe yee iudge the thing that is righte, O yee ſonnes of men?
2 Yea, ye imagine miſchiefe in your heart vpō the earth: and your hands deale with wickedneſſe.
3 The vngodly are frowarde euen from their mothers wombe: aſſoone as they bee borne they goe aſtray, and ſpeake lyes.
4 They are as venemous as the poyſon of a Serpent: euen like the deafe Adder that ſtoppeth her eares.
5 Which refuſeth to heare the voyce of the charmer: charme he neuer ſo wiſely.
6 Breake their teethe (O GOD) in their mouthes, mouthes, smite the chawe bones of the Lions, O Lorde: let them fall away like water that runneth a pace, and when they shoote their arrowes, let them be rooted out.

7 Let them consume away like a snayle, and bee like the untimely fruite of a woman: and let them not see the Sunne.

8 Or euer your pottes bee made whote with thornes: so let indignation vexe him, euen as a thing that is rawe.

9 The righteous shall reioyce when hee seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his footesteps in the blood of the vngodly.

10 So that a man shall say, Verely there is a reward for the righteous: doubtlesse there is a God that iudgeth the earth.

Eripe me de inimicis. Psal. 59.

Euening prayer.

1 DEliuer mee from mine enemies, (O God:) defend me from them that rise vp against me.

2 O deliuer mee from the wicked doers: and saue mee from the bloodthirstie men.

3 For lo, they lye waiting for my soule: the mightie men are gathered against mee, without any offence or fault of me, O Lord.

4 They runne and prepare them selues without my fault: arise thou therefore to helpe me, and behold.

5 Stande vp (O Lorde God of hostes) thou God of Israel, to visite all the heathen: and be not mercifull vnto them that offend of malicious wickednesse.

6 They goe to and fro in the euening: they grinne like a dogge, and run about through the citie.

7 Behold, they speake with their mouth, and swordes are in their lippes: for who doeth heare?

8 But thou, O Lorde, shalt haue them in derision: and thou shalt laugh all the Heathen to scorne.

9 My strength will I ascribe vnto thee: for thou art the God of my refuge.

10 God sheweth me his goodnesse plenteously: and God shall let me see my desire vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, least my people forget it: but scatter them abroade among the people, and put them downe, O Lord, our defence.

12 For the sinne of their mouth, and for the wordes of their lippes, they shall bee taken in their pride: and why? their preaching is of cursing and lies.

13 Consume them in thy wrath, consume thē, that they may perish: & knowe that it is God which ruleth in Jacob, and vnto the endes of the world.

14 And in the euening they will returne: grin like a dogge, and will goe about the citie.

15 They will runne heare and there for meate: and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 As for me, I will sing of thy power, & will praise thy mercie betimes in the morning: for thou hast bene my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee (O my strength) will I sing: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my merciful God.

Deus repulisti nos. Psal. 60.

1 O God, thou hast cast vs out, and scattered vs abroade: thou hast also bene displeased, O turne thee vnto vs againe.

2 Thou hast mooued the lande, and deuided it: heale the sores thereof, for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people heauie things: thou hast giuen vs a drinke of deadly wine.

4 Thou hast giuen a token for such as feare thee: that they may triumph because of the trueth.

5 Therfore were thy beloued deliuered: helpe me with thy right hand, and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holinesse, I will reioyce and deuide Sichem: and mete out the valley of Sucoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Juda is my lawe giuer.

8 Moab is my wash pot, ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: Philistia be thou glad of me.

9 Who will lead me into the strong citie: who will bring me into Edom?

10 Hast thou not cast vs out, O God: wilt not thou, O God, goe out with our hostes?

11 O be thou our helpe in trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God shall we doe great acts: for it is he that shall treade downe our enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 61.

1 HEare my crying, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 Frō the ends of ẏ earth wil I cal vnto thee: whē my heart is in heauines.

3 O set me vp vpon the rocke ẏ is higher then I: for thou hast bene my hope, and a strong towre for me against the enemie.

4 I will dwel in thy tabernacle for euer: & my trust shalbe vnder the couering of thy wings.

5 For thou, O Lord, hast heard my desires: and hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy name.

6 Thou shalt graunt the king a long life: that his yeres may endure throughout all generations.

7 Hee [illegible] dwell before God for euer: O prepare thy louing mercie and faithfulnesse, that they may preserue him.

8 So will I alwayes sing prayse vnto thy name: ẏ I may daily perfourme my vowes.

Nonne Deo. Psal. 62.

Morning prayer.

1 MY soule truely waiteth still vpon God: for of him cometh my saluation.

2 He verily is my strength and my saluation: hee is my defence, so that I shall not greatly fall.

3 How long wil ye imagine mischiefe against euery man: ye shalbe slayne al the sort of you, yea as a tottering wall shall ye be, and like a broken hedge.

4 Their deuice is onely howe to put him out whom God will exalt: their delight is in lies, they giue good words with their mouth, but curse with their heart.

5 Neuertheless, my soule waite thou still vpon God: for my hope is in him.

6 He truely is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not fall.

7 In God is my health & my glory: the rocke of my might, and in God is my trust.

8 O put your trust in him alway (ye people:) powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope.

9 As for ỹ children of men, they are but vaine: the children of men are deceitfull vpon the weights, they are altogether lighter then vanitie it selfe.

10 O trust not in wrong and robberie, giue not your selues vnto vanitie: if riches encrease, set not your heart vpon them.

11 God spake once & twise: I haue also heard the same, that power belongeth vnto God.

12 And that thou Lorde art mercifull: for thou rewardest euery man according to his worke.

Deus Deus meus. Psal. 63.

1 O God, thou art my God: early will I seeke thee.

2 My soule thirsteth for thee, my flesh also longeth after thee: in a barre and drie lande, where no water is.

3 Thus haue I looked for thee in holines: that I might behold thy power and glory.

4 For thy louing kindnesse is better then the life it selfe: my lips shall prayse thee.

5 As long as I liue will I magnifie thee on this maner: & lift vp my hands in thy name.

6 My soule shall bee satisfied euen as it were with marrowe and fatnesse: when my mouth prayseth thee with ioyfull lippes.

7 Haue I not remembred thee in my bed: and thought vpon thee when I was waking?

8 Because thou hast bene my helper: therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wings will I reioyce.

9 My soule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hand hath vpholden me.

10 These also that seeke the hurt of my soule: they shall go vnder the earth.

11 Let them fall vpon the edge of the sworde: that they may be a portion for foxes.

12 But the king shall reioyce in God, all they also that sweare by him, shalbe commended: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shall bee stopped.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 64.

1 HEare my voyce, O God, in my praier: preserue my life frō feare of ỹ enemie.

2 Hide mee from the gathering together of the frowarde: and from the insurrection of wicked doers.

3 Which haue whet their tongue like a sworde: and shoote out their arrowes, euen bitter wordes.

4 That they may priuily shoote at him which is perfect: suddenly doe they hit him, and feare not.

5 They courage themselues in mischiefe: and commune among themselues how they may lay snares, and say that no man shall see them.

6 They imagine wickednesse, and practise it: that they keepe secret among them selues, euery man in the deepe of his heart.

7 But God shall suddenly shoote at them with a swift arrow: that they shalbe wounded.

8 Yea, their owne tongues shall make them fall: insomuch that who so seeeth them, shall laugh them to scorne.

9 And all men that see it, shall say, This hath God done: for they shall perceyue that it is his worke.

10 The righteous shal reioyce in the Lord, and put his trust in him: and all they that are true of heart, shall be glad.

Te decet hymnus. Psal. 65.

1 THou, O God, art praysed in Sion: and vnto thee shal the vowe be performed in Hierusalem. Euening prayer.

2 Thou that hearest ỹ praier: vnto thee shall al flesh come.

3 My misdeedes preuayle against mee: oh be thou mercifull vnto our sinnes.

4 Blessed is the man whome thou chusest and receiuest vnto thee: he shal dwell in thy court, and shalbe satisfied with the pleasures of thy house, euen of thy holy temple.

5 Thou shalt shewe vs wonderfull things in thy righteousnesse, O God of our saluation: thou that art the hope of all the endes of the earth, & of them that remaine in the broad sea.

6 Which in his strength setteth fast the mountaines: and is girded about with power.

7 Which stilleth the raging of the sea: and the noise of his waues, & ỹ madnes of his people.

8 They also that dwel in the vttermost parts of the earth, shalbe afraide at thy tokens: thou that makest the outgoings of the morning and euening to prayse thee.

9 Thou

9 Thou visitest the earth, and blessest it: thou makest it very plenteous.
10 The riuer of God is full of water: thou prepарest their corne, for so thou prouidest for the earth.
11 Thou waterest her furrowes, thou sendest rayne into the litle valleyes thereof: thou makest it soft with the droppes of rayne, and blessest the encrease of it.
12 Thou crownest the yere with thy goodnes: and thy cloudes drop fatnesse.
13 They shall droppe vpon the dwellings of the wildernesse: and the litle hilles shall reioyce on euery side.
14 The foldes shall be full of sheepe: the valleyes also shall stande so thicke with corne, that they shall laugh and sing.

Iubilate Deo. Psal. 66.

1 O Be ioyfull in God all ye landes: sing prayses vnto the honour of his name, make his prayse to be glorious.
2 Say vnto God, O how wonderfull art thou in thy workes: through the greatnes of thy power shall thine enemies be found lyers vnto thee.
3 For all the world shall worship thee: sing of thee, and prayse thy name.
4 O come hither, and beholde the workes of God: howe wonderfull hee is in his doing toward the children of men.
5 Hee turned the sea into drie lande: so that they went through the water on foote, there did we reioyce thereof.
6 He ruleth with his power for euer, his eyes behold the people: and such as wil not beleeue, shall not be able to exalt themselues.
7 O prayse our God (ye people:) and make the voice of his praise to be heard.
8 Which holdeth our soule in life: and suffereth not our feete to slip.
9 For thou (O God) hast proued vs: thou also hast tried vs, like as siluer is tried.
10 Thou broughtest vs into the snare: and laidst trouble vpon our loynes.
11 Thou sufferedst men to ride ouer our heads: wee went through fire and water, and thou broughtest vs out into a wealthy place.
12 I wil go into thy house with burnt offrings: and will pay thee my vowes which I promised with my lippes, and spake with my mouth when I was in trouble.
13 I will offer vnto thee fat burnt sacrifices, with the incense of rammes: I will offer bullockes and goates.
14 O come hither and hearken all ye that feare God: and I will tell you what hee hath done for my soule.
15 I called vnto him with my mouth: and gaue him prayses with my tongue.
16 If I incline vnto wickednes with my heart: the Lord will not heare me.
17 But God hath heard me: and considered the voyce of my prayer.
18 Praysed bee God, which hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercie from me.

Deus misereatur. Psal. 67.

1 GOd be merciful vnto vs, and blesse vs: and shew vs the light of his countenance, and be mercifull vnto vs.
2 That thy way may be knowen vpon earth: thy sauing health among all nations.
3 Let the people prayse thee, O God: yea, let all the people praise thee.
4 O let the nations reioyce and bee glad, for thou shalt iudge the folke righteously: & gouerne the nations vpon earth.
5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.
6 Then shall the earth bring foorth her encrease: and God, euen our owne God, shall giue vs his blessing.
7 God shall blesse vs: and all the endes of the world shall feare him.

Exurgat Deus. Psal. 68.

1 LEt God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him, flee before him. Morning prayer.
2 Like as ẏ smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou driue thē away: and like as waxe melteth at the fire, so let the vngodly perish at the presence of God.
3 But let the righteous be glad & reioyce before God: let them also be mery and ioyfull.
4 O sing vnto God, and sing prayses vnto his name: magnifie him that rideth vpon ẏ heauens as it were vpon an horse, praise him in his name, yea, and reioyce before him.
5 He is a father of the fatherlesse, and defendeth the cause of the widowes: euen God in his holy habitation.
6 He is the God that maketh men to be of one minde in an house, and bringeth the prisoners out of captiuitie: but letteth the runnagates continue in scarcenesse.
7 O God, when thou wentest foorth before the people: when thou wentest through the wildernesse.
8 The earth shooke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of God: euen as Sinai also was mooued at the presence of God, which is the God of Israel.
9 Thou, O God, sentest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance: and refreshedst it when it was wearie.
10 Thy congregation shall dwell therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy goodnesse prepared for the poore.
11 The Lord gaue the worde: great was the company of the preachers.

12 Kings with their armies did flee, and were discomfited: and they of the housholde deuided the spoyle.
13 Though yee haue lyen among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a Doue: that is couered with siluer wings, and her fethers like golde.
14 When the almightie scattered kings for their sake: then were they as white as snowe in Salmon.
15 As the hil of Basan, so is Gods hill: euen an high hill, as the hill of Basan.
16 Why hop yee so yee high hilles? this is Gods hill, in ỹ which it pleaseth him to dwel: yea, the Lord will abide in it for euer.
17 The charets of God are twentie thousande, euen thousands of angels: and the Lorde is among them as in the holy place of Sinai.
18 Thou art gone vp on high, thou hast ledde captiuitie captiue, and receiued gifts for men: yea, euen for thy enemies, that the Lorde God might dwell among them.
19 Praysed bee the Lorde dayly: euen the God which helpeth vs, and powreth his benefites vpon vs.
20 He is our God, euen the God of whom commeth saluation: God is the Lorde, by whome we escape death.
21 God shall wounde the head of his enemies: and the heary scalpe of such a one as goeth on still in his wickednesse.
22 The Lord hath sayde, I will bring my people againe, as I did from Basan: mine owne will I bring againe, as I did sometime from the deepe of the sea.
23 That thy foote may bee dipped in thè blood of thine enemies: and that the tongue of thy dogges may be red through the same.
24 It is well seene, O God, howe thou goest: howe thou my God and king goest in the sanctuarie.
25 The singers go before, the minstrels follow after: in the middest are the damosels playing with the tymbrels.
26 Giue thankes, O Israel, vnto God ỹ Lorde in the congregations: from the ground of the heart.
27 There is litle Beniamin their ruler, and the princes of Juda their counsell: the princes of Zabulon, and the princes of Nepthali.
28 Thy God hath sent forth strength for thee: stablish ỹ thing, O God, ỹ thou hast wrought in vs.
29 For thy Temples sake at Jerusalem: so shal kings bring presents vnto thee.
30 When the companie of the spearemen, and multitude of the mightie, are scattered abroade among the beastes of the people (so that they humbly bring pieces of siluer:) and whē he hath scattered the people that delight in warre.
31 Then shall the princes come out of Egypt: the Moryans lande shall soone stretch out her hands vnto God.
32 Sing vnto God, O yee kingdomes of the earth: O sing prayses vnto the Lord.
33 Which sitteth in the heauens ouer all from the beginning: lo, he doth send out his voyce, yea, and that a mightie voyce.
34 Ascribe yee the power to God ouer Israel: his worship and strength is in the cloudes.
35 O God, wonderfull art thou in thy holy places: euen the God of Israel, hee will giue strength and power vnto his people, blessed be God.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 69.

1 SAue me, O God: for the waters are come in, euen vnto my soule. Euening prayer.
2 I sticke fast in the deepe mire where no ground is: I am come into deepe waters, so that the floods runne ouer me.
3 I am weary of crying, my throte is drie: my sight faileth me for waiting so long vpon my God.
4 They that hate me without a cause, are moe then the heares of my head: they that are mine enemies, and would destroy me giltlesse, are mightie.
5 I payd them the things that I neuer tooke: God thou knowest my simplenesse, and my faultes are not hid from thee.
6 Let not thē that trust in thee, O Lorde God of hostes, bee ashamed for my cause: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O Lord God of Israel.
7 And why? for thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.
8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren: euen an aliant vnto my mothers children.
9 For the zeale of thy house hath euen eaten me: and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.
10 I wept and chastened my selfe with fasting: and that was turned to my reproofe.
11 I put on a sackcloth also: and they iested vpon me.
12 They that sit in the gate spake against mee: and the drunkards make songs vpon me.
13 But Lord I make my prayer vnto thee: in an acceptable time.
14 Heare mee, O God, in the multitude of thy mercie: euen in the trueth of thy saluation.
15 Take mee out of the mire, that I sinke not: oh let mee bee deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.
16 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

17 Heare

17 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnes is comfortable: turne thee vnto me, according to the multitude of thy mercies.
18 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: oh haste thee, and heare mee.
19 Drawe nigh vnto my soule, and saue it: oh deliuer me, because of mine enemies.
20 Thou hast knowen my reproofe, my shame, and my dishonour: mine aduersaries are all in thy sight.
21 Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heauinesse: I looked for some to haue pitie on mee, but there was no man, neyther found I any to comfort me.
22 They gaue me gall to eate: and whē I was thirstie, they gaue me vineger to drinke.
23 Let their table be made a snare to take themselues withall: and let the things (that should haue bene for their wealth) bee vnto them an occasion of falling.
24 Let their eyes bee blinded that they see not: and euer bowe downe their backes.
25 Powre out thine indignation vpon them: and let thy wrathfull displeasure take hold of them.
26 Let their habitation be voyd: and no man to dwell in their tents.
27 For they persecute him whome thou hast smitten: and they talke howe they may vexe them whom thou hast wounded.
28 Let them fall from one wickednesse to another: and not come into thy righteousnesse.
29 Let them bee wiped out of the booke of the liuing: and not be written among the righteous.
30 As for mee, when I am poore and in heauinesse: thy helpe (O God) shall lift me vp.
31 I will praise the name of God with a song: and magnifie it with thankesgiuing.
32 This also shall please the Lord: better then a bullocke, that hath hornes and hoofes.
33 The humble shall consider this, & bee glad: seeke ye after God, and your soule shall liue.
34 For the Lorde heareth the poore: and despiseth not his prisoners.
35 Let heauē and earth praise him: the sea and all that moueth therein.
36 For God will saue Sion, and builde the cities of Juda: that men may dwell there, and haue it in possession.
37 The posteritie also of his seruantes shall inherit it: and they that loue his name shal dwel therein.

Deus in adiutorium. Psal. 70.

1 HAste thee, O God, to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.
2 Let them bee ashamed and confounded that seeke after my soule: let them bee turned backewarde and put to confusion that wish me euill.
3 Let them (for their reward) be soone brought to shame: that cry ouer me, There, there.
4 But let all those that seeke thee, bee ioyfull and glad in thee: and let all such as delight in thy saluation, say alway, The Lorde be praysed.
5 As for me, I am poore and in miserie: haste thee vnto me (O God.)
6 Thou art my helper and my redeemer: O Lord make no long tarying.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 71.

1 IN thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust, let me neuer bee put to confusion: but rid mee, and deliuer mee in thy righteousnesse, encline thine eare vnto me, and saue me. Morning prayer.
2 Be thou my strong hold, whereunto I may alway resort: thou hast promised to helpe me, for thou art my house of defence, and castle.
3 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hande of the vngodly: out of the hande of the vnrighteous and cruell man.
4 For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for: thou art my hope, euen from my youth.
5 Through thee haue I bene holden vp euer since I was borne: thou art he that tooke mee out of my mothers wombe, my praise shall be alway of thee.
6 I am become as it were a monster vnto many: but my sure trust is in thee.
7 O let my mouth bee filled with thy praise: (that I may sing of thy glory) and honour all the day long.
8 Cast me not away in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth me.
9 For mine enemies speake against me, and they that lay waite for my soule, take their counsell together, saying: God hath forsaken him, persecute him, and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.
10 Goe not farre from mee, O God: my God, haste thee to helpe me.
11 Let them be confounded and perish, that are against my soule: let them bee couered with shame and dishonour, that seeke to do me euil.
12 As for me, I wil patiently abide alway: and will praise thee more and more.
13 My mouth shall dayly speake of thy righteousnesse and saluation: for I knowe no ende thereof.
14 I will goe forth in the strength of the Lord God: and will make mention of thy righteousnesse onely.
15 Thou, O God, hast taught me frō my youth vp vntill nowe: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes.
16 Forsake mee not, O God, in mine olde age, when I am gray headed: vntil I haue shewed thy thy strength vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that are yet for to come.

17 Thy righteousnesse, O God, is very high: and great things are they that thou hast done, O God, who is like vnto thee?

18 O what great troubles and aduersities hast thou shewed mee, and yet diddest thou turne and refresh me: yea, and broughtest mee from the deepe of the earth againe.

19 Thou hast brought me to great honour: and comforted me on euery side.

20 Therefore will I praise thee and thy faithfulnesse (O God) playing vpon an instrument of musicke; vnto thee will I sing vpon the Harpe, O thou holy one of Israel.

21 My lippes will be faine when I sing vnto thee: and so will my soule whom thou hast deliuered.

22 My tongue also shal talke of thy righteousnesse all the day long: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame that seeke to doe me euill.

Deus iudicium. Psal. 72.

1 GIue ỳ king thy iudgements (O God:) and thy righteousnesse vnto the kings sonne.

2 Then shall he iudge the people according vnto right: and defend the poore.

3 The mountaines also shall bring peace: and the litle hilles righteousnesse vnto the people.

4 He shall keepe ỳ simple folke by their right: defende the children of the poore, and punish the wrong doer.

5 They shal feare thee as long as ỳ sunne and moone endureth: from one generation to another.

6 Hee shall come downe like the rayne into a fliece of wooll: euen as the droppes that water the earth.

7 In his time shall the righteous flourish: yea, and abundance of peace, so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall be frō the one sea to the other: & from the flood vnto the worlds ende.

9 They that dwel in the wildernes shal kneele before him: his enemies shall licke the dust.

10 The Kings of Tharsis and of the Iles shall giue presentes: the Kings of Arabia and Saba shall bring gifts.

11 All kings shall fall downe before him: al nations shall do him seruice.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore whē he crieth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shalbe fauourable to the simple & needie: and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 Hee shall deliuer their soules from falshood and wrong: and deare shall their blood bee in his sight.

15 He shall liue, and vnto him shall be giuen of the golde of Arabia: prayer shalbe made euer vnto him, and dayly shall he be praysed.

16 There shal be an heape of corne in the earth high vpon the hilles: his fruite shal shake like Libanus, and shall bee greene in the citie, like grasse vpon the earth.

17 His name shall endure for euer, his name shall remaine vnder the sunne among the posterities: which shall bee blessed through him, and all the heathen shall praise him.

18 Blessed be the Lorde God, euen the God of Israel: which onely doeth wonderous things.

19 And blessed bee the name of his maiestie for euer: and all the earth shall bee filled with his maiestie, Amen. Amen.

Quam bonus Israel. Psal. 73.

1 SVrely God is louing vnto Israel: euen vnto such as are of a cleane heart. Euening prayer.

2 Neuertheless, my feete were almost gone: my treadings had welnigh slipt.

3 And why? I was grieued at the wicked: I doe also see the vngodly in such prosperitie.

4 For they are in no perill of death: but are lustie and strong.

5 They come in no misfortune like other folke: neither are they plagued like other men.

6 And this is the cause that they bee so holden with pride: and ouerwhelmed with crueltie.

7 Their eyes swell with fatnesse: and they doe euen what they lust.

8 They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: their talking is against the most highest.

9 For they stretch forth their mouth vnto the heauen: and their tongue goeth through the world.

10 Therefore fall the people vnto them: and thereout sucke they no small aduantage.

11 Tush (say they) howe should God perceiue it: is there knowledge in the most highest?

12 Loe, these are the vngodly, these prosper in the world, and these haue riches in possession: and I sayd, Then haue I clensed my heart in vaine, and washed my hands in innocencie.

13 All the day long haue I bene punished: and chastened euery morning.

14 Yea, and I had almost said euen as they: but loe, then should I haue condemned the generation of thy children.

15 Then thought I to vnderstande this: but it was too hard for me.

16 Until I went into the Sanctuarie of God: then vnderstood I the ende of these men.

17 Namely, howe thou doest set them in slipperie places: and castest thē downe, and destroyest them.

18 Oh

18 Oh howe suddenly do they consume: perish, and come to a fearefull ende?
19 Yea, euen like as a dreame when one awaketh: so shalt thou make their image to vanish out of the citie.
20 Thus my heart was grieued: and it went euen through my reines.
21 So foolish was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beast before thee.
22 Neuertheless, I am alway by thee: for thou hast holden me by my right hand.
23 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsell: and after that receiue me with glory.
24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: & there is none vpon earth that I desire in comparison of thee.
25 My flesh & my heart fayleth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for euer.
26 For loe, they that forsake thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that commit fornication against thee.
27 But it is good for mee to holde mee fast by God, to put my trust in the Lord God: and to speake of all thy workes (in the gates of the daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid Deus. Psal. 74.

1 O God, wherefore art thou absent from vs so long: why is thy wrath so hote against the sheepe of thy pasture?
2 O thinke vpon thy congregation: whom thou hast purchased & redeemed of old.
3 Thinke vpon the tribe of thine inheritance: and mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt.
4 Lift vp thy feete, that thou mayest vtterly destroy euery enemie: which hath done euill in thy sanctuarie.
5 Thine aduersaries roare in the middes of thy congregations: and set vp their banners for tokens.
6 He that hewed timber afore out of the thicke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.
7 But nowe they breake downe all the carued worke thereof: with Axes and Hammers.
8 They haue set fire vpō thy holy places: and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy name, euen vnto the ground.
9 Yea, they saide in their hearts, Let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houses of God in the land.
10 Wee see not our tokens, there is not one Prophet more: no not one is there among vs that vnderstandeth any more.
11 O God, howe long shall the aduersarie doe this dishonour: howe long shall the enemie blaspheme thy name, for euer?
12 Why withdrawest thou thy hand: why pluckest not thou thy right hande out of thy bosome to consume the enemie?
13 For God is my king of olde: the helpe that is done vpon earth, he doeth it him selfe.
14 Thou diddest deuide the sea through thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.
15 Thou smotest the heades of Leuiathan in pieces: and gauest him to bee meate for the people in the wildernesse.
16 Thou broughtest out fountaines and waters out of the hard rockes: thou driedst vp mightie waters.
17 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.
18 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Sommer and Winter.
19 Remember this, O Lorde, howe the enemie hath rebuked: and how the foolish people hath blasphemed thy name.
20 O deliuer not the soule of thy turtle Doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the congregatiō of the poore for euer.
21 Looke vpon the couenant: for al the earth is full of darkenesse and cruell habitations.
22 Oh let not the simple goe away ashamed: but let the poore and needie giue prayse vnto thy name.
23 Arise, O God, maintaine thine owne cause: remember howe the foolish man blaspheme th thee daily.
24 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: the presumptiō of them that hate thee, encreaseth euer more and more.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal. 75.

1 VNto thee (O God) doe wee giue thankes: yea vnto thee doe we giue thankes. Morning prayer.
2 Thy name also is so nigh: and that doe thy wonderous workes declare.
3 When I receiue the congregation: I shall iudge according vnto right.
4 The earth is weake, and all the inhabiters thereof: I beare vp the pillars of it.
5 I sayd vnto the fooles, Deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, Set not vp your horne.
6 Set not vp your horne on high: and speake not with a stiffe necke.
7 For promotion cōmeth neither frō the East nor from the West: nor yet from the South.
8 And why? God is the iudge: hee putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.
9 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, & the wine is red: it is full mixt, and he powreth out of the same.
10 As for the dregs thereof: all the vngodly of the earth shal drinke them, and sucke thē out.
11 But I will talke of the God of Iacob: and prayse him for euer.
12 All the hornes of the vngodly also will I breake: and the hornes of the righteous shall be exalted.

The xli. Chapter.

God ſetteth foorth the malice, the members, the ſtrēgth, and the pride of Leuiathan.

1 CAnſt thou drawe out [a] Leuiathan with an hooke? or binde his tongue with a corde?
2 Canſt thou put a hooke in the noſe of him? or bore his iaw through with a naule?
3 Wil he make many faire words with thee, or flatter thee?
4 Wil he make a couenant with thee? or wilt thou take him for a ſeruant for euer?
5 Wilt thou take thy paſtime with him, as with a birde, wilt thou binde him for thy maidens?
6 That thy companions may make a banquet of him, or ſhall he be parted among the merchants?
7 Canſt thou fill the baſket with his ſkinne? or the fiſh panier with his head?
8 Lay thine hand vpon him, [b] remember the battell, and do no more.
9 Behold, his hope is in vayne: for ſhall not [one] periſh euen at the ſight of him?
10 No [c] man is ſo fierce that dare ſtirre him vp: Who is able to ſtand before me?
11 Or who hath giuen me any thing afore hād, that I may reward him againe? All things vnder heauen are mine.
12 I will not keepe ſecret his great ſtrength, his power, nor his comely proportion.
13 Who can diſcouer the [d] face of his garment? or who ſhall come to him with a double bridle?
14 Who [e] ſhall open the doores of his face? for he hath horrible teeth round about.
15 His ſcales are as it were ſtrong ſhieldes, ſo faſtened together as if they were ſealed:
16 One is ſo ioyned to another, that no aire can come in:
17 One hangeth ſo vpon another, and ſticketh ſo together, that they cannot be ſundered.
18 His [f] neeſings make a gliſtering like light, and his eyes like the ‖ morning ſhine.
19 Out of his mouth goe torches, and ſparkes of fire leape out.
20 And out of his noſtrelles there goeth a ſmoke, like as out of an whot ſeething pot or caldron.
21 His breath maketh the coles burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth.
22 In his necke there remaineth ſtrength, and nothing is too laborous for him.
23 The members of his fleſhe are ioyned and cleaue faſt together, and cannot be mooued.
24 His heart is as hard as a ſtone, and as faſt as the ‖ Stithie that the ſmith ſmiteth vpon.
25 When he mooueth himſelfe, the mighty are afraid, and feare troubleth them.
26 If any man draw out a ſword at him, he wil not mooue, neither for the ſpeare, iauelin, nor breſtplate.
27 He ſetteth as much by iron, as by a ſtrawe, and as much by braſſe, as by a rotten ſticke.

30 [g] Sharpe ſtones are vnder him, and he lieth vpon sharpe things, as vpon the ſoft mire.
31 He maketh the [h] deepe to boile like a pot, & ſtirreth the ſea together like an ointment.
32 He maketh the [i] path to ſhine after him, & he maketh the deepe to ſeeme all hoarie.
33 Vpon earth there is no power like vnto his: for he is ſo made that he feareth not.
34 He beholdeth all the high things, [k] hee is a king ouer all the children of pride.

The xlii. Chapter.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends, 12 and his goods are reſtored double vnto him.

1 THen Iob anſwered the Lorde, and ſaid,
2 [a] I know that thou haſt power ouer al things, and that there is no thought hid vnto thee.
3 For who can keepe his owne counſaile ſo ſecret, but it ſhall be knowen? therefore haue I ſpoken that I vnderſtoode not, euen the things that are to wonderful for me, and paſſe mine vnderſtanding.
4 Do [b] hearken thou vnto me alſo, and let me ſpeake: anſwer vnto the thing that I will aſke thee.
5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye [c] ſeeth thee.
6 Wherfore I giue mine owne ſelfe þ blame, a Leuiathan, is a whale.

b For it is dāgerous to truſt Satan in any thing, yea it is hurtfull to touch him: for Leuiathan repreſenteth Satan.

c If the creature cannot be reſiſted, who can compare with the creator?

d That is, who dare put off his ſkinne.

e That is, who dare looke in his mouth?

f That is, he ſpouteth out flames of fire out of his mouth. ‖ Or, eie liddes of the morning.

‖ Or, the nether milſtone.

g For þ hardnes of his ſkinne is ſuch, that he lieth vpon it without paine, as in the ſoft mire.

h He ſpouteth out water in ſuch ſort, that the ſeas ſeeme to boile.

i With a white froth vpon the water.

k He deſpiſeth all other beaſts and monſters, and is þ proudeſt of all other.

a Iob confeſſeth the omnipotencie of God, & bewaileth his offence that he ſpake he wiſt not what.

b Iob deſireth to learne of God.

c He ſaw him not but by his word, which is the face and image of God.

18 Oh howe suddenly do they consume: perish, and come to a fearefull ende:
19 Yea, euen like as a dreame when one awaketh: so shalt thou make their image to vanish out of the citie.
20 Thus my heart was grieued: and it went euen through my reines.
21 So foolish was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beast before thee.
22 Neuertheless, I am alway by thee: for thou hast holden me by my right hand.
23 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsell: and after that receiue me with glory.
24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: & there is none vpon earth that I desire in comparison of thee.
25 My flesh & my heart fainteth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for euer.
26 For loe, they that forsake thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that commit fornication against thee.
27 But it is good for mee to holde mee fast by God, to put my trust in the Lord God: and to speake of all thy workes (in the gates of the daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid Deus. Psal. 74.

1 O God, wherefore art thou absent from vs so long: why is thy wrath so hote against the sheepe of thy pasture?
2 O thinke vpon thy congregation: whom thou hast purchased & redeemed of old.
3 Thinke vpon the tribe of thine inheritance: and mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt.
4 Lift vp thy feete, that thou mayest vtterly destroy euery enemie: which hath done euill in thy sanctuarie.
5 Thine aduersaries roare in the middes of thy congregations: and set vp their banners for tokens.
6 He that hewed timber afore out of the thicke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.
7 But nowe they breake downe all the carued worke thereof: with Axes and Hammers.
8 They haue set fire vpō thy holy places: and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy name, euen vnto the ground.
9 Yea, they saide in their hearts, Let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houses of God in the land.
10 Wee see not our tokens, there is not one Prophet more: no not one is there among vs that vnderstandeth any more.
11 O God, howe long shall the aduersarie doe this dishonour: howe long shall the enemie blaspheme thy name, for euer?
12 Why withdrawest thou thy hand: why pluckest not thou thy right hande out of thy bosome to consume the enemie?
13 For God is my king of olde: the helpe that is done vpon earth, he doeth it him selfe.
14 Thou diddest deuide the sea through t power: thou brakest the heads of the dragon in the waters.
15 Thou smotest the heades of Leuiathan in pieces: and gauest him to bee meate for people in the wildernesse.
16 Thou broughtest out fountaines and waters out of the hard rockes: thou driedst vp mightie waters.
17 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.
18 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Sommer and Winter.
19 Remember this, O Lorde, howe the enemie hath rebuked: and how the foolish people hath blasphemed thy name.
20 O deliuer not the soule of thy turtle Doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the congregatiō of the poore for euer.
21 Looke vpon the couenant: for al the earth is full of darkenesse and cruell habitations.
22 Oh let not the simple goe away ashamed: but let the poore and needie giue prayse vnto thy name.
23 Arise, O God, maintaine thine owne cause: remember howe the foolish man blasphemeth thee daily.
24 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: the presumptiō of them that hate thee, encreaseth euer more and more.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal. 75.

1 VNto thee (O God) doe wee giue thankes: yea vnto thee doe we giue thankes. Morning prayer.
2 Thy name also is so nigh: and that doe thy wonderous workes declare.
3 When I receiue the congregation: I shall iudge according vnto right.
4 The earth is weake, and all the inhabiters thereof: I beare vp the pillars of it.
5 I sayd vnto the fooles, Deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, Set not vp your horne.
6 Set not vp your horne on high: and speake not with a stiffe necke.
7 For promotion cōmeth neither frō the East nor from the West: nor yet from the South.
8 And why? God is the iudge: hee putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye [c] ſeeth thee.

6 Wherefore I giue mine owne ſelfe ꝓ blame, and take repentance in the dust and ashes.

7 Now when the Lord had spokē these words vnto Iob, the Lord said to Eliphaz the Themanite, I am displeased with thee & thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of mee the [d] thing that is right, like as my seruant Iob hath done.

8 Therefore take you now seuen oxen, and seuen rammes, and go to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a whole burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall pray for you: him will I accept, and not deale with you after your foolishnesse, in that ye haue not spoken of me the thing which is right, like as my seruant Iob hath done.

The Psalmes of Dauid.

Beatus vir qui non abijt. Psal. 1.

Morning prayer.

1 BLessed is the man that hath not walked in the counsel of the vngodly, nor stand in the way of sinners: & hath not sit in the seate of the scornefull.

2 But his delight is in the lawe of the Lord: and in his lawe will he exercise himselfe day and night.

3 And he shalbe like a tree planted by the water side: that will bring foorth his fruit in due season.

4 His leafe also shall not wither: and looke whatsoeuer he doeth, it shal prosper.

5 As for the vngodly it is not so with them: but they are like the chaffe which the winde scattereth away from the face of the earth.

6 Therefore the vngodly shall not bee able to stand in the iudgement: neither the sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

7 But the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: and the way of the vngodly shall perish.

Quare fremuerunt. Psal. 2.

1 WHy doe the Heathen so furiously rage together: and why doe the people imagine a vaine thing?

2 The kings of the earth stand vp, and the rulers take counsel together: against the Lord, and against his anointed.

3 Let vs breake their bonds asunder: and cast away their cordes from vs.

4 He that dwelleth in heauen shal laugh them to scorne: the Lorde shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall he speake vnto thē in his wrath: and vexe them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet haue I set my king: vpon my holy hill of Sion.

7 I will preach the lawe, whereof the Lorde hath said vnto me: thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Desire of me, and I shal giue thee the Heathen for thine inheritance: and the vttermost partes of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt bruise them with a rod of iron: and breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.

10 Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be learned ye that are iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare: and reioyce vnto him with reuerence.

12 Kisse the sonne least he be angry, and so ye perish from the right way: if his wrath bee kindled (yea but a litle) blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

Domine quid. Psal. 3.

1 LOrde how are they increased that trouble mee: many are they that rise against me.

2 Many one there be that say of my soule: there is no helpe for him in his God.

3 But thou, O Lorde, art my defender: thou art my worship, and the lifter vp of my head.

4 I did call vpon the Lord with my voyce: & he heard me out of his holy hill.

5 I laid me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not bee afraid for ten thousands of people: that haue set themselues against me round about.

7 Vp Lorde, and helpe me, O my God: for thou smitest all mine enemies vpon ẏ cheeke bone, thou hast broken ẏ teeth of the vngodly.

8 Saluation belongeth vnto the Lorde: and thy blessing is vpon the people.

Cum inuocarem. Psal. 4.

1 HEare me when I call, O God of my righteousnesse: for thou hast set me at libertie when I was in trouble, haue mercie vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O ye sonnes of men, how long will ye blaspheme mine honour: and haue such pleasure in vanitie, and seeke after leasing?

3 Know this also, that the Lorde hath chosen to himselfe the man that is godly: when I call vpon the Lord, he will heare me.

4 Stand in awe, & sinne not: commune with your owne heart, & in your chamber, & be stil.

5 Offer the sacrifice of righteousnesse: and put your trust in the Lord.

6 There be many that say: who will shew vs any good?

7 Lord lift thou vp: the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

8 Thou hast put gladnes in my heart: since the time that their corne and wine and oyle increased.

9 I will lay me downe in peace, and take my rest: for it is thou Lord onely that makest me dwell in safetie.

Verba mea auribus. Psal. 5.

1 POnder my wordes, O Lord: consider my meditation.

2 O harken thou vnto ẏ voice of my calling, my king and my God: for vnto thee will I make my prayer.

3 My voyce shalt thou heare betimes, O Lord: early in the morning will I direct my prayer vnto thee, and will looke vp.

4 For thou art the God that hast no pleasure in wickednes: neither shal any euil dwel wt thee.

5 Such as be foolish shal not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke vanitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy thē that speake leasing: the Lord will abhorre both the bloodthirstie and deceitfull man.

7 But as for me, I wil come into thy house, euen vpō the multitude of thy mercy: & in thy feare will I worship toward thy holy temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousnesse, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For there is no faithfulnesse in his mouth: their inward partes are very wickednesse.

10 Their throte is an open sepulchre: they flatter with their tongue.

11 Destroy thou them, O God, let them perish through their owne imaginations: cast them out in the multitude of their vngodlines, for they haue rebelled against thee.

12 And let all them that put their trust in thee, reioyce: they shall euer be giuing of thanks, because thou defendest them, they that loue thy name shall be ioyfull in thee.

13 For thou Lord wilt giue thy blessing vnto the righteous: & with thy fauourable kindnesse wilt thou defend him, as with a shield.

Domine ne in furore. Psal. 6.

Euening prayer.

1 O Lord rebuke me not in thine indignation: neither chasten me in thy displeasure.

2 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lorde, for I am weake: O Lord heale me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lorde how long wilt thou punish me?

4 Turne thee, O Lord, and deliuer my soule: Oh saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death no man remembreth thee: and who wil giue thee thanks in the pit?

6 I am weary of my groning, euery night wash I my bed: & water my couch with my teares.

7 My beautie is gone for very trouble: and worne away because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye that worke vanitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: ỹ Lord will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shal be confounded & sore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame sodenly.

Domine Deus meus. Psal. 7.

1 O Lord my God, in thee haue I put my trust: saue me from all them that persecute me, and deliuer me.

2 Least he deuour my soule like a lion, & teare it in pieces: while there is none to helpe.

3 O lord my god, if I haue done any such thing: or if there be any wickednes in my hands.

4 If I haue rewarded euill vnto him that delt friendly with me: yea, I haue deliuered him that without any cause is mine enemie.

5 Then let mine enemie persecute my soule, & take me: yea, let him tread my life downe vpon the earth, & lay mine honour in the dust.

6 Stand vp, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe: because of the indignation of mine enemies, arise vp for me in the iudgemēt that thou hast commanded.

7 And so shall the congregation of the people come about thee: for their sakes therefore lift vp thy selfe againe.

8 The Lord shal iudge ỹ people, giue sentence with me, O Lord: according to my righteousnes, & according to the innocencie ỹ is in me.

9 Oh let the wickednes of the vngodly come to an end: but guide thou the iust.

10 For the righteous God: trieth the very hearts and reines.

11 My helpe commeth of God: which preserueth them that are true of heart.

12 God is a righteous iudge, strong and patient: and God is prouoked euery day.

13 If a man will not turne, hee will whet his sword: he hath bent his bowe, & made it redy.

14 He hath prepared for him the instruments of death: he ordeineth his arrowes against the persecuters.

15 Behold, he trauaileth wt mischiefe: he hath conceiued sorow, & brought forth vngodlines.

16 He hath grauen and digged vp a pit: and is fallen himselfe into the destruction that hee made for other.

17 For his trauel shal come vpō his own head: and his wickednes shal fall on his own pate.

18 I wil giue thanks vnto the Lord, according to his righteousnes: and wil praise the name of the Lord the most high.

Domine Dominus. Psal. 8.

1 O Lord our gouernour, how excellent is thy name in all the world: thou ỹ hast set thy glory aboue the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth of very babes and sucklings hast thou ordeined strēgth, because of thine enemies: that thou mightest stil the enemie and the auenger.

3 For I will consider the heauens, euen the works of thy fingers: the moone & the starres which thou hast ordeined.

4 What is man that thou art mindful of him: and the sonne of man that thou visitest him?

5 Thou madest him lower then the angels:

to

to crowne him with glory and worship.
6 Thou makest him to haue dominion of the workes of thy handes: and thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete.
7 All sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field.
8 The foules of the aire, and the fishes of the sea: and whatsoeuer walketh through the pathes of the seas.
9 O Lord our gouernour: how excellent is thy name in all the world?

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 9.

Morning prayer.

1 I Will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lorde, with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy maruelous workes.
2 I will bee glad and reioyce in thee: yea, my songs will I make of thy name, O thou most highest.
3 Whyle mine enemies are driuen backe: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.
4 For thou hast maintained my right, and my cause: thou art set in the throne that iudgest right.
5 Thou hast rebuked the Heathen, and destroyed the vngodly: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.
6 O thou enemie, destructions are come to a perpetual end: euen as the cities which thou hast destroyed, their memoriall is perished with them.
7 But the Lord shall endure for euer: he hath also prepared his seate for iudgement.
8 For he shall iudge the world in righteousnesse: and minister true iudgement vnto the people.
9 The Lord also will be a defence for the oppressed: euen a refuge in due time of trouble.
10 And they that know thy name, will put their trust in thee: for thou Lord hast neuer failed them that seeke thee.
11 O praise the Lord which dwelleth in Sion: shew the people of his doings.
12 For when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth them: and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.
13 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord, consider the trouble which I suffer of them that hate me: thou that liftest me vp frō the gates of death.
14 That I may shew al thy praises within the portes of the daughter of Sion: I will reioice in thy saluation.
15 The heathē are sunke downe in the pit that they made: in the same net which they hidde priuily, is their foote taken.
16 The Lord is knowen to execute iudgement: the vngodly is trapped in the worke of his owne hands.
17 The wicked shalbe turned into hel: and all the people that forget God.
18 For the poore shall not alway be forgotten: the patient abiding of the meeke shall not perish for euer.
19 Vp Lord, and let not man haue the vpper hand: let the heathen be iudged in thy sight.
20 Put them in feare (O Lord:) that the heathen may know themselues to be but men.

Vt quid Domine. Psal. 10.

1 WHy standest thou so farre off (O Lord:) & hidest thy face in [illegible] needfull time of trouble?
2 The vngodly for his owne lust doth persecute the poore: let them be take in the craftie wilinesse that they haue imagined.
3 For the vngodly hath made boast of his owne hearts desire: and speaketh good of the couetous whom God abhorreth.
4 The vngodly is so proud, that he careth not for God: neither is God in all his thoughts.
5 His wayes are alway grieuous: thy iudgements are farre aboue out of his sight, and therefore defieth he all his enemies.
6 For he hath said in his heart, tush, I shal neuer be cast downe: there shall no harme happen vnto me.
7 His mouth is ful of cursing, deceit, & fraud: vnder his tongue is vngodlines and vanitie.
8 He sitteth lurking in the thieuish corners of the streetes: & priuily in his lurking dennes doth he murder the innocent, his eyes are set against the poore.
9 For he lieth waiting secretly, euen as a lion lurketh he in his denne: that hee may rauish the poore.
10 He doth rauish the poore: when hee getteth him into his net.
11 He falleth downe and humbleth himselfe: that the congregation of the poore may fall into the hand of his captaines.
12 He sayd in his heart, Tushe, God hath forgotten: he hideth away his face, and he will neuer see it.
13 Arise (O Lord God) and lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.
14 Wherefore should the wicked blaspheme God: while he doth say in his heart, tush, thou God carest not for it?
15 Surely thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest vngodlines and wrong.
16 That thou mayest take the matter into thy hand: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee, for thou art the helper of the friendlesse.
17 Breake thou the power of the vngodly, and malicious: take away his vngodlinesse, and thou shalt finde none.
18 The Lord is king for euer and euer: & the heathen are perished out of the land.
19 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart, & thine eare harkeneth thereto.

20 To helpe the fatherlesse & poore vnto their right: that the man of the earth bee no more exalted against them.

In Domino confido. Psal. 11.

1 IN the Lorde put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, that she should flee as a bird vnto the hill?

2 For loe, the vngodly bend their bowe, & make ready their arrowes within the quiuer: that they may priuily shoote at them which are true of heart.

3 For the foundations will bee cast downe: and what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy temple: the Lords seate is in heauen.

5 His eyes consider the poore: and his eye lids trieth the children of men.

6 The Lord alloweth the righteous: but the vngodly, and him that delighteth in wickednesse doth his soule abhorre.

7 Upon the vngodly he shal raine snares, fire, and brimstone, storme, and tempest: this shal be their portion to drinke.

8 For the righteous Lorde loueth righteousnesse: his countenance will behold the thing that is iust.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 12.

Evening prayer.

1 HElpe me Lord, for there is not one godly man left: for the faithfull are minished frō among the children of men.

2 They talke of vanitie euery one with his neighbour: they do but flatter with their lips, and dissemble with their double heart.

3 The Lord shall roote out all deceitful lips: and the tongue that speaketh proud things.

4 Which haue said, with our tongue we will preuaile: we are they that ought to speake, who is Lord ouer vs?

5 Now for the comfortlesse troubles sake of the needie: and because of the deepe sighing of the poore.

6 I will vp (saith the Lord:) and will helpe euery one frō him that swelleth against him, and will set them at rest.

7 The words of the Lord are pure words: euen as the siluer which from the earth is tried, and purified seuen times in the fire.

8 Thou shalt keepe them, O Lord: thou shalt preserue him from this generation for euer.

9 The vngodly walke on euery side: when they are exalted, the children of men are put to rebuke.

Vsquequo Domine. Psal. 13.

1 HOw long wilt thou forget mee (O Lord) for euer: how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I seeke counsel in my soule, and be so vexed in my heart: how long shall mine enemies triumph ouer me?

3 Consider and heare me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death.

4 Least mine enemie say, I haue preuailed against him: for if I bee cast downe, they that trouble me will reioyce at it.

5 But my trust is in thy mercie: & my heart is ioyfull in thy saluation.

6 I will sing of the Lord, because he hath delt so louingly with me: yea, I will praise the name of the Lord most highest.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 14.

1 THe foole hath said in his heart: there is no God.

2 They are corrupt and become abominable in their doings: there is not one doth good, (no not one.)

3 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand & seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abominable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

5 Their throte is an opē sepulchre, with their tongues haue they deceiued: the poison of aspes is vnder their lips.

6 Their mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse: their feete are swift to shed blood.

7 Destruction and vnhappinesse is in their wayes, and the way of peace haue they not knowen: there is no feare of God before their eyes.

8 Haue they no knowledge, that they are all such workers of mischiefe: eating vp my people as it were bread?

9 And call not vpon the Lord, there were they brought in great feare (euen where no feare was:) for God is in the generation of the righteous.

10 As for you, ye haue made a mocke at the counsaile of the poore: because he putteth his trust in the Lord.

11 Who shall giue saluation vnto Israel out of Sion: when the Lorde turneth the captiuitie of his people, then shall Iacob reioyce and Israel shall be glad.

Domine quis habitabit? Psal. 15.

1 LOrd who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle: or who shal rest vpon thy holy hill? Morning prayer.

2 Euen hee that leadeth an vncorrupt life: and doth the thing which is right, & speaketh the trueth from his heart.

3 He that hath vsed no deceite in his tongue, nor done euil to his neighbour: and hath not slandered his neighbours.

4 He that setteth not by himselfe, but is lowly in in his owne eyes: and maketh much of them that feare the Lord.

5 He that sweareth vnto his neighbour, and disappointeth him not: though it were to his owne hinderance.

6 He that hath not giuen his money vpon vsury: nor taken reward against the innocent.

7 Who so doeth these things: shall neuer fall.

Conserua me. Psal. 16.

1 PReserue me, O God: for in thee haue I put my trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast saide vnto the Lord: thou art my God, my goods are nothing vnto thee.

3 All my delight is vpon the saints that are in the earth: and vpon such as excell in vertue.

4 But they that run after another God: shall haue great trouble.

5 Their drinke offerings of blood will I not offer: neither make mention of their names within my lips.

6 The Lorde himselfe is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou shalt maintaine my lot.

7 The lot is fallen vnto me in a faire ground: yea, I haue a goodly heritage.

8 I will thanke the Lord for giuing me warning: my reines also chasten me in the night season.

9 I haue set God alwayes before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

10 Wherefore my heart was glad, and my glorie reioyced: my flesh also shall rest in hope.

11 For why? thou shalt not leaue my soule in hell: neither shalt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

12 Thou shalt shew me the path of life, in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there is pleasure for euermore.

Exaudi Domine iustitiam. Psal. 17.

1 HEare the right, O Lord, consider my complaint: and hearken vnto my prayer, that goeth not out of fayned lippes.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence: and let thine eyes looke vpon the thing that is equall.

3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night season, thou hast tried me, and shalt finde no wickednesse in mee: for I am vtterly purposed that my mouth shall not offend.

4 Because of mens workes that are done against the wordes of my lippes: I haue kept me from the wayes of the destroyer.

5 O holde thou vp my goings in thy pathes: that my footesteps slip not.

6 I haue called vpon thee, O God, for thou shalt heare me: encline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shewe thy marueilous louing kindnesse, thou that art the Sauiour of them which put their trust in thee: from such as resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of an eye: hide me vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

9 From the vngodly that trouble me: mine enemies compasse me rounde about, to take away my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne fat: & their mouth speaketh proude things.

11 They lye wayting in our way on euery side: turning their eyes downe to the ground.

12 Like as a Lion that is greedie of his pray: and as it were a lions whelpe lurking in secret places.

13 Vp Lorde, disappoint him, and cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the vngodly, which is a sworde of thine.

14 From the men of thy hand, O Lorde, from the men I say, & from the euill world: which haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thy hid treasure.

15 They haue children at their desire: & leaue the rest of their substance for their babes.

16 But as for me, I will behold thy presence in righteousnes: and when I awake vp after thy likenesse, I shalbe satisfied with it.

Diligam te. Psal. 18.

1 I Will loue thee (O Lorde) my strength, the Lorde is my stonie rocke and my defence: my Sauiour, my God, & my might, in whom I will trust, my buckler, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge. Euening prayer.

2 I will call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

3 The sorowes of death compassed me: and the ouerflowings of vngodlinesse made me afraide.

4 The paines of hell came about me: & snares of death ouertooke me.

5 In my trouble I will call vpon the Lorde: and complaine vnto my God.

6 So shall he heare my voyce out of his holy temple: and my complaint shall come before him, it shall enter euen into his eares.

7 The earth trembled and quaked: the very foundations also of the hilles shooke & were remoued, because he was wroth.

8 There went a smoke out of his presence: and a consuming fire out of his mouth, so that coales were kindled at it.

9 He bowed the heauens also & came downe: and it was darke vnder his feete.

10 He rode vpō the Cherubims, and did flie: he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darknesse his secret place: his pa-

uilion rounde about him, with darke water and thicke cloudes to couer him.
12 At the brightnes of his presence his cloudes remoued: hailestones and coales of fire.
13 The Lord also thundred out of heauen, and the highest gaue his thunder: hailestones and coales of fire.
14 He sent out his arrowes, & scattered them: he cast forth lightnings and destroyed them.
15 The springs of waters were seene, and the foundations of the rounde world were discouered at thy chiding, O Lord: at the blasting of the breath of thy displeasure.
16 He shall send downe from the high to fetch me: and shall take me out of many waters.
17 He shall deliuer mee from my strongest enemie, and from them which hate me: for they are too mightie for me.
18 They preuented me in the day of my trouble: but the Lord was my vpholder.
19 He brought me forth also into a place of libertie: he brought me forth, euen because he had a fauour vnto me.
20 The Lord shall reward me after my righteous dealing: according to the cleannes of my hands shall he recompence me.
21 Because I haue kept the wayes of ỳ Lord: and haue not forsaken my God as the wicked doeth.
22 For I haue an eye vnto all his lawes: & will not cast out his commandements from me.
23 I was also vncorrupt before him: and eschewed mine owne wickednesse.
24 Therefore shall ỳ Lord reward me after my righteous dealing: and according vnto the cleannes of my hands in his eye sight.
25 With the holy, thou shalt be holy: and with a perfect man, thou shalt be perfect.
26 With the cleane, thou shalt be cleane: and with the froward, thou shalt learne frowardnesse.
27 For thou shalt saue the people that are in aduersitie: & shalt bring downe the high lookes of the proude.
28 Thou also shalt light my candle: ỳ Lord my God shall make my darknesse to be light.
29 For in thee I shall discomfite an hoste of men: and with the helpe of my God I shall leape ouer the wall.
30 The way of God is an vndefiled way: the worde of the Lorde also is tryed in the fire, he is the defender of all them that put their trust in him.
31 For who is God but the Lord: or who hath any strength except our God:
32 It is God that girdeth me with strength of warre: and maketh my way perfect.
33 He maketh my feete like hartes feete: and setteth me vp on high.
34 He teacheth my handes to fight: and mine armes shall breake euen a bowe of steele.
35 Thou hast giuē me the defence of thy saluation: thy right hand also shall hold me vp, and thy louing correction shall make me great.
36 Thou shalt make roome ynough vnder me for to go: that my footesteppes shall not slide.
37 I will followe vpon mine enemies, and ouertake them: neither will I turne againe till I haue destroyed them.
38 I will smite them, that they shall not be able to stand: but fall vnder my feete.
39 Thou hast girded me with strength vnto the battell: thou shalt throw downe mine enemies vnder me.
40 Thou hast made mine enemies also to turne their backes vpon me: and I shall destroy them that hate me.
41 They shall crye, but there shall be none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lord shal they crie, but he shall not heare them.
42 I will beate them as small as the dust before the winde: I will cast them out as the clay in the streetes.
43 Thou shalt deliuer me from the striuings of the people: and thou shalt make me the head of the heathen.
44 A people whome I haue not knowen: shall serue me.
45 Assone as they heare of me, they shall obey me: but the strange children shall dissemble with mee.
46 The strange children shall fayle: and be afraide out of their pinsons.
47 The Lord liueth, and blessed be my strong helper: & praised be the God of my saluation.
48 Euen the God which seeth that I be auenged: and subdueth the people vnto me.
49 It is he that deliuereth mee from my (cruell) enemies, and setteth mee vp aboue mine aduersaries: thou shalt rid me from the wicked man.
50 For this cause will I giue thanks vnto thee (O Lord) among the Gentiles: & sing praises vnto thy name.
51 Great prosperitie giueth he vnto his king: and sheweth louing kindnes vnto Dauid his anointed, and vnto his seede for euermore.

Cœli enarrant. Psal. 19.

1 THe heauens declare the glorie of God: and the firmament sheweth his handie worke. Morning prayer.
2 One day telleth another: and one night certifieth another.
3 There is neither speach nor language: but their voyces are heard among them.
4 Their sound is gone out into all lands: and their wordes into the endes of the world.
5 In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne:

sunne: which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his chamber, and reioyceth as a Gyant to runne his course.

6 It goeth forth from the vttermost part of the heauen, and runneth about vnto the ende of it againe: and there is nothing hid from the heate thereof.

7 The law of ỹ Lord is an vndefiled law, conuerting the soule: the testimonie of the Lorde is sure, and giueth wisedome vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the heart: the commandement of ỹ Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, & endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.

10 More to be desired are they then golde, yea, then much fine gold: sweeter also then hony, and the hony combe.

11 Moreouer, by them is thy seruant taught: & in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can tel how oft he offendeth: O clense thou me from my secret faults.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from presumptuous sinnes, least they get the dominion ouer me: so shall I be vndefiled, and innocent from the great offence.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart: be alway acceptable in thy sight.

15 O Lord: my strength, and my redeemer.

Exaudiat te Dominus. Psal. 20.

1 THe Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the name of the God of Iacob defend thee.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuarie: and strength thee out of Sion.

3 Remember all thy offerings: and accept thy burnt sacrifice.

4 Graunt thee thy heartes desire: and fulfill all thy minde.

5 We will reioyce in thy saluation, & triumph in the name of the Lord our God: the Lorde perfourme all thy petitions.

6 Nowe knowe I that the Lorde helpeth his anointed, and will heare him from his holy heauen: euen with the wholsome strength of his right hand.

7 Some put their trust in Charets, and some in Horses: but we will remember the name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen: but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lord, and heare vs, O King of heauen: when we call vpon thee.

Domine in virtute. Psal. 21.

1 THe king shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: exceeding glad shall he be of thy saluation.

2 Thou hast giuē him his hearts desire: & hast not denied him the request of his lips.

3 For thou shalt preuent him with the blessings of goodnes: and shalt set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life: euen for euer and euer.

5 His honour is great in thy saluation: glory and great worship shalt thou lay vpon him.

6 For thou shalt giue him euerlasting felicitie: and make him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 And why? because the King putteth his trust in the Lord: & in the mercy of the most highest, he shall not miscary.

8 All thine enemyes shall feele thy hande: thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fierie ouen in time of thy wrath: the Lorde shall destroy them in his displeasure, and the fire shall consume them.

10 Their fruite shalt thou roote out of the earth: and their seede from among the children of men.

11 For they intended mischiefe against thee: and imagined such a deuice that they are not able to performe.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them to flight: and the stringes of thy bowe shalt thou make readie against the face of them.

13 Bee thou exalted Lorde in thine owne strength: so will wee sing and prayse thy power.

Deus Deus meus. Psal. 22.

1 MY God, my God, (looke vpon mee) why hast thou forsaken me: and art so farre frō my health, & from the wordes of my complaint? Euening prayer.

2 O my God, I cry in the day time, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

3 And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel.

4 Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou diddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But as for me, I am a worme, and no man: a very scorne of men, and the outcast of the people.

7 All they that see mee, laugh me to scorne: they shoote out their lippes, and shake their head, saying.

8 He trusted in God, ỹ he would deliuer him: let him deliuer him, if he will haue him.

9 But thou art he that tooke mee out of my mothers wombe: thou wast my hope when I hanged yet vpon my mothers breasts.

10 I

10 I haue bene left vnto thee euer since I was borne: thou art my God, euen from my mothers wombe.
11 O goe not from mee, for trouble is hard at hand: and there is none to helpe me.
12 Many oxen are come about me: fat Bulles of Basan close me in on euery side.
13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes: as it were a ramping and roaring Lyon.
14 I am powred out like water, and all my bones are out of ioynt: my heart also in the middest of my body is euē like melting waxe.
15 My strength is dried vp like a potsheard, & my tongue cleaueth to my gummes: & thou shalt bring me into the dust of death.
16 For (many) dogges are come about mee: and the counsell of the wicked layeth siege against me.
17 They pearced my hands, and my feete, I may tell all my bones: they stand staring and looking vpon me.
18 They part my garments among them: and cast lots vpon my vesture.
19 But be not thou farre frō me, O Lord: thou art my succour, haste thee to helpe me.
20 Deliuer my soule from the sworde: my darling from the power of the dogge.
21 Saue me from the Lyons mouth: thou hast heard me also from among the hornes of the Unicornes.
22 I will declare thy name vnto my brethren: in the middest of the congregation will I praise thee.
23 O praise the Lorde ye that feare him: magnifie him all ye of the seede of Jacob, & feare him all ye seede of Israel.
24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the lowe estate of the poore, he hath not hid his face from him: but when he called vnto him, he heard him.
25 My praise is of thee in the great congregation: my vowes will I perfourme in the sight of them that feare him.
26 The poore shall eate and be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lorde, shall praise him, your heart shall liue for euer.
27 All the endes of the worlde shall remember themselues, and be turned vnto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before him.
28 For the kingdome is the Lordes: and he is the gouernour among the people.
29 All such as be fat vpon earth: haue eaten and worshipped.
30 All they that goe downe into the dust shall kneele before him: and no man hath quickened his owne soule.
31 My seede shall serue him: they shalbe counted vnto the Lord for a generation.
32 They shall come, & the heauens shall declare his righteousnesse: vnto a people that shalbe borne, whom the Lord hath made.

Dominus regit me. Psal. 23.

1 THe Lorde is my shepheard: therefore can I lacke nothing.
2 He shall feede me in a greene pasture: and leade me forth beside the waters of comfort.
3 He shall conuert my soule: and bring mee forth in the pathes of righteousnesse, for his names sake.
4 Yea, though I walke thorowe the valley of the shadowe of death, I will feare no euill: for thou art with mee, thy rod and thy staffe comfort me.
5 Thou shalt prepare a table before mee, against them that trouble me: thou hast anointed my head with oyle, & my cup shalbe full.
6 But thy louing kindnesse and mercie shall follow me all the dayes of my life: and I wil dwell in the house of the Lord for euer.

Domini est terra. Psal. 24.

1 THe earth is the Lordes, and all that therein is: the compasse of the world, and they that dwell therein. Morning prayer.
2 For he hath founded it vpon the seas: and prepared it vpon the floods.
3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lorde: or who shall rise vp in his holy place?
4 Euen hee that hath cleane handes, and a pure heart: and that hath not lift vp his minde vnto vanitie, nor sworne to deceiue his neighbour.
5 He shall receiue the blessing from the Lord: and righteousnesse from the God of his saluation.
6 This is the generation of them that seeke him: euen of them that seeke thy face, O Jacob.
7 Lift vp your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the King of glory shall come in.
8 Who is the king of glory: it is the Lord strong and mighty, euen the Lord mighty in battell.
9 Lift vp your heades, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the king of glory shall come in.
10 Who is the King of glory: euen the Lorde of hostes, he is the King of glory.

Ad te Domine. Psal. 25.

1 VNto thee, O Lorde, will I lift vp my soule, my God, I haue put my trust in thee: O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enemies triumph ouer me.
2 For all they that hope in thee shall not be ashamed: but such as transgresse without a cause, shalbe put to confusion.

3 Shewe

3 Shewe me thy wayes, O Lorde: & teach me thy pathes.
4 Leade me forth in thy truth, and learne me: for thou art the God of my saluation, in thee hath bene my hope all the day long.
5 Call to remembrance, O Lorde, thy tender mercies: and thy louing kindnes which haue bene euer of olde.
6 Oh remember not the sinnes and offences of my youth: but according to thy mercie thinke thou vpon me (O Lord) for thy goodnesse.
7 Gratious and righteous is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.
8 Them that be meeke shal he guide in iudgement: and such as be gentle, them shall he learne his way.
9 All the pathes of the Lorde are mercy and trueth: vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.
10 For thy names sake, O Lord: be mercifull vnto my sinne, for it is great.
11 What man is he that feareth the Lord: him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.
12 His soule shall dwell at ease: and his seede shall inherite the land.
13 The secrete of the Lord is among them that feare him: and he will shewe them his couenant.
14 Mine eyes are euer looking vnto the Lord: for he shall plucke my feete out of the net.
15 Turne thee vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and in miserie.
16 The sorowes of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles.
17 Looke vpon mine aduersitie and miserie: & forgiue me all my sinne.
18 Consider mine enemies howe many they are: and they beare a tyrannous hate against me.
19 O keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I haue put my trust in thee.
20 Let perfectnes & righteous dealing waite vpon me: for my hope hath bene in thee.
21 Deliuer Israel, O God: out of all his troubles.

Iudica me Domine. Psal. 26.

1 BE thou my iudge, O Lorde, for I haue walked innocently: my trust hath bene also in the Lorde, therefore shall I not fall.
2 Examine me, O Lord, and proue me: try out my reines and my heart.
3 For thy louing kindnes is euer before mine eyes: and I will walke in thy trueth.
4 I haue not dwelt with vaine persons: neither will I haue fellowship with the deceitfull.
5 I haue hated the congregation of the wicked: and will not sit among the vngodly.
6 I will washe my handes in innocencie, O Lord: and so will I goe to thine altar.
7 That I may shew the voyce of thankesgiuing: and tell of all thy wonderous workes.
8 Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thy house: and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9 O shut not vp my soule with the sinners: nor my life with the blood thirstie.
10 In whose handes is wickednes: and their right hands are full of giftes.
11 But as for me, I will walke innocently: O Lord deliuer me, and be mercifull vnto me.
12 My foote standeth right: I will praise the Lord in the congregation.

Dominus illuminatio. Psal. 27.

1 THe Lord is my light and my saluation, whom then shall I feare: the Lorde is the strength of my life, of who then shall I be afraide: Euening prayer.
2 When the wicked (euen mine enemies and my foes) came vpon me to eate vp my flesh: they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoste of men were laide against me, yet shall not my heart be afraide: and though there rose vp warre against me, yet will I put my trust in him.
4 One thing haue I desired of ỹ Lord, which I will require: euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lorde all the dayes of my life: to beholde the faire beautie of the Lorde, and to visite his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his tabernacle: yea, in the secret place of his dwelling shall he hide me, and set me vp vpon a rocke of stone.
6 And nowe shall he lift vp mine head: aboue mine enemies round about me.
7 Therefore will I offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladnesse: I will sing, and speake praises vnto the Lord.
8 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lorde, when I crye vnto thee: haue mercie vpon me, and heare me.
9 My heart hath talked of thee, seeke ye my face: thy face Lord will I seeke.
10 O hide not thou thy face from me: nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure.
11 Thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.
12 When my father and my mother forsake me: the Lord taketh me vp.
13 Teach me thy way, O Lord: and leade me in the right way, because of mine enemies.
14 Deliuer me not ouer into the will of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, and such as speake wrong.
15 I shoulde vtterly haue fainted: but that I beleeue beleeue verily to see the goodnesse of the Lord in the land of the liuing.

16 O tarie thou the Lordes leasure: be strong and he shall comfort thine heart, and put thou thy trust in the Lorde.

Ad te Domine. Psal. 28.

1 VNto thee will I crye, O Lorde, my strength: thinke no scorne of mee, least if thou make as though thou hearest not, I become like them that go downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my humble petitions when I cry vnto thee: when I holde vp my handes towarde the mercy seate of thy holy temple.

3 O plucke me not away (neither destroy me) with the vngodly and wicked doers: which speake friendly to their neighbours, but imagine mischiefe in their hearts.

4 Rewarde them accoyding to their deedes: & accoyding to the wickednesse of their owne inuentions.

5 Recompence them after the woyke of their hands: pay them that they haue deserued.

6 For they regarde not in their minde the woykes of the Lord, nor the operation of his handes: therefoye shal he breake them downe, and not build them vp.

7 Praised be the Lorde: for he hath heard the voice of my humble petitions.

8 The Lord is my strength and my shield, my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therfoye my heart daunceth for ioy, and in my song will I praise him.

9 The Lord is my strength: & he is the wholsome defence of his anointed.

10 O saue thy people, and giue thy blessing vnto thine inheritance: feede them, and set them vp for euer.

Afferte Domino. Psal. 29.

1 BRing vnto the Lorde (O ye mightie) bring young rammes vnto the Lord: ascribe vnto ỹ Lorde woyshipp & strength.

2 Giue the Lord the honour due vnto his name: woyship the Lorde with holy woyshipp.

3 It is the Lorde that commandeth the waters: it is the glorious God that maketh the thunder.

4 It is the Lord that ruleth the sea, the voyce of the Lord is mightie in operation: ỹ voyce of the Lord is a glorious voyce.

5 The voyce of the Lord breaketh the Cedar trees: yea, the Lorde breaketh the Cedars of Libanus.

6 He made them also to skippe like a calfe: Libanus also and Syrion like a young Unicorne.

7 The voyce of the Lord deuideth the flames of fire, the voyce of the Lord shaketh the wildernesse: yea, the Lorde shaketh the wildernesse of Cades.

8 The voyce of the Lord maketh the Hindes to bring foorth young, and discouereth the thicke bushes: in his temple doeth euery man speake of his honour.

9 The Lord sitteth aboue the water flood: and the Lord remaineth a king for euer.

10 The Lorde shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lorde shall giue his people the blessing of peace.

Exaltabo te Domine. Psal. 30.

1 I Will magnifie thee, O Lord, for thou hast set mee vp: and not made my foes to triumph ouer me. Morning prayer.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee: and thou hast healed me.

3 Thou Lorde hast brought my soule out of hell: thou hast kept my life from them that goe downe to the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord (O ye saints of his:) and giue thankes to him for a remembrance of his holinesse.

5 For his wrath endureth but the twinckling of an eye, and in his pleasure is life: heauines may endure for a night, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I said, I shall neuer be remoued: thou Lord of thy goodnes hadst made my hill so strong.

7 Thou diddest turne thy face (fro me:) and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord: and gate me vnto my Lord right humbly.

9 What profite is there in my blood: when I goe downe to the pit?

10 Shall the dust giue thankes vnto thee: or shal it declare thy trueth?

11 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie vpon mee: Lord be thou my helper.

12 Thou hast turned my heauinesse into ioy: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladnesse.

13 Therefoye shall euery good man sing of thy praise without ceasing: O my God, I will giue thankes vnto thee for euer.

In te domine speraui. Psal. 31.

1 IN thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be put to confusion, deliuer me in thy righteousnes.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to mee: make haste to deliuer me.

3 And be thou my strong rocke, and the house of defence: that thou mayest saue me.

4 For thou art my strong rocke, & my castell: be thou also my guide, and leade mee for thy names sake.

5 Draw me out of the net that they haue laide priuily priuily for me: for thou art my strength.

6 Into thy handes I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord, thou God of trueth.
7 I haue hated them that holde of superstitious vanities: and my trust hath bene in the Lord.
8 I will be glad, and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast considered my trouble, and hast knowen my soule in aduersities.
9 Thou hast not shut me vp into the hande of the enemie: but hast set my feete in a large roome.
10 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble: and mine eye is consumed for verie heauines, yea, my soule, and my body.
11 For my life is waxen olde with heauines: and my yeeres with mourning.
12 My strength faileth me, because of mine iniquitie: and my bones are consumed.
13 I became a reproofe among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbours: and they of mine acquaintance were afraide of me, and they that did see me without, conueied themselues from me.
14 I am cleane forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am become like a broken vessell.
15 For I haue heard the blasphemie of ỳ multitude: and feare is on euery side, while they conspire together against me, and take their counsaile to take away my life.
16 But my hope hath bene in thee, O Lord: I haue said, Thou art my God.
17 My time is in thy hand, deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies: and from them that persecute me.
18 Shew thy seruant the light of thy countenance: and saue me for thy mercies sake.
19 Let me not be confounded, O Lorde, for I haue called vpon thee: let the vngodly be put to confusion, and be put to silence in ỳ graue.
20 Let the lying lippes be put to silence: which cruelly, disdainefully, and despitefully speake against the righteous.
21 O how plentifull is thy goodnesse, which thou hast laide vp for them that feare thee: and that thou hast prepared for them that put their trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men!
22 Thou shalt hide them priuily by thine owne presence, from the prouoking of all men: thou shalt keepe them secretely in thy tabernacle, from the strife of tongues.
23 Thankes be to the Lord: for he hath shewed mee marueilous great kindnesse in a strong citie.
24 And when I made haste, I saide: I am cast out of the sight of thine eyes.
25 Neuertheless, thou hearedst the voyce of my prayer: when I cried vnto thee.
26 O loue the Lorde all ye his saintes: for the Lord preserueth them that are faithfull, and plenteously rewardeth the proude doer.
27 Be strong, and he shall stablish your heart: all ye that put your trust in the Lord.

Beati quorum. Psal. 32.

1 BLessed is he whose vnrighteousnes is forgiuen: & whose sinne is couered. Euening prayer.
2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth no sinne: and in whose spirite there is no guile.
3 For while I helde my tongue: my bones consumed away, through my daily complaining.
4 For thy hand is heauie vpon mee day and night: and my moysture is like the drought in sommer.
5 I will knowledge my sinne vnto thee: and mine vnrighteousnesse haue I not hid.
6 I saide, I will confesse my sinnes vnto the Lord: and so thou forgauest the wickednes of my sinne.
7 For this shall euery one that is godly make his prayer vnto thee in a time when thou maiest be found: but in the great water floods they shall not come nigh him.
8 Thou art a place to hide mee in, thou shalt preserue me from trouble: thou shalt compasse me about with songs of deliuerance.
9 I will enforme thee, & teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt goe: and I will guide thee with mine eye.
10 Be ye not like to horse and mule, which haue no vnderstanding: whose mouthes must be holden with bitte and bridle, least they fall vpon thee.
11 Great plagues remaine for the vngodly: but who so putteth his trust in the Lord, mercie embraceth him on euery side.
12 Be glad, O ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lord: & be ioyfull all ye that are true of heart.

Exultate iusti. Psal. 33.

1 REioyce in the Lorde, O ye righteous: for it becommeth well the iust to bee thankfull.
2 Praise the Lorde with Harpe: sing Psalmes vnto him with the Lute, and instrument of ten strings.
3 Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing praises lustily (vnto him) with a good courage.
4 For the worde of the Lorde is true: and all his workes are faithfull.
5 He loueth righteousnes and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.
6 By the word of the Lord were the heauens made: and al the hostes of them by the breath of his mouth.
7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together, as it were vpon an heape: and layeth vp the the deepe as in a treasure house.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: stand in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.
9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stoode fast.
10 The Lord bringeth the counsaile of ỳ heathen to nought: and maketh the deuises of the people to be of none effect, and casteth out the counsailes of Princes.
11 The counsaile of the Lorde shall endure for euer: and the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation.
12 Blessed are the people whose God is ỳ Lord Iehoua: and blessed are the folke that he hath chosen to him to be his inheritance.
13 The Lord looked downe from heauen, & beheelde all the children of men: from the habitation of his dwelling, he considereth al them that dwell in the earth.
14 He fashioneth all the heartes of them: and vnderstandeth all their workes.
15 There is no king that can be saued by the multitude of an hoste: neither is any mightie man deliuered by much strength.
16 A horse is counted but a vaine thing to saue a man: neither shall he deliuer any man by his great strength.
17 Beholde, the eye of the Lorde is vpon them that feare him: and vpon them that put their trust in his mercie.
18 To deliuer their soules from death: and to feede them in the time of dearth.
19 Our soule hath patiently tarryed for ỳ Lord: for he is our helpe, and our shielde.
20 For our heart shall reioyce in him: because we haue hoped in his holy name.
21 Let thy mercifull kindnes (O Lord) be vpon vs: like as we doe put our trust in thee.

Benedicam Domino. Psal. 34.

1 I Will alway giue thankes vnto the Lord: his praise shall euer be in my mouth.
2 My soule shall make her boast of the Lorde: the humble shall heare thereof, and be glad.
3 O praise the Lord with me: and let vs magnifie his name together.
4 I sought the Lord, & he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.
5 They had an eye vnto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.
6 Loe, the poore cryeth, and the Lorde heareth him: yea, and saueth him out of all his troubles.
7 The angell of the Lorde tarryeth rounde about them that feare him: and deliuereth them.
8 O taste and see how gratious the Lorde is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.
9 O feare the Lorde ye that be his saintes: for they that feare him, lacke nothing.
10 The lions doe lacke, and suffer hunger: but they which seeke the Lord, shall want no maner of thing that is good.
11 Come ye children, and hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.
12 What man is he that lusteth to liue, and woulde fayne see good dayes: keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lippes that they speake no guile.
13 Eschewe euill, and doe good: seeke peace, and ensue it.
14 The eyes of ỳ Lord are ouer the righteous: and his eares are open vnto their prayers.
15 The countenance of the Lorde is against them that doe euill: to roote out the remembrance of them from the earth.
16 The righteous crye, and the Lorde heareth them: and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.
17 The Lorde is nigh vnto them that are of a contrite heart: and will saue such as be of an humble spirit.
18 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of all.
19 He keepeth all his bones: so that not one of them is broken.
20 But misfortune shall slay the vngodly: and they that hate the righteous, shalbe desolate.
21 The Lorde deliuereth the soules of his seruants: and all they that put their trust in him, shall not be destitute.

Iudica Domine. Psal. 35.

1 PLeade thou my cause, O Lord, with them that striue with mee: and fight thou against them that fight against me. Morning prayer.
2 Lay hand vpon the shielde and buckler: and stand vp to helpe me.
3 Bring forth the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute mee: say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.
4 Let them be confounded, and put to shame that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, & brought to confusion, that imagine mischiefe for me.
5 Let them be as the dust before the wind: and the angel of the Lord scattering them.
6 Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the angel of the Lord persecute them.
7 For they haue priuily laide their net to destroy me without a cause: yea, euen without a cause haue they made a pit for my soule.
8 Let a sudden destruction come vpon him vnawares, and his net that he hath laide priuily catch himselfe: that he may fall into his owne mischiefe.
9 And my soule be ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

Notus in Iudea. Psal. 76.

2 At Salem is his tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.
3 There brake he the arrowes of the bowe: the shielde, the swoord, and the battell.
4 Thou art of more honour and might: then the hilles of the robbers.
5 The proude are robbed, they haue slept their sleepe: and all the men (whose handes were mightie) haue founde nothing.
6 At thy rebuke (O God of Iacob:) both the charet and horse are fallen.
7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when thou art angry?
8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to bee heard from heauen: the earth trembled and was still.
9 When God arose to iudgement: & to helpe all the meeke vpon earth.
10 The fiercenesse of man shall turne to thy prayse: and the fiercenesse of them shalt thou refraine.
11 Promise vnto the Lord your God, and keepe it, all ye that be round about him: bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.
12 He shall refraine the spirit of princes: & is wonderfull among the kings of the earth.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 77.

1 I Will cry vnto God with my voyce: euen vnto God will I cry with my voyce, and he shall hearken vnto me.
2 In the time of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ran and ceased not, in the night season my soule refused comfort.
3 When I am in heauinesse I will thinke vpon God: when my heart is vexed, I wil complaine.
4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I cannot speake.
5 I haue considered the dayes of old: and the yeeres that are past.
6 I call to remembrance my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne heart, and search out my spirits.
7 Will the Lord absent himselfe for euer: and will he be no more intreated?
8 Is his mercie cleane gone for euer: and is his promise come vtterly to an ende for euermore?
9 Hath God forgotten to bee gracious: and will he shut vp his louing kindnesse in displeasure?
10 And I said, It is mine owne infirmitie: but I will remember the yeeres of the right hand of the most highest.
11 I will remember the workes of the Lord: and call to minde thy wonders of old tyme.
12 I will thinke also of all thy workes: and my talking shall be of thy doings.
13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so great a God (as our God?)
14 Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people.
15 Thou hast mightily deliuered thy people: euen the sonnes of Iacob and Ioseph.
16 The waters sawe thee, O God, the waters sawe thee, and were afraide: the depthes also were troubled.
17 The cloudes powred out water, the ayre thundred: and thine arrowes went abroade.
18 The voyce of thy thunder was heard round about: the lightenings shone vpon ỹ ground, the earth was mooued, and shooke withal.
19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy pathes in the great waters: and thy footesteps are not knowen.
20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

4 That we should not hide them from ỹ children of the generations to come: but to shewe the honour of the Lord, his mightie and wonderfull woorkes that he hath done.

6 That their posteritie might know it: and the children which were yet vnborne.
7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shewe their children the same.
8 That they might put their trust in God: and not to forget the woorkes of God, but to keepe his commandements.
9 And not to be as their forefathers, a faithlesse and stubborne generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit cleaueth not stedfastly vnto God.
10 Like as the children of Ephraim: which being harnessed and carying bowes, turned themselues backe in the day of battaile.
11 They kept not the couenant of God: and would not walke in his lawe.
12 But forgate what he had done: and the wonderfull woorke that he had shewen for them.

2 At Salem is his tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.
3 There brake he the arrowes of the bowe: the shielde, the sword, and the battell.
4 Thou art of more honour and might: then the hilles of the robbers.
5 The proude are robbed, they haue slept their sleepe: and all the men (whose handes were mightie) haue founde nothing.
6 At thy rebuke (O God of Iacob:) both the charet and horse are fallen.
7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when thou art angry?
8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to bee heard from heauen: the earth trembled and was still.
9 When God arose to iudgement: & to helpe all the meeke vpon earth.
10 The fiercenesse of man shall turne to thy prayse: and the fiercenesse of them shalt thou refraine.
11 Promise vnto the Lord your God, and keepe it, all ye that be round about him: bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.
12 He shall refraine the spirit of princes: & is wonderfull among the kings of the earth.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 77.

1 I Will cry vnto God with my voyce: euen vnto God will I cry with my voyce, and he shall hearken vnto me.
2 In the time of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ran and ceased not, in the night season my soule refused comfort.
3 When I am in heauinesse I will thinke vpon God: when my heart is vexed, I wil complaine.
4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I cannot speake.
5 I haue considered the dayes of old: and the yeeres that are past.
6 I call to remembrance my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne heart, and search out my spirits.
7 Will the Lord absent himselfe for euer: and will he be no more intreated?
8 Is his mercie cleane gone for euer: and is his promise come vtterly to an ende for euermore?
9 Hath God forgotten to bee gracious: and will he shut vp his louing kindnesse in displeasure?
10 And I said, It is mine owne infirmitie: but I will remember the yeeres of the right hand of the most highest.
11 I will remember the workes of the Lord: and call to minde thy wonders of old tyme.
12 I will thinke also of all thy workes: and my talking shall be of thy doings.
13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so great a God (as our God?)
14 Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people.
15 Thou hast mightily deliuered thy people: euen the sonnes of Iacob and Ioseph.
16 The waters sawe thee, O God, the waters sawe thee, and were afraide: the depthes also were troubled.
17 The cloudes powred out water, the ayre thundred: and thine arrowes went abroade.
18 The voyce of thy thunder was heard round about: the lightenings shone vpon ẏ ground, the earth was mooued, and shooke withal.
19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy pathes in the great waters: and thy footesteps are not knowen.
20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Attendite popule. Psal. 78.

1 HEare my lawe, O my people: encline your eares vnto the woordes of my mouth. Euening prayer.
2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare hard sentences of olde.
3 Which we haue heard and knowen: and such as our fathers haue tolde vs.
4 That we should not hide them from ẏ children of the generations to come: but to shewe the honour of the Lord, his mightie and wonderfull workes that he hath done.
5 He made a couenant with Iacob, and gaue Israel a lawe: which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children.
6 That their posteritie might know it: and the children which were yet vnborne.
7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shewe their children the same.
8 That they might put their trust in God: and not to forget the workes of God, but to keepe his commandements.
9 And not to be as their forefathers, a faithlesse and stubborne generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit cleaueth not stedfastly vnto God.
10 Like as the children of Ephraim: which being harnessed and carying bowes, turned themselues backe in the day of battaile.
11 They kept not the couenant of God: and would not walke in his lawe.
12 But forgate what he had done: and the wonderfull worke that he had shewed for them.
13 Marueilous things did he in the sight of our forefathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the fielde of Zoan.

14 He deuided the sea, & let them goe through: he made the waters to stand on an heape.
15 In the day time also he ledde them with a cloude: and all the night through with a light of fire.
16 He claue the hard rockes in the wildernesse: and gaue them drinke thereof, as it had bene out of the great depth.
17 He brought waters out of the stonie rocke: so that it gushed out like the riuers.
18 Yet for all this they sinned more against him: and prouoked the most highest in the wildernesse.
19 They tempted God in their hearts: and required meate for their lust.
20 They spake against God also, saying: Shal God prepare a table in the wildernesse?
21 He smote the stonie rocke in deede, that the water gushed out, and the streames flowed withall: but can he giue bread also, or prouide flesh for his people?
22 When the Lord heard this, he was wroth: so the fire was kindled in Jacob, and there came vp heauie displeasure against Israel.
23 Because they beleeued not in God: and put not their trust in his helpe.
24 So he commanded the cloudes aboue: and opened the doores of heauen.
25 He rained downe Manna also vpon them for to eate: and gaue them foode from heauen.
26 So man did eate angels foode: and he sent them meate ynough.
27 He caused the East winde to blowe vnder heauen: and through his power he brought in the South west winde.
28 Hee rained flesh vpon them as thicke as dust: and feathered foules like as the sand of the sea.
29 He let it fall among their tents: euen round about their habitation.
30 So they did eate and were well filled, for he gaue them their owne desire: they were not disappointed of their lust.
31 But whyle the meate was yet in their mouthes, the heauie wrath of God came vpon them, and slue the wealthiest of them: yea and smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.
32 But for all this they sinned yet more: and beleeued not his wonderous workes.
33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie: and their yeeres in trouble.
34 When hee slue them, they sought him: and turned them earely, and enquired after God.
35 And they remembred that God was their strength: and that the high God was their redeemer.
36 Neuertheless, they did but flatter him with their mouth: and dissembled with him in their tongue.
37 For their heart was not whole with him: neither continued they stedfast in his couenant.
38 But he was so mercifull ẏ he forgaue their misdeedes: and destroyed them not.
39 Yea many a time turned he his wrath away: and would not suffer his whole displeasure to arise.
40 For he considered that they were but flesh: and that they were euen a winde that passeth away, and commeth not againe.
41 Many a time did they prouoke him in the wildernesse: and grieued him in the desert.
42 They turned backe and tempted God: and moued the holy one in Israel.
43 They thought not of his hand: and of the day when he deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.
44 Howe he had wrought his myracles in Egypt: and his wonders in the fielde of Zoan.
45 He turned their waters into blood: so that they might not drinke of the riuers.
46 He sent lice among them, & deuoured them vp: and frogges to destroy them.
47 He gaue their fruite vnto the Caterpiller: & their labour vnto the Grashopper.
48 Hee destroyed their Vines with haylestones: and their Mulberie trees with the frost.
49 Hee smote their cattell also with haylestones: and their flockes with hot thunder boltes.
50 Hee cast vpon them the furiousnes of his wrath, anger, displeasure, and trouble: and sent euill angels among them.
51 He made a way to his indignation, and spared not their soule from death: but gaue their life ouer to the pestilence.
52 And smote all the first borne in Egypt: the most principall and mightiest in the dwellings of Ham.
53 But as for his owne people, he ledde them forth like sheepe: and caried them in the wildernesse like a flocke.
54 He brought them out safely that they should not feare: and ouerwhelmed their enemies with the sea.
55 And brought them within the borders of his sanctuarie: euen to his mountaine which he purchased with his right hand.
56 He cast out the heathen also before them: caused their land to be deuided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
57 So they tempted and displeased the most high God: and kept not his testimonies.
58 But turned their backes, and fell away like their forefathers: starting aside like a broken bowe.
59 For they grieued him with their hill altars: and and prouoked him to displeasure with their images.

60 When God heard this, he was wroth: and tooke sore displeasure at Israel.
61 So that he forsooke the Tabernacle in Silo: euen the tent that he had pitched among them.
62 He deliuered their power into captiuitie: & their beautie into the enemies hand.
63 He gaue his people ouer also vnto ý sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.
64 The fire consumed their young men: & their maidens were not giuen to mariage.
65 Their priests were slaine with the sword: and there were no widowes to make lamentation.
66 So the Lorde awaked as one out of sleepe: and like a gyant refreshed with wine.
67 He smote his enemies in the hinder partes: and put them to a perpetuall shame.
68 He refused the tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.
69 But chose the tribe of Juda: euen the hill of Sion, which he loued.
70 And there he builded his temple on high: & laide the foundation of it like the grounde which he hath made continually.
71 He chose Dauid also his seruant: and tooke him away from the sheepefoldes.
72 As he was following the Ewes great with young ones, he tooke him: that he might feede Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.
73 So he fedde them with a faithfull and true heart: and ruled them prudently with all his power.

Deus, venerunt. Psal. 79.

Morning prayer.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thy holy temple haue they defiled, and made Hierusalem an heape of stones.
2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate vnto the foules of the aire: and the flesh of thy saintes vnto the beastes of the land.
3 Their blood haue they shed like water on euery side of Hierusalem: and there was no man to burie them.
4 We are become an open shame to our enemies: a very scorne and derision vnto them that are round about vs.
5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry: shal thy iealousie burne like fire for euer?
6 Powre out thine indignation vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee: and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy name.
7 For they haue deuoured Jacob: & laid waste his dwelling place.
8 O remember not our olde sinnes, but haue mercie vpon vs, and that soone: for wee are come to great miserie.
9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glory of thy name: O deliuer vs, and be mercifull vnto our sinnes for thy names sake.
10 Wherefore doe the heathen say: Where is now their God?
11 O let the vengeance of thy seruantes blood that is shed: be openly shewed vpon the heathen in our sight.
12 O let the sorowfull sighing of the prisoners come before thee: according to the greatnesse of thy power preserue thou those that are appointed to die.
13 And for the blasphemie wherewith our neighbours haue blasphemed thee: reward thou them, O Lorde, seuen folde into their bosome.
14 So we that be thy people and sheepe of thy pasture, shall giue thee thankes for euer: and will alway be shewing forth thy praise from generation to generation.

Qui regis Israel. Psal. 80.

1 Heare, O thou shepheard of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheepe: shewe thy selfe also thou that sittest vpon the Cherubims.
2 Before Ephraim, Beniamin, & Manasses: stirre vp thy strength and come and helpe vs.
3 Turne vs againe, O God: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.
4 O Lord God of hostes: how long wilt thou be angry with thy people that prayeth?
5 Thou feedest them with the bread of teares: and giuest them plenteousnesse of teares to drinke.
6 Thou hast made vs a verie strife vnto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh vs to scorne.
7 Turne vs againe, thou God of hostes: shew the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.
8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.
9 Thou madest roome for it: and when it had taken roote, it filled the land.
10 The hils were couered with the shadowe of it: and the boughes thereof were like ý goodly Cedar trees.
11 She stretched out her branches vnto the sea: and her boughes vnto the riuer.
12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedge: that all they which goe by plucke off her grapes?
13 The wilde Bore out of the wood doeth roote it vp: and the wilde beastes of the field deuoure it.
14 Turne thee againe, thou God of hostes, looke downe from heauen: behold, and visite this vine.

15 And the place of the vineyard that thy right hand hath planted: and the branch that thou madest so strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be vpon the man of thy right hand: and vpon the sonne of man whom thou madest so strong for thine owne selfe.

18 And so will not we goe backe from thee: O let vs liue, and we shall call vpon thy name.

19 Turne vs againe, O Lorde God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.

Exultate Deo. Psal. 81.

1 SIng we merily vnto God our strength: make a cheerefull noise vnto the God of Jacob.

2 Take the Psalme, bring hither ẏ Tabret: the mery harpe, with the Lute.

3 Blow vp the trumpet in the newe moone: euen in the time appointed, and vpon our solemne feast day.

4 For this was made a statute for Israel: and a lawe of the God of Jacob.

5 This he ordeined in Joseph for a testimonie: when he came out of the land of Egypt, and had heard a strange language.

6 I eased his shoulder from the burden: and his handes were deliuered from making the pottes.

7 Thou calledst vpon mee in troubles, and I deliuered thee: and heard thee what time as the stormе fell vpon thee.

8 I proued thee also: at the waters of strife.

9 Heare, O my people, and I will assure thee, O Israel: if thou wilt hearken vnto me.

10 There shall no strange God be in thee: neither shalt thou worship any other God.

11 I am the Lorde thy God, which brought thee out of ẏ land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I shall fill it.

12 But my people would not heare my voyce: and Israel would not obey me.

13 So I gaue them vp vnto their owne hearts lust: and let them followe their owne imaginations.

14 O that my people woulde haue hearkened vnto mee: for if Israel had walked in my wayes.

15 I shoulde soone haue put downe their enemyes: and turned my hand against their aduersaries.

16 The haters of the Lorde should haue bene founde lyars: but their time should haue endured for euer.

17 Thee shoulde haue fedde them also with the fynest wheate floure: and with honie out of the stonie rocke shoulde I haue satisfied thee.

Deus stetit. Psal. 82.

1 GOd standeth in the congregation of princes: he is a iudge among goddes. Euening prayer.

2 Howe long will yee giue wrong iudgement: and accept the persons of the vngodly?

3 Defend the poore & fatherlesse: see that such as be in neede and necessitie haue right.

4 Deliuer the outcast and poore: saue them from the hand of the vngodly.

5 They will not be learned, nor vnderstande, but walke on still in darknes: all the foundations of the earth be out of course.

6 I haue said, Ye are Gods: and ye al are children of the most highest.

7 But ye shall die like men: and fall like one of the princes.

8 Arise, O God, and iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt take all heathen to thine inheritance.

Deus quis similis? Psal. 83.

1 HOlde not thy tongue, O God, keepe not still silence: refraine not thy selfe, O God.

2 For loe, thine enemies make a murmuring: and they that hate thee haue lift vp their head.

3 They haue imagined craftily against thy people: and taken counsaile against thy secret ones.

4 They haue saide, Come, and let vs roote them out, that they be no more a people: and that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they haue cast their heades together with one consent: and are confederate against thee.

6 The tabernacles of the Edomites and the Ismaelites: the Moabites, and Hagarenes.

7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amelech: the Philistines, with them that dwel at Tyre.

8 Assur also is ioyned vnto them: and haue holpen the children of Lot.

9 But doe thou to them as vnto the Madianites: vnto Sisera, and vnto Jabin, at the brooke of Kison.

10 Which perished at Endor: and became as the doung of the earth.

11 Make them and their princes like Oreb and Zeb: yea, make all their princes like as Zeba and Salmana.

12 Which say, let vs take to our selues: the houses of God in possession.

13 O my God, make them like vnto a wheele: and as the stubble before the winde.

14 Like as the fire that burneth vp the wood: and as the flame that consumeth the mountaines.

15 Per-

15 Persecute them euen so with thy tempest: and make them afraide with thy storme.
16 Make their faces ashamed, O Lorde: that they may seeke thy name.
17 Let them be confounded and vexed euer more and more: let them be put to shame and perish.
18 And they shal know, that thou (whose name is Iehouah:) art onely the most highest ouer all the earth.

Quam dilecta. Psal. 84.

1 O How amiable are thy dwellings: thou Lorde of hostes?
2 My soule hath a desire and longing to enter into the courtes of the Lord: my heart and my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.
3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, & the swallowe a nest, where she may lay her young: euen thy altars, O Lorde of hostes, my king and my God.
4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be alway praysing thee.
5 Blessed is the mā whose strength is in thee: in whose heart are thy wayes.
6 Which going through the vale of miserie, vse it for a well: and the pooles are filled with water.
7 They will goe from strength to strength: and vnto the God of Gods appeareth euerie one of them in Sion.
8 O Lorde God of hostes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Iacob.
9 Behold, O God, our defender: and looke vpon the face of thine anointed.
10 For one day in thy courtes: is better then a thousand.
11 I had rather be a doore keeper in the house of my God: then to dwell in the tents of vngodlines.
12 For the Lorde God is a light and defence: the Lord will giue grace and worship, and no good thing shall he withholde from them that liue a godly life.
13 O Lorde God of hostes: blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

Benedixisti Domine. Psal. 85.

1 LOrd thou art become gracious vnto thy lande: thou hast turned away the captiuitie of Iacob.
2 Thou hast forgiuen the offence of thy people: and couered all their sinnes.
3 Thou hast taken away all thy displeasure: and turned thy selfe from thy wrathfull indignation.
4 Turne vs then, O God our Sauiour: & let thine anger cease from vs.
5 Wilt thou be displeased at vs for euer: and wilt thou stretch out thy wrath from one generation to another?
6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs: that thy people may reioyce in thee?
7 Shew vs thy mercy, O Lorde: and graunt vs thy saluation.
8 I will hearken what the Lorde God will say concerning me: for he shall speake peace vnto his people, and to his saints, that they turne not againe.
9 For his saluation is nigh them that feare him: that glory may dwell in our land.
10 Mercie and trueth are mette together: righteousnesse and peace haue kissed eche other.
11 Trueth shall florish out of the earth: and righteousnesse hath looked downe from heauen.
12 Yea, the Lord shall shewe louing kindnesse: and our land shall giue her increase.
13 Righteousnes shall goe before him: and he shall direct his going in the way.

Inclina Domine. Psal. 86.

1 BOw downe thine eare, O Lord, & heare me: for I am poore, and in miserie. Morning prayer.
2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am holy: my God saue thy seruant that putteth his trust in thee.
3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lorde: for I will call dayly vpon thee.
4 Comfort the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee (O Lord) doe I lift vp my soule.
5 For thou Lorde art good and gratious: and of great mercie vnto all them that call vpon thee.
6 Giue eare Lorde vnto my prayer: and ponder the voyce of mine humble desires.
7 In the time of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.
8 Among the gods there is none like vnto thee (O Lord:) there is not one that can doe as thou doest.
9 All nations whom thou hast made, shal come and worship thee, O Lord: and shall glorifie thy name.
10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.
11 Teach me thy way (O Lorde) and I will walke in thy trueth: O knit my heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy name.
12 I will thanke thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and will praise thy name for euermore.
13 For great is thy mercie towarde mee: and thou hast deliuered my soule from the nethermost hell.
14 O God, the proude are risen against me: and the congregations of naughtie men haue sought after my soule, and haue not set thee before their eyes.

15 But thou (O Lord God) art full of compassion and mercy: long suffering, plenteous in goodnes and trueth.

16 O turne thee then vnto me, and haue mercy vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and helpe the sonne of thine handmaide.

17 Shew some good token vpon me for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou Lorde hast holpen me, and comforted me.

Fundamenta eius. Psal. 87.

1 HER foundations are vpon the holy hilles: the Lorde loueth the gates of Sion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

2 Very excellent things are spoken of thee: thou citie of God.

3 I will thinke vpon Rahab and Babylon: with them that knowe me.

4 Beholde ye the Philistines also: and they of Tyre, with the Morians, loe, there was he borne.

5 And of Sion it shalbe reported, that he was borne in her: and the most high shall stablish her.

6 The Lord shall rehearse it when he writeth vp the people: that he was borne there.

7 The singers also & Trumpetters shal be rehearse: all my fresh springs shalbe in thee.

Domine Deus. Psal. 88.

1 O Lorde God of my saluation, I haue cried day and night before thee: O let my prayer enter into thy presence, encline thine eare vnto my calling.

2 For my soule is full of trouble: and my life draweth nigh vnto hell.

3 I am counted as one of them ỳ goe downe into the pit: and I haue bene euen as a man that hath no strength.

4 Free among the dead, like vnto them that be wounded and lie in the graue: which bee out of remembrance, and are cut away from thy hand.

5 Thou hast layed me in the lowest pit: in a place of darkenesse, and in the deepe.

6 Thine indignation lyeth hard vpon me: and thou hast vexed me with all thy stormes.

7 Thou hast put away myne acquaintance farre from me: and made me to be abhorred of them.

8 I am so fast in prison: that I can not get foorth.

9 My sight faileth for very trouble: Lorde, I haue called dayly vpon thee, I haue stretched out my hands vnto thee.

10 Doest thou shewe wonders among the dead: or shall the dead rise vp againe and praise thee?

11 Shall thy louing kindnes be shewed in the graue: or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous workes be knowen in the darke: and thy righteousnes in the land where all things are forgotten?

13 Unto thee haue I cried, O Lord: and earely shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why abhorrest thou my soule: and hydest thou thy face from me?

15 I am in miserie, and like vnto him that is at the point to dye: (euen from my youth vp) thy terrours haue I suffered with a troubled minde.

16 Thy wrathfull displeasure goeth ouer mee: and the feare of thee hath vndone me.

17 They came rounde about mee dayly like water: and compassed me together on euery side.

18 My louers and friends hast thou put away from me: and hid mine acquaintance out of my sight.

Misericordias Domini. Psal. 89.

1 MY song shall be alway of the louing kindnes of the Lord: with my mouth will I euer bee shewing thy trueth, from one generation to an other. Euening prayer.

2 For I haue sayde, Mercie shalbe set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou stablish in the heauens.

3 I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne vnto Dauid my seruant.

4 Thy seede wil I stablish for euer: and set vp thy throne from one generation to another.

5 O Lorde, the very heauens shall praise thy wonderous workes: and thy trueth in the congregation of the saints.

6 For who is he among the cloudes: that shal be compared vnto the Lord?

7 And what is he among the gods: that shall be like vnto the Lord?

8 God is very greatly to be feared in the counsaile of the saints: and to be had in reuerence of all them that are about him.

9 O Lorde God of hostes, who is like vnto thee: thy trueth (most mightie Lord) is on euery side.

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: thou stillest the waues thereof when they arise.

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroyed it: thou hast scattered thine enemies abroade with thy mighty arme.

12 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laide the foundation of the round world, and all that therein is.

13 Thou hast made the North & the South: Tabor & Hermon shall reioyce in thy name.

14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie is the habita-

tion of thy seate: mercie and trueth shall goe before thy face.

16 Blessed is the people (O Lorde) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance.

17 Their delight shall be dayly in thy name: and in thy righteousnesse shall they make their boast.

18 For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy louing kindnesse thou shalt lift vp our hornes.

19 For the Lord is our defence: the holy one of Israel is our King.

20 Thou spakest sometime in visions vnto thy Saints, and saidest: I haue laide helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

21 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with my holy oyle haue I anointed him.

22 My hand shall hold him fast: and my arme shall strengthen him.

23 The enemie shall not be able to doe him violence: the sonne of wickednesse shall not hurt him.

24 I shall smite downe his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

25 My trueth also and my mercie shall be with him: and in my name shall his horne bee exalted.

26 I will set his dominion also in the sea: and his right hand in the floods.

27 He shall call me, Thou art my Father: my God, and my strong saluation.

28 And I will make him my first borne: higher then the kings of the earth.

29 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore: and my couenant shall stand fast with him.

30 His seede also will I make to endure for euer: and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

31 But if his children forsake my lawe, & walke not in my iudgements.

32 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandements: I will visite their offences with the rod, and their sinne with scourges.

33 Neuertheless, my louing kindnesse will I not vtterly take from him: nor suffer my truth to faile.

34 My couenant will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes: I haue sworne once by my holines y I would not faile Dauid.

35 His seede shal endure for euer: and his state is like as the sunne before me.

36 He shal stand fast for euermore as y moone: and as the faithfull witnesse in heauen.

37 But thou hast abhorred and forsaken thine anointed: and art displeased at him.

38 Thou hast broken the couenant of thy seruant: and cast his crowne to the ground.

39 Thou hast ouerthrowen all his hedges: and broken downe his strong holdes.

40 All they that go by, spoile him: and he is become a rebuke to his neighbours.

41 Thou hast set vp the right hande of his enemies: and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

42 Thou hast taken away y edge of his sworde: and giuest not him victorie in the battell.

43 Thou hast put out his glorie: and cast his throne downe to the ground.

44 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened: and couered him with dishonour.

45 Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer: and shall thy wrath burne like fyre?

46 O remember how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men for nought?

47 What man is he that liueth, and shall not see death: and shall he deliuer his soule from the hand of hell?

48 Lorde, where are thy olde louing kindnesses: which thou sweare vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

49 Remember (Lorde) the rebuke that thy seruants haue: and how I doe beare in my bosome the rebukes of many people.

50 Wherewith thine enemies haue blasphemed thee, and slandered the footesteps of thine anointed: praised be the Lorde for euermore. Amen, Amen.

Domine, refugium. Psal. 90.

1 LORD, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. Morning prayer.

2 Before the mountaynes were brought forth, or euer the earth & the worlde were made: thou art God from euerlasting, and world without ende.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Come againe ye children of men.

4 For a thousand yeeres in thy sight, are but as yesterday: seeing that is past as a watch in the night.

5 As soone as thou scatterest them, they are euen as a sleepe: and fade away suddenly like the grasse.

6 In the morning it is greene, and groweth vp: but in the euening it is cut downe, dried vp, and withered.

7 For we consume away in thy displeasure: and are afrayde at thy wrathfull indignation.

8 Thou hast set our misdeedes before thee: and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For when thou art angry, all our dayes are gone: we bring our yeeres to an end, as it were a tale that is told.

10 The dayes of our age are threescore yeeres and ten, and though men be so strong that they come to fourescore yeeres: yet is their strength then but labour and sorow, so soone passeth it away, and we are gone.

11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath: for euen thereafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.

12 O teache vs to number our dayes: that we may apply our hearts vnto wisedome.

13 Turne thee again (O Lord) at the last: and be gracious vnto thy seruants.

14 O satisfie vs with thy mercy, & that soone: so shall we reioyce and be glad all the dayes of our life.

15 Comfort vs again now after the time that thou hast plagued vs: & for the yeeres wherein we haue suffered aduersitie.

16 Shew thy seruants thy worke: and their children thy glory.

17 And the glorious maiestie of the Lorde our God be vpon vs: prosper thou the worke of our handes vpon vs, O prosper thou our handie worke.

Qui habitat. Psal. 91.

1 WHo so dwelleth vnder the defence of the most high: shall abide vnder the shadow of the almightie.

2 I will say vnto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my strong holde: my God, in him will I trust.

3 For he shall deliuer thee from the snare of the Hunter: and from the noysome pestilence.

4 He shall defende thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be safe vnder his feathers: his faithfulnesse and trueth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afeard for any terror by night: nor for the arrow that flieth by day.

6 For the pestilence that walketh in the darknesse: nor for the sickenes that destroyeth in the noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall before thee, and tenne thousandes at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Yea, with thine eyes shalt thou behold: and see the reward of the vngodly.

9 For thou Lorde art my hope: thou hast set thine house of defence very high.

10 There shall no euill happen vnto thee: neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall giue his angels charge ouer thee: to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their handes: that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt go vpon the Lion and Adder: the yong lion and the dragon shalt thou tread vnder thy feete.

14 Because he hath set his loue vpon me, therefore shall I deliuer him: I shall set him vp, because he hath knowen my name.

15 He shall call vpon me, and I will heare him: yea, I am with him in trouble, I will deliuer him, and bring him to honour.

16 With long life will I satisfie him: and shew him my saluation.

Bonum est confiteri. Psal. 92.

1 IT is a good thing to giue thanks vnto the Lord: and to sing prayses vnto thy name, O most highest.

2 To tell of thy louing kindnesse early in the morning: and of thy trueth in the night season.

3 Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the Lute: vpon a loude instrument, and vpon the Harpe.

4 For thou Lord hast made me glad through thy workes: and I will reioyce in giuing praise for the operations of thy hands.

5 O Lord, howe glorious are thy workes: and thy thoughtes are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man doeth not wel consider this: and a foole doeth not vnderstand it.

7 When the vngodly are greene as the grasse, and when all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish: then shall they be destroyed for euer, but thou Lorde art the most highest for euermore.

8 For loe, thine enemies (O Lorde) loe thine enemies shall perish: and all the workers of wickednes shalbe destroyed.

9 But my horne shalbe exalted like the horne of an vnicorne: for I am anointed with fresh oyle.

10 Mine eye also shall see his lust of mine enemies: and mine eare shall heare his desire of the wicked that rise vp against me.

11 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree: and shall spread abroad like a Cedar in Libanus.

12 Such as be planted in ỹ house of the Lord: shall flourish in the courtes (of the house) of our God.

13 They also shall bring foorth more fruite in their age: and shalbe fat and wel liking.

14 That they may shew how true the Lord my strength is: and that there is no vnrighteousnesse in him.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 93.

1 THe Lorde is King, and hath put on glorious apparell: the Lorde hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Euening prayer.

2 He hath made the rounde worlde so sure: that it cannot be moued.

3 Euer since the worlde began hath thy seate bene prepared: thou art from euerlasting.

4 The floods are risen (O Lord) ỹ floods haue lift lift vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.

5 The waues of the sea are mightie, and rage horribly: but yet the Lorde that dwelleth on high is mightier.

6 Thy testimonies, O Lorde, are very sure: holinesse becommeth thine house for euer.

Deus vltionum. Psal. 94.

1 O Lord God to whom vengeance belongeth: thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thy selfe.

2 Arise thou iudge of the world: and reward the proud after their deseruing.

3 Lord, how long shal the vngodly: how long shall the vngodly triumph?

4 How long shall all wicked doers speake so disdainfully: and make such proud boasting?

5 They smite downe thy people, O Lorde: and trouble thine heritage.

6 They murder the widow and the stranger: and put the fatherlesse to death.

7 And yet they say, Tush, the Lord shall not see: neither shall the God of Iacob regard it.

8 Take heede ye vnwise among the people: O ye fooles, when will ye vnderstand?

10 Or he that nurtureth the heathen: it is hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall not hee punish?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man: that they are but vayne.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest (O Lord:) and teachest him in thy lawe.

13 That thou mayest giue him patience in time of aduersitie: vntill the pit be digged vp for the vngodly.

14 For the Lord will not faile his people: neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 Untill righteousnesse turne againe vnto iudgement: all such as be true in heart shall follow it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked: or who will take my part against the euill doers?

17 If the Lord had not helped me: it had not failed but my soule had bene put to silence.

18 But whē I said, My foote hath slipped: thy mercie (O Lord) held me vp.

19 In the multitude of the sorowes that I had in my heart: thy comforts haue refreshed my soule.

20 Wilt thou haue any thing to doe with the stoole of wickednesse: which imagineth mischiefe as a lawe?

21 They gather them together against ỹ soule of the righteous: and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge: and my God is the strength of my confidence.

23 He shal recompense them their wickednes, and destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

Venite, exultemus. Psal. 95.

1 O Come, let vs sing vnto the Lord: let vs heartily reioice in the strength of our saluation. Morning prayer.

2 Let vs come before his presence with thanksgiuing: and shew our selues glad in him with Psalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God: and a great king aboue all gods.

4 In his hand are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hils is his also.

5 The sea is his, and he made it: & his hands prepared the dry land.

6 O come, let vs worship and fall downe: and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is (the Lord) our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hands.

8 To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts: as in the prouocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wildernes.

9 When your fathers tempted me: proued me, and sawe my workes.

10 Fourtie yeeres long was I grieued with this generation, & said: it is a people that do erre in their hearts, for they haue not known my wayes.

11 Unto whom I sware in my wrath: that they should not enter into my rest.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 96.

1 O Sing vnto the Lorde a new song: sing vnto the Lorde all the whole earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise his name: bee telling of his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his honour vnto the heathen: and his wonders vnto all people.

4 For the Lord is great, and cannot worthily be praised: he is more to bee feared then all gods.

5 As for all the gods of the heathen, they bee but idols: but it is the Lorde that made the heauens.

6 Glory and worship are before him: power and honour are in his sanctuarie.

7 Ascribe vnto the Lord, (ye kindreds of the people:) ascribe vnto the Lord worship and power.

8 Ascribe vnto the Lord the honour due vnto his name: bring presents, and come into his courtes.

9 O worship the Lorde in the beautie of holinesse: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

10 Tell it out among the heathen, that ỹ Lord is is king: and that it is hee which hath made the round world so fast that it cannot be moued, and how that he shall iudge the people righteously.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea make a noyse, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyfull, and all that is in it: then shall all the trees of the wood reioyce before the Lord.

13 For he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: and with righteousnesse to iudge the world, and the people with his trueth.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 97.

1 THe Lord is king, ℣ earth may bee glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the Iles may be glad thereof.

2 Cloudes and darkenes are round about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the habitation of his seate.

3 There shall go a fire before him: and burne vp his enemies on euery side.

4 His lightnings gaue shine vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was afraid.

5 The hilles melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens haue declared his righteousnes: and all the people haue seene his glory.

7 Confounded be all they that worshippe carued images, and that delight in vaine gods: worship him all ye gods.

8 Sion heard of it, and reioyced: and the daughters of Iuda were glad, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou Lord art higher thē all that are in ℣ earth: thou art exalted farre aboue all gods.

10 O yee that loue the Lorde, see that yee hate the thing which is euill: the Lorde preserueth the soules of his saintes, he shall deliuer them from the hand of the vngodly.

11 There is sprung vp a light for the righteous: & ioyful gladnes for such as be true hearted.

12 Reioyce in the Lord ye righteous: and giue thankes for a remembrance of his holines.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 98.

Euening prayer.

1 SIng vnto the Lord a newe song: for he hath done marueilous things.

2 With his owne right hād, and with his holy arme: hath he gotten himselfe ℣ victorie.

3 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousnesse hath hee openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

4 He hath remembred his mercy & trueth toward the house of Israel: and all the ends of the world haue seene the saluatiō of our God.

5 Shew your selues ioyful vnto the Lord all ye lands: sing, reioyce, and giue thanks.

6 Praise the Lord vpon the harpe: sing to the harpe with a Psalme of thankesgiuing.

7 With trumpets also and shawmes: O shew your selues ioyfull before the Lord the king.

8 Let the sea make a noyse, and all that therein is: the round world, and they that dwell therein.

9 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the hils be ioyfull together before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth.

10 With righteousnesse shall he iudge ℣ world: and the people with equitie.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 99.

1 THe Lord is king, be the people neuer so vnpatient: he sitteth betweene the Cherubims, be the earth neuer so vnquiet.

2 The Lorde is great in Sion: and high aboue all people.

3 They shall giue thankes vnto thy name: which is great, wonderfull, and holy.

4 The kings power loueth iudgement, thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement and righteousnesse in Iacob.

5 O magnifie the Lorde our God: and fall downe before his footestoole, for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among such as cal vpon his name: these called vpon the Lord, & he heard them.

7 He spake vnto them out of the cloudie pillar: for they kept his testimonies, & the lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them (O Lorde our God:) thou forgauest them, O God, and punishedst their owne inuentions.

9 O magnifie the Lord our God, and worship him vpon his holy hill: for the Lord our God is holy.

Iubilate Deo. Psal. 100.

1 OBe ioyfull in the Lord all ye landes: serue the Lord with gladnesse, & come before his presence with a song.

2 Be ye sure that the Lord he is God, it is hee that hath made vs, and not wee our selues: we are his people, and the sheepe of his pasture.

3 O go your way into his gates with thanksgiuing, & into his courts with praise: be thākfull vnto him, and speake good of his name.

4 For the Lord is gracious, his mercie is euerlasting: and his trueth endureth from generation to generation.

Misericordiam & iudicium. Psal. 101.

1 MY song shalbe of mercy & iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 O let mee haue vnderstanding: in the way of godlinesse.

3 When wilt thou come vnto mee: I will walke in my house with a perfite heart.

4 I wil take no wicked thing in hand, I hate the the ſinnes of vnfaithfulneſſe: there ſhall no ſuch cleaue vnto me.

5 A froward heart ſhall depart from mee: I will not know a wicked perſon.
6 Who ſo priuily ſlandereth his neighbour: him will I deſtroy.
7 Who ſo hath alſo a proude looke, and high ſtomacke: I will not ſuffer him.
8 Mine eyes looke vnto ſuch as be faithful in the land: that they may dwell with me.
9 Who ſo leadeth a godly life: he ſhall be my ſeruant.
10 There ſhal no deceitful perſon dwell in my houſe: he that telleth lies ſhall not tary in my ſight.
11 I ſhall ſoone deſtroy all the vngodly that are in the land: that I may roote out all wicked doers from the citie of the Lord.

Domine exaudi. Pſal. 102.

Morning prayer.

1 HEare my prayer, O Lord: and let my crying come vnto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the tyme of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto me whē I call, O heare me, and that right ſoone.
3 For my dayes are conſumed away like ſmoke: and my bones are burnt vp as it were a firebrand.
4 My heart is ſmitten downe, and withered like graſſe: ſo that I forget to eate my bread.
5 For the voyce of my groning: my bones will ſcarce cleaue to my fleſh.
6 I am become like a Pellicane in the wildernes: and like an owle that is in the deſart.
7 I haue watched, and am euen as it were a ſparow: that ſitteth alone vpon the houſe top.
8 Mine enemies reuile me all the day long: and they that are mad vpon mee, are ſworne together againſt me.
9 For I haue eaten aſhes as it were bread: and mingled my drinke with weeping.
10 And that becauſe of thine indignation and wrath: for thou haſt taken me vp, and caſt me downe.
11 My dayes are gone like a ſhadow: and I am withered like graſſe.
12 But thou (O Lord) ſhalt endure for euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.
13 Thou ſhalt ariſe and haue mercy vpon Sion: for it is tyme that thou haue mercy vpon her, yea, the time is come.
14 And why? thy ſeruaunts thinke vpon her ſtones: and it pitieth them to ſee her in the duſt.
15 The heathen ſhall feare thy name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy maieſtie.
16 When the Lord ſhall builde vp Sion: and when his glory ſhall appeare.
17 When he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore deſtitute: and deſpiſeth not their deſire.
18 This ſhal be written for thoſe that come after: and the people which ſhall be borne, ſhall prayſe the Lord.
19 For he hath looked downe from his ſanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lorde behold the earth.
20 That he might heare the mournings of ſuch as be in captiuitie: and deliuer the children appointed vnto death.
21 That they may declare the name of ỹ Lorde in Sion: and his worſhip at Hieruſalem.
22 When the people are gathered together: & the kingdomes alſo to ſerue the Lord.
23 He brought downe my ſtrength in my iourney: and ſhortened my dayes.
24 But I ſayd, O my God, take me not away in the middeſt of mine age: as for thy yeeres they endure throughout all generations.
25 Thou Lord in the beginning haſt layd the foundation of the earth: and the heauens are the worke of thy hands.
26 They ſhall periſh, but thou ſhalt endure: they all ſhall waxe old as doeth a garment.
27 And as a veſture ſhalt thou change them, & they ſhalbe changed: but thou art the ſame, and thy yeeres ſhall not faile.
28 The children of thy ſeruants ſhal continue: and their ſeede ſhall ſtand faſt in thy ſight.

Benedic anima. Pſal. 103.

1 PRaiſe the Lord, O my ſoule: & all that is within me, praiſe his holy name.
2 Praiſe the Lord, O my ſoule: and forget not all his benefites.
3 Which forgiueth all thy ſinne: and healeth all thine infirmities.
4 Which ſaueth thy life from deſtruction: and crowneth thee with mercie and louyng kindneſſe.
5 Which ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things: making thee yong and luſtie as an Eagle.
6 The Lorde executeth righteouſneſſe and iudgement: for all them that are oppreſſed with wrong.
7 Hee ſhewed his wayes vnto Moſes: his workes vnto the children of Iſrael.
8 The Lord is full of compaſſion and mercy: long ſuffering and of great goodneſſe.
9 He will not alway be chiding: neither keepeth he his anger for euer.
10 He hath not delt with vs after our ſinnes: nor rewarded vs according to our wickednes.
11 For looke how high the heauen is in compariſon of the earth: ſo great is his mercy alſo toward them that feare him.
12 Looke how wide alſo the Eaſt is from the Weſt: ſo farre hath he ſet our ſinnes frō vs.
13 Yea, like as a father pitieth his owne [illegible]

vpon: euen so is the Lord merciful vnto them that feare him.
14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembreth that we are but dust.
15 The dayes of man are but as grasse: for he flourisheth as a flower of the field.
16 For as soone as the winde goeth ouer it, it is gone: and the place thereof shall know it no more.
17 But the mercifull goodnesse of the Lord endureth for euer and euer, vpon them that feare him: and his righteousnesse vpon childrens children.
18 Euen vpon such as keepe his couenaunt: and thinke vpon his commaundements to do them.
19 The Lorde hath prepared his seate in heauen: and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.
20 O praise the Lord, ye angels of his, ye that excell in strength: yee that fulfill his commaundement, and hearken vnto the voyce of his wordes.
21 O praise the Lord, all ye his hostes: ye seruants of his that doe his pleasure.
22 O speake good of the Lord, all ye workes of his, in all places of his dominion: praise thou the Lord, O my soule.

Benedic anima mea. Psal. 104.

Euening prayer.

1 PRaise ȳ Lord, O my soule: O Lord my God, thou art become exceeding glorious, thou art clothed with maiestie and honour.
2 Thou deckest thy self with light as it were with a garment: and spreadest out the heauens like a curtaine.
3 Which layeth the beames of his chamber in the waters: and maketh the cloudes his charet, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.
4 He maketh his angels spirits: and his ministers a flaming fire.
5 He laid the foundations of the earth: that it neuer should moue at any tyme.
6 Thou coueredst it with the deepe, like as with a garment: the waters stand in the hils.
7 At thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy thunder they are afraid.
8 They goe vp as high as the hils, and downe to the valleys beneath: euen vnto the place which thou hast appointed for them.
9 Thou hast set them their boundes, which they shall not passe: neither turne againe to couer the earth.
10 He sendeth the springs into ȳ riuers: which run among the hils.
11 All beasts of the field drinke thereof: & the wilde asses quench their thirst.
12 Beside them shall the foules of the aire haue their habitation: and sing among the branches.
13 He watereth the hils from aboue: ȳ earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.
14 He bringeth foorth grasse for the cattel: and greene herbe for the seruice of men.
15 That he may bring foode out of the earth, and wine that maketh glad the heart of man: and oile to make him a cheereful countenãce, and bread to strength mans heart.
16 The trees of the Lord also are ful of sappe: euen the Cedars of Libanus, which hee hath planted.
17 Wherein the birdes make their nestes: and the firre trees are a dwelling for the Storke.
18 The high hils are a refuge for the wilde goates: and so are the stonie rockes for the conies.
19 He appointed the Moone for certaine seasons: & the sunne knoweth his going downe.
20 Thou makest darkenesse, that it may bee night: wherein all the beasts of the forest do mooue.
21 The lions roaring after their praye: doe seeke their meate at God.
22 The sunne ariseth, and they get them away together: & lay them downe in their dennes.
23 Man goeth foorth to his worke, and to his labour: vntill the euening.
24 O Lord, how manifold are thy workes: in wisedome hast thou made them all, the earth is full of thy riches.
25 So is the great and wide sea also: wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.
26 There goe the ships, and there is that Leuiathan: whom thou hast made to take his pastime therein.
27 These waite all vpon thee: that thou maiest giue them meate in due season.
28 When thou giuest it them, they gather it: & when thou openest thy hand, they are filled with good.
29 When thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: whē thou takest away their breath they die, and are turned againe to their dust.
30 When thou lettest thy breath goe foorth, they shalbe made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth.
31 The glorious maiestie of the Lord shall endure for euer: the Lord shall reioyce in his workes.
32 The earth shall tremble at the looke of him: if he do but touch the hils they shall smoke.
33 I will sing vnto the Lord as long as I liue: I will praise my God, while I haue my being.
34 And so shall my words please him: my ioy shalbe in the Lord.
35 As for sinners, they shall be consumed out of the earth, and the vngodly shall come to an ende: prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule, prayse the Lord.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 105.

Morning prayer.

1 O Giue thanks vnto ỹ Lorde, and call vpon his name: tel the people what things hee hath done.

2 O let your songs bee of him, and prayse him: & let your talking be of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that seeke the Lord.

4 Seeke the Lorde and his strength: seeke his face euermore.

5 Remember the marueilous workes that he hath done: his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.

6 O ye seede of Abraham his seruant: ye children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgementes are in all the world.

8 He hath bene alway mindfull of his couenant and promise: that he made to a thousand generations.

9 Euen the couenant that he made with Abraham: and the othe that he sware vnto Isahac.

10 And appointed the same vnto Jacob for a lawe: and to Israel for an euerlasting testament.

11 Saying, Unto thee will I giue the land of Chanaan: the lot of your inheritance.

12 When there were yet but a fewe of them: and they strangers in the land.

13 What tyme as they went from one nation to another: from one kingdome to another people.

14 He suffred no man to doe them wrong: but reproued euen kings for their sakes.

15 Touch not mine anointed: & doe my Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer, he called for a dearth vpon the land: and destroied all the prouision of bread.

17 But hee had sent a man before them: euen Joseph which was sold to be a bond seruant.

18 Whose feete they hurt in ỹ stocks: the iron entred into his soule.

19 Untill the tyme came that his cause was knowen: the word of the Lord tried him.

20 The king sent and deliuered him: the prince of the people let him go free.

21 He made him Lord also of his house: & ruler of all his substance.

22 That he might enforme his princes after his will: and teach his Senators wisdome.

23 Israel also came into Egypt: and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he encreased his people exceedingly: and made them stronger then their enemies.

25 Whose heart turned, so that they hated his people: and delt vntruly with his seruants.

26 Then sent he Moses his seruant: and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 And these shewed his tokens among them: and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkenes, and it was darke: & they were not obedient vnto his word.

29 He turned their waters into blood: & slew their fishe.

30 Their land brought forth frogges: yea, euen in their kings chambers.

31 He spake the word, and there came all maner of flies: and lice in their quarters.

32 He gaue them haile stones for raine: and flames of fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also & figge trees: and destroyed the trees that were in their coastes.

34 He spake the word, & the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable: and did eate vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruite of their ground.

35 He smote al the first borne in their land: euen the chiefe of all their strength.

36 He brought them forth also with siluer and golde: there was not one feeble person among their tribes.

37 Egypt was glad at their departing: for they were afraide of them.

38 He spread out a cloud to be a couering: and fire to giue light in the night season.

39 At their desire he brought quailes: and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

40 He opened the rocke of stone, & the waters flowed out: so that riuers ran in dry places.

41 For why? he remembred his holy promise: & Abraham his seruant.

42 And he brought forth his people with ioy: and his chosen with gladnesse.

43 And gaue them the landes of the Heathen: and they tooke the labours of the people in possession.

44 That they might keepe his statutes: and obserue his lawes.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 106.

Euening prayer.

1 O Giue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gratious: and his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lorde: or shew forth all his prayse?

3 Blessed are they that alway keepe iudgement: and doe righteousnesse.

4 Remember me, O Lord, according to the fauour that thou beareſt vnto thy people: O visite me with thy saluation.

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen: and reioyce in the gladnesse of thy people, and giue thanks with thine inheritance.

6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue done amisse, and delt wickedly.
7 Our fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egypt, neither kept they thy great goodnes in remembrance: but were disobedient at the sea, euen at the red sea.
8 Neuertheles, he helped them for his names sake: that he might make his power to bee knowen.
9 He rebuked the red sea also, and it was dried vp: so hee led them through the deepe, as through a wildernesse.
10 And hee saued them from the aduersaries hand: and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.
11 As for those that troubled them, the waters ouerwhelmed them: there was not one of them left.
12 Then beleeued they his wordes: and sang praise vnto him.
13 But within a while they forgate his works: and would not abide his counsell.
14 But lust came vpon them in the wildernes: and they tempted God in the desert.
15 And he gaue them their desire: & sent leannesse withall into their soule.
16 They angred Moses also in the tents: and Aaron the saint of the Lord.
17 So the earth opened, and swallowed vp Dathan: and couered the congregation of Abiram.
18 And the fire was kindled in their company: the flame burnt vp the vngodly.
19 They made a calfe in Horeb: and worshipped the molten image.
20 Thus they turned their glorie: into the similitude of a calfe that eateth hay.
21 And they forgate God their sauiour: which had done so great things in Egypt.
22 Wonderous works in the land of Ham: and fearefull things by the red sea.
23 So he said hee would haue destroyed them, had not Moses his chosen stand before him in the gappe: to turne away his wrathful indignation, least he should destroy them.
24 Yea, they thought scorne of that pleasant land: and gaue no credence vnto his word.
25 But murmured in their tentes: and harkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.
26 Then lift hee vp his hand against them: to ouerthrow them in the wildernesse.
27 To cast out their seede among the nations: and to scatter them in the lands.
28 They ioyned themselues vnto Baal Peor: and ate the offrings of the dead.
29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions: and the plague was great among them.
30 Then stood vp Phinees, and prayed: and so the plague ceased.
31 And that was counted vnto him for righteousnes: among all posterities for euermore.
32 They angred him also at ẏ waters of strife: so that he punished Moses for their sakes.
33 Because they prouoked his spirite: so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lips.
34 Neither destroyed they the heathen: as the Lord commanded them.
35 But were mingled among the heathen: and learned their works.
36 Insomuch that they worshipped their idoles, which turned to their owne decay: yea, they offered their sonnes and daughters vnto deuils.
37 And shed innocent blood, euen the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters: whome they offered vnto the idols of Chanaan, and the land was defiled with blood.
38 Thus were they stained with their owne works: and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.
39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people: insomuch that he abhorred his owne inheritance.
40 And he gaue them ouer into the hand of the heathē: and they that hated them were lordes ouer them.
41 Their enemies oppressed them: & had them in subiection.
42 Many a time did he deliuer them: but they rebelled against him wᵗʰ their owne inuentiōs, and were brought downe in their wickednes.
43 Neuertheless, when he sawe their aduersitie: he heard their complaint.
44 He thought vpon his couenant, and pitied them according vnto ẏ multitude of his mercies: yea, he made all those that had led them away captiue to pitie them.
45 Deliuer vs (O Lord our God) and gather vs from among the heathen: that wee may giue thanks vnto thy holy name, and make our boast of thy praise.
46 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, from euerlasting, and world without ende: and let all the people say, Amen.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 107.

1 Giue thanks vnto ẏ Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer. Morning prayer.
2 Let them giue thanks whō the Lorde hath redeemed: and deliuered from the hand of the enemie.
3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West: from the North and from the South.
4 They went astray in the wildernesse out of the way: and found no citie to dwel in.
5 Hūgrie & thirstie: their soule fainted in thē.

6 So they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble: and he deliuered them frō their distresse.
7 He led them forth by the right way: ꝑ they might go to the citie where they dwelt.
8 O that men would therefore praise ꝑ Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.
9 For hee satisfieth the emptie soule: and filleth the hungry soule with goodnes.
10 Such as sit in darkenes and in the shadow of death: being fast bound in miserie & iron.
11 Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counsell of the most high.
12 He also brought downe their heart through heauinesse: they fel downe, & there was none to helpe them vp.
13 So when they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuered thē out of their distresse.
14 For he brought them out of darkenes, and out of the shadow of death: and brake their bondes in sunder.
15 O that men would therefore praise ꝑ Lord for his goodnes: & declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.
16 For he hath broken the gates of brasse: and smitten the barres of iron in sunder.
17 Foolish men are plagued for their offence: and because of their wickednesse.
18 Their soule abhorred all maner of meate: and they were euen hard at deaths doore.
19 So when they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuered thē out of their distresse.
20 He sent his word and healed them: & they were saued from their destruction.
21 O that men would therefore praise ꝑ Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.
22 That they would offer vnto him the sacrifice of thankesgiuing: and tel out his works with gladnesse.
23 They that go downe to the sea in ships: and occupie their businesse in great waters.
24 These men see the works of the Lord: and his wonders in the deepe.
25 For at his word the stormie winde ariseth: which lifteth vp the waues thereof.
26 They are caried vp to the heauen, & downe againe to the deepe: their soule melteth away because of the trouble.
27 They reele too and fro, and stagger like a drunken man: and are at their wits end.
28 So when they crie vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuereth thē out of their distresse.
29 For he maketh the storme to cease: so that the waues thereof are still.
30 Then are they glad, because they be at rest: and so he bringeth them vnto ꝑ hauen where they would be.
31 O that men would therefore praise ꝑ Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.
32 That they would exalt him also in the congregation of the people: and praise him in the seate of the elders.
33 Which turneth the floods into a wildernes: and drieth vp the water springs.
34 A fruitfull land maketh he barren: for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.
35 Againe hee maketh the wildernesse a standing water: & water springs of a dry ground.
36 And there he setteth the hungry: that they may build them a citie to dwell in.
37 That they may sowe their land, and plant vineyards: to yeld them fruits of increase.
38 He blesseth them, so that they multiplie exceedingly: and suffereth not their cattell to decrease.
39 And againe, when they are minished and brought lowe: through oppression, through any plague or trouble.
40 Though he suffer them to be euill intreated through tyrants: and let them wander out of the way in the wildernesse.
41 Yet helpeth he the poore out of miserie: and maketh him households like a flocke of sheep.
42 The righteous will consider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednes shall be stopped.
43 Who so is wise, will ponder these things: and they shall vnderstand the louing kindnes of the Lord.

Paratum cor meum. Psal. 108.

1 GOd, my heart is readie (my heart is readie:) I will sing and giue praise with ꝑ best member that I haue. Euening prayer.
2 Awake thou lute & harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.
3 I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: I will sing praises vnto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is greater then the heauens: and thy trueth reacheth vnto the cloudes.
5 Set vp thy selfe (O God) aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.
6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: let thy right hand saue them, and heare thou me.
7 God hath spoken in his holines: I will reioyce therefore and deuide Sichem, & mete out the valley of Sucoth.
8 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head.
9 Juda is my lawgiuer, Moab is my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe, vpon the Philistines will I triumph.
10 Who will lead me into the strong citie: and who will bring me into Edom?
11 Hast not thou forsaken vs, O God: and wilt not not thou God go forth with our hostes?

12 O helpe vs against the enemy: for vaine is the helpe of man.
13 Through God we shal do great acts: and it is he that shall tread downe our enemies.

Deus laudem. Psal. 109.

1 HOld not thy tongue, O God of my prayse: for the mouth of the vngodly, yea, and the mouth of the deceitfull is opened vpon me.
2 And they haue spoken against me with false tongues: they compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.
3 For the loue that I had vnto them, loe, they take now my contrary part: but I giue my selfe vnto prayer.
4 Thus haue they rewarded mee euill for good: and hatred for my good will.
5 Set thou an vngodly man to be ruler ouer him: and let Satan stand at his right hand.
6 When sentence is giuen vpon him, let him be condemned: and let his prayer bee turned into sinne.
7 Let his dayes be fewe: and let another take his office.
8 Let his children be fatherlesse: and his wife a widowe.
9 Let his children be vagabondes, and begge their bread: let them seeke it also out of desolate places.
10 Let the extortioner consume al that he hath: and let the stranger spoyle his labour.
11 Let there bee no man to pitie him: nor to haue compassion vpon his fatherlesse children.
12 Let his posteritie be destroyed: & in the next generation let his name be cleane put out.
13 Let the wickednes of his fathers be had in remembrance in the sight of the Lord: & let not the sinne of his mother be done away.
14 Let them alway be before the Lord: that he may roote out the memoriall of them from off the earth.
15 And that because his minde was not to doe good: but persecuted ẏ poore helples man, ẏ he might slay him ẏ was vexed at the heart.
16 His delight was in cursing, & it shal happen vnto him: he loued not blessing, therfore shal it be farre from him.
17 He clothed himselfe with cursing like as with a raiment: & it shall come into his bowels like water, and like oile into his bones.
18 Let it be vnto him as the cloke that he hath vpon him: and as the girdle that he is alway girded withall.
19 Let it thus happē from the Lord vnto mine enemies: & to those that speake euill against my soule.
20 But deale thou with me (O Lord God) according vnto thy name: for sweete is thy mercy.
21 O deliuer me, for I am helpelesse and poore: and my heart is wounded within me.
22 I go hence like the shadow that departeth: and am driuen away as the grashopper.
23 My knees are weake through fasting: my flesh is dried vp for want of fatnesse.
24 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.
25 Helpe me (O Lord my God:) oh saue me according to thy mercie.
26 And they shall know how that this is thy hand: and that thou Lord hast done it.
27 Though they curse, yet blesse thou: and let them be confounded that rise vp against me, but let thy seruant reioyce.
28 Let mine aduersaries be clothed wt shame: & let them couer themselues with their owne confusion, as with a cloke.
29 As for me, I wil giue great thanks vnto the Lord with my mouth: and prayse him among the multitude.
30 For hee shall stand at the right hand of the poore: to saue his soule from vnrighteous iudges.

Dixit Dominus, Psal. 110.

1 THe Lord said vnto my Lord: Sit thou on my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footestoole. Morning prayer.
2 The Lord shal send the rod of thy power out of Sion: be thou ruler euen in the middes among thine enemies.
3 In the day of thy power shall the people offer thee freewill offrings with an holy worship: the dewe of thy birth is of the wombe of the morning.
4 The Lord sware, and wil not repent: thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.
5 The Lord vpon thy right hand: shal wound euen kings in the day of his wrath.
6 He shal iudge among the Heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies: & smite in sunder the heads ouer diuers countries.
7 He shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 111.

1 I Will giue thanks vnto the Lord with my whole heart: secretly among the faithful, and in the congregation.
2 The workes of the Lord are great: sought out of all them that haue pleasure therein.
3 His worke is worthie to be prayed & had in honour: & his righteousnes endureth for euer.
4 The mercifull and gracious Lord hath so done his marualous works: that they ought to be had in remembrance.
5 He hath giuen meate vnto them ẏ feare him: he shall euer be mindfull of his couenant.

6 He

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his workes: that hee may giue them the heritage of the Heathen.
7 The woorkes of his handes are veritie and iudgement: all his commandementes are true.
8 They stande fast for euer and euer: and are done in trueth and equitie.
9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his couenant for euer, holy and reuerent is his name.
10 The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisedome: a good vnderstanding haue al they that do thereafter, the praise of it endureth for euer.

Beatus vir. Psal. 112.

1 BLessed is the man that feareth the Lord: he hath great delight in his commandements.
2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the faithfull shall bee blessed.
3 Riches & plenteousnes shalbe in his house: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.
4 Vnto the godly there ariseth vp light in the darkenesse: hee is mercifull, louing, and righteous.
5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth: and will guide his words with discretion.
6 For he shall neuer be moued: and the righteous shall bee had in an euerlasting remembrance.
7 He will not be afraide for any euill tidings: for his heart standeth fast and beleeueth in the Lord.
8 His heart is stablished and will not shrinke: vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.
9 Hee hath dispersed abroade and giuen to the poore: and his righteousnesse remaineth for euer, his horne shalbe exalted with honour.
10 The vngodly shall see it, and it shall grieue him: he shall gnash with his teeth, & consume away, the desire of the vngodly shall perish.

Laudate pueri. Psal. 113.

1 PRayse the Lorde (O ye seruantes:) O prayse the name of the Lord.
2 Blessed be the name of the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore.
3 The Lordes name is praysed: frō the rising vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.
4 The Lorde is high aboue all heathen: & his glory aboue the heauens.
5 Who is like vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling so high: and yet humbleth him selfe to behold the things that are in heauen and earth?
6 Hee taketh vp the simple out of the dust: and lifteth the poore out of the mire.
7 That he may set him with the princes: euen with the princes of his people.
8 He maketh ỳ barren woman to keepe house: and to be a ioyfull mother of children.

In exitu Israel. Psal. 114.

1 WHen Israel came out of Egypt: and the house of Iacob frō among the strange people. Euening prayer.
2 Iuda was his sanctuaries: and Israel his dominion.
3 The sea saw that, and fled: Iordane was driuen backe.
4 The mountaines skipped like rammes: and the litle hilles like yong sheepe.
5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest? and thou Iordane, that thou wallt driuen backe?
6 Ye mountaines ỳ ye skipped like rammes: and ye litle hilles like yong sheepe?
7 Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lorde: at the presence of the God of Iacob.
8 Which turned the hard rocke into a standing water: and the flint stone into a springing well.

Non nobis Domine. Psal. 115.

1 NOt vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the prayse: for thy louing mercy, and for thy truethes sake.
2 Wherefore shall the heathen say: Where is nowe their God?
3 As for our God, he is in heauen: he hath done whatsoeuer pleased him.
4 Their idoles are siluer and golde: euen the worke of mens hands.
5 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, and see not.
6 They haue eares, and heare not: noses haue they, and smell not.
7 They haue hands, and handle not, feete haue they, and walke not: neither speake they thorowe their throte.
8 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all such as put their trust in them.
9 But thou house of Israel, trust thou in the Lord: he is their succour and defender.
10 Yee house of Aaron, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.
11 Ye that feare the Lord, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.
12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs, and he shall blesse vs: euen he shall blesse the house of Israel, he shall blesse the house of Aaron.
13 He shal blesse them that feare the Lord: both small and great.
14 The Lorde shall encrease you more & more: you and your children.
15 Ye are the blessed of the Lorde: which made heauen and earth.

16 All the whole heauens are the Lordes: the earth hath he giuen to the children of men.
17 The dead prayse not thee, O Lorde: neyther all they that go downe into the silence.
18 But we will prayse the Lord: from this time forth for euermore. Prayse the Lord.

Dilexi quoniam. Psal. 116.

Morning prayer.

1 I Am well pleased: that ꝑ Lord hath heard the voyce of my prayer.
2 That hee hath inclined his eare vnto me: therefore wil I call vpon him as long as I liue.
3 The snares of death compassed me round about: and the paynes of hell gat holde vpon me.
4 I shall finde trouble and heauinesse, and I shall call vpon the name of the Lord: O Lord I beseech thee deliuer my soule.
5 Gracious is the Lorde and righteous: yea our God is mercifull.
6 The Lorde preserueth the simple: I was in miserie, and he helped me.
7 Turne againe then vnto thy rest, O my soule: for the Lord hath rewarded thee.
8 And why? thou hast deliuered my soule frō death: mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.
9 I will walke before the Lord in the lande of the liuing.
10 I beleeued, and therefore will I speake, but I was sore troubled: I sayde in my haste, All men are lyers.
11 What rewarde shall I giue vnto the Lorde: for all the benefites that hee hath done vnto me?
12 I will receiue the cup of saluation: and call vpon the name of the Lord.
13 I will pay my vowes nowe in the presence of all his people: right deare in ꝑ sight of the Lord, is the death of his saints.
14 Behold (O Lord) howe that I am thy seruant: I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmayd, thou hast broken my bones in sunder.
15 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thankesgiuing: and will call vpon the name of the Lord.
16 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lorde, in the sight of all his people: in ꝑ courts of ꝑ Lords house, euen in the middes of thee, O Hierusalem. Prayse the Lord.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 117.

1 O Praise the Lord al ye Heathen: praise him all ye nations.
2 For his mercifull kindnesse is euer more & more toward vs: & the truth of the Lord endureth for euer. Prayse the Lord.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 118.

1 O Giue thankes vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: because his mercy endureth for euer.
2 Let Israel nowe confesse, that hee is gracious: and that his mercie endureth for euer.
3 Let the house of Aaron nowe confesse: that his mercy endureth for euer.
4 Yea, let them nowe that feare the Lord confesse: that his mercy endureth for euer.
5 I called vpō the Lord in trouble: & the Lord heard me at large.
6 The Lorde is on my side: I will not feare what man doeth vnto me.
7 The Lorde taketh my part with them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.
8 It is better to trust in the Lorde: then to put any confidence in man.
9 It is better to trust in the Lorde: then to put any confidence in princes.
10 All nations compassed me rounde about: but in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.
11 They kept me in on euery side, they kept me in (I say) on euery side: but in ꝑ name of the Lord will I destroy them.
12 They came about me like Bees, and are extinct euen as the fire among the thornes: for in the name of the Lord I will destroy them.
13 Thou hast thrust sore at mee, that I might fall: but the Lord was my helpe.
14 The Lord is my strength and my song: and is become my saluation.
15 The voyce of ioy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous: the right hande of the Lord bringeth mighty things to passe.
16 The right hand of the Lord hath the preeminence: the right of the Lord bringeth mightie things to passe.
17 I wil not die, but liue: and declare the works of the Lord.
18 The Lorde hath chastened and corrected mee: but hee hath not giuen mee ouer vnto death.
19 Open me the gates of righteousnesse: that I may go into them, and giue thankes vnto the Lord.
20 This is the gate of the Lorde: the righteous shall enter into it.
21 I will thanke thee, for thou hast heard me: & art become my saluation.
22 The same stone which the builders refused: is become the head stone in the corner.
23 This is the Lords doing: and it is marueilous in our eyes.
24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.
25 Helpe me nowe, O Lord: O Lord sende vs nowe prosperitie.
26 Blessed bee he that commeth in the name of the the Lord: we haue wished you good lucke, ye that be of the house of the Lord.

27 God is ỹ Lord which hath shewed vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will thanke thee: thou art my God, and I will prayse thee.

29 O giue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer.

Beati immaculati. Psal. 119.

Et veniat super me.

1 LEt thy louing mercie come also vnto mee, O Lorde: euen thy saluation, according vnto thy word.

2 So shal I make answere vnto my blasphemers: for my trust is in thy word.

3 O take not ỹ word of thy trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for my hope is in thy iudgements.

4 So shall I alway keepe thy lawe: yea, for euer and euer.

5 And I will walke at libertie: for I seeke thy commandements.

6 I will speake of thy testimonies also, euen before kings: and will not be ashamed.
7 And my delight shall bee in thy commandements: which I haue loued.
8 My hands also will I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued: & my study shalbe in thy statutes.

Memor esto verbi tui.

1 O Thinke vpon thy seruant, as concerning thy word: wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust.
2 The same is my comfort in my trouble: for thy word hath quickened me.
3 The proude haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not shrinked frō thy lawe.
4 For I remembred thine euerlasting iudgements, O Lord: and receiued comfort.
5 I am horribly afrayde: for the vngodly that forsake thy lawe.
6 Thy statutes haue bene my songs: in the house of my pilgrimage.
7 I haue thought vpon thy name, O Lord, in the night season: and haue kept thy lawe.
8 This I had: because I kept thy commandements.

Portio mea Domine.

1 THou art my portion, O Lorde: I haue promised to keepe thy lawe.
2 I made my humble petition in thy presence with my whole heart: O bee mercifull vnto me according vnto thy worde.
3 I called mine owne waies to remembrance: and turned my feet vnto thy testimonies.
4 I made haste, and prolonged not the time: to keepe thy commandements.
5 The congregation of the vngodly haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy lawe.
6 At midnight I will rise to giue thankes vnto thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.
7 I am a companion of all thē that feare thee: and keepe thy commandements.
8 The earth, O Lorde, is full of thy mercie: O teach me thy statutes.

Bonitatem fecisti.

1 O Lorde, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant: according vnto thy word.
2 O learne mee true vnderstanding and knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commandements.
3 Before I was troubled, I went wrong: but nowe haue I kept thy word.
4 Thou art good and gracious: O teach mee thy statutes.
5 The proud haue imagined a lye against me: but I will keeke thy commandementes with my whole heart.
6 Their heart is as fat as brawne: but my delight hath bene in thy lawe.
7 It is good for mee that I haue bene in trouble: that I may learne thy statutes.
8 The lawe of thy mouth is dearer vnto me: then thousands of gold and siluer.

Manus tuæ fecerunt me.

1 THy handes haue made me, & fashioned me: O giue me vnderstanding, that I may learne thy commandements. Euening prayer.
2 They þ feare thee, wil be glad when they see me: because I haue put my trust in thy word.
3 I knowe (O Lorde) that thy iudgementes are right: and that thou of very faithfulnesse hast caused me to be troubled.
4 O let thy mercifull kindenesse bee my comfort: according to thy word vnto thy seruant.
5 O let thy louing mercies come vnto mee, that I may liue: for thy lawe is my delight.
6 Let the proud bee confounded, for they goe wickedly about to destroy mee: but I will bee occupied in thy commandements.
7 Let such as feare thee, and haue knowen thy testimonies: be turned vnto me.
8 O let my heart be sound in thy statutes: that I be not ashamed.

Defecit anima mea.

1 MY soule hath longed for thy saluation: & I haue a good hope because of thy worde.
2 Mine eyes long sore for thy worde: saying, O when wilt thou comfort me?
3 For I am become like a bottell in þ smoke: yet do I not forget thy statutes.
4 How many are þ dayes of thy seruant: whē wilt thou be auēged of thē that persecute me?
5 The proude haue digged pits for me: which are not after thy lawe.
6 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsly, O be thou my helpe.
7 They had almost made an ende of me vpon earth: but I forsooke not thy cōmandements.
8 O quicken mee after thy louing kindnesse: & so shall I keepe þ testimonies of thy mouth.

In æternum Domine.

1 O Lord, thy word: endureth for euer in heauē.
2 Thy trueth also remaineth from one generation to another: thou hast layde the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.
3 They continue this day according to thine ordinance: for all things serue thee.
4 If my delight had not bene in thy lawe: I should haue perished in my trouble.
5 I will neuer forget thy commandementes: for with them thou hast quickened me.
6 I am thine, oh saue mee: for I haue sought thy commandements.
7 The vngodly layde wayte for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.
8 I see that all things come to an ende: but thy commandement is exceeding broad.

Quomodo dilexi.

1 LOrd, what loue haue I vnto thy lawe: all the day long is my study in it.
2 Thou though thy commandementes hast made mee wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

3 I haue

3 I haue more vnderstanding then my teachers: for thy testimonies are my studie.
4 I am wiser then the aged: because I keepe thy commandements.
5 I haue refrayned my feete from euery euill way: that I may keepe thy word.
6 I haue not shrunke from thy iudgementes: for thou teachest me.
7 O howe sweete are thy wordes vnto my throte: yea, sweeter thē hony vnto my mouth.
8 Through thy commandementes I get vnderstanding: therefore I hate all wicked wayes.

Lucerna pedibus meis.

Morning prayer.

1 THy worde is a lanterne vnto my feete: and a light vnto my paths.
2 I haue sworne, and am stedfastly purposed: to keepe thy righteous iudgements.
3 I am troubled aboue measure: quicken mee (O Lord) according to thy word.
4 Let the free will offeringes of my mouth please thee, O Lord: and teach me thy iudgements.
5 My soule is alway in my hande: yet doe I not forget thy lawe.
6 The vngodly haue layde a snare for me: but yet I swarued not from thy cōmandements.
7 Thy testimonies haue I claymed as mine heritage for euer: and why? they are the very ioy of my heart.
8 I haue applyed my heart to fulfill thy statutes alway: euen vnto the ende.

Iniquos odio habui.

1 I hate them that imagine euill things: but thy lawe doe I loue.
2 Thou art my defence and shielde: and my trust is in thy word.
3 Away from me ye wicked: I will keepe the commandements of my God.
4 O stablish me according vnto thy word, that I may liue: and let me not be disappointed of my hope.
5 Holde thou me vp, and I shall be safe: yea, my delight shalbe euer in thy statutes.
6 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for they imagine but deceite.
7 Thou puttest away all the vngodly of the earth like drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.
8 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee: and I am afraide of thy iudgements.

Feci iudicium.

1 I Deale with the thing that is lawfull and right: O giue mee not ouer vnto mine oppressours.
2 Make thou thy seruant to delight in that which is good: that the proude doe mee no wrong.
3 Mine eyes are wasted away with looking for thy health: and for the worde of thy righteousnesse.
4 O deale with thy seruant according vnto thy louing mercy: and teach me thy statutes.
5 I am thy seruant, O graunt mee vnderstanding: that I may knowe thy testimonies.
6 It is time for thee Lord to lay to thine hand: for they haue destroyed thy lawe.
7 For I loue thy cōmandements: aboue golde and precious stone.
8 Therefore holde I straite all thy commaundements: & all false wayes I vtterly abhorre.

Mirabilia.

1 THy testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doeth my soule keepe them.
2 When thy word goeth forth: it giueth light & vnderstanding vnto the simple.
3 I opened my mouth, & drewe in my breath: for my delight was in thy commandements.
4 O looke thou vpon me, and be mercifull vnto me: as thou vsest to doe vnto those that loue thy name.
5 Order my steppes in thy worde, and so shall no wickednesse haue dominion ouer me.
6 O deliuer me from the wrongfull dealings of men: and so shall I keepe thy commandements.
7 Shewe the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant: and teach me thy statutes.
8 Mine eyes gush out with water: because men keepe not thy lawe.

Iustus es Domine.

1 RIghteous art thou, O Lord: and true is thy iudgement.
2 The testimonies that thou hast commāded: are exceeding righteous & true.
3 My zeale hath euen consumed mee: because mine enemies haue forgotten thy wordes.
4 Thy word is tryed to the vttermost: and thy seruant loueth it.
5 I am small, and of no reputation: yet doe I not forget thy commandements.
6 Thy righteousnes is an euerlasting righteousnesse: and thy lawe is the truth.
7 Trouble and heauines haue taken hold vpō me: yet is my delight in thy cōmandements.
8 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: O graunt me vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

Clamaui in toto corde meo.

1 I Call with my whole heart: heare mee, O Lorde, I will keepe thy statutes. Euening prayer.
2 Yea, euen vpon thee doe I call: helpe mee, and I shall keepe thy testimonies.

3 Earely in the morning doe I cry vnto thee: for in thy word is my trust.
4 Mine eyes preuent the night watches: that I might be occupied in thy words.
5 Heare my voyce (O Lorde) according vnto thy louing kindnesse: quicken mee according as thou art wont.
6 They drawe nigh that of malice persecute me: and are farre from thy lawe.
7 Be thou nigh at hande, O Lorde: for all thy commandements are true.
8 As concerning thy testimonies, I haue knowen long since: that thou hast grounded them for euer.

Vide humilitatem.

1 O Consider mine aduersitie, and deliuer me: for I do not forget thy lawe.
2 Auenge thou my cause and deliuer me: quicken mee according vnto thy worde.
3 Health is farre from the vngodly: for they regard not thy statutes.
4 Great is thy mercy, O Lord: quicken me as thou art wont.
5 Many there are that trouble me, and persecute me: yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.
6 It grieueth mee when I see the transgressours: because they keepe not thy lawe.
7 Consider, O Lorde, howe I loue thy commandements: O quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse.
8 Thy worde is true from euerlasting: all the iudgementes of thy righteousnes endure for euermore.

Principes persecuti sunt.

1 PRinces haue persecuted mee without a cause: but my heart standeth in awe of thy words.
2 I am as glad of thy worde: as one that findeth great spoyles.
3 As for lyes, I hate & abhorre them: but thy lawe doe I loue.
4 Seuen times a day doe I praise thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.
5 Great is ꝑ peace that they haue which loue thy lawe: and they are not offended at it.
6 Lorde, I haue looked for thy saluing health: and done after thy commandements.
7 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: and loued them exceedingly.
8 I haue kept thy commaundementes and testimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio.

1 LEt my complaynt come before thee, O Lord: giue me vnderstanding according to thy word.
2 Let my supplication come before thee: deliuer me according to thy word.
3 My lippes shall speake of thy prayse: when thou hast taught me thy statutes.
4 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy worde: for all thy commandements are righteous.
5 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy commandements.
6 I haue longed for thy sauing health, O Lord: and in thy lawe is my delight.
7 Oh let my soule liue, and it shal prayse thee: and thy iudgements shall helpe me.
8 I haue gone astray like a sheepe that is lost: oh seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commandements.

Ad Dominum. Psal. 120.

1 WHen I was in trouble, I called vpon the Lord: and he heard me. Morning prayer.
2 Deliuer my soule, O Lorde, from lying lippes: and from a deceitefull tongue.
3 What rewarde shall bee giuen or done vnto thee thou false tongue: euen mightie & sharpe arrowes, with hote burning coles.
4 Wo is me, that I am constrayned to dwell with Mesech: and to haue mine habitation among the tents of Cedar.
5 My soule hath long dwelt among thē: that be enemies vnto peace.
6 I labour for peace, but when I speake vnto them thereof: they make them ready to battell.

Leuaui oculos. Psal. 121.

1 I Will lift vp mine eyes vnto the hilles: frō whence commeth my helpe.
2 My helpe commeth euen from the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.
3 Hee will not suffer thy foote to bee moued: and he that keepeth thee, will not sleepe.
4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel: shall neither slumber nor sleepe.
5 The Lord himselfe is thy keeper: the Lorde is thy defence vpon thy right hand.
6 So that the Sunne shall not burne thee by day: neither the Moone by night.
7 The Lord shall preserue thee from all euill: yea, it is euen he that shall keepe thy soule.
8 The Lord shall preserue thy going out and thy comming in: from this time forth for euermore.

Lætatus sum. Psal. 122.

1 I Was glad when they sayde vnto me: We will goe into the house of the Lord.
2 Our feete shal stand in thy gates: O Hierusalem.
3 Hierusalem is builded as a citie: that is at vnitie in it selfe.
4 For thither the tribes go vp, euen the tribes of the Lorde: to testifie vnto Israel, to giue thankes vnto the name of the Lord.

5 For there is the seate of iudgement euen the seate of the house of Dauid.
6 O pray for the peace of Hierusalem: they shall prosper that loue thee.
7 Peace be within thy walles: and plenteousnesse within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions sakes: I will wish thee prosperitie.
9 Yea, because of the house of the Lorde our God: I will seeke to doe thee good.

Ad te leuaui oculos meos. Psal. 123.

1 VNto thee lift I vp mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heauens.
2 Beholde, euen as the eyes of seruantes looke vnto the hande of their maisters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hande of her mistres: euen so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.
3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for we are vtterly despised.
4 Our soule is filled with the scornefull reproofe of the wealthie: and with the despitefulnesse of the proude.

Nisi quia Dominus. Psal. 124.

1 IF the Lorde him selfe had not bene on our side (nowe may Israel say:) if the Lorde him selfe had not bene on our side when men rose vp against vs.
2 They had swallowed vs vp quicke: when they were so wrathfully displeased at vs.
3 Yea, the waters had drowned vs: and the streame had gone ouer our soule.
4 The deepe waters of the proude: had gone euen ouer our soule.
5 But praysed be the Lorde: which hath not giuen vs ouer for a pray vnto their teeth.
6 Our soule is escaped, euen as a birde out of the snare of the fouler: the snare is broken, & we are deliuered.
7 Our helpe standeth in the name of the Lorde: which hath made heauen and earth.

Qui confidunt. Psal. 125.

1 THey that put their trust in the Lorde, shall bee euen as the mount Sion: which may not bee remoued, but standeth fast for euer.
2 The hils stande about Hierusalem: euen so standeth the Lorde rounde about his people, from this time forth for euermore.
3 For the rodde of the vngodly commeth not into the lot of the righteous: least the righteous put their hande vnto wickednesse.
4 Doe well, O Lord: vnto those that be good and true of heart.
5 As for such as turne backe vnto their owne wickednesse: the Lord shall leade them forth with the euill doers, but peace shall bee vpon Israel.

In conuertendo. Psal. 126.

1 WHen the Lord turned againe the captiuitie of Sion: then were wee like vnto them that dreame. Euening prayer.
2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter: and our tongue with ioy.
3 Then sayde they among the heathen: The Lord hath done great things for them.
4 Yea, the Lord hath done great things for vs already: whereof we reioyce.
5 Turne our captiuitie, O Lord: as the riuers in the South.
6 They that sowe in teares: shall reape in ioy.
7 Hee that nowe goeth on his way weeping, and beareth forth good seede: shall doubtlesse come againe with ioy, and bring his sheaues with him.

Nisi Dominus. Psal. 127.

1 EXcept the Lord builde the house: their labour is but lost that builde it.
2 Except the Lorde keepe the citie: the watchman waketh but in vaine.
3 It is but lost labour that yee haste to rise vp earely, and so late take rest, and eate the bread of carefulnesse: for so hee giueth his beloued sleepe.
4 Loe, children & the fruite of the wombe: are an heritage & gift that commeth of the Lord.
5 Like as the arrowes in the hand of the Gyant: euen so are the yong children.
6 Happie is the man that hath his quiuer full of them: they shall not be ashamed when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

Beati omnes. Psal. 128.

1 BLessed are all they that feare the Lorde: and walke in his wayes.
2 For thou shalt eate the labours of thine hands: O well is thee, and happie shalt thou be.
3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitfull vine: vpon the walles of thine house.
4 Thy children like the Oliue branches: round about thy table.
5 Loe, thus shall the man be blessed: that feareth the Lord.
6 The Lorde from out of Sion shall so blesse thee: that thou shalt see Hierusalem in prosperitie all thy life long.
7 Yea, that thou shalt see thy childrens children: and peace vpon Israel.

Sæpe expugnauerunt. Psal. 129.

1 MAny a time haue they fought against me from my youth vp: (may Israel nowe say.)
2 Yea, many a time haue they vexed me from my youth vp: but they haue not preuailed against me.
3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe: and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lorde: hath hewen the snares of the vngodly in pieces.
5 Let them bee confounded and turned backewarde as many as haue euill will at Sion.
6 Let them be euen as the grasse growing vpon the house toppes: which withereth afore it be plucked vp.
7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hande: neither he that bindeth vp the sheaues, his bosome.
8 So that they which goe by, say not so much as the Lorde prosper you: wee wish you good lucke in the name of the Lord.

De profundis. Psal. 130.

1 OVt of ỳ deepe haue I called vnto thee (O Lord:) Lord heare my voyce.
2 Oh let thine eares consider well: the voyce of my complaint.
3 If thou Lord wilt be extreme to marke what is done amisse: oh Lord, who may abide it?
4 For there is mercy with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.
5 I looke for the Lord, my soule doeth wayte for him: in his word is my trust.
6 My soule fleeth vnto the Lorde: before the morning watch, I say, before the morning watch.
7 O Israel trust in the Lord, for with ỳ Lord there is mercy: and with him is plenteous redemption.
8 And hee shall redeeme Israel: from all his sinnes.

Domine, non est. Psal. 131.

1 LOrd, I am not high minded: I haue no proude lookes.
2 I do not exercise my selfe in great matters: which are too high for me.
3 But I refraine my soule, and keepe it lowe, like as a childe ỳ is weaned from his mother: yea, my soule is euen as a weaned childe.
4 O Israel trust in the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore.

Memento Domine. Psal. 132.

Morning prayer.

1 LOrde remember Dauid: and all his trouble.
2 Howe hee sware vnto the Lorde: and vowed a vowe vnto the almightie God of Jacob.
3 I will not come within the tabernacle of my house: nor clime vp into my bed.
4 I will not suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber: neither the temples of my head to take any rest.
5 Untill I finde out a place for the temple of the Lorde: an habitation for the mightie God of Jacob.
6 Loe, wee heard of the same at Ephrata: and found it in the wood.
7 Wee will goe into his tabernacle: and fall lowe on our knees before his footestoole.
8 Arise, O Lorde, into thy resting place: thou and the arke of thy strength.
9 Let thy Priests bee clothed with righteousnes: and let thy saints sing with ioyfulnesse.
10 For thy seruant Dauids sake: turne not away the presence of thine anoynted.
11 The Lorde hath made a faithfull othe vnto Dauid: and he shall not shrinke from it.
12 Of the fruite of thy body: shall I set vpon thy seate.
13 If thy children will keepe my couenant and my testimonies that I shall learne them: their children also shall sit vpon thy seate for euermore.
14 For the Lord hath chosen Sion to be an habitation for himselfe: he hath longed for her.
15 This shall bee my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.
16 I will blesse her vitailes with increase: and will satisfie her poore with bread.
17 I will decke her Priestes with health: and her saints shall reioyce and sing.
18 There shall I make the horne of Dauid to florish: I haue ordeined a lanterne for mine anoynted.
19 As for his enemies, I shal clothe them with shame: but vpon him selfe shall his crowne florish.

Ecce quam bonum. Psal. 133.

1 BEhold howe good and ioyfull a thing it is: brethren to dwell together in vnitie.
2 It is like the precious oyntment vpon the head, that ranne downe vnto the beard: euen vnto Aarons beard, and went downe to the skirts of his clothing.
3 Like as the dewe of Hermon: which fell vpon the hill of Sion.
4 For there the Lorde promised his blessing: and life for euermore.

Ecce nunc. Psal. 134.

1 BEholde (nowe) prayse the Lorde: all ye seruants of the Lord.
2 Ye that by night stande in the house of the Lord: euen in the courts of the house of our God.
3 Lift vp your handes in the sanctuarie: and prayse the Lord.
4 The Lord that made heauen and earth: giue thee blessing out of Sion.

Laudate nomen. Psal. 135.

1 O Prayse the Lord, laud ye the name of the Lord: prayse it, O ye seruantes of the Lord.
2 Ye that stand in the house of ỳ Lord: in the courtes of the house of our God.
3 O praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious: O sing prayses vnto his name, for it is louely.
4 For why? ỳ Lorde hath chosen Jacob vnto him selfe: and Israel for his owne possession.

5 For I know that the Lord is great: and that our Lord is aboue all gods.
6 Whatsoeuer the Lord pleased, that did he in heauen and in earth: and in the sea, and in all deepe places.
7 He bringeth forth the cloudes from the ends of the worlde: and sendeth forth lightnings with the raine, bringing the windes out of his treasures.
8 He smote the first borne of Egypt: both of man and beast.
9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the middest of thee, O thou land of Egypt: vpon Pharao and all his seruants.
10 He smote diuers nations: and slewe mightie kings.
11 Sehon king of the Amorites, & Og the king of Basan: & all the kingdomes of Chanaan.
12 And gaue their land to be an heritage: euen an heritage vnto Israel his people.
13 Thy name, O Lorde, endureth for euer: so doeth thy memoriall, O Lord, from one generation to another.
14 For the Lord wil auenge his people: and be gracious vnto his seruants.
15 As for the images of the heathen, they are but siluer and golde: the worke of mens handes.
16 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, but they see not.
17 They haue eares, & yet they heare not: neyther is there any breath in their mouthes.
18 They that make them, are like vnto them: & so are all they that put their trust in them.
19 Prayse the Lorde ye house of Israel: prayse the Lord ye house of Aaron.
20 Prayse the Lorde ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.
21 Praised be the Lorde out of Sion: which dwelleth at Hierusalem.

Confitemini. Psal. 136.

Euening prayer.

1 O Giue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gratious: and his mercie endureth for euer.
2 O giue thankes vnto the God of all gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.
3 O thanke the Lord of all lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.
4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for euer.
5 Which by his excellent wisedome made the heauens: for his mercy endureth for euer.
6 Which laid out the earth aboue the waters: for his mercy endureth for euer.
7 Which hath made great lightes: for his mercy endureth for euer.
8 The Sunne to rule the day: for his mercy endureth for euer.
9 The Moone & the Starres to gouerne the night: for his mercy endureth for euer.
10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: for his mercy endureth for euer.
11 And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for euer.
12 With a mightie hand & stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for euer.
13 Which deuided the red sea in two partes: for his mercy endureth for euer.
14 And made Israel to goe thorow the middest of it: for his mercy endureth for euer.
15 But as for Pharao & his hoste, he ouerthrew them in the red sea: for his mercy endureth for euer.
16 Which led his people thorowe the wildernesse: for his mercy endureth for euer.
17 Which smote great kings: for his mercy endureth for euer.
18 Yea, and slue mightie kings: for his mercy endureth for euer.
19 Sehon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for euer.
20 And Og the king of Basan: for his mercy endureth for euer.
21 And gaue away their lande for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for euer.
22 Euen for an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercy endureth for euer.
23 Which remembred vs when wee were in trouble: for his mercy endureth for euer.
24 And hath deliuered vs from our enemies: for his mercy endureth for euer.
25 Which giueth foode to all flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.
26 O giue thankes vnto the God of heauen: for his mercy endureth for euer.
27 O giue thankes vnto the Lord of lordes: for his mercy endureth for euer.

Super flumina. Psal. 137.

1 BY the waters of Babylon we sate downe and wept: when we remembred (thee) O Sion.
2 As for our harpes, we hanged them vp: vpon the trees that are therein.
3 For they that led vs away captiue, required of vs then a song & melodie in our heauinesse: sing vs one of the songs of Sion.
4 Howe shall wee sing the Lordes song: in a strauge land?
5 If I forget thee, O Hierusalē: let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Hierusalem in my mirth.
7 Remēber the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Hierusalem: how they said, Downe with it, downe with it, euen to the ground.
8 O daughter of Babylon, wasted with miserie: yea, happie shall he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed

9 Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children: and throweth them against the stones.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 138.

1 I Will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, with my whole heart: euen before the gods will I sing praise vnto thee.

2 I wil worship toward thy holy temple, and prayse thy name, because of thy louing kindnesse and trueth: for thou hast magnified thy name, and thy word aboue all things.

3 When I called vpon thee, thou heardest me: and endouedst my soule with much strength.

4 All the kings of the earth shall prayse thee, O Lorde: for they haue heard the wordes of thy mouth.

5 Yea, they shall sing in the wayes of the Lord: that great is the glory of the Lord.

6 For though the Lorde be high, yet hath hee respect vnto the lowly: as for the proude, he beholdeth them a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh mee: thou shalt stretche forth thine hand vpon the furiousnesse of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.

8 The Lord shall make good his louing kindnesse towarde me: yea, thy mercy, O Lorde, endureth for euer, despise not then the works of thine owne handes.

Domine, probasti. Psal. 139.

Morning prayer.

1 O Lord, thou hast searched me out, and knowen mee: thou knowest my downe sitting, and mine vprising, thou vnderstandest my thoughtes long before.

2 Thou art about my path, and about my bed: and spyest out all my wayes.

3 For loe, there is not a worde in my tongue: but thou, O Lord, knowest it altogether.

4 Thou hast fashioned me behinde and before: and layde thine hand vpon me.

5 Such knowledge is too wonderfull and excellent for me: I cannot attaine vnto it.

6 Whither shall I go then from thy spirite: or whither shall I goe then from thy presence?

7 If I clime vp into heauen, thou art there: if I go downe to hell, thou art there also.

8 If I take the wings of the morning: and remaine in the vttermost partes of the sea.

9 Euen there also shall thy hand leade me: and thy right hand shal holde me.

10 If I say, Peraduenture the darkenesse shall couer me: then shal my night be turned to day.

11 Yea, the darkenes is no darknes with thee, but the night is as cleare as ỹ day: the darkenesse and light (to thee) are both alike.

12 For my reynes are thine: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

13 I will giue thanks vnto thee, for I am fearefully and wonderfully made: marueilous are thy workes, and that my soule knoweth right well.

14 My bones are not hid from thee: though I be made secretly, and fashioned beneath in the earth.

15 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being vnperfect: and in thy booke were all my members written.

16 Which day by day were fashioned: when as yet there was none of them.

17 How deare are thy counsailes vnto mee, O God: O how great is the summe of them?

18 If I tell them, they are mo in number then ỹ sand: whē I wake vp, I am present with thee.

19 Wilt not thou slay the wicked, O God: depart from me ye bloodthirstie men.

20 For they speake vnrighteously against thee: and thine enemies take thy name in vaine.

21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee: and am not I grieued with those that rise vp against thee?

22 Yea, I hate them right sore: euen as though they were mine enemies.

23 Try me, O God, & seeke the ground of my heart: proue me, and examine my thoughts.

24 Looke wel if there be any way of wickednes in me: and leade me in the way euerlasting.

Eripe me Domine. Psal. 140.

1 D Eliuer me O Lord from the euill mā: & preserue me from the wicked man.

2 Which imagine mischiefe in their heartes: and stirre vp strife all the day long.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: Adders poyson is vnder their lippes.

4 Keepe me O Lord from the handes of the vngodly: preserue me frō the wicked men which are purposed to ouerthrowe my goings.

5 The proude hath layde a snare for mee, and spread a net abroade with cordes: yea, and set trappes in my way.

6 I sayde vnto the Lorde, Thou art my God: heare the voyce of my prayers, O Lord.

7 O Lord God, thou strength of my health: thou hast couered my head in the day of battell.

8 Let not the vngodly haue his desire, O Lorde: let not his mischieuous imagination prosper, least they be too proude.

9 Let the mischiefe of their owne lippes fall vpon the head of them: that cōpasse me about.

10 Let hot burning coales fall vpon them: let them be cast into the fire, and into the pit, that they neuer rise vp againe.

11 A man full of wordes, shal not prosper vpon the earth: euill shall hunt the wicked person to ouerthrow him.

12 Sure I am that the Lorde will auenge the poore: & maintaine the cause of the helpelesse.

13 The righteous also shal giue thāks vnto thy name: and the iust shall continue in thy sight.

Domine,

Domine, clamaui. Pſal. 141.

1 LOrde, I call vpon thee, haſte thee vnto me: and conſider my voyce, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be ſet forth in thy ſight as the incenſe: and let the lifting vp of my handes be an euening ſacrifice.

3 Set a watch (O Lorde) before my mouth: and keepe the doore of my lippes.

4 O let not mine heart be enclined to any euill thing: let mee not be occupyed in vngodly workes, with the men that worke wickednesse, leaſt I eate of ſuch things as pleaſe them.

5 Let the righteous rather ſmite me friendly: and reproue me.

6 But let not their precious balmes breake mine head: yea, I will pray yet againſt their wickednesse.

7 Let their iudges be ouerthrowen in ſtonie places: that they may heare my wordes, for they are ſweete.

8 Our bones lie ſcattered before the pitte: like as when one breaketh and heweth wood vpon the earth.

9 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lorde God: in thee is my truſt, O caſt not out my ſoule.

10 Keepe mee from the ſnare which they haue layde for me: and from the trappes of the wicked doers.

11 Let the vngodly fall into their owne nettes together: and let me euer eſcape them.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Pſal. 142.

Euening prayer.

1 I Cryed vnto the Lorde with my voyce: yea, euen vnto the Lord did I make my ſupplication.

2 I powred out my complaynte before him: and ſhewed him of my trouble.

3 When my ſpirite was in heauineſſe, thou kneweſt my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily layd a ſnare for me.

4 I looked alſo vpon my right hand: and ſaw there was no man that would know me.

5 I had no place to flee vnto: and no man cared for my ſoule.

6 I cryed vnto thee, O Lord, and ſayd: Thou art my hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

7 Conſider my complaint: for I am brought very lowe.

8 O deliuer mee from my perſecutours: for they are too ſtrong for me.

9 Bring my ſoule out of priſon, that I may giue thankes vnto thy name: which thing if thou wilt graunt me, then ſhall the righteous reſort vnto my company.

Domine, exaudi. Pſal. 143.

1 HEare my prayer, O Lorde, and conſider my deſire: hearken vnto me for thy truethe and righteouſnes ſake.

2 And enter not into iudgement with thy ſeruant: for in thy ſight ſhall no man liuing be iuſtified.

3 For the enemie hath perſecuted my ſoule, he hath ſmitten my life downe to the ground: he hath layde mee in the darkeneſſe, as the men that haue bene long dead.

4 Therfore is my ſpirit vexed within me: and my heart within me is deſolate.

5 Yet doe I remember the time paſt, I muſe vpon all thy workes: yea, I exerciſe my ſelfe in the workes of thy handes.

6 I ſtretch forth my hands vnto thee: my ſoule gaſpeth vnto thee as a thirſtie land.

7 Heare mee, O Lorde, and that ſoone, for my ſpirite waxeth faynt: hide not thy face from me, leaſt I be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 O let me heare thy louing kindnes betimes in the morning, for in thee is my truſt: ſhewe thou mee the way that I ſhould walke in, for I lift vp my ſoule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lorde, from mine enemies: for I flee vnto thee to hide me.

10 Teache mee to doe the thing that pleaſeth thee, for thou art my God: let thy louing ſpirite leade mee forth into the lande of righteouſneſſe.

11 Quicken me, O Lorde, for thy names ſake and for thy righteouſnes ſake bring my ſoule out of trouble.

12 And of thy goodneſſe ſlaye mine enemies: and deſtroy all them that vexe my ſoule, for I am thy ſeruant.

Benedictus Dominus. Pſal. 144.

1 BLeſſed bee the Lorde my ſtrength: which teacheth my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight. Morning prayer.

2 My hope & my fortreſſe, my caſtle and deliuerer, my defender, in whome I truſt: which ſubdueth my people that is vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou haſt ſuch reſpect vnto him: or the ſonne of man that thou ſo regardeſt him?

4 Man is like a thing of nought: his time paſſeth away like a ſhadowe.

5 Bowe thy heauens, O Lord, & come downe: touch the mountaines, and they ſhal ſmoke.

6 Caſt forth thy lightning, and teare them: ſhoote out thine arowes, and conſume them.

7 Sende downe thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, from the hand of ſtrange children.

8 Whoſe

8 Whose mouth talketh of vanitie: and their right hand is a right hand of wickednesse.
9 I will sing a newe song vnto thee, O God: and sing prayses vnto thee vpon a ten stringed Lute.
10 Thou hast giuen victorie vnto kings: and hast deliuered Dauid thy seruant from the peril of the swoorde.
11 Saue me and deliuer me from the hande of strange children: whose mouth talketh of vanitie, and their right hand is a right hande of iniquitie.
12 That our sonnes may grow vp as the yong plants: and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple.
13 That our garners may be full and plenteous with all maner of store: that our sheepe may bring forth thousandes, and tenne thousandes in our streetes.
14 That our oxen may be strong to labour, that there be no decay: no leading into captiuitie, and no complayning in our streetes.
15 Happie are the people that be in such a case: yea, blessed are the people which haue the Lord for their God.

Exaltabo te Deus. Psal. 145.

1 I Will magnifie thee, O God, my king: and I will praise thy name for euer and euer.
2 Euery day wil I giue thanks vnto thee: and praise thy name for euer and euer.
3 Great is the Lord, & marueilous worthy to be praysed: there is no ende of his greatnesse.
4 One generation shal praise thy workes vnto another: and declare thy power.
5 As for me, I wil be talking of thy worship: thy glory, thy praise, & wonderous workes.
6 So that men shal speake of the might of thy marueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnesse.
7 The memoriall of thine abundant kindnesse shalbe shewed: and men shall sing of thy righteousnesse.
8 The Lorde is gracious and mercifull: long suffering, and of great goodnesse.
9 The Lorde is louing vnto euery man: and his mercy is ouer all his workes.
10 All thy workes praise thee, O Lord: and thy saintes giue thankes vnto thee.
11 They shewe the glory of thy kingdome: and talke of thy power.
12 That thy power, thy glory, & mightinesse of thy kingdome: might be knowen vnto men.
13 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdom: & thy dominion endureth throughout al ages.
14 The Lord vpholdeth all such as fall: and lifteth vp all those that be downe.
15 The eyes of all wayte vpon thee, O Lorde: & thou giuest them their meate in due season.
16 Thou openest thine hand: & fillest all things liuing with plenteousnesse.
17 The Lorde is righteous in all his wayes: and holy in all his workes.
18 The Lorde is nigh vnto all them that call vpon him: yea, all such as call vpon him faithfully.
19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: he also wil heare their cry, and wil helpe them.
20 The Lord preserueth al them that loue him: but scattereth abroad all the vngodly.
21 My mouth shal speake the prayse of ỳ Lord: and let all flesh giue thankes vnto his holy name for euer and euer.

Lauda anima mea. Psal. 146.

1 PRayse the Lorde, O my soule, while I liue will I prayse the Lord: yea, as long as I haue any being, I will sing prayses vnto my God.
2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any childe of man: for there is no helpe in them.
3 For when the breath of man goeth forth, he shal turne againe to his earth: and then all his thoughts perish.
4 Blessed is he that hath the God of Iacob for his helpe: and whose hope is in the Lord his God.
5 Which made heauen and earth, the sea and all that therein is: which keepeth his promise for euer.
6 Which helpeth them to right that suffer wrong: which feedeth the hungrie.
7 The Lord looseth men out of prison: the Lord giueth sight to the blinde.
8 The Lord helpeth them that are fallen: the Lord careth for the righteous.
9 The Lord careth for the strangers, he defendeth the fatherlesse and widow: as for the way of the vngodly, he turneth it vpside downe.
10 The Lord thy God, O Sion, shalbe king for euermore: and throughout all generations.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 147.

1 PRayse the Lorde, for it is a good thing to sing prayses vnto our God: yea, a ioyfull and pleasant thing it is to be thankefull. Euening prayer.
2 The Lord doeth build vp Hierusalem: and gather together the outcastes of Israel.
3 He healeth those that are broken in heart: & giueth medicine to heale their sickenesse.
4 He telleth the number of the starres: and calleth them all by their names.
5 Great is our Lorde, and great is his power: yea, and his wisedome is infinite.
6 The Lorde setteth vp the meeke: and bringeth the vngodly downe to the ground.
7 O sing vnto the Lord with thankesgiuing: sing prayses vpon the harpe vnto our God.
8 Which couereth the heauen with cloudes,

and

and prepareth rayne for the earth: & maketh the grasse to grow vpon the mountaines, and herbe for the vse of men.

9 Which giueth fodder vnto the cattell: and feedeth the yong rauens that call vpon him.

10 Hee hath no pleasure in the strength of an horse: neyther delighteth he in any mans legges.

11 But the Lords delight is in them that feare him: and put their trust in his mercy.

12 Prayse the Lorde, O Hierusalem: prayse thy God, O Sion.

13 For hee hath made fast the barres of thy gates: and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flowre of wheate.

15 He sendeth forth his commandement vpon earth: and his word runneth very swiftly.

16 He giueth snowe like wooll: and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who is able to abide his frost?

18 He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he bloweth with his winde, and the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his worde vnto Jacob: his statutes and ordinances vnto Israel.

20 Hee hath not dealt so with any nation: neither haue the heathen knowledge of his lawes.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 148.

1 O Prayse the Lord of heauen: prayse him in the height.

2 Prayse him all yee angels of his: prayse him all his hoste.

3 Prayse him Sunne and Moone: prayse him all ye starres and light.

4 Prayse him all ye heauens: and yee waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them prayse the name of the Lord: for he spake the worde, and they were made, he commanded, and they were created.

6 He hath made them fast for euer and euer: he hath giuen them a lawe which shall not bee broken.

7 Prayse the Lorde vpon earth: ye Dragons and all deepes.

8 Fire and haile, snowe and vapours: winde and stormie, fulfilling his worde.

9 Mountaines and all hilles: fruitefull trees, and all Cedars.

10 Beastes and all cattell: wormes, and feathered foules.

11 Kings of the earth, and all people: princes, and all iudges of the worlde.

12 Yong men and maydens, olde men and children, prayse the name of the Lord: for his name only is excellent, and his prayse aboue heauen and earth.

13 He shall exalt the horne of his people, all his saints shal prayse him: euen the children of Israel, euen the people that serueth him.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 149.

1 O Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: let the congregation of saints prayse him.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be ioyfull in their king.

3 Let them prayse his name in the daunce: let them sing prayses vnto him with Tabret and Harpe.

4 For the Lorde hath pleasure in his people: and helpeth the meeke hearted.

5 Let the saints be ioyful with glory: let them reioyce in their beddes.

6 Let the prayses of God bee in their mouth: and a two edged swoorde in their handes.

7 To bee auenged of the heathen: and to rebuke the people.

8 To binde their kings in chaines: and their nobles with linkes of yron.

9 That they may be auenged of them, as it is written: Such honour haue all his saintes.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 150.

1 O Prayse God in his holinesse: prayse him in the firmament of his power.

2 Prayse him in his noble actes: prayse him according to his excellent greatnesse.

3 Prayse him in the sounde of the trumpet: prayse him vpon the Lute and Harpe.

4 Prayse him in the Cymballes and daunces: prayse him vpon the strings and pipe.

5 Prayse him vpon the wel tuned Cymballes: prayse him vpon the loude Cymballes.

6 Let euery thing that hath breath: prayse the Lorde.

Here ende the Psalmes of Dauid.

The

The Prouerbes of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1 The power of the worde of God. 7 Of the feare of God, and knowledge of his worde. 10 We may not conſent to the entiſings of ſinners. 20 Wiſdome complaineth that ſhee is contemned. 24 The puniſhment of them that contemne her.

1 THe Prouerbes of Solomon the ſonne of Dauid king of Iſrael:

2 To learne wiſedome and inſtruction, and to perceiue the wordes of vnderſtanding,

3 To receiue the inſtruction of wiſedome, iuſtice, iudgement, and equitie:

4 To giue witte vnto the ſimple, and that the yong men might haue knowledge and vnderſtanding.

5 The wiſe man will giue eare, and wil come by more wiſedome, and he that is endued with vnderſtanding, ſhall attayne vnto [wiſe] counſailes.

6 To vnderſtand a parable, and the interpretation thereof, the wordes of the wiſe, and their darke ſpeaches.

Eccle.1.16. pſal.119.10.

7 *The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles deſpiſe wiſedome and inſtruction.

8 My ſonne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forſake not the ‖ lawe of thy mother:

‖Or, inſtruction.

9 For they ſhall be an encreaſe of grace vnto thy head, and [as] a chayne about thy necke.

‖Or, leade thee out of the way.

10 My ſonne, if ſinners ‖ entice thee, conſent not vnto them.

11 If they ſay, Come with vs, let vs lay wayte for blood, and lurke priuily for the innocent without a cauſe:

12 Let vs ſwallowe them vp like the graue quicke and whole, as thoſe that go downe into the pitte:

13 So ſhal we finde all maner of coſtly riches, and fill our houſes with ſpoyles:

14 Caſt in thy lot among vs, and let vs all haue one purſe.

15 My ſonne, walke not thou with them, refraine thy foote from their wayes.

Pſal.50.7. rom.3.15.

16 *For their feete runne to euil, and are haſtie to ſhed blood.

17 But [as] in vayne the nette is layd forth before the byrdes eyes:

18 So theſe lay wayte for the blood of them, and lye priuily for their liues.

19 Such [are] the wayes of euery one that is greedie of gayne, who taketh away the life of the owner thereof.

20 Wiſedome cryeth without, & putteth forth her voyce in the ſtreetes:

21 She calleth before the congregation in the open gates, and sheweth her wordes thorowe the citie, ſaying,

22 O yee children, howe long will yee loue childiſhneſſe: howe long will the ſcorners delight in ſcorning, and the vnwiſe hate knowledge:

23 *O turne you at my correction: loe, I will expreſſe my minde vnto you, and make you vnderſtand my wordes. Eſa.65.12. ierem.7.13.

24 Becauſe I haue called, and yee refuſed, I haue ſtretched out my hande, and no man regarded.

25 But all my counſels haue ye deſpiſed, and ſet my correction at nought:

26 Therefore wil I alſo laugh at your deſtruction, and mocke you, when the thing that yee feare commeth vpon you,

27 Euen when the thing that ye be afrayde of, falleth in ſuddenly like a ſtorme, and your miſerie like a tempeſt, yea when trouble and heauineſſe commeth vpon you.

28 Then ſhal they call vpon me, but I will not anſwere: they ſhall ſeeke me earely, but they ſhall not finde me:

29 And that becauſe they hated knowledge, & did not chooſe the feare of the Lord, 30 They would none of my counſell, but deſpiſed all my correction.

31 Therefore ſhal they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne inuentions.

32 For the turning away of the vnwiſe ſhall ſlay them, and the proſperitie of fooles ſhall deſtroy them.

33 But who ſo harkeneth vnto mee, ſhall dwell ſafely, and be ſure from any feare of euill.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Wiſedome exhorteth to obey her. 5 Shee teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preſerueth from wickedneſſe.

1 MY ſonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and lay vp my commaundements within thee,

2 That thou wilt encline thine eares vnto wiſedome, apply thine heart then to vnderſtanding.

3 For if thou cryeſt after wiſedome, and cryeſt for knowledge:

4 If thou ſeekeſt for her as for ſiluer, and ſearcheſt for her as for treaſures,

5 Then ſhalt thou vnderſtand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lorde giueth wiſedome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderſtanding.

7 He ſtirreth vp health for the righteous: and defendeth them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the right path: and he preſerueth the way of ſuch as doe ſerue him with godlineſſe.

9 Then

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, yea, and euery good path.
10 When wisedome entreth into thine heart, and thy soule delighteth in knowledge:
11 Then shal counsel preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,
12 That thou mayest be deliuered from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh froward things:
13 From such as leaue the wayes of righteousnesse, to walke in the wayes of darkenesse:
14 Which reioyce in doing naught, & delight in the wickednesse of the euill:
15 Whose wayes are crooked, & they frowarde in their pathes.
16 That thou mayest be deliuered also from the strange woman, and from her that is not thine owne, which giueth sweete wordes,
17 Forsaketh the husbande of her youth, and forgetteth the couenant of her God.
18 For her house is enclined vnto death, and her pathes vnto hell.
19 All they that go in vnto her, come not againe, neither take they holde of the way of life.
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of such as be vertuous, and keepe the paths of the righteous.
21 For the iust shall dwell in the land, and they that be perfect, shal remaine in it.
Iob.19.17. 22 *But the vngodly shall be cut off from the earth: and the wicked doers shalbe rooted out of it.

Heb.12.5. &poc.3.19. 11 *My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lorde, neither faynt when thou art corrected of him.
12 For whome the Lord loueth, him he chastneth, and yet delighteth in him, euen as a father in his owne sonne.
13 Wel is him that findeth wisedome, and getteth vnderstanding:
14 For the marchandise of it is better then the marchandise of siluer, and the gayne thereof [is better] then golde.
15 Shee is more worth then pretious stones: and all the things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.
16 In her right hande is long life, and in her left hand riches and honour.
17 Her wayes are pleasant wayes, and all her paths are peaceable.
18 She is a tree of life to them that lay holde vpon her: & blessed is he that keepeth her fast.
19 With wisedome hath the Lorde layde the foundation of the earth, and through vnderstanding hath he stablished the heauens.
20 Through his knowledge the depthes are broke vp, & the cloudes drop downe the dewe.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but keepe wisedome and vnderstanding:
22 So they shalbe life vnto thy soule, and grace vnto thy mouth.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely in thy way, and thy foote shall not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afrayde: but shalt take rest, and sleepe sweetely.
25 Thou shalt not be afraid of any sudden feare, neyther for the violent rushing in of the vngodly when it commeth.
26 For the Lord shall stand by thy side, & keepe thy foote that thou be not taken.
27 Withdrawe no good thing from them that haue neede, so long as thine hande is able to doe it.
28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go thy way, and come againe, and to morowe will I giue thee: whereas thou hast now to giue him.
29 Intende no hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he hopeth to dwell in rest by thee.
30 Striue not with any man without a cause, whereas he hath done thee no harme.
31 *Followe not a wicked man, and choose none of his wayes: Psal.36.1.
32 For the Lorde abhorreth the frowarde: but his ‖ counsell is among the righteous. ‖ Or, secret.
33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the vngodly: but he blesseth the dwellings of the righteous.
34 As for the scorneful, doeth hee not laugh them to scorne: but he giueth grace vnto the lowly.
35 The wise shal haue honour in possession: but shame is the promotion that fooles shal haue.

The iii. Chapter.

2 The worde of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that followe the worde of God, all things shal succeede well.

1 My sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but see that thine heart keepe my commandementes.
Deut.8.1. and 30.16. 2 *For they shal prolong the dayes and yeeres of thy life, and bring thee peace.
3 Let mercy and faithfulnesse neuer goe from thee: binde them about thy necke, and write them in the tables of thine heart:
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and men.
5 Put thy trust in God with all thine heart: and leane not vnto thine owne witte.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall order thy goings.
Rom.12.16. 7 *Be not wise in thine owne conceyte: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill:
a That is, thy whole body. 8 So shal thy [a] nauill be whole, and thy bones strong.
Tob.4.7. luk.14.13. 9 *Honour the Lorde with thy substance, and with the firstlings of thine encrease:
10 So shal thy barnes be filled with plenteousnesse, and thy presses shall flowe ouer with sweete wine.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Wisedome and her fruites ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the worde of God, the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guyded.

1 HEare, O ye children, a fatherly instruction, and take good heede, that ye may learne vnderstanding.

2 For I haue giuen you a good doctrine, forsake not ye my lawe.

3 For when I my selfe was my fathers deare sonne, and tenderly beloued of my mother:

4 He taught me also, and sayde vnto mee, Let thine heart receiue my wordes, keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get thee wisedome, and get thee vnderstanding: forget not the wordes of my mouth, and shrinke not from them.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserue thee, loue her, and she shall keepe thee.

7 The chiefe poynt of wisedome, is to possesse wisedome: and before all thy goods, to get thee vnderstanding.

8 Make much of her, and shee shall promote thee, yea, if thou embrace her, shee shall bring thee vnto honour:

9 She shall beautifie thy head with manifolde graces, and garnish thee with a crowne of glorie.

10 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.

11 I haue shewed thee the way of wisedome, and led thee into the right paths.

12 So that if thou goest in them, there shall no straightnesse hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take fast holde of doctrine, and let her not goe: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 Come not in the path of the vngodly, and walke not in the way of the wicked.

15 Abhorre it, and go not therein, depart aside, and passe ouer by it.

16 For they sleepe not except they haue done mischiefe: and sleepe is taken from them, vntill they haue done harme.

17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of robberie.

18 The path of the righteous shineth, as the light that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day.

19 But the way of the vngodly is as the darkenesse, they know not where they fall.

20 My sonne, marke my wordes, and encline thine eare vnto my sayings:

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them euen in the middes of thine heart:

22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their bodies.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for out of it issueth life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth: and let the lippes of slaunder be farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde that thing that is right: and let thine eye lidde looke straight before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not aside neyther to the right hande nor to the left: but withholde thy foote from euill.

The ende of the Prouerbes of Solomon.

The booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes, which is Solomon the king.

For Solomon is called in Scripture by three sundrie names. The one, Solomon, that is, the maker of peace. The second Idida, that is, beloued of God. The third, Ecclesiastes, that is, a preacher, teaching that true & eternal felicitie consisteth not in any worldly wisedome or abundance of riches, or in carnall pleasure, which all be but vayne and transitorie: but he proueth that true felicitie consisteth in a whole ioyning our selues to God by pure religion, that is, with a syncere faith and the feare of God, obseruing his commaundements.

The first Chapter.

2 All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisedome is but follie and griefe.

1 THe wordes of the Preacher the sonne of Dauid king of Hierusalem.
2 [a] All is but most vaine vanitie, sayth the preacher, and all is most vayne [I say] and but playne vanitie.
3 For what els hath a man of all the labour that he taketh vnder the Sunne?
4 One generation passeth away, another commeth: but the earth abydeth still.
5 The sunne ariseth, the sunne goeth downe, and returneth to his place, that he may there rise vp againe.
6 The winde goeth toward the South, and turneth vnto the North, fetcheth his compasse, whirleth about, and goeth forth, and returneth againe to his circuites from whence he did come.
7 *All floods runne into the sea, and yet is the sea it selfe not filled: for looke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flowe againe.
8 All things are so hard to be knowen, that no man can expresse them: the eye is not satisfied with sight, the eare is not filled with hearing.
9 The thing that hath bene, commeth to passe againe, and the thing that hath bene done, shal be done againe: there is no newe thing vnder the sunne.
10 Is there any thing whereof it may be sayd, Loe, this is newe? for it was long agoe in the times that haue bene before vs.
11 The thing that is past is out of remembrance: euen so the things that are for to come, shall no more be thought vpon among them that come after.
12 I my selfe the Preacher was king of Israel at Hierusalem.
13 And did apply my minde to seeke out and searche for the knowledge of all things that are done vnder heauen: (Such trauayle and labour hath God giuen vnto the children of men, to exercise themselues therein.)
14 Thus haue I considered all these things that come to passe vnder the sunne: and loe, they are al but vanitie and vexation of minde.
15 [b] The crooked can not be made straight, nor the imperfection of things can bee numbred.
16 I communed with mine owne heart, saying, Loe, I am come to great estate, and haue gotten more wisedome then all they that haue bene before me in Hierusalem.
17 Yea, my heart had great experience of wisedome & knowledge: for thereunto I applyed my minde, that I might knowe what were wisedome and vnderstanding, what were errour and foolishnesse: and I perceyued that this was also but a vexation of minde.
18 For where much wisedome is, there is also great trauaile and disquietnesse: and the more knowledge a man hath, the more is his care.

a He doth not condemne the creatures and gifts of God as still: but the careful seeking of them, & the pryde and trust that man hath in worldly things.

Eccle. 40. 11.

b Man is not able of his owne power to reforme that is amisse, and to rise vp from sinne, nor to knowe his imperfection & weakenesse to do any thing that is good, without the grace of God.

The ii. Chapter.

He proueth by foure reasons, that true felicity consisteth not in any worldly pleasure.

1 Pleasures, sumptuous buyldings, riches, and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise & the foole haue both one ende touching the bodily death.

1 Then

1 THen sayde I thus in my heart, Nowe goe to, [a] I will take mine ease, and haue good dayes: but loe, that is vanitie also.

a 1. There is no long cõtentation in any ease or pleasure in this life.

2 Insomuch that [b] I sayd vnto the man giuen to laughter, Thou art madde: and to myrth, What doest thou?

b 2. The mother of vayne pleasure and much laughter, is foolishnesse.

3 [c] So I thought in my heart to giue my flesh vnto wine, & againe to apply my minde vnto wisedome, and to comprehende foolishnesse: vntil the time that among all the things which are vnder the Sunne, I might see what were best for men to doe so long as they liue vnder heauen.

c 3. He that applyeth him selfe to the study of godly wisdome, may not haue too much pleasure in drinking of wine.

4 [d] I made gorgeous fayre works: I buylded my house, and planted vineyardes.

d 4. The more plentie of gorgeous buylding, apparell, riches, or worldly pleasure, the more veration of minde: and all are but vanitie in comparison of godly felicitie, as Solomon affirmeth of his owne experience.

5 I made mee Orchardes and Gardens of pleasure, planted trees in them of all maner of fruites.

6 I made pooles of water, to water the greene and fruitefull trees withall.

7 I bought seruants and maydens, and had a great housholde: as for cattell and sheepe I had more substance of them, then all they that were before me in Hierusalem.

8 I gathered together siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of kings and landes: I haue prouided mee men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was greater and in more worshippe then all my predecessours in Hierusalem, for wisedome remayned with me.

10 And looke whatsoeuer my eyes desired, I let them haue it: and wherein soeuer my heart delighted or had any pleasure, I withhelde it not from it: Thus my heart reioyced in all that I did, and this was my portion of all my trauayle.

11 But when I considered all the workes that my handes had wrought, and all the labour that I had taken therein: loe, all was but vanitie and veration of minde, and nothing of any value vnder the Sunne.

e God hath appointed that man should be obedient to godly reason, as to his king: & not to be led with carnall affection. Pro. 17. 24.

12 [e] Then turned I mee to consider wisedome, errour, and foolishnesse (for what is he among men that might be compared to mee the king in such workes?)

13 And I sawe that wisedome excelleth foolishnesse, as farre as light doeth darkenesse.

14 * For a wise man hath his eyes in his head, but the foole goeth in darkenesse: I perceiued also that they both [f] had one ende.

f They both suffer like aduersitie in this worlde, or as touching the corruption of the body, they dye both alike.

15 Then thought I in my minde, If it happen vnto the foole as it doeth vnto mee, what needeth mee then to labour any more for wisedome? So I confessed within my heart that this also was but vanitie.

16 For the wise are euer as litle in remembrãce as the foolish: for the dayes shal come, [g] when all shalbe forgotten: yea, the wise man dyeth as well as the foole.

g Meaning, in this worlde.

17 Thus began I to be weary of my life, insomuch that I could away with nothing that is done vnder the Sunne: for all was but vanitie and veration of minde.

18 [h] Yea, I was weary of my labour which I had taken vnder the Sunne, because I should be fayne to leaue them vnto another man that commeth after me.

h That he might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

19 [i] And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a foole? and yet shall he be lord of all my labours, which I with such wisedome haue taken vnder the Sunne? This is also a vayne thing.

i He rebuketh men that make carefull prouidence to enrich their heires by vnlawfull meanes, to their owne damnation, not knowing who or what they shalbe, either good or euill.

20 So I turned mee to refrayne my minde from all such trauayle as I tooke vnder the Sunne, 21 For asmuch as a man shoulde weary himselfe with wisedome, with vnderstanding and opportunitie, and yet be fayne to leaue his labours vnto another that neuer sweat for them: This is also a vayne thing, and great miserie.

22 For what getteth a man of all the labour and trauayle of his minde, that he taketh vnder the Sunne, 23 But heauinesse, sorow, and disquietnesse all the dayes of his life, insomuch that his heart can not rest in the night? This is also a vayne thing.

24 Is it not better then for a man to eate and drinke, & his soule to be merry in his labour? yea, I saw that this also is a gift of God.

25 For who will eate, or go more lustily to his worke then I?

26 And why? God giueth to the man that is good before him, wisedome, vnderstanding, and gladnesse: but vnto the sinner hee giueth wearinesse, that he may gather and heape together the thing that afterward shalbe giuen vnto him whome it pleaseth God: This is nowe a vayne thing, yea, a very disquietnesse and veration of minde.

The iii. Chapter.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

1 EVery [a] thing hath a time, yea, all that is vnder the heauen hath his conuenient season.

a Hereby true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing: for God hath appointed all necessarie things to be done in due time, order, and measure.

2 There is a time to be borne, & a time to dye: there is a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp the thing that is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to make whole: a time to breake downe, and a time to build vp.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together: a time to embrace, and a time to refrayne from embracing.

6 A time to wynne, and a time to lose: a time to spare, and a time to spend.
7 A time to cut in pieces, and a time to sowe together: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.
8 A tyme to loue, and a time to hate: a tyme of warre, and a tyme of peace.
9 What hath a man els that doeth any thing, but wearinesse and labour?
10 [b] For as touching the trauayle and carefulnesse which God hath giuen vnto men, I see that he hath giuen it them to be exercised in it.
11 All things hath he made beautifull in their tyme, yea, further then this, he hath planted the worlde in their heartes, that man may not comprehende the worke that God maketh from the beginning to the ende.
12 So I perceyued that in those things there is nothing better for a man, then to be merry, and to do well as long as he liueth.
13 For all that a man eateth and drinketh, yea, whatsoeuer a man enioyeth of all his labour, that same is a gyft of God.
14 I considered also, that whatsoeuer God doeth, it continueth for euer, and that nothing can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doeth it, to the intent that men shoulde feare him.
15 The thing that hath bene, is nowe: and the thing that is for to come, hath bene afore time: for God restoreth againe the thing that was past.
16 Moreouer, I saw vnder the Sunne vngodlinesse in the steade of iudgement, and iniquitie in the steade of righteousnesse.
17 Then thought I in my minde, God shall separate the righteous from the vngodly: and then shall be the time and iudgement of all counsels and workes.
18 I communed with mine owne heart also concerning the children of men, howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appeare as though they were beastes.
19 [c] For it happeneth vnto men, as it doeth vnto beasts, euen one condition vnto them both: as the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: yea, they haue both one maner of breath: so that in this, a man hath no preeminence aboue a beast, but are all subdued vnto vanitie.
20 They goe all vnto one place: for as they be all of dust, so shall they all turne vnto dust againe.
21 [d] Who knoweth the spirite of ‖ man that goeth vpward, and the breath of the beast that goeth downe to the earth?
22 Wherefore I perceyue that there is nothing better for a man, then to be ioyfull in his labour, for that is his portion: but who will bring him to see the thing that shall come after him?

b God hath appointed that euery man should diligently trauaile and take paynes in his vocation, to the ende he would haue him humble & feare God.

c There is no difference betwixt a man & a beast as touching ꝑ body, which of them both dieth: but ꝑ soule of man liueth immortally, and the body of man riseth vp againe by the mighty power of the spirite of God.

d The immortalitie of the soule is not knowen by carnall reason or sense: but by the worde and spirite of God.

‖ Or, of the children of men.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The innocent are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are ful of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore & wise, is to be preferred before an olde king that is a foole.

1 SO I turned mee, and considered all the violent wrong that is vnder the Sunne: and behold, the teares of such as were oppressed, and there was no man to comfort them, or that would deliuer and defende them from the violence of their oppressours.
2 Wherefore I ‖ iudged those that are dead, to be more happy then those that be aliue:
3 [a] Yea, him that is yet vnborne, to be better at ease then they both: because hee seeth not the miserable workes that are done vnder the Sunne.
4 [b] Againe, I sawe that all trauayle and diligence of labour that euery man taketh in hande, was done of enuie against his neyghbour: This is also a vayne thing, and a vexation of minde.
5 [c] The foole folded his handes together, and eateth vp his owne flesh.
6 One handfull [sayth he] is better with rest, then both the handes full with labour and trauayle of minde.
7 Moreouer, I turned me, and behold yet another vanitie vnder the Sunne:
8 There is one man, no moe but himselfe alone, hauing neyther childe nor brother, yet is there no ende of his careful trauaile, his eyes can not be satisfied with riches: [yet sayth he not,] For whome doe I take such trauayle? for whose pleasure doe I thus consume away my life? This is also a vayne and miserable thing.
9 [d] Therefore two are better then one, for they may well enioy the profite of their labour: for if one of them fal, his companion helpeth him vp againe.
10 But woe is him that is alone, for if he fall, he hath not another to helpe him vp.
11 Againe, when two sleepe together, they are warme: but how can a body be warme alone?
12 One may be ouercome, but two may make resistance: a three folde gable is not lightly broken.
13 A poore childe being wise, is better then an olde king that doteth, ‖ and can not beware in time to come.
14 Some one commeth out of prison, and is made a king, and another which is borne in the kingdome, commeth vnto pouertie.
15 And I perceyued that all men liuing vnder the Sunne [e] goe with the second childe, that shall stand vp in the steade of the other.
16 As for the people that haue bene before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable, and they that come [f] after him shall not reioyce of him: This is also a vayne thing, and vexation a He speaketh here according to the iudgement of ꝑ flesh, which can not well abide persecution and trouble.

[a] Or, prayed.

b The more perfect that the worke is, the more it is enuyed of the wicked.

c For idlenesse destroyeth himselfe.

d Mutuall societie is both comfortable & necessary for a mans life.

‖ Or, will not receiue admonition.

e Men seeke rather to please & to come into fauour with him that shall succeede into the place of honour, then with him that doeth occupy ꝑ present estate.

f The people will not be long pleased with him that occupyeth the place of honour.

g We must direct our faith, prayer, and workes, by the worde of God, and not by a blinde or wicked intent.

vexation of minde.

17 When thou commest into the house of God, keepe thy foote, and drawe nygh, that God which is at hande may heare, that thou giue not the g offerings of fooles: for they knowe nought, but to do euill.

The v. Chapter.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough.

a Be not rash in speaking of the maiestie of God, or in vowing and praying to God.

1 BE a not hastie with thy mouth, and let not thine heart speake any thing rashly before God, for God is in heauen, and thou vpon earth: therefore let thy wordes be fewe.

2 For where much carefulnesse is, there are many dreames: and where many wordes are, there men may heare fooles.

Deut. 23. 21.

3 * If thou make a vowe vnto God, bee not slacke to performe it: as for foolish vowes, he hath no pleasure in them: if thou promise any thing, pay it.

b We ought to vowe those things which tende to the glory of God, and which are in our power to performe.

4 b For better is it that thou make no vowe, then that thou shouldest promise, and not pay.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh for to c sinne, neither say thou before the angell, that it is thy ignorance: for then God will be angry at thy voyce, and destroy all the worke of thine handes.

c In promising ỻ which thou art not able to performe. Or by intemperate eating & drinking, or by saying that you sinned not voluntarily, but of necessitie, making God the author of sinne.

6 d And why? whereas are many dreames, and many wordes, there are also diuers vanities, but looke that thou feare God.

d Dreames are not to be credited: but God is to be feared.

7 If thou seest the poore to be oppressed, and wrongfully dealt withall, so that equitie and right of the lawe is wrested in the lande, marueile not thou at such a thing: for hee that is e higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

e Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

8 f The encrease of the earth vpholdeth all things: yea, the king himselfe is mainteyned by husbandry.

f The decay of husbandrie is the decay of the prince.

9 He that loueth money, wil neuer be satisfied with money: and he that loueth riches, shalbe without the fruite thereof: This is also a vayne thing.

10 Whereas much riches is, there are many also that spend them away: and what pleasure more hath he that possesseth them, sauing that he may looke vpon them with his eyes?

11 A labouring man sleepeth sweetely, whether it be litle or much that he eateth: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

g A plague of the couetous man. Iob. 20. 20.

12 g Yet is there a sore plague which I haue seene vnder the Sunne, [namely,] riches kept * to the hurt of him that hath them in possession:

13 For oftentimes they perish with his great miserie and trouble: and if he haue a childe, it getteth nothing.

Iob. 1. 21. 1. Tim. 6. 7.

14 * Like as hee came naked out of his mothers wombe, so goeth he thither againe, and carryeth nothing away with him of all his labour.

15 This is a miserable plague, that he shal goe euen as he came away: What helpeth it him then that he hath laboured in the winde?

h That is, in payne, & without profite.

16 h All the dayes also of his life he did eate in the darke with great carefulnesse, sickenesse, and sorowe.

17 Therefore mee thinke it a better and a fayrer thing a man to eate and drinke, and to be refreshed of all his labour that he taketh vnder the Sunne, all the dayes of his life which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 For vnto whomsoeuer God giueth riches, goods, and power, he giueth it him to enioy it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 For he thinketh not much how long he shall liue, forasmuch as God filleth his heart with gladnesse.

The vi. Chapter.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

1 THere is yet a plague vnder the sunne, and it is a generall thing among men: when God giueth a man riches, goods, & honour, so that he wanteth nothing of all that his heart can desire, and yet God giueth him not leaue to enioy the same, but an other man spendeth them: This is a vayne thing, and a miserable plague.

2 If a man beget a hundred children, and liue many yeeres, so that his dayes are many in number, and yet can not enioy his good, a neither be buried, as for him, I say, that vntimely birth is better then he.

a The wicked couetous man is by many kinds of offences, wanteth the honour of a Christian man: burieth all, either by murdering himselfe, or by such other kind of offence.

3 For he commeth to nought, & spendeth his time in darkenesse, and his name is forgotten.

4 Moreouer, he seeth not the Sunne, & knoweth not of it: and yet hath he more rest then the other.

5 Yea, though he liued two thousand yeeres, yet hath he no good life: Come not all to b one place?

b That is, to death, meaning that he is nothing better then the vntimely fruite.

6 All the labour that a man taketh, is for him ‖ selfe, and yet his desire is neuer filled after his minde.

‖ Or, for his mouth.

7 For what hath the wise more then the foole? what helpeth it the poore, that c he knoweth to walke with fooles before the liuing?

c That is, that he knoweth how to liue: but riches shall by the iudgement of the wise.

8 The d cleare sight of the eye is better then that the soule should walke after desires of the lust: Howbeit, this is also a vayne thing, and a disquietnesse of minde.

d It is better to be content with that state God hath giuen, then to follow his desire, that neuer will be satisfied.

9 The thing that hath bene, is named already, and knowen that it is euen man himselfe: neither may he go to lawe with him c that is mightier then he.

c That is, with God, who will teach him that he is mortall.

10 Many things there be that encrease vanitie, and what hath a man els?

11 For who knoweth what is good for man

liuing in the dayes of his vayne life, which is but a shadowe: Or who will tell a man what shal happen after him vnder the Sunne?

The vii. Chapter.

Diuers preceptes to followe that which is good, and to auoyde the contrary.

1 A Good name is more worth then precious oyntment: and the [a] day of death, is better then the day of birth.

2 * [b] It is better to goe into an house of mourning, then into a banquetting house: For there is the ende of all men, and he that is liuing, taketh it to heart.

3 [c] Grauitie is better then to laugh: for when the countenance is heauy, the heart is reformed.

4 The heart of the wise is in the mourning house: but the heart of the foolish is in the house of mirth.

5 It is better to giue eare to the chastening of a wise man, then to heare the song of fooles.

6 For the laughing of fooles is like the [d] crackking of thornes vnder a pot: and that is but a vayne thing.

7 The wise man hateth wrong dealing, and abhorreth the heart that coueteth rewardes.

8 Better it is to consider the ende of a thing, then the beginning: the patient spirit is better then the hygh minded.

9 Be not hastily angry in thy minde: for wrath resteth in the bosome of fooles.

10 [e] Say not thou, What is the cause that the dayes of ỹ old time were better then they that be nowe? for that were no wise question.

11 Wisedome with inheritance is good, yet better is it with them that without care may beholde the Sunne:

12 For wisedome defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowledge and wisedome giueth life vnto him that hath it in possession.

13 Consider the worke of God, howe that no man can make the thing straight, which hee maketh crooked.

14 Use wel the time of prosperitie, and remember the time of misfortune: for God doeth so temper the one and the other, that a man [f] can finde nothing els.

15 All things haue I considered in the time of my vanitie: that the [g] iust man perisheth for his righteousnes sake, and the vngodly liueth in his wickednesse.

16 Therefore be thou neyther too righteous, nor ouerwise, that thou perish not.

17 Be neyther too vnrighteous also, nor too foolish, least thou dye before thy tyme.

18 It is good for thee to [h] take holde of this, and not to let that goe out of thy hande: For he that feareth God, commeth forth with them all.

19 Wisedome giueth more courage vnto the wise, then ten mighty men of the citie.

20 * For there is not one iust vpon earth that doeth good, and sinneth not. Pro. 20. 9. 1. iohn. 1. 8.

21 Take no heede vnto euery worde that is spoken, lest thou heare thy seruant curse thee: for thine owne heart knoweth that thou thy selfe also hast oft tymes spoken euill by other men.

22 Al these things haue I proued in wisdome, for I thought to be wise, but she went farther from me then she was before: yea, & so deepe, that I might not reache vnto her.

23 I applyed my minde also vnto knowledge, and to seeke and searche out science, wisedome, and vnderstanding, to knowe the foolishnesse of the vngodly, and the errour of doting fooles.

24 And I found that a woman is bytterer then death, the which hath cast abroade her heart as a net that men fish with, and her handes are chaines. [i] Who so pleaseth God, shall escape frō her, but the sinner will be taken with her.

25 Behold (sayth the Preacher) this haue I diligently searched out and proued. One thing must be considered with another, that a man may come by knowledge: which ‖ as yet I seeke, and finde it not.

26 Among a thousand men I haue founde one: but [k] not one woman among all.

27 Loe, this onely haue I founde, that God made man iust and right: [l] but they sought many inuentions.

The viii. Chapter.

To obey princes and magistrates. 27 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

1 WHo is wise? who hath knowledge to make an answere? A [a] mans wisdome maketh his face to shine: but ‖ vnshamefastnesse putteth it out of fauour.

2 * Keepe the kings commandement, namely, for the othe that thou hast made vnto God for the same. Pro. 16. 13.

3 [b] Be not hasty to go out of his sight, and see thou continue in no euill thing: for whatsoeuer it pleaseth him, that doeth he.

4 Like as when a king giueth a charge, his commãdement is mightie: euen so, who may say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 Who so keepeth the commandement, shall feele no harme: but a wise mans heart discerneth the time and iudgement.

6 For euery thing will haue opportunitie and iudgement: and this is the thing that maketh men full of carefulnesse and sorowe.

7 And why? a man knoweth not what is for to come: for who can tell when it shalbe?

8 Neyther is there any man that hath power ouer the spirite, to keepe still the spirit, nor to haue any power in the time of death, nor that can make an end of the battel, neither may vngodlinesse deliuer them that meddle withall.

9 All

a Because that this corporall death is the entring in to life euerlasting. Pro. 22. 1.

b The house of mourning putteth vs in mind of death, & so to examine & amende our liues.

c The heart of a sinner is sooner reformed by an angry countenance, then by a smiling.

d Thornes in the fire crackle for a while, but they are soone gone out.

e God dayes are not to be esteemed by prosperitie, but by vertue and true religion, as the dayes of Christ are better then the former dayes of Moses.

f That no man can finde fault with gods doings.

g Meaning, that the cruell tyrants put the innocent to death, and spare the wicked.

h Take heede of their admonitions.

i A shrewde woman is escaped onely by the grace of God.

‖ Or, my soule seeketh.

k Solomō hauing a thousand wiues, founde not one that was perfectly good.

l And so are cause of their owne destruction.

a That is, getteth to him fauour.

‖ Or, strength.

b Withdraw not thy selfe lightly from the kings obedience.

9 All these things haue I considered, and applyed my minde vnto euery worke that is vnder the Sunne, howe one man hath lordship vpon another to [c] his owne harme.

c As cõmeth oftentimes to tyrants and wicked rulers.

10 For I haue seene often the vngodly brought to their graues, [d] and yet they haue returned into the citie againe, & [e] came from the place of holy men, which in the citie were growen out of memorie, as were those also that liued well: This is also a vayne thing.

d That is, the vngodly hath bene praysed after their buriall.

e That is, the holy men after their burpall grow out of memorie.

11 [f] Because now that euill workes are not hastily punished, the heart of man giueth himselfe ouer vnto wickednesse.

f Where iustice is delayed, there sinne reigneth.

12 Because an euill person offendeth an hundred times, and God deferreth, giuing him long life: therefore am I sure that it shall goe well with them that feare God, which haue him before their eyes.

13 Againe, as for the vngodly, it shal not be wel with him, neither shall he prolong his dayes, but euen as a shadowe, so shall he be that feareth not God.

14 Yet is there a vanitie vpon earth: There be iust men, vnto whom it happeneth as though they had the workes of the vngodly: Againe, there bee vngodly, with whome it goeth as though they had the workes of the righteous: This haue I called also a vayne thing.

15 Therefore I commend gladnesse, because a man hath no better thing vnder the Sunne, then to eate and drinke, and to be merry: [g] for that shall he haue of his labour all the dayes of his life, which God giueth him vnder the Sunne.

g This he speaketh in the person of a carnall man.

16 And so I applyed my minde to learne wisedome, and to knowe the trauayle that is in the worlde, and that of such a fashion, that I suffered not mine eyes to sleepe, neyther day nor nyght.

17 I vnderstoode of all the workes of God, but it is not possible for a man to attaine vnto the workes that are done vnder the sunne: and though he bestowe his labour to seeke them out, yet cã he not reach vnto them: yea, though a wise man would vndertake to knowe them, yet shal he not finde them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 By no outward thing can man know whome God loueth or hateth. 11 No man knoweth his ende. 19 Wisedome excelleth strength.

1 FOr all these things purposed I in my minde to seeke out: The righteous and wise, yea, and their seruantes also are in the hande of God, [a] and there is no man that knoweth eyther loue or hate, but all things are before them.

a By any outward thing in this life, no mã knoweth whether he is lotted or hated of God.

2 It happeneth vnto one, as vnto another, it goeth with the righteous, as with the vngodly, [b] with the good and cleane, as with the vncleane: with him that offereth, as with him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the vertuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: as it happeneth vnto the periured, so happeneth it also to him that is afrayd to be forsworne.

b Prosperitie and aduersitie cõmeth in this life, as well to the godly, as to the wicked.

3 Among all things that come to passe vnder the Sunne, this is a miserie, that it happeneth vnto all alike: This is the cause also, that the heartes of men are full of wickednesse, and madde foolishnesse is in their heartes, as long as they liue, vntill they dye.

4 And why? as long as a man liueth, he hath an hope: for a [c] quicke dogge [say they,] is better then a dead Lion.

c This prouerbe is the saying of the Epicures, the which beleeue not the immortalitie of the soule.

5 For they that be liuing, know that they shal dye: but [d] they that be dead, knowe nothing, neither deserue they any more, for their memoriall is forgotten.

d Repentance after this life, is too late, and vnprofitable.

6 Also their loue and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, neyther haue they any more part in the worlde in all that is done vnder the Sunne.

7 [e] Goe thou thy way then, eate thy bread with ioye, and drinke thy wine with a gladde heart, for thy workes please God: Let thy garments be alwayes white, & let thy head lacke no oyntment.

e The wicked flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, whatsoeuer they do, for that they doe abounde in prosperitie.

8 Use thy selfe to liue ioyfully with thy wife whome thou louest, all the dayes of thy life, which is but vayne, that God giueth thee vnder the Sunne al the dayes of thy vanitie: for that is thy portion in this life of all thy labour & trauayle that thou takest vnder the Sunne.

9 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand to doe, that doe with all thy power: for in the graue that thou goest [f] vnto, there is neither worke, counsell, knowledge, nor wisedome.

f There is no time of working, or repentance after this life.

10 So I turned mee vnto other things vnder the Sunne, and I saw that in running it helpeth not to be swift, in battell it helpeth not to be strong, to feeding, it helpeth not to be wise, to riches, it helpeth not to be a man of much vnderstanding, to be had in fauour, it helpeth not to be cunning: [g] but that all lyeth in time and fortune.

g Thus the wicked worldlings are deceiued, attributing to fortune, that which is ordered by the secret prouidẽce of God, for that rewarde according to mens doings is not in this life, but chiefely in the life to come.

11 For a man knoweth not his time: but like as the fishes are taken with the angle, and as the byrdes are caught with the snare: euen so are men taken in the perilous time, when it commeth suddenly vpon them.

12 [h] This wisedome haue I seene also vnder the Sunne, and mee thought it a great thing.

h A plaine of wisedome.

13 There was a litle citie, & a few men within it: to there came a great king and besieged it, and made great bulwarkes against it.

14 And in the citie there was founde a poore man, but he was wise, which with his wisedome deliuered the citie, yet was there no body that had any respect to such a simple man.

15 Then sayde I, Wisedome is better then strength: neuertheless, a simple mans wisedome is despised, & his wordes are not heard.

16 A wise mans counsell that is ‖ followed in silence, is farre aboue the crying of a captaine among fooles.

‖ Or, heard.

Sapi.6.8. 17 *For wisedome is better then harnesse: but one sinner alone destroyeth much goodnesse.

The x. Chapter.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisedome. 10 A slaunderer is like a Serpent that can not be charmed. 15 Of foolish kings and riotous princes. 16 And of good kings and princes.

1 A Dead flye doeth corrupt sweete oyntment, and maketh it to stinke: euen so oft times, he that hath bene had in estimation for wisedome and honour, is abhorred because of a litle foolishnesse.

a A wise man doeth things aptly, & with good consideration, but a foole doth contrary. 2 a A wise mans heart is vpon his right hand, but a fooles heart vpon his left.

3 A foole will shewe himselfe when he goeth by the way, ‖ yet thinketh he that euery man doeth as foolishly as himselfe.

‖ Or, and being a foole himselfe, esteemeth all other men as fooles. 4 If a principal spirite be giuen thee to beare rule, be not negligent then in thine office: for hee that can take cure of himselfe, auoydeth great offences.

5 Another plague is there which I haue seene vnder the Sunne, namely, the ignorance that is commonly among princes: in that a foole sitteth in great dignitie, and the b rich are set downe beneath.

b Rich in wisdome & vertue. 6 I haue seene seruants ride vpon horses, and princes going vpon ‖ their feete, as it were seruantes.

‖ Or, the earth.

Pro.26.27. eccle.27.30. 7 *But he that diggeth vp a pit, shal fal therein himselfe: and whoso breaketh downe the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

8 Whoso remoueth stones, shal haue trauaile withal: and he that heweth wood, shalbe hurt therewith.

9 When an yron is blunt, and the poynt not sharpened, c it must be whet againe, and that with might: euen so doeth wisedome followe diligence.

c Arte helpeth nature. 10 A backbiter is no better then a serpent that stingeth without hissing.

11 The wordes out of a wise mans mouth are gracious: but the lippes of a foole wil destroy himselfe.

12 The beginning of his talking is foolishnesse: and the last worde of his mouth is starke madnesse.

13 A foole is full of wordes, and a man can not tell what shall come to passe: who will then warne him of it that shall folow after him?

d The foolish wil discusse his matters, and know not his owne dutie. 14 The labour of the d foolish is grieuous vnto them, while they know not howe to goe into the citie.

15 Woe be vnto thee, O thou land, whose king e is but a childe, and whose princes are early at their banquets.

e A childe in affection and maners, and voyde of graue counsell. 16 But well is thee, O thou lande, whose king is come of nobles, and whose princes eate in due season for necessitie, and not for lust.

17 Through slouthfulnesse the balkes fall downe, and through idle handes it rayneth in at the house.

18 Meate maketh men to laugh, and wine maketh them merrie: but vnto money are all things obedient.

f Treason can not be wrought so secretly, but it wil be known 19 f Wish the king no euill in thy thought, and speake no hurt of the rich in thy priuy chamber: for a byrde of the ayre shall betray thy voyce, and with her feathers shal shee bewray thy wordes.

The xi. Chapter.

1 To be liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

a Be liberall to the poore, though it seeme to be cast into the sea, yet shall it profite thee at the last. 1 a Lay thy bread vpon wet faces, and so shalt thou finde it after many dayes.

b Distribute thy almes to any that haue neede, without respect of person. 2 b Giue part seuen dayes, and also vpon the eyght: for thou knowest not what miserie shall come vpon earth.

c In what state man dyeth, in that shal he be iudged at the later day of iudgement. 3 When the cloudes are full, they powre out rayne vpon the earth. c And when the tree falleth, whether it be toward ỹ South or North, in what place soeuer it fall, there it lyeth.

4 He that regardeth the winde, shal not sowe: and he that hath respect vnto the cloudes, shal not reape.

5 Nowe like as thou knowest not the way of the spirite, nor how the bones do growe in the wombe of her that is with childe: euen so thou knowest not the workes of God, which is the workemaster of all.

6 Cease not thou therefore with thy hands to sowe thy seede, whether it be in the morning or in the euening: for thou knowest not whether this or that shall prosper, and if they both take, it is the better.

7 The light is sweete, and a pleasant thing is it for the eyes to looke vpon the sunne.

d So behaue thée in all worldly affaires, ỹ thou remember alwayes the accompt that thou must make to God for the same at the day of iudgement. 8 If a man liue many yeeres, and be gladde in them all, let him remember the dayes of darknesse which shall be many, and that foloweth: All things shalbe but vanitie.

9 Be glad then (O thou yong man) in thy youth, and let thy heart be merry in thy yong dayes, folowe the wayes of thine owne heart, and the lust of thine eyes, d but be thou sure that God shall bring thee into iudgement for all these things.

The xii. Chapter.

2 To thinke on God in youth, & not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 12 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him, and keeping his commandements.

* This verse in the Latine is read in the Chapter before. 1 *Put away displeasure out of thine heart, & remoue euil from thy body: for childehoode and youth is but vanitie.

2 Remember thy maker the sooner in thy youth, or euer the daies of aduersitie come, and or the yeres drawe nygh when thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

3 Before

3 Before the Sunne, the Light, the Moone, and Starres be darkened, and or the cloudes turne againe after the rayne:

4 a When the keepers of the houſe ſhall tremble, and when the b ſtrong men ſhal bow themſelues, when the c milners ſtande ſtill becauſe they be ſo fewe, and when the d ſight of the windowes ſhall waxe dimme:

5 When the e doores of the ſtreetes ſhalbe ſhut, and when the f voyce of the milner ſhalbe laid downe, when men ſhall riſe vp at the voyce of the g birde, and when all the h daughters of muſike ſhalbe brought lowe:

6 When men ſhall feare in i high places, and be afraide k in the ſtreetes, when the l Almond tree ſhall floriſh and be laden with the m Graſhopper, and when all luſt ſhall paſſe: becauſe man goeth to his n long home, and the mourners goe about the o ſtreetes:

7 p Or euer the ſiluer lace be taken away, and or the q golden well be broken: Or the r pot be broken at the ſ well, and the t wheele broken vpon the u ceſterne.

8 Then ſhall the duſt bee turned againe vnto earth from whence it came, and the ſpirit ſhal returne vnto God who gaue it.

9 All is but vanitie (ſayth the preacher) all is but playne vanitie.

10 The preacher was yet more wiſe, & taught the people knowledge, hee gaue good heede, ſought out the ground, & ſet forth many parables: His diligence was to find out acceptable words, right ſcripture, & the words of trueth.

11 For the wordes of the wiſe are like prickes and nayles that goe thorow, of the x authors of gatherings, [which] are giuen of one Shepheard.

12 Therfore beware my ſonne of that doctrine that is beſide this: for to make many bookes, it is an endleſſe worke: and too much ſtudie wearieth the body.

13 Let vs heare the concluſion of all things, Feare God, & keepe his commandementes: for that toucheth al men. For God ſhall iudge all workes and ſecrete things, whether they be good or euill.

The Ballet of Ballettes of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

The firſt Chapter.

1 The familiar talke and myſticall communication of the ſpirituall loue betwene Ieſus Chriſt & his Church.
6 The domeſticall enemies that perſecute the Church.

1 That a hee would kiſſe me with ỹ kiſſes of his mouth: for thy loue is more pleaſant then wine, and that becauſe of the good and pleaſant ſauour of thy moſt precious baulmes.

2 b Thy name is a ſweete ſmelling ointment when it is ſhed forth, therefore doe the c maydens loue thee.

3 Drawe thou me [vnto thee,] we will runne after thee. The king hath brought mee into his priuie chambers: we will bee glad and reioyce in thee, we thinke more of thy loue, then of wine: they that be righteous loue thee.

4 d I am blacke (O ye daughters of Hieruſalem) but yet e fayre and well fauoured, like as the tentes of the Cedarenes, and as the hangings of Solomon.

5 Marualle not at me that I am ſo blacke, for why: the Sunne hath ſhined vpon mee: my mothers children haue euill will at mee, they made me the keeper of the vineyardes, but mine owne vineyarde haue I not kept.

6 Tell mee, O thou whom my ſoule loueth, where thou feedeſt the ſheepe, where thou makeſt them reſt at the noone day: for why ſhall I bee like him that goeth wrong about the flockes of thy companions:

7 If thou knowe not thy ſelfe (O thou fayreſt among women) then goe thy way forth after the f footeſteppes of the ſheepe, and feede thy goates beſide the ſhepheardes tents.

8 Unto the hoſt of Pharaos charrets haue I compared thee, O my loue.

9 Thy cheekes and thy necke is beautifull as the Turtles, and hanged with ſpangs & goodly iewelles, a neckebande of golde will wee make thee, with ſiluer buttons.

10 g When the king ſitteth at the table, he ſhall ſmell my Nardus: a bundle of Myrhe is my loue vnto me, he will lie betwixt my breaſts: a cluſter of Camphire in the vineyardes of Engaddi is my loue vnto me.

11 Oh howe faire art thou my loue, Oh howe fayre art thou: thou haſt doues eyes. O howe fayre art thou my beloued, howe well fauoured art thou:

12 Our bed is deckt with flowres, the ſeelings of our houſe are of Cedar tree, and our croſſe toynts of Cypreſſe.

The

a The church deſireth the peace of Chriſt.
b Chriſts mercie is ſet forth by preaching.
c The maydens, that is, they that are pure in heart.
d Blacke, thorough ỹ ſpots of ſinne & perſecution.
e Fayre, thorough faith in the blood of Chriſt.
f After the doctrine of the Apoſtles.
g So long as the Church ſtandeth ſtedfaſt in Chriſt, ſhe ſhalbe exercised in the true faith of ſaluation.

The ii. Chapter.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the Doue, 15 And the enemies to the Foxes.

1 I Am the Rose of the fielde, and Lilie of the valleys.

a Christ amõg his enemies.

2 [a] As the Lilie among the thornes: so is my loue among the daughters.

b The loue of the Church toward Christ.

3 [b] Like as the apple tree among the trees of the wood: so is my beloued among the sonnes.

4 My delight is to sit vnder his shadowe, for [c] his fruite is sweete vnto my throte.

c His fruite, that is, his word.

5 He bringeth me into his own celler, his banner spred ouer me, which is his loue.

6 Set about mee cuppes of wine, comfort me with apples, for I am sicke of loue.

7 His left hande lyeth vnder my head, and his right hand shall imbrace me.

d Christ chargeth the rulers of the Church as it were by an othe, that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.

8 [d] I charge you (O yee daughters of Hierusalem) by the Roes and Hindes of the fielde, that yee wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

9 Wee thinke I heare the voyce of my beloued: loe, there commeth hee hopping vpon the mountaines, and leaping ouer the litle hilles.

e His diuinitie was hidde vnder our flesh.

10 My beloued is like a Roe or a yong Hart: beholde, he standeth behinde [e] our wall, he looketh in [f] at the window, and peepeth thorowe the grate.

f We can not knowe him in this life perfectly.

11 My beloued answered, and sayd vnto me, O stande vp, my loue, my beautifull, and goe to thine owne: [g] for loe, the winter is nowe past, the raine is away and gone.

g That is, sin and infidelitie is put away by Christ.

12 [h] The flowres are come vp in the fielde, the time of the byrdes singing is come, and the [i] voyce of the turtle doue is heard in our land.

h Good workes.

i The voyce of the holy ghost.

13 The figge tree bringeth foorth her figges, and the vines beare blossomes, & haue a good smell.

14 O stande vp then, and come, my loue, my beautifull, [and come I say,] O my Doue, out of the caues of the rockes, out of the holes of the wall, O let me see thy countenance, and heare thy voyce: for sweete is thy voyce, and faire is thy face.

k Suppresse the heretikes at the beginning, when they preache false doctrine.

15 Get vs [k] the Foxes, yea the litle Foxes that hurt the vines: for our vines beare blossomes.

16 My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies vntill the day breake, and till the shadowes be gone:

l The Church prayeth Christ to be a present helpe alwayes in time of nede.

17 [l] Come againe, O my beloued, and bee like a Roe or a yong Hart vpon the wyde mountaines.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husbande. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernesse.

1 BY [a] night in my bed I sought him whom my soule loueth: yea, diligently sought I him, but I found him not.

a Christ is not founde by carnal reason, but by the scripture.

2 I will get vp, [thought I,] [b] and goe about the citie, in the wayes in all the streetes will I seeke him whom my soule loueth: but when I sought him, I found him not.

b We must continue in prayer, though we feele no comfort at the first.

3 The watchmen also that go about the citie, found me, [to whom I sayd,] Sawe yee not him whom my soule loueth?

4 So when I was a litle past them, I founde him whome my soule loueth, I haue gotten hold vpon him, and will not let him goe, vntill I bring him into my mothers house, and into her chamber that bare me.

5 I charge you, O yee daughters of Hierusalem, by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

c By this is vnderstanded the children of Israel, which in the wildernesse dyd followe Christ.

6 Who is this þ commeth vp out [c] of the wildernesse like vapours of smoke, as it were a smel of Myrrhe, Frankincense, and al maner spices of the Apotecarie?

d By Solomons bedstead, is vnderstanded the temple of Solomon, the which is defended by the sword, that is, by the word.

7 Beholde, about [d] Solomons bedstead there stande three score valiant, of the most mightie in Israel: they hold swords euery one, and are expert in warre.

8 Euery man also hath his sworde vpon his thigh, because of feare in the night.

9 King Solomon had made himselfe a palace of the wood of Libanus, the pillars are of siluer, ‖ the couering of gold, the seate of purple, the grounde is pleasantly paued with loue for the daughters of Hierusalem.

‖ Some reade, the pauement of gold, the couering of purple.

10 Goe forth (O yee daughters of Sion) and behold king Solomon in the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The prayses of the Church. 7 She is without blemish in his sight. 9 The loue of Christ toward her.

a Christ prayseth his church wherein hee hath great delight.

1 O Howe [a] fayre art thou, my loue, howe fayre art thou: thou hast [b] Doues eyes, beside that which lyeth hid within: [c] thy hearie locks are like the wool of a flocke of Goates þ be shorne vpon mount Gilead.

b A simple faith, and sincere.

c The fruites of a true faith.

d By þ teeth, is signified faith, by the which we are all made the sonnes of God equally.

2 [d] Thy teeth are like a flocke [of sheepe] of the same bignesse which went vp from the washing place, where euery one beareth two twinnes, and not one vnfruiteful among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a Rose coloured ryband, thy words are louely, thy cheekes are like a piece of a Pomegranate within thine heares.

e By the necke is signified the preachers.

4 Thy [e] necke is like þ towre of Dauid, buylded with costly stones lying out on the sides, whereupon there hang a thousande shieldes, yea all the weapons of the Giantes.

5 [f] Thy

f The two breasts signifie the two testaments.

5 fThy two breastes are like two twinnes of yong Roes, which feede among Roses.
6 O that I myght goe to the mountaine of Myrrhe, and to the hill of Frankincense, till the day breake, and till the shadowes bee past away.
7 Thou art al fayre (O my loue) and no spot is there in thee.
8 Come to me from Libanus (O my spouse) come to me from Libanus: looke from the top of Amana, from ỹ top of Sanir and Hermõ, from the Lions dennes, and from the mountaines of the Leopardes.
9 Thou hast [with loue] bewitched my heart, O my sister, my spouse, thou hast bewitched my heart with one of thine eyes, and with one chaine of thy necke.
10 O howe fayre are thy breastes, my sister, my spouse? Thy breastes are more pleasant then wine, and the smell of thine oyntmentes passeth all spices.

g The preaching of the Gospel bringeth forth much consolation and profite.

11 gThy lippes, O my spouse, drop as the honie combe, yea milke and honie is vnder thy tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Libanus.
12 hA gardẽ well locked is my sister, my spouse: a garden well locked, and a sealed well.

h The church is defended by Christ.

13 The fruites that are planted in thee, are like a very paradise of Pomegranates with sweete fruites, as Camphire, Nardus, and Saffron, Calamus, Synamom, with all sweete smelling trees, Myrrhe, Aloes, and all the best spices, a well of gardens, a well of liuing waters which runne downe from Libanus.

i Ye prayeth for the grace of the holy ghost towarde the Church, without the which nothing can prosper in it.

14 iVp thou Northwinde, come thou South winde, and blowe vpon my garden, that the smell thereof may bee caried on euery side: yea that my beloued may come into his garden, and eate of the sweete fruits [that growe therein.]

The v. Chapter.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 6 She confesseth her nakednes. 10 She prayseth Christ her husbande.

a The garden signifieth the Church of God, in the which Christ bestoweth his singular benefites.

1 IAm acome into my garden, O my sister, my spouse, I haue gathered my Myrrhe with my spice: I haue eaten honie with my honie combe, I haue dronken my wine with my milke: Eate, O ye friendes, drinke, and be merie, O ye beloued.
2 I am a sleepe, but my heart is waking: I heare the voyce of my beloued when he knocketh, saying, Open to mee, O my sister, my loue, my doue, my darling: for my head is full of deaw, and the lockes of my heare are full of the night droppes.
3 I haue put off my coate, how can I do it on againe? I haue washed my feete, howe shall I syle them againe?
4 My loue put in his hand at the hole, and my heart was moued within me.
5 I stoode vp to open vnto my beloued, & my handes dropped with Myrrhe, & the Myrrhe ranne downe my fingers vpon the locke.
6 I opened vnto my beloued, but hee was departed & gone his way: Now when he spake, my heart was gone: bI sought him, but I coulde not finde him: I cryed vpon him, neuertheless, he gaue me no answere.

b Christ doeth leane his for a time, for that he would stirre vp in them a greater desire of him.

7 So the watchmen that went about the citie, found me, smote me, & wounded me: yea they that kept ỹ walles, tooke away my kerchiefe from me.
8 I charge you therefore, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, if ye finde my beloued, that ye tel him howe that I am sicke for loue.
9 What maner of man is thy loue aboue other louers, O thou fayrest among women? Or what can thy loue do more then other louers, that thou chargest vs so straitly?
10 As for my loue, hee cis white and red coloured, a goodly person among ten thousand.

c The church setteth forth Christ to be of most perfection and comelinesse.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, the lockes of his heare are bushed, and blacke as a Crowe.
12 His eyes are as the eyes of doues by the water brookes, as though they were washed with milke, ‖ and are set like pearles in golde.

‖Some reade, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are like a garden bed wherein the Apothecaries plant all maner of sweete things.
14 His lippes are like Lilies that droppe sweet smelling Myrrhe: his handes are like golde rings, hauing inclosed the precious stone of Tharsis.
15 His body is as the pure Iuorie, deckt ouer with Saphires: his legges are as the pillars of Marble set vpon sockets of gold.
16 His face is as Libanus, and as the beautie of the Cedar trees.
17 The words of his mouth are sweete, yea hee is altogether louely: Such a one is my loue, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, such a one is my loue.

The vi. Chapter.

3 The Church assureth her selfe of the loue of Christ. 4 The prayse of the Church. 8 She is but one and vndefiled.

1 WHither is thy loue gone then, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy loue departed, and wee will seeke him with thee?
2 aMy loue is gone downe into his garden vnto the sweete smelling beddes, that hee may refresh him selfe in the garden, and gather Lilies.

a Christ is conuersant in his church, which is directed by his scriptures.

3 My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies.
4 Thou art beautifull, O my loue, as is [the place] Thirza, thou art fayre as Hierusalem, lem, fearefull as an armie of men with their banners.

5 Turne away thine eyes away from me, for they ‖ haue set mee on fire: thy hearie lockes are like a flocke of Goates shorne vpon the mount of Gilead.

‖ Or, ouercome me.

6 Thy teeth are like a flocke of shorne sheepe, which goe out of the washing place, where euery one beareth twinnes, & not one vnfruitfull among them.

7 Thy cheekes are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy lockes of heare.

b There be many in the Church of God, and diuers orders and degrées therein.

8 [b] There are threescore Queenes, fourescore wiues, and damosels without number.

c Diuers particular Churches dispersed, make but one Catholique Church.

9 [c] One is my doue, one is my darling, she is ỳ onely beloued of her mother, & deare vnto her that bare her: When the daughters sawe her, they sayde shee was blessed, yea the queenes and wiues praysed her.

10 What is she this ỳ looketh forth as the morning, fayre as the moone, cleare as the sunne, and fearefull as an armie of men with their banners?

d Christ looketh vpon his Church subiect to affliction, what fruit it bringeth.

11 [d] I went downe into the nut garden, to see what grewe by the brookes, and to looke if the vineyard flourished, or if the Pomegranats were not forth.

12 I knew not that my soule had made me the chariot of the people that be vnder tribute.

13 Turne againe, turne againe, O thou perfect one, turne againe, turne againe, and wee will looke vpō thee: What will ye see in the [e] Sulamite? She is like men of warre singing in a companie.

e Sulamite, that is, Hierusalem, ỳ which was Shalem, that signifieth peace.

The vii. Chapter.

1 The beautie of the Church in al her members. 10 She is assured of Christs loue towards her.

1 O How pleasant are thy treadings with thy shooes, thou princes daughter? the ioyntes of thy thighes are like a fayre iewell, which is wrought by a cunning workemaster.

a Thy nauill is replenished with the riche knowledge of Gods worde and heauenly desires.

2 Thy [a] nauill is like a rounde goblet, which is neuer without drinke.

b The Church is full of spirituall treasures.

3 Thy [b] wombe is like a heape of wheate that is set about with Lilies.

c The two testaments come from God, and they be of equall authoritie.

4 [c] Thy two breastes are like two twinnes of yong Roes.

d The preachers ought to be pure.

5 [d] Thy necke is as it were a towre of Iuorie: thine [e] eyes also are like the water pooles that are in Hesebon, beside ỳ port of Bathrabbim: thy [f] nose is like the towre of Libanus, which looketh toward Damascus.

e The magistrates must be well instructed in ỳ word of God.

6 That head that standeth vpon thee is like Carmel: and the heare of thy head is like purple, and like a king dwelling among many water conduites.

f The iudges of good and euill.

7 O how faire and louely art thou my darling in pleasures?

g The church doeth encrease the more it is pulled and persecuted.

8 Thy stature is like a [g] Palme tree, and thy breastes like the grapes.

9 I sayd, I will clime vp into the Palme tree, and take hold of his high branches.

10 Thy breastes also shall bee as the wine clusters, the smell of thy nostrels like as the smell of apples.

11 And thy roofe of thy mouth like the best wine, which is meete for my best beloued, pleasant for his lippes, and for his teeth to chawe.

12 I am my beloueds, and he shal turne him vnto me.

13 O come on, my loue, wee will goe forth into the fielde, and take our lodging in the villages.

h Christ will call them that profesſe his word, to account what fruite they doe bring.

i God giueth his graces to the faithfull the which be in his Church.

14 [h] In the morning will wee goe see the vineyarde, we will see if the vine be sprung forth, if the grapes be growen, and if the Pomegranates be shut out.

15 [i] There will I giue thee my breastes: the Mandragoras giue their sweete smell, and beside our doores are all maner of pleasant fruites both new and olde, which I haue kept for thee, O my beloued.

The viii. Chapter.

1 The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 She is vpholden by him. 6 The vehement loue wherewith Christ loueth her. 11 Shee is the vine that bringeth foorth fruite to the spirituall Solomon, which is Iesus Christ.

a The fathers of the olde testament desire to see the incarnation of Christ.

1 O That [a] I might finde thee without, & kisse thee, whom I loue as my brother which suckt my mothers breasts, and that thou shalt not be despised.

2 I wil lead thee, and bring thee into my mothers house, that thou mightest teach me, and that I might giue thee drinke of the spiced wine, and of the sweete sappe of my Pomegranates.

b His gratious fauour shall preserue me from desperation in aduersitie, and frō presumption in prosperitie.

3 His [b] left hand shalbe vnder my head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

4 I charge you, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

5 (What is shee this that commeth vp from the wildernesse, and leaneth vpon her loue?) I wake thee vp among the apple trees where thy mother conceiued thee, where thy mother [I say] brought thee into the world.

c The Church desireth to be ioyned vnto Christ by the seale of the holy ghost.

6 [c] O set me as a seale vpon thine heart, and as a seale vpon thine arme: for loue is mightie as the death, and iealousie as the hell.

7 Her coles are coles of fire, and a very vehement flame [of the Lorde,] so that many waters are not able to quench loue, neyther may the streames drowne it: yea if a man woulde giue all the good of his house for loue, hee should count it nothing.

d The Iewes Church speaketh this of the Gentiles, the which wanted both testaments.

e The apostles preach to them that are called inwardly of God to saluation.

8 [d] Our sister is but yong, and hath no breasts: what shall we doe for our sister when she shall be spoken for?

9 [e] If shee bee a wall, wee shall builde a siluer bulwarke bulwarke thereupon: if she be a doore, we shall fasten her with boards of Cedar trees.

10 I am a wall, and my breastes like towres, then was I as one that hath found fauour in his sight.

11 Solomon hath a Vineyarde at Baalhamon; and this vineyarde deliuered hee vnto the keepers, that euery one for the fruite thereof shoulde giue him a thousande pieces of siluer.

12 My vineyard which is mine, is in my sight: thou (O Solomon) must haue a [f] thousande, and the keepers two hundred, which keepe the fruite.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, O let me heare thy voyce, that my companions may hearken to the same.

14 O get thee away, my loue, and be as a Roe or a yong Hart vpō the sweet smelling mountaines.

[f] By this thousand is signified the greatest profite, which is like eu rlasting, which is obteined by the grace of God, and not by our merites.

The ende of the Ballet of Ballettes of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

The booke of the Prophet Esay.

The first Chapter.

a The Prophet accuseth the sinnes of the people namely, of ingratefulnesse, stubbernnesse, 11 faithlesse seruice of God, 24 and sheweth Gods terrible iudgement against them, vnlesse they repent.

a Reuelation or prophecie.

1 THe [a] vision of Esay the sonne of Amos, which he sawe vpon Iuda and Hierusalem, in the dayes of Uzia and Joatham, Ahaz, and ‖ Ezechiah, kings of Juda.

‖ Or, Iehezekia.

2 Heare, O heauens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath spokē, I haue nourished and brought vp children, and they haue done vnfaithfully against me.

3 The oxe hath knowen his owner, and the asse his masters cribbe: [but] Israel hath not knowen, my people hath giuen no heede.

4 Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seed of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lorde, they haue prouoked the holy one of Israel vnto anger, they are gone backeward.

5 Why should ye be stricken any more? [for] ye are euer falling away: euery head is diseased, and euery heart heauie.

6 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing sound in it, [but] woundes, blaynes, and putrifying sore: they haue not bene salued, neither wrapped vp, neither mollified with the oyntment.

7 Your lande is wasted, your cities are burnt vp, strangers deuoure your lande before your face, and it is made desolate, as it were the destruction of enemies [in the time of warre.]

8 And the daughter of Sion shall be left as a cotage in a vineyarde, like a lodge in a garden of Cucumers, like a besieged citie.

Rom. 9. 29. gen. 19. 24.

9 *Except the Lord of hosts had left vs a smal remnant, we shoulde haue bene as Sodoma, and like vnto Gomorra.

Iere. 6. 20. amos. 5. 22.

10 *Heare the worde of the Lorde, ye lordes of Sodoma, and hearken vnto the lawe of our God, thou people of Gomorra.

11 Why offer yee so many sacrifices vnto me, will the Lord say? I am full of the burnt offerings of wethers, and of the fatnesse of fed beastes, [b] I haue no pleasure in the blood of bullockes, lambes, and goates.

b God hateth all maner of seruice and workes, seeme they neuer so good, and holy, when they be done without faith & pureues of minde.

12 When ye come to appeare before mee, treading in my courtes, who hath required this at your handes?

13 Offer me no mo oblations, for it is but lost labour: incense is an abominable thing vnto me, I may not away with your new moones, your Sabboths, and solemne meetings, your solemne assemblies are wicked.

14 I hate your new moones & appointed feasts euen from my very heart, they make me weary, I can not abide them.

15 When ye hold out your hands, I will turne mine eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, yet will I heare nothing at all, *seeing your hands are full of blood.

Esai. 59. 3.

16 *Wash you, make you cleane, put away your euill thoughts out of my sight: cease frō doing of euill,

1. Pet. 3. 11.

17 Learne to do wel, apply your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, helpe the fatherlesse to his right, let the widowes coplaynt come before you:

18 And then goe to, sayth the Lord, let vs talke together: though your sinnes bee as redde as scarlet, they shall bee as white as snowe: and though they were like purple, they shall be as white as wooll.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, yee shall eate the good of the lande:

20 But if ye be obstinate and rebellious, ye shal be deuoured with the sworde: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken [it.]

21 Howe happeneth it then that the faithfull citie, which was full of equitie, is become [vnfaithfull] as a whore? Righteousnes dwelt in it, but nowe murderers.

22 Thy siluer is turned to drosse, and thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are wicked, & companions of thieues: they loue gifts altogether, and gape for rewards. *As for the fatherlesse, they help him not to his right, neither will they let the widowes causes come before them.

Iere. 5. 28. Ezech. 22. 7. 10.

24 There-

24 Therefore sayeth the Lorde God of hostes, the mightie one of Israele Ah I must ease me of mine enemies, and auenge mee of mine aduersaries.

25 And I shal lay my hand vpon thee, & purely purge away thy drosse, and take away all thy tinne:

26 And set thy iudges againe as they were sometime, and thy senators as they were frō the beginning: and then thou shalt bee called the righteous citie, the faithfull citie.

27 Sion shalbe redeemed with equitie, and her conuerts with righteousnesse.

28 But the transgressors, and the vngodly, and such as forsake the Lorde, shall altogether be vtterly destroyed.

29 For ye shalbe cōfounded for the trees which ye haue desired: and ye shall be ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shalbe as a tree whose leaues are fallen away, & as a garden ẏ hath no moystnesse.

31 And the very strong one [of your idols] shal be as towe, and the maker of it as a sparke [of fire,] and they shall both burne together, and no man quench them.

The ii. Chapter.

1 A prophecie of Christ and his kingdome. 11 Pride, couetousnesse, superstition, and idolatrie are reproued. 17 Gods terrible iudgement against these.

1 The selfe same word that Esai the sonne of Amos sawe vpon Juda and Hierusalem.

Miche. 4. 1.

2 *And [this] shal come to passe in the latter dayes, The a hill of the Lordes house shall bee prepared in the height of the mountaines, and shall be higher then the hilles, and all nations shall presse vnto him.

a Christ, his Church and his word.

3 And a multitude of people shal go, speaking [thus one to another,] Come, let vs ascende to the hill of the Lorde, to the house of the God of Jacob, and hee will instruct vs of his wayes, and wee will walke in his paths: for out of Sion shall come a lawe, and the worde of the Lorde from Hierusalem:

4 And shall giue sentence among the heathen, and shall reforme the multitude of people: they shall breake their swords also into Mattockes, and their speares to make sithes: And one people shall not lift vp a weapon against another, neither shall they learne to fight frō thencefoorth.

5 Come, O ye house of Jacob, & let vs walke in the light of the Lord:

b The cause why God forsaketh his people, are idolatry, heathenish superstition, couetousnesse, and trust in other thinges then in God alone.

6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, b because they be replenished [with euils] from the East, and with sorcerers like the Philistines, and in strange children they thinke themselues to haue ynough.

7 Their lande is full of siluer and golde, neither is there any ende of their treasure: their land is also ful of horses, and no ende is there of their charets.

8 Their land is also ful of vaine gods, and before ẏ workes of their owne hands they haue bowed themselues, yea euen before the thing that their owne fingers haue made.

9 There kneeleth the man, there falleth the man downe [before them:] therefore forgiue them not.

10 Get thee into the rocke, and hide thee in the ground, for feare of the Lord, and for the glorie of his maiestie.

11 The high lookes of man shall bee brought lowe, and the hautinesse of men shalbe bowed downe: and the Lorde alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lorde of hostes [shalbe] vpon all the proud, loftie, and vpon all that is exalted, and he shalbe brought lowe.

13 And vpon all high and stout Cedar trees of Libanus, and vpon all the Okes of Basan, 14 And vpon al the high mountaines, and vpon all the high hilles,

15 And vpon euery high towre, and vpon euery fenced wall,

16 And vpon al the shippes of Tharsis, and vpon all pictures of pleasure.

17 And the pride of man shall bee brought downe, and the loftinesse of men shalbe made lowe, and ẏ Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 As for the idols, he shall vtterly abolish:

19 *And they shall creepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorye of his maiestie, when hee ariseth to destroy [the wicked ones of] the earth. Luk. 23. 30. apoc. 6. 16. ose. 10. 8.

20 In the selfe same day shall man cast away his gods of siluer, and his gods of golde, into the holes of Mowles and Backes, which hee neuertheless had made to himselfe to honour them.

21 And they shall creepe into the clefts of the rockes, and into the toppes of the hard stones, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glory of his maiestie, when hee ariseth to destroy [the wicked ones of] the earth.

22 Cease therfore from man, in whose nostrels there is wath: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

The iii. Chapter.

1 The mischiefe that God sendeth on common weales for the contempt of his word. 14 The couetousnesse of rulers reproued. 16 The proud niceneſſe of women punished to their shame.

1 FOr loe, the Lorde God of hostes doeth take away from Hierusalem and Juda all maner of stay, all stay of meate and drinke,

2 The captaine & the souldier, the iudge and the prophet, the a prudent and the aged man, a The prudent, that is, such as can foresee by their prudēcie things to come.

3 The

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, the senatour, the cunning artificer, and the eloquent oratour.
4 And I shal giue children to be their princes, and babes shall rule ouer them.
5 And the people shall eche one of thē violently oppresse another, and euery one against his neighbour: The boy shal presume against the elder, & the person of lowe degree against the honourable.
6 Yea one shall take a friende of his owne kinred by the bosome, & say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt bee our head, & stay this ruine with thy hand.
7 Then shall hee sweare, and say, I can not helpe you: there is neyther meate nor clothing in my house, make mee no ruler of the people.
8 For Hierusalem and Juda must decay: because that both their wordes and counsels are against the Lorde, to prouoke the presence of his maiestie to anger.
9 Their very countenance bewraieth them, yea they declare their owne sinnes [them selues] as Sodome, they hide it not: Woe be to their owne soules, for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselues.
10 Say to the righteous that it shall goe well with thē: for they shall eate the fruite of their owne studies.
11 [But] wo be vnto the wicked, for it shall be euill with him: for hee shall be rewarded after his owne workes.
12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women rule ouer them: O my people, thy leaders deceiue thee, and corrupt the way of thy footesteppes.
13 The Lorde is here to commune of the matter, and standeth to iudge the people.
14 The Lorde shall enter into iudgement with the elders and princes of his people, [and shal say to them,] It is ye that haue burnt vp my vineyarde, the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.
15 What meane yee that ye bray [as in a morter] my people, and grinde the faces of the poore, sayth the Lord God of hostes:
16 Moreouer, the Lord hath sayde, Seeing the daughters of Sion are waxed proud, & walke with stretched forth neckes, & wanton lookes, going and tripping nicely, and tinckling with their feete:
17 Therefore shall the Lorde shaue the heads of the daughters of Sion, & shall discouer their filthinesse.
18 In that day shal the Lord take away the gorgeousnesse of the attyre about their feete, and the cawles, and the rounde tires [after the fashion of the moone,] 19 The sweete perfumes, and the bracelets, and the mufflers, 20 The bonnets, and the sloppes, and the head bands, and the tablets, and the earings,
21 And rings, and nose iewels,
22 The costly apparell, and the vailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,
23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, and the hoodes, and the lawnes.
24 And in steade of good smell, there shall bee stinke, and in steade of their girdle, a rent, and for well set heare, there shall be baldnesse, in stead of a stomacher, a sackcloth, and [sunne] burning for beautie.
25 Thy men shall perish with the sworde, and thy valiant souldiers in the battaile [O Hierusalem.]
26 And her gates shall mourne and bewaple: and shee being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The miserie of the stubburne. 3 A promise of Gods fauour to the residue.

1 IN that day seuen women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will finde our selues meate and apparell: onely let vs bee called by thy name, to take our shameful reproofe [from vs.]
2 a In that day shall the budde of the Lorde be beautifull and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel. a The incarnation of Christ, is the ioy of the faithfull.
3 Then shall the remnant in Sion, and the remnant at Hierusalē be called holy: [namely,] all such as are written among the liuing in Hierusalem,
4 b After that the Lorde hath washt away the filthinesse of the daughters of Sion, and hath purged the blood out from Hierusalem in the spirit of iudgement, and in the spirit of fire. b They are saued whose sinnes are remitted and washt away with the blood of Christ.
5 And vpon all the dwellings of the hilles of Sion, & vpon her congregations, ỳ Lord shal create a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for all ỳ c glory shall be preserued. c Christ will preserue and defende the glory, that is, the faithfull in all troubles and temptation.
6 And there shall bee a tabernacle for a shadowe in the day time from the heate, and a safe place and refuge from weather and rayne.

The v. Chapter.

1 Of Christ and his vineyarde, 8 with an execration of couetousnesse, 11 drunkennesse, 19 and contempt of Gods word.

1 NOwe will I sing, my beloued friende, a song of my friende touching his vineyarde: * My beloued friend hath a vineyard in a very fruiteful plenteous ground. * Iere. 2. 21. matt. 21. 33.
2 This hee hedged, and gathered out the stones from it, and planted it with the choysest vine: In the middest of it builded hee a towre, also made a wine presse therein; 3 and he a God looketh to receiue of his people the thankfull fruites of faith, and not the wrigglesome workes of faithlesse ingratitude.

he looked that it ſhoulde bring him grapes, and it brought forth wilde grapes.

3 Nowe, O citizen of Hieruſalem, and man of Juda, iudge, I pray thee, betwixt mee and my vineyard.

4 What more could haue bene done for it, that I haue not done? Wherefore then hath it giuen wilde grapes, where I looked to haue had grapes of it?

5 Well, nowe I ſhall tell you howe I will do with my vineyarde: I will take the hedge from it, that it may periſh, and breake downe the wall thereof, that it may bee troden vnder foote.

6 I will lay it waſte, it ſhall neuer bee digged nor cut, but beare thornes and briers: I will alſo forbid the clouds that they ſhall not raine vpon it.

7 As for the vineyard of the Lord of hoſtes, it is the houſe of Iſrael: and the man of Juda, the plant of his pleaſure: of theſe he looked for equitie, but ſee, there is oppreſſion for righteouſneſſe, and lo, it is a crying.

8 Woe vnto them that ioyne one houſe to an other, & bring one land ſo nigh vnto another, that there is no more place: Will ye be placed alone in the middeſt of the earth?

9 Theſe things are in the eares of the Lord of hoſtes: of a trueth great and fayre houſes ſhall be without any dweller in them.

10 And ten acres of vines ſhal giue but a quart, and thirtie buſhels of ſeede ſhall giue but an Epha.

11 Woe bee vnto them that riſe vp early to followe drunkenneſſe, continuing vntill night, till they be ſet on fire with wine.

12 In their feaſtes are Harpes and Lutes, Tabrets and Pipes, and wine: but they regarde not the worke of the Lorde, and conſider not the operation of his hands.

13 Therefore commeth my folke into captiuitie, becauſe they haue no vnderſtanding: [b] Their glory is famiſhed with hunger, and their multitude dried vp with thirſt.

b Their glory, their noble & honorable perſonages.

14 Therefore gapeth hell, & openeth her mouth marueilous wide, that their glory, multitude, and wealth, with ſuch as reioyce in her, may deſcende into it.

15 Thus hath man a fall, and is brought low, and the high looke of the proude ſhalbe layde downe.

c Gods children, as though they were ſtrangers, miſerably dealt withall by the oppreſſion of the couetous, ſhall after a time repoſſeſſe and enioy the lands & goods, which the couetous oppreſſours ſhall be conſtrained to forſake & leaue as waſte.

16 But the Lord of hoſts ſhalbe exalted in iudgement, & God that is holy, is ſanctified in righteouſneſſe.

17 Then ſhal the ſheepe eate as they were wont, and the rich mens waſtes ſhall [c] ſtrangers deuoure.

18 Woe be vnto them that draw wickedneſſe with cordes of vanitie, and ſinne as it were with a cartrope:

19 Which vſe to ſpeake on this maner, Let him make ſpeede, and haſten his worke, that we may ſee it: let the counſell of the holy one of Iſrael come and drawe nigh, that we may knowe it.

20 Woe bee vnto them that call euill good, and good euill, which make darkneſſe light, and light darkeneſſe, that make ſowre ſweete, and ſweete ſowre.

21 * Woe bee vnto them that are wiſe in their owne ſight, & thinke themſelues to haue vnderſtanding. Prou. 3.7. rom. 12.16.

22 Woe be vnto them that are ſtrong to ſuppe out wine, and expert men to ſet vp drunkenneſſe.

23 Woe bee vnto them that giue ſentence with the vngodly for rewardes, but condemne the iuſt cauſe of the righteous.

24 Therefore like as fire licketh vp the ſtrawe, and as the flame conſumeth the ſtubble: euen ſo their roote ſhall be as corruption, and their bloſſome ſhall vaniſh away like duſt: for they haue caſt away the lawe of the Lorde of hoſtes, and deſpiſed the worde of the holy one of Iſrael.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kindled againſt his people, and hath ſtretched forth his hande vpon them, yea hee hath ſmitten them: and the hylles dyd tremble, and their carkeiſes dyd lye torne in the open ſtreetes: and in all this the wrath of God hath not ceaſed, but his hande ſtretched out ſtill.

26 And he ſhall giue a toke to a people of a farre countrey, and ſhall hiſſe vnto them from the ende of the earth: and beholde, they ſhall come haſtily with ſpeede.

27 There ſhall not bee one faynt nor feeble among them, no not a ſluggiſh or ſleepie perſon: there ſhall not one of them put off his girdle from his loynes, nor looſe the latchet of his ſhoe.

28 His arrowes are ſharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horſe hooſes are as flint, and his cart wheeles like a whirlewinde.

29 His crye is as it were of a lion, & he roareth like lions whelpes: they ſhall roare & hantche vp the praye, and no man ſhall recouer it, nor get it from them.

30 In that day he ſhalbe ſo fierce vpon him, as the raging of the ſea: then one ſhall beholde the [d] lande, and loe, darkeneſſe and ſorowe, and the light is darkened in the heauens thereof.

d The land of Juda ſhall be ouerwhelmed with miſerable affliction.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Eſay ſawe the glory of the Lorde, 9 And was ſent to prophecie the deſolation of Iurie.

ruction. 23 He shall die without ‖ amendment, and for his great foolishnesse he shal go astray.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Instruction for sureties. 6 The slouthfull and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

1 MY sonne, if thou bee suretie for thy neighbour, and hast fastened thine hand for another man,

‖Or, snared. 2 Thou art ‖ bound with thine owne wordes, and taken with thine owne speach.

3 Therefore, my sonne, do this, and thou shalt be discharged: When thou art come into thy neighbours dãger, go thy wayes then soone, humble thy selfe, & with thy friends intreat [(thy ‖ creditour.)]

‖Or, neighbour. 4 Let not thine eyes sleepe, nor thine eie lids slumber.

5 Saue thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the [hunter,] and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Goe to the Emmet, thou sluggard, consider her wayes, and learne to be wise:

7 She hath no guide, nor ouerseer, nor ruler:

8 Yet in the sommer she prouideth her meate, and gathereth her foode together in the haruest.

Pro. 24. 32. 9 *How long wilt thou sleepe, thou sluggish man? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 Yea sleepe on still a litle, slumber a litle, fold thine handes together yet a litle, that thou mayest sleepe:

11 So shall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.

12 An vngodly person, a wicked man, goeth with a froward mouth.

13 He winketh with his eies, he tokeneth with his feete, he teacheth with his fingers,

14 He is euer imagining mischiefe & frowardnesse in his heart, and causeth discord.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come hastily vpon him, sodainly shall he be all to broken, and not to be healed.

16 These sixe things doth the Lord hate, & the seuenth he vtterly abhorreth:

17 A proud looke, a lying tongue, handes that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that goeth about wicked imaginations, feete that bee swift in running to mischiefe,

19 A false witnesse that bringeth vp lies, and him that soweth discord among brethren.

20 My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not the law of thy mother.

21 Tye them continually in thine heart, and binde them about thy necke.

22 That shall leade thee when thou goest, preserue thee when thou art a sleepe, and when thou awakest talke with thee.

23 For the commandement is a lanterne, and the law a light, yea chastening and nurture is the way of life:

24 That they may keepe thee from the euill woman, and from the flattering tongue of the strange woman.

25 Lust not after her beautie in thine heart, lest thou be taken with her faire lookes.

26 By an harlot [a man is brought] to beg his bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of man.

27 May a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can one goe vpon hote coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29 Euen so, whosoeuer goeth in to his neighbours wife, and toucheth her, cannot bee vnguiltie.

30 Men do not vtterly despise a thiefe that stealeth to satisfie his soule when he is hungry:

31 But if he may be gotten, he restoreth againe seuẽ times as much, or els he maketh recompence with all the good of his house.

32 But who so committeth adulterie with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He getteth himselfe a plague, and dishonor, and his reproch shall neuer be put out:

34 For the ielousie and wrath of the man will not be entreated,

35 No though thou wouldest offer him great giftes to make amendes, hee will not receiue them.

The vii. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to wisedome, and to the word of God, 5 which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 whose maners are described.

1 MY sonne, keepe my words, and lay vp my commandements by thee.

2 Keepe my commandements & my lawe, euen as the apple of thine eye, and thou shalt liue.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, & write them in the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisdome, Thou art my sister, and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman:

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, & from the forraine woman, which giueth sweete wordes.

22 Woe be vnto them that are ſtrong to ſuppe out wine, and expert men to ſet vp drunkenneſſe.

23 Woe bee vnto them that giue ſentence with the vngodly for rewardes, but condemne the iuſt cauſe of the righteous.

24 Therefore like as fire licketh vp the ſtrawe, and as the flame conſumeth the ſtubble: euen ſo their roote ſhall be as corruption, and their bloſſome ſhall vaniſh away like duſt: for they haue caſt away the lawe of the Lorde of hoſtes, and deſpiſed the worde of the holy one of Iſrael.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kindled againſt his people, and hath ſtretched forth his hande vpon them, yea hee hath ſmitten them: and the hylles dyd tremble, and their carkeiſes dyd lye torne in the open ſtreetes: and in all this the wrath of God hath not ceaſed, but his hande ſtretched out ſtill.

26 And he ſhall giue a token to a people of a farre countrey, and ſhall hiſſe vnto them from the ende of the earth: and beholde, they ſhall come haſtily with ſpeede.

27 There ſhall not bee one faynt nor feeble among them, no not a ſluggiſh or ſleepie perſon: there ſhall not one of them put off his girdle from his loynes, nor looſe the latchet of his ſhoe.

28 His arrowes are ſharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horſe hookes are as flint, and his cart wheeles like a whirlewinde.

29 His crye is as it were of a lion, & he roareth like lions whelpes: they ſhall roare & hantche vp the praye, and no man ſhall recouer it, nor get it from them.

30 In that day he ſhalbe ſo fierce vpon him, as the raging of the ſea: then one ſhall beholde the [d] lande, and loe, darkeneſſe and ſorowe, and the light is darkened in the heauens therof.

d The land of Juda ſhall be ouerwhelmed with miſerable affliction.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Eſay ſawe the glory of the Lorde, 9 And was ſent to prophecie the deſolation of Iurie.

1 IN the yeere that king Oziah died, I ſawe alſo the Lord ſitting vpon an high and glorious ſeate, and his traine filled the Temple.

2 And about him ſtoode Seraphims, where-

of

20 Why wilt thou, my sonne, haue pleasure in a strange woman? and embrace the bosome of a stranger?

Iob. 34.21. 21 *For euery mans wayes are open in the sight of the Lord, and he pondereth all their goings.

22 The wickednes of the vngodly shall catch himselfe, and with the snares of his owne sinnes shall he be trapped.

‖Or, instruction. 23 He shall die without ‖ amendment, and for his great foolishnesse he shal go astray.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Instruction for sureties. 6 The slouthfull and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

1 My sonne, if thou bee suretie for thy neighbour, and hast fastened thine hand for another man,

‖Or, snared. 2 Thou art ‖ bound with thine owne wordes, and taken with thine owne speach.

3 Therefore, my sonne, do this, and thou shalt be discharged: When thou art come into thy neighbours dãger, go thy wayes then soone, humble thy selfe, & with thy friends intreat [(thy ‖ creditour.)]

‖Or, neighbour. 4 Let not thine eyes sleepe, nor thine eie lids slumber.

5 Saue thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the [hunter,] and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Goe to the Emmet, thou sluggard, consider her wayes, and learne to be wise:

7 She hath no guide, nor ouerseer, nor ruler:

8 Yet in the sommer she prouideth her meate, and gathereth her foode together in the haruest.

Pro. 24.32. 9 *Howe long wilt thou sleepe, thou sluggish man? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 Yea sleepe on still a litle, slumber a litle, fold thine handes together yet a litle, that thou mayest sleepe:

11 So shall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.

12 An vngodly person, a wicked man, goeth with a froward mouth.

13 He winketh with his eies, he tokeneth with his feete, he teacheth with his fingers,

14 He is euer imagining mischiefe & frowardnesse in his heart, and causeth discord.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come hastily vpon him, sodainly shall he be all to broken, and not to be healed.

16 These sixe things doth the Lord hate, & the seuenth he vtterly abhorreth:

17 A proud looke, a lying tongue, handes that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that goeth about wicked imaginations, feete that bee swift in running to mischiefe,

19 A false witnesse that bringeth vp lies, and him that soweth discord among brethren.

20 My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not the law of thy mother.

21 Tye them continually in thine heart, and binde them about thy necke.

22 That shall leade thee when thou goest, preserue thee when thou art a sleepe, and when thou awakest talke with thee.

23 For the commandement is a lanterne, and the law a light, yea chastening and nurture is the way of life:

24 That they may keepe thee from the euill woman, and from the flattering tongue of the strange woman.

25 Lust not after her beautie in thine heart, lest thou be taken with her faire lookes.

26 By an harlot [a man is brought] to beg his bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of man.

27 May a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can one goe vpon hote coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29 Euen so, whosoeuer goeth in to his neighbours wife, and toucheth her, cannot bee vnguiltie.

30 Men do not vtterly despise a thiefe that stealeth to satisfie his soule when he is hungry:

31 But if he may be gotten, he restoreth againe seuẽ times as much, or els he maketh recompence with all the good of his house.

32 But who so committeth adulterie with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He getteth himselfe a plague, and dishonor, and his reproch shall neuer be put out:

34 For the ielousie and wrath of the man will not be entreated,

35 No though thou wouldest offer him great giftes to make amendes, hee will not receiue them.

The vii. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to wisedome, and to the word of God, 5 which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 whose maners are described.

1 My sonne, keepe my wordes, and lay vp my commandements by thee.

2 Keepe my commandements & my lawe, euen as the apple of thine eye, and thou shalt liue.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, & write them in the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisdome, Thou art my sister, and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman:

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, & from the forraine woman, which giueth sweete wordes.

6 For at the windowe of my house I looked thorow the windowe,
7 And beheld among the simple people, and among the children, a yong man void of wit,
8 Going ouer the streete by the corner in the way toward her house,
9 In the twilight of the euening, when it began now to be night and darke:
10 And behold, there met him a woman, wt opē tokens of an harlot, only her heart was hid:
11 Shee was full of loude wordes, and ready to dallie, whose feete could not abide in the house:
12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in waite at euery corner.
13 She caught him, and kissed him, and was not ashamed, saying,
14 I had a vowe of peace offrings to pay, and this day I performe it:
15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face, and so haue I founde thee.
16 I haue deckt my bed with couerings of tapestrie, and clothes of Egypt.
17 My bed haue I made to smell of myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.
18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning, & let vs solace our selues with the pleasures of loue.
19 For the good man is not at home, he is gone farre off.
20 He hath taken the bag of money with him, and will returne at the appointed solemne feast.
21 Thus with many sweete wordes shee ouercame him, and with her flattring lips she entised him.
22 Sodainly he followed her, as it were an oxe led to the slaughter, and like as it were a foole [that laugheth] when he goeth to the stocks to be punished,
23 So long till shee had wounded his liuer with her darte: like as if a bird hasted to the snare, not knowing that the perill of his life lieth thereupon.
24 Heare me now therefore, O my childe, and marke the wordes of my mouth:
25 Let not thine heart wander in her wayes, and be not thou deceiued in her paths.
26 For many one hath she wounded and cast downe, yea many a strong man hath bene slaine by the meanes of her.
27 Her house is the way vnto hell, & bringeth men downe into the chambers of death.

The viii. Chapter.

1 Wisedome declareth her excellencie, 11 riches, 15 power, 22 eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

1 DOeth not wisedome cry? doeth not vnderstanding put forth her voyce?
2 She standeth in the top of high places by the way, in the place of the paths:
3 She crieth at the gates of the citie, at the entrie of the doores.
4 It is you, O ye men, [saith she,] whom I call, vnto the children of men do I lift vp my voyce.
5 Take heede vnto knowledge, O yee ignorant, be ye wise in heart, O ye fooles.
6 Giue eare, for I will speake of great matters, and open my lippes to tell things that be right:
7 For my mouth shalbe talking of the trueth, and my lips abhorre vngodlinesse.
8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous, there is no frowardnesse nor falshood in them.
9 They are all plaine to such as will vnderstand, & right to them that find knowledge.
10 Receiue my doctrine, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine gold:
11 * For wisedome is more worth then precious stones, yea all things that thou canst desire may not be compared vnto it. Pro. 3. 13.
12 I wisedome dwell with counsell, and finde out knowledge and vnderstanding.
13 The feare of the Lorde abhorreth wickednesse, pride, disdaine, and the euill way, and a mouth that speaketh wicked things I vtterly abhorre.
14 Counsell is mine, and direction, I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.
15 Through me kings reigne, & princes make iust lawes.
16 By me princes beare rule, and noble men do iudge the earth.
17 I am louing vnto those that loue me: and they that seeke me early, shall finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with me, yea, durable riches and righteousnesse.
19 My fruite is better then gold and precious stones, and mine encrease more worth then fine siluer.
20 I will guide thee in the way of righteousnesse, and in the midst of the paths of iudgement:
21 That I may stablish the inheritance of thē that loue me, and encrease their treasure.
22 * The Lord himselfe had me in possession in the beginning of his wayes, or euer he began his works aforetyme. Sap. 9. 9.
23 * I haue bene ordeined from euerlasting, and from the beginning, or euer the earth was made. Eccl. 24. 14.
24 When I was borne, there were neither depthes, nor springs of water.
25 Before the foundations of the mountaines were laid, yea, before all hilles was I borne.
26 The earth, & all that is vpon the earth was not yet made, no not the dust it selfe.
27 For when he made the heauens, I was present, when he compassed the depths about:

28 When

28 When hee hanged the cloudes aboue, when he fastened the springs of the deepe,
29 When he shut ỹ sea within certaine bounds, that the waters should not goe ouer their markes that he commanded, when he laid the foundations of the earth,
‖Or, as a nourisher. 30 I was with him ‖ ordering all things, delighting daily, and reioycing alway before him.
31 As for the round compasse of this world, I make it ioyful: for my delight is to be among the children of men.
32 Therefore hearken vnto me, O ye children: blessed are they that keepe my wayes.
33 O giue eare vnto nurture, be wise, and refuse it not: Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, and giuing attendance at the postes of my doores.
34 For who so findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.
35 But who so offendeth against mee, hurteth his owne soule: and they that hate mee, are the louers of death.

The ix. Chapter.

2 Wisedome calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of an harlot.

1 WIsedome hath builded her house, and hewen out seuen pillars:
2 She hath killed her victuals, powred out her wine, & prepared her table.
3 She hath sent forth her maidens to cry vpon the highest place of the citie,
4 Who so is without knowledge, let him come hither: And to the vnwise she said,
5 O come on your way, eate my bread, and drinke my wine [which] I haue powred out for you.
6 Forsake foolishnesse, and ye shall liue: and see that ye go in the way of vnderstanding.
7 Who so reproueth a scorneful person, getteth himselfe dishonour: and he that rebuketh the vngodly, staineth himselfe.
8 Reproue not a scorner, least he owe thee euill will: but rebuke a wise man, and he will loue thee.
9 Giue a discreet man but an occasion, and he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will encrease in knowledge.
Psal.111.10. pro.1.7. Eccl.1.16. 10 *The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisedome: and the knowledge of holy things is vnderstanding.
11 For thrugh me thy dayes shall bee prolonged, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.
12 If thou be wise, thy wisedome shall doe thy selfe good: but if thou thinkest scorne thereof, it shalbe thine owne harme.
13 A foolish retchlesse woman full of words, and such a one as hath no knowledge, 14 Sitteth at the doore of her house, and in the high places of the citie,
15 To call such as go by, & that walke straight in their wayes.
16 Who so is ignorãt [saith she,] let him come hither: and to the vnwise she saith, 17 Stolen wares are sweete, & the bread that is priuily eaten hath a good taste.
18 And he doeth not consider that they are but dead which be there, and that her ghests are in the deepe of hell.

The x. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and all that follow vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to follow vertue and flee vice, and sheweth also what profite commeth of wisedome, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

1 A Wise sonne maketh a glad father: but an vndiscreet sonne is an heauines vnto his mother.
2 Treasures that are wickedly gotten, profite nothing: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.
3 The Lord will not let the soule of the righteous suffer hunger: but he taketh away the riches of the vngodly.
4 An idle hand maketh poore: but a quicke labouring hand maketh rich.
5 Who so gathereth in sommer, is wise: but he that is sluggish in haruest, bringeth him selfe to confusion.
6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: and the mouth of the vngodly keepeth mischiefe in secret.
7 The memorial of the iust shall haue a good report: but the name of the vngodly shall stinke.
8 A wise man will receiue ‖ warning: but a prating foole shalbe punished. ‖Or, commandements.
9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh surely: but who so goeth a wrong way, shall be knowen.
Eccl.27.25. 10 *He that winketh with his eye, will cause sorowe: but he that hath a foolish mouth, shal be beaten.
11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but the mouth of the vngodly keepeth mischiefe in secret.
1.Pet.4.8. 1.Cor.13.4. 12 *Hatred stirreth vp strifes: but loue couereth the multitude of sinnes.
13 In the lips of him that hath vnderstanding, a man shall finde wisedome: but the rodde belongeth to the backe of the foolish.
14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but ỹ mouth of the foolish is nigh destruction.
15 The rich mans goods are his strong hold: but the neede of the poore is their pouertie.
16 The labour of the righteous [tendeth] to life: but the fruits of the vngodly to sinne.
17 Nurture keepeth the way of life: but hee that refuseth to bee nurtured, deceiueth himselfe.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that speaketh slander, is a foole.
19 Where much babbling is, there must needs be offence: and he that refraineth his lippes, is wise.
‖ Or, an innocent tongue is a noble treasure.
20 ‖ The tongue of the iust man is as tried siluer: but the heart of the vngodly is a thing of nought.
21 The lippes of the righteous feede a whole multitude: but fooles shal die in their owne folly.
22 The blessing of the Lord maketh rich: and bringeth no sorow of heart with it.
23 A foole doeth wickedly, and maketh but a sport of it: but wisedome ruleth the man that hath vnderstanding.
24 The thing that the vngodly is afraid of, shal come vpon him: but the righteous shal haue their desire.
25 As the tempest, so passeth away the vngodly, and is not: but the righteous remaineth sure for euer.
26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke is vnto the eyes: euen so is a sluggish person to them that sende him foorth.
27 The feare of the Lord maketh a long life: but the yeeres of the vngodly shall bee shortned.
28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be turned to gladnesse: but the hope of ỳ vngodly shall perish.
29 The way of the Lorde giueth courage vnto the godly: but it is a feare for wicked doers.
30 The righteous shal neuer be ouerthrowen: but the vngodly shall not remaine in the land.
31 The mouth of the iust will bee talking of wisdome: but the tongue of the froward shal ‖ be cut out.
‖ Or, perish.
32 The lips of the righteous vtter that which is acceptable: but the mouth of the vngodly [speaketh] froward things.

The xi. Chapter.

1 A False balance is an abomination vnto the Lord: but a true weight pleaseth him.
2 Where pride is, there is shame also and confusion: but whereas is lowlinesse, there is wisedome.
3 The innocent dealing of the iust shall leade them: but the wickednesse of the offenders shall be their owne destruction.
Eccl. 5. 13. ezec. 7. 19.
4 *Riches helpe not in the day of vengeance: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.
5 The righteousnesse of the innocent ordereth his way: but the vngodly shall fall in his owne wickednesse.
6 The righteousnesse of the iust shall deliuer them: but the wicked shall bee taken in their owne vngodlinesse.
7 *When an vngodly man dieth, his hope is gone: the confidence ‖ of riches shal perish.
Sap. 5. 15.
‖ Or, of wicked men.
8 The righteous shall bee deliuered out of trouble: and the vngodly shall come in his stead.
9 The dissembler with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the iust be deliuered.
10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the citie is mery: and when the vngodly perish, there is gladnesse.
11 In the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is ouerthrowen by the mouth of the wicked.
12 A foole slandereth his neighbour: but a wise man holdeth his peace.
13 A dissembling person will discouer priuie things: but he that is of a faithfull heart, wil keepe counsell.
14 Where no counsell is, there the people ‖ decay: but whereas many are that can giue counsell, there is wealth.
‖ Or, fall.
15 He that is suretie for a stranger, shall smart for it: and he that hateth suretishipp, is sure.
16 A gracious woman getteth honour: but the strong[a] men attaine riches.
[a] That is, such as be of a stout courage and can abide labour.
17 He that is mercifull, doeth himselfe a benefite: but who so hurteth his neighbour, is a tyrant.
18 The vngodly worketh deceitfull workes: but he that soweth righteousnes, shal receiue a sure reward.
19 Like as righteousnesse bringeth life: euen so to cleaue vnto euill, bringeth death.
20 The Lord abhorreth thē that be of a corrupt heart: but hee hath pleasure in them that are of an vndefiled conuersation.
21 [b] Though hand bee ioyned in hand, yet the wicked shall not escape: but the seede of the righteous shalbe preserued.
[b] Although they agree and line in felowshipp together to withstand punishment, yet they shall not escape.
22 A faire woman without discreet maners, is like a ring of gold in a swines snowte.
23 The desire of the righteous is ‖ acceptable: but the hope of the vngodly is indignation.
‖ Or, is altogether good.
24 Some man giueth out his goods, and is the richer, but the nigarde hauing inough, will depart from nothing, and yet is euer in pouertie.
25 He that is liberall in giuing, shal haue plentie: and he that watereth, [c] shall bee watered also himselfe.
[c] He that deleth charitablyp, shalbe charitablyp dealt with.
26 Who so hoordeth vp his corne, shall be cursed among the people: but blessing shal light vpon his head ‖ that giueth foode.
‖ Or, selleth it.
27 Hee that searcheth for good things, findeth fauour: but who so seeketh after mischiefe, it shall happen vnto him.
28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall haue a fall: but the righteous shal florish as a greene leafe.

29 Who

29 Who ſo maketh diſquietneſſe in his owne houſe, he ſhall haue [d] winde for his heritage: and the foole ſhalbe ſeruant to the wiſe.

[d] He ſhal be poore and needie.

30 The fruite of the righteous is a tree of life: and he that winneth mens ſoules, is wiſe.

31 *If the righteous ‖ bee recompenſed vpon earth: how much more then the vngodly and the ſinner?

1.Pet.4.8. ‖Or, be puniſhed.

The xii. Chapter.

1 WHo ſo loueth correction, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth to be reproued, is a foole.

2 A good man is acceptable vnto the Lord: but the wicked imaginer will bee condemne.

3 A man cannot endure in vngodlineſſe, but the roote of ỹ righteous ſhal not be moued.

‖Or, vertuous. 4 ‖A huſwifely woman is a crowne vnto her huſband: but ſhe that behaueth her ſelfe vnhoneſtly, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughtes of the righteous are right: but the ‖ imaginations of the vngodly are deceitfull.

‖Or, counſels.

6 The talking of the vngodly is, how they may lay waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will deliuer them.

7 God ouerturneth the [eſtate of the] wicked, and they ſtand not: but the houſe of the righteous ſhall ſtand.

8 A man ſhalbe commended for his wiſdome: but a foole ſhalbe deſpiſed.

Eccl 10.32. 9 *He that is deſpiſed, and is yet his owne man, is [a] better then the glorious that lacketh bread.

[a] So behaue thee, that other men may rather praiſe thee, then thou thy ſelfe.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his cattell: but the vngodly haue cruell hearts.

Eccl.20.30. 11 *He that tilleth his land, ſhall haue plenteouſneſſe of bread: but he that followeth ‖idleneſſe, is a very foole.

‖Or, vaine things.

12 The deſire of the vngodly is a net of euils: but the roote of the righteous bringeth foorth fruite.

13 The wicked falleth into the ſnare through the malice of his owne mouth: but the iuſt ſhall eſcape out of all perill.

14 Man ſhall be ſatisfied with good things by the fruit of his mouth: and after the workes of his hands ſhall he be rewarded.

15 The way of a foole is ſtraight in his owne eyes: but he that harkeneth vnto counſell, is wiſe.

16 A foole vttereth his wrath in all the haſte: but a diſcreet man couereth his owne ſhame.

Prou.14.5. 17 *A iuſt man will tell the trueth, and ſhew the thing that is right: but a falſe witneſſe deceiueth.

18 A ſlanderous perſon pricketh like a ſword: but a wiſe mans tongue is wholeſome.

19 The lip of trueth ſhalbe ſtable for euer: but a diſſembling tongue is ſoone changed.

20 Deceite is in the heart of them that imagine euill: but to the counſellers of peace ſhalbe ioy.

21 There ſhall no aduerſitie happen vnto the iuſt: but the vngodly ſhall be filled with miſerie.

22 The Lorde abhorreth lying lips: but they that deale truely pleaſe him.

23 A diſcreet man doeth hide knowledge: but the heart of fooles babbleth out fooliſhneſſe.

24 A diligent hand ſhal beare rule: but the idle ſhalbe vnder tribute.

25 Heauineſſe diſcourageth the heart of man: but a good word maketh it glad againe.

26 The righteous excelleth his neighbour: but the way of the vngodly wil deceiue them ſelues.

27 The deceitfull man ſhall not roſte that hee tooke in hunting: but the riches of the iuſt man is of great value.

28 In the way of righteouſnes there is life: & in the ſame way there is no death.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 A Wiſe ſonne [will hearken] to his fathers warning: but he that is frowneful, will not heare when he is reproued.

2 Of the fruite of a wiſe mans mouth ſhall eache man eate good things: but the wicked ſhall eate of the fruite of the tranſgreſſours.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but whoſo raſhly openeth his lips, deſtroieth himſelfe.

4 The ſluggard would faine haue, and cannot get [his deſire:] but the ſoule of the diligent ſhall haue plentie.

5 A righteous man abhorreth lies: but the vngodly ſhameth himſelfe, and is put to ſilence.

6 Righteouſneſſe keepeth the innocent in the way: but vngodlineſſe doth ouerthrowe the ſinner.

7 Some men make themſelues rich though they haue nothing: againe, ſome make themſelues poore, hauing great riches.

8 [a] With goods a man redeemeth his life: and the poore will not be reproued.

[a] They that are rich, haue many commodities in this world: but in warre, peſtilence, and in time of death they haue no perfect helpe to helpe themſelues.

9 The light of the righteous maketh ioyfull: but the candle of the vngodly ſhal be put out.

10 Among the proude there is euer ſtrife: but with the well aduiſed is wiſedome.

11 Vainely gotten goods are ſoone ſpent: but they that be gathered together with the hand, ſhall encreaſe.

12 Hope deferred, grieueth the heart: but whē the deſire commeth, it is a tree of life.

13 Who ſo deſpiſeth the word, ſhall periſh for the ſame: but he that feareth the commandement, ſhall haue the reward.

14 The lawe of the wiſe is a well of life, to auoid from the ſnares of death.

15 Good vnderstãding giueth fauour: but hard is the way of the despisers.
16 A wise man doeth all things with discretion: but a foole will declare his folly.
17 An vngodly messenger falleth into mischief: but a faithfull ambassadour is as health.
18 He that thinketh scorne to bee reformed, cõmeth to pouertie and shame: but who so regardeth correction, shall come to honour.
19 When a desire is brought to passe, it delighteth the soule: but fooles count it abomination to depart from euill.
20 He that goeth in the company of wise men, shall be wise: but who so is a companion of fooles, shall be afflicted.
21 Mischiefe followeth vpon sinners: but the righteous shall haue a good reward.
22 He that is vertuous, leaueth an inheritance vnto his childrẽs children, and the riches of the sinner is laid vp for the iust.
23 There is plenteousnes of foode in the fields of the [b] poore: but the field not well ordered, is without fruite.

The xv. Chapter.

1 A Soft answere appeaseth wrath: but rough wordes stirre vp anger.
2 The tongue of such as be wise, vseth knowledge aright: as for a foolish mouth, it babbleth out nothing but foolishnes.
3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place behold both the good and the bad.
4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof doeth make sad the spirite.
5 A foole despiseth his fathers correction: but he that taketh heede whē he is reproued, shal haue the more vnderstanding.

11 Hell and destruction ‖ are before the Lorde: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?
12 A scornefull bodie loueth not one that rebuketh him: neither will hee come vnto the wise.
13 *A mery heart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorow of the heart the mind is heauie.
14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding doeth seeke knowledge: but the mouth of fooles is fed with foolishnesse.
15 All the dayes of the poore are ‖ miserable: but a ‖ quiet heart is a continuall feast.
16 Better is a little with the feare of the Lord: then great treasure, and trouble therewith.
17 Better is a dinner of herbes with loue, then a fat oxe with euill will.
18 An angry man stirreth vp strife: but he that is patient, ‖ stilleth discord.
19 The way of the slouthfull man is an hedge of thornes: but the way of the righteous is plaine.
20 A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.
21 Foolishnesse is ioy to him that is destitute of knowledge: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.
22 Thoughts without counsell shall come to nought: but whereas men are that can giue good counsell, there is stedfastnesse.
23 ‖ A ioyfull thing it is to a man when his counsell is followed: & how good is a worde spoken in season?
24 The way of life ‖ is on high to the wise, that a man should beware of hell beneath.

16 To haue wisedome in possession, is better then to haue gold: and to get vnderstanding, is rather to bee chosen then to haue siluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to eschew euill: and who so looketh well to his wayes, keepeth his owne soule.

18 Pride goeth before destruction: and an high minde before the fall.

29 A wicked man beguileth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good:

30 He shutteth his eies to deuise mischiefe, and moueth his lips to bring euill to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of worship, if it be found in the way of righteousnesse.

32 A patient man is better then one strong: & he that can rule himselfe, is more worth then he that winneth a citie.

33 The lots are cast into the lap: but the ordering thereof standeth all in the Lord.

25 The desire of the slouthfull killeth him: for his handes will not labour.
26 He coueteth greedily all day long: but the righteous giueth, and spareth not.
Eccle.34.21. ‖Or, how much more when it is offered with an euill minde? 27 *The sacrifice of the vngodly is abomination: ‖how much more when they offer the thing that is gotten with wickednes?
28 A false witnesse shall perish: but [a good] man speaketh constantly that he hath heard.
29 An vngodly man hardeneth his face: but the iust reformeth his owne way.
30 There is no wisedome, there is no vnderstanding, there is no counsaile against the Lorde.
31 The horse is prepared against the day of battaile: ‖but the Lord giueth victorie. ‖Or, safetie is of the Lord.

The xxii. Chapter.

1 A Good *name is more to be desired then great riches: and louing fauour [is better] then siluer and gold. Eccle.7.2.
2 The rich and poore meete together: the Lord is the maker of them all.
3 A wise man seeth the plague, & hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on still, and are punished.
4 By humilitie and the feare of the Lorde: [commeth] riches, honour, and life.
5 Thornes and snares are in the way of the froward: but he that doeth keepe his soule, will flee farre from them.
6 Teach a childe what way he should goe: for he shall not leaue it when he is olde.
7 The rich ruleth the poore, and the borower is seruant to the lender.
8 He that soweth wickednes, shall reape wickednes: and the rod of his anger shall faile.
9 *He that hath a bountiful eye shalbe blessed: Eccle.31.28.
for he giueth of his bread to the poore.
10 Cast out the scornefull man, and so shal strife goe out with him: yea variance and slaunder shall ceasse.
11 Who so loueth cleannesse of heart, for the grace of his lippes the king shalbe his friend.
12 The eyes of the Lord preserue knowledge: and he ouerthroweth the wordes of the transgressour.
13 The slouthful body saieth, There is a Lion without, ‖I might be slaine in the streete.
14 The mouth of strange women is a deepe pit, wherein he falleth that the Lord is angry withall.
15 Foolishnes is bound in the heart of ẏ childe: and the rod of correction shall driue it away.
16 Who so doeth a poore man wrong, to increase his owne [riches,] and giueth vnto the rich, at the last commeth to pouertie himselfe.
17 Bowe downe thine eare, & heare the words of ẏ wise, apply thy minde vnto my doctrine:
18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keepe them in thine heart, and order them in thy lippes,
19 That thou maiest put thy trust in the Lord, ‖I haue shewed thee this day ‖the thing that thou knowest. ‖Or, thou therefore take heede, 20 Haue not I warned thee ‖very oft with counsaile and learning, ‖Or, three times.
21 That I might make thee know the trueth, that thou with the veritie mightest answere them that send vnto thee?
22 Rob not the poore, because he is poore, and oppresse not the simple in iudgement.
23 For the Lorde himselfe will defende their cause, and doe violence vnto them that haue vsed violence.

24 Make

24 Make no friendship with an angry wilfull man, and walke not with the furious:
25 Least thou learne his wayes, and receiue hurt to thy soule.
26 Bee not thou one of them that binde their hand vpon promise, & are suertie for ‖ weighty causes.
‖ Or, debtes.
27 For if thou hast nothing to pay, ‖ they shall take away thy bed from vnder thee.
‖ Or, why causest thou him to take?
28 Thou shalt not remoue the auncient lande marke, which thy fore elders haue set.
29 Seest thou not that they which be diligent in their businesse, stand before kings, and not among the simple people?

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 When thou sittest to eate with a noble man, consider diligently what is set before thee.
2 Measure thine appetite, if it bee greedily set.
3 Be not desirous of his daintie meates, for meate beguileth and deceiueth.
4 Take not ouer great trauaile to be rich, beware of such a purpose.
5 Wilt thou set thine eyes vpon the thing which ‖ sodainely vanisheth away: For [riches] make themselues wings like an Egle, and flee into the ayre.
‖ Or, is nothing.
6 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an [a] euill eye: neither desire thou his daintie meate.
a Meaning, the enuious & couetous men.
7 For as though he thought it in his heart, he saith, Eate and drinke: whereas his heart is not with thee.
8 The morsels that thou hast eaten, shalt thou parbreake, and lose those sweete wordes.
9 Tell nothing into the eares of a foole: for he wil despise the wisedome of thy wordes.
10 Remoue not the olde lande marke, & come not within the fielde of the fatherlesse:
11 For their redeemer is mightie, euen he shall defend their cause against thee.
12 Apply thine heart vnto correction, & thine eares to the wordes of knowledge.
Prou. 13. 24. eccle. 30. 1.
13 *Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die thereof:
14 If thou smite him with the rod, thou shalt deliuer his soule from [b] hell.
b From destruction.
15 My sonne, if thine heart receiue wisedome, my heart also shall reioyce:
16 Yea, my reynes shalbe very glad, if thy lippes speake the thing that is right.
Prou. 24. 1. psal. 36. 1.
17 *Let not thine heart be ielous to follow sinners, but keepe thee still in the feare of ỹ Lord all the day long:
‖ Or, a reward.
18 For verily there is an ‖ end, and thy patient abiding shall not be cut off.
19 My sonne, giue eare, and be wise, and set straight thine heart in the way [of the Lord.]
20 Keepe not companie with wine bybbers, and riotous eaters of flesh:
21 For such as be drunkards and riotous, shall come to pouertie: and he that is giuen to much sleepe, shall goe with a ragged coate.
22 Giue eare vnto thy father that begate thee, and despise not thy mother when she is olde.
23 Purchase trueth, wisedome, nurture, and vnderstanding, and sell them not.
24 The father of the righteous shal greatly reioyce: and he that begetteth a wise child, shal haue ioy of him.
25 [Doe so that] thy father and mother may be glad of thee, and that she that bare thee may reioyce.
26 My sonne, giue me thine heart, and let thine eyes haue pleasure in my wayes:
27 For an whore is a deepe graue, & a strange woman is a narrow pit.
28 She lyeth in waite as for a pray, and encreaseth the transgressours amongst men.
29 Who hath woe? who hath sorow? who hath strife? who hath ‖ brawling? and who hath woundes without a cause?
‖ Or, murmuring.
30 Who hath red eyes? euen they that be euer at the wine, and seeke excesse.
31 Looke not thou vpon the wine, howe red it is, and what a colour it giueth in the glasse.
32 It goeth downe sweetely, but at the last it byteth like a Serpent, and stingeth like an Adder.
33 Thine eyes shall beholde ‖ strange women, and thine heart shall vtter lewde things:
‖ Some reade, strange visions.
34 Yea, thou shalt be as though thou layest in the middest of the sea, or sleepest vpon the top of the mast of a ship.
35 They haue beaten me, [shalt thou say,] and I was not sicke: they haue stricken me, and I felt it not: when I am well wakened, I will goe to the drinke againe.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 Be not thou * enuious to follow wicked men, and desire not to be among them:
Prou. 23. 17. psal. 36. 1.
2 For their heart imagineth to doe hurt, and their lippes talke mischiefe.
3 Through wisedome is an house builded, and with vnderstanding is it ‖ set vp.
‖ Or, stablished.
4 Through discretion shall the chambers be filled with all costly and pleasant riches.
5 A wise man is [euer] strong: yea, a man of vnderstanding increaseth strength.
6 For with discretion must warres be taken in hand: and whereas are many that can giue counsell, there is health.
7 Wisedome is too high a thing for a foole: for he dare not open his mouth in the gate.
8 He that imagineth mischiefe, may well be called an vngratious person.
9 The wicked thought of the foolish is sinne: and the scorneful is an abomination vnto men.
10 [a] If thou faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.
a Aduersitie doeth try a man what he is.

Pſal.82.4.

11 *Deliuer them that are drawen vnto death, and ceaſſe not to preſerue them that are led to be ſlaine.

12 If thou wilt ſay, Behold, I knew not of it: doeth not he that pondereth the heart conſider it? And he that keepeth thy ſoule, knoweth he it not? Shall not he alſo recompenſe euery man accoꝛding to his woꝛkes?

13 My ſonne, eate thou honie, becauſe it is good, and the honie combe, foꝛ it is ſweete vnto thy mouth:

14 So [ſweete] ſhall the knowledge of wiſedome be vnto thy ſoule when thou haſt found it: and there ſhalbe hope, and thy hope ſhall not be cut off.

15 Lay not priuie waite (O wicked man) againſt the houſe of the righteous, and ſpoyle not his reſting place.

16 Foꝛ a iuſt man falleth ſeuen times, and riſeth vp againe: but the vngodly fall into miſchiefe.

17 Reioyce not thou at the fall of thine enemie, and let not thine heart be glad when he ſtumbleth:

18 Leaſt the Lord when he ſeeth it, be angry, & turne his wrath from him [vnto thee.]

Pſal.37.1.

19 *Fret not thy ſelfe becauſe of ỹ malitious, neither be enuious at the wicked:

20 Foꝛ there ſhalbe no ende [of plagues] to the wicked [man,] and the ‖ candle of the vngodly ſhalbe put out.

‖ Or, reward.

21 My ſonne, feare thou the Lord & the king, and keepe no companie with them that ſlide backe [from his feare:]

22 Foꝛ their deſtruction ſhall riſe ſodainly: and who knoweth the aduerſitie that may come ‖ from them both?

‖ Or, of them both.

THESE ARE ALSO THE SAYINGS OF THE WISE.

Leuit.19.15. deut.1.17.

23 *It is not good to haue reſpect of any perſon in iudgement.

24 Hee that ſaieth to the godly, Thou art righteous: him ſhal the people curſe, yea, the comminaltie ſhall abhoꝛre him.

25 But they that rebuke [the vngodly,] in thē doeth God delight, and a rich bleſſing ſhall come vpon them.

26 Euery man ſhall kiſſe his lippes that giueth a good anſwere.

27 Make ready thy woꝛke that is without, and looke well vnto that which thou haſt in the fielde, and then builde thine houſe.

28 Be not a falſe witneſſe againſt thy neighbour, & ſpeake no falſhood with thy lippes.

Prou.20.22.

29 *Say not, I will handle him euen as he hath dealt with me, and will reward ‖ euery man accoꝛding to his deedes.

‖ Or, the man.

30 I went by the fielde of the ſlouthfull, and by the vineyard of the foolish man:

31 And loe, it was all couered with nettles, and ſtoode full of thoꝛnes, and the ſtone wall was broken downe.

32 This I ſaw, and conſidered it well: I looked vpon it, and tooke it foꝛ a warning.

33 Yea ſleepe on ſtill [I ſay,] a litle, ſlumber a litle, folde thy hands together yet a litle:

34 So ſhal pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and neceſſitie like a weaponed man.

The xxv. Chapter.

Theſe are alſo parables of Solomon, which the men of Hezekia king of Iuda copied out.

1 IT is the gloꝛy of God to keepe a thing ſecrete: but the kings honour is to ſearche out a thing.

2 The heauen is high, the earth is deepe: and the kings heart is vnſearchable.

3 Take the droſſe from the ſiluer, & there ſhalbe a veſſell foꝛ the Fyner.

4 Take away the vngodly from the king, and his ſeate ſhalbe ſtabliſhed with righteouſneſſe.

5 Put not foꝛth thy ſelfe in the preſence of the king, and ‖ preaſſe not into the place of great men:

‖ Or, ſtand not in.

6 *Foꝛ better is it that it be ſaide vnto thee, Come vp hither: then thou to be put lower in the preſence of the Prince whom thou ſeeſt with thine eyes.

Luke.14.10.

7 Be not ‖ haſtie to goe to lawe: leaſt haply thou knoweſt not what to doe whē thy neighbour hath confounded thee.

‖ Or, be not haſtie to ſtriue.

8 Handle thy matter with thy neighbour himſelfe, and diſcouer not thy ſecrete to another:

9 Leaſt he that heareth it, put thee to ſhame, and thine infamie doe not ceaſſe.

10 A woꝛd ſpoken in due ſeaſon, is like apples of golde in a graued woꝛke of ſiluer.

11 Who ſo repꝛoueth a wiſe man that hath an obedient eare, is as a golden earing, and an oꝛnament of fine golde.

12 As the colde of ſnowe in the time of harueſt: ſo is a faithful meſſenger to them that ſende him, foꝛ he refreſheth his maſters minde.

13 Who ſo maketh great boaſtes ‖ and giueth nothing, is like cloudes and winde without raine.

‖ Or, of falſe liberalitie.

14 *With patience is a prince pacified, and with a ſoft tongue ‖ is rigoꝛouſnes broken.

Prou.15.1.

‖ Or, bones are.

15 If thou findeſt hony, eate ſo much as is ſufficient foꝛ thee: leaſt thou be ouerful, and parbreake it out againe.

16 Withdꝛawe thy foote from thy neighbours houſe: leaſt he be wearie of thee, and ſo hate thee.

17 Who ſo beareth falſe witneſſe againſt his neighbour, he is ‖ a very club, a ſwoꝛde, and a ſharpe arrowe.

‖ Or, a maule.

18 The confidence that is put in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth, and a ſlyding foote.

19 Who ſo taketh away a mans garment in the the cold weather, is ‖ like vineger vpon lime, or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.

‖Or, saltpeter, or sope, or nitre.

Rom.12.19. 20 *If thine enemie hunger, feede him, if he thirst, giue him drinke:

21 For so shalt thou heape coales of fire vpon his head, and the Lord shall reward thee.

22 The North winde driueth away the raine: euen so doeth an angry countenance a backbiters tongue.

Prou.21.9. 23 *It is better to sit in a corner vpon ỹ house toppe, then with a brawling woman in a wide house.

24 Good newes from a strange countrey, are as colde water to a thirstie soule.

25 A righteous man falling downe before the vngodly, is like a troubled wel, and a spring that is corrupted.

Eccle.3.22. 26 *As it is not good to eate too much hony: so, curiously to search the glory of heauenly things, is not commendable.

‖Or, his spirit. 27 He that can not rule ‖ himselfe, is like a citie which is broken downe, and hath no walles.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 LIke as snow is [not meete] in sommer, and raine in haruest: euen so is worship vnseemely for a foole.

2 As the birde and the swallowe take their flight to flie here and there: so the curse that is giuen in vaine, shall not light vpon a man.

3 Vnto the horse belongeth a whippe, to the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe.

4 Giue not the foole an answere after his foolishnes, least thou become like vnto him.

5 But make the foole an answere to his foolishnes, least he be wise in his owne conceite.

6 [As he that] cutteth off [his messengers] feete, endamageth himselfe: so doeth he that committeth a message to a foole.

7 Like as in a lame man his legges are not equal: euen so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 He that setteth a foole in high dignitie, that is euen as if a man woulde binde a ‖ stone in a slyng.

‖Or, would hide a precious stone in an heape of stones.

9 As is a thorne in the hand of a drunkard: so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

10 The mightie that fourmed all things, rewardeth the fooles and transgressours.

2.Peter 2.22. 11 *Like as the dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite: euen so a foole beginneth his foolishnes againe afresh.

12 If thou seest a man that is wise in his owne conceite: there is more hope in a foole then in him.

Prou.22.13. 13 *The slouthfull saieth, There is a Lion in the way, and a Lion in the middest of the streetes.

14 Like as the doore turneth about vpon the hinges: euen so doeth the slouthfull walter himselfe in his bed.

15 *The slouthfull body ‖ thrusteth his hand into his bosome, and it grieueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

Prou.19.24. ‖Or, hydeth.

16 The sluggard thinketh himselfe wiser then seuen men ‖ that sit and teach.

‖Or, that can render a reason.

17 Who so goeth by and meddleth with other mens strife: he is like one that taketh a dogge by the eares.

18 As he that faineth himselfe madde, casteth firebrands, deadly arrowes and dartes:

19 So doeth a dissembler with his neighbour, and saieth, Am not I in sport?

20 Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: euen so, where the talebearer is taken away, there the strife ceasseth.

21 *As coales kindle heate, and wood the fire: euen so doeth ‖ a brawling fellowe stirre vp variance.

Eccle.28.12. ‖Or, a contentious.

22 A talebearers wordes are like ‖ men that strike with hammers, and they pearce the inward partes of the body.

‖Or, as flatterings.

23 Burning lippes and a wicked heart, are like a potshard couered with siluer drosse.

24 An enemie will dissemble with his lippes, and layeth vp deceite in his heart.

25 But when he speaketh fayre, beleeue him not, for there are ‖ seuen abominations in his heart.

‖Or, many.

26 Hatred may be couered by deceite: but the malice thereof shalbe shewed before the whole congregation.

27 *Who so diggeth vp a pit, shall fall therein: and he that rolleth vp a stone, it will returne vpon him.

Eccle.10.8. eccle.27.26.

28 A lying tongue hateth the afflicted: and a flattering mouth worketh mischiefe.

The xxvii. Chapter.

1 MAke not thy boast of to morowe: for thou knowest not what a day may bring foorth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth, yea, other folkes, and not thine owne lippes.

3 *The stone is heauie, and the sande weighty: but a fooles wrath is heauier then them both.

Eccle.22.18.

4 Wrath is a cruell thing, and furiousnesse is a very tempest: but who is able to abide enuie.

5 Open rebuke is better then secrete loue.

6 Faithfull are the woundes of a louer: but the kisses of an enemie are ‖ cruel.

Iob.6.6. ‖Or, bitter.

8 He that oft times flitteth, is like a birde that forsaketh her nest.

‖ Or, neighbour. better is a ‖ friende at hande, then a brother farre off.
11 My sonne, be wise, and make mee a glad heart, that I may make answere vnto my rebukers.
12 A wise man seeing the plague, will hide himselfe: as for fooles, they goe on still and suffer harme.
Prou. 20.16. 13 *Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for the vnknowen sake.
‖ Or, he that prayseth his friend with a loude voyce rising early in the morning, it shalbe counted to him as a dispraise. 14 ‖ Hee that is too hastie to praise his neighbour aboue measure, shalbe taken as one that giueth him an euill report.
15 A brawling woman & the roofe of the house dropping in a raynie day, may well be compared together:
16 He that stilleth her, stilleth the winde, and stoppeth the smel of ointment in his hand.
17 Like as one iron whetteth another, so doeth one man ‖ Or, sharpe the countenance of another. ‖ comfort another.
18 Who so keepeth his figge tree, shal eate the fruites thereof: so he that waiteth vpon his master, shall come to honour.
1. Cor. 2. 15. 19 *Like as in one water there appeare diuers faces: euen so diuers men haue diuers heartes.
20 Hell and destruction are neuer full: euen so the eyes of men can neuer be satisfied.
Eccle. 14.4. and 17.3. 21 *As is the fining pot for the siluer, and the furnace for golde: so is a man tryed by the mouth of him that praiseth him.
22 Though thou wouldest bray a foole with a pestell in a morter like firmitie corne: yet wil not his foolishnesse goe from him.
23 Be thou diligent to knowe the state of thy cattel thy selfe, and looke well to thy flockes.
24 For riches abideth not alway, & the crowne endureth not for euer.
25 The hay groweth, the grasse commeth vp, and herbes are gathered in the mountaines.
1. Tim. 6.7. 26 *The lambes shall clothe thee, and for the goates thou shalt haue money to thy husbandrie.
27 Thou shalt haue goates milke ynough to feede thee, to vphold thy houseloide, and to sustaine thy maydens.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 THe vngodly fleeth when no man pursueth him: but the righteous are bolde as a Lion.
2 For the wickednesse of the lande, the ‖ Or, men. prince is oft changed: but through ‖ a man of vnderstanding and wisedome, a realme endureth long.
3 One poore man oppressing another by violence, is like a raging raine that destroyeth ‖ Or, foode. the ‖ fruite.
4 They that forsake the lawe, praise the vngodly: but such as keepe the lawe, are grieued at them.
5 Wicked men vnderstande not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lorde, vnderstand all things.
6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes: then he that peruerteth his wayes, and is rich. Prou. 19.1.
7 Who so keepeth the lawe, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that ‖ is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father. ‖ Or, feedeth gluttons.
8 He that by vsurie and vniust gaines gathereth riches: he shall lay them in store for a man that will pitie the poore.
9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the lawe, his prayer shalbe abominable.
10 Who so causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euil way, shal fal into his owne pit: but the iust shal haue good things in possession.
11 The rich man thinketh himselfe to be wise: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, ‖ can perceiue him well ynough. ‖ Or, can try him.
12 When righteous men doe reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tryed.
13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but who so knowledgeth them, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercie.
14 Well is him that standeth alway in awe: as for him that hardeneth his heart, he shall fall into mischiefe.
15 As a roating Lion and an hungry Beare, so is an vngodly Prince ouer the poore people.
16 Where ỹ prince is without vnderstanding, there is great oppression and wrong: but if he hateth couetousnes, he shall long reigne.
17 He ỹ by violence shedeth any mans blood, shalbe a runnagate vnto his graue, and no man shalbe able to succour him.
18 Who so leadeth an innocent life, shalbe saued: but he that goeth froward wayes, shall once haue a fall.
19 *He that tilleth his land, shall haue plenteousnes of bread: but he that followeth idle persons, shall haue pouertie ynough. Prou. 12.11. eccle. 20.30.
20 A faithfull man shalbe filled with blessings: * and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be vnguiltie. Prou. 13.11.
21 To haue respect of persons [in iudgement,] is not good, for that man will doe wrong, yea euen for a piece of bread.
22 He that will be rich all too soone, hath an euill eye, and considereth not that pouertie shal come vpon him.
23 He that following my precepts, rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the last then he that flattereth him.
24 Who so robbeth his father and mother, and saieth it is no sinne: the same is the companion of a ‖ destroyer. ‖ Or, of a murderer.

25 He

25 He that is of a proude stomacke, stirreth vp strife: but he that putteth his trust in the Lord, shalbe well fedde.
26 He ỳ trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that dealeth wisely, shalbe safe.
27 He that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes from them, shall haue many a curse.
28 When the vngodly are come vp, men are faine to hide themselues: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 HE that is stifnecked, and will not be reformed, shall sodainely be destroyed ‖ without any helpe. ‖ Or, and not be cured.
2 When the righteous are in authoritie, the people doe reioyce: but when ỳ wicked beare rule, the people mourne.
3 Who so loueth wisedome, maketh his father a glad man: * but he that keepeth companie with harlots, spendeth away ‖ that he hath. Luke 15.13. ‖ Or, his substance.
4 With [true] iudgement the king stablisheth the land: but if he be a man that oppresseth ỳ people with gatherings, he turneth it vpside downe.
5 Who so flattereth his neighbour, layeth a net for his feete.
6 The sinne of the wicked is his owne snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.
7 The righteous considereth the cause of the poore: but the vngodly regardeth no vnderstanding.
8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.
9 If a wise man contendeth with a foole: whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.
10 The bloodthirstie hate the righteous: but the iust [a] seeke his soule. a That is, defender his soule: or, saue his life.
11 A foole vttereth all his minde at once: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.
12 If a Prince delight in lyes, all his seruants are vngodly.
13 The poore and the ‖ lender meete together, and the Lord lighteneth both their eyes. ‖ Or, vsurer.
14 The seate of the king that ‖ faithfully iudgeth the poore, shall continue sure for euermore. ‖ Or, truely.
15 The rod and correction giueth wisedome, but a childe left to his owne will, bringeth his mother to shame.
16 When the vngodly are multiplied, wickednesse increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.
17 Nurture thy sonne with correction, and thou shalt be at rest: yea he shal doe thee good at thine heart.
18 Where the word of God is not preached, the people perish: but well is him that keepeth the lawe.
19 A [bondsman] seruant will not be the better for words: for though he vnderstand, yet will he not regard them.
20 Seest thou a man that is hastie to speake vnaduisedly: there is more hope in a foole then in him.
21 He that delicately bringeth vp his ‖ seruant from a childe, shall make him his master at length. ‖ Or, his sonne.
22 An angry man stirreth vp strife, and he that beareth euill will in his minde, doeth much euill.
23 *‖ After pride commeth a fall: but a lowly spirit bringeth great worship. Iob. 22.29. ‖ Or, a mans pride shall bring him lowe.
24 Who so is partner with a thiefe, hateth his owne soule: he heareth ‖ blasphemie, and telleth it not foorth. ‖ Or, cursing.
25 He that feareth men, shall haue a fall: but who so putteth his trust in the Lorde, ‖ is without danger. ‖ Or, shalbe exalted.
26 Many there bee that seeke the Princes fauour: but euery mans iudgement commeth from the Lord.
27 The righteous abhorreth the vngodly: and the wicked hateth him that is in the right way.

The xxx. Chapter.

The pureneſſe of the worde of God, and what we ought to require of God, with certaine wonderfull things that are in this world.

¶ THE WORDES OF AGVR THE SONNE OF IAKE.

1 And the prophecie that the same man spake vnto Ithiel, euen vnto Ithiel and Uchal.
2 SUrely I am more foolish then any man, and haue no mans vnderstanding.
3 I neuer learned wisedome, nor had knowledge of holy things.
4 Who hath climed vp into heauen, and come downe from thence? who hath holden the winde fast in his hand? who hath gathered together the waters in a garment? who hath established all the endes of the world? what is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?
5 *Euery word of God is pure: he is a shielde vnto all them that put their trust in him. Psal. 19.8.
6 *Put thou nothing vnto his words, least he reproue thee, and thou be found a lyar. Deut. 4.2. and 12.32.
7 Two things haue I required of thee, denie me them not before I die.
8 Remoue farre from me vanitie and lyes, giue me neither pouertie nor riches, ‖ onely grant me a necessarie liuing: ‖ Or, feede me with foode conuenient for me.
9 Least peraduenture I being full, shoulde denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or being oppressed with pouertie, fall to stealing, and forsweare the name of my God.
10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, least he speake euill of thee, and thou be hurt.
11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

of one had sixe wings, with twaine eche couered his face, with twaine his feete, & with twaine did he flie.

3 They cried also eche one to another on this maner, *Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hostes, the whole earth is full of his glory.

Apoc.4.8.

4 And the lyntiles of the doore cheekes mooued at his crying, and the house was full of smoke.

5 Then saide I, Woe is me, for I am lost, in as much as I am a man of vncleane lippes, and dwell among people that hath vncleane lippes also: for mine eyes haue seene the king the Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me, hauing a hot coale in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with the tongs,

7 And laide it vpon my mouth, and said, Loe, [this] hath touched thy [a]lippes, and thine vnrighteousnesse shalbe taken away, and thy sinne forgiuen.

a Gods sacraments are not bare signes: but with the signe and the word, ð matter signified, is exhibited to the faithfull.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lorde on this maner, Whom shall I sende, and who will be our messenger? Then I saide, Here am I, sende me.

9 And he said, Goe and tel this people, *Heare in deede, yet vnderstand not: see plainely, and yet perceiue not.

Mat.13.14. mark 4.12. luke 8.10. iohn 12.40.

10 Harden the heart of this people, stop their eares, and shut their eyes: least they see with their eyes, heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and be healed.

11 Then spake I, Lord, how long? He answered, Untill the cities be vtterly wasted without inhabitants, & the houses without men, and till the land be also vtterly desolate.

12 For the Lord shall put the men farre away, and [there shalbe] great waste in the middest of the lande.

b Christ dwelling by faith in his elect, who seeme as dead in the stormie times of this worlde, is to them life and stay that they perish not.

13 Yet in it shal succeede ten kings, & it shal returne, and be afterward wasted: [but] as the Teyle tree, & the Oke in ỹ fall of their leaues, haue yet the sappe remaining in them, [euen so,] the holy seede shalbe the [b]stay thereof.

The vii. Chapter.

The Syrians mooue battaile against Hierusalem. 14 A virgin shall beare a childe.

1 IT *happened in the time of Ahaz the sonne of Iotham, which was the sonne of Uziah king of Iuda, that Razin the king of Syria, and Pecah the sonne of Romeliah king of Israel, went vp towarde Hierusalem to besiege it: but [Razin] was not able to winne it.

4.King.16.5.

2 Nowe when the [a]house of Dauid heard word thereof, that Syria and Ephraim was confederate together, his heart quaked, yea, and the heartes also of his people, like as when the trees of the wood are mooued with the winde, a Dauids house, that is, Ahaz.

3 Then saide God vnto Esay, Goe meete Ahaz, thou, and thy sonne Sear Iasub, at the head of the ouerpoole, in the foote path by the Fullers ground,

4 And say vnto him, Take heede vnto thy self, & be stil, feare not, neither be faint hearted: for these two tailes, that is, for these two smoking firebrands, the wrath and furiousnes of Razin the Syrian and Romelies sonne:

5 Because that the Syrian, Ephraim, and Romelies sonne, haue wickedly conspired against thee,

6 Saying, We will go vp against Iuda, vexe them, and bring them vnder vs, and set a king there, euen the sonne of Tabel:

7 Thus saieth the Lorde God thereto, It shal not so go forth, neither so come to passe:

8 For the heade citie of the Syrians, is Damascus, but the head of Damascus is Razin: and after threescore and fiue yeeres, shall Ephraim be no more a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, but the head of Samaria is Romelies sonne: if ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 *Moreouer, God spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

* The Epistle on the Annuntiation of Marie.

11 Require to thy selfe a token of the Lord thy God, whether it be toward the depth beneath, or toward the height aboue.

12 Then saide Ahaz, I will require none, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 The prophet answered, Then heare ye of the house of Dauid: Is it not ynough for you that ye be grieuous vnto men, but ye must grieue my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himselfe shall giue you a token: *Beholde, a virgin shall conceyue and beare a sonne, and shal call his name Emmanuel.

Mat.1.23. luke 1.31.

15 Butter and hony shal he eate, vntil he know to refuse the euill, and choose the good.

16 For or euer the child come to knowledge to eschew the euil, and choose the good, the land that thou so abhorrest, shalbe desolate of both her kings.

17 The Lord also shall send a time vpon thee, vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house, such as neuer came since the time that Ephraim departed from Iuda, namely, through the king of the Assyrians.

18 For at the same time shall the Lord hisse for the flies that are about the water of Egypt, and for the Bees in the Assyrians land.

19 These shall come, and shall light all in the desolate valleyes, in the holes of stones, and vpon all thornie and bushie places.

20 At the same time shall the Lorde shaue the [b]heare of the head, and the feete, and the beard cleane off, with the *rasor that he shall hyre beyond the waters: namely, with the king of the Assyrians.

[b] The heare of the head, & the beard, the princes & men of authoritie, the feete, the common sort of people.

4.Reg.18.17.

21 At the ſame time ſhall a man nourish a yong cowe, and two sheepe.
22 Then becauſe of the abundance of milke that they giue, he ſhall eate butter: ſo that euery one which remaineth in the lande, ſhall eate butter and hony.
23 At the ſame time all vineyardes wherein there ſhalbe a thouſande vines, worth a thouſande ſilluerlings, ſhalbe turned to bryers and thornes.
24 They ſhall come into the lande with arrowes and bowes, becauſe all the lande ſhall become bryers and thornes.
25 As for all hilles they ſhalbe digged with the mattocke, there ſhal not come vpon them any feare of bryers and thornes: but the cattell ſhalbe driuen thither, and the sheepe ſhall feede there.

The viii. Chapter.

The deliuerãce of the land by Emmanuel. 14 The ſtone of offence, at which many ſhal ſtumble.

1 MOreouer, the Lorde ſaide vnto me, Take thee a great roule, and write in it, as men doe with a pen, Make haſtie ſpeede to rob, and haſte to the ſpoyle.
2 And I called vnto me faithfull witneſſes to record, Uriah the prieſt, and Zachariah the ſonne of Barachiah.
3 After that, went I vnto the prophetiſſe, and ſhe conceiued, and bare a ſonne: Then ſaide the Lord to me, Giue him his name, A ſpeedy robber, An haſtie ſpoyler.
4 For why? or euer the child ſhall haue knowledge to cry, My father & mother, ſhal ỹ riches of Damaſcus, and the ſpoyle of Samaria be taken away before the king of the Aſſyrians.
5 The Lorde ſpake alſo vnto me againe, ſaying,
6 For ſo much as this people refuſeth the ſtill running water of Silo, and put their delight in Razin and Romelies ſonne:
7 Beholde, the Lorde ſhall bring mightie and great floods of water vpon them, namely, the king of the Aſſyrians, with all his power, which ſhall clime vp vpon all his floods, and runne ouer all his bankes,
8 And ſhall breake in vpon Iuda, he ſhal flowe and paſſe thorowe, till he come vp to ỹ necke thereof: he ſhall fill alſo the wildernes of thy land with his wings, O Emmanuel.
9 Breake downe, O ye people, [a] and ye ſhalbe brokẽ downe, hearken to, all ye of farre countreys, muſter you, & you ſhalbe brokẽ downe, prepare you, and you ſhalbe torne in pieces.
10 Take your counſaile together, yet ſhal your counſaile come to nought: determine ỹ matter, yet ſhall it not proſper: for God is with vs.
11 For the Lord ſpake thus to me in a mightie prophecie, [b] and warned me that I ſhould not walke in the way of this people, ſaying, 12 Ye ſhall not ſpeake [words of] Conſpiracie, in all things when this people ſhall ſay, Conſpiracie: feare them not, neither be afraide of them.
13 But ſanctifie the Lorde of hoſtes, let him be your feare and dread.
14 For he ſhalbe the holy place to flee to, * and a ſtone to ſtumble at, the rocke to fall vpon, a ſnare and net to both the houſes of Iſrael, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem. Luke 2.34. 1.pet.2.7.
15 And many among them ſhall ſtumble and fall, and be broken, yea they ſhalbe ſnared and taken.
16 [c] Binde vp the teſtimonie, ſeale the lawe in my diſciples. c The words of Chriſt.
17 And I will waite vpon the Lorde that hydeth his face from the houſe of Iacob, and I will looke for him.
18 * But loe, as for me and the children which the Lord hath giuen me, we are to be a token & a wonder in Iſrael from the Lord of hoſtes, which dwelleth vpon the hill of Sion. Heb.2.13.
19 And if they ſay vnto you, Aſke counſell at the Soothſayers, Witches, Charmers, and Coniurers: [then make them this anſwere,] Is there a people any where that aſketh not counſell at his God? ſhould men runne vnto the dead for the liuing?
20 Get thee to the [d] lawe, the teſtimonie: and if they ſpeake not after this word, there is no light in them. d We muſt ſeeke in Gods word what to followe, for in meanes without Gods word there is no light.
21 And they ſhall wander thorowe this lande hardly beſtead and hungry, & when they ſuffer hunger, they will be out of pacience, and curſe their king and their God, and ſhal looke vpward and downeward to the earth.
22 And behold, there is trouble and darkeneſſe, dimneſſe is rounde about him, and he ſhalbe driuen into darknes.
23 Neuertheleſſe, the darknes ſhall not be ſuch as was in her vexation, when at the firſt he lightly afflicted the land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, and afterwarde did more grieuouſly afflict her by the way of the ſea beyond Iordane in Galilee of the heathen.

The ix. Chapter.

He prophecieth of Chriſtes natiuitie and dominion.

1 THe people that walked in darknes haue ſeene a great light: As for them that dwelt in the land of ỹ ſhadow of death, vpon them hath the light ſhined.
2 Thou haſt multiplyed the people, and not increaſed their ioy: they reioyce before thee, euen as men make merry in haruеſt, and they be ioyfull, as men that doe diuide the ſpoyle [after the victory.]
3 For thou haſt broken the yoke of his burdẽ, the ſtaffe of his ſhoulder, and the rod of his oppreſſour, * as in the day of Madian. Iud.7.22.
4 And truely euery battaile that the warrier maketh, is done with confuſed noyſe, and defyling a Mans politie and deuice without God, proſpereth not.

b Affiance is to be put in God, and not in mans politike or helpe.

defyling their garmentes with blood, [but this battaile] shalbe with burning and consuming of fire.

a Christ his kingdome and his names. Iohn 3.16. ‖Or, and his name shalbe called. Or, & (the holy ghost) shall call his name.

5 For vnto vs a a Child is borne, and vnto vs a * Sonne is giuen, vpon his shoulder doth the rule lye, ‖ and he is called with his owne name, Wonderfull, The giuer of counsell, The mightie God, The euerlasting father, The prince of peace.

6 He shal make no end to increase the rule and peace, & shal sit vpon the seate of Dauid, & in his kingdome, to order the same, & to stablish it with equitie and righteousnes from henceforth for euermore: This shall the zeale of the Lord of hostes bring to passe.

7 The Lord sent a word into Iacob, the same is come into Israel.

8 And al the people of Ephraim shall know, & they that dwell in Samaria, þ say with pride and high stomackes [on this maner,]

9 The tile worke is fallen downe, but we will builde it vp with squared stones: the Mulberie timber is broken, but we will set it vp againe with Cedar.

10 But the Lord shall strengthen the enemies of Razin, and ioyne his aduersaries together against him.

11 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behinde, and shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: After all this is not the wrath of the Lorde ceassed, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

12 For the people turneth not vnto him that chastiseth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

13 Therefore hath the Lorde rooted out of Israel both head and taile, bough, and reede in one day.

14 By the head, is vnderstande the Senatour and honourable man, and by the taile, the prophet that preached lyes.

15 For the guides of this people are deceiuers, and those that be gouerned, are vtterly lost.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde haue no pleasure in their yong men, neither haue pitie of their fatherlesse and widowes: for they are altogether hypocrites and wicked, and all their mouthes speake folly: After all this, is not the Lordes wrath ceassed, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

17 For vngodlinesse burneth as a fire, and it shall deuoure bryers and thornes, and shall burne as in the thicket of wood, and [the wicked] aduaunce themselues, as the smoke is carried vp.

18 Through the wrath of the Lorde of hostes is the land full of darknesse, and the people be consumed as it were with fire: no man doeth spare his brother.

19 But he robbeth on the right hand, and doeth famish, he eateth on the left hand, and he shall not haue ynough: euery man shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

20 Manasses [shall eate] Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasses, and they both together shall eate Iuda: After al this is not þ Lordes wrath ceassed, but yet his hande is stretched out still.

The x. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the oppressours of the poore, 12 and prophecieth against Sennacherib.

1 WOe bee vnto them that make vnrighteous lawes, and that cause their actuaries to write grieuousnesse,

2 Wherethrough the poore are put from their right, and my seely people robbed of iudgement, that widowes may be their pray, and that they may rob the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye doe in the time of visitation, and when destruction shall come from farre? to whom will ye runne for helpe? and where will ye leaue your glory?

4 That when I withdrawe my hand, ye come not among the prisoners, nor lye among the dead? After all this doeth not the wrath of the Lorde ceasse, but yet is his hand stretched out still.

5 O Assur which art the staffe of my wrath, in whose hande is the rod of mine indignation,

6 I will sende him among these hypocritish people: among the people that haue deserued my displeasure will I send him: that he vtterly robbe them, spoyle them, and treade them downe like the myre in the streete.

7 Howbeit, his meaning is not so, neither thinketh his heart on this fashion: but he imagineth how he may roote out and destroy much people.

8 For he sayeth, Are not my Princes all kings?

9 Is not Chalno as easie to winne, as Tharchamis? Is it harder to conquer Hamath then Arphad? or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus, then Samaria?

10 [As who say,] I were able to winne the kingdomes of the idolaters and their gods, but not Hierusalem and Samaria.

11 Shall I not doe vnto Hierusalem and her images, as I did vnto Samaria & her idols?

12 Therefore it shall come to passe, þ as soone as þ Lord hath performed his whole worke * vpon the hill of Sion and Hierusalem, then will I visite the fruite of the stout heart of the king of Syria, with his proude lookes. 4. Reg. 19. 31.

13 For he standeth thus in his owne conceyte, This doe I through my wisedome: for I am wise, I am he that remooueth the landes of the people, I robbe their treasure, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant liant man.

14 My hand hath found out the strength of the people as it were a nest: & like as egges that were laide here and there are gathered together, so doe I gather all countreys, and there was none [so bolde] as to moue the wing, that dare open his mouth, or once whisper.
15 Shall the axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the sawe make any bragging against him ẏ ruleth it? That were euen like as if the rod did exalt it selfe against him that beareth it, or as though the staffe should magnifie it selfe, [as who say,] it were no wood.
16 Therefore shall the Lord the God of hostes send among his fatlings leannesse, and burne vp his glory as it were with a fire.
17 And the light of Israel shalbe that fire, and his holy one shalbe the flame: and it shall kindle and burne vp as thornes and bryers in one day.
18 Yea all the glory of his woods and fieldes shalbe consumed with body and soule, & they shalbe as an host of men, whose standard bearer fayleth.
19 The trees also of his wood which remaine, shalbe of such a number, that a childe may tell them.
20 After that day, shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped out of the house of Jacob, seeke no more comfort at him that smote them: but vnfainedly shall they trust vnto the Lord, the holy one of Israel.
Rom.9.27. 21 *The remnant, euē the posteritie of Jacob, shall conuert vnto God the mightie one.
22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them conuert vnto him: the decreed consumption ouerfloweth with righteousnesse.
Esai 28.22. 23 *And therefore the Lord of hostes shal perfectly fulfill the thing that he hath determined in the middest of the whole world.
24 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God of hostes, Thou my people that dwellest in Sion, be not afraide for the king of the Assyrians, he shall smite thee with a rodde, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee, as the Egyptians did sometime.
25 But soone after shal my wrath and indignation be fulfilled in the destruction of them:
26 Moreouer, the Lorde of hostes shall stirre vp Iudg.7.25. a scourge for him, *like as was the slaughter of Madian vpon the rocke Oreb, and as the destruction of the Egyptians, when he lifted vp his rod vpon the sea.
27 Then shall his burden be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy necke, and the same yoke shalbe destroyed because of the vnction.
28 He shall come to Aiath, and goe thorowe toward Migron, at Michmas shall he lay vp his harneste.
29 They shall goe ouer the foorde: Geba shalbe their resting place, Rhama shalbe afraide, Gibea Saul shall flee away.
30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, giue eare to Laisa, thou poore Anathoth.
31 Madmena shall tremble for feare: but the citizens of Gabim are manly.
32 Yet shall he remaine at Nob that day: after that, shall hee lift vp his hande against the mount of the daughter Sion, the hill of Hierusalem.
33 But see, the Lord God of hostes shal breake downe the bough with feare, he shall hewe downe the proude, and fell the high minded.
34 The thickettes also of the wood shall be roote out with yron, and Libanus shall haue a fall through the mightie.

The xi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the natiuitie of Christ, and of his people. 6 Of the remnant of Israel. 10 And of the faith of the Heathen and Gentiles.

1 AND there shall come a *spring forth of the a stemme of ‖ Jesse, and a young shoote shall growe out of his roote.
Act.13.23. a Christ shalbe borne of the seede of Isai. ‖ Or, Isai.
2 The spirit of the Lorde shall rest vpon him, the spirit of wisedome and vnderstanding, the spirit of counsaile and strength, the spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lorde,
3 And shall make him of deepe iudgement in the feare of God: for he shall not giue sentence after the thing that shalbe brought before his eyes, neither reproue after the hearing of his eares:
4 But with righteousnesse shall he iudge the poore, & with equitie shall he reproue ẏ simple of the world, *& he shall smite the worlde with the rodde of his b mouth, and with the breath of his mouth shall he slay the vngodly.
2.Thes.2.8. b The armour of Christ and of his kingdome.
5 Righteousnes shalbe ẏ girdle of his loynes, and faithfulnes the girding vp of his reynes.
6 The Woolfe shall dwell with the Lambe, & the Leoparde shall lye downe by the Goate: Bullockes, Lions, and cattell shall keepe companie together, so that a litle childe shall leade them.
7 The Cowe and the Beare shall feede together, and their young ones shal lye together: the Lion shall eate strawe like the Oxe or the Cowe.
8 The childe while he sucketh, shall haue a desire to the Serpentes nest, and when he is weaned, he shall put his hand into the Cockatrice denne.
9 No man shall doe euill vnto another, no man shall destroy another in all the hill of my holines: for the earth shalbe full of the knowledge of the Lorde, euen as the sea floweth ouer with water.
10 *And in that day shall ẏ Gentiles enquire Rom.15.12.

‖Or, Isai. after the roote of ‖ Iesse, which shalbe set vp for a token vnto the people, and his rest shalbe glorious.

11 At the same time shall the Lord take in hand againe to recouer the remnant of his people, which shalbe left aliue, from the Assyrians, Egyptians, Arabians, Moorians, Elamites, Chaldees, Antiochians, and from the Ilands of the sea.

12 And he shall set vp a token among the Gentiles, and gather together the dispersed of Israel, yea, and the outcastes of Iuda, from the foure corners of the world.

13 The hatred of Ephraim also, and enemies of Iuda shalbe cleane rooted out: Ephraim shall beare none euill will to Iuda, and Iuda shall not vexe Ephraim.

14 But they both together shall flee vpon the shoulders of the Philistines toward ẏ West, and spoyle them together that dwell toward the East: the Idumites and the Moabites shall come vnder their hands, and the Ammonites shalbe obedient vnto them.

c The tongue, that is, ẏ arme of the sea that hindereth the passage.

15 The Lord also shall cleaue the tongues c of the Egyptians sea, & with his mightie wind shall he lift vp his hand ouer Nilus, and shall smite his seuen streames, and make men goe ouer dry shod.

16 And thus shal there be a way for his people that remaineth from the Assyrians, like as it happened to the Israelites, what * time they departed out of the land of Egypt.

The xii. Chapter.

The song of the Church for the obteyning of the victorie, and ouercomming of the world.

1 AND in that day thou shalt say, O Lord, I will praise thee, for thou wast displeased at me: but refraine thou from thy wrath, and comfort me.

2 Beholde, God is my saluation, in whom I will trust, and not be afraide: for * the Lorde God is my strength and [my] song, he also is become my saluation.

Exod. 15. 2. psal. 117. 14.

3 Therefore with ioy shall ye draw water out of the welles of saluation:

4 And then shall ye say, * Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, call vpon his name, declare his workes among the people, keepe them in remembrance, for his name is excellent.

1. Chro. 15. 16. psal. 104. 1.

5 O sing prayses vnto the Lorde, for he hath done great things, as it is knowen in all the world.

6 Cry out, and sing, thou that dwellest in Sion: for great is the holy one of Israel in the middest of thee.

The xiii. Chapter.

He prophecieth the destruction of Babylon, the captiuitie and the comming againe of the people.

a Burden, that is, the prophecie.

1 THis is the a burden of Babylon, which Esay the sonne of Amos did see.

2 Lift vp the banner vpon the high hil, call vnto them, wagge your hand, that they may goe into the gates of the princes.

3 I haue commanded my sanctified, I haue also called my valiant ones, ioying in my honour to execute my wrath.

4 There is a noise of a multitude in the mountaines, like as of a great people, a rushing as though the kingdomes of the nations came together: the Lorde of hostes mustereth his armie to battaile.

5 They come out of a farre countrey from the ende of the heauen, euen the Lorde himselfe, with the ministers of his wrath, to destroy the whole land.

6 Mourne ye, for the day of the Lorde is at hand, and shall come as a destroyer from the Almightie.

7 Therefore shall all handes be letten downe, and all mens hearts shall melt away,

8 They shal stand in feare, carefulnesse and sorow shall come vpon them, and they shal haue paine as a woman that trauaileth with child: one shalbe abashed of another, and their faces shall burne like the flame of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lorde shall come terribly, and full of indignation, furie, and wrath, to make the lande waste, and to roote out the sinners thereof.

10 For the starres and planets of heauen shall not giue their light, * ẏ Sunne shalbe darkened in the rising, and the Moone shall not shine with her light.

Ezech. 32. 7. ioel. 3. 15. mat. 24. 29. mar. 13. 24. luke 21. 25.

11 And I wil visite the wickednes of ẏ world, and the sinnes of the vngodly. The high stomackes of the proude will I take away, and will lay downe the boasting of the tyrant.

12 I will make a man dearer then fine golde, and a man to be more worth then a golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I wil shake the heauens, and the earth shall remoue out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fearefull indignation.

14 And [Babylon] shalbe as an hunted or chased Doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp: euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee ethe one into his owne land.

15 Whoso is founde, shalbe shot thorowe: and whoso taketh their part, shalbe destroyed with the swoorde.

16 * Their children shalbe slaine before their eyes, their house spoyled, and their wiues rauished.

Psal. 136. 9.

17 For loe, I shall bring vp the Medes against them, which shall not regard siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes shal they destroy ẏ yong men, and haue no pitie on women with childe, and their faces shall not spare the children.

19 And Babylon, that glory of kingdomes, and beautie of the Chaldees honour, shalbe destroyed, * euen as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor.

20 It shall not endure for euer, neither shall there be any more dwelling there, from generation to generation: the Arabians shal pitch no tents there, neither shall the shepheardes make their foldes there any more.

21 But fearefull wilde beastes shall lye there, and the houses shalbe full of great Owles, Estriches shall dwell there, and Apes shall daunce there.

22 Wilde Cattes shall cry in the palaces, and Dragons shalbe in the pleasant houses: and as for Babylons time, it is at hande, and her dayes shall not be prolonged.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie, the prosperitie of the people of God, and affliction of their enemies. 13 The pride of Babylon.

1 BVt the Lorde will be mercifull vnto Jacob, and will yet choose Israel againe, and set them in their owne lande, strangers shall cleaue and get them to the house of Jacob.

2 The people shall take them, and carry them home to their owne lande: and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the lande of the Lorde, that they may be seruantes and handmaidens: and they shall take those prisoners, whose captiues they had bene before, and rule those that had oppressed them.

3 When the Lord now shall bring thee to rest from thy trauaile, feare, and harde bondage that thou wast laden withall:

4 Then shalt thou vse this mockage vpon the king of Babylon, and say, How happeneth it that the oppressour leaueth off? Is the golde tribute come to an end?

5 The Lord hath broken the scepter of the vngodly, and the rod of the lordly.

6 Which [rodde] in anger smiteth the people with continuall strokes, and in wrath reigneth ouer the nations persecuted without compassion.

7 And therefore the whole world is nowe at rest and quietnes, and men sing for ioy.

8 Yea euen the Firre trees, and Cedars of Libanus reioyce at thy fall, saying, Nowe that thou art laide downe, there come no moe vp to hewe downe vs.

9 Hell also beneath trembleth to meete thee at thy comming, and for thy sake hath raised his dead, all mightie men, and princes of the earth, all kings of the earth stande vp from their seates,

10 That they may all answere and speake vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? Art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe and thy pride is layde downe into the pit, and so is the melodie of thy instruments. Wormes be laide vnder thee, and wormes be thy couering.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, thou faire morning childe? How hast thou gotten a fall, euen to the ground, which didest weaken the nations?

13 For thou saydest in thine heart, I will clime vp into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God, I will sit also vpon the mount of the congregation toward the North.

14 I will clime vp aboue the cloudes, and will be like the highest of all.

15 Yet thou shalt be brought downe to ỹ deepe of hell, to the sides of the lake.

16 They that see thee, shall narrowly looke vpon thee, and thinke in themselues, [saying,] Is this the man that brought all landes in feare, and made the kingdomes afraide?

17 [Is this he] that made the world in a maner waste, and laide the cities to the grounde, which let not his prisoners goe out?

18 The kings of the nations lie euery one in his owne house with worship.

19 And thou art cast out of thy graue like a filthy abominable branche, like as dead mens rayment ỹ are shot thorowe with the sworde, and goe downe to the stones of the deepe, as a dead coarse that is troden vnder feete.

20 Thou art not buried with them, euen because that thou hast wasted thy land, and destroyed thy people: the generation of the wicked shalbe out of memorie for euer.

21 Let there a way be sought to destroy their children that be in their fathers wickednesse, that they come not vp againe to possesse the land, and fill the world full of enemies.

22 I will stande vp against them, saieth the Lord of hostes, and roote out the name & remnant, sonne, and sonnes sonne of Babylon, sayeth the Lorde.

23 I will giue it to the Otters, and will make water puddels of it, and I will sweepe them out with the besome of destruction, saieth the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lorde of hostes hath sworne an othe, saying, It shall come to passe as I haue determined, and shalbe fulfilled as I haue deuised.

25 So that the Assyrian shall I destroy in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I treade him vnder foote, wherethrough his yoke shal come from them, and his burden shalbe taken from their shoulder.

26 This deuice hath God taken thorowe the whole worlde, and this his hand is stretched out ouer all people.

27 For if the Lord of hostes determine a thing, who is able to disanull it? And if he stretch forth his hand, who may turne it againe?

28 * The same yeere that king Ahaz died, was this burden: 2. Chr. 28, 27.

29 Re-

29 Reioyce not thou whole Palestina, because the rodde of him that beateth thee is broken: for out of the serpents roote there shall come an Adder, and his fruite shal be a fierie flying worme.

30 But the first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the simple shall dwel in safetie: thy roote also will I destroy with hunger, and it shall slay the rennant.

31 Mourne thou port, weepe thou citie, for, O whole lande of Palestina, thou art laide waste: for there shall come from the North a smoke, that not one alone may abide at home in his times.

32 What shall one then answere the messengers of the Gentiles? For the Lorde hath stablished Sion, and the poore of his people that be therein, shall put their trust in it.

The xv. Chapter.

A prophecie against Moab.

1 THis is the burden vpon Moab: Ar of Moab was destroyed and ouerthrowen in the night season, Kir also in Moab was destroyed and perished in the night.

2 Moab went vp to the idoles house, euen to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for Neba and Moab shall mourne for Medba. All their heads were balde, and all their beardes shauen.

Iere.48.38. ezech.7.18. 3 *In her streetes are they gyrded about with sackcloth: in all the toppes of her houses and streetes shalbe nothing but mourning and weeping.

4 Hesbon & Eleale shall cry, that their voyce shalbe heard vnto Jahaz: and therefore the armed souldiers also of Moab shall bleate out and cry for very sorow of their mindes.

5 Woe shal my heart be for Moabs sake, they shall flee vnto the citie of Zoar, which is like a faire young bullocke of three yeeres old, for they shall all goe vp to Luith weeping: euen so by the way towarde Horonaim they shall make lamentation for their owne destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shalbe dryed vp, by reason whereof the grasse is withered, the herbes destroyed, and the greene things gone.

7 Therefore the goods that remaine in Moab, and the riches thereof, they shall carrie to the brooke of willowes.

8 For the cry went ouer the whole lande of Moab, vnto Eglaim, and vnto Beer-Elim was there nothing but mourning.

9 Because the waters of Dimon were full of blood, I will adde more vpon Dimon: and Lions vpon the remnant of the land, and on them that are escaped from Moab.

The xvi. Chapter.

The destruction of Moab.

1 SEnd the Lord of the world a Lambe frō the rocke that lyeth toward the desart, vnto the hill of the daughter Sion.

2 For as for the daughters of Moab, they shalbe as a [a] trembling bird ẏ is put out of her nest: for they shall carry them vnto Arnon.

a The careles and obstinate despisers of timely repentance, moued by the preaching of Gods word, shall repent when it is too late.

3 Gather your counsaile, come together in iudgement, couer vs with your shadow in the midday, as the night doeth hide the chased, and bewray not them that are fled.

4 Let my persecuted people dwel among you: Moab, be thou their refuge against the destroyer: for ẏ aduersarie is brought to nought, the robber is vndone, the tyrant is wasted out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the seate be prepared, & he shal sit vpon it in ẏ truth in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging and seeking iudgement, and making haste vnto righteousnesse.

6 We haue heard of the pryde of Moab, he is very proude, presumptuous, arrogant, and ful of indignation, and vaine are his lyes.

7 *Therefore shal Moab make lamentation, because of the Moabites [that shalbe slaine,] yea they shall waile together: because of the foundations of the citie that is made of bricke shall ye complaine, euen ye fame people that are left onely behinde. Iere.48.20.

8 For the vines of Hesbon are cut downe: as for the vine of Sibma, the lordes of the heathen haue broken downe her principall branches, they are come euen vnto Jazer, they went on wandring vnto the wildernesse, her goodly branches were throwen downe as they went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibma, I will powre my teares vpon thee, O Hesbon and Eleale: for the cry of thine enemies is fallen vpon thy Sommer fruites, and vpon thy harueste.

10 *The myrth and cheare is taken away out of the plentifull field, & in the vineyards there shalbe no ioy nor gladnesse: the treader shall treade out no wine in their presses, the song of their merry cheare haue I laide downe. Iere.48.33.

11 [b] Wherefore my bowelles shall rumble like an harpe for Moabs sake, and mine inwarde partes for the cities sake that is made of bricke.

b The superstitious and idolaters haue more trust in one idol and in some other place then in another: but all in vaine.

12 And it shall come to passe, that when it is seene that Moab shalbe made weary of his hil Chappels, he shal come to his temple to pray, but he shall not be able. [c] c Not be able through wearinesse, or it shall not profite him.

13 So then, this is the saying that the Lorde hath spoken concerning Moab since ẏ time.

14 But now the Lord hath spoken, saying, In three yeeres, which shalbe as the yeeres of an hyred seruant, shall the glory of Moab be turned into contempt throughout all his multitude, which is very great: and that which remaineth, shalbe very small and feeble.

The xvii. Chapter.

A prophecie against Damascus.

1 THis is the burden vpon Damascus: behold, Damascus is taken away to be no more a citie, but shalbe an heape of broken stones.

2 The waste cities of Aroer shalbe foldes for cattell which shall lie there, and there shalbe none to fray them away.

3 Ephraim also shall no more be strong, and Damascus shall no longer be a kingdome, and the remnant of Syria shalbe as the glorie of the children of Israel, saieth the Lorde of hostes.

4 And in that day it shall come to passe, that ỳ glory of Iacob shalbe made very thinne, and the fatues of his flesh shall waxe leane.

5 And he shalbe as one that gathereth vp corne in harueſt, euen like him whose arme reapeth the eares of corne: he shalbe also like him that gathereth eares of corne in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Some gathering in deede shall there be left in it, euen as in the shaking of an Oliue tree there remaine two or three berries in the top of ỳ vppermost bough, and foure or fiue in the broade fruitefull branches thereof, saieth the Lord God of Israel.

7 Then shall man turne againe to his maker, and his eyes shall haue respect to the holy one of Israel.

8 And for the altars, which are his owne handie worke, he shall not regard them, and the things that his fingers haue made, as groues and images, those shall he not cast his eyes vnto.

9 In that day shal their strong cities be as the forsaken thrubbes and branches, which they left because of the children of Israel, and the land shalbe desolate.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not bene mindefull of thy strong rocke: therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe the branch of another mans vine.

11 In that day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and earely in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to flourish: the harueſt shalbe gone in the day of inheritance, and there shalbe sorow without hope of comfort.

12 Woe shalbe to the multitude of much people, which shall make a sounde like to the noise of the sea, and the violence of the nations, which shall rage like the rushing in of many waters.

13 Euen like many waters shall the people rage, God shall rebuke him, and he shall flee farre off, he shalbe chased away like as ỳ straw vpon the mountaines before the wind, & like a thing that runneth before the storme.

14 At euentide beholde there is trouble, and ere uer it be morning, lo, it is gone: this is the portion of them that oppresse vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to the Ethiopians, and the countreyes nigh adioyning to them. 7 The vocation of the Gentiles.

1 O That land that trusteth vnder the shadowe of wings, [that land] which is beyond the waters of Ethiopia,

2 Sending messengers by the sea, euen in vessels of reedes ouer the water: Get you hence ye speedie messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroade, and robbed of that they had, a fearefull people from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose land the floods haue spoiled.

3 All the inhabiters of the world, and indwellers of the earth, looke vp when he setteth vp a token in the mountaines, and hearken whē he bloweth with the Trumpe.

4 For so the Lorde said vnto me, [as for me,] I will take my rest, and looke vpon the matter in my habitations, like a faire heate after the raine, and like a cloude of deawe in the heate of harueſt.

5 For afore the harueſt when the branche is growen, & there shall come ripe fruite of the flouer: and he shall cut downe the increase with sythes, and the branches shall he take away with hookes.

6 Thus shall they be left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for in Sommer the birdes shall remaine vpō it, and euery beast of the land shalbe vpon it in Winter.

7 In that time shall there a present be brought vnto the Lord of hostes, euen a people that is scattered abroade and robbed of that they had, that same people which haue bene fearefull from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose lande the floods haue spoyled, to the place of the name of the Lorde of hostes, euen to the mount Sion.

The xix. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth against Egypt. 18 and the vocation of the Gentiles to Christ.

1 THe burden of Egypt. Beholde, ỳ Lord riueth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall tremble at the presence of him, and the heart of Egypt shal quake in the middest of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians one against another, so that one brother shall fight against another, & one neighbour against another, citie against citie, and realme against realme.

3 The minde also of Egypt shalbe cleane without counsell within it selfe, & the deuice that they take will I destroy: & they shal seeke counsell counsell at idols, and at sorcerers, at workers with spirites, and at soothsaiers.

4 And the Egyptians will I giue ouer into the hand of a marueilous cruell lord, and a mightie king shal haue dominion ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

5 The waters of the sea shall faile, and the riuers shall decrease, and be dried vp.

6 The waters shall be drawen out, the riuers of Egypt shall be emptied and dried vp, the reedes and flags shalbe cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuer and by the riuers banke, and all that groweth by the riuer, shall wither away, and be brought to nought.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the water shall make lamentation, and they that lay foorth their net beside the waters, shalbe rooted out.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flaxe, & make fine workes, shall be confounded, and so shall they that weaue open workes.

10 For their open workes shal euen be destroied, and all they that make pondes and slues for fish, shall come to nought.

11 But you foolish princes of Zoan, ye wise counsellers of Pharao, whose wit is turned to foolishnesse, how say ye vnto Pharao, I am come of wise men, and of ancient kings?

12 Where are thy wise men? Let them tel thee if they can, what the Lorde of hostes hath deuised vpon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles, the princes of Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen they that were taken for the chiefe stay thereof.

14 In the midst of it hath the Lord powred the spirit of wickednesse: and they haue deceiued Egypt in euery worke thereof, euen as a drũken man staggereth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall the [a] head or taile, the branche or reede, be able to do any worke in Egypt.

16 In that day shal Egypt be like vnto wome: it shalbe afraid, and stand in feare at the motion of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And Egypt shall bee afraid of the lande of Iuda: so that euery one that maketh mention of it shall be afraid thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he deuised for it.

18 In that day shall fiue cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Chanaan, and sweare by the Lord of hostes: the citie of destruction shalbe called one of them.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the midst of the land of Egypt, and this title beside it, Vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be a token and a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lorde, because of such as trouble them, and he shall send them a sauiour, and a great man to deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shalbe knowen in Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lorde in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shall vowe a vowe vnto the Lorde, and performe it.

22 The Lord also shall smite Egypt sore, and heale them againe: and they shall be conuerted vnto the Lord, and he shalbe entreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there bee a common way out of Egypt into Assyria, and Assyria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so that the Egyptians and the Assyrians shal serue the Lord together.

24 In that day shal the nation of Israel be the third with Egypt and Assyria: and they shal be blessed in the midst of the land, 25 Which land the Lord of hostes hath blessed, saying, Blessed is my people of Egypt, Assur also is the worke of my hands, and Israel is mine inheritance.

The xx. Chapter.

Against Egypt and Ethiopia.

1 IN the yeere that Tharthan came vnto Asdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria had sent him, and had fought against Asdod, and taken it:

2 At the same tyme spake the Lord by the hand of Esay the sonne of Amos, saying, Goe and take off the sackcloth frõ thy loines, and put off thy shooe frõ thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Esay hath walked naked & barefoote, for a signe and wonder three yeeres vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:

4 Euen so shall the king of Assyria take away out of Egypt and Ethiopia, children and old men naked and barefoote, with their hoines vncouered, to the great shame of Egypt.

5 They shall be brought in feare and in shame of Ethiopia their hope, & of Egypt, wherein they are woont to glory.

6 And they that dwell in the same Ile, shall say in that day, Beholde, such is our hope: whither shall we flee for helpe, that we may be deliuered from the king of Assyria? how shall we escape?

The xxi. Chapter.

Against Babylon, Idumea, and Arabia.

1 THe burden of the waste sea. Euen as the stormie weather passeth thorow at the noone day from the wildernesse, so shall it come from the terrible land.

2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto me: let one deceitfull offender come against another, & one destroyer against another: Up Elam, lay siege thou of Media, all their groning haue I laid downe.

3 Therefore are my loines filled with sorow, hea-a By the head and branche, are meant the honourable and chiefest of the land: By the taile and reede, the multitude & lower sort of people.

a The waste sea is, Babylon or Chaldee.

beautinesse hath taken hold vpon me, as the pangs of a woman y^t is trauailing: it made me stoupe when I heard it, and it vexed mee when I sawe it.
4 My heart panted, fearefulnesse came vpon me: the night of my voluptuousnesse hath he turned against me into feare.
5 While they garnished the table, the watchman looked: and while I was eating & drinking, it was said, Vp ye captaines, take you to your shield.
6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe, and set a watchman to tell what he seeth.
7 And he sawe a charet which two horsemen sate vpon, with the cariage of an asse, and the cariage of a camel: so he looked, and tooke diligent heede.
Habac.2.1. 8 *And he cried, A lion, my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in y^e day time, and am appointed to keepe my watche euery night.
9 And behold, here commeth a charet of men,
with two horsemen: and he answered & said, Ier.51.8. Apoc.14.8. *Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all y^e images of her gods hath he smitten downe vnto the ground.
10 Thou art he whom I must thresh, & thou belōgest to my corne floore: this that I heard of the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, haue
I shewed vnto you.
11 The burden of Duma. He calleth to me out of Seir: Watchman, what hast thou espied by night? Watchman, what hast thou espied by night?
12 The watchman said, The morning commeth, and so doeth the night: if ye will aske me any question, then aske it, returne & come againe.
13 The burden concerning Arabia. In the woods of Arabia shall ye tary all night, euen in the streetes of Dedanim.
14 The inhabiters of the lande of Thema brought foorth water to him that was thirstie, they preuented him that was fled away with their bread.
15 For because of swordes they are become fugitiue, euen for the drawen sword, and for the bent bowe, and because of the grieuousnesse of warre.
16 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, There is yet a yeere, according to the yeeres of an hired seruant, and all the glory of Cedar shall faile.
17 And the number of them that shall escape from the bowes, shalbe minished by the mightie children of Cedar: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

The xxii. Chapter.

A prophecie against Hierusalem.

a Hierusalem is ment by the valley of vision.

1 The burden of the a valley of visiō. What hast thou to doe here, that thou climest to the house tops?
2 Thou that art full of tumultuousnesse, thou troublesome and proud citie: thy slaine men are neither put to death with the sworde, nor dead in battell.
3 All thy captiues are fugitiue together, the archers haue taken them prisoners: all they
I say that are founde in thee, are in capti-uitie together, and they also that fledde farre off.
4 Therefore said I, Let me alone, and I will make lamentation: ye shall not bee able to comfort me, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people.
5 For this is a day of trouble, of ruine, and of destruction, that the Lord the God of hostes wil bring to passe in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie, and crying vnto moun-taines.
6 Elam bare the quiuer with a charet of footmen and horsemen, and the citie of Cir shewed the shield open.
7 The chiefe valley also was full of charets, and the horsemen set their faces directly toward the gate.
8 And in that day did the enemie take away y^e couer of Iuda, and then didst thou looke toward the b armour of the house of the forest.
9 Ye haue seene also the broken places of the citie of Dauid, how that they are many, and ye gathered together the waters of the lower poole.
10 As for the houses of Hierusalem, yee haue numbred them, and the houses haue ye broken downe, to make the wall strong.
11 A pit also haue ye made betweene the two walles for the waters of the old poole, c and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that fashioned it long agoe.
12 And in that day did the Lorde God of hostes call men vnto weeping and mourning, to baldenesse and girding about with sackcloth.
13 And behold, they haue ioy and gladnes, slay-ing oxen, and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and drinking wine: *let vs eate and drinke, for to morowe we shall die.
14 And it came to the eares of the Lorde of hostes. This iniquitie shall not bee purged from you till ye die, saieth the Lorde God of hostes.
15 Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Get yee vnto yonder treasurer, euen vnto Sebna, which is the ruler of the house.
16 What hast thou to doe here? and whome hast thou here, that thou shouldest here hewe thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, or that graueth an habitation for himselfe on an harde rocke?

b The armoure that Solomon made and furnished with munition, 1.Kin.7.

c The Lord doth not forbid to make prouision of sure defence against the enemies, so that our trust be put in him, & not in our fortresses and strong holdes.

1.Cor.15.32.

17 Be-

17 Behold, O thou man, the Lord shal cary thee away into captiuitie, and shall surely couer thee with confusion.
18 The Lord shall turne thee ouer like a ball with his hands, [and shall send thee] into a farre countrey: there shalt thou die, & there in stead of the charets of thy pompe, shall the house of the Lord haue confusion.
19 I will driue thee from thy place, and out of thy dwelling shall he ouerthrowe thee.
20 And in that day shall I call my seruant Eliacim the sonne of Helcia:
21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthy him: thy power will I also commit into his hand, and he shalbe a father of such as dwell in Hierusalem, and in the house of Iuda.
Iob.12.14. apoc.3.7. 22 *And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so that hee shall open, and no man shut, he shal shut, and no man open.
23 And I will fasten him as a naile in a sure place, and he shall be the glorious seate of his fathers house.
24 Moreouer, all generations and posterities shall hang vpon him all the glory of their fathers house, all vessels both great and small, and all instruments of measure and musike.
25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shal the naile that is fastened in the sure place, depart and be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it shall be pluckt away, for so the Lord hath spoken.

The xxiii. Chapter.

A prophecie against Tyrus: 17 and a promise that it shalbe restored againe.

1 THe burden of Tyre. Mourne ye ships of Tharsis, for there commeth such destructiō, that ye shal not haue an house to enter into, and that there shall be no traffike out of the land of Cittim, they haue knowledge of this plague.
2 Be still ye that dwell in the Ile, the marchants of Sidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue made thee plenteous.
3 The corne that groweth by the great waters of Nilus, and the fruites of the riuer, were her victuals, so that it became a commō marte of nations.
a By the sea & the strength of the sea, is meāt Tyrus. 4 Be ashamed thou Zidon: for the a sea, euen the strength of the sea, hath spoken, saying, I haue not trauailed nor brought forth children, nor nourished vp yong men, or brought vp virgins.
5 When tidings come to the Egyptians, they shalbe sorie for the rumour of Tyre.
6 Get you to Tharsis, mourne you that dwel in the Ile.
7 Is not this that glorious citie of yours, which hath bene of olde antiquitie? her owne feete shall cary her forth, to be a sojourner in to a farre countrey.
8 Who hath deuised this against Tyre that b crowneth her selfe? whose marchants are princes, and whose factours are honourable in the world.
b That crowneth her selfe, that is, which boasteth her selfe to be as it were the Queene of all cities on the sea coasts.
9 Euen the Lord of hostes hath deuised this, to put downe the pride of all such as be glorious, and to minish all them that be proud vpon the earth.
10 Get thee out of thy land like a flood vnto the daughter of Tharsis, for thou hast no more strength.
11 He that smote the kingdomes together, holdeth out his hand ouer the sea: euen the Lord himselfe hath giuen a commandemēt against the same common place of marchandise, that they shall vtterly destroy the might thereof.
12 And hee said, Make no more thy boast, O virgin, thou daughter Sidon, thou shalt bee brought downe: Up, get thee ouer vnto Cittim, where neuertheless thou shalt haue no rest.
13 Behold, this people came not of the Chaldees, but Assur made them strong with great ships: they set vp the strong holdes thereof, and destroyed his palaces: and he brought it in decay.
14 Mourne ye shippes of Tharsis, for your strength is brought downe.
15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten seuentie yeeres, according to the yeeres of one king, and after the end of seuentie yeeres shal Tyre sing as doeth an harlot.
16 Take an harpe, and go about the citie, thou harlot that hast bene forgotten, make sweete melodie, sing moe songs, that thou mayest be had in remembrance.
17 And after the ende of the seuentie yeeres, shall the Lord visite Tyre, and she shall conuert vnto her reward, and shal commit fornication with al the kingdoms of the earth that are in the world.
18 Their occupying also and their reward shal be holy vnto the Lord: their gaines shall not be laid vp nor kept in store, but it shalbe theirs that dwel before the Lord, that they may eate ynough, and haue clothing sufficient.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

A prophecie of tribulation to come vpon the world, because of sinne.

1 BEhold, the Lord maketh the earth waste and emptie, he turneth it vpside downe, and scattereth abroade the inhabiters thereof.
2 *And the Priest shall be as the people, and the master as the seruant, the mistresse like the maide, the seller like the byer, he that lendeth vpon vsurie, like him that borroweth vpon vsurie, the creditor as the detter. Osee.4.9.
3 The land shalbe cleane wasted, and vtterly spoiled: for so the Lord hath spoken.

4 The

4 The earth is ſory and conſumeth away, the world is feeble and periſheth, the proud people of the earth are come to nought.
5 The earth alſo is become vnprofitable vnder the inhabiters thereof, which haue tranſgreſſed the lawes, changed the ordinance, broken the euerlaſting couenant.
6 Therefore hath the curſe conſumed ỹ earth, and they that dwell therein are fallen into treſpaſſe: Wherefore the inhabiters of the earth are periſhed with drought, and few men are left behind.
7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might, al they that haue bene mery of heart are come to mourning.
8 The mirth of Tabrets is laid downe, the noiſe of ſuch as haue made mery is ceaſſed, the ioy of the harpe is at an ende.
9 They ſhal drinke no more wine with mirth, ſtrong drinke ſhalbe bitter to thē that drinke it.
10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe, euery houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.
11 In the ſtreetes is there a crying, becauſe of wine, all cheere is vaniſhed away, the mirth of the land is gone.
12 In the citie is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.
13 For in the middes of the land, euen among the people, it ſhall come to paſſe as at the ſhaking of Oliues, and as the grapes are when the wine harueſt is done.
14 They ſhall lift vp their voyce, and make a mery noiſe, and in magnifying of the Lorde ſhall they cry out of the Weſt.
15 Wherfore praiſe ye the Lord in the valleis, euen the name of the Lorde God of Iſrael in the Iſles of the ſea.
16 From the vttermoſt part of the earth haue we heard praiſes and mirth, becauſe of the righteous: and I ſaid, I knowe a thing in ſecret, I know a thing in ſecret, woe is me: the tranſgreſſers haue offended, ỹ tranſgreſſers haue grieuouſly offended.
17 Fearefulneſſe, the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee, O thou that dwelleſt on the earth.
Ier.48.44. 18 *It wil come to paſſe, that whoſoeuer eſcapeth the fearefull noiſe, ſhall fall into the pit, and he that commeth vp out of the pit, ſhal be taken with the ſnare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth are mooued.
19 The earth is vtterly broken downe, the earth hath a ſore ruine, the earth quaketh exceedingly.
20 The earth ſhall reele to and fro like a drunkard, and ſhalbe remooued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhalbe heauie vpon it, it ſhal fall, and not riſe vp againe.
21 And in that day ſhall the Lord viſite ỹ hoſte aboue that is on high, and the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.
22 And they ſhall be gathered together as they that be in priſon, and they ſhall be ſhut vp in warde, and after many dayes ſhall they be viſited.
23 The moone ſhall be abaſhed, and the ſunne aſhamed, when the Lord of hoſtes ſhal reigne in mount Sion and in Hieruſalem with worſhip, and in the ſight of ſuch as ſhal be of his counſell.

The xxv. Chapter.

A thankſgiuing to God for his workes.

1 THou art my Lord my God, I will magnifie thee, I will giue thanks vnto thy name, for thou haſt brought wonderful things to paſſe, according to thine olde counſell, truely and faithfully.
2 Thou haſt made a citie an heape of ſtones, & brought a ſtrong towne into decay: the habitation of ſtrangers haſt thou made to bee no citie, neither ſhal it be builded any more.
3 Therefore ſhal the mightie people giue glorie vnto thee, the citie of the valiant heathen ſhall feare thee.
4 For thou haſt bene a ſtrength vnto ỹ poore, and a ſuccour for the needie in his trouble, a refuge againſt euil weather, a ſhadow againſt the heate: for the blaſt of raging men is like a ſtorme that caſteth downe a wall.
5 Like as the heate in a dry place walketh all things: ſo ſhalt thou ſuppreſſe the noiſe of aliants, the heate [is abated] with ỹ ſhadowe of the cloud, [euen ſo ſhall God] aſſwage the noiſe of the cruel tyrants.
6 And in this mountaine ſhal ỹ Lord of hoſtes make vnto all people a feaſt of plenteous and delicate things, euen of moſt pleaſant & daintie diſhes.
7 And in this mountaine ſhall the Lorde deſtroy the couering that all people are wrapped in, and the hanging that is ſpred vpon all nations.
8 As for death he hath deſtroyed it for euer, & the *Lord God ſhall wipe away teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people ſhal he take away out of all the earth, for ſo the Lord hath ſaid. Apoc.7.17. and 21.4.
9 And in that day it ſhal be ſaid, Loe, this is our God, we haue waited for him, and he ſhal ſaue vs, this is the Lorde in whom we haue hoped, we will be mery, and reioyce in the ſaluation [that commeth] of him.
10 For in this mountaine ſhall the hand of the Lord reaſe, and Moab ſhall be threſhed vnder him, euen as ſtrawe is troden to doung on the dounghill.
11 And he ſhall ſtretch out his hand in ỹ midſt of them, as he that ſwimmeth caſteth out his hands to ſwimme: and with the ſtrength of his hands ſhall he bring downe their pride.
12 The ſtrong holde alſo, and defence of thy walles walles hath he ouerthrowen and cast downe, and brought them to the ground, euen vnto dust.

The xxvi. Chapter.

A song of deliuerance of the people.

1 IN that day shall this song be sung in the land of Juda, We haue a strong citie, saluation shal God appoint in stead of walles and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous people which keepeth the trueth may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preserue perfect peace, because they put their trust in thee.

4 Put ye your trust alway in the Lord: for in the Lord God there is strength for euermore.

5 For hee hath brought downe the high minded citizens: as for the proud citie, hee hath brought it lowe, euen to the ground shall hee cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote, euen the foote of the poore, & the steps of such as be in necessitie shall treade it downe.

7 The path of equitie wilt thou graunt vnto the iust, [O thou most righteous,] thou shalt order the path of him that is righteous.

8 Yea in the way of thy iudgemẽts, O Lord, haue we put our trust in thee: thy name also, and the remembrãce of thee, is the thing that our soule longeth for.

9 My soule hath longed for thee all the night, and with my spirite which is within me, will I seeke thee early in the morning: for when thy iudgements are in the earth, ỹ inhabiters of the world shall learne righteousnesse.

10 Shal the vngodly man be fauoured, which hath not learned righteousnesse, but doth wickedly in the earth, where nothing ought to be done, but that which is righteous: he shal not see the glory of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lift vp to strike, they see it not, but they shall see it, and bee confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire that consumeth thine enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou shalt prouide peace: for thou also hast wrought all our works in vs.

13 O Lord our God, other lordes besides thee haue subdued vs: but we wil be mindful only of thee, and of thy name.

14 The dead will not liue, they that bee out of life will not rise againe, therefore hast thou visited and rooted them out, and destroyed all the memorie of them.

15 Thou hast increased the people, O Lorde, thou hast increased the people, thou art glorious, thou hast sent them farre off vnto all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out their prayer whẽ thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe that draweth nigh towards her trauell, is sory and crieth in her paines: euẽ so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We haue bene with child and suffred paine, as though wee had brought forth wynde: for there is no saluation in the earth, neither doe the inhabiters of the world submit themselues.

19 Thy dead men shall liue, euen as my bodie shall they rise againe: awake and sing yee that dwell in dust, for thy dewe is euen as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out them that be vnder her.

20 Come my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee, hide thy selfe for a little while, vntill the indignation be ouerpast.

21 * For beholde, the Lord is comming out of his place, to visite the wickednesse of such as dwell vpon earth: the earth also shall disclose her bloods, and shall no more hide them that are slaine in her. * Mich. 1. 3.

The xxvii. Chapter.

A prophecie of the comming of Christ, and destruction of idolatrie.

1 IN that day the Lord with his sore, great, and mightie sword, shall visite [a] Leuiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked serpẽt, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

[a] By Leuiathan is meant the greatest of fishes in the sea, is meãt the kingdome of Satan, and the mightie tyrants of the world, enemies to Christ, and persecuters of his religion.

2 In the day see that ye sing of the congregation, which is ỹ vineyard that bringeth forth the best wine:

3 Euen I the Lorde doe keepe it, in due seasons shall I water it: and least the enemie do it any harme, I will both night and day preserue it.

4 There is no displeasure in me, els when the vineyard bringeth me forth briers & thorns, I would goe thorow it by warre, and burne it vp together.

5 Let it take holde of my [b] strength, and it shall be at one with me, euen at one shall it be with me.

[b] God calleth his word his strength, because thereby he winneth men, and bindeth them vnto himselfe.

6 The dayes are comming that Jacob shall take roote, Israel shall be greene and flourish, and the world shalbe filled with fruite.

7 Hath he smitten him as sore as he did the other that smote him? Or is he slayne with so sore a slaughter as they slewe him?

8 Thou wilt punish it in the branches, yet not beyond measure: for in the day that the East winde bloweth sore, it taketh away the fruits.

9 By this meanes therefore shall the iniquitie of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruite, [namely] the [c] taking away of his sinne, if he make all the stones of the altar of idoles, as chalke stones that are beaten in sunder, that their groues and images rise not vp againe.

[c] God vseth afflictions, as meanes to call men to repentance, whereupon followeth forgiuenesse of sinnes.

10 Els shall the strong citie be desolate, and the habi-habitation forsaken and left like a wildernes: there shall the calfe feede, and there shal he lie, and eate vp the graffes thereof.

11 When the branches of it are drie, they are broken off, and the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no vnderstãding, and therefore he that made them, shall not fauour them, and he that created them, shal giue them no grace.

12 And in that day shall the Lord make a threshing from the mids of the riuer Euphrates, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye children of Israel shall bee gathered together one to an other.

13 In that day shall the great trumpe be blowen, so that they which were lost in the land of Assyria, & they that were banished in the land of Egypt, shall come and worship the Lord in the holy mount of Hierusalem.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 Against the pride of Ephraim, 9 and against false priests and preachers.

1 WO be vnto the crowne of pride, euen vnto the drunken people of Ephraim, whose great pompe is as a flowre that fadeth away vpon the head of the valley of such as be in wealth, and are ouerladen with wine.

2 Beholde, there commeth a vehement & sore day frõ the Lord, like an vnmeasurable haile and perilous tempest, euen like the force of mightie and horrible waters that violently beareth downe all things.

3 The crowne of the pride of the drunken Ephraimites shalbe troden vnder foote.

4 So that the flowre of his fairenesse & beautie, which is in the head of the valley of fatnesse, shall fade away as doeth an vntimely ripe figge before haruest: which when a man espieth, he looketh vpon it, and while it is yet in his hand he eateth it vp.

5 In that day shall the Lorde of hostes be the crowne of glorie and diamond of beautie vnto the residue of his people.

6 He wil be also a spirit of perfect knowledge to him that sitteth in iudgement, and strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate [of the enemes.]

7 But they are out of the way by reason of wine, yea far out of the way are they through strong drinke: the priest also and the prophet are gone astray by the meanes of strõg drinke, they are drunken with wine, they goe amisse through strong drinke, they faile in prophecying, and stumble in iudgement.

8 For all tables are full of vomite and filthinesse, that no place is cleane.

9 Whom thẽ shal such one teach knowledge: and whom shal he make to vnderstand ẏ thing that he heareth: for they are as ignorant as yong children that are taken from the milke, and are weaned.

10 For they that bee such, must take after one lesson, another lesson, after one commaundement, another commandement, for one rule, another rule, after one instruction, another instruction, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 *For he that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that vseth rudenesse of speache, and a strange language. 1.Cor.14.21.

12 If any man say vnto them, Loe, this is the rest wherewith yee may ease him that is wearie, this is the refreshing: they will not hearken.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lord be vnto them lesson vpon lesson, commaundement vpon commandement, rule vpon rule, instruction vpon instruction, there a litle, and there a litle: that they may goe on, and fall backeward, be bruised, tangled, and snared.

14 Wherefore heare the word of the Lorde ye mockers, ye ẏ haue rule of this people which is at Hierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: and though there go forth a sore plague, it shall not come vnto vs, for we haue made falsehood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid:

16 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, *Behold, I lay in Sion for a foundation a stone, euen a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: whoso beleeueth, let him not be too [a] hastie. Mat.21.4.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and righteousnesse to the balance, so that ẏ [b] haile shall sweepe away as a broome your vayne confidẽce, and the priuie place of your refuge shal the waters runne ouer.

18 And thus the couenant that ye made with death, shalbe disanulled, and your agreement that ye made with hell, shall not stand, yea when the sore plague goeth forth, ye shall be troden downe vnder it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you away: for early in the morning euery day, yea both day and night, shall it go thorow, and when the noise thereof is perceiued, it shall gender vexation.

20 For the bed is narowe, and not large, & the couering so small, that a man can not winde himselfe [vnder it.]

21 *For the Lord shall stand as in mount Perazim, and shall be wroth like as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may doe his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte. 1.Reg.5.20. 1.chr.14.11. ios.10.12.

22 Now therefore see that ye be no mockers, least your punishment encrease: for I heard of the Lord of hostes, that there shall come a short end vpon the whole earth.

23 Heare ye then, and hearken vnto my voyce, con-a Whoso through faith doeth stay him selfe vpon Christ, in hastie going forward shal not fall: that is, shal not faile of that he hopeth to obtaine.

b The Gospell is compared to haile and floods, for that it breaketh downe and carrieth away idolatrie and superstition, wherein men doe trust in vaine.

24 Doeth not the huſbandman plowe all the day, and openeth and breaketh the clots of his ground, that he may ſowe?
25 When he hath made it plaine, will hee not ſpreade abroade the fitches, & ſowe cummin, and caſt in wheate by meaſure, and the appointed barly and rye in their place?
26 God will inſtruct him to haue diſcretion, euen his God will teach him.
27 For fitches ſhall not bee threſhed with an harow, neither ſhal a cart wheele bee brought thorow the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a ſtaffe, and cummin with a rodde.
28 But the ſeede that bread is made of, is threſhed, though it be not alway a threſhing, and the cart wheele muſt be brought ouer it, leaſt he grinde it with his teeth.
29 This alſo commeth of the Lorde of hoſtes, which worketh with wonderfull wiſedome, and bringeth excellent workes to paſſe.

The xxix. Chapter.

A prophecie againſt Hieruſalem, and againſt the vayne traditions of men.

1 WO vnto thee, O Ariel, Ariel, thou citie that Dauid dwelt in: Go on from yeere to yeere, and let the lambes be ſlaine.
2 I wil lay ſiege vnto Ariel, ſo that there ſhal be heauineſſe and ſorow in it: and it ſhall be vnto me euen an altar of ſlaughter.
3 I will beſiege thee round about, & wil fight againſt thee thorow a bulwarke, & will reare vp ditches againſt thee.
4 Thou ſhalt bee brought downe, and ſhalt ſpeake out of the ground, and thy ſpeach ſhal goe lowe out of the duſt:
5 Thy voyce alſo ſhal come out of the ground, like the voyce of a witch, and thy talking ſhal whiſper out of the duſt.
6 Moreouer, the noyſe of the ſtrange enemies ſhall be like thinne duſt, and the multitude of tyrants ſhall bee as dry ſtrawe that can not tarie: euen ſodainely and in haſte ſhall their blaſt goe.
7 Thou ſhalt be viſited of the Lord of hoſtes, with thunder, earthquake, and with a great noyſe, with ſtorme and tempeſt, and with the flame of a conſuming fire.
8 And the multitude of all nations that fight againſt Ariel, ſhall bee as a dreame ſeene by night: euen ſo ſhall they be that make warre againſt it, and ſtrong holdes to ouercome it, and that lay any ſiege vnto it.
9 In concluſion, it ſhall be euen as when an hungry man dreameth that he is eating, and when he awaketh, his ſoule is emptie, or as when a thirſtie man dreameth that he is drinking, whē he awaketh he is yet faint, and his ſoule hath appetite: euen ſo ſhall the multitude of all nations bee that fight againſt mount Sion.
10 Ponder theſe things once in your mindes, and wonder: Blinded are they themſelues, and the blinde guides of other, they are drunken, but not with wine: they are vnſtable, but not through ſtrong drinke:
11 For the Lord hath couered you with a ſlumbring ſpirit, and hath cloſed your eyes: your prophets alſo and rulers that ſhould ſee, them hath he couered.
12 And the viſion of all the prophets, is become vnto you as the words of a booke that is ſealed vp, which men deliuer to one that is learned, ſaying, Read thou in it: and he ſaieth, I cannot, for it is ſealed.
13 And the booke is giuen to him that is not learned, ſaying, Read thou in it: & he ſaieth, I am not learned.
14 Therefore thus hath the Lord ſaid, *For as much as this people, when they be in trouble, do honour me with their mouth, & with their lips, but their heart is farre from me, and the feare which they haue vnto me, proceedeth of a commandement that is taught of men: Mat. 15.8. mar. 7.6.
15 Therefore wil I doe marueils among this people, euen marueilous things [I ſay] and a wonder: *for the wiſedome of their wiſe men ſhall periſh, & the vnderſtanding of their wittie men ſhall hide it ſelfe. 1. Cor. 1.19.
16 *Woe vnto them that keepe ſecrete their thoughts, to hide their counſell frō the Lord, and to doe their workes in darkneſſe, ſaying, *Who ſeeth vs? and who knoweth vs? Abdi. 1.8. Eccl. 23.19.
17 Doubtleſſe your deſtruction is in reputation as the Potters clay: and doeth the worke ſay of him that made it, He made not me? And doeth an earthen veſſell ſay of him that faſhioned it, He had no vnderſtanding?
18 Is it not hard at hand that Libanus ſhall be turned into a lowe field, and that the low field ſhall be taken as the wood?
19 And in that day ſhall deafe men heare the words of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde ſhall ſee euen out of the cloud, and out of darkneſſe.
20 The meeke ſpirited alſo ſhal be mery in the Lord, and the poore among them that be lowly ſhall reioyce in the holy one of Iſrael:
21 For ỹ did violence is brought to nought, and the ſcornefull man is conſumed, & they rooted out that made haſte earely vnrighteouſneſſe,
22 Making a man to ſinne in the word, & that tooke him in a ſnare, which reproued them in ỹ open place, and they that haue turned the cauſe of the righteous to nought.
23 Therefore thus ſaieth the Lord to the houſe of Jacob, euen thus ſaieth he that redeemed Abraham, Jacob ſhal not now be confounded, nor noz his face pale.

24 But when he seeth his childzen the wozke of my hands in the middes of him, they shall sanctifie my name, and praise the holy one of Jacob, and feare the God of Israel.

25 They also that haue bene of an erronious spirit, shall come to vnderstanding, and they that haue bene scorneful, shal learne doctrine.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Against them that forsake the counsell of God, and cleaue to the counsell of men. 3 The prophet also threatneth the remnant of the people, that after the destruction of Hierusalem went into Egypt.

1 ALas foz those disobedient childzē, saith the Lozd, that they will take counsell, and not of me, that they will take a secret aduise, and not out of my spirite, & therefoze adde they sinne vnto sinne.

2 Euen they that walke to goe downe into Egypt, & haue asked no question at my mouth, but seeke strength in the might of Pharao, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 Therefoze shall the strength of Pharao bee your confusion, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt, your shame.

4 Foz his captains were at Zoan, and his embassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They were ashamed of the people that could do them no good, and that might not helpe them, noz shewe them any profite, but were their confusion and rebuke.

6 The burden of the beasts of the South. In a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the yong and olde lion, the viper, and fierce serpent, that flieth against thē that vpon coltes beare their riches, and vpon camels their treasures, to a people that can doe them no good.

7 Foz vaine and nothing wozth shal the helpe of the Egyptians be: therefoze haue I cried vnto Hierusalem, they shall haue strength inough, if they will settle their mindes in quietnesse.

8 Now therefoze goe thy way, and write this befoze them in a table, and note it in a booke, that it may finally remaine and be kept still foz euer.

9 Foz this is an obstinate people, and dissembling childzen, childzen that refuse to heare the lawe of the Lozd.

10 Foz they say vnto the seers, See not: and to them that be cleare of iudgement, Looke not out right things foz vs: but speake faire wozds vnto vs, looke out errours, 11 Get you out of this way, depart out of this path, & turne the holy one of Israel from vs.

12 Wherefoze thus saieth the holy one of Israel, Because your hearts rise against this wozd, & because you trust in wzong dealing, and peruerse iudgement, and put your confidence therein:

13 Therefoze shall ye haue this mischiefe foz your destruction & fall, like as an high wall ẏ falleth because of some rift oz blast, whose breaking commeth sodainly.

14 And the hurt thereof is like an earthen vessell which breaketh without helpe, so that in the bursting of it, there is not found one shiuer to fetch fire in, oz to take water withall out of the pit.

15 Foz thus saieth the Lozd God, euen the holy one of Israel, In repentance, and in rest shall ye be safe, in quietnesse and sure confidence shall be your strength, but yee haue had no lust thereto.

16 Foz ye haue said, No, but wee will escape through hozses, therefoze shall ye flee, and we will get vs vp vpon swift beasts, and therfoze shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one, & at the rebuke of fiue, shal ye all flee, till ye bee left as a ship mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beacon vpon an hill.

18 Therfoze doth the Lozd cause you to waite, that he may haue mercy vpon you, to the intent that he may haue the preeminence when he is gracious vnto you: foz the Lozde is the God of iudgement, blessed are all they that hope in him.

19 If the people remaine in Sion, and at Hierusalem, thou shalt not be in heauinesse: but at the voyce of thy complaint shall hee haue mercy vpon thee, and when he heareth it, he shall giue thee an answer.

20 And though the Lozd giue you the bread of trouble, and the water of aduersitie, thy raine shalbe no moze so scant, but thine eies shal see thy raine,

21 Yea, and thine eare shall heare the talking of him that doth speake behind thee: This is the way, walke ye in it, turne not aside, neither to the right hand, noz to the left.

22 Ye shall destroy also ẏ couering of your siluer images, and the decking of your golden idols, euen as filthines shalt thou put them away, & thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall God giue raine vnto thy seede that thou shalt sowe the ground withall, and bread of the encrease of the earth, which shall be fat and very plenteous: in that day also shall thy cattell be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise, and the yong asses that eare the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is purged with the wynde and the fanne.

25 Finally, vpon euery high mountaine & hill shall there bee riuers, and streames of waters in the day of the great slaughter when the towers fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the Moone shall be as the light of the Sunne, and the Sunne light shalbe seuen fold, & haue as much shine

as

as in the ſeuen dayes beſide, when the Lorde bindeth vp the ſore of his people, and healeth the ſtroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the name of the Lorde commeth frō farre, and his preſence is ſo hot, that no man is able to abide: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a conſuming fire.

28 His breath is a vehement flood of water that reacheth vp to the necke: that he may ſift away the heathen in the ſiue of vanitie, and his breath is a bridle of errour in the iawes of the people.

29 And ye ſhall ſing like as in the night when the holy ſolemnitie beginneth, and yee ſhall haue gladneſſe of heart, like as when one cōmeth with a pipe vnto the hill of the Lord, & to the moſt mightie one of Iſrael.

30 And the Lord ſhall cauſe his glorious voyce to bee heard, and ſhall declare his ſtretched out arme with a terrible countenance, and with a flame of a conſuming fire, with noyſome lightning, with a ſhowre, & with haileſtones.

31 For through the voyce of the Lord ſhall Aſſur be deſtroyed, which ſmote other men with the rodde.

32 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that whitherſoeuer hee goeth, the rodde ſhal cleaue vnto him, which the Lord ſhall lay vpon him with Tabrets and Harpes: and with great warre ſhall he fight againſt his hoſt.

33 For the fire of hell is ordeyned from the beginning, yea euen for the king is it prepared: this hath the Lorde ſet in the deepe, and made it wide, the burning whereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lorde, which is like a riuer of brimſtone, doeth kindle it.

The xxxi. Chapter.

He curſeth thē that forſake God, and ſeeke for the helpe of men.

1 WO be vnto thē that go downe into Egypt for helpe, and truſt in horſes, & put their confidence in charets, becauſe they be many, and in horſemen, becauſe they bee luſtie and ſtrong: but they regarde not the holy one of Iſrael, & they aſke no queſtion at the Lord.

2 And he neuertheleſſe is wiſe, & will plague the wicked, and goeth not from his worde, he will ariſe againſt the houſhold of the froward, and againſt the helpe of euill doers.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirit: and as ſoone as the Lorde ſtretcheth out his hande, then ſhall the helper fall, and hee that ſhoulde haue bene helped, and they ſhal al together be deſtroyed.

4 For thus hath the Lorde ſpoken vnto mee, Like as the Lion and Lions whelpe roreth vpon the pray that he hath gotten, and is not afrayde though ỹ multitude of Shepheardes cry out vpon him, neither abaſhed for all the heape of them: ſo ſhall the Lord of hoſts come downe to fight for mount Sion, and defende his hill.

5 Like as the byrds flutter about their neſts: ſo ſhall the Lord of hoſtes keepe, ſaue, defend, and deliuer Hieruſalem.

6 Therefore, O ye children of Iſrael, turne againe vnto him whome you haue oftimes forſaken.

7 For in that day euery man ſhall caſt out his idoles of ſiluer, and his idoles of golde, which yee haue made with your owne handes vnto your ſinne.

8 Aſſur alſo ſhalbe ſlayne with the ſworde, not with a mans ſworde, neither ſhal the ſworde of any man deuoure him, and hee ſhall flee from the ſlaughter, and his choyſe yong men ſhall be diſcomfited.

9 He ſhall go for feare to his ſtrong holds, and his princes ſhall flee from his ſtandard, ſayth the Lorde, whoſe fire is in Sion, and his furnace in Hieruſalem.

The xxxii. Chapter.

The conditions of good rulers and officers.

1 BEholde, a king ſhall gouerne after the rule of righteouſneſſe, and the princes ſhall rule accordyng vnto the balance of equitie.

2 And that man ſhall bee vnto men as a defence for the winde, and as a refuge for the tempeſt, like as a riuer of water in a thirſtie place, and the ſhadowe of a great rocke in a dry land.

3 The eyes of ỹ ſeeing ſhal not be dimme, and the eares of thē that heare ſhall take diligent heede.

4 The heart of the vnwiſe ſhall attayne to knowledge, and the vnperfect tongue ſhall ſpeake plainely and diſtinctly.

5 Then ſhall the fooliſh nigarde be no more called gentle, nor the churle liberall.

6 But the nigarde will ſpeake nigardly, and his heart will worke euill, and play the hypocrite, and imagine abominatiōs againſt God, to make the hungry leane, and to withholde drinke from the thirſtie.

7 The weapons of the churliſh are euill, hee deuiſeth noyſome deuiſes, that hee may beguile the poore with deceitefull wordes, yea, euen there as hee ſhoulde giue ſentence with the poore.

8 But the liberall perſon imagineth honeſt thinges, and commeth vp for liberalitie vnto promotion.

9 Up ye rich and idle women, hearken vnto my voyce: yee careleſſe daughters, marke my wordes.

10 Many yeeres and dayes ſhall ye be brought in feare, O yee careleſſe women: for the vintage shall fayle, and the harueſt shal not come.

11 Be abashed, you that liue in abūdance, tremble you that liue careleſſe, cast off your rayment, make your selues bare, & put sackcloth about you.
12 For as the infantes weepe when their mothers teates are dryed vp: so shall you weepe for your faire fieldes and fruitefull vineyardes.
13 My peoples fielde shall bring thornes and thistles: and so shall it be in euery house of voluptuousnes, and in euery citie that reioyceth.
14 The palaces also shall bee broken, and the greatly occupied cities desolate: the towres & bulwarkes shal become dennes for euermore, where wilde asses take their pleasure, and sheepe their pasture.
15 Unto the time that the spirit be powred vpon vs from aboue, and that the wildernesse be a fruitefull fielde, and the plenteous fielde bee reckoned for a wood.
Esay.29.17. 16 *Then shall equitie dwell in the desart, and righteousnesse in a fruitefull land.
17 And ỳ worke of righteousnesse shalbe peace, and her fruite rest and quietnesse for euer.
18 And my people shall dwell in the Innes of peace, and in sure dwellings, in safe places of comfort.
19 And when the hayle falleth, it shall fall in the wood, and the citie shall be set lowe in the valley.
20 O howe happie shall yee bee when yee shall safely sowe your seede beside all waters, and driue thither the feete of your Oxen and Asses.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

1 Threatning against the Assyrians. 20 A destruction of them that shall see the Lord.

1 WOe to thee that destroyest, when thou wast not destroied, thou breakest ỳ league, whereas none hath broke it vnto thee: for whē thou shalt leaue destroying, thou thy self shalt be destroied: and when thou ceasest from breaking the league, then shall they breake it to thee.
2 O Lorde, haue merey vpon vs, we haue put our whole trust in thee: bee an arme to such early, and our health in the time of trouble.
3 At that confuse noyse the people fled, and at thine exalting, the heathen were scattered.
4 And the spoyles shall bee gathered, which shalbe yours, as are ỳ gathering of Bruchus, and the multitude going to it shall be as Locustes running to and fro.
5 The Lorde is exalted, for it is he that dwelleth on high, he hath filled Sion with iudgement and righteousnesse.
6 And a sure stablishing of the times, shall bee strength, health, wisedome, and knowledge: and the very feare of the Lord shalbe the treasure of it.
7 Behold, the messengers shall crye without: and the ambassadours of peace shall weepe bitterly.
8 Their streetes are waste, there walketh no man therein: God hath broken the appoyntment, the cities are cast away, and men are nothing regarded.
9 The desolate earth is in heauinesse, Libanus is shamed and hewen downe, Saron is like a wildernes, Basan and Charmel are spoyled of their fruites.
10 And therefore saith the Lord, I wil vp now, nowe will I be aduanced, nowe will I bee exalted.
11 Ye shall conceiue stubble, and beare strawe: and your spirite shalbe the fire, that it may cōsume you.
12 And the people shall bee burnt like lime, and as thornes burnt that are hewen off, and cast in the fire.
13 Now hearken to, ye that are farre off, howe I haue done, and consider my power, ye that are at hand.
14 The sinners at Sion are afraide, a sudden fearefulnesse is come vpon the hypocrites: What is he among vs, say they, ỳ shall dwell by the consuming fire? Which of vs may abide the euerlasting heate?
15 *Hee that leadeth a godly life, and speaketh the trueth, hee ỳ abhorreth gaines by violence and deceite, he that keepeth his hande that he touch no rewarde, which stoppeth his eares that he heare no counsel against the innocent blood, which holdeth downe his eyes that hee see no euill: Psal.14.2.
16 Hee it is that shall dwell on high, whose safegard shalbe in a bulwarke of rocks: to him shall be giuen meate, and his waters shall not fayle.
17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his glory, euen the king of the farre countries shall they see.
18 Thine heart studied for feare, thinking thus, *What shall then become of the Scribe? of the receiuer of our money? what of him that taxed our fayrest houses? 1.Cor.1.16.
19 There shalt thou not see a cruell people of a strange tongue, to haue so defused a language that it may not bee vnderstanded, neither so strange a speach but it shalbe perceiued.
20 Looke vpon Sion, the head citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Hierusalem that glorious habitation, the tabernacle that neuer shall remoue, whose nayles shall neuer be taken out world without ende, whose cords euery one shall neuer corrupt.
21 For the glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall there bee present among vs, as a place where fayre broade riuers and streames are, thorow the which, shal neither Galley row, nor great ship sayle.

22 For

22 For the Lord is our iudge, the Lord is our lawe giuer, the Lord is our king, and he himselfe shalbe our sauiour.
23 Thy tackling is loosed, therefore it can not make fast the mast, nor spread the sayle: then there is dealed great spoyle, yea, lame men runne after the pray.
24 Therelyeth no man that sayeth, I am sicke: but all euil is taken away frō the people that dwell there.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

The last destruction of the synagogue, in which the kingdome and priesthood of the people was translated to the Church and congregation of Christ.

1 COme ye Heathen, and heare, take heed you people: hearken thou earth, and al that is therein, thou round compasse, and all that dwelleth thereupon.
2 For the Lorde is angry with all people, and his displeasure is kindled against all ỹ multitude of them, he hath destroyed them, and deliuered them to the slaughter.
3 So that their slayne shall be cast out, & their bodies shall stinke, that euen the very hilles shalbe wet with the blood of them.
4 All the starres of heauen shall waste, and the heauens shall fold together as a roule, and all the starres thereof shall fall, like as the leaues fall from the vines and figge trees.
5 For my sword shalbe bathed in heauen, and shall immediatly come downe to iudgement vpon Idumea, and vpon the people which I haue cursed.
6 And the Lords sword shall be full of blood, and bee ruddie with the fatnesse and blood of Lambes and Goates, with the fatnesse of the kidneyes of wethers: For the Lord shall kill a great offering in Bozra, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.
7 There shall the Unicornes fall with them, and the Bulles with the Giantes, and their land shall be throughly soked with blood, and their ground corrupt with fatnesse.
a God declareth his loue & care to preserue his Church by his seuere punishing of the enemies to his Church.
8 For it is the [a] day of Gods vengeance, and the yeere of recompence for the reuenge of Sion.
9 And his floods shall bee turned to pitch, and his earth to brimstone, and therewith shall the land be kindled.
10 So ỹ it shal not be quenched day nor night, but smoke euermore, and so foorth lye waste: and no man shall go thorowe it for euer.
Soph. 2. 14.
11 * But Pelicanes, Storkes, great Owles, and Rauens shall haue it in possession, and dwell therein: for God shall spreade out the lyne of desolation vpon it, and the stones of emptinesse.
12 Her nobles shall call, and there is no kingdome: and all her princes shalbe nothing.
13 Thornes shall growe in their palaces, nettles and thistles in their strong holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleasure therein, and that they may be a court for Estriches.
14 There shall strange visures and monsterous beasts meete one another, and the wild keepe companie together, there shall the Lamia lye and haue her lodging.
15 There shal the Owle make her nest, builde, bee there at home, and bring foorth her yong ones: there shall the Kites come together, eche one to his like.
16 Seeke through the booke of the Lorde, and reade it: there shal none of these things be left out, there shall not one nor such like faile: for his mouth commandeth, and that same doeth his spirit gather together, or fulfill.
17 Hee hath cast the lot for them, and to those beastes hath his hande deuided it by the line: therefore those shall possesse it for euer, from generation to generatiō shal they dwel therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

Of the time and kingdome of Christ.

1 BUt [a] the desart and wildernesse shall reioyce, the waste ground shalbe glad, and flourish as the Lilie.
a The barren nature of mankinde to all goodnesse, shalbe made fruitfull by grace promised in Christ. Deut. 30. and 31.
2 She shall flourish pleasantly, and be ioyfull, and euer bee giuing thankes more and more: For the glory of Libanus, the beautie of Charmel and Saron shall be giuen her: These shall knowe the honour of the Lorde, and the maiestie of our God.
3 And therefore [b] strength the weake handes, and comfort the feeble knees.
b God giueth strength of grace to the feeble consciences by preaching the word.
4 Say vnto them that are of a feareful heart, Be of good cheare, and feare not, behold, your God commeth to take vengeance, & you shall see ỹ reward that God giueth: God commeth his owne selfe, and will deliuer you.
5 * Then shal the eyes of the blinde be lightened, and the eares of the deafe opened. Matth. 15. 30.
6 Then shall the lame men leape as an Hart, & the dumbe mans tongue shall giue thanks: for in the wildernes there shal welles spring, and floods of water in the desart.
7 The dry grounde shall turne to riuers, and the thirstie to springs of water: whereas Dragons dwelt afore, there shall growe sweete flowres and greene rushes.
8 There shalbe foote paths, & common streets, this shalbe called, The holy way, no vncleane person shall goe thorowe it, for the Lorde himselfe shall goe with them that way, and the wayfayrer nor ignorant shall not erre.
9 There shall bee no Lion, and no rauening beasts shal come therein, nor be there, but men redeemed shall go there free and safe.
10 And the redeemed of the Lorde, I say, shall conuert, and come to Sion with thankesgiuing: euerlasting ioy shall they haue, pleasure and gladnesse shall be among them, and as for all sorowe and heauines, it shall vanish.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

Hierusalem is besieged by Sennacherib, in the time of king Ezecias.

4.king.18.13. 2.chro 32,1.

1 IN* the fourteenth yeere of king Ezecias, came Sennacherib king of the Assyrians downe, to lay siege vnto al the strong cities of Juda, to conquer them.

2 And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsaceh from Lachis towarde Hierusalem, against Ezecias, with an exceeding hoste, which set him by the conduite of the ouer poole, in the way that goeth thorow the Fullers land.

3 And so there came forth vnto him Eliacim, Helcias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houseliolde, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne, the secretarie:

4 And Rabsaceh sayde vnto them, Tell Ezecia that the great king sayeth thus vnto him, What presumption is this that thou trustest vnto?

5 I sayde surely that thou trustest in vayne words, when counsell and strength are necessarie to battel: but now whereto trustest thou, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou puttest thy trust in a broken staffe of reede, [I meane] Egypt, which hee that leaneth vpon, it goeth into his hand, and shooteth it thorowe: euen so is Pharao the king of Egypt, vnto all them that trust in him.

7 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, We trust in the Lord our God: Is not he ỳ God whose high places and altars Ezecia tooke downe, and commanded Juda & Hierusalem to worship onely before this altar?

8 Nowe therefore deliuer hostages, that thou rebell no more against my lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set men vpon them.

9 Howe darest thou resist the power of the smallest prince that my lorde hath? howe darest thou trust in the charrets and horsemen of Egypt?

10 Moreouer, thinkest thou ỳ I am come vp hither to destroy this lande without the Lords will? The Lord sayd vnto me, Go vp against this land, and destroy it.

11 Then sayde Eliacim, Sobna, and Joah, vnto Rabsaceh, Speake to vs thy seruantes, we pray thee, in the Syrians language, for we vnderstand it well, and speake not to vs in the Jewes tongue, least the folke heare which lyeth vpon the wall.

12 Then answered Rabsaceh, Hath my master sent me to speake this only to thy master and thee? hath hee not sent me to them also that lye vpon the wall, that they may be compelled to eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne stale with you?

13 And Rabsaceh stoode stiffe, and cryed with a loude voyce in the Jewes tongue, and sayd, Nowe take heede howe the great king of the Assyrians giueth you warning.

14 Thus saieth ỳ king, Let not Ezecia deceiue you, for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Moreouer, let not Ezecia comfort you in the Lord, when he sayeth, The Lord without doubt shall defend vs, and shall not giue ouer this citie into the hands of the king of the Assyrians.

16 Hearken not to Ezecia, for thus sayeth the king of Assyria, Obteine my fauour, encline to me, so may euery man enioy his vineyards and figge trees, and drinke the water of his cesterne:

17 Vnto the time that I come my selfe, and bring you into a lande that is like your owne, wherein is wheate and wine, which is both sowen with seede, and planted with vineyardes.

18 Let not Ezecia deceiue you, when hee sayeth vnto you, The Lorde shall deliuer vs: might the god of the Gentiles keepe euery mans land from the power of the king of the Assyrians?

19 Where is the god of Hemath and Arphad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? and who is able to defend Samaria out of my hand?

20 Or which of al the gods of these lands hath deliuered their countrie out of my power? Is the Lord in deede able to deliuer Hierusalem from my hande?

21 Unto this Ezecias messengers helde their tongues, and answered not one worde: for the king had charged them that they should giue him no answere.

22 So came Eliacim Helcias sonne the chiefe ouer the housholde, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne the secretarie, vnto Ezecia with rent clothes, and told him the wordes of Rabsaceh.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

1 Ezecia humbleth himselfe before the Lord. 35 The armie of Sennacherib is slayne of the angel of ỳ Lord, 38 And he himselfe is killed of his owne sonnes.

1 WHẽ Ezecia heard that, he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the temple of the Lord.

2 But hee sent Eliacim ỳ chiefe ouer the housholde, & Sobna the Scribe, with the eldest priests, clothed in sacke, vnto ỳ Prophet Esay the sonne of Amos,

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Ezecia, This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of blasphemie: for the children are come to the place of birth, but there is no power to bring them forth.

4 The Lord thy God [no doubt] hath wel cõsidered ỳ wordes of Rabsaceh, whom his lorde king of the Assyrians hath sent to defie and blaspheme the liuing God, with such wordes as as the Lorde thy God hath heard right well: and therefore lift vp thy prayer for the remnant that yet are left.

5 So the seruantes of the king Ezecia came to Esay.

6 And Esay gaue them this answere, Saye thus vnto your lord, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the king of the Assyrians seruants haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will rayse vp a winde against him, and hee shall heare a rumour, and hee shall goe againe into his countrey, there will I destroy him with the sworde in his owne lande.

8 Nowe when Rabsaceh returned, he founde the king of Assyria laying siege to Libnas: for hee had vnderstanding that he was departed from Lachis.

4.Reg.19.9. 9 *And there came a rumour that Tharacah king of Ethiopia was come forth to warre against him: & when the king of Assyria heard that, he sent other messengers to king Ezecia with this commandement.

10 Say thus to Ezecia king of Juda, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whom thou hopest, and sayest, Hierusalem shall not be giuen into the handes of the king of Assyria.

11 For Loe, thou knowest well howe the kings of Assyria haue handled all the landes that they haue subuerted: and hopest thou to escape?

12 Were the people of the Gentiles, whom my progenitours cõquered, deliuered at any time through their gods? [As namely,] Gosan, Haran, Rezeph, & the childrẽ of Eden, which were at Thalassar?

13 Where is the king of Hemath, & the king of Arphad, & the king of the citie Sepharuaim, Ena, and Ana?

14 Nowe when Ezecia had receiued the letter of the messengers, and read it, he went vp into the house of the Lord, and opened the letter before the Lord.

15 And Ezecia prayed vnto the Lorde [on this maner.]

16 O Lord of hostes, thou God of Israel, which dwellest vpon Cherubim, thou art the God that onely is God of all the kingdomes of the world, for thou onely hast created heauen and earth, 17 Encline thine eare, Lord, and consider, open thine eyes, Lorde, and see, and ponder all the wordes of Sennacherib, which hath sent his embassage to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 It is true, O Lorde, that ỹ kings of Assyria haue conquered all kingdomes and landes, 19 And cast their gods in the fire: for those were no gods, but the workes of mens handes, of wood, or stone, therefore haue they destroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore deliuer vs, O Lorde our God, from the handes of Sennacherib, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe that thou onely art the Lord.

21 Then Esay the sonne of Amos sent vnto Ezecia, saying, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Whereas thou hast made thy prayer vnto me as touching Sennacherib the king of Assyria, 22 This is the answere that the Lorde hath giuen concerning him: The virgin ỹ daughter of Sion hath despised thee, & laughed thee to scorne: the daughter of Hierusalẽ hath shaken her head at thee.

23 But thou Sennacherib, whome hast thou defied and blasphemed? Against whome hast thou lifted vp thy voyce, & exalted thy proude lookes? euen against the holy one of Israel.

24 Thou with thy seruantes hast blasphemed the Lorde, and thus holdest thou of thy selfe: I will couer the high mountaines and sides of Libanus with my horsemen, and there will I cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the fayrest Fyre trees: I will vp into the height of it, and into the chiefest of his timber woods.

25 If there be no water, I wil graue & drinke: and as for waters of defence, I will dry them vp with the feete of mine host.

26 Yea, hast thou not heard what I haue taken in hande, and brought to passe of olde time? That same will I doe nowe also, and waste, destroy, and bring strong cities vnto heapes of stones.

27 For their inhabiters shall be like lame men brought in feare and confounded: they shalbe like grasse and greene hearbes in the fielde, like haye vpon the house toppes, that withereth before it be growen vp.

28 I know thy wayes, thy going forth, and thy comming home, yea and thy madnesse against me.

29 Therefore thy furiousnesse against mee, and thy pride is come before mee, I will put my ring in thy nose, & my bridle bit in ỹ chawes of thee, and turne thee about, euen the same way that thou camest.

30 I wil giue thee also this tokẽ, [O Ezecia,] this yeere shalt thou eate such as groweth of it selfe, and the second yeere that which springeth againe of the same, and in the third yere ye shall sow and reape, yea ye shal plant vineyardes, and enioy the fruites thereof.

31 And such of the house of Juda as are escaped, shall come together, and the remnant shal take roote beneath, and bring forth fruite aboue.

32 For the escaped shall go out of Hierusalem, and the remnant from the mount Sion: and this shall the zeale of the Lord of hostes bring to passe.

33 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord, concerning the king of the Aſſyrians, Hee ſhall not come into this citie, and ſhall ſhoote no arrowe into it, there ſhall no ſhielde hurt it, neither ſhall they caſt ditches about it.

34 The ſame way he came he ſhal returne, and not come in this citie, ſaith the Lord.

35 And I will keepe and ſaue this citie, [ſayth he,] for mine owne, & for my ſeruant Dauids ſake.

4.Reg.19.35. eccle.48.24. 36 *Thus the Angel of the Lord went foorth, and ſlewe of the Syrians hoſt, an hundred foure ſcore and fiue thouſand: and when men aroſe vp earely in the morning, beholde, they were ſlayne, and all lay full of dead bodies.

37 So Sennacherib the king of the Aſſyrians hake vp, and dwelt at Niniue.

38 Afterwarde it chanced as hee prayed in the Temple of Neſroch his god, that Adramalech and Sarazer his owne ſonnes ſlew him with the ſworde, and fled into the lande of Armenia: and Aſarhaddon his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

1 Ezecia is ſicke vnto death, 5 but is yet reuiued by the Lorde, and liueth fifteene yeeres after. 10 For which benefite he giueth thankes.

2.Reg.20.1. 2.par.32.24. 1 ABout this time was *Ezecia ſicke vnto death, and the Prophet Eſay the ſonne of Amos came vnto him, and ſayde, Thus commandeth the Lorde, Set thine houſe in order, for thou muſt die, and ſhalt not eſcape.

2 Then Ezecia turned his face towarde the wall, and prayed vnto the Lord,

3 And ſayde, Remember, O Lorde, I beſeech thee, that I haue walked before thee in trueth and a ſtedfaſt heart, and haue done the thing that is pleaſant to thee. And Ezecia wept ſore.

4 Then ſaide God vnto Eſay,

5 Go, and ſpeake vnto Ezecia, The Lord God of Dauid thy father ſendeth thee this worde, I haue heard thy prayer, and conſidered thy teares: behold, I will put fifteene yeeres moe vnto thy life,

6 And deliuer thee and thy citie alſo from the hand of the king of Aſſyria: for I will defende the citie.

7 And take thee this token of the Lorde, that he will doe it as he hath ſpoken.

8 Behold, I wil returne the ſhadowe of Ahaz diall that nowe is layde out with the Sunne, and bring it tenne degrees backward. So the Sunne turned teune degrees backward, the which he was diſcended afore.

9 A thankeſgiuing which Ezecia king of Iuda wrote, when he had bene ſicke and recouered.

10 I thought I ſhoulde haue gone to the gates of hell, whē mine age was ſhortened, and haue wanted the reſidue of my yeeres.

11 I ſpake within my ſelfe, I will neuer viſite the Lorde, [the Lorde I ſay,] in this life: I will neuer ſee man among the dwellers of the world.

12 Mine age is folden together, and taken away from mee like a ſhepheardes cottage, I haue hewen off my life [by my ſinnes,] like as a weauer cutteth off his web: he wil with pyning ſickeneſſe make an ende of me, yea he will make an ende of mee in one day.

13 I thought I woulde haue liued vntill the morowe, but hee bruiſed my bones like a Lion: and in one day thou wilt make an ende of me.

14 Then chattered I like a Swallowe, and like a Crane, and mourned like a Doue, I lift vp mine eyes into the height: O Lorde [ſayde I,] my ſickneſſe keepeth mee downe, eaſe thou me.

15 What ſhall I ſay? The Lorde hath made a promiſe to me, yea, and hee himſelfe hath performed it: I will therefore ſo long as I liue, remember this bitterneſſe of my life.

16 O Lord, to all thoſe that ſhall liue hereafter, yea to all men ſhall it be knowen, that euen in thoſe yeeres I haue a ioyfull life, and that it was thou that cauſedſt mee to ſleepe, againe thou haſt giuen life to me.

17 Behold, bitter as gall was my penſiuenelle, ſo ſore longed I for health, & it was thy pleaſure to deliuer my life from the filthie pit: for thou it is, [O Lorde,] that haſt caſt all my ſinnes behind thy backe.

18 For hell prayſeth not thee, death doeth not magnifie thee: they that goe downe into the graue prayſe not thy trueth:

19 But the liuing, yea the liuing knowledge thee, as I doe this day: the father telleth his children of thy faithfulneſſe.

20 To heale me it is the Lords worke, & we will ſing my ſongs in the houſe of the Lord al the dayes of our life.

21 And Eſay ſayde, Take a plaſter of figs, and lay it vpon the ſore, ſo ſhalt it be whole.

22 Then ſayde Ezecia, O what a miracle is this, that I ſhall goe vp into the houſe of the Lord.

The xxxix. Chapter.

Ezecia is reproued of Eſay, becauſe he ſhewed his treaſure vnto the Embaſſadours of Babylon.

4.King.20.12. 1 AT the ſame time *Merodach Baladans ſonne, king of Babylon, ſent letters and preſentes to Ezecia: for hee vnderſtood that he had bene ſicke, and was recouered againe.

2 And Ezecia was glad thereof, and ſhewed them the houſe of his treaſures of ſiluer and golde, of ſpices, and roores, of precious oyles, and all that was in cupboordes and treaſure houſes: there was not one thing in Ezecias houſe, house, and so throughout all his kingdome, but he let them see it.

3 Then came Esay the Prophet to king Ezecia, and sayde vnto him, What haue the men sayde, and from whence came they vnto thee? Ezecia answered, They came out of a farre countrey vnto me, out of Babylon.

4 Esay sayd, What haue they looked vpon in thy house? Ezecia answered, All that is in my house haue they seene, and there is nothing in my treasure but I shewed it them.

5 Then sayd Esay vnto Ezecia, Understande the word of the Lord of hostes:

6 Behold, the time wil come, that euery thing which is in thine house, and all that thy progenitours haue layd vp in store vntil this day, shall be carried to Babylon, and nothing left behind: thus sayth the Lord.

7 Yea and part of thy sonnes that shall come of thee, and whom thou shalt beget, shall bee carried hence, and become gelded chamberlaines in the king of Babylons court.

8 Then sayd Ezecia to Esay, Good is ỹ word of God which thou hast told me. He said moreouer, For there shalbe peace and faithfulnesse in my time.

The xl. Chapter.

3 The comming of Saint Iohn Baptist. 9 The preparation of the Apostles. 11 The calling of the Gentiles.

The Epistle on Saint Iohn Baptists day.

1 COmfort my people, [O ye prophets,] comfort my people, sayth your God.

2 Comfort Hierusalem at the heart, and tell her that her trauell is at an ende, that her offence is pardoned, that shee hath receiued at the Lords hand sufficient correction for all her sinnes.

Matth. 3. 3. mar. 1. 3. luk. 3. 4. ioh. 1. 23.

3 *A voyce crieth in wildernesse: Prepare the way of the Lord, make straight the path of our God in the desart.

4 All valleys shalbe exalted, and euery mountaine and hill layde lowe: what so is crooked shall be made straight, and the rough shall be made playne.

5 For the glory of the Lord shall appeare, for all flesh shall at once see that the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

Eccle. 4. 18. iam. 1. 11. 1. pet. 1. 24.

6 *The same voyce spake, Now cry. And the Prophet answered, What shall I cry? That all flesh is grasse, and that all the goodlinesse thereof is as the floure of the fielde.

7 The grasse is withered, the floure falleth away, for the breath of the Lord bloweth vpon them: of a trueth the people are grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, and the floure fadeth away: *yet the word of our God endureth for euer.

Iohn. 12. 34.

9 Go vp vnto the high hil, O Sion, thou that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with power, O thou preacher Hierusalem, lift it vp without feare, and say vnto the cities of Iuda, Beholde your God.

10 Behold, ỹ Lord God shall come with power, and shal of himselfe beare rule with his arme: behold his reward with him, and his workes before him.

11 *Hee shall feede his flocke like an heardman, hee shall gather the lambes together with his arme, and carrie them in his bosome, and shall kindely entreate those that beare yong. Ezc. 34. 23. ioh. 10. 11.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist? who hath measured heauen with his span, and hath comprehended all the earth of the world in three measures? who hath weighed the mountaines and hilles in a balance?

13 *Who hath directed the spirit of the Lord? or who gaue him counsell, and shewed him? Wisd. 9. 13. rom. 11. 34. 1. cor. 2. 16

14 Who is of his counsell, and giueth him vnderstanding, and hath taught him the path of iudgement? who taught him cunning, and opened to him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Beholde, all people are in comparison of him as a droppe of a bucket ful, and are counted as the least thing that the balance weigheth: yea and the yles he taketh vp as a very litle thing.

16 Libanus is not sufficient to minister fire to his offering, and al the beastes thereof are not inowe for one sacrifice.

17 All people in comparison of him are reckoned as nothing: if they be cõpared with him, lesse then nothing, and as it that is not.

18 *To whom then wil ye liken God, or what similitude will ye set vp to him? Acts 17. 29.

19 Shall the Caruer make him a caruen image? and shall the Goldsmith couer him with golde, or cast him into a forme of siluer plates?

20 Moreouer, shall the image maker, that the poore man which is disposed, may haue something to set vp also, seeke out, and choose a tree that is not rotten, and carue thereout an image that moueth not?

21 Knowe yee nothing? heard yee neuer of it? hath it not bene preached vnto you since the beginning? haue ye not bene enformed of this by the foundation of the earth?

22 It is hee that sitteth vpon the circle of the world, whose inhabiters are [in comparison of him] but as grashoppers: he spreadeth out the heauens as a couering, he stretcheth them out as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth princes to nothing, and the iudges of the earth as though they were not.

24 So that of them it may bee sayde, They be not planted nor sowen agayne, neyther their stocke rooted againe in the earth: for as soone as hee bloweth vpon them, they wither and fade away like the straw in a whirlewinde.

25 To whome nowe will yee liken mee, and whom shall I be like, sayth the holy one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and consider who hath made those things which come out by so great heapes, and he calleth them all by their names: there is nothing hid from the greatnesse of his power, strength, and might.

27 Howe may then Jacob thinke, or may Israel say, My wayes are hidde from the Lord, and my God knoweth not of my iudgements.

28 Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard that ỹ euerlasting God, the Lord which made all the corners of the earth, is neither wearie nor faint? and that his wisedome can not be comprehended?

29 It is hee that giueth strength vnto the wearie, and power vnto the faynt.

30 Children are wearie and faint, and ỹ strong men fall:

31 But vnto them that haue their trust in the Lorde, shall strength bee encreased: Egles wings shall growe vpon them, when they runne they shall not faint, and when they goe they shall not be wearie.

The xli. Chapter.

Of the goodnesse and mercy of God toward the people.

a By ỹ Ilads, God meaneth the Gentiles, whom he reproueth for their idolatry.

BE still you a Ilandes, and hearken vnto mee: let the people lay their strength together, let them come hither, and then shewe their cause: we wil go to the lawe together.

b By the iust man, is meant Abrahã, who being called out of Vr of the Chaldeãs, who being iustified by faith, became the father of many nations, whã God alway defended against al his enemies.

2 Who raysed vp the b iust man from ỹ East, and called him to goe forth? who cast downe the people, and subdued the kings before him? that hee may throwe them all to the grounde with his swoorde, and scatter them like stubble with his bowe.

3 He followeth vpon them, & goeth safely him selfe, and that in a way where before his foote had not troden.

4 Who hath made and created these things? euen he that called the generations from the beginning, * euen I the Lorde which am the first, and with the last.

Apoc. 1. 17.

5 The yles sawe and did feare, and the endes of the earth were abashed, drewe nigh, and came hither.

6 Euery man helped his neighbour, and sayd to his brother, Be strong.

7 The carpenter comforted the goldsmith, and the goldsmith the hammerman, saying, Soder wil do very well in it: and they fastened it with nayles, that it shoulde not bee moued.

8 But thou Israel art my seruant, thou Jacob whom I haue chosen, thou art the seede of Abraham my beloued.

9 Thou art hee whom I led from the endes of the earth: for I called thee euen from among the glorious men of it, and sayde vnto thee, Thou art my seruant, I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Be not afraid, for I am with thee: Melt not away as waxe, for I am thy God, to strengthe thee, helpe thee, and keepe thee with the right hand of my righteousnesse.

11 Beholde, all they that resist thee shall come to confusion and shame, and thine aduersaries shalbe destroyed and brought to nought.

12 So that whoso seeketh after them, shal not finde them, thy destroyers shall perish: and so shall they that vndertake to make battell against thee, be as that is not, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God wil strengthen thy right hande, euen I that say vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Be not afrayd, thou litle worme Jacob, and thou despised Israel: for I will helpe thee, sayth the Lord, and the holy one of Israel thy redeemer.

15 Beholde, I will make thee a treading carte, and a newe flaile, that thou mayest thresh and grind the mountaines, and bring the hilles to powder.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the winde shall carrie them away, and the whirle winde shall scatter them: but thou shalt reioyce in the Lorde, and shalt delight in the holy one of Israel.

17 Whẽ the thirstie and poore seeke water and finde none, and when their tongue is dryed of thirst, I giue it them, sayeth the Lorde, I the God of Israel forsake them not.

18 I bring forth floods in the hilles, and welles in the playne fieldes: I turne the wildernesse to riuers, and the dryed lande to conduites of water.

19 I plant in the waste grounde trees of Cedar, Box, Myrre, and Oliues, and in the drie I set Firre trees, Elmes, and Hawthornes together.

20 All this doe I, that they altogether may see and marke, perceiue with their heartes, and consider that the hande of the Lorde maketh these things, and that the holy one of Israel bringeth them to passe.

21 Stand at your cause, saith the Lord, & bring forth your strongest ground, sayth the king of Jacob.

22 Let them bring forth their gods, & let their gods tell vs what shal chance hereafter, yea, let thẽ shewe vs the things that are past what they be, let them declare them vnto vs, that we may take them to heart, and knowe them hereafter.

23 Either shewe vs things for to come, and tell vs what shall bee done hereafter, so shall wee know that ye are gods: doe some thing either good or bad, so will wee both knowledge the same, and tell it out.

24 Beholde,

24 Beholde, ye are gods of nought, and your making is of nought: yea, abominable is the man that hath chosen you.

Cyrus. 25 Neuertheless, I haue waked vp one from the North, and he shal come from the East, he shal call vpon my name, and shal treade vpon princes as vpon claye, and as the potter treadeth downe the myre.

26 Who declareth this from the beginning, & we will knowe him: or from the olde times, and we will confesse and say that he is righteous: but there is none that sheweth or declareth any thing, there is none also that heareth your wordes.

27 The first is he that shall say to Sion, Behold, behold they are present: and to Hierusalem it selfe will I giue an Euangelist.

28 But when I consider, there is not a man among them, nor any that can giue counsell, nor that when I examine them that can answere one worde.

29 Lo wicked are they, & vaine, with the things also that they take in hand, yea, their images are but winde and vayne things.

The xlii. Chapter.

The comming of Christ.

1 BEholde, this is my seruant vpon whom Matth.12.18. I leane, * my elect in whom my soule is pacified, I haue giuen my spirite vpon him, that he may shew forth iudgement among the Gentiles.

2 He shall not be an outcryer, nor lift vp his voyce, his voyce shall not be heard in the streetes.

3 And a bruysed reede shall he not breake, and the smoking flaxe shall he not quenche: but faithfully & truely shall he giue iudgement.

4 He shall not be pensiue nor carefull, that he may restore righteousnesse vnto the earth: and the Gentiles also shal looke for his lawes.

5 For thus saith God the Lord vnto him, euen he that made the heauens and spread them abroad, & set forth the earth with her encrease, which giueth breath vnto the people that is in it, and spirite to them that dwell therein,

6 I the Lord haue called thee in righteousnes, and wil holde thee by the hande, and will also Esa.49.6. defend thee, * and giue thee for a couenant of the people, to be the light of the Gentiles.

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blinde, let out the prisoners from their bonds, and them that sit in darkenesse out of the dungeon house.

8 Euen I am the Lord, and this is my name:
Esa.48.11. * and my glory wil I giue to none other, neither mine honour to grauen images.

9 Beholde, olde things are come to passe, and newe things doe I declare, and or euer they come I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a new song of thankesgiuing, blowe out his prayse from the ende of the worlde: they that be vpon the sea, and all that is therein prayse him, the Iles and they that dwell in them.

11 Let the wildernesse with the cities lift vp her voyce, the townes also that they of Cedar dwel in: let them be glad that sit vpon rockes of stone, and let them cry downe from the high mountaines, 12 Ascribing glory vnto the Lord, and magnifying him among the Gentiles.

13 The Lord shall come forth like a Giant, and take a stomacke to him like a fresh man of warre: he shall roare and cry, and ouercome his enemies.

14 I haue long holden my peace [sayeth the Lorde,] [a] I haue bene still and refrayned my selfe, but nowe I will cry like a trauayling woman, and at once will I destroy and deuoure.

15 I will make waste both mountaine and hill, and dry vp euery greene thing that groweth thereon: I will dry vp the floods to become Ilandes, and drinke vp the riuers.

16 I will bring the blinde into a streete that they knowe not, and leade them into a foote-path that they are ignorant in: I shall make darkenesse light before them, & the thing that is crooked to be straight: These things haue I done vnto them, and not forsaken them.

17 They are fallen backe, yea, and let them be ashamed earnestly that hope in tooles, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare, O ye deafe men, and sharpen your eyes to see, O ye blinde.

19 Who is blinde but my seruant: or so deafe as [b] my messenger, whom I sent vnto them: for who is so blinde as the perfect man, and so blinde as the Lordes seruant:

20 Thou hast seene much, and keepest nothing: the eares are open, and no man heareth.

21 The Lorde is mercifull vnto them for his righteousnesse sake, that his worde might be magnified and praysed:

22 [c] But the people themselues are robbed and troden vnder the foote, chayned in dungeons, and they all, I say, are shut into prison houses: they be carryed away captiue, and no man doeth loose them: they be troden vnder foote, and no man doeth labour to bring them againe.

23 But who is he among you that pondereth this, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in time to come:

24 Who gaue Iacob to be troden vnder foote, and Israel to be spoyled: Did not the Lorde, because we haue sinned against him, & haue had no delight to walke in his wayes, neither bene obedient vnto his lawe:

25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his wrathfull displeasure and strong battell, and hath fired him on euery side, yet will hee not vnderstand:

a Christ for a time deferreth as it were with payne, to deliuer his elect from ye tyrannie of Antichrist, but at the time appointed he wil enforce himselfe, as a woman in her trauaple, to deliuer his people.

b By the seruant, messenger, & the perfect man, he meaneth the Iewes & their priestes, who ought of all other people to haue had knowledge, & so haue serued God perfectly.

c A grieuous sentence against those that will not beholde the light when it shineth, nor beleeue Gods worde when it is preached.

vnderstand: he burgeth him vp, yet sinketh it not into his heart.

The xliii. Chapter.

1 God promiseth to send his Christ which shal deliuer his people. 7 He forgiueth sinnes for his owne sake.

1 BVt nowe the Lorde that made thee, O Jacob, and he that fashioned thee, O Israel, sayeth thus, Feare not, for I haue redeemed thee, I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine owne.

2 If thou goest thorowe the water, I will be with thee, the strong floods shall not ouerwhelme thee: and if thou walkest thorowe the fire, it shal not burne thee, and the flame shall not kindle vpon thee:

3 For I am the Lorde thy God, the holy one of Israel thy sauiour: I gaue Egypt for thy deliuerance, the Ethiopians and the Sabees for thee:

4 Because thou wast deare in my sight, and because I set by thee and loued thee: I wil giue ouer all men for thee, and deliuer vp all people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee, I will bring thy seede from the East, and gather thee together from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Let goe: and to the South, Keepe not backe: but bring mee my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the worlde,

7 [Namely] all those that be called after my name: For them haue I created, fashioned, and made for mine honour.

8 Bring forth that people which is blinde and yet hath eyes, which are deafe, although they haue eares.

9 If all nations come in one, and be gathered together, which amõg them shal declare such things, and tel vs the things that are past: let them bring their witnesse, so that they be iust: els let them heare, and say, It is trueth.

10 You are my witnesses, sayth the Lorde, and my seruant whom I haue chosen: therefore be certified, and giue mee faithful credence, and consider that I am he before whom there was neuer any God, neither shalbe any after mee.

Ose.13.4. 11 *I am, euen I am the only Lord, and beside me there is no sauiour.

12 I gaue warning, I made whole, I taught you when there was no strange god among you: and this record must ye beare me your selues, sayth the Lord, that I am God.

13 And euen he am I who was from the beginning, & there is none that can take any thing out of my hand: I do the worke, and who shal be able to let it?

14 Thus sayth the Lord the holy one of Israel your redeemer, For your sake I haue sent to Babylon, and brought it downe: all they are fugitiue with the Chaldees, whose sorowful cry is in their shippes.

15 I am the Lorde your holy one, which haue made Israel, and am your king.

16 Thus sayth the Lorde, euen he that maketh a way in the sea, and a footepath in the mighty waters.

17 It is he which bringeth forth the charets & horses, the host and power of warre, that they may fall together, and neuer rise, and be extinct, like as towe are they quenched.

18 Remember not things of olde, and regarde nothing that is past.

19 *Beholde, I shall make a newe thing, and shortly shal it appeare, and shal you not know it? I will make [a] a way in the desart, & riuers of water in the wildernesse. 2.Cor.5.17. reue.21.5.

a Christ is the way, the world is the desart, the doctrine of the Gospel the waters, the wilde beastes, the cruell and superstitious misbeleeuers.

20 The wilde beasts shal worship me, the Dragons and the yong Estriches: for I shal giue water in the wildernesse, and streames in the desart, that they may giue drinke to my people whome I chose.

21 This people haue I made for my selfe, and they shal shew forth my prayse.

22 For thou Jacob wouldest not call vpon me, but thou haddest an vnlust towarde mee, O Israel.

23 Thou gauest mee not thy beastes for burnt offerings, neither diddest honour me with sacrifices: I haue not bene chargeable vnto thee in offerings, neither grieuous in incense.

24 Thou boughtest mee no deare spyce with thy money, neyther powredst the fatte of thy sacrifices vpon mee: but thou hast laden mee with thy sinnes, and wearyed mee with thy vngodlinesse.

25 Whereas I yet, euen I am he onely that for mine owne selues sake doe away thine offences, and forget thy sinnes, so that I wil neuer thinke vpon them.

26 Put me nowe in remembrance, for we will reason together: and shew what thou hast for thee to make thee righteous.

27 Thy first father offended sore, and thy rulers haue sinned against me:

28 Therefore I ‖ prophaned the princes of the sanctuarie, I did curse Jacob, and gaue Israel into reproofe. ‖ Or, slewe.

The xliiii. Chapter.

Christ promiseth to deliuer his Church without any her deserts.

1 SO *heare nowe, O Jacob my seruant, and Israel whom I haue chosen. Iere.30.10.

2 For thus sayth the Lorde that made thee, fashioned thee, and helped thee euẽ from thy mothers wombe: Be not afrayde, O Jacob my seruant, thou righteous whome I haue chosen:

3 * For I shall powre water vpon the drye ground, and riuers vpon the thirstie: I shall powre my spirite vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy stocke: Ioel.2.28. acts.2.17. iohn.7.38.

4 They shal grow together like as the grasse, and and as the willowes by the waters side.

5 One shal say, I am the Lordes: another shal cal himselfe after the name of Jacob: the third shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lorde, and giue himselfe vnder the name of Israel.

6 Thus hath the Lord spoken, euen the king of Israel, & his redeemer the Lorde of hostes: * I am the first and the last, and besides mee there is no God.

Esa.41.4. apoc.1.17. esai.48.12.

7 If any be like me, let him cal forth the thing past, and openly shewe it, and lay it playne before mee what hath chaunced since I appoynted the people of the worlde, and what shalbe shortly, or what shall come to passe [in time long to come,] let them shew these things.

8 Be not abashed nor afrayde: for haue not I euer tolde you hitherto, and warned you? yee can beare me record your selues: is there any God except mee, or any maker, that I should not know him?

9 All Caruers of images are but vayne, and the carued image that they loue can doe no good: they must beare record themselues, that seeing they can neyther see nor vnderstande, they shalbe confounded.

10 Who dare then make a god, or fashion an image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Beholde, all the felowship of them must be brought to confusion, and truely all the workmasters of them are men: they shall all be gathered together, they shal stand, tremble, and be confounded one with another.

Wisd.13.11. ierc.10.3.

12 * The Smith maketh an Axe, and tempereth it with hote coles, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with all the strength of his armes, yea, sometime he is faynt for very hunger, and so thyrstie that hee hath no more power.

13 The Carpenter or image Caruer taketh measure of the tymber, and spreadeth forth his line, he marketh it with some colour, hee playneth it, he ruleth it, and squareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, and according to the beautie of a man, that it may stand in the house.

14 Moreouer, hee goeth out to hewe Cedar trees, he bringeth home Elmes and Okes, and taking a bolde courage, he seeketh out the best tymber of the wood: hee himselfe hath planted a Pine tree, which the rayne hath swelled, 15 Which wood serueth for men to burne: Of this he taketh and warmeth himselfe withall, he maketh a fire of it to bake bread, and maketh also a god thereof to honour it, and a grauen image to kneele before it.

16 One piece he burneth in the fire, with another he rosteth flesh, that he may eate roste his belly full: with the third he warmeth himselfe, and sayeth, Aha, I am well warmed, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And of the residue he maketh him a god, and a grauen image for himselfe: he kneeleth before it, he worshippeth it, he prayeth vnto it, and sayth, Deliuer me, for thou art my god.

18 Yet men neyther consider nor vnderstande, because their eyes be stopped that they can not see, and their hearts that they can not perceyue.

19 They ponder not in their mindes, for they haue neyther knowledge nor vnderstanding to thinke thus, I haue burnt one piece in the fire, I haue baked bread with the coles thereof, I haue rosted flesh withall and eaten it: and I will nowe of the residue make an abominable idole, and fall downe before a rotten piece of wood.

20 Thus doeth he but lose his labour, and his heart which is deceyued doth turne him aside, so that none of them can haue a free conscience to thinke, Doe not I erre?

21 Consider this, O Jacob and Israel, for thou art my seruant: I made thee, that thou mightest serue me, O Israel, forget me not.

22 As for thine offences, I haue driuen them away like the cloudes, and thy sinnes as the myst: turne thee againe vnto mee, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 Be glad ye heauens, for the Lord hath dealt graciously with his people, let all that is here beneath vpon the earth be ioyfull: reioyce ye mountaines and woods, with all the trees thereof, for the Lorde hath redeemed Jacob, and will shew his glory vpon Israel.

24 Thus sayth the Lord thy redeemer, euen he that fashioned thee from thy mothers wombe, I the Lord do all things my selfe alone, I onely spread out the heauens, and I onely haue layde abroade the earth by my owne selfe.

25 I destroy the tokens of witches, and make the soothsayers fooles: As for the wise, I turne them backwarde, and make their cunning foolishnesse.

26 He doeth set vp the purpose of his seruant, and fulfilleth the counsell of his messengers: concerning Hierusalem he sayth it shalbe inhabited, and of the cities of Juda they shall be buylded againe, and I will repayre their decayed places.

27 He sayth to the deapth, Be dry: and, I will drie vp water floods.

28 He sayth of Cyrus, He is my heardman, so that he shal fulfill all things after my will: he sayth also of Hierusalem, It shall be buylded: and of the temple, It shalbe fast grounded.

The xlv. Chapter.

The comming of Christ, and the calling of the Gentiles.

1 THus sayth the Lorde vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whome I haue taken by the right hande, to subdue nations before him: I wyll loose the * loynes of kings,

* The loynes, that is, the power and strength.

kings, and I will open the gates before his face, and the gates shall not be shut.
2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked straight: I shal breake the brasen doores, and burst the yron barres.
3 I shal giue thee hid treasures, and the thing which is secretly kept: that thou mayst know that I am the Lorde God of Israel, which haue called thee by thy name.
4 For Jacob my seruants sake, and for Israel my chosen, I called thee by thy name, and ordeined thee or euer thou knewest me.
5 I am the Lorde, and there is none other, for without me there is no god, I haue prepared thee or euer thou knewest me.
6 Therefore they shall knowe from the rising of the Sunne, vnto the going downe of the same, that all is nothing without mee: for I am the Lord, and there is els none.
7 It is I that created light and darkenesse, I make peace and trouble: yea, euen I the Lord do all these things.
8 Ye heauens from aboue drop downe, and let the cloudes rayne righteousnesse: the earth open it selfe, let saluation and righteousnesse growe forth, let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue created him.
9 Woe be vnto him that striueth with his maker, let the potshard striue with the potshards of the earth: * Sayth the clay to the Potter, What makest thou? or, Thy worke is not perfectly done? Iere.18.6. Rom.9.20.
10 Woe be vnto him that sayeth to his father, What begettest thou? and to his mother; What bearest thou?
11 Thus sayth the Lord, euen the holy one and maker of Israel, Aske mee of things for to come concerning my sonnes, and put mee in remembrance as touching the works of mine handes.
12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: with my hands haue I spread forth heauen, and giuen a commaundement for all the host thereof.
13 I shall wake him vp with righteousnesse, and order all his wayes: He shall buylde my citie, and let out my prisoners, and that neyther for giftes nor rewardes, sayth the Lorde of hostes.
14 Thus sayth the Lord, The occuppyers of Egypt, the marchantes of the Ethiopians and Sabees shall come vnto thee with tribute, they shalbe thine, they shall followe thee, and goe with chaynes vpon their feete, they shall fal downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee: for God, without whome there is none other God, shalbe with thee.
15 O howe profounde art thou, O God, thou God and sauiour of Israel?
16 Confounded are they all and put to dishonour, they are gone hence together with shame, euen the makers of images.
17 But Israel shall be saued in the Lord with an euerlasting saluation: ye shal not come to shame nor confusion worlde without ende.
18 For thus sayth the Lorde (that created heauen, the God that made the earth and fashioned it, and set it forth, he did not make it for nought, but to be inhabited) I am the Lorde, without whom there is none other.
19 I haue not spoken secretly, neither in darke places of the earth: I sayd not in vayne to the seede of Jacob, Seeke me: I am the Lorde, which when I speake doe declare the thing that is righteous and true.
20 Gather you and come together, drawe nigh hyther you that escaped of the people: they haue no vnderstanding that set vp the stockes of their idoles, and pray vnto a god that can not helpe them.
21 Drawe nigh, come hither, and let them aske counsell one at another, and shewe forth what is he that tolde this before, or who spake of it euer since the beginning: haue not I the Lord done it? without whome there is none other God, the true God and sauiour, and there is els none but I.
22 And therfore turne you vnto me all ye ends of the earth, that ye may be saued: for I am God, and there is els none.
23 I sware by my selfe, out of my mouth commeth the word of righteousnesse, and that may no man turne: * but all knees shal bowe vnto me, and all tongues shall sweare [by my name,] Rom.14.11. Phil.2.10.
24 Saying, Verily in the Lorde is my righteousnesse and strength, to him shall men come, but all they that thinke scorne of him shall be confounded.
25 And the whole seede of Israel shall be iustified, and glory in the Lord.

The xlvi. Chapter.

1 Idolatrie is reproued. 3 The health that commeth by Christ is prophecied.

1 BEl is fallen, Nabo is broken downe, whose images were a burden for the beastes and cattel, to ouerlade them, and to make them weary.
2 They are sunke downe and fallen together, for they may not ease them of their burden, therefore must they go into captiuitie.
3 Hearken vnto me, O house of Jacob, and all yee that remayne yet of the house of Israel, whome I haue borne from your mothers wombe, and brought you vp from your byrth.
4 It is euen I which shal beare you vnto your last age: I haue made you, I wil also nourish you, beare you, and saue you.
5 Whome will ye make me like, or to whom will ye make me equall or compare mee, that I should be like him?
6 Take out siluer and gold out of your purses, and and wayghit, and hyre a goldesmith to make a god of it, that men may kneele downe and worship it:

Baruc.6.26. 7 *Yet must he be taken on mens shoulders and borne, and set in his place, that hee may stande, and not moue out of his place: and if one cry vnto him, he giueth no answere, and deliuereth not the man that calleth vpon him from his trouble.

8 Consider this well, and be ashamed, go into your owne selues.

9 Remember the things that are past since the beginning of the worlde, that I am God, and that there is els no God, yea, and that there is nothing like vnto me.

10 In the beginning of a thing, I shew the end thereof, & I tell before things that are not yet come to passe: My deuice standeth stedfastly stablished, and I fulfill all my pleasure.

11 I call a byrde out of the East, and the man by whome my counsaile shalbe fulfilled out of strange countreys: as I haue spoken, so will I bring to passe: as soone as I thinke to deuise a thing, I doe it.

12 Heare mee, O ye that are of an hygh stomacke, but farre from righteousnesse:

13 I shall bring foorth my righteousnesse, it is not farre, and my health shal not tary long away: I wil lay health in Sion, and in Israel my glory.

The xlvii. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord against Babylon.

1 BVt as for thee, O daughter, thou virgin Babylon, sit thou downe in the dust, sit vpon the grounde, there is no throne, O thou daughter of Chaldea, for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and pleasant.

2 Bring foorth the querne and grinde meale, vntrusse thy hoyodered heare, put off thy shooes, make bare thy knees, and wade thorow the water riuers.

Naum.3.5. 3 *Thy filthinesse shal be discouered, and thy priuities shalbe seene: for I wil auenge me of thee, and will shew no mercy to thee, as I doe to other men.

4 Our redeemer is called the Lord of hostes, the holy one of Israel.

5 Sit still, holde thy tongue, get thee into some darke corner, O daughter Chaldea: for thou shalt no more be called, Ladie of kingdomes.

6 I was so wroth with my people, that I punished mine inheritance, and gaue them into thy power, neuertheless, thou shewedst them no mercy, but euen the very aged of them didest thou oppresse right sore with thy yoke.

7 And thou thoughtest thus, I shalbe lady for euer, and beside all that, thou hast not regarded these things, neyther remembred what was the ende of that citie Hierusalem.

8 Heare nowe therefore thou delicate one that sittest so careless, and speakest thus in thine heart, I am alone, & without me is there none, I shal neuer be widowe nor desolate againe.

9 * And yet both these things shall come to thee, vpon one day in the twinckling of an eye, namely widowhood and desolation: they mightily fall vpon thee, for the multitude of thy witches, and for the great heape of thy coniurers. Esai.51.19. Apoc.18.7.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednes, and hast sayd, No man seeth me: thine owne wisedome and cunning hath deceyued thee, in that thou hast sayd in thine heart, I am alone, and without me there is none.

11 Therefore shal trouble come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know from whence it shal rise: mischiefe shal fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put off, a sudden vtter destruction shal come vpon thee or euer thou be ware.

12 Nowe goe to thy coniurers, and to the multitude of thy witches with whome thou hast wearyed thy selfe from thy youth, if they may helpe thee, or strength thee.

13 Thou hast hitherto had many counsels of them: So let the heauen gazers, and the beholders of starres, and moone prophets, come on nowe and deliuer thee, yea, and let them shewe when these newe things shal come vpon thee.

14 Beholde, they shalbe like strawe, which if it be kindled with fire, no man may rid it for the vehemencie of the flame, and yet it giueth no synders to warme a man by, nor cleare fire to sit by.

15 Thus are they with whome thou hast wearyed thy selfe, & thus are thy marchants that haue bene with thee from thy youth: euery one hath taken his owne way, and none of them shal defend thee.

The xlviii. Chapter.

1 The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped, which hath chosen vs, 20 and which succoureth vs for his owne sake.

1 HEare this, O thou house of Iacob, ye that are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of one stocke with Iuda: which sweare by the name of the Lorde, and beare witnesse by the God of Israel, but not with trueth and right.

2 For they are named of the holy citie, and are grounded vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 The things that I haue shewed you euer since the beginning, haue I not brought them to passe immediately, as they came out of my mouth, and declared them, & they are come?

4 Howbeit, I knowe that thou art obstinate, and that thy necke hath an yron synowe, and that thy browe is of brasse.

5 Neuertheless, I haue euer since the beginning shewed thee of things for tocome, and declared declared them vnto thee or euer they came to passe: that thou shouldest not say, Mine idole hath done it, my carued or moulten image hath shewed it.

6 Thou heardest it before, & behold, it is come to passe. And shall not ye your selues shewe forth or confesse the same? But as for mee, I told thee before at the beginning new and secret things which thou knewest not of,

7 And some done of olde time, whereof thou neuer heardest before they were brought to passe, that thou canst not say, Behold, I knew of them.

8 Moreouer, there be some whereof thou hast neyther heard nor knowen, neither haue bene opened vnto thine eares aforetime: For I knew that thou wouldest malitiously offend, therefore haue I called thee a transgressour, euen from thy mothers wombe.

9 Neuertheless, for my names sake I wyll withdraw my wrath, and for my honours sake I will patiently forbeare thee, that I doe not roote thee out.

10 Beholde, I haue purged thee, yet not as siluer, I haue chosen thee in the fire of afflictiō.

11 And that only for mine owne sake, yea, euen for mine owne sake wil I do this: or els what dishonour would they doe to my name? surely 14 Gather you all together, & hearken: Which of yonder gods hath declared this? The Lord hath a loue vnto him, and he shall perfourme his wil against Babel, and declare his power against the Chaldees.

15 I my selfe alone, euen I haue told you this, I did call him, and bring him forth, and he shal make his iourney prosperous.

16 Come to me, and heare this: haue I spoken any thing darkely since the beginning? From the tyme that this thing beginneth, I am there: Wherefore the Lorde God and his spirite hath sent me.

17 And thus saith the Lord God thy redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lorde thy God, which teache thee profitable things, and leade thee the way that thou shouldest goe.

18 O that thou haddest regarded my commandementes, then had thy wealthinesse bene as the water streame, and thy righteousnesse as the waues flowing in the sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene like as the sand in the sea, and the fruite of thy body like the grauel stones thereof: His name shoulde not be rooted out, nor destroyed before me.

The xlix. Chapter.

6 Christ shall gather together all nations be they neuer so farre off.

1 YE Iles hearken vnto mee, and take heede ye people from farre: The Lorde hath called me from my byrth, & made mention of my name from my mothers wombe:

4 Then I answered, I haue lost my labour, I haue spent my strength in vaine: Neuertheless, I will commit my cause and my worke vnto the Lord my God.

5 And nowe, sayth the Lord, euen he that fashioned mee from my mothers wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iacob againe vnto him, albeit Israel will not be gathered vnto him againe, yet in Gods sight shall I be glorious, my God shalbe my strength.

Reue.7.16. 10 * They shall neyther hunger, nor thirst, heate nor Sunne shall not hurt them: for hee that fauoureth them shal leade them, and giue them drinke of the well springs.

11 I wil make wayes vpon al my mountaines, and my footepaths shalbe exalted.

12 And beholde, these shall come from farre, loe, some from the North and West, some from the lande of Sinis, [which is in the South.]

13 Reioyce ye heauens, and sing prayses thou earth, talke of ioy ye hilles: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercy vpon his that be in trouble.

14 But Sion sayd, God hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Will a woman forget her owne infant, and not pitie the sonne of her owne wombe? And though they doe forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I haue written thee vp vpon my handes, thy walles are euer in my sight.

17 They make haste who buylde thee vp againe: as for those that ouerthrowe thee, and make thee waste, they shal depart from thee.

Bar.4.36. 18 *Lift vp thine eyes, and looke about thee, all these gather them together, and come to thee: As truely as I liue, sayth the Lord, thou shalt put them all vpon thee as an apparel, & gyrde them vnto thee, as a bryde doth her iewels.

19 As for thy land that lyeth desolate, wasted, & destroyed, it shalbe too narrowe for them that shall dwell in it, and they that would deuoure thee, they shalbe farre away.

20 Then thy children whome the barren shall bring forth, shall say in thine eare, This place is too narrowe, giue place that I may haue roume.

21 Then shalt thou thinke by thy selfe, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren & alone, a captiue and an outcast? and who hath nourished them vp for mee? I am desolate and alone, but from whence come these?

22 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will stretche out my hande vnto the Gentiles, and set vp my token to the people, they shall bring thee thy sonnes in their lappes, and carry thy daughters vnto thee vpon their shoulders.

23 For kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and queenes shalbe thy nursing mothers: they shal fall before thee with their faces flat vpon the earth, and licke vp the dust of thy feete: that thou mayest know howe that I am the Lord, and that whoso putteth their trust in me, shall not be confounded.

24 Shal the spoyle be taken from the mighty? or the lawful prisoner from the taker?

25 But thus sayeth the Lorde, The prisoners shalbe taken from the mightie, and the spoyle shalbe recouered from the violent: for I will maintaine thy cause against thine aduersarie, and I will saue thy sonnes.

26 And I will feede thine enemies with their owne flesh, & make them drunken with their owne blood, as with sweete wine: And al flesh shal know, O Iacob, that I am the Lord thy sauiour, thy noble redeemer.

The l. Chapter.

The Iewes are reproued and also called.

1 THus sayth the Lord, Where is the byll of your mothers diuorcement, whome I sent away? or who is the dsurer to whom I sold you? Behold, for your offences are you sold, and because of your transgression is your mother forsaken.

2 For why would no man receyue mee when I came? And when I called, no man gaue me answere: * Is my hande shortened that it might not helpe? or haue I not power to deliuer? loe, at a worde I drinke vp the sea, and of water floods I make dry lande: so that for want of water the fish doeth corrupt, and dye for thyrst. Esa.59.1.

3 As for heauen, I clothe it with darkenesse, and put as it were a sacke vpon it.

4 The Lorde God hath giuen me a well learned tongue, so that I can comfort them that are troubled, yea, and that in due season: hee wakeneth mine eare vp betimes in the morning, I say betymes in the morning he will waken mine eare, that I might hearken as to the schoolemasters.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I haue not gaynesayde, nor withdrawen my selfe. The Epistle on the Tuesday before Easter.

6 * But I offered my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes vnto the nyppers: I turned not my face from shame and spittings, Mat.26.67.

7 And the Lorde God shal helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: I haue therefore hardened my face like a flynt stone, for I am sure that I shall not come to confusion.

8 * He is at hand that iustifieth mee, who will then goe with me to lawe? Let vs stand together, if there be any that will reason with me, let him come here forth to me. Rom.8.33.

9 Beholde, the Lorde God wil helpe me, what is he then that can condemne me? loe, they all shal waxe olde like a cloth, the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Therefore whoso feareth the Lorde among you, let him heare the voyce of his seruant: Whoso walketh in darkenesse, and no light shineth vpon him, let him put his trust in the name of the Lord, and holde him by his God.

11 But take heede, yee all kindle a fire, and stirre vp the coales: walke on in the glistering of your owne fire, and in the coales that yee haue kindled: This commeth vnto you from my hande, [namely,] that ye shall sleepe in sorowe.

Consolation and comfort is promised vnto the faithfull.

1 HEarken vnto me ye that hold of righteousnesse, and ye that seeke the Lord: take heede to the stone wherout ye are hewen, and to the graue whereout ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sara that bare you, howe that I called him alone, and blessed him, and encreased him.

3 Therefore shal the Lord comfort Sion, and repaire all her decay, making her desart as a paradise, and her wildernesse as the garden of the Lord: Myrth and ioy shalbe founde there, thankes giuing, and the voyce of prayse.

4 Haue respect vnto mee then, O my people, both high and lowe, and lay thine eare vnto me: for a lawe and an ordinance shal goe forth from me to lighten the Gentiles.

5 It is hard by that my health and my righteousnesse shall goe forth, and the people shalbe ordered with mine arme: the Ilands, [that is the Gentiles,] shall hope in me, and put their trust in mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes toward heauen, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall perish in like maner: but my saluation shall endure for euer, and my righteousnesse shal not cease.

7 Hearken vnto me yee that haue knowledge in righteousnesse, thou people that beareſt my law in thine heart: feare not the reuilings of men, be not afrayd of their blasphemies.

8 For wormes and mothes shall eate them vp like cloth and wooll: but my righteousnesse shall endure for euer, and my sauing health from generation to generation.

9 Wake vp, wake vp, and be strong, O thou arme of the Lorde, wake vp, like as in time past, euer, and since the worlde began.

Exod.14.21. 10 * Art not thou the same arme that hast wounded the proude, and hewen the Dragon in pieces? Art not thou euen the same which hast dryed vp the deepe of the sea, which hast made playne the sea grounde, that the deliuered might goe thorowe?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lorde shall turne againe, and come with ioy vnto Sion, continuall ioy shalbe in their head, and myrth and gladnesse shall be with them, and sorowe and woe shall flee from them.

12 Yea I, [euen] I am he that in all things giueth you consolation: what art thou then that feareſt a mortall man, and the childe of man, which goeth away as doth the floure?

13 And forgetteſt the Lord that made thee, that spred out the heauens, and layde the foundation of the earth: but thou art euer afrayde for the light of thine oppressour, which is ready to doe harme: where is the wrath of the oppressour?

14 The exile maketh haste to be loosed, that he die not in prison, & that his bread faile him not.

16 * I haue put my wordes in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of my hand, that I may plant the heauens, and laye the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Sion, Thou art my people. Esa.49.3.

17 Awake, awake, and stande vp, O Hierusalem, thou that from the hand of the Lord hast drunken out the cup of his wrath, thou that hast supped off and sucked out the slumbring cup to the bottome.

18 For among all the sonnes whome hee hath gotten, there is not one that may holde it vp, and not one to leade it by the hande, of all the sonnes that he hath nourished.

19 *Both these things are happened vnto thee, but who is sory for it? yea, destruction, wasting, hunger, and sworde, but who will comfort thee? Esa.47.9.

20 Thy sonnes lye comfortlesse at the head of euery streete like a taken venison, and are full of the terrible wrath of the Lord, and punishment of thy God.

21 And therefore thou miserable and drunken, (howbeit not with wine) heare this:

22 Thus saith the Lord, thy Lord and God, the defender of his people, Behold, I wil take the slumbring cup out of his hande, euen the cup with the dregs of my wrath, that from henceforth thou shalt neuer drinke of it more:

23 But I will put it into their hand that trouble thee, which haue spoken to thy soule, Stowpe downe, that we may goe ouer thee, make thy body euen with the ground, and as the streete to goe vpon.

10 The mountains shall remoue, and the hils shall fall downe, but my louing kindnes shall not moue, and the bond of my peace shal not fal downe from thee, saieth the Lord, thy mercifull louer.
11 Behold, thou poore, vexed, and despised, I will make thy walles of precious stones, and thy foundation of Saphires, 12 Thy windowes of Chrystall, thy gates of fine cleare stone, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.
Iohn 6.45. 13 *Thy children shall be all taught of God, I will giue thee plenteousnesse of peace.
14 In righteousnesse shalt thou bee grounded, and be farre from oppression: for the which thou needest not to be afraid, neither for hinderance, for it shall not come nigh thee.
15 Loe, who so gathereth together [against thee, doth it] without me, and who so within thee, doth ioyne together against thee, shall surely fall.
16 Behold, I make the Smith that bloweth the coales in the fire, and he maketh a weapō after his handyworke: I make also the waster to destroy.
17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shal not prosper: & as for al tongues that shall resist thee in iudgement, thou shalt ouercome them, and condemne them: this is the heritage of the Lordes seruants, & their righteousnes commeth of me, saieth the Lord.

The lv. Chapter.

1 An exhortation and comfort to the people. 9 The fruite and profite that commeth of the word of God.

Eccl.51.34. 1 COme to the waters, *al ye that be thirstie, and ye that haue no money, come, buy, that ye may haue to eate: come buy wine and milke without any money, or money worth.
2 Wherefore do ye lay out any money for the thing that feedeth not, and spend your labour about the thing that satisfieth you not? But hearken rather vnto me, and ye shall eate of the best, and your soule shal haue her pleasure in plenteousnesse.
3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me, take heede [I say] and your soule shall liue: for I will make an euerlasting couenant with you, *euen the sure mercies of Dauid. Ac.13.34.
4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witnesse among the folke, for a prince and a teacher vnto the people.
5 Loe, thou shalt call an vnknowen people: & a people that had no knowledge of thee, shall run vnto thee, because of the Lorde thy God, and the holy one of Israel which glorifieth thee.
6 Seeke the Lord while he may be found, & call vpon him while he is nigh.
7 Let ỹ vngodly man forsake his owne wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginatiōs, and turne againe vnto the Lord, so shall he be merciful vnto him, and to our God, for hee is very ready to forgiue.
8 For thus saith the Lord, My thoughts are not your thoughts, and your wayes are not my wayes.
9 But as farre as the heauens are higher then the earth: so far do my wayes exceed yours, and my thoughts yours.
10 And like as the raine and snowe commeth downe from heauen, and returneth not thither againe, but watereth the earth, maketh it fruitfull and greene, that it may giue corne vnto the sower, and bread to him that eateth:
11 So the worde also that commeth out of my mouth, shall not turne againe void vnto me, but shall accomplish my will, and prosper in the thing whereto I send it.
12 And so shall ye go forth with ioy, & bee led with peace: the mountains and hils shal sing with you for ioy, and all the trees of the field shal clap their hands.
13 For thornes there shall growe firre trees, & the myrre tree in steade of briers: and this shall be done to the praise of the Lord, and for an euerlasting token that shall not bee taken away.

The lvi. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and righteousnesse, and to the spiritual keeping of the Sabboth. 10 Against shepeheards that deuoure the flocke.

1 THus saieth the Lord, *Keepe equitie, and do right: for my sauing health shal come shortly, and my righteousnesse shalbe opened. Wis.1.1.
2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the mans child which keepeth the same: hee that taketh heede that he vnhalowe not the Sabboth, [that is,] he that keepeth himselfe that he do no euill.
3 Then shall not the stranger which cleaueth vnto the Lord, say, Alas, the Lorde hath shut me cleane out from his people: neither shall the the gelded man say, Loe, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saieth the Lorde vnto the gelded that keepeth my Sabboth, [namely,] that holdeth greatly of the thing that pleaseth me, and keepeth my couenant:

5 Vnto them will I giue in my household, and within my walles, a better heritage & name, then if they had bene called sonnes & daughters: I will giue them an euerlasting name that shall not perish.

6 Againe, the strangers that sticke to ỹ Lord to serue him, and to loue his name, and to be his seruants, and all they which keepe themselues that they vnhalowe not the Sabboth, namely, that they fulfill my couenant:

7 Them will I bring to my holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and sacrifices shall bee accepted vpon myne altar: * for my house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

Mart. 21. 13. mar. 11. 17. luk. 19. 46.

8 Thus saith the Lord God which gathereth together the scattered of Israel, I will bring yet another congregation to him.

9 Come all ye beasts of the field, that ye may deuoure, [& also] all ye beasts of the wood.

10 For his watchmen are all blinde, they haue altogether no vnderstanding, they are all dumbe dogs, not being able to barke, they are sleepie, sluggish are they and lie snorting.

11 They are shamelesse dogs that be neuer satisfied: the shepeheards also in like maner haue no vnderstanding, *but euery man turneth his owne way, euery one after his owne couetousnesse with all his power.

Iere. 6. 13.

12 *Come [say they] I will fetch wine, so shal we fil our selues, that we may be drunken: & to morow like as to day, yea, & much more.

Sap. 2. 6.

The lvii. Chapter.

1 The good men are taken away. 3 The wicked ones take pleasure in idolatrie, the godly receiue comfort, the wicked doth perish.

1 THe righteous perisheth, and no man regardeth it in his heart: good godly people are taken away, and no man cõsidereth it, namely, that the righteous is conueied away from the wicked.

2 He commeth into peace, and godly men rest in their chambers, and before the godly man goeth peace.

3 Come hither therefore ye charmers childrẽ, ye sonnes of the adulterer, and the whore.

4 Wherein take ye your pleasure? vpon whõ gape ye with your mouth, & bleare out your tongue? are ye not children of transgression, and a seede of dissimulation?

5 Ye make your fires vnder the okes, & vnder all greene trees, & ye offer children in the valleis and dennes of stone.

6 Thy part shall be with the stony rockes by the riuer, yea, euen these shal be thy part: for there thou hast powred meate & drinke offering vnto them: should I delight in that?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon high mountaines, thou wentest vp thither, and there thou hast slaine sacrifices.

8 Behind the doores and postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance, when thou hadst discouered thy selfe to another then me, whẽ thou wentest vp, and made thy bedde wider, and with those idoles hast thou made a couenant, and louedst their couches where thou sawest them.

9 Thou wentest straight to kings with oyle and diuers ointments, [that is,] thou hast sent thy messengers farre off, and yet art thou fallen into the pit.

10 Thou art weary for the multitude of thine owne wayes, yet saidest thou neuer, There is no hope: thou hast had the life that thy hands wrought, and therefore thou art careless.

11 For whom wilt thou be abashed or feare, seing thou hast broken thy promise, & remembrest not me, neither hast mee in thine heart? Thinkest thou that I also wil hold my peace as aforetime, that thou fearest me not?

12 Yea verily I will declare thy goodnes and thy workes, but they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou criest, let thy chosen heape deliuer thee: but the winde shall blowe them foorth, and vanitie shall take them all away: neuertheless, they that put their trust in me, shall inherite the land, and haue my holy hill in possession.

14 * And therefore thus he saith, Make plaine, make plaine, and cleanse the streete, take vp the stumbling blockes out of the way of my people.

Esai. 40. 4. & 62. 10.

15 For thus saieth the high and excellent, euen he that dwelleth in euerlastingnes, whose name is the holy one: I dwell high aboue, and in the sanctuarie, and with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit do I dwell, that I may heale a troubled minde, & a contrite heart.

16 For I chide not euer, and am not wroth without end: but the blasting goeth from me, and is included in the body, and I made the breath.

17 I am wroth with him for his couetousnes, I smite him, I hide me, and am angry, and he turneth himselfe, and followeth the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and I heale him, I leade him, and restore to him comfort, and to those that were sory for him.

19 I make the fruits of thanksgiuing, that he may say, Peace, peace, vnto them that are far off, and vnto them that are nigh, saith ỹ Lord, I make him whole.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea that cannot rest, whose water cometh with ỹ mire and grauel.

Esai 48.22. 21 *Euē so ỹ wicked haue no peace, saith God.

The lviii. Chapter.

1 The Lord (by the mouth of the Prophet) reprooueth the people for their fastings, 5 which were full of hypocrisie.

1 CRie now as loud as thou canst, leaue not off, lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, & shew my people their offences, and the house of Iacob their sinnes.

2 For they seeke me daily, and will know my waies, euen as it were a people that did right, and had not forsakē the statutes of their God: they aske of me concerning right iudgement, and will be nigh vnto God.

3 Wherefore fast we, [say they,] & thou seest it not? we put our liues to straightnesse, and thou regardest it not.

4 Behold, when ye fast, your lust remaineth still, for ye doe no lesse violence to your detters: loe, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with your fist without mercie: now ye shall not fast thus, that your voyce might be heard aboue.

Zach.7.5. 5 *Thinke ye this fast pleaseth me, that a man shoulde chasten him selfe for a day? and to hang downe his head like a bulrush, and to lye vpon the earth in an heary cloth? Should that be called fasting, or a day that pleaseth the Lord?

6 Doeth not this fasting rather please me, That thou loose the wicked bands, that thou take off the ouer heauy burdens, that thou let the oppressed goe free, and breake all maner of yoke?

Ezec.18.16. matt.25.35. 7 * To deale thy bread to the hungry, and to bring the poore wandring home into thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thy health florish right shortly: righteousnesse shall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee:

9 Then if thou callest, the Lord shall answere thee, if thou cryest, he shall say, Here I am: yea, if thou layest away from thee thy burdens, and holdest thy fingers, and ceasest from vngracious talking:

10 If thou hast compassion vpon the hungry, and refreshest the troubled soule, then shal thy light spring out in the darkenesse, and thy darknesse shalbe as the noone day.

11 The Lorde shall euer bee thy guide, and satisfie the desire of thy heart in the tyme of drought, and fill thy bones with marowe: thou shalt be like a fresh watered garden, and like the fountaine of water that neuer leaueth running.

Esai 61.4. 12 * Then the places that haue euer bene waste, shalbe builded of thee, there shalt thou lay a foundation for many kinreds: thou shalt be called the maker vp of the breach, and the builder againe of the way to dwell in.

13 Yea, if thou turne thy feete from the Sabboth, so that thou doe not the thing which pleaseth thy selfe in my holy day, & thou call the pleasant, holy, and glorious Sabboth of the Lord, and that thou giue him the honour, so that thou do not after thine owne imagination, neither seeke thine owne wil, nor speake [thine owne] wordes:

14 Then shalt thou haue thy pleasure in the Lorde, and I will cary thee high aboue the earth, and feede thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the Lordes owne mouth hath so promised.

The lix. Chapter.

1 The Lord is mighty to saue, and readie to heare our requests. 2 Our sinnes are the cause why God heareth not vs, neither granteth our requests.

Esai 50.2. num.11.23. 1 BEhold, * ỹ Lordes hand is not so shortened that it cannot helpe, neither is his eare so stopped that it may not heare.

2 But your misdeedes haue separated you from your God, and your sinnes hide his face from you, that he heareth you not.

Esai 1.15. 3 * For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with vnrighteousnesse: your lippes speake leasings, and your tongue setteth out wickednesse.

4 No man regardeth righteousnesse, and no man iudgeth truely: euery man hopeth in vayne things, and imagineth deceite, * conceiueth wearinesse, and bringeth forth euill. Iob 15.35. psal.7.15.

5 They breede Cockatrice egges, and weaue the Spiders webbe, who so eateth of their egges dyeth: but if one tread vpon them, there commeth vp a serpent.

6 Their webbe maketh no cloth, and they may not couer them with their labours: their deedes are the deedes of wickednesse, and the worke of robberie is in their hands.

Pro.1.16. rom.3.15. 7 *Their feete runne to euil, and they make haste to sheade innocent blood, their counsels are wicked counsels, harme and destruction are in their wayes.

8 But the way of peace they knowe not, in their goings is no equitie: their wayes are so crooked, that whosoeuer goeth therein, knoweth of no peace.

9 And this is the cause that equitie is so farre from vs, and that righteousnesse commeth not nigh vs: we looke for light, loe, it is darknesse: for the morning shine, see, we walke in the darke.

10 We grope like the blinde vpon the wall, we grope euē as one that hath no eyes, we stumble at the noone day as though it were toward night in the falling places, like men that are halfe dead.

11 We roze all like Beares, and mourne still like like doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our offences are many before thee, and our ſinnes teſtifie againſt vs: yea, we muſt confeſſe that we offend, and knowledge that we doe amiſſe:

13 [Namely,] tranſgreſſe & diſſemble againſt the Lord, and fall away from our God, vſing preſumptuous and traiterous imaginations, and caſting falſe matters in our hearts.

14 And therefore is equitie gone aſide, & righteouſneſſe ſtandeth farre off, trueth is fallen downe in the ſtreete, & the thing that is plaine and open, may not be ſhewed.

15 Yea, the trueth is taken away, and hee that refraineth himſelfe from euill, muſt bee ſpoiled: when the Lord ſawe this, it diſpleaſed him ſore that there was no equitie.

16 He ſawe alſo that there was no man righteous, and he wondered that there was no man to helpe him: wherefore hee held him by his owne power, & he ſuſtained him by his owne righteouſneſſe.

Ephe. 6. 17. 1. Theſ. 5. 8. 17 *He put righteouſnes vpon him for a breſtplate, he ſet ỹ helmet of health vpõ his head: he put on wrath in the ſtead of clothing, and tooke ielouſie about him for a cloke.

18 Euen as when a man goeth forth wrathfully to recompenſe his enemies, and to be auenged of his aduerſaries, he will recompẽſe and reward the Ilands.

19 They ſhall feare the name of the Lord from the riſing of the ſunne, and his maieſtie vnto the going downe of the ſame: for he ſhal come as a violent water ſtreame, which the wind of the Lord hath mooued.

Rom. 11. 26. 20 But vnto *Sion there ſhall come a redeemer, and vnto them in Iacob that turne from wickednеſſe, ſaieth the Lord.

21 I wil make this couenant with them (ſaieth the Lord:) My ſpirite that is vpon thee, and the wordes which I haue put in thy mouth, ſhall neuer goe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy childrens children, from this time forth for euermore world without end, ſaieth the Lord.

The lx. Chapter.

1 A conſolation and comfort to Hieruſalem. 5 The Church is gathered together among the Gentiles by preaching of the Goſpel, 16 and aboundeth with all good things.

1 GEt thee vp betimes, and be bright, [O Hieruſalem,] for thy light commeth, and the glory of the Lorde is riſen vp vpon thee.

2 For loe, while the darkeneſſe and cloude couereth the earth and the people, the Lord ſhal ſhew thee light, and his glory ſhal be ſeene in thee.

3 The Gentiles ſhall come to thy light, and kings to the brightnes that ſpringeth forth vpon thee.

4 *Lift vp thine eyes, and looke round about thee: all theſe gather themſelues and come to thee, thy ſonnes ſhall come vnto thee from farre, and thy daughters ſhall gather themſelues to thee on euery ſide. Eſai. 49. 18.

5 Then thou ſhalt ſee this, & be glorious, thou ſhalt maruaile exceedingly, & thine heart ſhal be opened: when the abundance of ỹ ſea ſhall be conuerted vnto thee, [that is,] when the riches of the Gentiles ſhal come vnto thee,

6 The multitude of camels ſhall couer thee, ỹ dromedaries of Madian and Epha: all they of Saba ſhall come, bringing gold & incenſe, and ſhewing the praiſe of the Lord.

7 All the cattell of Cedar ſhalbe gathered vnto thee, the rammes of Nabaioth ſhall ſerue thee, to be offred acceptably vpon mine altar: and the houſe of my glory will I garniſh.

8 But what are theſe that flee here like the clouds, and as the doues flying to their windowes?

9 The Iles alſo ſhall waite for me, and ſpecially the ſhips of Tharſis, that they may bring thy ſonnes from farre, and their ſiluer & their gold with them, vnto the name of ỹ Lord thy God, vnto the holy one of Iſrael that hath glorified thee.

10 Strangers ſhal build vp thy walles, & their kings ſhal do thee ſeruice: for when I was angry, I ſmote thee, and of my mercy I pardoned thee.

Apoc. 21. 25. 11 *Thy gates ſhall ſtand open ſtill both day and night, and neuer be ſhut, that the hoſte of the Gentiles may come, and that their kings may be brought vnto thee.

12 For euery people and kingdome that ſerueth not thee ſhal periſh, & bee deſtroied with vtter deſtruction.

13 The glory of Libanus ſhal come vnto thee, the firre trees, boxes, and Cedars together, to garniſh the place of my ſanctuarie: for I wil glorifie the place of my feete.

14 Moreouer, thoſe ſhall come kneeling vnto thee that haue vexed thee, and al they that deſpiſe thee, ſhall fall downe at thy foote: thou ſhalt be called, The citie of the Lorde, Sion [the citie] of the holy one of Iſrael.

15 Becauſe thou haſt bene forſaken and hated, ſo that no man went thorowe thee: I will make thee glorious for euer and euer, & ioyfull thorowout all poſterities.

16 Thou ſhalt ſucke the milke of the Gentiles, and kings breaſts ſhall feede thee, and thou ſhalt know that I the Lord am thy ſauiour and redemer, the mightie one of Iacob.

17 For braſſe, will I giue thee golde, and for iron, ſiluer: for wood, braſſe: and for ſtones, iron: I wil turne thine oppreſſion into peace, and thine exactions into righteouſneſſe.

18 Violence and robbery ſhall neuer bee heard of in thy land, neither harme and destruction within thy borders: thy walles shalbe called health, and thy gates the praise of God.

Apoc.21.22. 19 *The Sunne shall neuer be thy day light, and the light of the Moone shall neuer shine vnto thee: but the Lorde himselfe shall bee thine euerlasting light, and thy God shall bee thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shal neuer goe downe, and thy Moone shall not be hid: for the Lorde himselfe shal be thine euerlasting light, and thy sorowfull dayes shal be ended.

21 The people shalbe all righteous and possesse the land euer, the flowre of my planting, the worke of my hands whereof I wil reioyce.

22 The yongest and least shall growe into a thousand, and the simplest into a strong people: I the Lord shal shortly bring this thing to passe in his time.

The lxi. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Christ shall be anointed and sent to preach.

Luk.4.18. 1 THe spirite of the Lord is *vpon mee: for the Lord hath anointed me, and sent me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, that I might binde vp ẏ wounded hearts, that I might preach deliuerance to the captiue, and open the prison to them that are bound:

2 That I might declare the acceptable yeere of the Lorde, and the day of the vengeance of our God: that I might comfort al them that

Mat.5.5. are in *heauinesse:

3 That I might giue vnto them that mourne in Sion, that I might giue, [I say,] beautie in stead of ashes, ioyful ointment for sighing, pleasant raiment for an heauy mind, that they might be called trees of righteousnes, a planting of the Lord for him to reioyce in.

Ezek.38.12. 4 *They shall builde the long rough wildernesse, and set vp the old desart: they shall repaire the waste places, and such as haue bene void thorowout many generations.

5 Strangers shal stand and feed your cattell, and the aliants shall be your plowemen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shalbe named the Priests of ẏ Lord, and men shal cal you the seruants of our God: ye shall enioy the goods of the Gentiles, and triumph in their substance.

7 For your great reproofe you shall haue double ioy, and for shame shall they haue ioy of their portion: for they shall haue double possession in their land, and euerlasting ioy shall be with them.

8 For I the Lord which loue right, and hate robberie (though it were offred me) shal make their works full of faithfulnesse, and make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 Their seede also and their generation shalbe knowen among the Gentiles, and among the people: all they that see them, shal know that they are the high blessed seede of the Lord.

10 And therefore I am ioyfull in the Lord, and my soule reioyceth in God: for hee hath put vpon me the garment of saluation, and couered me with the mantle of righteousnes: He shall decke me like a bridegrome, and as a bride that hath her apparel vpon her.

11 For like as the ground bringeth foorth her fruit, and as the garden shooteth foorth seed: so shal the Lord God cause righteousnes and praise to florish foorth before all the heathen.

The lxii. Chapter.

A prophecie of the comming of Christ.

1 FOr Sions sake will I not holde my tongue, and for Hierusalems sake I wil not cease, vntil their righteousnes breake foorth as the shining light, and their saluation as a burning lampe.

2 Then shall the Gentiles see thy righteousnesse, and all kings thy glory: thou shalt bee named with a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall shew.

3 Thou shalt be a crowne in the hande of the Lord, and a glorious garland in the hande of thy God.

4 From this tyme foorth thou shalt neuer be called, The forsaken, & thy land shall no more be called, The wildernesse: but thou shalt be called, My pleasure is in her: and thy lande shalbe called, The maried woman: for ẏ Lord loueth thee, and thy land shall bee ioyned in mariage.

5 And like as a yong man taketh a virgine to mariage, so shall thy sonnes be maried vnto thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of his bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Hierusalem, which shall neither cease day nor night to preach the Lord: and ye also that remember the Lorde, ye shall not keepe him close,

7 Nor leaue to speake of him, vntill Hierusalem be set vp, & made the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hande and by his strong arme, that from henceforth he wil not giue thy corne to be meate for thine enemies, nor thy wine wherein thou hast laboured, to be drinke for the strangers.

9 But they that haue gathered in the corne, shall eate it, and giue thanks to the Lord: and they that haue borne in the wine, shall drinke it in the court of my sanctuarie.

10 *Goe you, goe you thorow the gates, make Esai.57.14. cleane the way for the people, make plaine, make plaine the footepath, and take away the stones out of it, and set out a token for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lorde proclaimeth vnto the endes of the world, *Tell the daughter Zach.9.9: mat.21.5. Sion, Sion, See, thy sauiour commeth, behold, he bringeth his recompence with him, and his worke before him.

12 For they whom the Lord deliuereth, shalbe called, The holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named, The greatly occupied, & not, The forsaken citie.

The lxiii. Chapter.

7 Of the redemption promised to the people.

The Epistle on the Munday before Easter.

1 WHat is he this that commeth from Edom, with red coloured clothes from Bosra? He is honourably araied, and commeth in mightily with his power: I am he that teacheth righteousnesse, and am of power to helpe.

Apoc.19.12. 2 *Wherefore then is thy clothing red, & thy raiment like his that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the presse my selfe alone, and of all people there is not one with me: thus will I treade them downe in my wrath, and set my feete vpon them in mine indignation, & their blood shalbe sprong vpon my clothes, and so will I staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is assigned in my heart, and the yeere when my people shall be deliuered, is come.

5 I looked about me, and there was no man to shewe me any helpe, I marueiled that no man held me vp: then I helde me by mine owne arme, and my feruentnesse sustained me.

6 And thus will I treade downe the people in my wrath, and bathe them in my displeasure, and vpon the earth will I lay their strength.

7 I wil declare the goodnesse of the Lord, yea and the praise of the Lord for all that he hath giuen vs, for the great good that he hath done for Israel, which he hath giuen them of his owne fauour, and according to the multitude of his louing kindnesse.

8 For he said, These no doubt are my people, & no shrinking children: and so was he their sauiour.

9 In their troubles, he was also troubled with them, and the Angel that went forth from his presence deliuered them: of very loue & kindnesse that he had vnto them he redeemed thē, he hath borne them and caried them vp euer since the world began.

10 But after they prouoked him to wrath, and vexed his holy spirite, he was their enemie, and fought against them himselfe.

11 Yet remembred Israel the old time of Moses and his people, saying, *Where is he that brought them from the water of the sea, with them that feede his sheepe? Where is he that hath giuen his holy spirit among them?

Exo.14.30.

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arme, deuiding the water before them, whereby he gate himselfe an euerlasting name.

13 He ledde them in the deepe as an horse is ledde in the plaine, that they should not stumble.

14 As a tame beast goeth in the field, and the spirit of God giueth him rest: thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious name withall.

15 *Looke downe then from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thy sanctuarie and thy glorie: how is it that thy ielousie, thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and thy louing kindnesse wil not be intreated of vs?

Deut.26.15. baruc.2.16.

16 Yet art thou our father: for Abraham knoweth vs not, neither is Israel acquainted with vs: but thou Lord art our father & redeemer, and thy name is euerlasting.

17 O Lord, wherefore hast thou led vs out of the way? wherefore hast thou hardened our hearts that we feare thee not? Bee at one with vs againe for thy seruants sake, and for the generation of thine heritage.

18 Thy holy people haue had but a litle while thy sanctuarie in possession, for our enemies haue troden downe thy holy place.

19 And wee were thine from the beginning, when thou wast not their Lord, for they haue not called vpon thy name.

The lxiiii. Chapter.

1 The Prophet (vnder the person of the Iewes) bewaileth their exile and banishment. 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a cloth defiled.

1 O That thou wouldest cleaue the heauens in sunder and come downe, that the mountaines might melt away at thy presence,

2 Like as at an hote fire, and [that the malicious might boile away] as the water doeth vpon the fire: whereby thy name might bee knowen among thine enemies, and that the Gentiles might tremble before thee.

3 When thou wroughtest wonderous strange workes, wee looked not for them: thou camest downe, and the hils melted at thy presence.

4 *For since the beginning of the world, it hath not bene heard or perceiued, neither hath any eye seene another God beside thee, which doest so much for them that put their trust in thee.

1.Cor.2.9.

5 Thou helpest him that doeth right with cheerefulnesse, and them that thinke vpon thee in thy wayes: but lo, thou hast bene angry, for we offended, and haue bene euer in sinne, though the world haue cleaued to them, yet shall we be saued.

6 We are all as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousnes is as filthie ragges: we fal euery one as the leafe, for our sinnes carry vs away like the winde.

7 There is no man that calleth vpō thy name, that standeth vp to take hold by thee: therefore hidest thou thy face from vs, and consumest vs, because of our sinnes.

8 But now, O Lord, thou father of ours, wee are thy clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thy handes.

Psal.78.9. 9 *Be not too sore displeased, O Lord, & keepe not our offences too long in thy remembrāce: but consider that we all are thy people.

10 The cities of thy sanctuarie lie waste, Sion is a wildernes, and Hierusalem a desart.

11 Our holy house, which is our beautie, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt vp: yea, all our commodities and pleasures are wasted away.

12 Wilt thou not be intreated, O Lord, for all this? wilt thou hold thy peace, & scourge vs so sore?

The lxv. Chapter.

The reiecting of the Iewes, and the calling of the Heathen.

Rom.10.20. 1 THey *seeke me, that hitherto haue not asked for me, they find me, that hitherto haue not sought me: I haue said, I am here, I am here, I am found of a people that neuer called vpon my name.

2 For thus long haue I euer holden out mine handes to an vnfaithfull people, that goe not the right way, but after their owne imagination:

3 To a people that is euer defying me to my face, they make their oblations in gardens, & their smoke vpon altars of bricke.

4 They lurke among the groues, and lie in ỹ dennes all night: they eate swines flesh, and vncleane broth is in their vessels.

5 If thou commest nigh thē, they say, Touch me not, for I am holier then thou: All these men whē I am angry, shalbe turned to smoke and fire that shall burne for euer.

6 Behold, it is written before my face, & shall not be forgotten, but recompenced, I will reward it them into their bosome.

7 [I meane] your misdeedes, & the misdeeds of your fathers together, saith the Lord, which haue made their smokes vpō the mountains, and blasphemed me vpon the hils: therefore will I measure their old deedes into their bosome againe.

8 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lorde, Like as when new wine is found in the cluster, & one saieth, Loose it not, for there is blessing therein: euen so will I doe also for my seruaunts sakes, that I will not destroy them all.

9 But I will take a seede out of Iacob, & out of Iuda one, to take possession of my hill: My chosen shall possesse it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 Saron shall be a sheepefold, and the valley of Achor shall giue the stalling for the cattell of my people that seeke after me.

11 But as for you, ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy hill: ye haue set vp an altar vnto Iupiter, and giuen rich drinke offrings vnto the planets:

12 Therfore will I number you to the sword, that ye shalbe destroyed altogether: * for that when I called, no man gaue me answere, whē I spake, ye hearkened not vnto me, but did wickednesse before mine eyes, and chose the things that pleased me not. Pro.1.23. iere.7.31. esai.66.4.

13 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde God, Behold, my seruants shall eate, but ye shall haue hunger: behold, my seruants shal drinke, but ye shal suffer thirst: behold, my seruants shal be mery, but ye shalbe confounded:

14 Behold, my seruaunts shall reioyce for very quietnesse of heart, but ye shall cry for sorow of heart, and complaine for vexation of minde.

15 Your name shall ye leaue accursed among my chosen: for God the Lord shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 Who so reioyceth vpon earth, shall reioyce in the true God, and who so sweareth vpon earth, shall sweare in the true God, for the old afflictions shalbe forgotten, and taken away out of my sight.

17 * For loe, I shal make a new heauen and a new earth: and as for the old, they shal neuer be thought vpon, nor kept in minde: 2.Pet.3.13. Apoc.21.1.

18 [But the Lord saith,] Be glad & euermore reioyce for the things that I shal do: for why? behold, I wil make a ioyfull Hierusalem, and his people ioyfull.

19 Yea, I my selfe will reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with my people: & the voice of weeping and wailing shall not be heard in her from thencefoorth.

20 There shall neither bee childe nor olde man that haue not their full daies: but when the childe commeth to an hundred yeeres olde, it shall die, and if he that is an hundred yeeres of age do wrong, he shalbe cursed.

21 They shall build houses and dwel in them, they shall plant vineyards, and eate the fruite of them.

22 They shall not build, and another possesse: they shall not plant, and another eate: but the life of my people shall be like a tree, and mine elect shall enioy still the worke of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor beget with trouble: for they are the high blessed seed of the Lord, and their fruits with them.

24 * And it shalbe, that or euer they call, I will answer them, while they are yet but thinking how to speake, I will heare them. Psal.31.5.

25 * The wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, Esai.11.6.

gether, and the Lion shall eate hay like the bullocke, but earth shalbe ꝑ Serpents meate: there shall no man hurt nor slay another in all my holy hill, saieth the Lord.

The lxvi. Chapter.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made by mans hande. 3. He despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 23 Among the Christen the Sabboth is continually.

Act.7.48. 1 THus saieth the Lorde, *Heauen is my seate, and the earth is my footestoole: Where shal now the house stande that ye will builde vnto mee? And where shalbe the place that I will dwell in?

2 As for these things, my hand hath made thē all, and they are all created, saieth the Lorde, which of them shal I then regard? Euen him that is poore and of a lowly troubled spirit, and standeth in awe of my wordes.

3 For who so slayeth an Oxe [for me, doeth mee so great dishonour] as he that killeth a man: he that killeth a Sheepe for me, ‖ knetcheth a dogge: he ꝑ bringeth me meate offerings, offereth swines blood: who so maketh me a memoriall of incense, praiseth the thing that is vnright: Yet take they such wayes in hand, and their soule delighteth in these abominations.

‖ Cutteth off a dogges necke.

4 Therefore wil I also haue pleasure in laughing them to scorne, and the thing that they feare, wil I bring vpon them: * for when I called, no man gaue answere, when I spake, they would not heare: but did wickednesse before mine eyes, and chose the things that displeased me.

Prou.1.23. esai.65.12. iere.7.13.

5 Heare the worde of God all ye that feare the thing which he speaketh: your brethren ꝑ hate you, and cast you out for my names sake, say, The Lord is heinous against vs: but you shal see him in ioy, when they shalbe confounded.

6 Then shalbe heard a great noyse from the citie & the temple, the voyce of the Lorde that will reward and recompence his enemies:

7 Like as when a wife bringeth forth a man child, or euer she suffer the paine of the birth and anguish of the trauaile.

8 Who euer heard or saw such things? doeth the ground beare in one day? or are the people borne all at once, as Sion trauailed in childbirth, and bare her sonnes?

9 For thus saieth the Lord, Am I he that maketh other to beare, and beare not my selfe? Am not I he that beareth and maketh barren, saieth thy God?

10 Reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with her all ye that loue her, be ioyfull with her all ye that mourne for her.

11 For ye shal sucke comfort out of her breasts, and be satisfied: ye shal taste and haue delight in the brightnes of her glory.

12 For thus saieth the Lord, Behold, I will let peace into her like a water flood, and the glory of the heathē like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shalbe borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 For like as a childe is comforted of his mother, so shal I comfort you, and ye shalbe comforted in Hierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, & your bones shall florish like an herbe: Thus shall the hand of the Lord be knowen among his seruantes, and his indignation among his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord shall come with fire, & his charret shalbe like a whirle wind: that he may recompence his vengeance in his wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lorde shall iudge all flesh with the fire, and with his sworde, and there shalbe a great number slaine of the Lord.

17 Such as haue made themselues holy and cleane in the gardens, & those that haue eaten swines flesh, mice, & other abominations, shalbe taken away together, saieth the Lord.

18 For I doe know their workes & thoughtes, & I wil come to gather all people & tongues: then they shall come and see my glory.

19 Vnto them shall I giue a token, and sende certaine of them that be deliuered among the Gentiles, into Cilicia, Affrica, and Lydia, where men can handle bowes, into Italie, and also Greeke land: the Iles farre off that haue not heard speake of me, and haue not seene my glory, shal preach my praise among the Gentiles,

20 And shal bring all your brethren for an offering vnto ꝑ Lord out of al ꝑ people, vpon horses, charrets, & horslytters, vpō mules & carts to Hierusalem my holy hill, saieth the Lord: Like as the childrē of Israel bring the offering in cleane vessels to ꝑ house of the Lord.

21 And I shall take out certaine of them for to be Priestes and Leuites, saieth the Lord.

22 * For like as the newe heauen and the newe earth which I will make, shalbe fast stablished by me, saieth the Lord: so shal your seede and your name continue. Reue.21.1.

23 And it shall come to passe, that from Moone to his Moone, from Sabboth to his Sabboth, all flesh shall come to worship before me, saieth the Lord.

24 * And they shall goe forth and looke vpon the carrions of them that haue transgressed against me: for their wormes shall not dye, neither shall their fire be quenched, and all flesh shall abhorre them. Mar.9.44.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Esai.

The

The Booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

1 The stocke of Ieremie, and in what time he prophecied. 6 He excuseth himselfe, and would refuse the office of a Prophet, because he is young and vnexpert. 8 He is taught of the Lord, and becommeth bold.

1 THese are the Sermons of Ieremie ẏ sonne of Helciah the priest, one of them that dwelt at Anathoth in ẏ land of Beniamin,

2 When the Lorde had first spoken with him in the time of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda, in ẏ thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And so during vnto the time of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iuda, & vntill the eleuenth yeere of Zedeciah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iuda were ended, when Hierusalem was taken, euen in the fifth moneth.

4 The word of the Lord spake thus vnto me,

5 Before I fashioned thee in thy mothers wombe, I did knowe thee: and or euer thou wast borne, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the people.

6 Then said I, O Lord God, I cã not speake, for I am yet but young.

7 And the Lorde answered me thus, Say not so, I am too young: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee vnto, and whatsoeuer I command thee, that shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraide of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saieth the Lord.

9 And with that the Lorde stretched out his hande and touched my mouth: and the same Lorde said vnto me, * Beholde, I put my wordes in thy mouth. Iere.18.7.

10 And behold, this day doe I set thee ouer the people & kingdomes, that thou maiest roote out, and breake off, destroy, and make waste, and that thou maiest build vp and plant.

11 After this, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Ieremie, what seest thou? And I said, I [a] see a rod of an Almonde tree. a God sheweth to Ieremie the destruction of the Iewes by the Babylonians, to be at hand.

12 Then saide the Lorde vnto me, Thou hast seene right, for I will make haste speedily vpon my word to perfourme it.

13 It happened afterward that the Lord spake to me againe, and said, What seest thou? And I said, I doe see a seething pot, looking from out of the North.

14 Then said the Lorde vnto me, * Out of the North shall come a plague vpon all the dwellers of the land. Iere.4.6.

15 For loe, I will cal all the kinreds of ẏ kingdomes of the North, saieth the Lorde, & they shall come, and euery one shall set his seate in the gates of Hierusalem, & in all their walles round about, and in all cities of Iuda.

16 And through them shal I declare my iudgement vpon all the wickednes of thase men that haue forsaken mee, that haue burnt incense vnto strange gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne handes.

17 And therfore girde vp thy loynes, arise, and tell them all that I giue thee in commandement: Feare them not, least I destroy thee before them.

18 For beholde, * this day doe I make thee a strong fenced towne, an yron pillar, and a brasen wall against the whole lande, against the kings and mightie men of Iuda, against the priests and people of the land. Iere.6.27.

19 They shall fight against thee, but they shall not be able to ouercome thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saieth the Lord.

The ii. Chapter.

2 God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Iewes. 8 Against prieستes and prophetes or preachers that contemne and despise God. 12 The Iewes are destroyed because they forsooke God, and because they ranne a whoore hunting after idols.

1 MOreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe thy way, crie in the eares of Hierusalem, and say, Thus saieth the Lord, I remember thee, the kindnesse of thy youth, and the loue of thy dispousing, in that thou followedst me thorowe the wildernesse, in an vntilled land.

3 Israel was an halowed thing vnto ẏ Lorde, and was his first fruites: all they that deuour Israel shall offend, misfortune shall fall vpon them, saieth the Lord.

4 Heare therefore the worde of the Lorde, O thou house of Iacob, & all the generations of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saieth the Lorde, What vnfaithfulnes found your fathers in me, that they went so farre away fro me, falling to lightnes, and being so vaine?

6 They thought not in their heartes, Where is the Lorde that brought vs out of the lande of Egypt, that led vs thorowe the wildernesse, thorowe a desart and rough lande, thorowe a dry and deadly land, yea a lande that no man had gone thorowe, and wherein no man had dwelt?

7 And when I had brought you into a pleasant fertile land, that ye might enioy ẏ fruits and al the commodities of the same, ye went forth and defiled my land, and brought mine heritage to abomination.

8 The priestes themselues saide not, Where is the Lorde? They that had the lawe in their hands knew me not, the shepeheards offended against mee, the prophetes did prophecie in Baal, Baal, and followed such things as shal bring them no profite.

9 Wherefore I am constrained, sayeth the Lorde, yet againe to contende in iudgement with you, and with your childrens children.

10 Goe into the Iles of Cethim, and looke wel: send vnto Cedar, take diligent heede, and see whether such things be done there:

11 Whether the Gentiles themselues haue changed their gods, which yet are no goddes in deede: but my people hath changed [a] their honour for a thing that may not helpe them.

a Honour, that is, the faithfull and euerliuing God, in whom onelp they ought to glorie.

12 Be astonished, O ye heauens, be afraide, and abashed at such a thing, saieth the Lord.

13 For my people hath done two euils: they haue forsaken me the wel of the water of life, and digged them pits, yea vile and broke pits that can holde no water.

14 Is Israel a bond seruant, or one of ỹ household: why is he then so spoyled:

15 They roare and cry vpon him as Lions, they haue made his land waste: his cities are so burnt vp, that there is no man dwelling in them:

16 Yea, the children of Noph and Taphnes shall cracke their crowne.

17 Commeth not this vnto thee, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, euen when he led thee by the way:

18 And what hast thou now to doe in ỹ streete of Egypt, to drinke water out of [b] Nilus: either what makest thou in the way to Assyria, to drinke water of the flood:

b God reproueth the people for that they sought remedies, which are meant by the water of Nilus & the flood, against their euils among ỹ Egyptians & Assyrians, whereas their onely remedie had bene to haue reconciled themselues vnto the Lorde with faithfull repentance. Iere. 3. 6. esai. 5. 1. mat. 21. 33.

19 Thine owne wickednes shal reproue thee, and thy turning away shall condemne thee: that thou maiest knowe and vnderstand how euill and hurtfull a thing it is that thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, and hast not feared me, saieth the Lord God of hostes.

20 I haue euer broken thy yoke of olde, & burst thy bondes, yet sayest thou, I will no more transgresse: but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all high hilles, *and among all greene trees.

21 *Whereas I planted thee a noble vine, and wholly a right seede: howe art thou turned then into a bitter vnfruitfull and strange grape:

22 [Yea & that so sore] that though thou wash thy selfe with Nitrus, and make thy selfe to sauour with that sweete smelling herbe of Borith: yet in my sight thou art stained with thy wickednesse, saieth the Lord thy God.

23 How sayest thou now, I am not vncleane, & I haue not followed Baalim: Looke vpon thine owne wayes in the valleyes what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie that goeth easily her way.

24 And thy wantonnesse is like a wilde Asse that vseth the wildernesse, and that snuffeth and bloweth at her will: who can tame her: All they that seeke her, shal not faile but finde her in her moneth.

25 Keepe thy foote from nakednesse, and thy throte from thirst, and thou thinkest in thy selfe, Tush, I will take no sorowe, for I haue loued the [c] strangers, and them will I follow.

c The propertie of idolaters is, not onelp to contemne the voyce of the preacher calling them to repentance: but shamelesselp to proue the loue of strangers and the following of them, that is, the worshipping of stockes and stones, & seruing of God against his word, after their owne deuises. Iere. 11. 13.

26 Like as a theefe that is taken with the deede commeth to shame: euen so is the house of Israel come to confusion, the common people, their kings and rulers, their priests and prophets:

27 For they say to a stocke, Thou art my father: and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: yea, they haue turned their backe vpon mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble, when they say, Stand vp & helpe vs:

28 [I shall answere them,] Where are nowe thy gods that thou hast made thee: bid them stand vp, & helpe thee in the time of thy neede: for looke how many cities thou hast, O Juda, *so many goddes hast thou also.

29 Wherefore then will ye goe to lawe with me: seeing ye all are sinners against me, sayth the Lorde.

30 It is but lost labour that I smite your children, for they receiue not my correction: your owne sworde destroyeth your prophets like a deuouring Lion.

31 Oh generation, hearken vnto the worde of the Lord: Am I become a wildernes vnto the people of Israel: or a land that hath no light: wherefore saieth my people then, We are lordes, we will come no more vnto thee:

32 Doeth a maide forget her rayment, or a bride her stomacher: but my people hath forgotten me a very long while.

33 Why beautifiest thou thy wayes so highly, to obtaine fauour therethrough: therefore also hast thou taught wickednesse through thy wayes.

34 Upon thy wings is found the blood of poore and innocent people, whom thou diddest not finde in corners and holes: but thou sluest the prophets for reproouing all these things.

35 Yet darest thou say, I am [without sinne and] guiltlesse. Tush, his wrath can not come vpon me. Behold, I wil reason with thee, because thou darest say, I haue not offended.

36 Why gaddest thou so much hither and thither, to change thy wayes: for thou shalt be confounded as well of Egypt as thou wast of the Assyrians.

37 Yea, thou shalt goe thy way from them, and smite thine handes together vpon thy head, because the Lorde shall bring that confidence and hope of thine to nought, and thou shalt not prosper withall.

The iii. Chapter.

1 God being mercifull, calleth to repentance his people which he had forsaken for their whoredome with idoles. 20 He exhorteth Israel vnto repentance, promising them shepheardes that shoulde haue the true know-knowledge of God. 23 The returne of Israel vnto God, confessing their offence.

1 COmmonly when a man putteth away his wife, and she goeth from him, and marrieth with another, then the question is, Shoulde he resort vnto her any more after that? (Is not that land then defiled and vncleane?) But as for thee, thou hast played the harlot with many louers, yet turne againe to me, saieth the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes to the high places, and looke where thou hast not bene defiled: Thou hast waited for them in the streetes, and as a murderer in the wildernesse, through thy whoredome and shamefull blasphemies is the land defiled.

3 This is the cause that the raine and euening deaw hath ceassed: thou hast gotten thee an whores forehead, and wilt not be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not hereafter say vnto me, O my father, thou art he that hast brought me vp, and led me from my youth?

5 Will God continue his wrath for euer? will he keepe our faultes in memorie to the ende? Neuertheless, thou speakest such words, but thou art euer doing worse and worse to the vttermost of thy power.

6 The Lorde saide also vnto me in the time of Iosiah the king, *Hast thou seene what that rebellious Israel hath done? howe she hath runne vp vpon all the hilles, and among all thicke trees, and there played the harlot? *Iere.3.20.

7 Hast thou seene also when she had done all this, howe I saide vnto her, that she shoulde turne againe vnto me, and yet shee is not returned? Iuda that vnfaithfull sister of hers also sawe this:

8 Namely, that after I had well seene the adulterie of the shrinking harlot Israel, I put her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: for all this, her vnfaithfull sister Iuda was not ashamed, but went backe and played the whore.

9 Yea, and the wantonnesse of her whoredome hath defiled the whole land: for she hath committed fornication with stockes and stones.

10 Neuertheless, her vnfaithfull sister Iuda is not returned vnto mee againe with her whole heart, but fainedly, saieth the Lord.

11 And the Lord saide vnto me, The backesliding Israel, is more righteous then the vnfaithfull Iuda.

12 And therefore goe preache these wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, turne againe, saieth the Lorde, and I will not bring my wrath vpon you: for I am mercifull, saieth the Lorde, and I will not alway beare displeasure against thee.

13 But on this condition, that thou know thy great blasphemie, namely, that thou hast vnfaithfully forsaken the Lorde thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of strange gods vnder all greene trees, and hast had no will to heare my voyce, saieth the Lorde.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saieth the Lorde, and I will be married with you: for I will take one out of the citie, and two out of one generation from among you, and bring you into Sion, 15 And will giue you heardmen after mine owne minde, which shall feede you with learning and wisedome.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplyed in the land, then saieth the Lord, There shall no more boast be made of the arke of the Lordes Testament: no man shall thinke vpon it, neither shall any man make mention of it: for from thencefoorth it shall neither be visited, neither shall such thing be done any more.

17 Then shall Hierusalē be called, The Lords seate, and all Heathen shalbe gathered vnto it for the name of the Lordes sake which shalbe set at Hierusalem: and from that time forth they shall follow no more the imagination of their owne froward heart.

18 Then those that be of the house of Iuda shal goe into the house of Israel, & they shall come together out of the North, into the same land that I haue giuen your fathers.

19 I haue thought thus, How shal I take thee among my children, and giue a pleasant land for thine heritage, yea, and a goodly host of the Heathen? And I said, Call me father, and shrinke not from me.

20 Truely, like as a woman faileth her husbande, so are ye vnfaithfull vnto mee, O ye house of Israel, saieth the Lord.

21 The voyce of the children of Israel was heard on high, weeping and wailing, for that they haue defiled their way, and forgotten God their Lord.

22 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, and so shal ye heale your backeturnings. Loe, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lorde our God.

23 Truely in vaine is health hoped for from the hilles, be they neuer so many: but the health of Israel standeth onely vpon God our Lord.

24 Confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour from our youth vp, yea their sheepe and bullockes, their sonnes and daughters.

25 So doe we also sleepe in our confusion, and shame couereth vs: for we and our fathers, from our youth vp vnto this day, haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

The iiii. Chapter.

2 The true repentance or returning to God. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of ỹ heart. 5 The destruction of Iurie is propheeied for ỹ malice of their hearts.

1 O Israel, if thou wilt turne thee, then turne vnto me, saieth the Lord: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, thou shalt not be mooued,

2 And shalt sweare, The Lord liueth in trueth, in equitie, and righteousnesse, and all people shalbe fortunable and ioyful in him.

3 For thus saieth the Lorde to all Juda and Hierusalem, * Plowe your lande, and sowe not among the thornes. Osee.10.12.

4 Be circumcised in the Lorde, and cut away the foreskinne of your heartes, all ye of Juda, and all the indwellers of Hierusalem: that mine indignatiō breake not out like fire and kindle, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednesse of your imaginations.

5 Preache in Juda, and Hierusalem, cry out and speake, blowe the trumpets in the lande, cry, that euery man may heare, and say, Gather you together, and we wil goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the token in Sion, speede you, and make no tarying: * for I will bring a great plague, and a great destruction from the North. Iere.1.14.

7 For the spoyler of the Gentiles is broken vp from his place, as a Lion out of his denne, that he may make thy land waste, and destroy the cities, so that no man may dwell therein.

8 Wherefore girde your selues about with sackcloth, mourne and weepe: for the fearefull wrath of the Lorde is not withdrawen from vs.

9 At the same time, saieth the Lord, the heart of the king and of the princes shalbe gone, the priests shalbe astonished, and the prophetes shalbe sore afraide.

10 Then saide I, O Lord God, hast thou then deceiued this people and Hierusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and now the sword goeth thorowe their liues?

11 Then shall it be said to the people and Hierusalem, A strong winde in the high places of the wildernesse commeth through the way of my people, but neither to fanne nor to cleanse.

12 After that shall there come vnto me a strong winde from those places, and then wil I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 For loe, he ariseth like a cloude, and his charets are like a stormie winde, his horses are swifter then the Eagle: Woe vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Hierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest be helped: howe long shall thy vaine thoughtes remaine with thee?

15 For a voyce from Dan, and from the hill of Ephraim speaketh out, and telleth of a destruction.

16 Remember the Heathen, and giue Hierusalem warning, and preache vnto her, that watchers ouer her are comming from farre countreys, they haue cryed out against the cities of Juda.

17 And they haue beset her about in euerie place, like as the watchmen in the fielde: for they haue prouoked me to wrath, saieth the Lorde.

18 * Thy wayes & thy thoughts haue brought thee vnto this, such is thine owne wickednes and disobedience: and because it is a bitter thing, it hath stricken thee to the heart. Wisd.1.8.

19 Ah my belly, ah my belly, shalt thou crie, howe is my heart so sore? my heart panteth within me, I cannot be still, for I haue heard the crying of the trumpets, & peales of warre.

20 They cry murder vpon murder, the whole land shall perish: Immediatly my tents were destroyed, and my hangings in the twinckling of an eye.

21 How long shall I see the tokens of warre, and heare the noise of the trumpets?

22 [Neuertheless, this shal come vpon them,] because my people are become foolish, & hath not knowen me; they are the children of foolishnesse, and without any discretion: to doe euill they haue wit ynough, but to doe well they haue no wisedome.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and see, it was waste and voyde: I looked toward heauen, and it had no shine.

24 I behelde the mountaynes, and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles were in a feare.

25 I looked about me, and there was no body: and all the birdes of the aire were away.

26 I marked well, and the plowed fielde was become waste, yea, all their cities were broken downe at the presence of the Lorde, and indignation of his wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lorde saide, The whole land shalbe desolate, yet will I not then haue done.

28 And therefore shall the earth mourne, and the heauen be sory aboue: for the thing that I haue spoken to the prophets, purposed, and taken vpon me to doe, shall not repent me, and I will not goe from it.

29 The whole lande shall flee for the noyse of horsemen and bowmen, they shall runne into dennes, into woods, and clime vp the stonie rockes: all the cities shalbe voyde, and no man dwelling therein.

30 What wilt thou nowe doe, thou being destroyed? For though thou clothest thy selfe with scarlet, & deckest thee with gold, though thou paintest thy face with colours nowe, yet shalt thou trim thy selfe in vaine: For those that hitherto haue bene thy louers, shall abhorre thee, and goe about to slay thee.

31 For I heare a noyse like as it were of a woman man trauailing, & one labouring of her firſt childe, euen the voyce of the daughter Sion, that caſteth out her armes, & ſwooneth, ſaying, Ah, woe is me, how ſore vexed and faint is my heart for feare of the murderers?

The v. Chapter.

1 In Iurie is there no righteous or faithfull man founde, either amongſt the people, or the rulers, for whoſe ſake the Lord ſhould ſpare the citie. 15 Wherefore Iurie is deſtroyed of the Aſſyrians.

1 LOoke thorow Hieruſalem, behold, & ſee, ſeeke thorowe her ſtreetes alſo within, if ye can finde one man that doeth equall and right, or ſeeketh for the trueth, and I ſhall ſpare the citie, ſaieth the Lord.

2 For though they can ſay, The Lord liueth: yet they ſweare to deceiue.

3 Whereas thou (O Lord) lookeſt onely vpon faith and trueth: Thou haſt ſcourged them, but they tooke no repentance, thou haſt corrected them for amendment, but they refuſed thy correction, they made their faces harder then a ſtone, and would not amend.

4 Therefore I thought in my ſelfe, Peraduenture they are ſo ſimple and foolish, that they vnderſtand nothing of the Lordes way, and iudgements of their God.

5 Therefore will I goe vnto their heads and rulers, and talke with them, if they know the way of the Lord, & iudgements of their God: But theſe [in like maner] haue broken the yoke, and burſt the bondes in ſunder.

6 Wherefore a Lion out of ỹ wood hath hurt them, and a Woolfe in the euening ſhall deſtroy them, the Leopard doeth lie lurking by their cities, to teare in pieces all them that come thereout: for their offences are multiplied, and their departing away is increaſed.

7 Should I then for all this haue mercie vpon thee? Thy children haue forſaken me, and ſworne by them that are no Gods: and albeit that I fed them to the full, yet they fall to adulterie, and haunt harlots houſes.

Exec.22.11. 8 *In the deſire of vncleanly luſt they are become like ỹ ſtoned horſe, euery man neigheth at his neighbours wife.

9 Should I not correct this, ſaieth the Lord? ſhould I not be auenged of euery people that is like vnto this?

a These words are not to be referred vnto the citie or walles which were vtterly deſtroyed: but to a remnant of the people whom God did reſerue, that his whole church ſhould not vtterly periſh, although but a few did remaine faithfull.

10 Clime vp vpon their walles, beate them downe, and a deſtroy them not vtterly: take away their battlements, becauſe they are not the Lordes.

11 For vnfaithfully hath the houſe of Iſrael and Iuda forſaken me, ſaieth the Lorde.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and ſaide, It is not he [that looketh vpon vs,] tuſh, there ſhall no misfortune come vpon vs, we ſhall ſee neither ſword nor hunger.

13 As for the warning of the Prophets, it is but winde, yea, there is not the worde of God in them: ſuch things ſhal happen vnto themſelues.

14 Wherefore thus ſaieth the Lorde God of hoſtes, Becauſe ye ſpeake ſuch wordes, beholde, the wordes that are in thy mouth will I turne to fire, & make the people to be wood, that the fire may conſume them.

15 Loe, I will bring a people vpon you from farre, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaieth the Lorde, a mightie people, an old people, a people whoſe ſpeache thou knoweſt not, neither vnderſtandeſt what they ſay.

16 Their arrowes are ſodaine death, yea, they themſelues be very Giantes.

17 This people ſhall eate vp thy fruite and thy meate, yea, they ſhal deuour thy ſonnes & thy daughters, thy ſheepe and thy bullockes, they ſhall eate vp thy grapes and figges: As for thy ſtrong and well fenced cities wherein thou diddeſt truſt, they ſhal bring to pouertie, and that thorough the ſword.

18 Neuertheleſſe, I will not then haue done with you, ſaieth the Lord.

19 *But if they ſay, Wherefore doth the Lord our God all this vnto vs? Then anſwere them, Becauſe that like as ye haue forſaken me, and ſerued ſtrange goddes in your lande, euen ſo ſhall ye ſerue ſtrangers out of your land. Iere.16.10.

20 Preache this vnto the houſe of Iacob, and cry it out in Iuda, and ſay thus, 21 *Heare this, thou foolish and vndiſcreete people, Ye haue eyes, but ye ſee not, eares haue ye, but ye heare not. Eſai 6.9.

22 Feare ye not me, ſaieth the Lorde? will ye not tremble at my preſence? which binde the ſea with the ſande by a continuall decree, ſo that it cannot paſſe his boundes? for though it rage, yet can it doe nothing, and though the waues thereof doe ſwell, yet may they not goe ouer.

23 But this people hath a falſe and obſtinate heart, they are departed and gone away from me.

24 They thinke not in their heartes, O let vs feare the Lord our God, who giueth vs raine earely & late when neede is, which keepeth euer ſtill the harueſt for vs yeerely.

25 Neuertheleſſe, your miſdeedes haue turned theſe from you, and your ſinnes haue robbed you of good things.

26 For among my people are founde wicked perſons, that priuilie lay ſnares and waite for men, to take them, and deſtroy them.

27 And like as a nette is full of birdes, ſo are their houſes full of that which they haue gotten with falſhood and deceite: Hereof commeth their great ſubſtance and riches.

28 Hereof are they fatte and wealthy, and are more miſchieuous then any other: *they miniſter not the lawe, they make no ende of the Eſai 1.23. Zach.7.10.

facherlesse cause, yea and they prosper: yet they iudge not ẏ poore according to equitie.
29 Should I not punish these things, saieth the Lord? should not I be auenged of al such people as these be?
30 Horrible and grieuous things are done in the land.
31 The prophets teache falsly, & the preachers receiue giftes, and my people hath pleasure therein: what will come thereof at the last?

The vi. Chapter.

1 The sinnes for which Hierusalē is afflicted. 10 Vncircumcised eares, 13 couetousnes, 14 deceite. 20 The Lorde reiecteth the sacrifices of the Iewes. 22 The comming of the Babylonians is prophecied againe.

1 COme out of Hierusalē, ye strong children of Beniamin, blowe vp ẏ Trumpets ye Thecuites, set vp a token vnto Bethcaran: for a plague and a great miserie appeareth out from the North.
2 I will liken the daughter Sion to a faire and tender woman, and to her shall come the a The shepheardes with their flockes, that is, the princes and captaines with their armies.
a shepheardes with their flockes.
3 Their tentes shall they pitch rounde about her, and euery one shall feede in his place.
4 Make battaile against her, [shall they say,] arise, let vs goe vp while it is yet day: Alas the day goeth away, and the night shadowes fall downe.
5 Arise, let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her strong holdes.
6 For thus hath the Lorde of hostes commanded, Hewe downe her trees, and set vp bulwarkes against Hierusalem: for the time is come that this citie must be punished, for in her is all malitiousnesse.
7 Like as a conduite spowteth out waters, so she spowteth out her wickednes: Robberie & vnrighteousnesse is heard in her, sorowe and woundes are euer there in my sight.
8 Amend thee (O Hierusalem) least I withdrawe my heart from thee, and make thee desolate, and thy land also, that no man dwell in it.
9 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The residue of Israel shalbe gathered as ẏ remnant of grapes: and therfore turne thine hand againe into the basket, like the grape gatherer.
10 But vnto whom shal I speake? whom shall I warne, that he may take heede? Their eares are so vncircumcised, ẏ they may not heare: beholde, they take the worde of God but for a scorne, and haue no lust thereto.
11 And therefore I am so full of thine indignation, O Lorde, that I may suffer no longer, but shed it out vpon ẏ children that are without, and vpon all young men: yea, the man must be taken prisoner with the wife, and the aged with the creeple.
12 Their houses with their landes and wiues shalbe turned into strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hande vpon the inhabiters of this land, saieth the Lord.
13 * For from the least to the most they hang all vpon couetousnesse, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they goe about falsehood and lyes. Esai 56.11. Ierem. 8.10.
14 And beside that, they heale the hurt of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace: when there is no peace at all.
15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? Truely nay, they be past shame, and therefore they shall fal among the slayne, and in the houre when I shall visite them, they shalbe brought downe, saieth the Lord.
16 Thus saieth the Lorde, Goe into ẏ streetes, consider & make inquisition for the olde way, and if it be the good and right way, * then goe therein, that ye may finde rest for your soules: but they say, We will not walke therein. Mat. 11.29.
17 Moreouer, I wil set watchmen ouer you, & therefore take heede vnto ẏ voyce of ẏ Trumpet: but they say, We will not take heede.
18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou congregation shalt knowe what I haue deuised for them.
19 Heare thou earth also: Behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations, for that they haue not bene obedient vnto my wordes, and to my lawe, but abhorred them.
20 * Wherefore bring ye me incense from Saba, and sweete smelling Calamus from farre countreyes? [b] your whole burnt offerings displease mee, and I reioyce not in your sacrifices. Esai 1.11. amos 5.22.
b Ceremonies, although they be Gods ordinances, please him not without faith & pureness of minde.
21 And therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, I will lay stumbling blockes among this people, and there shall fall at them the father with the children, one neighbour shal perish with an other.
22 Thus saieth the Lord, Beholde, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shall arise from the endes of the earth.
23 With bowes and with dartes shall they be weaponed, it is a rough and fierce people, and an vnmercifull people, their voyce roareth like the sea, they ride vpon horses well appointed to the battaile against thee, O daughter Sion.
24 The fame of them haue wee heard, our armes are feeble, [c] heauinesse and sorowe is come vpon vs, as vpon a woman trauailing with childe.
c So soone as the hypocrites heare tell that Gods iudgements are at hand, their heart faileth, and is full of sorowe.
25 Let no man goe forth into the fielde, let no man come vpon the high streete: for ẏ sworde and feare of the enemie is on euery side.
26 Wherefore girde a sackcloth about thee, O thou daughter of my people, sprinckle thy selfe with ashes: mourne and weepe bitterly, as vpon thine onely beloued sonne, for the destroyer stroyer shall sodainely fall vpon vs.

Iere.1.18. 27 * Thee haue I set for a strong towre, [O thou Prophet,] and a well fenced wall among my people, to seeke out and to try their wayes.

28 For they are all stubborne Apostates, and fallen away, walking deceitfully, they are cleane hasse and yron, for they hurt and destroy euery man.

29 The bellowes are burnt in the fire, the lead is not moulten, the melter melteth in vaine, for the euill is not taken away from them.

30 Therefore doe they call them naughtie siluer, because the Lord hath cast them out.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Ieremie is commanded to shewe vnto the people the word of God, which trusteth in the outward seruice of the temple. 13 The euils that shall happen to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doeth not the Lord chiefely require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his word.

1 THese are the wordes that God spake vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Stand vnder the gate of the Lordes house, and cry out these wordes there with a loude voyce, and say, Heare the worde of the Lord all ye of Iuda, that goe in at this doore, to worship the Lord:

3 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, * Amend your wayes and your counsailes, and I will let you dwell in this place. Iere.26.13.

4 Trust not in false lying wordes, saying, Here is the temple of the Lorde, here is the temple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lorde:

5 But rather in deede amend your wayes and counsailes, and iudge right betwixt a man and his neighbour.

6 Oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow, sheade not innocent blood in this place, cleaue not to strange goddes, to your owne destruction:

7 Then will I let you dwel in this place, yea, in the land that I gaue aforetime to your fathers for euer.

8 But take heede, ye trust in lying tales that beguile you, and doe you no good.

9 For when ye haue stollen, murdered, committed adulterie, and periurie, when ye haue offered vnto Baal, following strange and vnknowen goddes: shall ye be vnpunished:

10 Yet then come ye, & stand before me in this house (which hath my name giuen vnto it) and say, Tush, we are absolued quite, though we haue done all these abominations.

Mat.21.13. mar.11.14. luke 19.46. 11 What, * thinke you this house that beareth my name, is a denne of theeues? And yet I see [what you thinke,] saieth the Lord.

Prou.1.13. esai 65.12. 12 Goe to my place in Silo, whereunto I gaue my name aforetime, * and looke wel what I did to the same place for the wickednesse of my people of Israel.

13 And nowe seeing ye haue done all these deedes, saieth the Lorde, and I my selfe rose vp euer betimes to warne you, & to commune with you, yet would ye not heare me, I called, ye would not answere:

14 Therefore, * euen as I haue done vnto Silo, so will I doe to this house that my name is giuen vnto, and that ye put your trust in: yea, vnto the place that I haue giuen to you, and your fathers: 1.King.4.13.

15 And I shall thrust you out of my sight, as I haue cast out al your brethren the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 * Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, thou shalt neither giue thankes nor bid prayer for them: make thou no intercession for them, for in no wise will I heare thee. Iere.14.12.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iuda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem:

18 * The children gather stickes, the fathers kindle the fire, the women kneade the dowe to bake cakes for the queene of heauen: they powre out drinke offerings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath. Iere.44.19.

19 Howbeit they hurt not me, saieth the Lord, but rather confound and shame themselues.

20 And therefore thus saieth the Lorde God, Behold, my wrath and indignation shalbe powred out vpon this place, vpon men and cattell, vpon trees in the fielde and fruite of the land: and it shall burne, so that no man may quench it.

21 Thus saieth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Heape vp your burnt offerings with your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For when I brought your fathers out of Egypt, I spake no word vnto them of burnt offerings and sacrifices, 23 But this I commãded them, saying, Hearken and obey my voyce, and I shalbe your God, & ye shalbe my people, so that ye walke in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that ye may prosper.

24 But they were not obedient, they inclined not their eares thereunto: but went after their owne imaginations, and after the motions of their owne wicked heart, and so turned themselues away, and conuerted not vnto me.

25 And this haue they done from the time that your fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day: Neuertheless, I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, I rose vp early, and sent you word.

26 * Yet would they not hearken, nor offer me their eares, but were obstinate, and worse then their fathers. Iere.16.12.

27 And thou shalt now speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt cry vpon them, but they will not answere thee.

28 There-

28 Therefore shalt thou say vnto them, This is the people that neither heareth the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth his correction: faithfulnesse and trueth is cleane rooted out of their mouth.

29 Wherefore cut off thine heare [O Hierusalem] and cast it away, take vp a complaint on high: for the Lorde hath cast away & forsaken the people that he is displeased withall.

30 For the children of Iuda haue done euill in my sight, saith the Lord, they haue set vp their abominatiõs in the house that hath my name, and haue defiled it:

31 They haue also builded altars at Thopheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hennom, that they might burne their sonnes and daughters in fire: which I neuer commanded them, neither came it euer in my thought.

32 And therefore beholde, the dayes shall come (sayth the Lord) that it shal no more be called Thopheth, or the valley of the children of Hennom, but the valley of slaughter: for in Thopheth they shall be buryed, because they shal els haue no roume.

33 Yea, the dead bodies of this people shall be eaten vp of the foules of the ayre, and wilde beasts of the earth, and no man shal fray them away.

Ezech.26.13. 34 And as for the voyce of myrth and gladnesse of the cities of Iuda and Hierusalem, the voyce of the bydegrome, and of the bryde, I will make them ceasse: for the lande shall be desolate.

The viii. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendement, reckening vp their sinnes. 20 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine of the prophets and priestes.

1 AT the same tyme, sayth the Lorde, the bones of the kings of Iuda, the bones of his princes, the bones of the preachers and prophets, yea, and the bones of the citizens of Hierusalem, shalbe brought out of their graues,

2 And layd against the Sunne, & the Moone, and all the heauenly host, whome they loued, whome they serued, whome they ranne after, whom they sought and worshipped: they shal neither be gathered together nor buryed, but shall lye as doung vpon the earth.

3 And all they that remaine of this wicked generation, shal desire rather to dye then to liue, whereseuer they remayne, and whereas I scatter them, sayth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto them also, Thus sayth the Lord, Doe men fall, so that they rise not vp againe? or if Israel repent, will not God turne againe to them?

5 Wherefore then is this people of Hierusalem gone so farre backe, that they turne not againe? They are euer the longer the more obstinate, and will not be conuerted.

6 For I haue looked and considered, but there is no man that speaketh a good word, there is no man that taketh repentance for his sinne, that wil so much say, What haue I done? but euery man turneth to his owne course, like a fierce horse headlong to the battaile.

7 The Storke in the ayre knoweth his appoynted time, the Turtle Doue, the Swallowe and the Crane consider the time of their trauayle: but my people will not knowe the time of the punishment of the Lord.

8 How dare ye say then, We are wise, we haue the lawe of the Lorde among vs? Truely in vayne hath he prepared his penne, and vainely haue the writers written it.

9 Therefore shal the wise be confounded, they shalbe afrayd and taken: for loe, they haue cast out the word of the Lord, what wisedome can then be among them?

10 Wherefore I wil giue their wiues vnto aliantes, and their fieldes to destroyers: For * frõ the lowest vnto the highest they folowe filthie lucre, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they deale all with lyes. Esa.56.11. Iere.6.13.

11 Neuertheless, they heale the hurt of my people very slenderly, saying, Peace, peace: where there is no peace at all.

12 Fie for shame, howe abominable things doe they, and yet they be not ashamed, yea, they know of no shame: Wherefore in the time of their visitation, they shall fall among the dead bodies, and be ouerthrowen, sayth the Lorde.

13 Moreouer, I will consume them in deede (sayth the Lord) so that there shall not be one grape vpon the vine, neyther one figge vpon the figge tree, and the leaues shall be pluckt off, and the thing that I haue giuen them, shal be taken from them.

14 Why prolong wee the time, let vs gather our selues together, and go into the strong citie, there shall we be in rest: for the Lorde our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water mixt with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against him.

15 * We looked for peace, and we fare not the better, we wayted for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble. Iere.14.19.

16 The noyse of his horses is heard from Dan, the whole land is afrayde at the neyghing of his strong horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the lande with all that is in it, the cities, and those that dwell therein.

17 Moreouer, I will send Cockatrices & Serpents among you (which wil not be charmed) and they shall bite you, sayth the Lord.

18 I would haue had comfort against sorowe: but sorowe is come vpon mee, and heauinesse vexeth my heart.

19 For loe, the voyce of the crying of my people is heard [for feare of them that come] frõ a farre country? Is not the Lord in Sion? Is not her king in her? Wherefore then haue they grieued mee [shall the Lorde say,] with their images and foolish strange fashions of a forreine God?

20 The harueſt is gone, the Sommer hath an ende, and we are not helped.

21 I am sore vexed because of the hurt of my people, I am heauy and abashed.

22 Is there not tryacle at Gilead? Is there no Physicio there? why then is not the health of my people recouered?

The ix. Chapter.

1 The complaint and bewayling of the Prophet. 3 The malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

1 O Who will giue my head water ynough, and a well of teares for mine eyes, that I may weepe night and day for the slaughter of my people?

2 Would God that I had a cotage some where farre from folke, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them, for they be all adulterers, and a shrinking sort.

3 They bende their tongues like bowes to shoote out lyes, they waxe strong vpon earth: As for the trueth, they may nothing away withall in the worlde, for they goe from one wickednesse to another, and will not knowe me, sayth the Lorde.

4 Yea, one must keepe himselfe from another, no man may safely trust his owne brother: for one brother vndermineth another, one neighbour beguileth another.

5 Yea, one dissembleth with another, and they deale with no trueth: They haue practised their tongues to lye, and taken great paynes to do mischiefe.

6 Thou sittest in the middes of a deceytfull people, which for very dissembling falshood will not know me, sayth the Lord.

7 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I will melt them, and try them: for what should I els do to my people?

8 Their tongues are like sharpe arrowes to speake deceit: * with their mouth they speake peaceably to their neighbour, but priuily they lay wayte for him. Pſal.28.3.

9 Should I not punish them for these things, sayth the Lord: or should I not be auenged of any such people as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines will I take vp a lamentation, and a sorowfull cry, and a mourning vpon the fayre places of the wildernesse: namely, how they are so burnt vp, that no man goeth there any more, yea, a man shall not heare one beast crie there: byrdes and cattell are all gone from thence.

11 I will make Hierusalem also an heape of stones, & a denne of venemous wormes: and I will make the cities of Iuda so waste, that no man shal dwell therein.

12 What man is so wise as to vnderstand this? or to whom hath the Lord spoken by mouth, that he may shewe this, and say, O thou land, why perishest thou so? wherefore art thou so burnt vp, and like a wildernesse that no man goeth thorowe?

13 Yea, the Lorde himselfe tolde the same vnto them that forsooke his lawe, and kept not the thing that he gaue them in commandement, neither liued thereafter:

14 But folowed the wickednesse of their owne hearts, and serued strange gods, as their forefathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, * Beholde, I will feede this people with wormewood, and giue them gall to drinke. Iere.23.15.

16 I will scatter them also among the Heathen, whome neyther they, nor their fathers haue knowen: and I will send a sworde among them to persecute them, vntill I bring them to nought.

17 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Beware of the vengeance that hangeth ouer you, and call for mourning wiues, and sende for wise women, that they come shortly, 18 And sing a mourning song of vs, that the teares may fall out of our eyes, and that our eye lidde may gush out of water.

19 For there is a lamentable noyse heard of Sion: O howe are we so sore destroyed? O howe are we so piteously confounded? Wee must forsake our owne natural countrey, and we are shut out of our owne lodgings.

20 Yet heare the worde of the Lorde (O ye women) and let your eares regard the wordes of his mouth, that yee may learne your daughters to mourne, and that euery one may teach her neighbour to make lamentation.

21 [Namely thus,] Death is climing vp in at our windowes, he is come into our houses, to destroy the childe before the doore, and the yong man in the streete.

22 But tell thou plainly, Thus saith the Lord, The dead bodies of men shall lye vpon the grounde as the doung vpon the fielde, and as the handfull after the mower, and there shall be no man to take them vp.

23 Thus sayth the Lorde, * Let not the wise man reioyce in his wisedome, nor the strong man in his strength, neither the riche man in his riches. 1.Cor.1.31. 2.cor.10.17.

24 But whoso will reioyce, let him reioyce in this, that he vnderstandeth and knoweth mee, that I am the Lorde which doe mercie, equitie, and righteousnesse vpon the earth: therefore haue I pleasure in such things, saith the Lorde.

25 Behold, the time commeth (sayth the Lord) that that I wil visite all them whose foreskinne is vncircumcised, and the circumcised, 26 The Egyptians, the Iewes, the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, and the shauen Madianites that dwell in the wildernes: for all the Gentiles are all vncircumcised in the flesh, but all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

The x. Chapter.

1 The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 5 Of the weakenesse of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Of euill Curates.

1 HEare the worde of the Lorde that he speaketh vnto thee, O thou house of Israel.

2 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shall not learne after the maner of the heathen, and ye shall not be afrayde for the tokens of heauen: for the heathen are afraide of such.

3 Yea, all the customes and lawes of the Gentiles are nothing but vanitie: They hewe downe a tree in the wood with the handes of the workeman, and fashion it with the axe.

4 They couer it ouer with golde or siluer, they fasten it with nayles and hammers, that it moue not.

5 It standeth as stiffe as the Palme tree, it can neyther speake, nor go on foote, but must be borne: be not ye afrayd of such, for they can do neither good nor euill.

Apoc.15.4. 6 *But there is none like vnto thee, O Lord, and great is the name of thy power.

7 Who woulde not feare thee, O king of the Gentiles? for thine is the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes, there is none that may be likened vnto thee.

8 They are altogether brutish and vnwise in this one thing: [a] wood is the teaching of vanitie.

a By wood, is meant al kinde of matter, whereof images are woont to be made, which although they be garnished with gold and siluer, & clothed in purple and silke, & set vp (as some men say) to be lay mens bookes, yet teache they nothing (sayth the Prophet) but vanitie.

9 Siluer is brought out of Tharsis, and beaten to plates, and golde from Ophir, a worke that is made with the hande of the craftesman, and they are clothed with yellowe silke and scarlet: all these are the worke of cunning men.

10 But the Lorde is a true God, a liuing God, and an euerlasting king: if he be wroth, the earth shaketh, all the Gentiles may not abide his indignation.

11 [As for their gods,] thus shall you say to them, They are no gods that made neyther heauen nor earth, therefore shall they perish frō the earth, & from all things vnder heauen.

Gene.1.6. psal.13.5. 12 *But [as for our God,] hee hath made the earth with his power, and with his wisedome doeth hee order the whole compasse of the worlde, with his discretion hath he spread out the heauens.

13 At his voyce the waters gathered together in the ayre, hee draweth vp the cloudes from the vttermost partes of the earth: *He turneth lightning to rayne, and bringeth foorth the windes out of their treasures. Pfal.134.7.

14 His wisedome maketh all men fooles, and cōfounded be casters of images: for that they cast is but a vayne thing, and hath no life.

15 The vayne crafte smen with their workes that they in their vanitie haue made, shall perish one with another in time of visitation.

16 Neuertheless, Iacobs portion is none such: but it is he that hath made all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the lande, thou that art in the strong place.

18 For thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will nowe throwe as with a stone slyng the inhabiters of this lande at this once, and I will bring trouble vpon them, that they shal proue true the wordes that I haue spoken by the Prophets.

19 Alas howe am I hurt? alas howe paynefull are my scourges vnto me? for I consider this sorow by my selfe, and I must suffer it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, & all my cordes are broken, my children are gone from me, & can no where be found: Nowe haue I none to spread out my tent, nor to set vp my hangings.

21 [b] For the heardmen are become foolish, and they haue not sought the Lord: therefore haue they dealt vnwisely with their cattell, and all are scattered abroade.

b The kings, the rulers, the prophets, and the priests are blinde, and so destrope the flocke.

22 Behold, the noyse is hard at hand, and great sedition out of the North, to make the cities of Iuda a wildernesse, and a dwelling place for Dragons.

23 Nowe I knowe (O Lorde) that it is not in mans power to order his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steps and goings.

24 *Therefore chasten thou me, O Lorde, but with fauour, and not in thy wrath, least thou bring me vtterly to nought. Pfal.6.1.

25 *Powre out thine indignation vpon the Gentiles that know thee not, & vpon the people that cal not vpon thy name, & that because they haue consumed, deuoured, and destroyed Iacob, and haue made his habitation waste. Pfal.79.6.

The xi. Chapter.

3 A curse to them that obey not the word of Gods promise. 10 The people of Iuda folowing the steppes of their fathers, worshippe strange gods. 15 The Lorde sayth that he will not heare the Iewes, and forbiddeth also Ieremie to pray for them.

1 THis is a sermon which the Lorde commanded Ieremie for to preach, saying,

2 Heare the wordes of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iuda, and to all them that dwell at Hierusalem,

3 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Cursed be euery one that is not obedient vnto the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers, what time as I brought them out of Egypt from the yron fornace, saying, Be obedient vnto my voyce, and do according to all that I command you, so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 And wyll keepe my promise that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, [namely,] that I would giue them a lande which floweth with milke and hony, as yee see it is come to passe vnto this day. Then answered I, and sayde, Amen: let it be euen so Lord as thou sayest.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me againe, Preach this in the cities of Juda, and rounde about Hierusalem, and say, Heare the words of this couenant, and keepe them.

7 For I haue diligētly exhorted your fathers, euen since the tyme that I brought them out of the lande of Egypt vnto this day, I gaue them warning betimes, saying, Hearken vnto my voyce.

8 Neuertheless, they would not obey me, nor encline their eares vnto me: but folowed the wicked imaginations of their owne heartes, and therefore I haue brought vpon them all the words of this couenant that I gaue them to keepe, which they [notwithstanding] haue not kept.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto me, It is found out that whole Israel, and all the cities of Hierusalem are gone backe.

10 They haue turned themselues to the blasphemies of their forefathers, which had no lust to heare my wordes: Euen likewise also haue these folowed strange gods, and worshipped them: The house of Israel and Juda haue broken my couenant which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will send a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and they shall cry vnto me, and I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the townes of Juda, and the citizens of Hierusalem goe and call vpon their gods vnto whome they made their oblations: but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

Iere.2.28. 13 *For as many cities as thou hast, O Juda, so many gods hast thou had also, and looke howe many streetes there be in thee, (O Hierusalem) so many shamefull altars haue yee set vp, altars [I say,] to offer vpon them vnto Baal.

Iere.14.12. 14 *Therfore pray not thou for this people, bid neither praise nor prayer for them: for though they cry vnto me in their trouble, yet will I not heare them.

15 What part hath my beloued in my house, seeing he hath wrought abomination, seruing many gods? The holy flesh offerings in the temple are gone from thee, [O Juda,] and thou, when thou hast done euill, makest thy boast of it.

16 The Lord called thee a greene Olyue tree, a faire one, a fruitful one, a goodly one: but with great clamour hath the enemie set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are destroyed.

17 For the Lorde of hostes that planted thee, hath deuised a plague for thee, (O thou house of Israel and Juda) for the euill that ye haue done to prouoke him to wrath, in that ye did seruice to Baal.

18 This (O Lorde) haue I learned of thee, and vnderstande it: for thou hast shewed me their imaginations.

19 But I am as a meeke Lambe, an Oxe that is caryed away to be slaine, not knowing that they had deuised such a counsell against mee, [saying,] Wee will destroy his meate with wood, & driue him out of the land of the liuing, that his name shal neuer be thought vpon.

20 *Therefore I will beseeche thee nowe, (O Lorde of hostes) thou righteous Judge, thou that tryest the reynes and the heartes, let mee see thee auenged of them: for vnto thee haue I committed my cause. 1.Chro.28.9. ierc.17.10. and 20.12. psal.7.10.

21 The Lorde therefore spake thus of the citizens of Anathoth that sought to slay me, saying, Preache not vnto vs in the name of the Lord, or els thou shalt dye of our handes.

22 Thus [I say] spake the Lord of hostes, Behold, I wil visite you, your yong men shal perish with the sworde, your sonnes and your daughters shall vtterly dye of hunger.

23 So that none shall remayne: for vpon the citizens of Anathoth will I bring a plague, euen the yeere of their visitation.

The xii. Chapter.

1 The Prophet marueileth greatly at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lorde. 10 He speaketh against the Curates & Preachers that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations that bordered vpon Iurie, which troubled and vexed it.

1 O Lorde, thou art more righteous then that I shoulde dispute with thee: neuertheless, let mee talke with thee in things reasonable. *Howe happeneth it that the way of the vngodly is so prosperous? and that it goeth so well with them which without any shame offende and liue in wickednesse? Iob.21.7. abac.1.3.

2 Thou plantest them, they take roote, they growe, and bring foorth fruite: they boast much of thee, yet art thou farre from their [a] reynes.

a By the reynes he meaneth the inwarde affections and secrecie of the minde.

3 But thou Lord to whom I am wel knowen, thou that hast seene and proued my heart, take them away, like as a flocke is caryed to the slaughter house, and appoynt them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and all the herbes herbes of the fielde perish for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein: The cattell and the byrdes are gone, yet say they, Tush, God will not destroy vs vtterly.

5 Seeing thou art weary in running with the footemen, howe wilt thou then runne with horses? In a peaceable sure land thou mayest be safe: but how wilt thou doe in the furious pride of Iordane?

6 For thy brethren and thy kinred haue altogether despised thee, and cryed out vpon thee altogether: Beleeue them not though they speake fayre wordes to thee.

7 As for mee, [I say,] I haue forsaken mine owne dwelling place, and left mine heritage: I haue giuen that my soule [b] loued so wel into the hand of her enemies.

b He meaneth the citie, with the temple and the people whom he loued intirely.

8 Mine heritage is become vnto me as a Lion in the wood: it cryed out vpon me, therefore haue I forsaken it.

9 Is not mine heritage vnto me as a speckled byrde? are not the byrdes round about against her? Come & gather ye together all ye beastes of the fielde, come, that ye may eate it vp.

10 Diuers heardmen haue broken downe my vineyard, and troden vpon my portion: of my pleasant portion they haue made a wildernes and desart.

11 They haue layde it waste, and now that it is waste, it sigheth vnto me: yea, the whole land lieth waste, and no man regardeth it.

12 The destroyers come ouer the borders in the desart euery way: for the swoorde of the Lorde doeth consume from the one ende of the land to the other, and no flesh hath rest.

13 They haue sowen wheate, & reaped thornes, ‖ they haue taken heritage in possession, but it doeth them no good: and they were ashamed of your fruites, because of the great wrath of the Lorde.

‖ Some reade, they were sicke and had no profite.

14 Thus sayeth the Lorde vpon all my euill neighbours that lay hande on mine heritage which I haue possessed, euen my people of Israel, Behold, I will plucke them [namely Israel] out of their lande, and put out the house of Iuda from among them.

15 And when I haue rooted them out, I will be at one with them againe, & I will haue mercy vpon them, and bring them againe euery man to his owne heritage, and into his land.

16 And if they, [namely, that trouble my people] will learne the wayes of them to sweare by my name, The Lorde liueth, like as they learned my people to sweare by Baal: then shal they be buylt among my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I roote out the same folke, & destroy thē, saith ỳ Lord.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured, and their sparsing abroade. 11 Why Israel was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken.

1 THus sayth the Lord vnto me, Goe thy way, and get thee a linnen girdle, and girde it about thy loynes, let it not be wette.

2 Then I got me a girdle, according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it about my loynes.

3 After this, the second time the Lorde spake vnto me againe,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast prepared, and put about thee, and get thee vp, and goe vnto Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rocke.

5 So went I, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And it happened long after this, that the Lord spake vnto mee, Vp, and get thee to Euphrates, and fetche the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Euphrates, and digged vp, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and behold, the girdle was corrupt, so that it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then sayd the Lord vnto me,

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, Euen so will I corrupt the pride of Iuda, and the high minde of Hierusalem.

10 This people is a wicked people, they will not heare my worde, they folowe the wicked imaginations of their owne heart, and hang vpon strange gods, them they serue and worship, and therefore they shalbe as this girdle that serueth for nothing.

11 For as straightly as a girdle lyeth vpon a mans loynes, so straightly did I binde the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iuda vnto me, saith the Lord, that they might be my people, that they might haue a glorious name, that they might be in honour: but they would not obey me.

12 Therefore lay this riddle before them, & say, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Euery potte shalbe filled with wine. And they shall say vnto thee, Thinkest thou we knowe not that euery potte shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I shal fill all the inhabiters of this land with drunkennes, the kings that sit vpon Dauids stoole, the priestes and prophets, with all that dwell at Hierusalem.

14 And I will set them one against another, yea, the fathers against the sonnes, sayth the Lorde, I will not pardon them, I will not spare them, nor haue pitie vpon them: but destroy them.

15 Heare, giue eare, take not vilfaine at it: for it is the Lord himselfe that speaketh.

16 Honour the Lorde your God or he take his light from you, and or euer your feete stumble in darkenesse at the hill: least when you looke for the light, he turne it into the shadow and darkenesse of death.

17 But if ye will not heare me that giue you secret warning, I wil mourne from my whole
Lamen.1.1. heart for your stubbernnesse:* Piteously will I weepe, and the teares shall gush out of mine eyes, for the Lordes flocke shall be carryed away captiue.

18 Tell the king & the Queene, Humble your selues, sit you downe lowe, for your dignitie shall be throwen downe, and the crowne of your glory shal fall from your head.

19 The cities towarde the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iuda shal be caryed away captiue, so that none shall remayne.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke [O thou lande] that was giuen thee: and where are thy fatte and rich sheepe?

21 To whome wilt thou make thy mone when the enemie shal come vpon thee? for thou hast taught them thy selfe, & made them masters ouer thee: shall not sorowe come vpon thee as on a woman trauailing with childe?

22 And if thou wouldest then say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon mee? Euen for the multitude of thy blasphemies shall thy hinder partes and thy feete be discouered.

23 May a man of Inde change his skinne, and the catte of the mountaine her spots? so, may ye that be exercised in euill, doe good.

24 Therefore will I scatter them like as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This shall be your portion, and the portion of your measure wherewith ye shalbe rewarded of mee, sayth the Lorde, because ye haue forgotten me, and put your trust in deceitfull things.

26 Therefore shal I turne thy clothes ouer thy head, and discouer thy shame.

27 Thy adulteries, thy neyghings, thy shamefull whoredome on the hilles in the fields, and thy abominations haue I seene: Woe be vnto thee (O Hierusalem) wilt thou neuer be cleansed any more: or when shall that be?

The xiiii. Chapter.

Of the dearth that shoulde come in Iurie. 7 The praier of the people asking mercy of the Lorde. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, & of false prophets that seduce the people.

1 THe worde of the Lorde shewed vnto Ieremie, concerning the dearth of the fruites.

2 Iuda hath mourned, his gates are desolate, they are brought to heauinesse, euen vnto the grounde, and the crie of Hierusalem goeth vp.

3 The lordes sent their seruants to fetch water, and when they came to the welles, they did finde no water, but caryed their vessels home emptie: they be ashamed and confounded, and couer their heads.

4 For the ground is dryed, because there commeth no rayne vpon it: the plowmen also be ashamed and couer their heads.

5 The Hinde also forsooke the yong fawne that shee brought forth in the fielde, because there was no grasse.

6 The wilde asses did stande in the high places, and drew in their winde like the dragons, their eyes did fayle for want of grasse.

7 Doubtlesse, our owne wickednesse doeth rewarde vs: but Lord do thou according to thy name, though our transgressions and sinnes be many, and against thee haue we sinned.

8 For thou art the comfort and helpe of Israel in the time of trouble: Why wilt thou be as a stranger in the land, and as one that goeth his iourney, and commeth in only to remaine for a nyght?

9 Why wilt thou make thy selfe a cowarde, and as it were a gyant that yet may not helpe? But thou, O Lorde, art in the middest of vs, and thy name is called vpon of vs, forsake vs not.

10 Thus hath the Lorde sayde vnto his people, Seeing they haue had such a lust to wander abroade, and haue not refrayned their feete: therefore the Lord hath no pleasure in them, but hee will nowe bring againe to remembrance all their misdeedes, and punish al their sinnes.

11 Yea, euen thus sayde the Lorde vnto mee, * Thou shalt not pray to do this people good. Iere.7.14.

12 For though they fast, I wil not heare their prayers, and though they offer burnt offrings and sacrifices, yet I will not accept them: for I wil destroy them with the sworde, hunger, and pestilence.

13 * Then answered I, O Lorde God, the pro- Iere.23.21. & 27.21. & 29.8.
phetes say vnto them, Tush, yee shall neede to feare no sworde, and no hunger shall come vpon you: but the Lord shal giue you sure rest in this place.

14 And the Lorde sayde vnto mee, The prophetes preache lyes in my name, whereas I haue not sent them, neyther gaue I them any charge, neyther did I speake vnto them: yet they preach vnto you false visions, charming, vanitie, & deceytfulnesse of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, As for those prophets that preache in my name, whome I neuertheless haue not sent, and that say, Tush, there shall no sworde nor hunger be in this land: with sworde and with hunger shal those prophets perish.

16 And the people to whome they preache, shalbe cast out of Hierusalem, dye of hunger, and be slayne with the sworde, and there shall be no man to burie them, both they, and their their wiues, their sonnes, and their daughters: for thus will I powre their wickednesse vpon them.

Lamen. 2. 18. and 3. 48.

17 This shalt thou say also vnto them, * Mine eyes shall weepe without ceassing day and night: for my people shall be destroyed with great harme, and shall perish with a great plague.

18 For if I goe into the fielde, loe, it lyeth all full of slayne men: If I come into the citie, loe, they be all famished of hunger: yea, their prophets also and priestes shall be led into an vnknowen land.

19 Hast thou then vtterly forsakē Iuda? Doest thou abhorre Sion? Wherefore hast thou so plagued vs, that wee can be healed no more? * We looked for peace, & there commeth no good, for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

Iere. 8. 15.

20 We knowledge (O Lord) al our misdeedes, and the sinnes of our fathers: for we haue offended thee.

21 Cast vs not off (O Lorde) for thy names sake, forget not thy louing kindenesse, ouerthrow not the a throne of thine honour, breake not the couenāt that thou hast made with vs.

a The temple at Hierusalem is called þ seate of Gods honour, because he had appointed that place wherein specially to be honoured, and there to shewe the tokens of his honorable presence.

22 Are there any among the gods of the Gentiles that send rayne, or giue the showres from heauen? Art not thou thy selfe our Lord God? we will trust in thee, for thou doest all these things.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Lorde will not heare Moses and Samuel if they pray for the people, but will wrappe them in many miseries. 6 The cause of such great miseries.

1 THus spake the Lord vnto me, Though Moses and Samuel stoode before me, yet haue I no heart to this people, driue them away, that they may go out of my sight.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we go? then tel them, The Lord giueth you this answere, * Some vnto death, some to the sworde, some to hunger, some into captiuitie.

Zacha. 11. 9.

3 For I will bring foure plagues vpon them, saith the Lord, The sworde shal slay them, the dogges shall teare them in pieces, the foules of the ayre and beastes of the earth shall eate them vp, and destroy them.

4 I wil scatter thē about also in al kingdoms and landes to be plagued, * because of Manasses the sonne of Ezecia king of Iuda, for the things that he did in Hierusalem.

4. Reg. 21. 11.

5 Who shall then haue pity vpon thee, O Hierusalem? who shalbe sory for thee? Or who shal make intercessiō to obteine peace for thee?

6 Seeing thou goest from mee, and turnest backwarde, sayth the Lorde, therefore I did stretche out my hande against thee to destroy thee, and I haue bene sory for thee so long that I am weary.

7 I haue scattered them abroad with the fanne on euery side of the lande, I haue wasted my people and destroyed them, yet they haue had no lust to turne from their owne wayes.

8 I haue made their windowes moe in number then the sandes of the sea, vpon the mothers of their children did I bring a destroyer in the noone day: suddenly and vnawares did I send a feare vpon their cities.

9 Shee that hath borne seuen children, hath none, her heart is full of sorow, * the sunne doth faile her in the cleare day, she is confounded & fayntie for very heauinesse: As for those that remayne, I will deliuer them vnto the sworde before their enemies, sayth the Lord.

Amos. 8. 9.

10 O mother, alas that thou euer diddest beare me, a brawler and rebuker of the whole lande though I neuer lent nor receiued vpon vsury, yet all men speake euill vpon me.

11 And the Lorde answered mee, Verily thy a remnant shall haue wealth: Come not I to thee when thou art in trouble, and helpe thee when thine enemie oppresseth thee?

a By the remnant is meant the times towarde the last ende of his life, whē God caused Nabuzaradan to shewe fauour vnto Ieremie, Iere. 40.

12 Doth one yron hurt another? or one metall, that commeth from the North, another?

13 As for thy riches and treasure, I will giue them out into a pray: not for money, but because of all thy sinnes that thou hast done in all thy coastes.

14 * And I will bring thee with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for the fire that is kindeled in mine indignation shall burne you vp.

Deut. 32. 22.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, therefore remember me, and visite me, reuenge me of my persecuters, take me not from this life in the time of thy anger: thou knowest that for thy sake I suffer rebuke.

16 When I had founde thy wordes, I did eate them vp greedily, they haue made my heart ioyful and glad, for thy name was b called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes.

b I am called thy Prophet.

17 I dwell not among the scorners, neyther is my delight therein: but I dwell alone because of thy hand, for thou hast filled mee with bytternesse.

18 Shall heauinesse endure for euer? Are my plagues then so great that they may neuer be healed? Wilt thou be as one that is false, & as a water that falleth and can not continue?

19 Upon these words, thus sayd the Lord vnto me, If thou wilt turne againe, I shall set thee in my seruice, and if thou wilt take out the thing that is precious frō the vile, thou shalt be euen as my owne mouth: they shal conuert vnto thee, but turne not thou vnto them.

20 And so shal I make thee a strong brasen wal against this people, they shall fight against thee, but they shal not preuayle: for I my selfe will be with thee, to helpe thee and deliuer thee, sayth the Lord.

21 And I will rid thee out of the handes of the wicked, and deliuer thee out of the handes of tyrantes.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth the miserie of the Iewes. 2 He sheweth that the worshipping of images, and the contempt of Gods lawe, is cause of their miserie. 13 He prophecieth the captiuitie of Babylon, and their deliuerance from thence againe. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 THus sayth the Lord vnto me,
2 Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget children in this place.
3 For of the children that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, and of their fathers that haue begotten them in this land, thus sayth the Lord,
4 They shall dye an horrible death, no man shall weepe for them, nor bury them, but they shal lye as doung vpon the earth: they shal perish through the swoorde and hunger, and their bodies shalbe meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the earth.
5 For thus sayth the Lord, Goe not thou into the house of mourning, nor come to mourne & weepe for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, sayth the Lorde, yea, my fauour and my mercies.
6 And in this lande shall they dye olde and yong, and shal not be buried: no man shall beweepe them, no man shall clippe or shaue him selfe for them.
7 They shall not wring their hands in mourning wise on their dead, one to comfort another the cup of consolation to forget their heauinesse for their father and mother.
8 Thou shalt not goe into their feast house, to sit downe to eate or drinke with them:
9 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I shal take away out of this place the voyce of myrth and gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride, yea, and that in your dayes, that ye may see it.
Ierem.5.19. 10 *Nowe when thou shewest this people all these wordes, & they say vnto thee, Wherfore hath the Lorde deuised all this great plague for vs: or what is the offence and sinne that we haue done against the Lorde our God:
11 Then make thou them this answere, Because your fathers haue forsaken me, saith the Lord, & haue walked after strãge gods, whom they honoured and worshipped, but mee haue they forsaken, and haue not kept my lawe:
Ierem.7.26. 12 *And yee with your shamefull blasphemies haue exceeded the wickednes of your fathers: for euery one of you hath folowed the froward and euil imaginations of his owne heart, and is not obedient vnto me,
Iere.23,8. 13 *Therefore will I cast you out of this land, into a lande that ye and your fathers knowe not: and there shall ye serue strange gods day and night, there will I shew you no fauour.
14 Behold therefore, sayth the Lord, the dayes are come that it shall no more be sayde, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:
15 But it shalbe sayde, The Lorde liueth that brought the children of Israel from the North, and from all landes where hee had scattered them: for I will bring them againe into the land that I gaue their fathers.
16 Behold, sayth the Lorde, I will sende out many Fishers to take them, and after that will I send out many Hunters, to hunt them from all mountaines and hilles, and out of the caues of stone.
17 For mine eyes beholde all their wayes, and they can not be hid from my face: neither can their wicked deedes be kept close out of my sight.
18 But first will I sufficiently rewarde their shamefull blasphemies and sinnes, because they haue defiled my lande [a] with their stinking carions and their abominations, wherewith they haue filled mine heritage.
19 O Lord my strength, my power and refuge in time of trouble: the Gentiles shal come vnto thee from the endes of the worlde, and say, Verily our fathers haue cleaued vnto lyes, their idols are but vaine and vnprofitable.
20 How can a man make those his gods, which are not able to be gods:
21 And therefore I will once teach them, sayth the Lord, I wil shewe them my hand and my power, and they shall knowe that my name is the Lord.

[a] Gods seruice done according to his word, honoureth sweetely, that is, pleaseth God: but Gods seruice and worship without his word, doth sauour like carrion, that is, it abhorreth and much displeaseth God.

The xvii. Chapter.

1 The frowardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man, and those blessed that trust in God. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The halowing of the Sabboth is commanded.

1 YOur sinne, [O ye of the tribe of Iuda,] is written in the table of your heartes, and grauen so vpon the edges of your altars with a penne of yron, and with an Adamant clawe:
2 That as the fathers thinke vpon their children, so thinke you also vpon your altars, woods, thicke trees, high hilles, mountaines, and fieldes.
3 Wherefore, O my mount that standeth in the fielde, I will make all thy substance and treasure to be spoyled, for the great sinne that thou hast done vpon thy high places, throughout all the coastes of thy land.
4 Thou shalt be cast out also from the heritage that I gaue thee: and I will subdue thee vnder the heauie bondage of thine enemies, in a land that ye knowe not: for ye haue ministred fire to mine indignation, which shall burne euermore.

5 Thus

5 Thus sayth the Lord, Cursed be þ man that putteth his trust in man, and that taketh flesh for his arme, and hee whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 *He shall be like the heath that groweth in wildernesse: As for the good thing that is for to come, he shall not see it, but dwell in a drye place of the wildernesse, in a salt and vnoccupied land.

7 O blessed is the man that putteth his trust in the Lorde, and whose hope is in the Lorde himselfe.

Psalm.1.3. 8 *For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water side, which spreadeth out the roote vnto moystnes, whom þ heate can not hatme when it commeth, but his leafe shalbe greene: And though there growe but litle fruite because of drouth, yet is he not carefull, but hee neuer leaueth off to bring forth fruit.

9 Among all thinges, man hath the most deceitfull and stubburne heart: Who shall then knowe it.

Reue.2.23.psal. 7.10. 10 Euen I the Lord search out the grounde of the heart, and trye the reynes, and rewarde euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 The Partriche maketh a nest of egges, which she layde not: hee commeth by riches, but not righteously, in the middest of his life must hee leaue them behinde him, and at the last be found a very foole.

12 But thou (O Lorde) whose throne is most glorious, excellent, and of most antiquitie, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest:

13 Thou art the comfort of Israel, all they that forsake thee shall be confounded, all they that do depart from thee shall be written in earth: for they haue forsaken the Lord, the very conduite of the waters of life.

14 Heale mee, O Lorde, and I shall bee whole: saue thou me, and I shalbe saued: for thou art my prayse.

15 Behold, these mẽ say vnto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come nowe.

16 Whereas I neuertheless obediently followed thee as a shepheard, and haue not vncalled taken this office vpon mee, this knowest thou well: my wordes also were right before thee.

17 Be not thou terrible vnto me, O Lord: for thou art hee in whome I hope when I am in perill.

18 Let my persecutours be confounded, but not me: let thẽ be afraide, and not me: Thou shalt bring vpon them the time of plague, and shalt destroy them right sore.

19 Thus hath the Lord sayd vnto me, Goe and stande vnder the gate wherethorowe the people and the kings of Juda goe out and in, yea vnder all the gates of Hierusalem,

20 And say vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lorde, ye kings of Juda, and all thou people of Juda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem that go thorow this gate, 21 Thus the Lorde commandeth, Take heede for your liues that yee carie no burden vpon you in the Sabboth, to bring it thorowe the gates of Hierusalem.

22 Yee shall beare no burden also out of your houses in the Sabboth, you shall do no labour therein: but halowe the Sabboth, as I commanded your fathers.

23 Howbeit they obeyed me not, neither hearkened they vnto mee: but were obstinate and stubburne, and neither obeied me, nor receiued my correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye will heare me, sayth the Lorde, and beare no burden into the citie thorow this gate vpon the Sabboth, if yee will halowe the Sabboth, so that yee doe no worke therein:

25 Then shal there go thorow the gates of this citie kings and princes, that shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, they shalbe carved vpon charets, and ride vpon horses, both they and their princes: yea whole Juda, and al the citizens of Hierusalem shal go herethorowe, and this citie shall euer be inhabited.

26 There shal come men also from the cities of Juda, from about Hierusalem, and from the lande of Beniamin, from the playne fieldes, from the mountaines, and from the wildernesse, which shall bring whole burnt offerings, sacrifices, oblations, and incense, and offer vp thankesgiuing in the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not bee obedient vnto me, to halowe the Sabboth, so that yee will beare your burdens thorowe the gates of Hierusalem vpon the Sabboth: then shall I set fire vpon the gates of Hierusalem, and it shall burne vp the houses of Hierusalem, & no man shalbe able to quench it.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 God sheweth by the example of a potter that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his word, and to helpe them againe when they amende. 18 The conspiracie of the Iewes against Ieremie. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

1 THis is another communication þ God had with Ieremie, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I tell thee more of my minde.

3 Nowe when I came to the potters house, I founde him making his woorke vpon a wheele.

4 The vessell that the potter made of claye brake among his handes: So he beganne a newe, and made another vessell according to his minde.

5 Then sayde the Lord thus vnto me,

6 May

6 May not I doe with you as this potter doeth, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord? Behold, ye house of Israel, ye are in my hand, euen as the clay is in the potters hand.

Rom.9.20.esay 45.9. 7 *Whē I take in hand to root out, to destroy, or to waste away any people or kingdome:

Iere.1.10. 8 *If that people against whom I haue thus deuised, conuert from their wickednesse, I repent of the plague that I deuised to bring vpon them.

9 Againe, when I take in hand to builde or to plant a people or a kingdome:

10 If the same people doe euill before mee, and heare not my voyce, I repent of the good that I haue deuised for them.

11 Speake nowe therefore vnto whole Iuda, & to them that dwel at Hierusalem, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, * I am deuising a plague for you, & am taking a thing in hand against you: therefore let euery man turne from his euill way, and take vpon you the thing that is good and right.

Iere.25.5. & 35. 10.ionas 3.9.

12 But they sayd, No more of this, we will followe our owne imaginations, and doe euery man according to the wilfulnesse of his owne minde.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Aske among the heathen if any man haue heard such horrible things, as the mayden Israel hath done?

a It is extreme madnes to forsake God the onely fresh spring of pure pleasant waters, who is nigh at hand, and to go farre off to seeke fowle and filthy pudles, wherein there is nothing but vncleane & stinking water. Iere.19.8. and 49.10.

14 a Will a man forsake the snow of Libanus, which commeth from the rocke of the fielde? Or shall the colde flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?

15 But my people hath forgotte me, they haue made sacrifice in vaine, and their prophetes make them fall in their wayes from the ancient pathes, and to goe into a way not vsed to be troden [of iust men.]

16 *Wherethough they haue brought their lande into an euerlasting wildernes & scorne: so that whosoeuer trauaileth thereby shall be abashed, and wagge their heads.

17 With an East winde wil I scatter them before their enemies: and when their destructiō commeth, I will turne my backe vpon them, but not my face.

18 Then said they, Come, let vs imagine some thing against this Jeremie: for the priestes shall not be destitute of the lawe, neither shall the wise men bee destitute of counsell, nor the prophets destitute of the word of God: Come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not marke all his words.

19 Consider me, O Lorde, and heare the voyce of mine enemies.

20 Shall they recompense euill for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: Remember howe that I stoode before thee to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore let their children die of hunger, and let them be oppressed with the swoorde: let their wiues be robbed of their childrē and become widowes, let their husbands be slayne, let their yong men be killed with the sword in the fielde.

22 Let the noyse bee heard out of their houses when thou bringest the murderer suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and layd snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lorde thou knowest all their counsell, that they haue deuised to slaye me, forgiue not their wickednesse, and let not their sinnes bee put out of thy sight, but let them be iudged before thee as guiltie: this do thou vnto them in the time of thine indignation.

The xix. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth the destruction of Hierusalem, for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

1 THus sayth the Lord, Goe thy way and buy thee an earthen pitcher, and bring forth the senatours and chiefe priestes,

2 Vnto the valley of the children of Hennom, which lyeth without the East gate, and shewe them there the wordes that I shall tell thee,

3 And say thus vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye kings of Iuda, and ye citizens of Hierusalem, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring such a plague vpon this place, that the eares of all that heare it shall glowe:

4 And that because they haue forsaken me, & vnhalowed this place, & haue offered in it vnto strange gods, whom neither they, their fathers, nor the kings of Iuda haue knowen: they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents.

5 And they haue set vp an altar vnto Baal, to burne their children for a burnt offering vnto Baal, which I neither commanded nor charged them, neither thought once thereupon.

6 Behold therefore, the time commeth (sayth the Lord) that this place shall no more be called Thopheth, nor the valley of the children of Hennom: but the valley of slaughter.

7 For in this place will I bring to nought the counsell of Iuda and Hierusalem, and kill thē downe with the sword before their enemies, and I will deliuer them into the hands of thē that seeke their liues, and their dead carkeises will I giue to bee meate for the foules of the ayre, and the beastes of the fielde.

8 *And I will make this citie so desolate and despised, that whosoeuer goeth thereby shalbe abashed, and iest vpon her, because of all her plagues. Iere.18.16.

9 I will feede them also with the flesh of their sonnes and their daughters, yea, euery one shal eate vp another in ỹ besieging & straightnesse wherewith their enemies [that seeke their their liues] ſhall keepe them in.

10 And the pitcher ſhalt thou breake in ỹ ſight of the men that go with thee,
11 And ſay vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Euen ſo will I deſtroy this people and citie, as a man breaketh an earthen veſſell that can not bee made whole againe: in Thopheth ſhall they bee buried, for they ſhall haue none other place.
12 Thus will I doe vnto this place alſo ſayth the Lord, and to them that dwell therein, yea, I will make this citie as Thopheth.
13 For the houſes of Hieruſalem, and the houſes of the kings of Iuda, ſhalbe defiled like as Thopheth, and ſo ſhal all the houſes in whoſe rookes they did ſacrifice vnto all the hoſt of heauen, and powred drinke offerings vnto ſtrange gods.
14 And ſo Ieremie came frõ Thopheth, where the Lord had ſent him to prophecie, and ſtood in the court of the houſe of the Lorde, & ſpake to all the people,
15 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon euery towne about it, all ỹ plagues that I haue deuiſed againſt thẽ, becauſe they haue bene obſtinate, and would not obey my warnings.

The xx. Chapter.

Ieremie is ſmitten, and caſt into pryſon, for preaching of the word of God. 4 He propheſieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 Hee complaineth that he is a mocking ſtocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the ſpirit to preach the word.

1 WHẽ Phaſhur the Prieſt, the ſonne of Emmer, chiefe in the houſe of the Lorde, heard Ieremie preach theſe words [ſo ſtedfaſtly,]
2 He ſmote Ieremie, and put him in ỹ priſon that is in the high gate of Beniamin, towards the houſe of the Lord.
3 The next day following, Phaſhur brought Ieremie out of the pryſon againe: Then ſaid Ieremie vnto him, The Lorde ſhall call thee no more Phaſhur, [that is, excellent and encreaſing,] but Magor, [that is, fearefull and afrayde] euery where.
4 For thus ſayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will make thee afrayde, euen thy ſelfe, and all that fauour thee, which ſhall perish with the ſword of their enemies, euen before thy face, and I will giue whole Iuda into the hands of the king of Babylon, which ſhall carrie ſome vnto Babylon pryſoners, and ſlay ſome with the ſword.
5 Moreouer, al the ſubſtance of the citie, what ſoeuer they haue gotten with their trauell, all their precious things, and all the treaſure of the kings of Iuda, will I giue into the hands of their enemies, which ſhall ſpoyle them, and carry them vnto Babylon
6 But as for thee (O Phaſhur) thou ſhalt go into captiuitie with all thy houſholde, and to Babylon ſhalt thou come, where thou ſhalt die, and be buried, thou and all thy fauourers, to whom thou haſt preached lies.
7 O Lord, if I am deceiued, thẽ haſt thou [a] deceiued me, thou enforcedſt me, and haſt preuailed: dayly am I deſpiſed, & laughed to ſcorne of euery man.
8 For ſince I beganne to preach, I cryed out againſt violence, and exclaymed againſt oppreſſiõ: for the which cauſe they caſt the word of the Lord in my teeth, to my reproch continually.
9 Wherefore I thought from henceforth not to ſpeake of him, nor to preach any more in his name, but ỹ word of the Lord was a very burning fire in my heart, and in my bones, which when I would haue ſtopped, I might not.
10 Verily I heard the euill reportes of many, terrour was on euery ſide of me: [b] complaine vpon him, ſay they, and wee will tell his tale: yea, all mine owne companions, and ſuch as were conuerſant with me, lay in wayt for my halting, ſaying, Peraduenture he will be deceiued, and ſo ſhall wee preuaile againſt him, and be auenged of him.
11 But the Lorde ſtoode by me like a mightie Giant, therefore my perſecutours fell, and could doe nothing: they ſhall be ſore confounded, for they haue done vnwiſely, they ſhall haue an euerlaſting ſhame, which ſhall neuer be forgotten.
12 And now, * O Lord of hoſts, that tryeſt the righteous, which knoweſt the reines and the very hearts, let me ſee them puniſhed: for vnto thee I haue declared my cauſe. Pſalm.7.10.
13 Sing vnto the Lord, and prayſe him, for he hath deliuered the ſoule of the oppreſſed frõ the hand of the violent.
14 * Curſed be the day wherein I was borne, vnhappie bee the day wherein my mother brought me forth. Iob.3.1.
15 Curſed bee the man that brought my father the tidings to make him glad, ſaying, Thou haſt begotten a ſonne:
16 Let it happen vnto that man, as to the cities [c] which the Lord turned vpſidedowne, and repented not: let him heare crying in the morning, and at noone day lamentable howling,
17 Why ſleweſt thou not mee as ſoone as I came out of my mothers wombe? or that my mother had bene my graue her ſelfe, that the byrth might not haue come out, but remayned ſtill in her?
18 Wherefore came I forth of my mothers wombe, to haue experience of labour and ſorowe, and to leade my life with ſhame?

a The Prophet aſſureth the trueth of his doctrine, againſt the ſlanderer: for it is the word of God, who can not deceiue nor be deceiued.

b The Priests and ſuch as were in authoritie with the king, ſtirred vp the people to watch narrowly Ieremies ſayings, if they could finde him to halt in any thing wherefore they might accuſe him to the king.

c The moſt godly men are ſometimes caſried away in the vnruly rage of immoderate affection, albeit in this Prophet the cauſe of his immoderate zeale was, for that he ſawe his trauaile to ſaue the people to be in vaine, Gods word contemned, and all godlineſſe ſcornefully deſpiſed.

The xxi. Chapter.

He propheſieth that Zedecias ſhalbe taken, and the citie burned.

1 Theſe

1 THese are the wordes that ỹ Lorde spake vnto Ieremie, what time as king Zedecias sent vnto him Phashur ỹ sonne of Melchias, and Sophonias ỹ sonne of Maasias Priest, saying,

2 Aske counsell at the Lorde, [we pray thee] on our behalfe, for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon besiegeth vs: if the Lorde peraduenture will deale with vs according to his marueilous power, and take him from vs.

3 Then spake Ieremie, Giue Zedecias this answere:

4 Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, Beholde, I will turne backe the weapons that ye haue in your handes, wherewith yee fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldees, which besiege you round about ỹ walles, and I will bring them together into the middest of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you, with an outstretched hande, and with a mightie arme, in great displeasure and terrible wrath:

6 And will smite them that dwel in this citie, yea, both men and cattell shall die of a great pestilence.

7 But after this, (sayth the Lord) I shal deliuer Zedecias king of Juda, and his seruantes, his people, and such as are escaped in the citie, from the pestilence, sword, and hunger, into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, yea into the handes of their enemies, into the handes of those that followe vpon their liues, which shall smite them with the sworde, they shall not pitie them, they shall not spare them, they shall haue no mercy vpon them.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus Iere.38.2. sayth the Lorde, *Beholde, I lay before you the way of life and death.

9 Whosoo abideth in the citie, shall perish eyther with the sworde, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so goeth out to holde on the Chaldees part that besiege it, he shall saue his life, and shall winne his soule for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie (sayeth the Lorde) to plague it, and to doe it no good: it must bee giuen into the hande of the king of Babylon, and bee burnt with fire.

11 And vnto the house of the king of Juda say thus, Heare the word of the Lord:

Iere.22.3. 12 O thou house of Dauid, *thus sayth the Lorde, Minister righteousnesse, and that soone, deliuer the oppressed from violent power, or euer my terrible wrath breake out like a fire, and burne, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednesse of your imaginations.

13 Beholde, sayth the Lorde, I will come vpon thee that dwellest in the valleyes, rockes, and fieldes, and say, Tush, who will make vs afraide? or who will come into our houses?

14 For I will visit you, sayth the Lord, because of the wickednesse of your inuentions, & will kindle such a fire in your wood, as shall consume all that is about you.

The xxii. Chapter.

2 He exhorteth the king of Iuda to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Hierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Sellum the sonne of Iosias is prophecied.

1 THus sayth the Lorde, Goe downe into the house of the king of Juda, & speake there these wordes,

2 And say, Heare the word of the Lord, thou king of Juda, that sittest in the kingly seate of Dauid, thou, and thy seruantes, and thy people, that goeth in and out at these gates.

3 Thus the Lorde commandeth, *Keepe e- Iere.23.12.
quitie and righteousnesse, deliuer the oppressed from the power of the violent, doe not grieue nor oppresse the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widowe, and shead no innocent blood in this place.

4 And if yee keepe these thinges faythfully, then shall there come in at the doore of this house, kings to sit vpon Dauids seate, they shall bee carried in charrets, and ryde vpon horses, both they, and their seruants, and their people.

5 But if ye will not be obedient vnto these cõmandementes, I sweare by mine owne selfe, sayth the Lord, this house shalbe waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spokẽ vpon ỹ kings of Juda, Thou Gilead art vnto me the head of Libanus: shall I not make thee so waste as the cities that no man dwell in?

7 I wil prepare a destroier with his weapons for thee, to hewe downe thy especiall Cedar trees, and to cast them in the fire.

8 And all the people that go by this citie, shall speake one to another, *Wherefore hath the Deu.29.24. 3.king.9.8.
Lord done thus vnto this noble citie?

9 Then shall it bee answered, Because they haue broken the couenant of the Lorde their God, and haue worshipped and serued strange gods.

10 Mourne not ouer the dead, and bee not woe for them: but be sory for him that departeth away, for he commeth not againe, and seeth his native countrey no more.

11 For thus sayth the Lorde as touching Sellum the sonne of Josias king of Juda, which reigned after his father, When he is carried out of this place, he shall neuer come hither againe.

12 For hee shall dye in the place whereunto he is ledde captiue, and shall see this lande no more.

13 Wo worth him that buildeth his house with vnrighvnrighteousnesse, and his parlours with the good that he hath gotten by violence, which neuer recompenseth his neighbours labour, nor payeth him his hyre:

14 Who thinketh in himselfe, I will build me a wide house & gorgeous parlours, who causeth windowes to be hewen therin, & the seelings and ioystes maketh heof Cedar, & painteth them with Sinoper.

15 Thinkest thou to reigne nowe that thou hast inclosed thy selfe with Cedar? Did not thy father eate and drinke and prosper well, as long as he dealt with equitie & righteousnesse.

16 Yea: when he helped the oppressed and poore to their right, then prospered hee well: from whence came this, but onely because he knew me, sayth the Lord?

17 Neuertheless, as for thine eyes and thine heart they looke vpon couetousnesse, to shedde innocent blood, to do wrong and violence.

18 And therefore thus sayth the Lorde against Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Juda, They shall not mourne for him [as they vse to doe,] Alas brother, alas sister: neyther shall they say vnto him, Alas syr, alas for that noble prince.

19 But as an Asse shall he be buried, corrupt, & be cast without the gates of Hierusalem.

20 Clime vp the hill of Libanus, [O thou daughter Sion,] lift vp thy voyce vpon Basan, cry from all partes: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I gaue thee warning while thou wast yet in prosperitie: but thou saydest, I shall not heare: And this maner hast thou vsed from thy youth, that thou wouldest neuer heare my voyce.

22 All thy heardemen shall bee driuen with the winde, and thy darlings shall be caried away into captiuitie: then shalt thou be brought to shame and confusion, because of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest vpon Libanus, and makest thy nest in the Cedar trees, O howe litle shalt thou be regarded when thy sorowe and pangs come vpon thee, as vpon a woman trauailing with childe?

24 As truely as I liue, saith the Lord, Though ‖ Cononias the sonne of Iehoacim king of Juda were the signet of my right hande, yet will I plucke him off.

‖ Or, Iechonias.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the power of them that thou fearest, euen into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, & into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Moreouer, I will send thee and thy mother that bare thee into a strange land where yee were not borne, and there shall ye dye.

27 But as for the lande that yee will desire to returne vnto, ye shall neuer come at it againe.

28 This man Cononias shall be like an image robbed and torne in pieces, and like a vessell wherein there is no pleasure: Wherefore both he and his seede shalbe sent away, and cast into a land that they knowe not.

29 O thou earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus sayth the Lorde, Write this man destitute of children: for no prosperitie shall this man haue all his dayes, neither shall any of his seede bee so happie as to sit vpon the seate of Dauid, and to beare rule any more in Juda.

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 He speaketh against euill Curates that make hauocke of the flocke of the Lord. 5 The comming of the true shepheard Christ is prophecied. 9 Against false prophets. 32 The miracles of false prophets.

1 WOe vnto the *Shepheardes that destroy & scatter my flocke, saith the Lord. *Ezec. 34. 2.

2 Wherefore this is the saying of the Lord God of Israel concerning ỳ Shepheardes that feede my people, Yee scatter and thrust out my flocke, & looke not vpon them: therefore nowe wil I visite the wickednesse of your imaginations, saith the Lord.

3 *And I will gather together the remnant of my flocke from all landes that I had driuen them vnto, and will bring them againe to their foldes, that they may growe and increase. *Ezec. 34. 13.

4 I will set Shepheards also ouer thē, which shall feede them: they shall no more feare and dread, and there shall none of thē be lost, saith the Lord.

5 *Behold, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I will rayse vp the righteous branche of Dauid, which king shall beare rule, and he shall prosper with wisedome, and shall set vp equitie and righteousnesse againe in the earth. *The Epistle on the xx. sunday after Trinitie. Iere. 33. 14 esay. 4. 2.

6 *In his time shall Juda bee saued, and Israel shall dwell without feare: and this is the name that they shall call him, The Lorde our righteousnesse. *Deut. 33. 28.

7 And therefore beholde, the time commeth, sayth the Lorde, that it shall be no more sayde, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

8 But, *the Lord liueth, which brought forth and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North lande, and frō all countreys where I had scattered them: and they shall dwell in their owne land againe. *Iere. 16. 15.

9 My heart breaketh in my body, because of the [false] prophets, al my bones shake, I am become like a drunkē man, that by the reason of wine can take no rest for very feare of the Lord, and his holy words,

10 Because

10 Because the lande is full of adulterers, and through swearing it mourneth, and the pleasant pastures of the desart are dryed vp: yea the way that men take is wicked, their power is nothing right.

11 For the prophetes and the priestes themselues are polluted hypocrites, and their wickednesse haue I found in my house, sayth the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall bee slipperie in the darknes wherein they may stacker & fall: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 I haue seene folly among the prophets of Samaria that preached for Baal, and deceiued my people of Israel.

14 I haue seene also among the prophetes of Hierusalem foule adulterie, and presumptuous lyes: they take the most shamefull men by the hand, flattering them, so that they can not returne from their wickednesse, all these with their citizens are vnto mee as Sodome, and as the inhabiters of Gomorrhe.

Iere.9.25. 15 * Therefore thus sayth the Lorde of hostes concerning these prophets, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make thē drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Hierusalem is hypocrisie come into all the land.

16 And therfore the Lord of hostes giueth you this warning, Heare not the wordes of the prophetes that preache vnto you, and deceiue you, truely they teache you vanitie: for they speake the meaning of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say vnto them that despise me, The Lorde hath spoken it, Tush, ye shall prosper right well: and vnto all them that walke after the lust of their owne heart, they say, Tush, there shall no misfortune happen you.

18 For who hath sitten in the counsell of the Lord, that he hath heard and vnderstand what he is about to doe? who hath marked his deuice, and heard it?

19 Behold, the stormie weather of the Lorde, [that is,] his indignation shall goe forth, and a violent whirlewinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the vngodly.

20 And the wrath of the Lorde shall not turne againe, vntill hee performe and fulfill the thought of his heart: and in the latter dayes ye shall knowe this meaning.

Iere.14.15, and 27.21. 21 * I haue not sent these prophetes [sayeth the Lorde,] and yet they ran, I haue not spoken to them, and yet they preached.

22 But if they had continued in my counsell, they had opened to my people my words, and they had turned my people from their euill wayes and wicked imaginations.

23 Am I then God that seeth but the thing which is nigh at hande, & not that is farre off, sayth the Lord?

24 May any man hide himselfe so, that I shall not see him, sayth the Lord? doe not I fulfill heauen and earth, sayth the Lord?

25 I haue heard well ynough what the prophetes say that preach lyes in my name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 Howe long will this continue in the prophets heart to tell lyes, and preach the craftie subtiltie of their owne heart?

27 Whose purpose is with the dreames that euery one tell, to make my people forget my name, as their fathers did when Baal came vp.

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell it, and he that vnderstandeth my word, let him shewe it faithfully: for what hath chaffe and wheate to do together, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my worde like a fire, sayth the Lord, and like an hammer that breaketh the hard stone?

30 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will vpon the prophetes that steale my worde priuily from euery man.

31 Behold, here am I, sayth the Lorde, against the prophetes that make tongues tender to speake, and to say, The Lord hath sayd it.

32 Behold, here am I, sayth the Lorde, against those prophetes that dare prophecie lying dreames, and deceiue my people with their vanitie and inconstant deuices, yet I neuer sent nor commanded them: they shall doe this people no good at all, sayth the Lord.

33 If this people, either any prophet or priest aske thee, & say, What is the [a] burden of the Lord? Thou shalt say vnto them, What burden? I will forsake you, saith the Lord.

a The wicked mens hearts were so hardened against the truerth, þ they vsed scornefully to scoffe at Gods threatning prophecies in mockage, calling them Gods fardle or burden.

34 And the prophet, priest, or people, that vseth this terme, The burden of the Lord: him will I visite, and his house also.

35 But thus shall ye say euery one to another, and euery man to his brother, What answere hath the Lord giuen? or what is the Lordes commandement?

36 And as for the burden of the Lorde, ye shall speake no more of it, for euery mans owne worde is his burden: because ye haue altered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lorde of hostes our God.

37 Thus shall euery man say to the Prophets, What answere hath the Lord giuen thee? or what saieth the Lord?

38 And not once to name the burden of the Lord. Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, For as much as yee haue vsed this terme, (The burden of the Lord) whereas I notwithstanding sent vnto you, and forbade you to speake of the Lordes burden:

39 Beholde, therefore I will take you vp as a burden, and will cast you farre off from my presence, yea, and the citie also that I gaue you you and your fathers:

Iere.29.11. 40 *And will bring you to an euerlasting confusion, and into a shame that shall neuer be forgotten.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 The vision of the two paniers of figges. 5 The first vision signifieth, that part of ỹ people should be brought againe from captiuitie: 8 the seconde, that Zedecias and the rest of the people should be destroyed.

1 THe Lord shewed me a vision: beholde, there stood two maundes of figges before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylō had led away captiue Iechonias the sonne of Iehoacim king of Juda, the mighty men also of Juda, with the workemasters and cunning men of Hierusalem, vnto Babylon.

2 In the one maunde were very good figges, euen like those that be first ripe: in the other maunde were very naughtie figges, which might not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then sayde the Lorde vnto me, What seest thou, Jeremie? I said, Figges, whereof some be very good, and some so euill that no man may eate them.

4 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, after this maner:

5 Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Like as thou knowest the good figges: so shall I knowe the men led away, whom I haue sent out of this place, into the lande of the Chaldees for their profit:

6 And I will set mine eyes vpon them for the best, for I will bring them againe into this lande, I will builde them vp, and not breake them downe, I will plant them, and not roote them out.

Iere.1.33. 7 *I will giue them an heart to knowe howe that I am the Lorde, they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shal returne vnto me with their whole heart.

Iere.29.17. 8 *And like as thou knowest the naughtie figges which may not be eaten, they are so euill: euen so will I, sayth the Lord, cause Zedecias the king of Juda, yea, and all his princes, and the residue of Hierusalem ỹ remaine ouer in this land, and them also that dwell in Egypt, to be vexed & plagued in kingdomes and lands.

9 And I will make them to bee a reproofe, a common byworde, a laughing stocke and shame in all the places where I shall scatter them.

10 I will send the sworde, hunger, & pestilence among them, vntill I haue cleane consumed them out of the land that I gaue vnto thē and their fathers.

The xxv. Chapter.

Ieremie prophecieth that they shalbe in captiuitie threescore and ten yeres, because they contemned and despised the word of God.

1 A Sermon that was giuē vnto Jeremie vpon al the people of Juda, in ỹ fourth yere of Iehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda (that was in the first yere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon,)

2 Which sermon Jeremie the Prophet made vnto all the people of Juda, and to all the inhabiters of Hierusalem, on this maner,

3 From the thirteenth yere of Josias ỹ sonne of Amon king of Juda, vnto this present day (that is euen twentie & three yeres) the word of the Lord hath bene committed vnto me, & so haue I spoken vnto you, I haue risen vp earely, I haue giuen you warning in season: but ye would not heare me.

4 Though the Lord hath sent his seruants all the Prophets vnto you in season; yet would ye not obey, ye would not encline your eares to heare.

5 Ye sayde, *Turne againe euery man from his euill way, and from your wicked imaginations, and so shall ye dwell for euer in the lande that the Lorde promised you and your forefathers. 4.Kin.17.13. Iohn.3.3.

6 And goe not after strange gods, serue them not, worship them not, and anger me not with the workes of your owne handes, then will I not punish you.

7 Neuertheless, ye would not heare mee, sayth the Lorde, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your handes, to your great harme.

8 Wherefore thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Because yee haue not hearkened vnto my worde, 9 Loe, I will sende out, and call for all the people that dwell in the North, sayeth the Lorde, and will prepare Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and will bring them vpon this lande, and vpon all that dwell therein, and vpon all the people that are about them, and will vtterly roote them out: I will make them amazed, a mockage, and a continuall desart.

10 Moreouer, I will take from them the voyce of gladnesse and solace, the voyce of the bridegrome, & the bride, the noyse of the milstones, and the light of the cressets.

11 And this whole land shall become a wildernesse, and astonished: and these nations shall serue the king of Babylon threescore yeeres and tenne.

12 *When the threescore and tenne yeeres are expired, I wil visite all the wickednesse of the king of Babylon, and his people, sayeth the Lorde, yea, and the land of the Chaldees, and wil make it a perpetuall wildernesse, Iere.26.10. 2.chro.36.21. 1.esdr.1.1. dan.9.2.

13 And wil fulfil all my wordes vpon that land which I haue deuised against it & yea, all that is written in this booke, which Jeremie hath prophecied of all people.

14 For

14 So that they also shalbe subdued vnto diuers nations, and great kings: for I will recompense them according to the deedes & workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lorde God of Israel spoken vnto mee, *Take this wine cuppe of indignation fro my hande, that thou mayest cause all people to whome I send thee, for to drinke of it:

Apo.16.19.

16 That when they haue dronken thereof, they may be mad, and out of their wits, when the sword commeth that I will sende among them.

17 Thē tooke I the cup from the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke thereof, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 But first the citie of Hierusalem, and all the cities of Iuda, their kings & princes, to make them desolate, amazed, despised, and hissed at, and cursed, according as it is come to passe this day:

19 Yea, and Pharao the king of Egypt, his seruants, his princes, and his people, altogether one with another:

20 And all kings of the land of Hus, all kings of the Philistines land, Ascalon, Azah, Accaron, and the remnant of Asdod,

21 The Edomites, the Moabites, and the Ammonites,

22 All the kings of Tyrus & Sidon, the kings of the Iles that are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, Thema, Buz, & all thē that dwell in the vttermost parts of the world,

24 All the kings of Arabia, and [generally] al the kings that dwell in the desart,

25 All the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, all the kings of the Medes, 26 All the kings towarde the North, whether they bee farre or nigh, euery one against his neighbour, yea, all the kingdomes that are vpon the whole earth: and the king of Sesach shall drinke also after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, This is the commandement of the Lord of hostes ỹ God of Israel, Drinke, and be dronken: spewe, and fall, that ye neuer arise, and that through the sword which I will send among you.

28 But if they will not receiue the cuppe of thy hand, and drinke it, then tell them, thus doeth the Lorde of hostes threaten you, Drinke it you shall, and that shortly.

29 For loe, *I beginne to plague the citie that my name is giuen vnto, thinke ye then that I will leaue you vnpunished? ye shall not goe quite: for why? I call for a sworde vpon all the inhabiters of the earth, sayth the Lord of hostes.

1.Pet.4.17.

30 Therefore tell them all these words, and say vnto them, *The Lord shall cry from aboue, and his voyce shall be heard from his holy habitation, with a great noyse shall he cry from his court regall: hee shall giue a great voyce like the grape gatherers, & the sounde thereof shalbe heard vnto the endes of the world.

Ioel 3.16. amos 1.2.

31 For the Lord hath a iudgement to giue vpon al people, and will hold his court of iustice with all flesh, and will deliuer the vngodly to the sword, sayth the Lord.

32 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, a miserable plague shall goe from one people to another, and a great stormie water shall arise from all the endes of the earth.

33 And the same day shall the Lorde him selfe slay them from one ende of the earth to an other: there shall no mone bee made for any of thē, none gathered vp, none buried: but shall lye as doung vpon the ground.

34 Mourne, O ye shepheardes, & cry, sprinckle your selues with ashes, O yee rammes of the flocke: for the time of your slaughter & breach is fulfilled, and yee shall fall like vessels that were much set by.

35 The shepheards shall haue no way to flee, & the rammes of the flocke shall not escape.

36 Then shall the shepheards cry horribly, and the rammes of the flocke shall mourne: for the Lord hath consumed their pasture, 37 And their best fieldes lie dead, because of the horrible wrath of the Lord.

38 They haue forsaken their foldes like as a Lion: for their lande is waste, because of the spoylers furious crueltie, and of his fearefull indignation.

The xxvi. Chapter.

2 Ieremie moueth the people to amendemēt. 7 He is taken of the prophets & priests, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrias the Prophet is killed of Iehoacim, cōtrary to the will of God.

1 IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this worde from the Lorde, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lorde, Stande in the court of the Lordes house, and speake vnto all them which (out of the citie of Iuda) come to doe worship in the Lords house, al the words that I command thee to say: looke that thou keepe not one word backe.

3 (If peraduenture they will hearken & turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may also repent of the plague which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of their wicked inuentions.)

4 And after this maner shalt thou speake vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde, If ye will not obey me, to walke in my lawes which I haue giuen you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruantes the Prophetes whom I sent vnto you, rising vp earely, and still sending, yet you haue not hearkened:

6 Then will I doe to this house, * as I did vnto

1.King.4.14

vnto Silo, and will make this citie to be abhorred of all the people of the earth.

7 And the priestes, the prophetes, and all the people heard Ieremie preache these wordes in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when he had spoken out all the wordes that the Lord commanded him to preache vnto the people, then the priestes, the prophets, and all the people tooke holde vpon him, and saide, Thou shalt die:

9 How darest thou be so bolde as to say in the name of ỹ Lord, It shall happen to this house as it did vnto Silo, and this citie shalbe so waste, that no man may dwell therein? And when all the people were gathered about Ieremie in the house of the Lord, ỹ princes of Iuda heard of this rumour, and they came soone out of the kings palace into the house of the Lord, & sate them downe before the newe doore of the Lord.

11 Then spake the priests & the prophets vnto the rulers, and to al the people these wordes, This man is worthy to die: for he hath preached against this citie, as ye your selues haue heard with your eares.

12 Then saide Ieremie vnto the rulers, and to al ỹ people, The Lord hath sent me to preach against this house, and against this citie, all the wordes that ye haue heard.

13 *Therefore amende your wayes, and your aduisements, and be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lorde your God, so shall the Lorde repent of the plague that he hath deuised against you.

14 Nowe as for me, I am in your handes, doe with me as you thinke expedient and good:

15 But this shall ye knowe, if ye put mee to death, ye shall make your selues, this citie, and all the inhabitants thereof, guiltie of innocent blood: for this is of a trueth, that the Lorde hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then saide the rulers and the people vnto the priestes and prophets, This man may not be condemned to death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lord our God.

17 The elders also of the lande stoode vp, and said thus vnto all the people, 18 Micheas the Morasthite, which was a Prophet vnder Ezecias king of Iuda, spake to all the people of Iuda, Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, *Sion shalbe plowed like a fielde, Hierusalem shalbe an heape of stones, and the hill of the Lordes house shalbe turned to an high wood.

Mich. 3. 12.

19 Did Ezecias the king of Iuda, and all the people of Iuda put him to death for this? No verily, but rather feared the Lorde, and made their prayer vnto him, for the which cause also the Lorde [a] repented of the plague that he had deuised against thē: shoulde we then doe such a shamefull deede against our soules?

a In the diuine nature there is no such affections or changeablenes: but God is said after ỹ maner of men to repent, whē he doth not execute that he had denounced, or doth defer the plague which he had threatened.

20 There was a Prophet that preached stiffely in the name of the Lorde, called Urias, the sonne of Semaiah of Ciriath-iarim: this man also preached against this citie, and against this land, according to all as Ieremie saieth.

21 Nowe when Iehoacim the king, with all the estates & princes, had heard his wordes, the king went about to slay him: when Urias perceiued that, he was afraide, and fled, and departed into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoacim the king sent seruantes into the land of Egypt, [namely,] Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine men with him into Egypt:

23 Which fetched Urias out of Egypt, and brought him vnto king Iehoacim, that slue him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the common peoples graue.

24 But Ahicam the sonne of Saphan helped Ieremie, that he came not into the handes of the people to be slaine.

The xxvii. Chapter.

1 Ieremie at the commandement of the Lorde, sendeth bondes to the king of Iuda, and to the other kings that were nigh, whereby they are monished to become subiectes vnto Nabuchodonosor. 9 He warneth the people, and the kings and rulers, that they beleeue not false prophets.

1 IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoacim ỹ sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word vnto Ieremie from the Lorde, which spake thus vnto me,

2 Make thee bondes and chaines, & put them about thy necke,

3 And sende them to the king of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of Ammon, to the king of Tyrus, & to the king of Sidon, and that by the messengers which shall come to Hierusalem, vnto Zedecias the king of Iuda:

4 And bid them say vnto their maisters, Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Speake thus vnto your maisters:

5 I am he that made the earth, the men, & the cattell that are vpon the grounde, with my great power and stretched out arme, and hath giuen it to whom it pleased me.

6 And now will I deliuer all these landes into the power of Nabuchodonosor ỹ king of Babylon my seruant: the beastes also of the field will I giue him, to doe him seruice.

7 And al the people shal serue him, & his sonne, and his childrens children, vntill the time of the same land be come, and his time also: yea many people and great kings shal serue him.

8 Moreouer, that people and kingdome which will not serue Nabuchodonosor, and that will not put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon: the same people will I visite with the swoꝛde, with hunger and pestilence, vntill I haue consumed them in his handes, saieth the Loꝛde.

9 And therefoꝛe followe not your pꝛophetes, soothsayers, expounders of dꝛeames, charmers, and witches, which say vnto you, Ye shall not serue the king of Babylon.

10 Foꝛ they pꝛeach you lyes, to bꝛing you farre from your lande, and that I might cast you out, and destroy you.

11 But the people that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saieth the Loꝛd, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 All these things tolde I Zedecias the king of Juda, and said, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wilt thou and thy people perish with the swoꝛd, with hunger, with pestilence, like as the Loꝛde hath deuised foꝛ all people that will not serue the king of Babylon?

14 Therefoꝛe giue no eare vnto those pꝛophets that tell you, Ye shall not serue the king of Babylon: foꝛ they pꝛeach you lyes.

Iere.14.15. 15 *Neither haue I sent them, saieth the Loꝛd: howbeit they are bolde falsely to pꝛophecie in my name, that I might the sooner dꝛiue you out, and that ye might perish with your pꝛeachers.

16 I speake to the Pꝛiests also, and to all this people: thus saieth the Loꝛde, Heare not the woꝛds of your pꝛophets ẏ pꝛeache vnto you, and say, Behold, the vessels of ẏ Loꝛds house shall shoꝛtly be bꝛought hither againe from Babylon, foꝛ they pꝛophecie lyes vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babylon, that ye may liue: wheꝛefoꝛe will ye make this citie to be destroyed?

18 But if they be true Pꝛophets in very deede, and if the woꝛd of the Loꝛd be committed vnto them, then let them pray ẏ Loꝛd of hostes, that the remnant of the oꝛnaments which are in the house of the Loꝛde, and in the house of the king of Juda and at Hieꝛusalem, be not carried to Babylon also.

4.King.25.13. 19 *Foꝛ thus hath the Loꝛde of hostes spoken concerning the pillars, the lauer, the seate, and the residue of the oꝛnaments that yet remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nabuchodonosoꝛ ẏ king of Babylon tooke not, whē he carried away Iechonias the sonne of Iehoacim king of Juda, with all the power of Juda and Hieꝛusalem vnto Babylon captiue.

21 Yea, thus hath the Loꝛde of hostes the God of Israel spoken, as touching ẏ residue of the oꝛnaments of the Loꝛdes house, of the king of Juda his house, and of Hieꝛusalem:

3.Esdr.1. 22 *They shalbe carryed vnto Babylon, and there shall they remaine vntill I visite them, saieth the Loꝛde: then will I bꝛing them hither againe.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 The false prophecie of Hananias the prophet. 12 Ieremie sheweth that the prophecie of Hananias is false, by the example of the other Pꝛophets.

1 AND it came to passe the same yeere, euen in the beginning of the reigne of Zedecias king of Juda, in the fourth yeere, the fifth moneth, that Hananias the sonne of Assur the pꝛophet of Gibeon, spake to me in the *house of the Loꝛde, in 1.King.3.4. the pꝛesence of the pꝛiests, and of all the people, and saide,

2 Thus saieth the Loꝛde of hostes, the God of Israel, I haue bꝛoken the yoke of the king of Babylon,

3 And after two yeeres will I bꝛing againe into this place all the oꝛnaments of the Loꝛdes house, ẏ Nabuchodonosoꝛ king of Babylon̄ carried away fꝛom this place vnto Babylon,

4 Yea, I will bꝛing againe Iechonias the sonne of Iehoacim the King of Juda himselfe, with all the pꝛisoners of Juda that are carried vnto Babylon, euen into this place, saieth the Loꝛd: foꝛ I will bꝛeake the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 Then the Pꝛophet Ieremie gaue answere vnto the pꝛophet Hananias befoꝛe all the pꝛiests, and befoꝛe al the people that were pꝛesent in the house of the Loꝛde.

6 And the Pꝛophet Ieremie saide, Amen, the Loꝛde doe that, and graunt the thing which thou hast pꝛophecied, that he may bꝛing againe all the oꝛnaments of the Loꝛdes house, and resoꝛe all the pꝛisoners fꝛom Babylon into this place.

7 Neuertheless, hearkē thou also what I wil say, that thou and all the people may heare.

8 The Pꝛophets that were befoꝛe vs in time past, which pꝛophecied of warre, oꝛ trouble, oꝛ pestilence, 9 Either of peace vpon many nations & great kingdomes, were pꝛoued by this (if God hath sent them in very deede) when ẏ thing came to passe which the Pꝛophet tolde befoꝛe.

10 And Hananias the pꝛophet tooke the chaine fꝛom ẏ Pꝛophet Ieremies necke, & bꝛake it.

11 And with that said Hananias that all ẏ people might heare, Thus hath the Loꝛd spokē, Euen so will I bꝛeake the yoke of Nabuchodonosoꝛ king of Babylon fꝛom the necke of al nations, yea, & that within this two yeere. And so the Pꝛophet Ieremie went his way.

12 Now after that Hananias the pꝛophet had taken the chaine fꝛom the Pꝛophet Ieremies necke, and bꝛoken it, the woꝛde of the Loꝛde came vnto the Pꝛophet Ieremie, saying,

13 Goe and tell Hananias these woꝛdes, Thus saieth the Loꝛd, Thou hast bꝛoken the chaine

of wood, but in steade of wood thou shalt make chaines of yron.

14 For thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I will put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all this people, that they may serue Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea, and so shall they doe: and I will giue him the beastes of the fielde.

15 Then said the Prophet Ieremie vnto ỹ prophet Hananias, Heare me, Hananias, The Lorde hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false belicfe.

16 And therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, I will sende thee out of the lande, and within a yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast falsly spoken against the Lord.

17 So Hananias died the same yeere in the seuenth moneth.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 The Epistle of Ieremie sent vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 He prophecieth their returne from the captiuitie after seuentie yeeres.

1 These are the wordes of the booke that Ieremie ỹ Prophet sent from Hierusalem vnto the prisoners, the senators, priestes, prophets, and all the people, whom Nabuchodonosor had led from Hierusalem vnto Babylon,

2 After the time that king Iechonias and his queene, his chamberlaines, the princes of Iuda and Hierusalem, the workmasters of Hierusalem, were departed thither.

3 Which booke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, and Gamariah the sonne of Helcia did beare, whom Zedecias the king of Iuda sent vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon: these were the wordes of Ieremies booke.

4 Thus hath the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto al the prisoners that were fled from Hierusalem to Babylon:

5 Builde you houses to dwell therein, plant you gardens, that you may enioy the fruites thereof.

6 Take you wiues to beare you sonnes and daughters, prouide wiues for your sonnes, & husbandes for your daughters, that they may get sonnes and daughters, and that ye may multiply there, and decrease not.

7 Seeke after the peace and prosperitie of the citie wherein ye be prisoners, and pray vnto the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof shall your peace be.

8 For thus saieth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *Let not these prophets and soothsayers that be among you deceiue you, and beleeue not your owne dreames:

9 For why? they preach you lies in my name, and I haue not sent them, saieth the Lord.

10 But thus saieth the Lord, *When ye haue fulfilled seuentie yeeres at Babylon, I will bring you home, and of mine owne goodnesse I wil carrie you hither againe into this place.

11 For I know what I haue deuised for you, saieth the Lorde: my thoughtes are to giue you peace, and not trouble, and to giue you an ende as you wish and hope to haue.

12 Ye shall cry vnto me, ye shall goe and cal vpon me, and I will heare you.

13 Ye shall seeke me, and finde me: yea, if so be that you seeke me with your whole heart,

14 I will be founde of you, saieth the Lord, and will deliuer you out of prison, and gather you together againe out of all places wherein I haue scattered you, sayth the Lord, & wil bring you againe to the same place from whence I caused you to be carried away captiue.

15 But whereas ye say that God hath raised you vp prophets at Babylon, 16 Thus hath the Lorde spoken to the king that sitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to all the people that dwell in the citie, [and] to your brethren that are not gone with you into captiuitie:

17 Thus [I say] speaketh the Lorde of hostes, *Beholde, I will send a sworde, hunger, and pestilence vpon them, and will make them like vntimely figges that may not be eaten for bitternesse:

18 And I wil persecute them with the sworde, with hunger, and pestilence, I will deliuer them vp to be vexed of all kingdomes, to be cursed, abhorred, laughed to scorne, and put to confusion of all the people among whom I haue scattered them:

19 And that because they haue not bene obedient vnto my commandementes, saieth the Lorde, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets: I stoode vp earely, and sent vnto them, but they would not heare, saieth the Lorde.

20 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, all ye prisoners, whom I sent from Hierusalem to Babylon, 21 Thus hath the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel spokē of Ahab the sonne of Cholaiah, and of Zedecias the sonne of Maasiah, which prophecie lies vnto you in my name, Behold, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may slay them before your eyes.

22 And all the prisoners of Iuda that are in Babylon, shall take this terme of cursing, and say, Now God doe vnto thee as he did vnto Zedecias and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon rosted in the fire, 23 Because they sinned shamefully in Israel: for they haue not onely defiled their neighbours wiues, but also preached lying wordes in my name, which I haue not commanded them: this I testifie & assure, sayth the Lorde.

Ieremie 25.10. 2.chr. 36.22. 1.esdr. 1.1. dan. 9.1.

Ieremie 14.8.

24 But as for Semeiah the Nehelamite, thou shalt speake vnto him:
25 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Because thou hast sent letters in thine owne name vnto all the people that is at Hierusalem, & to Sophoniah the sonne of Maa-siah the priest, yea and sent them to all the priests, saying,
26 The Lorde hath ordeined thee to be priest in the steade of Iehoiada the priest, that thou shouldest be chiefe in the house of the Lorde aboue all prophets and preachers, and that thou mightest set them vpon the pillorie, or in the stockes.
27 Howe happeneth it then that thou hast not reproued Ieremie of Anathoth, which neuer leaueth off his prophecying?
28 And beside all this, he hath sent vs worde vnto Babylon, and tolde vs plainely that our captiuitie shall long endure, that we shoulde builde vs houses to dwell therein, & to plant vs gardens, that we may enioy the fruites thereof.
29 Which letter Sophonias the priest read, and let Ieremie the Prophet heare it.
30 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto Ieremie, saying,
31 Send worde to all them that be in captiui-tie, on this maner, Thus hath the Lord spoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite:
Because that Semeiah hath prophecied vnto you without my commission, and brought you into a false hope:
32 Therefore thus the Lord doeth certifie you,
Beholde, I wil visite Semeiah the Nehela-mite and his seede, so that none of his shall re-maine among this people, and none of them shall see the good that I will doe for my people, saieth the Lorde, for he hath preached falsely of the Lord.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 8 God by his chastening sheweth that ỹ people is sinful. 16 The destruction of the enemies of Israel.

1 THese are the wordes that the Lord sheweth vnto Ieremie, saying,
2 Thus saieth the Lord God of Israel,
Write vp diligently al the words that
I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.
3 For loe, the time commeth, saieth the Lord, that I will bring againe the prisoners of my people of Israel and Iuda, saieth the Lorde: for I will restore them vnto the land that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall haue it in possession.
4 Againe, these wordes spake the Lorde concerning Israel and Iuda,
5 Thus saieth the Lorde, We haue heard a terrible cry, feare, and disquietnesse.
6 For what else doeth this signifie that I see?
[namely,] that all strong men smite euerie man his hand vpon his loynes, as a woman in the paine of her trauaile? Who euer sawe a man trauaile with childe? Enquire thereafter and see, yea, all their faces are marueilous pale.
7 *Alas for this day, which is so dreadfull Ioel. 2. 11.
that none may be likened vnto it, and alas for amos 5. 10.
the time of Iacobs trouble, from the which soph. 1. 15.
he shall yet be deliuered.
8 For in that day, saieth the Lorde of hostes,
I will take his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shal no more haue dominion ouer him:
9 But they shall doe seruice vnto God their Lord, and to Dauid their king, whom I will raise vp vnto them.
10 *And as for thee, O my seruant Iacob, feare Esai 44. 1.
not, saieth the Lord, and be not afraide, O Is- luke 1. 70.
rael: for loe, I will helpe thee also from farre, & thy seede from the land of their capti-uitie: and Iacob shall turne againe, he shalbe in rest, and haue a prosperous life, and no man shall make him afraide:
11 For I am with thee, to helpe thee, saieth the Lorde: and though I shall destroy all the people, among whom I haue scattered thee, yet will I not destroy thee, but correct thee, and that with discretion: for I will not vtterly destroy thee.
12 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Thy brusings are perillous, and thy woundes readie to cast thee into sicknesse.
13 There is no man to meddle with thy cause, or to lay a plaister vpon thee, or to binde vp thy woundes to heale thee.
14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee, and care nothing for thee: for I haue giuē thee a cruel stroke, and chastened thee roughly, and that for the multitude of thy misdeedes: for thy sinnes haue had the ouerhand.
15 *Why makest thou mone for thy harme? In Iere. 15. 18.
deede thou art sore wounded & in ieopardie:
but for the multitude of thy misdeedes and sinnes I haue done this vnto thee.
16 And therefore al they that deuour thee, shal-be deuoured, and all thine enemies shalbe led into captiuitie: all they that make thee waste, shalbe wasted themselues, and all those that robbe thee, will I make also to be robbed.
17 For I will giue thee thy health againe, and make thy woundes whole, saieth the Lorde, because they reuiled thee, as one cast away and despised: Sion [said they] is she whom no man regardeth.
18 For thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iacobs tentes, and defend his dwelling place: the citie shal-be builded in her olde estate, and the houses shall haue their right foundation.
19 And out of them shall goe thankesgiuing and the voyce of ioy: I will multiplie them,
and

and they shall not be fewe, I will endue them with honour, and no man shal subdue them.

20 Their children shalbe as aforetime, & their congregation shall continue in my sight: and all those that vexe them will I visite.

21 A captaine also shal come of them, & a prince shal spring out from the middest of them, him will I chalenge to my selfe, and he shall come vnto me: for what is he that giueth ouer his heart to come vnto me, saieth the Lord?

22 Ye shalbe my people also, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, on the other side shall the wrath of the Lorde breake out as a stormie water, as a mightie whirle winde, and shall fall vpon the heades of the vngodly.

24 The terrible displeasure of the Lorde shall not leaue off, vntill he haue done and performed the intent of his heart, which in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that the people of Israel shalbe restored againe vnto their prosperitie. 18 To be turned from sinne, is the gift of God. 27 The birth of Christ is prophecied.

1 AT the same time, saieth the Lord, shall I be the God of all the generations of Israel, and they shalbe my people:

2 Thus saieth the Lorde, The people of Israel which escaped in the wildernesse from the sworde, founde grace to come into their rest.

3 Euen so shall the Lorde nowe also appeare vnto me from farre, [and say,] I loue thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore by my mercie I haue drawen thee vnto me.

4 I wil repaire thee againe, O thou daughter of Israel, that thou maiest be fast and sure: thou shalt take thy tabrettes againe, and goe forth with them that leade the daunce:

5 Thou shalt plant vines againe vpon the hils of Samaria, and the grape gatherers shall plant, and commonly eate of it.

6 For the dayes shall come when the watchmē vpō the mount of Ephraim shal cry, Arise, let vs goe vp vnto Sion to our Lord God.

7 For thus saieth ỳ Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse because of Jacob, cry vnto the head of the Gentiles, speake out, sing & say, O Lord saue thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them againe from out of the North land, and gather them from the endes of the world, with the blinde and lame that are among them, with the women that be great with childe, and such as be also deliuered: and the companie of them that come againe shalbe great.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercifull pitie wil I bring them hither againe: I will leade them to the riuers of water in a straight way where they shall not stumble: for I am Israels father, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Heare the worde of the Lorde, O ye Gentiles, preach in the Iles that lie farre off, and say, He that hath scattered Israel shal gather him together againe, and shall keepe him as a shepheard doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and rid him from the hand of the violent.

12 And they shall come & reioyce vpon the hill of Sion, & shal haue plenteousnesse of goods, which the Lorde shall giue them, [namely] wheate, wine, oyle, young sheepe, and calues: and their soule shalbe as a well watered garden, for they shall no more be hungry.

13 Then shall the maide reioyce in the daunce, yea both young and olde folkes: for I will turne their sorrowe into gladnesse, and will comfort them from their sorrowes, and make them ioyfull.

14 I wil powre plenteousnes vpon the heartes of the priests, and my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnesse, saieth the Lord.

15 Thus saieth the Lord, * The voyce of heauinesse, weeping, and lamentatiō was heard on high, euen of Rachel mourning for her children, and woulde not be comforted, because they were not. * Mat. 2. 18.

16 But now, saieth the Lorde, Leaue off from weeping and crying, withholde thine eyes from teares: for thy labour shalbe rewarded, saieth the Lorde, and they shall come againe out of the land of their enemies.

17 Yea, euē thy posteritie shall haue consolatiō in this, saieth the Lord, that thy children shal come againe into their owne land.

18 Moreouer, I heard Ephraim that was led away captiue complaine on this maner, O Lord, thou hast corrected me, and thy chastening haue I receiued as an vntamed calfe, conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art my Lord God.

19 Yea, as soone as thou turnest me, I shall repent me my selfe, & when I vnderstand, I shal smite vpon my thigh, for verily I haue committed shameful things: for I haue borne the reproofe and confusion of my youth.

20 Upon this complaint I thought thus by my selfe, Is not Ephraim my deare sonne? Is he not the childe with whom I haue had all my mirth and pastime? For since the time that I first communed with him, I haue him euer in remembrance: therefore my heart mooueth me vnto him, gladly and louingly will I haue mercie vpon him, saieth the Lord.

21 Make thy selfe markes, set vp heapes of stone, set thine heart vpon the way that thou diddest walke, and turne againe, O thou daughter of Israel, turne againe to these cities of thine.

22 Howe long wilt thou goe astray, O thou shrinking daughter: for the Lord will worke a newe thing vpon earth: A woman shall compasse a man.

23 For thus saieth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, It will come thereto, that when I haue brought Juda out of captiuitie, these wordes shalbe heard in the land and in his cities, The Lord blesse thee, O thou dwelling place of righteousnesse, O thou holy hill.

24 And there shall dwell Juda and all her cities, the Shepeheardes and husbandmen:

25 For I will feede the hungry soule, and refresh all faint hearts.

26 When I heard this, I came againe to my selfe, I sawe like as I had bene waked out of a sweete sleepe:

27 Beholde, saieth the Lorde, the dayes come that I will sowe the house of Israel and the house of Juda with men and with cattell.

28 Yea, it shal come thereto, that like as I haue gone about in times past to roote them out, to scatter them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: euen so will I also go diligently about to build them vp againe, and to plant them, saieth the Lord.

Ezec.18.3. 29 Then shal it no more be said, * The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 For euery one shall die for his owne misdeedes: so that whoso eateth a sowre grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

Heb.8.8. 31 * Beholde, the dayes will come, saieth the Lord, that I will make a new couenant with the house of Israel, and the house of Juda:

32 Not after the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by ẏ hande, and ledde them out of the lande of Egypt, which couenant they brake, yea, euen when I as an husband had rule ouer them, saieth the Lorde.

33 But this shalbe the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those dayes, saieth the Lord, * I will plant my law in the inward partes of them, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

Iere.24.7. luke 1.57. heb.8.10.

34 And from thencefoorth shall no man teache his neighbour or his brother, & say, * Knowe the Lord: but they shal al know me from the lowest vnto the highest, saieth the Lord: * for I will forgiue their misdeedes, and will neuer remember their sinnes any more.

esai 54.13. amos 6.45. Act.10.43.

35 Thus saieth the Lord, which gaue ẏ Sunne to be a light for the day, and the Moone and the starres to shine in the night, which mooueth the sea, so that the floods thereof waxe fierce, his name is the Lord of hostes, 36 Like as this ordinance shall neuer be taken out of my sight, saieth the Lorde, so shall the seede of Israel neuer cease, but alway be a people before me.

37 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lord, Like as the heauen aboue cannot be measured, and as the foundations of the earth beneath may not be sought out, so will I also cast out the whole seede of Israel, for that they haue committed, saieth the Lord.

38 Beholde, the dayes come, saieth the Lorde, that the citie of ẏ Lord shalbe enlarged, from the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner wall.

39 From thence shall the right measure be taken before her vnto the hill top of Gareb, and shall come about Gaath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead carkeises, and of the ashes, and all the fieldes, vnto the brooke of Cedron, and vnto the corner of the horse gate toward the East, it shalbe holy vnto the Lord, and shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any more.

The xxxii. Chapter.

1 Ieremie is cast into prison, because he prophecied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon.

1 THese words spake the Lord vnto Jeremie, in the tenth yeere of Zedecias king of Juda, which was the eyghteenth yeere of Nabuchodonosor,

2 What time as ẏ king of Babylons host laid siege vnto Hierusalem: but Jeremie the Prophet lay bound in the court of ẏ prison, which was in the king of Judaes house,

3 Where Zedecias the king of Juda caused him to be laide, because he had propheried on this maner, Thus saieth the Lord, Behold, I will deliuer this citie into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall take it.

4 As for Zedecias the king of Juda, he shal not be able to escape the Chaldees: but surely he shall come into the hands of the king of Babylon, which shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and one of them shal looke another in the face.

5 And Zedecias shalbe carried vnto Babylon, and there shal he be vntill the time that I visite him, saieth the Lord: but if thou takest in hand to fight against the Chaldees, thou shalt not prosper.

6 And Jeremie said, Thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me,

7 Behold, Hananeel ẏ sonne of Sellum thine vncles sonne shall come vnto thee, & require thee to redeeme the land ẏ lyeth in Anathoth vnto thy selfe: for by reason of kinred it is thy right to redeeme it, and buy it out.

8 And Hananeel mine vncles sonne came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lorde, and said vnto me, Buy my land, I pray thee, that lieth in Anathoth in ẏ countrey of Beniamin, for by heritage thou hast right to loose it out for thy selfe, therefore redeeme it. Then I perceiued that this was the commandement of the Lord:

9 And

9 And so I bought the land from Hananeel of Anathoth mine vncles sonne, and weyghed him there the money, euen seuen sicles, and ten siluer pence:

10 And I writ it in a booke, and sealed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him there the money vpon the weightes.

11 So I tooke the euidence with the copie when it was orderly sealed.

12 And I gaue the euidence to Baruch the sonne of Neriah the sonne of Maasiah, in the sight of Hananeel my cousin, and in the presence of the witnesses that be named in the euidence, and before all the Iewes that were there by in the court of the prison.

13 I charged Baruch also before them, saying,

14 The Lord of hostes the God of Israel commandeth [thee] to take this sealed euidence with the copie, and to lay it in an earthen vessel, that it may long continue.

15 For the Lord of hostes ỹ God of Israel hath determined, that houses, fieldes, and vineyardes shalbe possessed againe in this land.

16 Nowe when I had deliuered the euidence vnto Baruch ỹ sonne of Neriah, I besought the Lord, saying, 17 O Lord God, it is thou that hast made heauen and earth with thy great power and high arme, and there is nothing hid from thee.

Exod.34.7. deut.5.9. 18 * Thou shewest mercie vpon thousandes, thou recompensest the wickednesse of the fathers into the bosome of the children that come after them.

19 Thou art the great & mightie God, whose name is the Lord of hostes, great in counsell, and excellent in worke, thine eyes looke vpon all the wayes of mens children, to reward euery one after his way, and according to the fruites of his inuentions.

20 Thou hast done great tokens and wonders in the land of Egypt, as we see this day, vpon the people of Israel, and vpon those men, to make thy name great, as it is come to passe this day.

21 Thou hast brought thy people of Israel out of the land of Egypt with tokens, with wonders, with a mightie hande, with a stretched out arme, and with great terriblenesse:

22 And hast giuen them this land, like as thou haddest promised vnto their fathers, [namely,] that thou wouldest giue them a land that floweth with milke and hony.

23 Now when they came therein and possessed it, they followed not thy voyce, and walked not in thy law: but al that thou commandedst them to doe, that haue they not done, & therefore come all these plagues vpon them.

24 Beholde, there are bulwarkes made nowe against the citie to take it, & it shalbe wonne of the Chaldees that besiege it with sworde, with hunger, and death: and looke what thou hast spoken, that same shall come vpon them, for loe, all things are present vnto thee.

25 Yet sayest thou vnto me, O Lorde God, and commãdest me that I shal buy a piece of land vnto my selfe for money, and take witnesses thereto: and yet in the meane season the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto Ieremie, saying, 27 Behold, I am the Lorde God of all flesh: is there any thing then too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I shall deliuer this citie into the power of the Chaldees, and into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, they shall take it:

29 For the Chaldees shal come and winne this citie, and set fire vpon it, and burne it, with the gorgeous houses, in whose parlours they haue made sacrifice vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath:

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Iuda haue onely bene doing wickednesse before me from their youth vp, they haue bene onely prouoking me to wrath with ỹ workes of their owne handes, saieth the Lord.

31 For what hath this citie bene else, but a prouoking of my wrath euer since the day that they builded it, vnto this houre wherin I cast it out of my sight:

32 Because of the great blasphemies of the children of Israel and Iuda, which they haue done to prouoke mee, yea, they, their kings, their princes, their priestes, their prophetes, the men of Iuda, and the citizens of Hierusalem:

33 When I stoode vp early and taught them, and instructed them, they turned their backes to me, and not their faces, 34 They would not heare to be reformed and corrected: * but set their idoles in the house 4.Reg.21.4. that is hallowed to my name, to defile it.

35 They haue builded hie places for Baal in the valley of the children of Hennom, to cause their sonnes and daughters to passe thorow [fire] in the honour of Moloch, which I neuer commanded them: neither came it euer in my thought to make Iuda sinne with such abomination.

36 And now therefore thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken concerning this citie, which as ye your selues confesse, shalbe deliuered into the hand of the king of Babylon, [when it is wonne] with the sworde, with hunger, and with pestilence.

37 Beholde, I will gather them together from all landes, wherein I haue scattered them in my wrath, in fearefull and great displeasure, and will bring them againe vnto this place, where they shall dwell safely:

Ezec.11.19. 38 *And they shalbe my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will giue them one heart and one way, that they may feare me all the dayes of their life: that they and their children after them may prosper.

40 And I will set vp an euerlasting couenant with them,[namely,] that I wil neuer ceasse to doe them good, and that I will put my feare in their heartes, so that they shall not runne away from me.

41 Yea, I will haue a lust and pleasure to doe them good, and faithfully to plant them in this land with my whole heart, and with my whole soule.

42 For thus sayeth the Lorde, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people: euen so will I also bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them,

43 And men shal haue their possessions in this land, whereof ye say now ỹ it shall neither be inhabited of the people, nor of cattell, but be deliuered into the hands of the Chaldees:

44 Yea, lande shalbe bought for money, and euidences made thereupon, and sealed before witnesses in the countrey of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, in the cities of Iuda, in the cities that are vpon the mountaines, and them that lye beneath, yea, and in the cities that are in the South: for I will bring their prisoners hither againe, saieth the Lord.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

1 The Prophet is monished of the Lorde to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promiseth. 8 God forgiueth sinnes, & doth gratiously to the people for his owne renowne. 15 Of the birth of Christ.

1 MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremie againe when he was yet bounde in the court of the prison.

2 Thus saieth the Lorde, who made Hierusalem, who fashioned the same to establish it, whose name is the Lorde,

3 Cry vnto me, and I will answere, and shew thee great and high things which were vnknowen vnto thee.

4 Thus[I say]speaketh the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, & the houses of the kings of Iuda that are broken through the ordinance and the sworde.

5 The inhabitours of this citie haue come to fight against the Chaldees, and they are filled with the dead carkeises of men, whom I haue slaine in my wrath and displeasure, when I turned my face from this citie, because of all her wickednesse.

6 Behold, saieth the Lord, I will repayre and heale their woundes, and make them whole: I will open them the large treasure of peace and trueth,

7 And will returne the captiuitie of Iuda and Israel, and will set them vp againe as they were before:

8 From all misdeedes wherein they offended against mee, I will cleanse them: and all their blasphemies which they haue done against me, when they regarded me not, I will forgiue them.

9 And this shall get me a name, a praise and honour among all the people of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I wil shew vnto them, yea, they shalbe afraide and astonied at all the good deedes and benefites that I will doe for them.

10 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lorde, In this place(whereof ye say that it shalbe a wildernesse, wherein neither people nor cattell shall dwel) in like maner in the cities of Iuda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem (which also shalbe so voyde, that neither people nor cattell shall dwell there,)

11 Shal the voyce of gladnes be heard againe, the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride, the voyce of them that shall sing, Praise the Lord of hostes, for he is louing, and his mercie endureth for euer: and the voyce of them that offer vp giftes in the house of the Lord: for I will restore the captiuitie of this land as it was afore, saieth the Lord.

12 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, It shall come yet thereto, that in this land which is voyde from men and cattell, and in all the cities of the land, there shalbe set vp shepheards cottages to rest their flockes.

13 In the cities vpon the mountaines, and in the cities that lye vpon the plaine, and in the cities of the South, in the lande of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, and in the cities of Iuda, shall the sheepe passe againe vnder the hande of him that telleth them, saieth the Lord.

Iere.23.5. 14 *Behold, the time commeth, sayth the Lord, that I will performe that good thing which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and vnto the house of Iuda.

15 In those dayes, and at the same time, I will bring forth vnto Dauid the branche of righteousnesse, and he shall doe equitie and righteousnesse in the land.

Deut.33.28. 16 In those dayes shall Iuda be saued, * and Hierusalem shall dwell safe: and this shalbe her name, [a] God our righteousnesse.

17 For thus the Lord promiseth, Dauid shall neuer want one to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel:

18 Neither shall the priests and Leuites want one to offer alway before me burnt offerings, to kindle the meate offerings, and to prepare the sacrifices.

19 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremie after this maner, a This name hath God giue to Christ, and doth properly belong to him alone, but here it is attributed vnto the Church, for that God the father hath espoused Christ his sonne vnto the Church, & hath endowed her with all that is his.

20 Thus

20 Thus saieth the Lorde, May the couenant which I haue made with day and night bee broken, that there should not be day and night in due season:

21 Then may my couenant also bee broken which I made with Dauid my seruant, and so hee not to haue a sonne to reigne in his throne, so shall also the Priestes and Leuites neuer faile, but serue me.

22 For like as the starres of heauen may not bee numbred, neither the sande of the sea measured: so will I multiplie the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites my ministers.

23 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came to Jeremie, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people speaketh: Two kinreds [say they] had the Lord chosen, and those same two hath hee cast away: for so they haue despised my people, and they reputed them as though they were no people.

25 Therefore thus saieth the Lord, If I haue made no couenant with day and night, and giuen no statute vnto heauen and earth:

26 Then will I also cast away the seede of Jacob and Dauid my seruant, so that I wil take no prince out of his seede to rule the posteritie of Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob: but yet I will turne againe their captiuitie, and bee mercifull vnto them.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

1 He threateneth that the citie, and the king Zedecias also shall bee giuen into the hands of the king of Babylon.

1 THese are the wordes which the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie, what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, & all his hoste, and all the kingdomes that were vnder his power, and all his people, fought against Hierusalem and all the cities thereof.

2 Thus saieth the Lorde God of Israel, Goe and speake to Zedecias the king of Juda, and tell him, The Lord sendeth thee this worde, Behold, I wil deliuer this citie into the hand of the king of Babylon, he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape his handes, but shalt be taken prisoner, and deliuered into his power: Thou shalt looke the king of Babylon in the face, and hee shall speake to thee mouth to mouth, and then shalt thou goe to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lord, O Zedecias thou king of Juda, thus saieth the Lorde vnto thee, Thou shalt not be slaine with the sword,

2. Chro. 16. 14. a Zedecias is promised to be burnt after his death, that is, to haue his funerals honorably done.

5 But shalt die in peace: *And as thy forefathers ỹ kings thy [a] progenitours were burnt, so shalt thou bee burnt also, and in thy mourning they shall say, O Lord: for thus haue I determined, saith the Lord.

6 Then sayd Jeremie the Prophet all these wordes vnto Zedecias king of Juda in Hierusalem, 7 What tyme as the king of Babylons hoste besieged Hierusalem, and the remnant of the cities, [namely,] Lachis, and Azerath, which yet remained of the strong defenced cities of Juda.

8 These are the wordes that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie the Prophet, when Zedecias was agreed with all the people of Hierusalem, that there should be proclaimed a libertie:

9 So that euery man should let his seruant & handmaid go free, Hebrew, and Hebrewesse, and no Jewe hold his brother as a bondman.

10 Now as they had consented, all the princes and all the people which had gathered vnto this agreement, that euery man should set at libertie his bondseruant and bondwoman, & no longer to hold them bound: euen so they were obedient, and let them go free:

11 But afterward they repented, and tooke againe the seruants and handmaidens whom they had let goe free, and so made them bonde againe.

12 For which cause the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremie from the Lord himself, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a couenant with your fathers, whē I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of ỹ house of bondage, saying,

14 *When seuen yeeres are out, euery man shall let his bought seruant an Hebrew goe free, if hee haue serued him sixe yeeres: but your fathers obeyed me not, and hearkened not vnto me. Exod. 21. 2. deut. 15. 12.

15 As for you, ye were nowe turned, and did right before me, in that ye proclaimed euery man to let his neighbour goe free, and in that ye made a couenant before me in the temple that beareth my name.

16 But yet ye turned your selues agayne, and blasphemed my name, in this that euery mā hath required his seruant and handmaid againe whom ye had let go quite and free, and compelled them to serue you againe, and so to be bondmen and bondwomen.

17 And therefore thus saieth the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed me, euery man to proclaime freedome vnto his brother and neighbour: wherfore I will call you vnto freedome, saieth the Lord, euen vnto the sword, to the pestilence, & to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all kingdomes of the earth.

18 Yea, those men that haue broken my couenant, and not kept the wordes of the appointment which they made before me when they hewed the calfe in two, and when they went thorowe the two halfes thereof,

19 The

19 The ꝑinces of Juda, the ꝑinces of Hieruſalem, the gelded men, the ꝓieſts, and all the people of the land which went thorowe the two ſides of the calfe:

20 Thoſe men will I giue into the power of their enemies, and into the handes of them that follow vpon their liues: and their dead bodies ſhall be meate for the foules of ꝯ aire, and beaſts of the field.

21 As for Zedecias the king of Juda, and his ꝑinces, I will deliuer them into the power of their enemies, and of them that deſire to ſlay them, and into the hand of the king of Babylons hoſte, which is nowe departed from you.

22 But though my commandement (ſaith the Lord) they ſhal come againe before this citie, they ſhal fight againſt it, winne it & burne it: Moreouer, I will lay the cities of Juda ſo waſte, that no man ſhall dwel therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

He propoundeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

1 THe wordes which the Lord ſpake vnto Ieremie in the reigne of Iehoacim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda, are theſe:

2 Goe vnto the houſe of the Rechabites, and call them out, and bring them to the houſe of the Lord, into ſome commodious place, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Jazaniah the ſonne of Ieremie, the ſonne of Habaziniah, and his brethrē, and all his ſonnes, and the whole houſehold of the Rechabites,

4 And brought them into the houſe of ꝯ Lord, into the cloſet of the children of Haman the ſonne of Jegedaliah the man of God, which was by the cloſet of the ꝑinces, that is aboue the cloſet of Maaſiah the ſonne of Sellum, which is the treaſurer.

5 And before the ſonnes of the kinred of the Rechabites, I ſet pots full of wine, and cups, and ſaid vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they ſaid, We will drinke no wine: for Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab our father cōmanded vs, ſaying, Ye and your ſonnes ſhall neuer drinke wine, builde houſes, ſowe no ſeede, plant no vines,

7 Yea, ye ſhall haue no vineyardes: but for all your time ye ſhall dwell in tentes, that ye may liue long in the land wherein ye be ſtrangers.

8 Thus haue we obeyed the commandement of Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, & ſo we drinke no wine all our life long, we, nor our wiues, our ſonnes, and our daughters,

9 Neither build we any houſe to dwell therein: we haue alſo among vs neither vineyards, nor corne land to ſowe:

10 But we dwell in tents, we obey, and do according vnto all that Jonadab our father cōmanded vs.

11 But now that Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon came vp into ꝯ land, we ſaid, Come, let vs goe to Hieruſalem, that we may eſcape the hoſte of the Chaldees and the Aſſyrians: and ſo we dwel now at Hieruſalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremie, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaieth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Goe and tel the men of Juda, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem, Will ye not be reformed to obey my wordes, ſaieth the Lord?

14 The wordes which Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab commanded his ſonnes, that they ſhould drinke no wine, are faſt ſurely kept, for vnto this day they drinke no wine, but obey their fathers commandement: but as for me, I haue ſtand vp early, I haue ſpoken vnto you, and giuen you earneſt warning, and yet haue ye not bene obedient vnto me.

15 Yea, I haue ſent my ſeruants all the Prophets vnto you, I roſe vp early, and ſent you worde, ſaying, *O turne you now euery mā from his wicked way, amend your liues, and goe not after ſtrange gods to worſhip them, that yee may continue in the lande which I haue giuen vnto you and your fathers: but ye would neither heare me, nor follow me. Iere. 18.11. and 25.5. Iohn 3.8.

16 The children of Jonadab Rechabs ſonne, haue ſtedfaſtly kept their fathers commandement that he gaue them: but this people is not obedient vnto me.

17 And therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring vpon Juda, and vpon euery one that dwelleth in Hieruſalem, all the trouble that I haue deuiſed againſt them: For I haue ſpoken vnto them, but they would not follow, I haue called vnto them, neuertheleſſe they would giue me no anſwere.

18 Ieremie alſo ſpake vnto the houſhold of the Rechabites, Thus ſaieth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, For as much as ye haue obeyed the commandement of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he hath bidden:

19 Therefore thus ſaieth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab ſhall not faile, but haue one out of his ſtocke to ſtand alway before me.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

Baruch writeth (as Ieremie enditeth) the booke of the curſes againſt Iuda and Iſrael.

1 IN the fourth yeere of Iehoacim the ſonne of Joſias the king of Juda, came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, ſaying,

2 Take a booke and write therein all the wordes that I haue ſpoken to thee againſt Iſrael,

Israel, against Juda, and against all the people, from the time that I began to speake vnto thee in the reigne of Iosias, vnto this day:

3 That when the house of Iuda heareth of the plague which I haue deuised for them, they may peraduenture turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may forgiue their offences and sinnes.

4 Then did Ieremie call Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the booke at the mouth of Ieremie, all the wordes of the Lord which he had spoken vnto him.

5 And Ieremie commanded Baruch, saying, I am in prison, so that I may not come into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore go thou thither, & read the booke that thou hast written at my mouth, [namely,] the wordes of the Lord, and read them in the Lordes house vpon the a fasting day, that the people, whole Iuda, and al they that come out of the cities, may heare.

a When Iehoacim the king of Iuda heard that the king of Babylons armie was comming to beslege Hierusalem, he appointed a solemne & publique fast for all the people, commanding them to resort vnto the temple at the time appointed, and there to make their humble prayers vnto God for peace and his fauor, As the maner of Gods people was in all their distresses to fast & pray in faithfull repentance.

7 Peraduenture they will pray meekely before the face of the Lord, and turne euery one from his wicked way: for great is the wrath and displeasure that the Lorde hath taken against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according to all that Ieremie the Prophet commãded him, reading the wordes of the Lord out of the booke in the Lordes house.

9 And this was done in the fifth yeere of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, in the ninth moneth, when it was commanded that all the people of Hierusalem should fast before the Lord, and they also that were come from the cities of Iuda vnto Hierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch the wordes of Ieremie out of the booke within the house of ỹ Lord, out of the treasurie of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan the Scribe, which is beside the higher loft of the new doore of the Lordes house, that all the people might heare.

11 Now when Micheas the sonne of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, heard all the words of the Lord out of the booke, 12 He went downe to the kings palace, into the Scribes chamber, for there all the princes were set, Elisama the Scribe, Dalaiah the sonne of Semei, Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, Zedecias the sonne of Hananias, with all the princes.

13 And Micheas told them all the words that he heard Baruch read out of the booke before the people.

14 Then al the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nathaniah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Chusi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the booke whereout thou hast read before all the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the booke in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they said vnto him, Sit downe & read the booke, that we may heare also. So Baruch read, that they might heare.

16 Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were abashed one vpon another, & said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs, how didst thou write all these wordes out of his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He spake all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them in the booke.

19 Then said the princes vnto Baruch, Goe thy way, hide thee with Ieremie, so that no man know where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king to the court, (but they kept the booke in the chamber of Elisama the Scribe) and told the king al the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Iehudi to fetch him the booke: which he brought out of Elisama the Scribes chamber, and Iehudi read in it, that the king and all the princes which were about him might heare.

22 Now the king sate in the winter house (for it was in the ninth moneth) and there was a fire before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three or foure leaues thereof, he cut the booke in pieces with a penneknife, and cast it into the fire vpon the hearth, vntil the booke was all burnt in the fire vpon the hearth.

24 Yet no man was abashed thereof, nor rent his clothes, neither the king himselfe, nor his seruantes, though they heard all these wordes.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, Dalaiah, & Gamariah besought the king that he would not burne the booke: notwithstanding the king would not heare them, 26 But commanded Ierahmel the sonne of Amelech, Saraiah the sonne of Ezriel, and Selemiah the sonne of Abdeel, to lay handes vpon Baruch the Scribe, and vpon Ieremie the Prophet: but the Lord kept them out of sight.

27 Now after that the king had burnt ỹ booke, and the sermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremie, the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremie, saying, 28 Take another booke, and write in it all the foresaid sermons that were written in the first booke, which Iehoacim ỹ king of Iuda hath burnt.

29 And tell Iehoacim the king of Iuda, Thus saieth the Lord, Thou hast burnt the booke, and thoughtest within thy selfe, Why hast thou written therein, that the king of Babylon shall come, and make this lande waste, so that that he shall make both people and cattell to be out of it?

30 Therefore thus the Lord saith of Iehoacim the king of Juda, There shall none of his generation sit vpon the throne of Dauid, his dead coarse shalbe cast out, that ẏ heate of the day, and the frost of the night may come vpon him.

31 And I will visite the wickednesse of him, of his seede, and of his seruants: Moreouer, all the euill that I haue promised them, though they heard me not, will I bring vpon them, vpon the inhabiters of Hierusalem, and vpon all Juda.

32 Then tooke Ieremie another booke, and gaue it Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein out of the mouth of Ieremie, all the sermons that were in the first booke which Iehoacim the king of Juda did burne: and there were added vnto them many moe sermons, like vnto the former.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

1 Zedecias succeedeth Cononiah: 3 he sendeth vnto Ieremie to pray for him.

2.Kin.24.4. 2.chro.36.10.

1 ZEdecias * the sonne of Josia, which was made king through Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, reigned in the land of Juda, in the stead of ‖ Cononiah the sonne of Iehoacim.

‖Or, Iechonia.

2 But neither hee, nor his seruants, nor the people in his land would obey the wordes of the Lorde which he spake by the Prophet Ieremie.

3 Neuertheless, Zedecias the king sent Iehucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Sophoniah the sonne of Maasiah the priest, to the Prophet Ieremie, saying, O pray thou vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Now Ieremie walked free among the people at that time, * and was not put in prison as yet.

Ier.36.26.

5 Pharaos hoste also was come out of Egypt: which when the Chaldees which besieged Hierusalem perceiued, they departed from thence.

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremie, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, This answere shal ye giue to the king of Juda, that sent you vnto me for counsell: Behold, Pharaos hoste which is come forth to helpe you, shal returne into Egypt into his owne land.

8 But the Chaldees shall come againe, and fight against this citie, winne it, and set fire vpon it.

9 For thus saith the Lord, Deceiue not your owne minds, thinking on this maner, Tush, the Chaldees goe now their way from vs: No, they shall not goe their way.

10 For though ye had slaine the whole hoste of the Chaldees that besiege you, and that none remained of thē but wounded men, yet should they stand vp, and set fire vpon this citie.

11 Now when the hoste of the Chaldees was broken vp from Hierusalem for feare of the Egyptians armie, 12 Ieremie went out of Hierusalem toward the land of Beniamin, to get him from amōg the people.

13 And when he came vnder Beniamins port, there was a porter called Ieriah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, which fell vpon him, and tooke him, saying, Thy minde is to run to the Chaldees.

14 Then said Ieremie, It is not so, I goe not to the Chaldees: Neuertheles, Ieriah would not beleeue him, but brought Ieremie bound before the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angrie with Ieremie, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that house the prison.

16 Thus was Ieremie put in a dungeon and prison, and so lay there a long time.

17 Then Zedecias the king sent for him, & called him, and asked him quietly in his owne house, saying, Thinkest thou this businesse [that now is in hand,] commeth of the Lord? Ieremie answered, Yea that it doeth: & thou (said he) shalt bee deliuered into the king of Babylons power.

18 Moreouer, Ieremie said vnto king Zedecias, * What haue I offended against thee, against thy seruantes, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

Ier.9.16.

19 Where are your prophets which haue prophecied vnto you, and said, That the king of Babylon should not come against you & this land?

20 And therefore heare nowe, O my lord the king, let my prayer be accepted before thee, & send me no more into the house of Jonathan the scribe, that I die not there.

21 Then Zedecias commanded to put Ieremie in the forecentrie of the prison, and daily to be giuen him a cake of bread of the bakers streete, vntill all the bread in the citie was eaten vp: Thus Ieremie remained in the forecentrie of the prison.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

By the motion of the rulers, Ieremie is put into a dungeon.

1 SAphatiah the sonne of Mathan, Gedaliah the sonne of Phashur, Jucal ẏ sonne of Selemiah, and Phashur the sonne of Melchia, perceiued the words that Ieremie had spoken vnto all the people, namely on this maner,

2 Thus saieth the Lord, * Whoso remaineth in this citie, shall perish either with ẏ sword, with hunger, or pestilence: but whoso falleth vnto the Chaldees, shall escape, winning his Ier.21.8.

3 For thus ſaieth the Lorde, This citie no doubt muſt be deliuered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he alſo ſhal winne it.

4 Then ſaid the princes vnto the king, Sir, we beſeech you let this man be put to death: for thus he diſcourageth the hands of ẏ ſouldiers that be in this citie, and the hands of all the people, when he ſpeaketh ſuch words vnto them: This man laboureth not for peace of the people, but miſchiefe.

5 Zedecias the king anſwered, and ſaid, Loe, he is in your handes: for the king may denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremie, and caſt him into the dungeon of Melchiah the ſonne of Amelech, that dwelt in the forecentrie of the priſon, and they let downe Ieremie with cordes into a dungeon where there was no water, but mire: So Ieremie ſtacke faſt in the mire.

7 Now when Abedmelech the Morian, being a chamberlaine in the kings court, vnderſtood that they had caſt Ieremie into the dungeon,

8 He went out of the kings houſe, and ſpake to the king, which then ſate vnder the port of Beniamin, theſe words,

9 My lord the king, whereas theſe men meddle with Ieremie the Prophet, they doe him wrong, [namely,] in that they haue put him in priſon, there to die for hunger: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commanded Abedmelech the Morian, and ſaid, Take from hence thirtie men, whom thou wilt, and drawe vp Ieremie the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Abedmelech tooke the men with him, & went to the houſe of the king, and there vnder the treaſurie he gate old rags and worne cloutes, and let them downe by a cord into the dungeon to Ieremie.

12 And Abedmelech the Morian ſaid vnto the Prophet Ieremie, O put theſe ragges and cloutes vnder thine arme holes, betwixt them and the cordes: and Ieremie did ſo.

13 So they drew vp Ieremie with cordes, and tooke him out of the dungeon: and he remained in the forecentrie of the priſon.

14 Then Zedecias the king ſent, and cauſed Ieremie the Prophet to bee called vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the houſe of the Lord, and the king ſaid vnto Ieremie, I will aſke thee ſomwhat, but hide nothing frō me.

15 Then Ieremie anſwered Zedecias, If I be plaine vnto thee, thou wilt cauſe me to ſuffer death: If I giue thee counſell, thou wilt not follow me.

16 So the king ſwore an othe ſecretly to Ieremie, ſaying, As the Lord liueth that made vs theſe ſoules, I will not ſlay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of them that ſeeke after thy life.

17 Then ſaid Ieremie vnto Zedecias, Thus ſaieth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, If caſe be that thou wilt goe forth vnto the king of Babylons princes, thou ſhalt ſaue thy life, and this citie ſhall not be burnt, yea, both thou and thy houſhold ſhall eſcape with your liues:

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babylons princes, then ſhall this citie be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees, which ſhall ſet fire vpon it, and thou ſhalt not be able to eſcape them.

19 And Zedecias ſaid vnto Ieremie, I am afraid for the Iewes ẏ are fled vnto the Chaldees, leaſt I come into their hands, & ſo they to haue me in deriſion.

20 But Ieremie anſwered, No, they ſhall not betray thee: O hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord, I beſeech thee, which I ſpeake vnto thee, ſo ſhalt thou be well, and ſaue thy life:

21 But if thou wilt not go forth, the Lord hath told me this plainly,

22 Beholde, all the women that are left in the king of Judaes houſe, ſhall be led forth vnto the king of Babylons princes: and they ſhal ſay, Thou art deceiued, and the men in whom thou didſt put thy truſt haue gotten thee vnder, and ſet thy feete faſt in the mire, and gone their way from thee.

23 Therefore all thy wiues, with thy children, ſhall they leade forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou ſhalt not eſcape their handes, but ſhalt bee the king of Babylons priſoner, and this citie ſhalt thou cauſe to be burnt.

24 Then ſaid Zedecias vnto Ieremie, Looke that no body know of theſe words, and thou ſhalt not die.

25 But if the princes perceiue that I haue talked with thee, and come vnto thee, ſaying, O ſpeake, what ſaid the king to thee, hide it not from vs, and we will not put thee to death, tel vs (we pray thee) what ſaid the king vnto thee?

26 See thou giue them this anſwere, I haue humbly beſought the king that hee would let me lye no more in Iehonathans houſe, that I die not there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Ieremie, & aſked him: and he told them after the maner as the king bade him. Then they helde their peace, and let him alone: for they perceiued nothing.

28 So Ieremie abode ſtill in the forecentrie of the priſon, vntil the day that Hieruſalem was wonne.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 Nabuchodonoſor beſiegeth Hieruſalem. 4 Zedecias fleeth. 5 He is taken of the Chaldees. 6 His ſonnes are ſlaine. 7 His eyes are thruſt out.

1 Now

4.Kin.25.1. Iere.52.4.

1 NOw * when the citie of Hierusalem was taken (for in the ninth yeere of Zedecias king of Juda, the tenth moneth, came Nabuchodonosor ẏ king of Babylon, and all his hoste, and besieged Hierusalem, and fought against it.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedecias, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, he brake into the citie.)

3 Then all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sate them downe vnder the port: Neregel, Sarezer, Samgarnebo, Sarsachim, Rabsaris, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmag, with all the other princes of the king of Babylon.

4 And when Zedecias the king of Juda with his souldiers, sawe them, then they fled, and departed out of the citie by night, thorow the kings garden, and thorowe the port that is betweene the two walles, and so ẏ king went toward the wildernes:

5 But the Chaldees hoste followed fast after them, and tooke Zedecias in the field of Hiericho, and brought him prisoner to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath, that lieth in the lande of Hemath, where hee gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 So the king of Babylon caused the childrē of Zedecias, and all the nobles of Juda, to bee slaine before his face at Reblath,

7 And made Zedecias eyes to be put out, and bound him with two chaines, and sent him to Babylon.

8 Moreouer, the Chaldees burnt vp the kings palace, with the other houses of the people, and brake downe the walles of Hierusalem.

9 As for the remnant of the people that were in the citie, and such as were come to him, & whatsoeuer was left of the common sort, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caried them to Babylon.

10 But Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine let the rascall people, and those that had nothing, dwell still in the land of Juda, and gaue them vineyards & corne fields at the same time.

11 Nabuchodonosor also the king of Babylon, gaue Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine a charge concerning Ieremie, saying, 12 Take and cherish him, make much of him, see thou do him no harme, but entreat him after his owne desire.

13 So Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, Nabuzarban, Rabsares, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylons lordes sent for Ieremie, 14 And caused him to bee fet out of the forecentrie of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, that he should cary him home: and so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now when Ieremie lay yet bound in the forecentrie of the prison, the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

16 Go and tell Abedmelech the Morian, Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, the cruel and sharpe plague that I haue deuised for this citie, will I bring vpon them, and thou shalt see it:

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saieth the Lord, and thou shalt not come in the hāds of those men whom thou feareſt:

18 For doubtles I will saue thee, so that thou shalt not perish with the sword: but thy life shall be saued, and that because thou hast put thy trust in me, saieth the Lord.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Ieremie hath licence to goe whither he wil. 14 Iohanan prophecieth death vnto Gedaliah.

1 THis is the worde that the Lorde spake vnto Ieremie, when Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had let him goe free from Ramath, whither he had led him bound among all the prisoners that were caried from Hierusalem and Juda, vnto Babylon.

2 The chiefe captaine called for Ieremie, and said vnto him, The Lorde thy God spake mightily before of the miserie vpō this place.

3 Now the Lorde hath sent it, and performed it, as he hath promised: for ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not bene obedient vnto his voyce, therefore cōmeth this plague vpon you.

4 Behold, I loose the bands from thy hands this day: if thou wilt now go with me vnto Babylon, vp then, for I will see to thee, and prouide for thee: but if thou wilt not go with me to Babylon, then remaine here: Behold, all the land is at thy will, looke where thou thinkeſt conuenient and good for thee to abide, there dwell.

5 For as yet he was not gone backe againe to Gedaliah: therefore hee sayd to him, Goe backe to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, whom the king of Babylon had made gouernour ouer the cities of Juda, and dwell with him among the people, or remaine whereſoeuer it pleaseth thee. So the chiefe captaine gaue him his expences, with a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremie vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, to Mispa, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when the captaines of the hoſt of Juda, which with their fellowes were scattered abroad on euery side in the land, vnderstoode that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour in the land, and that man, wife, and childe, yea and the poore men in the land that were not led captiue to Babylon, ſhould be vnder his iuriſdiction:

8 They came to Gedaliah vnto Miſpa, [namely,] Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, Iohanan and Ionathan the ſonnes of Careah, Sareah the ſonne of Thanehumeth, the ſonnes of Ephai the Netophatite, Iezaniah the ſonne of Maachati, with their companions.

9 And Gedaliah, ꝑ ſonne of Ahicam the ſonne of Saphan ſware vnto them and their fellowes in this maner, *Be not afraid to ſerue the Chaldees, dwel in the land, & do the king of Babylon ſeruice, ſo ſhal ye proſper.

*4.Kin.25.24.

10 Beholde, I dwell at Miſpa, to be an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to ſatiſfie ſuch as come to vs: therefore gather wine, corne, and oyle, and keepe them in your warehouſes, and dwell in your cities that ye haue in keeping.

11 Yea all the Iewes alſo that dwell in Moab vnder the Ammonites, Idumea, and in al the countreis, when they heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam the ſonne of Saphan gouernour vpon all them that were left in Iuda:

12 All the Iewes [I ſay] returned out of all places where they fled vnto, and came into ꝑ land of Iuda to Gedaliah vnto Miſpa, and gathered wine and other fruites, and that very much.

13 Moreouer, Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, & all the captaines of the hoſt that were ſcattered on euery ſide in the land, came to Gedaliah to Miſpa, and ſaid vnto him, 14 Knoweſt thou not that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath ſent Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah to ſlay thee? But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam beleeued them not.

15 Then ſayde Iohanan the ſonne of Careah vnto Gedaliah in Miſpa theſe wordes ſecretly, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I wil ſlay Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, ſo that no body ſhall know it: Wherefore will hee kill thee, that all the Iewes which reſort vnto thee, might be ſcattered, and the remnant in Iuda periſh?

16 And Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam ſayd to Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, Thou ſhalt not doe it: for they are but lies that thou ſaieſt of Iſmael.

The xli. Chapter.

2 Iſmael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Iſmael.

1 BVt in the ſeuenth moneth, it happened that Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah ꝑ ſonne of Eliſama, one of ꝑ kings blood came, and the greateſt about the king, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam to Miſpa, and they did eate together in Miſpa.

2 And Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, with thoſe ten men that were with him, ſtart vp, & ſmote Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam ꝑ ſonne of Saphan with the ſwoorde, and ſlew him, whom the king of Babylon had made a gouernour of the land.

3 Iſmael alſo ſlew all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Miſpa, and all the Chaldees that he found there waiting vpon him, and thoſe that were able to fight, he ſlew with him.

4 The next day after that he had ſlaine Gedaliah, the matter was yet vnknowen

5 And there came certaine men from Sichem, from Silo and Samaria, to the number of foureſcore, which had ſhaue their beards, rent their clothes, and were all beaue, bringing meate offrings and incenſe in their hands, to offer it in the houſe of the Lord.

6 And Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah went forth of Miſpa weeping, to meete them: Now when he met them, he ſaid, Goe your way to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam.

7 And when they came in the midſt of the citie, Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, with them that were with him, ſlew them euen at ꝑ midſt of the pit.

8 Among theſe foureſcore men there were ten that ſayd vnto Iſmael, Oh ſlay vs not, for we haue yet a great treaſure in the field, of wheate, barley, oyle, and hony: So hee ſpared them, and ſlew them not with their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Iſmael did caſt the dead bodies of the men whom he ſlew becauſe of Gedaliah, had king Aſa cauſed to be made for feare of Baaſa the king of Iſrael, and the ſame pit did Iſmael fill with ſlaine men.

10 As for the remnant of the people, the kings daughters, and all the people that were left at Miſpa, vpon whom Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had made Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam gouernour, Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah caried them away priſoners toward the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, and all they which had bene captaines ouer the kings hoſte with him, heard of all the wickedneſſe that Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah had done:

12 They tooke their companions, & went out for to fight with Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, and found him by the great waters that are at Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Iſmael led captiue, ſawe Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, and all the other captaines of the hoſte, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Iſmael had caried away from Miſpa, were brought againe: and when when they returned, they came to Iohanan the sonne of Careah.

15 But Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah fled from Iohanan with eight companions, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, tooke all the remnant of the people, whom Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had led away when he had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, whom they also had reserued from him, fighting men, women, & children, and gelded men, whom they brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And went from thence, & sate them downe at Geruth Chamaam, which lieth beside Bethlehem, that they might goe into Egypt for feare of the Chaldees:

18 Of whom they were afraid, because that Ismael ỹ sonne of Nathaniah had slaine Gedaliah Ahicams sonne, whom the king of Babylon had made gouernour in the land.

The xlii. Chapter.

1 The captains aske counsel at Ieremie what they ought to doe. 19 Ieremie admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

1 SO all the captains, & Iohanan the sonne of Careah, Iezaniah the sonne of Osaiah, came, with all the people frō the least vnto the most,

2 And said vnto Ieremie ỹ Prophet, O heare our petition, that thou mayest pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, [namely,] for all the remnant whereof there bee fewe of vs left of many, as thou seest vs:

3 That the Lord thy God may shew vs a way to goe in, and tell vs what we should do.

4 Then Ieremie the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto God your Lord as ye haue required me: and looke what answere the Lord giueth, I shall certifie you thereof, and keepe nothing backe from you.

5 And they said vnto Ieremie, The Lord be a true and faithfull witnes betwixt vs, that we will doe all that the Lord thy God commandeth vs.

6 Whether it bee good or euill, we will hearken vnto the voyce of the Lorde thy God, to whom we send thee, that we may prosper whē we haue followed the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And after ten dayes came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremie.

8 Then called he Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the people that were with him, yea and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And said vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom ye sent me to lay foorth your prayers before him:

10 If you will dwell in this land, I will build you vp, and not breake you downe, I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I [a] repent as concerning the trouble that I haue done to you.

11 Feare not the king of Babylon, of whom ye stand in awe, O be not afraid of him, saith the Lord, for I wil be with you to helpe you, and deliuer you from his hand.

12 I will pardon you, I will haue mercy vpon you, and cause him to pitie you, and bring you againe into your owne land.

13 Neuertheless, if ye purpose not to dwell in this land, nor to follow the voyce of the Lord your God:

14 But will say thus, We will not dwel here, but go into Egypt, where we shal neither see warre, heare the noyse of the trumpe, nor suffer hunger, there will we dwell:

15 Wherefore heare now the word of the Lord, O ye remnant of Iuda, thus saieth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, If ye bee wholy purposed to go into Egypt, and to dwel there as strangers, 16 The sword that ye feared shal ouertake you in Egypt: and the hunger whereof ye bee afraid, shall hang vpon you, and follow you into Egypte, and there shall ye die.

17 And all they that of set purpose vndertake to goe into Egypt to soiourne there, shall perish with the sword, with hunger, and pestilence, not one of them shall remaine, there shall none escape the plague that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Like as my wrath and indignation is mooued against the inhabiters of Hierusalem: so shal my displeasure be kindled against you also if ye go into Egypt, and there ye shal be reuiled, abhorred, brought to shame & confusion, and as for this place ye shall neuer see it more.

19 The Lord forbiddeth you (O ye remnant of Iuda) that ye shall not goe into Egypt: and forget not that I haue warned you earnestly this day.

20 For ye haue dissembled with me: for ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, and said, O pray thou the Lord our God for vs, and looke what answere the Lord our God giueth thee, that bring vs againe, and we will do thereafter.

21 Nowe haue I shewed and declared vnto you, but ye haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, for the which cause he hath sent me to you.

22 Now therefore be ye sure that ye shal perish with the sword, with hunger and pestilence, euen in the same place where your lust is to goe and dwel.

[a] Gods repentance is nothing els, but that he doeth not prosecute to the vttermost his wrath according to the desserts of this people.

The xliii. Chapter.

1 Iohanan carieth the remnãt of the people into Egypt, contrary to the minde of Ieremie. 8 Ieremie propheçieth the destruction of Egypt.

1 NOwe when Ieremie had ended al the woꝛds of the Loꝛde his God vnto the people, which to declare, the Loꝛde their God had sent him to them, euen all these woꝛds [I say,]

2 Azariah the sonne of Olatah, and Iohanan the sonne of Careah, with all the stubboꝛne persons, sayde vnto Ieremie, Thou lyest, the Loꝛde our God hath not sent thee to speake vnto vs, that we shoulde not go into Egypt, and dwell there:

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah pꝛouoketh thee against vs, that he might bꝛing vs into the captiuitie of the Chaldees, that they might slay vs, and carrie vs away pꝛysoners vnto Babylon.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the host, & all the people, followed not the commandement of the Loꝛde, [namely,] to dwell in the land of Iuda:

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the host carried away all the remnant of Iuda, that were come together againe from all the Heathen, among whome they had bene scattered, to dwell in the lande of Iuda,

6 Men, women, chilꝺꝛen, ẏ kings daughters, all those that Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan: they carried away also the Pꝛophet Ieremie, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah,

7 And so came into Egypt: foꝛ they were not obedient vnto the commandement of God. Thus came they to Thaphnis:

8 And in Thaphnis the woꝛde of the Loꝛde happened vnto Ieremie, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hande, and hide them in the bꝛicke wall vnder the dooꝛe of Pharaos house in Thaphnis, that al the men of Iuda may see,

10 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Loꝛde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will sende and call foꝛ Nabuchodonosoꝛ the king of Babylon my seruant, and will set his seate vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spꝛead his tent ouer them.

11 And when he commeth, he shall smite ẏ land of Egypt, some with slaughter, some with banishment, and some with the swoꝛd.

12 He shall set fire vpon the Temple of the Egyptians gods, and burne them vp, and take themselues pꝛisoners: moꝛeouer, he shall aray him selfe with the lande of Egypt, like as a shephearde putteth on his coate, and shall depart his way from thence in peace.

13 The pillars also of the Temple of the Sunne that is in Egypt shall hee breake in pieces, and burne the temples of the Egyptians gods.

The xliiii. Chapter.

1 He reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatning of the Lord are chastened.

1 THis is the woꝛde that was shewed to Ieremie concerning all the Iewes which dwelt in Egypt, at Migdol, at Thaphnis, at Noph, and in the lande of Pathures.

2 Thus saith the Loꝛde of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the miserie that I haue bꝛought vpon Hieꝛusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iuda: so that this day they are desolate, and nõ man dwelling therein,

3 And that because of the great blasphemies which they committed, to pꝛouoke mee vnto anger, in that they went backe to doe sacrifice and woꝛshippe vnto strange goddes, whom neither they noꝛ yee, noꝛ your fathers haue knowen,

4 Howbeit, I sent vnto them my seruants all the Pꝛophets, I rose vp earely, I sent vnto them, and gaue them warning, O do no such abominable things, and things that I hate.

5 But they would not followe noꝛ hearken, to turne from their wickednesse, and to doe no moꝛe sacrifice vnto strange gods.

6 Wherefoꝛe mine indignation & wꝛath was kindled, and it burnt vp the cities of Iuda, with the streetes of Hieꝛusalem, so that they were made waste and desolate, as it is come to passe this day.

7 Nowe therefoꝛe thus sayeth the Loꝛde of hostes the God of Israel, Howe happeneth it that yee doe so great euill vnto your owne soules, thus to destroy the men and women, chilꝺꝛen and babes of Iuda, so that none of you is left,

8 Because ye pꝛouoke mee to wꝛath with the woꝛkes of your owne handes, when yee offer vnto strange gods in ẏ land of Egypt whereas ye be gone to dwell, that yee might vtterly perish, and that ye might be reuiled, & shamefully entreated of all nations?

9 Oꝛ haue ye nowe foꝛgotten the wickednesse of your foꝛefathers, the wickednes of ẏ kings of Iuda and their wiues, the wickednes that ye your selues and your wiues haue done in the land of Iuda, and in the streetes of Hieꝛusalem?

10 Yet are yee not soꝛy this day, ye feare not, neither walke ye in my lawe, and in my commandements that I haue giuen vnto you and your foꝛefathers.

11 Therefoꝛe thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, * I am stedfastly aduised and determined to punish you, and to roote out all Iuda. Amos.9.4.

12 As for the remnant of Juda that purposely went into Egypt there to dwell, I will take them, & they shal al be destroied, in the land of Egypt shall they perish, being consumed with the swoorde and with hunger: for from the least vnto the most, they shall perish with the swoorde and with hunger: Moreouer, they shall be reuiled, abhorred, shamed, and confounded.

13 For I will visite them that dwel in Egypt, as I haue visited Hierusalem, with the swoord, with hunger, and with pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Juda which are gone to dwell in Egypt, shall bee left to come againe into the land of Juda, although they thinke to come thither againe, and to dwell there: for none shall come againe but such as are fled away.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had offered vnto strange goddes, and a great sort of wiues that stood there, yea and all the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the citie of Phathures, answered Ieremie, and sayde,

16 As for the woordes that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lorde, wee will in no wise heare them:

17 But what so euer goeth out of our owne mouth, that will we doe, we will do sacrifice, and offer oblations vnto the Queene of heauen, like as we and our forefathers, our kings and our heads haue done in the cities of Juda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem: for then had we plenteousnesse of victuals, then were we in prosperitie, and no misfortune came vpon vs:

18 But since we left to offer and to do sacrifice vnto the Queene of heauen, wee haue had scarcenesse of all thinges, and perish with the swoord and hunger.

Iere.7.18. 19 [*Last of all,] when wee [women] did sacrifice, & offered vnto the Queene of heauen: did we make her cakes, and powre vnto her drinke offerings, to doe her seruice, without our husbands willes?

20 Then sayde Ieremie vnto all the people, to the men, to the women, and to all the folke which had giuen him that answere,

21 Did not the Lord remember the sacrifices, that ye, your forefathers, your kings and rulers, which all the people haue offered in the cities of Juda, in the streetes of Hierusalem? and hath he not considered this in his minde?

22 In so much that the Lorde might no longer suffer the wickednesse of your inuentions, and the abominable thinges which ye did: Is not your lande desolate and voyde, yea and abhorred, so that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to passe this day?

23 Did not all this happen vnto you, because yee made such sacrifice, and sinned against the Lorde? Ye haue not followed his voyce, to walke in his lawe, in his ordinances and statutes: yea, this is the cause that all misfortune happened vnto you, as it is come to passe this day.

24 Moreouer, Ieremie spake vnto all the people, and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lorde all Juda that bee in the lande of Egypt, 25 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Yee and your wiues haue spoken with your owne mouth the thing that yee haue fulfilled in deede, yea, thus haue yee sayde, Wee will not fayle but performe the vowes that wee haue vowed, wee will doe sacrifice, and powre out drinke offeringes to the Queene of heauen: Purposely will ye set vp your owne meanings, and performe your vowes.

26 And therefore heare the woorde of the Lorde all Juda that dwell in the lande of Egypt: Beholde, I haue swoorne by my great name, sayth the Lorde, that my name shall not be rehearsed through any mans mouth of Juda in all the lande of Egypt, to say, The Lorde God liueth.

27 For I will watch to plague them, and not for their wealth: and all the men of Juda that be in the lande of Egypt shall perish with the swoord, and with hunger, vntill they be vtterly destroyed.

28 Neuertheless, those that fledde away for the swoorde, shall come againe out of Egypt into the lande of Juda, but there shall be very fewe of them: and all the remnant of Juda that are gone into Egypt there to dwell, shall knowe whose woordes shall bee founde true, theirs, or mine.

29 Take this for a token, that I will visite you in this place, sayth the Lorde, and that yee may knowe howe that I without doute will performe my purpose vpon you, to punish you.

30 Beholde, sayeth the Lorde, I will deliuer Pharao Hophra king of Egypt, into the handes of his enemies that seeke after his life: euen as I gaue Zedecias the king of Juda into the handes of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon his enemie, which sought after his life.

The xlv. Chapter.

Baruch is reproued of Ieremie.

1 THese are the woordes that Ieremie the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, after that hee had written these Sermons in a booke at the mouth of Ieremie, in the fourth yeere of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Juda, saying,

2 Thus

2 Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch:
3 Insomuch as thou thoughtest thus [when thou wast writing,] Woe is mee, the Lorde hath giuen mee payne for my trauell, I haue wearied my self with sighing, and haue found no rest:
4 Therefore tell him, O Jeremie, that the Lorde sayth thus: Beholde, the thing that I haue builded, wil I breake downe againe, and roote out the thing that I haue planted, yea, this whole land:
5 And seekest thou yet promotion? [looke not for it, and] desire it not, for I will bring a miserable plague vpon all flesh, sayth the Lorde: but thy life will I giue thee for a pray, in all places whithersoeuer thou goest.

The xlvi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliuerance is promised to Israel.

1 HEre followe the words of the Lord to the Prophet Jeremie, which he spake against [all] the Gentiles.
2 These wordes following preached he to the Egyptians, concerning the hoste of Pharao Necho king of Egypt, when hee was in Charchamis beside the water of Euphrates, what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon slewe him, in the fourth yere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda.
3 Make ready buckler and shielde, & go forth to fight.
4 Harnesse your horses, and set your selues vpon them, set your sallets fast on, bring forth speares, scoure your swords, and put on your breast plates.
5 But alas, howe happeneth it that I see you so afraid? why shrinke ye backe? Their worthies are slayne, yea, they runne so fast away that none of them looketh behinde him: fearefulnes is fallen vpon euery one of them, saith the Lord.
6 The lightest of foote shal not flee away, and the worthies shal not escape: towards ỹ North by the water of Euphrates they did stumble and fall.
7 But what is hee this that swelleth vp as it were a flood, roaring & raging like ỹ streames of water?
8 It is Egypt that riseth vp like the flood, & casteth out the waters with so great noyse: And he sayd, I will goe vp, and wil couer the earth, I will destroy the citie with them that are therein.
9 Get ye vp ye horses, roule forth yee charets, come forth worthies, ye Ethiopians, ye Libyans with your bucklers, yee Lydians with your bowes.
10 But this day of the Lord God of hostes is a day of vengeance, that he may auenge him of his enemies: The sworde shall deuoure, it shal be satisfied and bathed in their blood, for the Lorde of hostes shall haue a slayne offering towarde the North, by the water of Euphrates.
11 Go vp vnto Gilead, and bring triacle, O virgin, thou daughter of Egypt: but in vayne shalt thou go to surgerie, for thy wound shall not be stopped.
12 The Heathen haue heard of thy shame, and the land is ful of thy confusion: for one strong man did stumble vpon another, and they are fallen both together.
13 These are the wordes that the Lorde spake to the Prophet Jeremie, concerning the comming of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, which was sent to destroy the land of Egypt:
14 Preach out through the land of Egypt, and cause it to bee proclaymed at Migdol, Noph, and Taphnis, and say, Stande still, make thee ready, for the sworde shall consume thes round about.
15 How happeneth it that thy mighty worthies are fallen? why stood they not fast? euen because the Lord thrust them downe.
16 The slaughter was great, for one fell euer still vpon another: and they sayde, Up, let vs goe againe to our owne people, and to our owne naturall countrey, from the cruell sworde.
17 They did crye euen there, Pharao the king of Egypt is a king of troublesomenesse: hee hath ouerpast the appoynted time.
18 As I liue (saith the king whose name is the Lord of hostes) so surely as Thabor standeth among the mountaines, and Charmel in the sea: euen so assuredly shal this mischiefe come [vpon Egypt.]
19 O thou daughter of Egypt, make ready thy geare to flit: for Noph shalbe voyde and desolate, so that no man shall dwell therein.
20 The lande of Egypt is like a goodly fayre calfe: but destruction shall come out of the North, [I say] it commeth.
21 Her waged souldiers that bee with her are like fat calues, they also shall flee away together, and not abide: for the day of their slaughter, and the time of their visitation shall come vpon them.
22 The crye of them shall make a noyse as the hissing of serpents: for they shal enter in with their hostes, and come against her with axes, as it were hewers downe of wood.
23 And they shall cut downe her [a] wood, sayth the Lorde, they shall be innumerable: for they shalbe moe in number then the grashoppers, so that no man shalbe able to tell them.
24 The daughter of Egypt is confounded, and deliuered into the handes of the people of the North.

[a] Her wood, that is, the whole multitude of the people, which was like a great wood.

Rr, ii, 25 Thus

25 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will visite that restlesse people of Alexandria, Pharao, and Egypt, yea both their gods and their kings, euen Pharao and all them that put their trust in him:

26 Yea, I will deliuer them into the handes of those that seeke after their liues, [namely] into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, & into the power of his seruants: and after all these things, it shall be inhabited as aforetime, saith the Lord.

Esay 44.1 Iere. 30.10. 27 *Be not thou afrayd, O my seruant Iacob, feare not thou, O Israel: for loe, I will helpe thee from farre, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie: Iacob also shall come againe and be in rest, he shal prosper, and no man shal doe him harme.

28 Feare thou not (O Iacob my seruant) saith the Lorde, for I am with thee, and will destroy all nations among whom I haue scattered thee: neuertheless I will not consume thee, but chastē thee and correct thee, yea, and that with discretion, neither wil I vtterly destroy thee.

The xlvii. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against the Philistines.

1 THese are the words that the Lord spake vnto Ieremie the Prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharao smote the citie of Azah.

2 Thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, there shall waters arise out of the North, and shall grow to a great flood, running ouer and couering the lande and all that is therein, the cities, and them that dwell therein: and the men shall crye, and all they that dwell in the land shall mourne,

3 At the noyse and stamping of their strong barbed horses, at ỹ shaking of their charrets, and at ỹ rumbling of the wheeles: the fathers shall not looke to their children, so feeble and wearie shall their hands be.

4 At the same time when he shall bee there to destroy the whole land of the Philistines, he shall make waste both Tyrus, Sidon, & the residue of their ayde: for the Lord will destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the yle of ‖ Caphtor.

‖ Or, Cappadocia

5 Baldnesse is come vpon Azah, Ascalon is put to silence, with the rest of their valleys: Howe long wilt thou teare thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lorde, howe long wilt thou not cease? Turne againe into thy sheath, rest, and leaue off.

7 But howe can it cease, when the Lorde himselfe hath giuen it a charge against Ascalon, and raysed it vp against the cities of the sea coast?

The xlviii. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites.

1 THus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, against Moab, Woe bee to the citie of Nebo, for it is layde waste, brought to confusion, and Kiriathaim is taken: Misgab is brought to shame and afrayde.

2 Moab can boast no more of Hesbon, for they haue deuised a mischiefe against it: Come, [shall they saye,] let vs roote them out: that they may be no more a nation, thou also shalt be destroyed, O Madmena, and the sword shal persecute thee.

3 A voyce shall crye from Horonaim: Great wasting and destruction shall come vpon them.

4 Moab is made desolate, her litle ones haue cryed out.

5 For at the going vp vnto Luith hee arose with lamentation and mourning, and downe toward Horonaim they heard a cruell & deadly crye:

6 *Get you away, saue your liues, and be like vnto the heath in the wildernesse. Iere. 17.6.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thine owne workes and treasure, thou shalt be take: Chamos with his priestes and princes shall go away into captiuitie.

8 The destroyer shal come vpō all cities, none shall escape: The valleys shalbe destroyed, and the fieldes shalbe layde waste, like as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that shee get her away speedily: for her cities shall be made so desolate, that no man shall dwell therein.

10 Cursed be hee that doeth the worke of the Lorde fraudulently, and cursed bee he that keepeth backe his sworde from shedding of blood.

11 Moab hath euer bene rich and carelesse frō her youth vp, shee hath bene still setled vpon lees, she was neuer yet put out of one vessell into another, [that is,] she neuer went away into captiuitie, therefore her taste remaineth, and her sauour is not yet changed.

12 But loe, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I shall send her trussers to trusse her vp, which shall remoue her from her dwelling, and emptie her vessels, and breake her wine pots.

13 And Moab shalbe ashamed of Chamos, *like as Israel was ashamed of Bethel, wherein she put her trust. 3.King.12.29.

14 Wherefore doe yee thinke thus, * Wee are mightie and strong men of warre? Esay 16.7.

15 Moab is destroyed, and her cities burnt vp, her chosen yong men be slaine, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab cōmeth on apace, and her fall is at hand.

17 All ye neighbours mourne for her, and al ye that know her name, say, O howe happeneth it it that the strong staffe and the goodly rodde is thus broken?

18 And thou daughter Dibon, come downe frō thy glory, and sit in thyrst: for he that destroyeth Moab, shall come vp to thee also, & breake downe thy strong holdes.

19 And thou that dwellest in Aroer, get thee to the streete, and looke about thee, aske thē that are fled and escaped, and say, What thing is happened?

20 Oh, Moab is confounded and ouercome: mourne and cry, tel it out at Arnon, that Moab is destroyed:

21 For iudgement shall come vpon the playne lande, [namely,] vpon Holon, and Jahzah, and vpon Mephaath,

22 And vpon Dibon, vpon Nabo, and Beth Deblathaim,

23 Upon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth Gamul, vpon Beth Maon,

24 And vpon Carioth, vpon Bozra, and all the cities in the land of Moab, whether they lye farre or neere.

25 The horne of Moab is smitten downe, and her arme broken, sayth the Lord.

26 Make her drunkē, for she magnified her selfe aboue ꝑ Lord, that men may clap their hands at her vomite, and that she also may be laughed to scorne.

27 Diddest not thou laugh Israel to scorne, as though he had bene takē [with theft] among thieues? for so often as thou makest mention of him, thou skippest for ioy.

28 Ye Moabites, leaue the cities, and dwell in rockes of stone, and become like Doues that make their nestes in holes.

29 As for Moabs pride we haue heard of it, she is very high minded, I knowe her stoutnesse, her boasting, her arrogancie, and the pride of her stomacke, [sayth the Lord.]

30 I knowe (sayth the Lord) her indignation, she doeth not right, her wordes are lyes, and they haue not dealt truely.

31 Therefore will I mourne for Moab, for whole Moabs sake: my heart shall lament the men of Kirchares.

32 O thou vineyard of Sabamah, I wil weepe for thee as for Jazer: thy vine branches shall come ouer the sea, vnto the sea of Jazer, the destroyer shal breake into thy haruest & grape gathering.

Esay 16.10. 33 *Myrth and cheare shall be taken away frō the fertill fielde, and from the land of Moab: there shalbe no sweete wine in the presse, the treader shall haue no stomacke to crye, yea, there shalbe none to cry vnto him, 34 Which aforetime were heard from Hesbon to Eleale, and Jahaz, which lifted vp their voyce from Zoar vnto Horonaim, that bullocke of three yeere olde: the waters also of Nemrim shalbe dried vp.

35 Moreouer, I will make Moab cease, sayth the Lorde, from the offerings and censing that thee hath made vnto her gods in high places.

36 Wherefore my heart mourneth for Moab like a crowde playing an heauie song, and for the mens sake of Kirchares my heart mourneth also, euen as a pipe that pipeth a dolefull song: for their riches which they haue gathered, shalbe destroyed.

37 *All heads shall bee shauen, and all beardes clipped off, all handes bound, and all loynes girded about with sackcloth. Esay 15.3. ecclē. 7.18.

38 Upon all the house toppes and streetes of Moab, there shalde lamentable mourning, for I wil breake Moab like an vnprofitable vessell, saith the Lord.

39 O how is she destroyed? O how mourneth she? O howe doeth Moab hang downe her head, and is ashamed? Thus shall Moab bee a laughing stocke, and had in derision of all them that be round about her.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, the enemie shall come fleeing as an Egle, and spread his wings vpon Moab.

41 They shall take the cities, and winne the strong holdes: then the mighty mens hearts in Moab shalbe like the heart of a woman trauailing with childe.

42 And Moab shall be made so desolate, that she shall no more be a people, because she hath set vp her selfe against the Lord.

43 Feare, pit, and snare shal come vpon thee, O Moab, sayth the Lord.

44 *Whoso escapeth the feare, shall fall into the pit, and whoso getteth out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring a yeere of visitation vpon Moab, sayth the Lord. Esay 24.17.

45 They that are able to flee, shall stande vnder the shadow of Hesbon, for there shall go a fire out of Hesbon, and a flame from Sion, and shal burne vp that proud people of Moab, and the toppe of those seditious children.

46 Woe be vnto thee, O Moab, thou people of Chamos shalt perish: yea thy sonnes & daughters shalbe led away captiue.

47 Yet at the last wil I bring Moab out of captiuitie againe, saith the Lord. Thus farre is of the plague of Moab.

The xlix. Chapter.

1 The worde of the Lorde against the Ammonites, 7 against Idumea, 13 Damascus, 28 Cedar, 34 Elam.

1 AS concerning the Ammonites, thus the Lorde sayth, Hath Israel no children? or is hee without any heire? Why hath your king then taken Gad in? Wherefore doeth his people dwell in his cities?

2 Beholde therefore, the time commeth, sayth the Lorde, that I will bring a noyse of warre into Rabbath of the Ammonites, and it shall be layde on a desolate heape, and her cities burnt vp, and the Israelites shalbe lords ouer those that had them in possession afore, sayth the Lord.

3 Hesbon shall mourne, for Ai shall be rooted out of the ground, [sayth the Lord,] the citie of Rabbath shall crye out, and gyrde them selues with sackcloth, they shall mourne and runne about the walles, for their king shalbe led away prisoner, yea his priestes & princes with him.

a The plentifulnesse of the soyle, & strong situation of ꝑ place, & their great wealth caused ꝑ Ammonites like a retchles wanton gyle, to blaspheme the Lord, to annoy his people, & to be without all feare of enemies.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the a valleys: thy valley hath flowed away, O thou rebellious daughter, and thinkest thou that thou art so safe by reason of thy treasure, that no man shall come to thee:

5 Beholde, I will bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lorde GOD of hostes, from all those that bee about thee, so that ye shall be scattered euery man from another, and no man shall gather them together againe that be fled.

6 But after that, I will bring the Ammonites also out of captiuitie againe, sayth the Lord.

7 Upon the Edomites hath the Lorde of hostes spoken on this maner, Is there no more wisedome in Theman: Is there no more good counsell among his people: Is their wisedome then turned cleane to nought:

8 Get you hence, turne your backes, creepe downe into ỹ deepe, O ye citizens of Dedan: for I will bring destruction vpon Esau, yea and the day of his visitation.

Abdi.3. 9 *If the grape gatherers come vpon thee, shoulde they not leaue some grapes: If the night robbers come vpon thee, shoulde they not take so much as they thought were ynough:

10 But I will make Esau bare, and discouer his secretes, so that hee shall not bee able to hide them: his seede shall bee wasted awaye, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and hee him selfe shall not bee left behinde.

11 Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse children behinde thee, and I will keepe them, and thy widdowes shall take their comfort in mee.

12 For thus hath the Lorde spoken, Behold, they that men thought were vnmeete to drinke of the cuppe, haue drunken with the first: and thinkest thou then to bee free: No, no, thou shalt neither bee quit nor free: but thou must drinke also.

13 For why: I haue sworne by my selfe, sayth the Lorde, that Bozrah shall become a wildernesse, an open shame, a laughing stocke, and curling, and all her citie shall bee a continuall desart.

14 * For I am perfectly informed of the Lorde, that hee hath sent a message already vnto the Heathen: Gather you together, and goe forth against her, make you ready to battell: Abdias.2.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the Heathen, and litle regarded among men.

16 Thy high stomacke, and the pride of thy heart hath deceiued thee, because thou dwelst in the holes of stonye rockes, and hast the high mountaines in possessiō: Neuertheless, though thy nest were as high as the Egles, yet I will cast thee downe, sayeth the Lord.

17 Moreouer, Idumea shall bee a wildernesse, who so goeth by it, shall bee abashed, and woonder at all her miserable plagues.

18 * Like as Sodome, Gomor, and the cities that lye thereabout were turned vpside downe, sayth the Lorde: so shall no body dwell in Idumea, and no man shall haue his habitation there. Gene.19.25.

19 Beholde, like as the Lion, so shall a destroyer come vp from the pleasant medowes of Iordane, vnto the strong dwelling place, and when I haue made him quiet, I will make him to flee from her, and all chosen men will I set in aray against her: who is like vnto me: what is hee that will striue with me: * what shepheard may stand in my handes: Iob.41.2.

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lorde that hee hath taken vpon Idumea, and his purpose that hee hath deuised vpon the citizens of Theman: the least of the flocke shall traple them, and looke what fayre habitation they haue, they shall make it walke, and them selues also.

21 At the noyse of their fall ỹ earth shall quake, the crye of their voyce shall be heard vnto the red sea.

22 Beholde, the enemie shall come and flee vp hither like as it were an Egle, and spreade his winges vpon Bozrah: then shall the heartes of the woorthies in Edom bee as the heart of a woman trauayling of childe.

23 Upon Damascus, Hemath, and Arphad, shall come confusion: for they shall heare euill tidings, they shall be tossed to and fro like the sea that can not stand still.

24 Damascus shall bee sore afrayde, and shall flee: trembling commeth vpon her, sorowe and payne shall ouertake her, as a woman trauailing of childe.

25 But howe happeneth it that the famous citie, citie, the citie of my ioy, is not spared?

26 Her yong men shall fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shall bee taken away in that time, sayth the Lord of hostes.
27 I will kindle a fire in the walles of Damascus, which shall consume the palace of Benhadad.
28 As for Cedar and the kingdome of Hazor, whome Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon smote, the Lorde hath spoken thus vpon them: Arise, and get you vp vnto Cedar, and destroy the people towarde the East.
29 Their tentes and their flockes shall they take away, yea their hangings and their vessels, their Camnels also shall they carry away with thē: they shall cry to them, Feare is on euery side.
30 Flee, get you farre away, creepe into caues, that ye may dwell there, O ye inhabitours of Hazor, sayth the Lorde: for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a counsell concerning you, and concluded his deuice against you.
31 Arise, and get you vp against yonder rich and careless people, sayth the Lorde, which haue neyther gates nor dooze barres, but dwell alone.
32 Their Camels shalbe a pray, and the droues of their cattell driuen away: Moreouer, those will I scatter towarde all the windes, and to the farthest parts of the world, yea from al the sides thereof will I bring their destruction, sayth the Lord.
33 Hazor also shal be a dwelling for Dragons, and an euerlasting wildernesse, so that no body shall dwell there, and no man shall haue there his habitation.
34 These are the wordes that the Lorde spake to the Prophet Jeremie concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedecias king of Juda.
35 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will breake the bowe of Elam, their principal strength.
36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, and will scatter them against the same foure windes: and there shalbe no people, but some of Elam shall flee vnto them.
37 For I will cause Elam to be afraide of their enemies, & of them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a mischiefe, euen my wrath, saith the Lorde: And I will persecute thē with the sword, so long til I haue brought them to nought.
38 I will set my throne in Elam, I wil destroy both the king and princes from thence, sayth the Lord: but in processe of time I will bring Elam out of captiuitie againe, sayeth the Lord.

The l. Chapter.

He propheciеth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

1 THe wordes that the Lorde spake vnto the Prophet Jeremie concerning Babylon and the land of the Chaldees:
2 Preach among the Gentiles, let your voyce be heard, make a token, cry out, keepe no silence, but say, Babylon is wonne, Bel is confounded, and Merodach is ouercome, yea their gods be brought to shame, & their images burst in pieces:
3 For out of the North there doth come a people against her, which shall make her lande so waste, that no body shall dwell therein, neyther man nor beast, for they shall flee & depart from thence.
4 In those dayes, and at that time, sayeth the Lorde, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Juda, weeping and making haste, and shall seeke the Lorde their God.
5 They shall aske the way to Sion, thither shall they turne their faces, saying, Come, & we will cleaue to the Lord in a couenant that neuer shalbe broken.
6 My people haue bene a lost flocke, my shepheards haue deceiued thē, and haue made thē go astray vpon the hilles, they haue gone frō the mountaine to the litle hill, and forgotten their folde.
7 All they that came vpon them, haue deuoured them, and their enemies sayde, Wee haue made no fault against them, for they haue displeased the Lorde, [yea euen ỹ Lord which is] the habitation of their righteousnesse, and the hope of their fathers.
8 Flee from Babylon, and depart out of the land of the Chaldees, & bee ye as the rammes that go before the flocke.
9 For loe, I will wake vp an host of people from the Northren land, & bring them vpon Babylon, these shall lay siege to it, and winne it: their arrowes shall not misse, like as a cunning archer shooteth not wrong.
10 And the Chaldees shalbe spoyled, & all they that spoyle them shalbe satisfied, saith ỹ Lord.
11 Although ye were so chearefull and glad to tread downe mine heritage, and fulfilled your pleasures as the Calues in the grasse, & triumphed ouer them like Bulles [when ye had gotten the victorie,] 12 Your mothers shall be sore confounded, and they that bare you shall come to shame, shee shall bee the least set by among the nations, voyde, waste, and dryed vp.
13 No man shall bee able to dwell there for the feare of the Lorde, but she shall be whole desolate: all they that go by Babylon shall stande still and be abashed, and shall wonder at al her plagues.

14 Goe foorth in your aray against Babylon rounde about, all yee that can handle bowes, shoote at her, spare no arrowes: for shee hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Crye out against her rounde about: she shall yeeld her selfe, her foundations shall fall, and her walles shall come downe, for it shal be the vengeance of the Lord, yea vengeance shalbe taken of her: and as she hath done, so deale ye with her.

16 Roote out the sower from Babylon, & him that handleth the sickle in haruest: for feare of the sword of the enemie, euery man shall get him to his owne people, and euery man shall flee to his owne land.

17 Israel is a scattered flocke, the Lions haue dispersed them: * first the king of the Assyrians deuoured them, last of al this Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon hath bruised al their bones. 2.King.17,24.

18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the king of Babylon and his kingdome, as I haue visited the king of the Assyrians, 19 And wil bring Israel againe to his pleasant pasture, that he may feede vpon Charmel and Basan, and be satisfied vpon the mount of Ephraim and Galaad.

20 In those dayes, and at the same time, sayth the Lord, if the offence of Israel be sought for, there shall none bee founde, if men enquire for the sinne of Iuda, there shalbe none: for I wil be mercifull vnto them whom I suffer to remaine.

21 Go downe [O thou auenger] into the enemies lande, and visit them that dwell therein: downe with them, and smite them vpon the backes, saith the Lord, do according to al that I haue commanded thee.

22 There is gone about the lande a crye of a slaughter and great murder, [namely on this maner,]

23 Howe happeneth it that the hammer of the whole worlde is thus broken and bruysed in sunder? Howe chanseth it that Babylon is become a wildernesse among the Heathen [on this maner?]

24 I my selfe haue layde a snare for thee, and thou art taken vnawares, thou art trapped and snared: for why? thou hast contended against the Lord.

25 The Lorde hath opened his house of ordinance, and brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the thing that is done in the land of the Chaldees, it is the Lord of hostes worke.

26 Come against her, for this is her end, breake vp her chests, thresh her as ye thresh corne, destroy her, that nothing shalbe left.

27 Slay all their mightie souldiers, & put thē to death: woe be vnto them, for the day & time of their visitation is at hand.

28 [Wee thinke] I heare [already] a crye of them that be fled and escaped out of the lande of Babylon, which shewe in Sion the vengeance of the Lorde our God, the vengeance of his Temple, [yea a voyce of them that cry against Babylon,]

29 Call vp all the archers against Babylon, pitche your tentes rounde about her, that none escape, recompense her as shee hath deserued, and according as shee hath done, so deale with her againe: for shee hath set vp her selfe against the Lord, against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall downe in the streetes, and all her men of warre shall be rooted out in that day, sayth the Lord.

31 Behold, I speake vnto thee, O thou proude, sayth the Lord God of hostes, for thy day shall come, euen the time of thy visitation.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and no man shall helpe him vp, I will burne vp his cities with fire, and it shall consume all that is round about him.

33 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The childrē of Israel and Iuda suffer violence together, all they that haue them in captiuitie keepe them fast, and will not let them goe.

34 But their auenger and redeemer is mightie, whose name is the Lorde of hostes, hee shall mainteine their cause, he shall make the lande shake, and iudge them that dwel therein [one with another.]

35 The sworde shall come vpon the Chaldees, saith the Lorde, vpon them that dwell in Babylon, vpon their princes, & vpon their wise men.

36 The sworde vpon their soothsayers: as for those they shall become fooles: the sworde vpon their worthies, so that they shall stande in feare.

37 The sworde vpon their horsemen and charrets, and vpon all the common people ẏ dwell among them, so that they shal all become like women: the sword vpon their treasure, so that it shalbe stolen away.

38 A drought vpon their waters, so that they shalbe dried vp: for the land worshippeth images, and delighteth wonderfully in idoles.

39 Therefore shall wilde beastes, Lamia, and Cat of mountaines, & Estriches dwell therein: for there shall neuer man dwell there, neither shall any man haue his habitation there for euermore.

40 * Like as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor, with the cities that lay thereabout, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there also, neither shal any man haue there his habitation. Gene.19.25. esay.13.19.

41 Beholde, there shall come a people from the North with a great bande of men, and many kings shall stand vp from the endes of the earth.

42 They

42 They beare bowes and bucklers, cruell are they and vnmercifull: their voyce roareth like the raging sea, they ryde vpon horses, and come weaponed to fight against thee, O Babylon.

43 As soone as the king of Babylon heare tell of them, his handes shall waxe feeble, sorowe and heauinesse shal come vpon him as a woman trauayling with childe.

44 Behold, like as the Lion commeth vp from the swelling of Jordane, vnto the dennes of Ethan, so will I driue them sodenly, and make them run against her: but whom shal I choose out and ordeine to such a thing? * for who is like me? or who wil striue with mee? or what shepheard may stand against me?

Iob.41.1.

45 Therefore heare the counsell that the Lorde hath giuen vpon Babylon, and the deuice that he hath taken vpon the land of the Chaldees, The least among the people shall drawe them out, & looke what pleasant houses they haue, they shall lay them waste.

46 The noyse at the winning of Babylon shall moue the earth, and the cry shall be heard among the Gentiles.

The li. Chapter.

1 Howe Babylon shoul[d] ouerthrowen. 59 Ieremie giueth his booke to Saraias.

1 THus hath the Lord sayde, Beholde, I will rayse vp a perilous winde against Babylon and her citizens that beare euill will against me.

2 I will sende also into Babylon fanners, to fanne her out, and to destroy her lande: for in the day of her trouble they shall be about her on euery side.

3 Moreouer [the Lord wil say] vnto the bowmen, and to them that aduance themselues in their armour: Yee shall not spare her yong men, kill downe all her host.

4 Thus the slayne shall fall downe in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the streetes.

5 As for Israel and Juda, they shal not be forsaken of their God, of the Lord of hostes, yea, [a] for the holy one of Israels sake, haue the Chaldees filled their land full of sinne.

a For the holy one of Israels sake, that is, for the grieuous affliction and great iniurie done to Gods people, which he reputeth as done vnto him selfe.

6 Flee away frō Babylon, euery man saue his life, that ye be not rooted out with her wickednesse: for the time of the Lordes vengeance is come, yea, he shal rewarde her againe.

7 Babylon hath bene in the Lordes hande a golden cup, that maketh all landes drunken: of her wine haue all people drunken, therefore are they out of their wittes.

Esa.21.9. apoc.18.8.

8 * But suddenly is Babylon fallen and destroyed: mourne for her, bring plasters for her woundes, if shee may peraduenture be healed againe.

9 We would haue made Babylon whole, say they, but she is not recouered: therefore will we let her alone, and goe euery man into his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come into heauen, and is gone vp into the cloudes.

10 The Lorde hath brought forth our [b] righteousnesse, and therefore come on, we wil shewe in Sion the worke of the Lord our God.

b, Howsoeuer the Iewes had deserued to be plagued at Gods hand, yet had the Chaldees no cause on their partes why to deale so cruelly with them, & so God declareth their righteousnesse in respect to the Chaldees, by punishing them, and deliuering his people.

11 Make sharpe the arrowes, and multiplie your shieldes: for the Lorde shall rayse vp the spirite of the king of the Medes, which hath already a desire to destroy Babylon: this shall be the vengeance of the Lorde, and the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set vp tokens vpon the walles of Babylon, make your watch strong, set your watchmen in aray, yea, hold priuie watches, and yet for all that shall the Lord goe forth with his deuice which he hath taken vpon them that dwell in Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest by the great waters, O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thine ende is come, and the reckening of thy wynnings.

14 *The Lord of hosts hath sworne by himselfe, that he will ouerwhelme thee with men, like grashoppers in number, which with a courage shal cry alarum alarum against thee.

Amos.6.8.

15 * Yea, euen the Lord of hostes that with his power made the earth, with his wisedome prepared the rounde worlde, and with his discretion spred out the heauens.

Gene.1.6. psal.135.6. iere.10.12.

16 As soone as he letteth his voyce be heard, the waters in the ayre waxe fierce: he draweth vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth, hee turneth the lightnings to rayne, he bringeth the windes out of their secret places.

17 [If they be esteemed] by their wisedome, all men are become fooles: confounded be all the casters of images, for the thing that they make is but deceite, and hath no breath.

18 Vayne is it, and an erronious worke, and in the time of visitation it shall perish.

19 The portion of Jacob is none such: but hee that made all things, whose name is the Lord of hostes, he is the rodde of his inheritance.

20 [c] Thou hast bene mine hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in pieces, and with thee haue I destroyed kingdomes.

c Thou hast bene. This God speaketh vnto Babylon

21 Through thee haue I beaten to powder horse and horsemen, yea, the charets, and such as sate vpon them.

22 Through thee I haue broken man and woman, olde and yong, bacheler and mayden.

23 Through thee I haue destroyed the shepheard and his flocke, the husbandman and his cattell, the princes and the rulers.

24 Therefore will I rewarde the citie of Babylon, and all the inhabitantes of Chaldea, with all the euill which they haue done vnto Sion, yea, that ye your selues shal see it, sayth the Lord.

25 Beholde,

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee thou noyſome
d Babylon is called an hill, although it ſtoode in a low place, and no hils about it: for that her walles & buyldings were ſo great and high as mountaines.
d hill, ſayth the Loyde, thou that deſtroyeſt all landes, I will ſtretch out my hand ouer thee, and caſt thee downe from the ſtonie rockes, and will make thee a burnt hill, 26 So that neither coyner ſtones ſhalbe taken any moye out of thee, but waſte and deſolate ſhalt thou lye foy euermoye, ſayth the Loyd.
27 Set vp a token in the lande, blowe the trumpets among the Heathen, pyouoke the nations againſt her, call the kingdomes of Ararat, Menni, and Aſcanez, againſt her, ſet the pyince againſt her, bying as great a ſoyt of terrible hoyſes againſt her, as if they were graſſehoppers.
28 Pyepare againſt them the people of the Medes, with their kings, pyinces, and al their chiefe rulers, yea, and the whole lande that is vnder him.
29 The lande alſo ſhall ſhake and be afrayde, when the deuice of the Loyde ſhall come foyth againſt Babylon, to make the lande of Babylon ſo waſte, that no man ſhal dwell any moye therein.
30 The woythies of Babylon ſhal leaue the battell, and keepe themſelues in ſtrong holdes, their ſtrength hath fayled them, they ſhall be like women, their dwelling places ſhall be burnt vp, their barres ſhalbe broken.
31 One purſeuant ſhal meete another, yea, one poſt ſhall come by another, to bying the king of Babylon tydings that his citie is taken on euery ſide, 32 The foyrdes occuppyed, the fennes burnt vp, and the ſouldiers ſoye afraide.
33 Foy thus ſaith the Loyd of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, e The daughter of Babylon hath bene in her time like as a thyeſhing flooye, but ſhoytly ſhal her harueſt come.
e The complaint of gods people.
34 Nabuchodonoſoy the king of Babylon hath deuoured and deſtroyed me, he hath made me an emptie veſſell, he ſwallowed me vp like a Dyagon, and filled his bellie with my delicates, he hath caſt me out.
35 My ſubſtance whereof he hath ſpoyled me, and the thing that was left me, which he hath caryed away, cry out againſt Babylon, ſayth the daughter that dwelleth in Sion, yea, and my blood alſo againſt the Chaldees, ſayeth Hieruſalem.
36 Therefoye thus ſayth the Loyde, Beholde, I will defend thy cauſe, and auenge thee, I will dyinke vp her Sea, and dye vp her water ſpyings.
37 Babylon ſhall become an heape of ſtones, a dwelling place foy Dyagons, a fearefulneſſe and wondering, and no man ſhall dwell there.
38 They ſhal roare together like Lions, and as the yong Lions when they be angrie, ſo ſhall they bend themſelues.
39 In their heate I will giue them a dinner, and they ſhalbe dyunken foy ioy: then ſhal they ſleepe an euerlaſting ſleepe, and neuer wake, ſayth the Loyd.
40 I will carry them downe to bee ſlayne like ſheepe, like wethers, and goates.
41 O howe was Sehach wonne: O howe was the gloyy of the whole land taken: howe happeneth it that Babylon is ſo wondered at among the Heathen:
42 The ſea is riſen ouer Babylon, and hath couered her with her great waues.
43 Her cities are layd waſte, the land lyeth vnbuilded and voyde, it is a lande where no man dwelleth, and where no man trauaileth thoyowe.
44 Moyeouer, I will viſit Bel at Babylon, and ỳ thing that he hath ſwallowed vp, that ſame ſhall I plucke out of his mouth: the Gentiles alſo ſhall run no moye vnto him, yea and the walles of Babylon ſhall fall.
45 O my people, come out of Babylon, that euery man may ſaue his life from the fearefull wyath of the Loyd.
46 Be not faint hearted, and feare not at euery rumour that ſhall be heard in the land: foy euery yere bringeth newe tydings, and in ỳ yeere following newe tydings, and robbing in the land, and loyd vpon loyd.
47 And loe, the time commeth, that I will viſit the images of Babylon, and the whole lande ſhalbe confounded, yea and her ſlaine ſhall lie in the middeſt of her.
48 Heauen and earth with all that is therein ſhall reioyce ouer Babylon, when the deſtroyers ſhal come vpon her from the Noyth, ſaith the Loyd.
49 Like as Babylon hath beaten downe and ſlayne many out of Iſrael, ſo ſhall there fall many, and be ſlayne in all her kingdome.
50 Ye that haue eſcaped the ſwoyde, haſte you, ſtand not ſtill, remember the Loyd a farre off, and thinke vpon Hieruſalem.
51 Foy wee are aſhamed to heare the blaſphemies, our faces were couered with ſhame, becauſe the ſtrange aliants came into the ſanctuarie of the Loyd.
52 Wherefoye beholde, ſayth the Loyd, the time commeth that I will viſit the images of Babylon, and thyough the whole lande they ſhall mourne and fall.
53 Though Babylon climed vp into heauen, and kept her power on high, yet ſhall I ſende her deſtroyers, ſayth the Loyd.
54 A piteous crye [ſhall be heard] from Babylon, and a great miſerie from the lande of the Chaldees, 55 When the Loyde deſtroyeth Babylon, and when hee dyiueth out the high ſtomacke and proud boaſting, wherewith they haue bene as furious as ỳ waues of the great water floods,

and

and made great crakes with their woꝛdes:
56 Foꝛ the destroyer shall come vpon her, euen vpon Babylon, which shall take their wooꝛthies, and breake their bowes: foꝛ the God of recompence, euen the Lord shall sufficiently recompense them,
57 Yea, [sayth the Loꝛde,] I will make their pꝛinces, their wise men, their chiefe rulers, their nobles, and their woꝛthies dꝛunken, so that they shal sleepe an euerlasting sleepe, and neuer wake: thus saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.
58 Moꝛeouer, thus sayth the Loꝛde of hostes, The thicke wall of Babylon shalbe broken, & her high gates shalbe burnt vp, and the thing that the Gentiles & the people haue wꝛought with great trauaile and labour, shall come to nought, and be consumed in the fire.
59 This is the charge that Jeremie the Pꝛophet gaue vnto Saraiah the sonne of Neriah the sonne of Maasiah, when he went towarde Babylon with Zedecias the king of Juda, in the fourth yeere of his reigne: now this Saraiah was a peaceable pꝛince.
60 Jeremie wꝛote in a booke all the miserie that should come vpon Babylon, yea, and all these sermons that be written against Babylon,
61 And gaue Saraiah his charge, When thou commest vnto Babylon, see that thou reade these woꝛdes, 62 And say, O Loꝛde, thou art determined to roote out this place, so that neyther people noꝛ cattell shall dwell there any moꝛe, but to lye waste foꝛ euer.
63 And when thou hast read out the booke, binde a stone to it, and cast it in the middest of Euphꝛates, 64 And say, Euen thus shall Babylon sinke, and be thꝛust downe with the burden of trouble that I will bꝛing vpon her: so that she shal neuer come vp againe. Thus farre are the pꝛeachings of Jeremie.

The lii. Chapter.

1 He repeateth the taking of Zedecias. 4 Hierusalem is taken of the Chaldees. 14 The Temple is spoyled and robbed.

4.King.24.17. 2.chro.36.11. 1 Zedecias *was one and twentie yeeres olde when he was made king, & reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Hamutal, Jeremies daughter of Libna.
2 He liued wickedly before the Loꝛde, euen as Jehoacim did.
3 Foꝛ the Loꝛd was angry at Hierusalem and Juda, so long till he had cast them out of his pꝛesence: and Zedecias fell from the king of Babylon.
4.King.25.1. Jerem.9.13. 4 *But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, it happened that Nabuchodonosoꝛ the king of Babylon with all his host came before Hierusalem, and besieged it, and made bulwarks round about it.
5 And this besieging of the citie endured vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedecias.
6 And in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, there was a great hunger in the citie, that there were no moꝛe victuals foꝛ the people of the land.
7 So all the souldiers bꝛake away, & fled out of the citie by night, thoꝛowe the way of the poꝛt, betweene the two walles, by the kings garden: (Nowe the Chaldees had compassed the citie rounde about) yet went those men their way thoꝛowe the wildernesse.
8 And so the Chaldees followed vpon them, and tooke Zedecias the king in the fielde of Jericho, when his host was runne from him.
9 So they carryed the king away pꝛisoner to Reblath, vnto the king of Babylon in the land of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.
10 The king of Babylon also caused Zedecias sonnes to be slayne before his face, yea, and put all the pꝛinces of Juda to death at Reblath.
11 Moꝛeouer, he put out the eyes of Zedecias, & caused him to be bound with two chaynes, to be caryed vnto Babylon, and let him lye in pꝛison tyll he dyed.
12 Nowe the tenth day of the fifth moneth, in the nineteenth yeere of Nabuchodonosoꝛ king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, and the king of Babylons seruantes, came vnto Hierusalem, 13 And burnt vp the house of the Loꝛd: he burnt vp also the kings palace, all the houses, and all the goꝛgeous buyldings in Hierusalem.
14 And the whole hoste of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captaine, bꝛake downe all the walles of Hierusalem round about.
15 As foꝛ the pooꝛe people, & such folke as was yet left in the citie, which also were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea, and what people as yet remayned, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caryed them away pꝛisoners.
16 But the pooꝛe people of the countrey dyd Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine leaue in the land, to occupie the vineyardes and fieldes.
17 The Chaldees also bꝛake the bꝛasen pillars that were in the house of the Loꝛde, yea, the seate & the bꝛasen lauer that was in the house of the Loꝛd, and caryed all the metall of them vnto Babylon.
18 They tooke away also the Caldꝛons, Shouels, Flesshhookes, Spꝛinklers, Spoones, and all the bꝛasen vessels that were occuppyed in the seruice, 19 With the basons, colepans, spꝛinklers, pottes, candlesticks, spoones, & cups, whereof some were of golde, and some of siluer.
20 The chiefe captayne tooke also the two pillars, pillars, the lauer, the twelue brasen bullocks that stoode vnder the seate which king Solomon had made in the house of the Lorde: and all the vessels conteined so much metall, that it might not be weyed.

21 For euery pillar was eyghteene cubites hygh, and the rope that went about it was twelue cubites, and foure fingers thicke, and rounde.

22 Now vpon the rope were brasen knops, and euery knop was fiue cubites high, and vpon the knops were hoopes, and pomegranates round about of cleane brasse.

23 After this maner were both the pillars fashioned with the pomegranates, wherof there were an hundred, ninetie and sixe, which hanged vpon the hoopes round about.

24 The chiefe captaine also tooke Saraiah the high Priest, and Sophoniah that was chiefe next him, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 He tooke out of the citie a chamberlayne, which was captaine of the souldiers, and seuen men that were the kings seruants, which were founde in the citie: and Sopher a captaine that vsed to muster the men of warre, with threescore men of the countrie that were taken in the citie:

26 These Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke, and caryed them to the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath:

27 And the king of Babylon caused them to be put to death at Reblath in the lande of Hemath: and thus Iuda was led away captiue out of his owne land.

28 This is the summe of the people whome Nabuchodonosor led away captiue: In the seuenth yere of his reigne, he caryed away of the Iewes, three thousand, twentie and three.

29 In the eyghteenth yeere, Nabuchodonosor caryed away from Hierusalem, eight hundred, thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nabuchodonosor, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke away seuen hundred, fourtie and fiue Iewes, prisoners. The whole summe of the prisoners is foure thousand, and sixe hundred.

31 In the thirtie and seuenth yeere after that Iehoacim the king of Iuda was caried away, in the fiue and twentieth day of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach king of Babylon (the same yeere that he reygned) gaue Iehoacim the king of Iuda his pardon, and let him out of prison, 32 And spake louingly to him, & set his throne aboue the thrones of the other kings that were with him in Babylon.

33 He changed also t[illegible]thes of his prison, yea, and did eate [illegible] all his life long.

34 And he had a con[illegible] liuing giuen him of the king of Babylon, euery day a certayne thing allowed him, all the dayes of his life, vntill he dyed.

The ende of the booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The Lamentations of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

It happened after Israel was brought into captiuitie, and Hierusalem destroyed, that Ieremie the Prophet sate weeping, and sorowfully bewayled Hierusalem, and sighing and howling with an heauie and wofull heart, sayde.

1 ALas,] how sitteth the citie so desolate, that sometime was full of people: Howe is shee become like a widow, which was great among nations: Howe is shee brought vnder tribute, that ruled landes:

Iere.13.17. 2 * She weepeth sore in the night, so that the teares runne downe her cheekes: for among all her louers, there is none that giueth her any comfort, yea, her next friendes transgresse against her, and are become her enemies.

3 Iuda went away by reason of the affliction and great bondage: she dwelleth among the Heathen, she findeth no rest, all they that persecuted her, tooke her in straite places, [where she could not escape.]

4 The streetes of Sion mourne, because no man commeth no more to the solemne feasts: all her gates are desolate, her priests make lamentation, her maydens are carefull, and she her selfe in great heauinesse.

5 Her enemies haue bene rulers ouer her, and her enemies haue prospered, because the Lord hath chastened her for her great wickednesse: her children are led away captiue before their enemies.

6 All the beautie of the daughter of Sion is away, her princes are become like Harts that finde no pasture, they are driuen away before their enemy, so that they haue no more power.

7 Nowe Hierusalem remembred in the time of her miserie and bare estate, all her ioy and pleasure that she hath had in times past, seeing her people is brought downe vnder the power of their enemies, and there is no man for to helpe her: her enemies stand looking at her, and laugh her Sabboth dayes to scorne.

8 Hierusalem hath sinned grieuously, therfore is she come in decay: all they that had her in honour, despise her, for they haue seene her filthinesse, yea, she sigheth, and is ‖ ashamed of her selfe.

‖ Or, and is turned backward.

9 Her

9 Her skirtes are defiled, she remembred not her last ende, therefore is her fall so wonderfull, and there is no man to comfort her: O Lorde consider my trouble, for mine enemie hath the vpper hand.

10 The enemie hath put his hand to all the precious things that she had, yea, euen before her eyes came the heathen in and out of the sanctuarie, whom thou [neuertheless] hast forbidden to come within thy congregation.

11 All her people seeke their bread with heauinesse, & looke what precious thing euery man hath, that giueth he for meate to saue his life: cōsider, O Lord, & see how vile I am become.

12 Haue ye no regard all ye that go foreby, beholde and see if there be any sorowe like vnto mine, wherewith the Lorde hath troubled me in the day of his fearefull wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent downe a fire into my bones, and it burneth them cruelly: hee hath layd a net for my feete, and throwen me wide open, he hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning.

a The bondage through sinne is most grieuous, which therfore is called the yoke of sinnes, fastened in or to Gods hād, because by no meanes it can be shaken off or remitted, but onely of Gods speciall grace & mercy.

14 The a yoke of my transgressions is bounde fast to his hande, they are wrapped [or wreathen] and come vp about my necke: he hath caused my strength to fayle, the Lord hath deliuered me into those handes whereout I can not quit my selfe.

15 The Lorde hath destroyed all the mightie men that were in mee, he hath proclaymed an appointed time to slaughter all my best men: the Lorde hath troden downe the daughter of Iuda, like as it were in a wine presse.

Iere. 14. 17.

16 * Therefore doe I weepe, and mine eyes gush out of water: for the comfort that shoulde quicken me, is farre from me: my children are driuen away, for why? the enemie hath gotten the vpper hand.

17 Sion casteth out her hands, and there is no man to comfort her: the Lorde hath layde the enemies round about Iacob, & Hierusalem is become abomination in the middest of them.

18 The Lord is righteous, for I haue prouoked his countenance vnto anger: O take heede all ye people, and consider my heauinesse, my maydens and my yongmen are led away into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they beguyled me, for my priests and counsailours, but they perished, euen while they sought for meate to saue their liues.

20 Consider (O Lord) how I am troubled, my wombe is disquieted, my heart turneth about in me, and I am full of heauinesse, because I rebelled stubbernly: the sworde hurteth mee without, and within I am like vnto death.

21 They heare my mourning, but there is none that will comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad thereof, because thou hast done it, and thou hast brought forth the time which thou calledst, when they also shalbe like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee, and doe thou to them as thou hast done vnto me for all my trespasses: for my sorow is very great, and my heart is heauie.

The ii. Chapter.

1 ALas] how hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Sion in his wrath: as for the honour of Israel, he hath cast it downe from heauen vnto the earth, and he remembred not his owne a footstoole when he was angry.

a By the footstoole is meant the temple of Hierusalem.

2 The Lorde hath cast out all the habitations of Iacob without any fauour, all the strong places of the daughter of Iuda hath he broken downe in his wrath, & throwen them downe to the ground, her kingdome and her princes hath he prophaned.

3 In the wrath of his indignation he hath broken all the b horne of Israel, he hath withdrawen his right hand from the enemie, yea, a flame of fire is kindled in Iacob, and hath consumed vp all round about.

b By the horne, is meant the power or strength.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he hath fastened his right hande as an aduersarie, and euery thing that was pleasant to see, he hath slaine: he hath powred out his wrath like a fire into the tabernacle of the daughter of Sion.

5 The Lord is become like as it were an enemie, he hath deuoured Israel and all his palaces, yea, all his strong holdes hath he destroyed, and filled the daughter of Iuda with much sorowe and heauinesse.

6 His tabernacle as a garden hath he destroyed, his solemne meetings hath he put downe, the Lorde hath brought it so to passe, that the high solemne feastes & Sabbaths in Sion are cleane forgotten: in his heauy displeasure hath he despised the king and priestes.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his owne altar, and hath abhorred his owne sanctuarie, & hath giuen the walles of their towres into the hands of their enemy: their enemies made a noyse in the house of the Lord, as it had bene a solemne feast day.

8 The Lorde thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, he spred out his line, and drewe not in his hand till he had destroyed them: therefore mourne the turrets, and the broken walles fall downe together.

9 Her gates are sunke downe to the ground, her barres are broken & smitten in sunder, her king & princes [are caryed away] to the Gentiles: they haue not the lawe, neither her prophets haue any vision from the Lorde.

10 The Senatours of the daughter Sion sitte vpon the ground in silence, they haue strawed ashes vpon their heads, & girded themselues with sackcloth, the maydens of Hierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine

11 Mine eyes doe fayle through weeping, my bowels do swell, my liuer is powred vpon the earth, for the great hurt of the daughter of my people, seeing the childrē & babes dyd swoone in the streetes of the citie.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is ‖bread and drinke: when they fell downe as wounded in the streetes of the citie, and when they yed in their mothers bosome.

‖Or, wheate and wine.

13 What shall I take to witnesse against thee, or what shall I liken to thee, O daughter Hierusalem: To whom shal I compare thee, O thou daughter Sion, to comfort thee withall: thy heart is like a mayne sea, who may heale thee:

14 Thy [c] prophets haue looked out vayne and foolish things for thee, they haue not shewed thee of thy wickednesse, to keepe thee from captiuitie: but they haue seene out for thee ‖burdens of vanitie and banishment.

c The false prophets toke vpon them the name of Seers which was proper to the true prophets: but their vaine burdens, that is, their false prophecies brought the people vnder the grieuous burden of affliction and banishment.

‖Or, vaine prophecies.

15 All they that goe by the way, clappe their hands at thee, hissing & wagging their heads vpon the daughter Hierusalem, [and say,] Is this the citie that men call so fayre, [and] the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies gape vpon thee, they hisse & grinde their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure, for the time that we looked for is come, wee haue found and seene it.

17 The Lorde hath fulfilled the thing that he was purposed to do, & performed his worde that he had ‖ deuised long agoe: he hath destroyed and not spared, he hath caused thine aduersary to triumph ouer thee, and set vp the horne of thine enemie.

‖Or, commanded.

18 *Their heart cryed vnto the Lorde, O thou ‖citie of the daughter Sion, let thy teares runne downe like a riuer day and night, rest not, & let not the apple of thine eye leaue off.

Iere. 14. 17.

‖Or, O thou wall.

19 Stand vp, cry in the night in the beginning of the watche, powre out thine heart like water before the Lorde: lift vp thine handes towardes him, for the liues of thy yong children that dye of hunger in the streetes.

20 Behold, O Lorde, and consider to whome thou hast done thus: shal the women then eate their owne fruite, euen children of a spanne long: shal the Priests and Prophets be slaine in the Sanctuarie of the Lorde?

21 Yong and olde lye thorow the streetes vpon the grounde, my maydens and yong men are slayne with the sworde, whome thou in the day of thy wrathfull indignation hast put to death, yea, euen thou hast put them to death, and not spared them.

22 My ‖terrours that are round about me, hast thou called as it were to a feast day, so that in the day of the Lordes wrath none escaped, neyther was any left behinde: those that I haue brought vp and nourished, hath mine enemie destroyed.

‖Or, enemies whom I feared.

The iii. Chapter.

1 I Am the man that through the rodde of his wrath haue experience of miserie.

2 He droue me forth, and led me, yea, into darkenesse, but not into light.

3 Surely against mee is he turned, he turneth his hand dayly [against me.]

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he made olde, and my bones hath he brused.

5 He hath buylded against mee, and closed me in with gall and trauayle.

6 He hath set mee in darkenesse, as they that be dead [for] euer.

7 He hath hedged mee in, that I can not get out, and he hath layd heauie linkes vpon me.

8 Though I cry and call piteously, yet heareth he not my prayer.

9 He hath stopped vp my wayes with squared stones, and made my paths crooked.

10 He layeth wayte for me [like] a Beare, and [as] a Lion in a hole.

11 He hath marred my wayes, and broken me in pieces, he hath layde me waste.

12 He hath bent his bowe, and made mee as it were a marke ‖ to shoote at.

‖Or, for the arrowe.

13 The arowes of his quiuer hath he shot, euen into my reynes.

14 I am laughed to scorne of all my people, they make songs vpon me all the day long.

15 He hath filled me with bitternesse, and made me drunken with wormewood.

16 He hath smitten my teeth in pieces with stones, and rouled me in the dust.

17 My soule departed from peace: I forgat all good things.

18 And I sayde, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord.

19 O remember yet my miserie and my trouble, the wormewood, and the gall.

20 Yea, in remembring my soule doeth still remember them, and is humbled within me.

21 I consider these things in my heart, and I get hope againe.

22 [Namely,] it is of the Lordes mercies that we are not vtterly consumed, for truely his pitifull compassion hath not ceased.

23 New mercies shal the Lord shew vpon thee early in the day springing, (O Lord) great is thy faithfulnesse.

24 The Lorde is my portion, sayeth my soule, therefore will I hope in him.

25 O howe good is the Lorde vnto them that put their trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh after him:

26 The good man with stilnesse and patience tarieth for the health of the Lord.

27 Good is it for a man to take the yoke vpon him from his youth vp.

28 He sitteth alone, he holdeth him still, because he hath taken [the Lordes yoke] vpon him.

‖ Or, mouth.

29 He layeth ‖ his face vpon the earth, if there happen to be any hope.
30 He offereth his cheeke to the smiter, he will be content with reproches.
31 For the Lord wil not forsake for euer,
32 But though he punish, yet according to the multitude of his mercies hee recepueth to grace againe.
33 For he doeth not plague willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 34 To treade all the prisoners of the earth vnder his feete,
35 To decline the iudgement of man before the most high,
‡ The Lord seeth it not.
36 To condemne a man in his cause: ‡ the Lord hath not pleasure in such things.
37 What is he then that sayth, and it commeth to passe, and the Lorde commanded it not?
Amos.3.6.
38 *Out of the mouth of the most hygh, goeth not euill and good?
39 Wherefore then mourneth the liuing man? let him mourne for his owne sinne.
40 Let vs looke well vpon our wayes, and remember our selues, & turne againe to the Lord.
41 Let vs lift our hearts with our handes vnto God [that is] in the heauens.
42 We haue sinned and rebelled, [therefore] hast thou not spared.
43 Thou hast couered vs in thy wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slayne without any fauour.
44 Thou hast hid thy selfe in a cloude, that our prayers should not go thorow.
45 Thou hast made vs as the offscouring and refuse in the middest of the people.
46 All our enemies gape vpon vs.
47 Feare and a snare is come vpon vs, yea, desolation and destruction.
48 Whole riuers of water gush out of myne eyes, for the hurt of the daughter of my people.
49 Mine eye runneth, and can not cease, for there is no rest, 50 Till the Lorde looke downe from heauen and consider.
51 Mine eyes breake my heart, because of all the daughters of my citie.
52 Mine enemies hunted me out sharpely like a birde, yea, and that without a cause.
53 They haue shut vp my life in a dungeon, and cast stones vpon me.
54 The waters flowed ouer my head: then thought I, [nowe] am I vndone.
55 I called vpon thy name, O Lorde, out of the deepe pitte.
56 Thou hast heard my voyce, withdrawe not thine eare from my sighing and crying.
57 Thou drewest nigh vnto me when I called vpon thee: and hast sayd, Feare not.
58 Thou (O Lord) hast mainteyned the cause of my soule, and hast redeemed my life.
59 O Lorde, thou hast seene my wrong, take thou my cause vpon thee.
60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuices against me.
61 Thou hast heard their despitefull wordes, O Lorde, yea, and all their imaginations against me:
62 The lippes of them that rise against mee, and their deuices that they take against mee all the day long.
63 Behold [also] their sitting downe and their rising vp, [howe] I am their song.
64 Reward them, O Lorde, according to the workes of their handes.
65 Giue them ‖ an obstinate heart, euen thy curse.
‖ Or, sorowe of heart.
66 Persecute them, O Lorde, with thine indignation, and roote them out from vnder the heauen.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 HOwe is the golde become so dimme? the most fine gold so changed? and the stones of the sanctuarie are scattered in the corner of euery streete.
2 The children of Sion that were alway in honour, and ‖ clothed with the most precious gold: howe are they now become like earthen vessels, the worke of the potters hande?
‖ Or, compared to.
3 The dragons gyue their yong ones sucke with bare breastes: but the daughter of my people is cruell, like the Estriches in the wildernesse.
4 The tongues of the sucking children cleaue to the roofe of their mouthes for very thirst: the yong children aske bread, but there is no man that giueth it them.
5 They that were woont to fare delicately, perish in the streetes: they that [afore] were brought vp in purple, make [nowe] much of doung.
6 The sinne of the daughter of my people is become greater then the a wickednes of Sodom, *that suddenly was destroyed, and ‖ not taken with handes.
a The greatnesse of the punishment shewed their sinnes to be greater then the sinnes of the Sodomites. The Sodomites were suddenly consumed with fire, but the Iewes were miserably tormented with hunger, pestilence, and the sworde, in a long and cruell siege. Gene. 19.23.
‖ Or, no campes were pitched against her.
7 Her ‖ abstainers were whiter then the snow or milke, their colour was fresh, red as coral, their beautie like the Saphire.
8 [But nowe] their faces be very blacke, in so much that thou shouldest not knowe them in the streetes: their skinne cleaueth to their bones, it is withered and become like a dry stocke.
9 They that be slayne with the sworde, are happier then such as dye of hunger, for these perish away as they were stricken thorow for the [lacke] of the fruites of the fielde.
10 The women which [of nature] are pitifull, haue sodden their owne children with their handes, that they might be their meate in the [miserable] destruction of the daughter of my people.
‖ Or, Nazarees.

11 The

11 The Lorde hath performed his heauie wrath, he hath powred out the furiousnesse of his displeasure: he hath kindeled a fire in Sion, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12 Neyther the kings of the earth, nor all the inhabiters of the world would haue beleeued that the enemie and aduersarie shoulde haue come in at the gates of Hierusalem.

13 [Which neuertheless is come to passe] for the sinne of her prophets, and for the wickednesse of her priestes, that haue shed innocent blood in the middest of her.

14 As blinde men went they stumbling in the streetes, and stayned themselues with blood, [so that the heathen] would not touch their garments.

15 But they cryed vnto them, Flee ye polluted, away, get you hence, touche not: for they are vncleane, and be remoued, yea, they haue sayd among the heathen, They shal no more dwell there.

‖Or, the wrath. 16 The ‖countenance of the Lorde hath banished them, and shall neuer looke more vpon them: for they [themselues] neyther ‖regarded the priestes, nor pitied their elders.

‖Or, reuerenced.

17 Wherefore our eyes failed vs, whylest we yet looked for our vayne helpe, seeing wee euer wayted vpon a people that coulde doe vs no good.

18 They lay so sharpe wayte for vs, that we can not goe safe vpon the streetes, for our ende is at hande, our dayes are fulfilled, our ende is come.

19 Our persecuters are swyfter then the Egles of the ‖ayre: they followed vpon vs ouer the mountaines, and layde wayte for vs in the wildernesse.

‖Or, heauen.

20 The [very] breath[b] of our ‖mouth, [euen] the anoynted of the Lord [himselfe] was taken in their net, of whom we sayd, Vnder his shadowe we shall be preserued alyue among the heathen.

b The breath, that is, the life, meaning the king, who is called the life of the people, for that the people are like an headelesse body that hath no life in it, when they be left without a king or gouernour.

21 And thou, O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the land of Huz, be glad and reioyce, for the cuppe shall come vnto thee also, thou shalt be dronken, and ‖discouer thy nakednesse.

‖Or, nostrels.

22 Thy sinnes are fully punished, O thou daughter Sion, he will no more cary thee away into captiuitie: but thy wickednesse, O daughter Edom, shall be visite, and will discouer thy sinnes.

‖Or, thou shalt vomite.

The v. Chapter.

The prayer of Ieremie.

1 CAll to remembrance (O Lorde) what is come vpon vs, consider and see our ‖confusion.

‖Or, reproche.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, [and] our houses to the aliants.

3 We are vnderlings without fathers, and our mothers are as widowes.

4 We haue dronken our water for money, and our wood haue we by sale.

5 Our neckes are vnder persecution, we are wearie, and haue no rest.

6 [Aforetime] we yeelded our selues to the Egyptians, [and nowe] to the Assyrians, onely that we might haue bread ynough.

7 Our fathers (which now are gone) haue sinned, and we must beare their wickednesse.

8 Seruants haue the rule of vs, and no man deliuereth vs out of their handes.

9 We must get our ‖liuing with the perill of our liues, because of the ‖mouth of the wildernesse.

‖Or, bread. ‖Or, sworde.

10 Our skinne is made blacke like as an ouen, for very sore hunger.

11 They rauished the wiues in Sion, and the maydens in the cities of Iuda.

12 The princes are hanged vp with their [enemies] hand, they haue not honoured the olde sage mens faces.

13 They haue taken yong men to grinde, and the boyes fainted vnder the [burdens] of wood.

14 The elders haue ceassed from the gates, and the yong men from their songs.

15 The ioy of our heart is gone, our ‖melodious meeting is turned into mourning.

‖Or, our daunce

16 The ‖garlande of our head is fallen: alas that euer we sinned.

‖Or, our crowne.

17 Therefore our heart is ful of heauinesse, and for these things our eyes are dimme.

18 Because of the hil of Sion that is destroyed: [insomuch that] the Foxes runne vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lorde, remaynest for euer, and thy seate worlde without ende.

20 Wherefore wilt thou still forget vs, and forsake vs so long?

21 O Lorde, turne thou vs vnto thee, and [so] shal we be turned, renew our dayes as in olde times:

22 But thou hast banished vs vtterly, and hast bene exceedingly displeased at vs.

The ende of the Lamentations of Jeremie.

The

The prophecie of Ezechiel.

The first Chapter.

1 The tyme wherein Ezechiel prophecied, and in what place. 3 His kinred. 5 The vision of the foure beasts. 16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles. 26 The vision of the throne.

1 IT came to passe in the [a] thirtieth yeere, in ỹ fourth [moneth,] in the fifth day of the moneth, that (I being in the midst of ỹ captiuitie, by ỹ riuer Chebar) the heauens were opened, and I sawe visions of God:

2 In the fifth [day] of the moneth, which was the fifth yeere of king Joacims captiuitie,

3 The word of the Lord came to Ezechiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Chaldeans by the riuer Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a stormie winde came out of the North, a great cloude, and a fire folding it selfe [in the cloud,] & a brightnes round about it, and foorth of the middest thereof as the colour of amber out of ỹ midst of the fire.

5 And out of the midst thereof, the likenesse of foure [b] beasts [appeared,] and this was their forme: They had the likenesse of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, & euery one of them had foure wings.

7 Their feete were straite feete, and the sole of their feete like the sole of calues feete, and they glistered as the appearance of brasse burnished.

8 From vnder their wings vpon all the foure ‖ corners they had mens hands: & they foure had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were ioyned one to another: when they went, they looked not backe, but eche one went straight forward.

10 But [touching] the similitude of their faces, they foure had the [c] face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right side, and they foure had the face of an oxe on ỹ left side, they foure also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were spred out aboue, [so ỹ] two [wings] of euery one were ioyned one to another, & two [wings] couered [euery one of] their bodies.

12 Euery one went straight forwarde: [d] whither as the spirit led them, thither they went, and returned not in their going.

13 And the fashion of the beastes, their appearance was like coales of fire, burning like the appearance of cressets, it ran among ỹ beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And ỹ beasts ran, & returned like lightning.

15 When I had considered the beasts, behold, a wheele vpon the earth nigh to the beasts, to ‖ euery of the foure before his face.

16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles was like the colour of [e] Tharsis, and they foure had one fashion, and their fashion and their worke [was] as though it were a wheele in the middle of a wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpō their foure sides: they turned not when they went.

18 They had [f] rings, and height, & were fearefull to behold: and their rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

19 When the beastes went, the wheeles went also by them: and when the beasts were lift vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whither soeuer the spirit [was] to go, they went, & thither [was] the spirit of ỹ wheeles to go, & the wheeles were lift vp before them: for ỹ spirite of the beasts was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon ỹ heads of ỹ beasts, was like ỹ colour of chrystall, wonderful, spred ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament their wings were straight [foorth] one towards another, euery one had two couering them, & s euery one had two couering them, [euen] their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noise of many waters, as the voyce of the almightie, the voice of speach as the noyse of an host: when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmamēt, that was ouer their heads, when they stoode, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament ỹ was ouer their heads, there was the fashion of a throne like a Saphire stone: and vpon the similitude of the throne by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber [and] as the similitude of fire round about within, from the appearance of his loines vpward: and from the appearance of his loines and downward, I sawe as the likenes of fire, and brightnes round about it.

28 As the likenes of a bowe that is in a cloude in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the brightnes round about: this was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord, & when I sawe it, I [h] fel vpon my face, & hearkened vnto the voyce of one [i] that spake,

The ii. Chapter.

The Prophet is sent to cal the people from their errour.

1 And a After ỹ Iubilee, in which yere the booke of the law was found, which was the 18. yere of Josias, so that 25. yeeres after this booke was found, Jechonias was led awap captine with Ezechiel (and manp of the people) who the fifth yeere after, saw these visions.

b Which were the foure Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Exech. 3.

‖ Or, quarters.

c Euery Cherub had foure faces, the face of a man and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an eagle on the left side.

d Whither their will or minde was to goe.

‖ Or, hauing foure faces.

e That is, a precious stone of a goodly colour, thought to be ỹ Emerods.

f The vtter compasse of the wheeles, which some call strakes.

g He noteth two maner of couerings, the one with wings stretched vpward to couer their faces, and the other with the neather wings to couer their bodies.

h Considering the maiestie of God, and the weakenes of flesh.

i That is, the Lord.

1 And then said hee vnto me, Stand vp vpon thy feete (O thou sonne of man) and I will talke with thee.

2 And the spirit entred into me whē he had spoken vnto me, & set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious people, which haue rebelled against me, both they and their forefathers haue wickedly behaued themselues against me, euen vnto this very day.

‖ Or, impudent. 4 For they are children of a ‖ hard face, and stiffe heart, I doe send thee vnto them, & thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God.

5 And whether they will heare or refuse (for they are a rebellious house) yet they may know that there hath bene a prophet among them.

‖ Or, rebels. 6 And thou sonne of man feare them not, neither be afraid of their wordes, for ‖ briers and thornes are with thee, and thou doest dwell among scorpions: feare not their wordes, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speake my words vnto them, whether they will heare or refuse, for they are rebellious.

‖ Or, heare. 8 Therefore thou sonne of man, ‖ obey thou all things that I say vnto thee, & be not thou rebellious like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and [a] eate that I giue thee.

9 And I looked, & behold a hand was sent vnto me, and loe, in it was a roule of a booke.

10 And hee opened it before mee, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein [b] lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

a That is, print in thy memorie, & meditate in thine heart all my words, as Ezech. 3.

b That is, Gods iudgements against the wicked.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Prophet being fedde with the worde of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the spirite, is sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true preachers.

1 After this said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, eate whatsoeuer thou findest, eate this roule, and goe thy way, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he fed me with this roule.

3 And he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thy belly shall eate, and thy bowels shalt thou fill with this roule that I giue thee: then did I eate, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony.

4 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, goe, get thee vnto the house of Israel, and declare my wordes vnto them.

‡ Strange. 5 For not to a people of ‡ profound lips and hard language art thou sent, but vnto y house of Israel:

6 Not to many nations of a strange speach and hard languages, whose wordes thou vnderstandest not: certainly if I had sent thee vnto them, they would haue hearkened vnto thee.

7 But the house of Israel wil not hearken vnto thee, for they will not hearken vnto mee: For all the house of Israel haue stiffe foreheads, and stubborne hearts.

8 Beholde therefore, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an Adamant, harder then the flint stone haue I made thy forehead: thou shalt not feare them, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreouer vnto me, Thou sonne of man, all my words that I shall speake vnto thee, receiue in thine heart, and hearken with thine eares.

11 And go, get thee to the captiuitie, to y̆ children of thy people, and thou shalt speake vnto them, and shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they leaue off.

12 With that the spirite tooke me vp, and I heard behind me a voyce of a great rushing, [to wit,] Blessed bee the glory of Iehouah from his place.

13 [I heard] also the noise of the wings of the beasts ioyning one with another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were before them, euen a noise of great rushing.

14 Now when the spirite lift me vp and tooke me away, I went in bitternesse and furie of my spirit: but the hand of the Lord vpon me was strong.

15 Then I came to the captiues in Thelabib that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and I remained there seuen dayes astonished among them.

16 And when the seuen daies were expired, the Lord said vnto me,

17 Thou sonne of man, * I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therfore thou shalt heare the worde at my mouth, and giue them warning from me. * Ezech. 33.7.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his euill way, and so to liue: then shall the same vngodly man die in his owne vnrighteousnesse, but his blood will I require of thine hand.

19 Neuertheless, if thou giue warning vnto the wicked, and he yet turne not from his vngodlinesse and from his wicked way: he shal die in his owne wickednesse, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Againe, if a righteous man turne from his righteousnesse, and doe the thing that is euil,

euil, I wil lay a stumbling blocke before him: and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning, he shall be in his owne sinne, so that his righteousnes which he hath done shal not be thought vpon: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and so the righteous do not sinne: then shall he liue, because he hath receiued thy warning, & thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, ‖ Stand vp, and goe into the field, that I may there talke with thee.

‖ Or, arise.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the [a] glory of the Lord stoode there, * like the glory which I sawe by the riuer Chebar: then fell I downe vpon my face.

a Meaning, the vision of the Cherubins and the wheeles. Ezech. 1. 1.

24 And the spirite came into me, which set me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, & sayd vnto me, ‖ Goe thy way, and shut thy selfe in thy house.

‖ Or, get thee in.

‖ Or, they shall put bonds vpon thee.

25 Behold, O thou sonne of man, ‖ they haue prepared bondes against thee, and they will binde thee with them, and thou shalt not goe out among them.

b It is a great plague of God toward the people, when he causeth the ministers to cease preaching and rebuking of sinne.

26 And I will make thy tongue [b] cleaue to the roofe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumbe, and not be as a reprouer vnto them: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speake vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say vnto thē, Thus saith the Lord God, Who so heareth, let him heare, who so leaueth off, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The siege of the citie of Hierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 16 A hunger is prophecied to come in the captiuitie.

1 THou sonne of mā, take thee a tilestone, and lay it before thee, and purtray vpon it the citie of Hierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and build a forte against it, and cast a mount against it: set the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an iron panne, and set it betwixt thee and the citie for an iron wall, then set thy face toward it to besiege it, and make an assault against it: this shalbe a token vnto the house of Israel.

a Wherby he represented the idolatrie and sinne of the ten tribes, (for Samaria was on his left hand from Babylon) and how they had remained therein three hundred and ninetie yeeres.

4 But thou shalt sleepe vpon thy left side, and lay the sinne [a] of the house of Israel vpon it: [according] to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue layed vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to ỹ number of the dayes, [euen] three hundred & ninetie ‡daies, so shalt thou b[ear] the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

‡ Vnderstand, shall they be.

6 When thou hast fulfilled these dayes, [lie downe againe,] and sleepe vpon thy [b] right side, * and beare the sinnes of the house of Iuda: fourtie dayes haue I appointed thee, [c] a day for a yeere, [euen] a day for a yeere.

b Which declared Iosiah, who had now from the time of Iosiah slept in their sinnes four tie yeeres. Num. 14. 34.

c That is, for euery yeere they haue sinned, to sleepe one day.

7 Therefore set now thy face toward ỹ siege of Hierusalem, and discouer thine arme, that thou mayest prophecie against it.

8 Behold, I will lay ‖ chaines vpon thee, that thou shalt not turne thee from one side to an other, til thou hast ended the dayes of thy besieging.

‖ Or, bands.

9 Therefore take vnto thee wheate, barley, beanes, lentils, millet, and fitches, & put these together in a vessel, and make thee loaues of bread thereof, according to the number of the dayes ‖ that thou must lie vpon thy side, that thou mayest haue bread to eate for three hundred and ninetie dayes.

‖ Or, thou must sleepe.

10 And thy meate that thou eatest [shall be] by weight, [namely,] twentie sicles euery day: & from tyme to tyme shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, [namely,] the sixth [part] of a Hinne: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 Barley cakes shalt thou eate, and them shalt thou bake in [d] mans dung before their eyes.

d Signifying hereby the great scarcitie of fewel & matter to burne.

13 And with that said the Lorde, Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Thē said I, Oh Lord God, behold, my soule was yet neuer stained, for fro my youth vp vnto this houre, I did neuer eate of a dead carkeise, or of that which was slayne of wilde beasts, neither came there euer any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

15 [Whereunto] he answered me, Loe, I will grant thee [e] cowcasins in stead of mās dung, and thou shalt make thy bread with them.

e To be as fire to bake thy bread with. Ezech. 5. 17.

16 And he said vnto me, * Behold thou sonne of man, I will breake the [f] staffe of bread in Hierusalem, and they shall eate their bread with weight and with care, and their water in measure and astonishment shal they drinke, f That is, the force & strength wherewith it should nourish.

17 That they hauing a lacke of bread and water, may be astonied one at another, & be consumed in their iniquitie.

The v. Chapter.

1 The signe of the heares, by which is signified the destruction of the people. 6 The causes of the anger of God toward the people.

1 AND thou sonne of man, take thee then a sharpe knife, [namely,] a barbers raser, take that to thee, & cause it to [a] passe vpon thy head & vpon thy beard: then take thee weight scales and deuide ỹ [heare.]

a To cleane thy head and beard.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the midst of the [b] cities when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will drawe out a sworde after them.

b To wit, of that city which he had purtraied vpō the bricke, chap. 4. By the fire betweneth famine and pestilence, wherewith one part perished during the siege of Nabuchodonosor: by the sword, those that were slaine when Sedecias fled, and those that were caried away captive: and by the scattering into the wind, those that fled into Egypt, and into other parts after the citie was taken.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and binde them in thy lap.

4 Of them yet shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burne them in the fire: thereof shall a fire come foorth into all the house of Israel.

5 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord God, This same is Hierusalem, which I set in the midst of nations and countries round about her.

6 But she hath changed my iudgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countries that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde God, For your [c] multiplying more then the Gentiles that dwell round about you, and because ye haue not walked in my lawes, neither haue ye kept my ordinances, no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations that are round about you:

c Because ye haue encreased the number of your idols & superstitions, more then the Gentiles.

8 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde God, Behold, I will also [come] against thee, I my selfe, I say: for in the midst of thee wil I execute iudgement in the sight of the heathen.

9 And I will doe in thee as I neuer did [before,] and as I will neuer doe the like from that time foorth, and that because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middest of thee the fathers shall eate their owne sonnes, and the sonnes shall eate their owne fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

11 Wherefore, as truely as I liue, saieth the Lord God, Surely seeing thou hast defiled my sanctuarie with all maner of abominations, and with all shamefull offences:

12 For this cause will I also destroy thee, mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I haue any pitie.

13 One third part of thee shall die of the pestilence, and shall be consumed of hunger in the midst of thee, another third part shal be slaine downe round about thee with the sword, the other third part [that remaineth] wil I scatter abroad toward all the windes, and drawe out a sword after them.

14 Thus will mine indignation be performed, and I will cause my wrath to cease among them, and I will be [d] comforted: so that when I haue fulfilled mine anger against thē, they shall know that I the Lord with a feruent ielousie haue spoken it.

d That is, I will not be pacified, till I be reuenged, Esai. 1.

15 Moreouer, I will make thee waste, and a reproche among all the heathen that dwell about thee, in the sight of all them that goe by thee.

16 So thou shalt bee a reproche and shame, a chastisement and a wondring vnto the nations that are round about thee, when I shal execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes, I the Lorde haue spoken it:

17 When I shall shoote among them the perillous [e] dartes of hunger, which shall be for their destruction, therefore shal I shoote thē, because I will destroy you, I will encrease hunger vpon you, and will breake your staffe of bread.

e Which be the grashoppers, mildewe, and whatsoeuer were occasiōs of famine.

18 ‖ Plagues will I send vpon you, yea, and wicked beasts also to spoyle thee, pestilence and bloodsheading shal come vpon thee, & the sword will I bring ouer thee: I the Lorde haue spoken it.

‖ Or, famine.

The vi. Chapter.

1 He sheweth that the people shall bee plagued for the sinne of idolatrie.

1 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, * set thy face to the mountaines of Israel, and prophecie against them,

* Ezech. 36. 1.

3 And say, Heare the word of the Lord God, O ye mountaines of Israel, Thus hath the Lord God spoken to the [a] mountaines, hils, riuers, & dales, Behold, [euen I] wil bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your high places.

a He speaketh to all the places where the Israelites accustomed to commit their idolatries, threatning the destruction.

4 Your altars shall bee destroyed, and your images of the sunne shall bee broken downe, your slaine men will I cast downe before your idoles.

5 And the dead carkeises of the children of Israel will I ‖ cast before their idoles, your bones will I scatter round about your altars.

‖ Or, lay.

6 In all your dwelling places your cities shall bee desolate, and the high places laid waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, your idols shall be broken ‖ and abolished, and your images of the sunne shall be cut downe, and your workes quite taken away.

‖ Or, and cease.

7 The slaine shall fall among you: and ye shal know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue [some] that shal escape the sword amōg the nations, when ye shalbe scattered thorow the countries.

9 And they that escape of you, shal thinke vpon me among the heathen where they shal be in captiuitie, because I haue bene ‖ broken: for their whorish heart which hath departed from from me, and for their eyes that haue gone a whoring after their idols: and ‖ they shall be abhorred before their owne eyes for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

‖ Or, they shal be ashamed of themselues.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, & that I haue not said in vayne, that I would do this euil vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, ‖[b] Smite thine hands together, & stampe with thy feete, and say, Woe worth all the abominations & wickednesses of the house of Israel: for they shal fall with the sword, with hunger, and with pestilence.

‖ Or, smite with thine hand, and spurne with thy foote.

b He willeth the Prophet not onely with words, but also with gestures of hand and foote, to signifie the destruction to come.

12 Whoso is farre off, shal die of the pestilẽce, he that is nigh at hand, shall perish with the sword, and the remnant that are besieged, shal die of hunger: thus will I satisfie my wrathfull displeasure vpon them.

13 And so shall ye know that I am the Lorde, when their slaine men shall be among their idols rounde about their altars, vpon euery high hill and tops of mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thick oke, [euen] in the places where they did offer sweete sauour to all their idols.

e Some read, more desolate then the wildernesse of Diblath, which was in Syria, and bordered vpon Israel: but it may stand well for the wildernes which was South vnto Diblath which was North, meaning the whole countrey.

14 I wil stretch mine hand out vpon them, and will make the land waste and desolate, [c] from the wilderneſſe vnto Diblath, thorow al their habitations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The vii. Chapter.

2 The ende of all the land of Israel shall sodainly come. 20 The cause of the destruction thereof. 23 The Prophet is commanded to shew the summe of the euils that are at hand.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 And thou sonne of man, thus saieth the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Israel: yea verily, the ende commeth vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now shall the ende come vpon thee: for I will send my wrath vpō thee, and wil ‖ punish thee according to thy wayes, & ‖ reward thee after all thine abominations.

‖ Or, iudge thee.

‖ Or, lay vpon thee.

4 Mine eye shal not spare thee, neither wil I haue pitie, but ‖ reward thee according to thy wayes, and declare thine abominations: then shall ye know that I am the Lord.

‖ Or, I will lay thy wayes vpon thee, and thine abominations shalbe in the midst of thee.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, one euil shall come after another:

6 The end is here, the end [I say] is come, it watcheth for thee: beholde, it is come [alreadie.]

a That is, the beginning of thy punishment.

7 The morning is come vnto thee that dwellest in the land, the time is at hand, the day of trouble is hard by, and not the [b] sounding againe of the mountaines.

b That is, no vaine or counterfet cry, as is the echo in the hils.

8 Nowe I wil shortly powre out my sore displeasure ouer thee, and fulfill my wrath vpon thee: I will iudge thee after thy wayes, and recompense thee all thine abominations.

9 Mine eye shal not spare, neither will I haue pitie, but ‖ reward thee after thy wayes, and thine abominations shal be in the middest of thee: and ye shall know that I am the Lorde that smiteth.

‖ Or, lay vpon thee.

10 Behold the day, behold it is come, the morning is gone foorth, the rod [c] flourisheth, pride hath budded, c Meaning Nabuchodonosor, whom God had appointed to be a rod to scourge them.

11 Crueltie is waxen to a rod of wickednesse, none of them [shall remaine,] none of their riches, ‖ not one of their seede, and no lamentation shalbe made for them.

‖ Or, none of their pleasures.

12 The tyme commeth, the day draweth nigh: whoso buieth, let him not reioyce, he that selleth, let him not be sory: for why? wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 So that the seller shall not come againe to the thing that he sold, although their life bee [d] yet with the liuing: for when the prophecie was preached vnto all the people, none returned, no man shall [e] strengthen himselfe in the iniquitie of his life.

d That is, in the yeere of Jubilee, when euery man returned to such possessions as he sold before, Leuit. 25.

e Iniquitie shall make no man strong against God.

14 [f] They haue blowen the trumpet, and made all readie, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon the whole multitude.

f The Israelites made a brag, but their hearts failed them.

15 The sword [shall bee] without, pestilence and hunger within: so that whoso is in the field shall be slaine with the sword, & he that is in the citie shall bee deuoured with hunger and pestilence.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines like the doues of the valleys, all they shall mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shalbe let downe, & all knees shal be weake as the water.

18 *They shal gird themselues with sackcloth, feare shal couer them, shame shall be vpon all faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

Esai. 15. 3. Iere. 48. 37.

19 Their siluer shall they cast foorth in the streetes, *and their gold shall bee despised: yea, their siluer and gold shall not bee able to deliuer them in the day of the wrath of ỹ Lord, they shall not satisfie their soules, neither fill their ‖ bellies therewith, because it ‖ was a stumbling blocke of their iniquitie.

Pro. 11. 4. eccl. 5. 13. Sophon. 1. 18.

‖ Or, bowels.

g Their gold & siluer brought them to this ruine of destruction.

‖ Or, this thing is for their filthinesse.

20 He had also set the beautie of his [h] ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abominations and ‖ filthinesse in it, therefore haue I set it farre from them.

h Meaning, the sanctuarie.

‖ Or, idols.

21 Moreouer, I will giue it into the hands of strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth for to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turne from them, my secret place shalbe defiled: for ‖ burglers shal go into it, and pollute it.

‖ Or, destroyers.

24 Wherefore I will bring the most wicked of the heathen to take their houses in possession, I will make the pompe of the mightie to cease, and their [k] sanctuaries shall be defiled.

k That is, their temple which was diuided into three partes, Ier.6.1.

25 When destruction is come, they shall seeke peace, but they shall [haue] none.

26 One mischiefe shall follow another, & one rumour shall come after another: then shall they seeke a vision [in vaine] at their prophet, the lawe shall perish from the priest, and counsell from the ancients.

27 The king shall mourne, the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the handes of the people in the land shall bee troubled: I will doe vnto them after their owne wayes, according to their owne iudgements will I iudge them: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The viii. Chapter.

1 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezechiel is brought to Hierusalem in the spirite. 6 The Lorde sheweth the idolatries of the house of Israel, and chiefly of the priests.

1 AND it was in the [a] sixt yeere, in the sixt [moneth,] in the fifth [day] of the moneth, I sate in my house, and ỳ elders of Iuda sate before me, and the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon me.

a Of the captiuitie of Iecdonias, so that there was fourteene moneths betwixt the first vision and this.

2 Then I beheld, and loe, [there was] a likenesse as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loines downeward, fire: and from his loines vpward as the appearance of brightnesse, like [the colour of] Amber.

Dan.13.25.

3 * And he stretched out the likenesse of an hand, and tooke me by an hearie locke of my head, and the spirite lift me vp betwixt earth and heauen, and [b] brought me in a diuine vision to Hierusalem, into the entrie of the inner [c] gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the ‖ image of [d] emulation [and] of gaine.

b This was in the spirit, & not in body.
c The porche or court where the people assembled.
‖ Or, idole.
d Of emulatiõ, because it displeased God: of gaine, because it was set vp and worshipped for gaine and increase: of their offrings, for the priestes: and of their cattel and substance, for the people.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel [was] in the same place, [euen] as I had seene it afore in the field.

5 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward ỳ North: then lift I vp mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward at the gate of the [e] altar this ‖ image of emulation [was] in the entrie.

e That was in ỳ court where the people had made an altar to Baal.
‖ Or, idole.

6 And he sayd furthermore vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, seest thou not what these doe? [namely] the great abominations that the house of Israel commit in this place, to driue me from my sanctuarie? But turne thee about, and thou shalt see yet greater abominations.

7 And with that brought he me to the court gate, and when I looked, behold, there was a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, dig now in the wall: and when I digged in the wall, behold, [there was] a dore.

9 And he sayde vnto mee, Goe thy way in, and looke what wicked abominations they doe here.

10 So I went in and sawe, and behold, [there were] all maner of creeping things, [f] and abominable beasts, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

f Which were forbidden in the law, Leuit. 11.

11 There stoode also before the images three-score and tenne men of the ancientes of the house of Israel, and in the middest of them stoode Iaazaniah the sonne of Saphan, with euery man his censor in his hand, and the smoke of the incense ascended as a cloud.

12 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, hast thou seene what the ancients of the house of Israel doe ‖ secretely, euery one in the [g] chamber of his imagerie? for they say, The Lorde seeth vs not, the Lorde hath forsaken the earth.

‖ Or, in the darke.
g For beside their common idolatrie, they had their particular seruice in their secret places or pewes.

13 And he said vnto me, Turne thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And with that he brought me to the dore of the gate of the Lordes house toward ỳ North, and behold, there sate women mourning for [h] Thammuz.

h The Iewes say, this was a prophet of the idols, who after his death was once a yeere mourned for in ỳ night, onely of women. ỳ. Hierome taketh it for Adonis, Venus louer. Other thinke it was Osyris an idol of the Egyptians.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, thou sonne of man? Turne thee yet about, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these are.

16 And so he brought me into the inwarde court of the Lordes house, and beholde, at the doore of the Lordes house, betwixt the porche and the altar, there were about twentie and fiue men that turned their backes vpon the temple of the Lorde, and their faces towarde the East, and these worshipped the Sunne Eastwarde.

17 And he sayde vnto me, Hast thou seene [this] thou sonne of man? Thinketh the house of Iuda that it is but a trifle to doe these abominations which they doe here? for they haue filled the lande full of wickednesse, and haue returned to prouoke me [to anger,] and loe, [i] they are putting the ‖ branches to their noses.

i They smelled to their branches, flowers, or posies, in doing their sacrifice to the sunne, which yet before God was vile and stinking, how sweete so euer they seemed to themselues.
‖ Or, finch.

18 Therefore will I also do something in my wrathfull displeasure, so that mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie: yea, and though they crie in mine eares with a loude voice, yet will I not heare them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the citie. 4 They that shall be saued, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

1 HE cried also with a loud voice in mine eares, saying, Draw neere ye [a] visitations of the citie, euery man with a destroying weapon in his hand.

a The persons appointed to visite the citie, as Nabuchodonosor and his captaines.

2 And behold, then came there [b] sixe men out of the streete of the vpper gate toward the North, and euery man a slaughter weapon in his hand: There was one amongst them that had on him linnen raiment, and a writers [c] inkehorne by his side: these went in, and stoode beside the brasen altar.

b Which were sixe angels in likenes of mẽ.

c To marke them that should be saued from destruction.

3 And the glory of ỹ God of Israel was gone from the Cherub whereupon it was, to ỹ dore of the house: and he called to the man that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and the writers inckehorne by his side.

4 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Goe thorowe the midst of the citie, euen thorow the midst of Hierusalem, * and set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that mourne and ‖ are sory for all the abominations that be done therein.

Exo. 12. 22. apoc. 7. 3.

‖ Or, crie.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him thorowe the citie, & smite, let your eyes spare none, neither haue ye any pitie:

6 Kill and destroy both olde men and yong, maidens, children, and women: but as for all those that haue the marke vpon them, see that ye touch them not, and begin at my sanctuarie. Then they beganne at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile ye the temple, fill the courtes with the slaine, then goe your way forth. So they went out, and slew downe thorow the citie.

8 Now when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped, I fel downe vpon my face, and cried, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou thē destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Hierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The wickednesse of the house of Israel and Iuda is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the citie full of reuolting [from God:] for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lorde seeth it not.

10 As touching me also, mine eie shal not spare them, neither will I haue pitie: but will recompense their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde, the man that had the linnen raiment vpō him, and the writers inckehorne by his side, reported the matter, and sayd, As thou hast commanded me, so haue I done.

The x. Chapter.

Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims.

1 AND as I looked, behold, in the firmament that was aboue the head of the [a] Cherubims, as it were a Saphire stone [made] like the similitude of a throne, was seene ouer them.

a Which in the first chap. and fifth verse be called the foure beasts.

2 Then spake he to him that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and said, ‖ Creepe in betweene the wheeles that are vnder the Cherub, and take thine handful of hote coales out from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he ‖ crept in, that I might see.

‖ Or, goe.

‖ Or, went in.

3 (Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 And the glory of the Lord remooued from the Cherubims, and came vpon the doore of the house: so that the temple was filled with a cloud, and the court was full of the shine of the Lordes glorie.

5 Yea, & the sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the forecourt, like as it had bene the voyce of the almighty God when he speaketh)

6 Now when he had bidden the man that was clothed in linnen, saying, Take fire from the midst of the wheeles, and from the midst of the Cherubims, he went and stoode beside the wheeles.

7 Then one Cherub reached forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims, vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, & tooke thereof, and gaue it into the hands of him that had on the linnen raiment: which tooke it, and went out.

8 And vnder ỹ wings of the Cherubims there appeared the likenesse of a mans hand.

9 I looked also, and behold, foure wheeles beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another by another Cherub, and the wheeles were to looke vpon after the fashion of the precious stone Tharsis.

10 As touching their appearance (they were all foure of one fashion) as if one wheele had bene in another.

11 When they went forth, they went vpō their foure sides, not turning backe in their going: for which way the [head of the] first looked, after it they went, so that they turned not backe in their going.

12 * And their whole bodies, ' their backes, their hands, and wings, yea, and the wheeles also, were full of eyes rounde about the foure wheeles.

Ezech. 1.

13 And to the wheeles, he cryed to them in my hearing, O wheele.

14 Euery one of them had foure faces, so that the face of the first was the face of a Cherub, and the face of the second the face of a man, & of the thirde the face of a Lion, & of the fourth the face of an Egle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: this is the beast that I sawe at the water of Chebar.

16 Nowe when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the ſame wheeles alſo turned not from beſides them.

17 [Shortly] when they ſtoode, theſe ſtoode alſo, and when they were lifted vp, the [wheeles] lift vp themſelues alſo with them: for the [b] ſpirite of the beaſt was in the [wheeles.]

b There was one conſent betweene the Cherubims & the wheeles.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the temple, and remained vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims flackered with their wings, and lift themſelues vp from the earth in my ſight: when they went, the wheeles were beſides them, and they ſtoode at ẏ dore of the Eaſt gate of the houſe of the Lord: ſo the glory of the God of Iſrael was vpō them on high.

Ezech.1.14.

20 *This is the [c] beaſt that I ſawe vnder the God of Iſrael by the riuer Chebar, & I perceiued that it was the Cherubims.

c That is, the whole body of the foure beaſts or Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and vnder their wings the likeneſſe of mens hands.

22 The ſimilitude of their countenances, were the very ſame countenances which I ſawe at the riuer Chebar, and the ſelfe ſame appearances, euery one in his going went ſtraight forward.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Who they were that ſeduced the people of Iſrael. 5 Againſt theſe he prophecieth, ſhewing them how they ſhalbe diſperſed abroad.

1 MOreouer, the ſpirite lift me vp, and brought me vnto the Eaſt gate of the Lords houſe, which lieth Eaſtward: and behold, at the entrie of the gate [were] fiue and twentie men, among whom I ſawe Iaazaniah the ſonne of Azur, & Pheltiah the ſonne of Banaiahu, the rulers of the people.

2 Then ſaid he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, theſe men imagine miſchiefe, and a wicked counſell take they in this citie,

3 Saying, It is not neere, let vs build houſes: this [Hieruſalem] is the [a] caldron, and we be the fleſh.

a We ſhall not be pulled out of Hieruſalem, till the houre of our death come, as the fleſh is not taken out of the caldron till it be ſodde.

4 Therefore ſhalt thou prophecie againſt thē: yea, prophecie, O ſonne of man.

5 And with that fell the ſpirit of the Lord vpon me, & ſaid vnto me, Speake, Thus ſaieth the Lord, On this maner haue ye ſpoken (O ye houſe of Iſrael) and I know the imaginations of your hearts.

b Contrarie to their vaine cōfidence he ſhewerth in what ſenſe this citie was the caldron, that is, becauſe of the dead bodies that haue bene murdered therein, and ſo lie as the fleſh in the caldron.

6 Many one haue ye murdered in this citie, and filled the ſtreetes full of the ſlaine:

7 Therefore thus ſaieth the Lorde God, The ſlaine men that ye haue laied in the midſt of the [citie] are the [b] fleſh, and this citie is the caldron: but I will bring you out of it.

8 Ye haue feared the ſword, and I will bring a ſword ouer you, ſaith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the middeſt thereof, and deliuer you into the handes of ſtrangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye ſhall fall by the ſword, in the borders of [c] Iſrael wil I iudge you, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

c That is, in Riblath, 2.Kin.24.

11 This citie ſhal not be your caldron, neither ſhal ye be the fleſh in the midſt thereof: but in the borders of Iſrael will I ‖ puniſh you,

‖ Or, iudge.

12 That ye may know that I am the Lorde, in whoſe commandements ye haue not walked, nor kept my lawes, but haue done after the cuſtomes of the heathen that lie round about you.

13 Nowe when I prophecied, [d] Pheltiah the ſonne of Banaiahu died: then fel I downe vpon my face, and cried with a loude voyce, ſaying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then vtterly deſtroy all the remnant in Iſrael?

d It ſeemed this noble mā died of ſome terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared ſome ſtrange iudgement of God toward the reſt of the people.

14 And ſo the word of the Lord came vnto me on this maner, 15 Thou ſonne of man, thy brethren, [euen] thy brethren the men of thy kinred, and al the houſe of Iſrael, wholy [are they] vnto whom the inhabitantes of Hieruſalem haue ſayde, [e] Withdraw ye farre from the Lorde, for the land is giuen vs in poſſeſſion.

e They that remained ſtill at Hieruſalem, thus reproched them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were caſt off, and forſaken of God.

16 Therefore [tell them] thus ſaieth the Lord God, Although I ſend them farre off among the Gentiles, & ſcatter them among the nations, yet will I be to them as a litle [f] ſanctuarie in the lands where they ſhall come.

f They ſhal be yet a litle Church, whō he will preſerue, though they be diſperſed, and for a time afflicted.

17 Tel them alſo, Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will gather you againe out of the nations, and bring you from the countries where ye be ſcattered, and I will giue you the land of Iſrael againe.

18 And they ſhal come thither, and they ſhall take away all their idols, and all their abominations from thence.

19 *And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new ſpirite within their bowels: that ſtonie heart wil I take out of their body, and giue them a fleſhly heart,

Iere.32.39. ezech.36.27.

20 That they may walke in my commandements, and keepe mine ordinances, and doe them, that they may be my people, & I their God.

21 But to the heart of their idols and their abominations their heart goeth, their wayes wil I bring vpon their own heads, ſaith the Lord God.

22 After this did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles beſides them, and the glory of the God of Iſrael was vpon them on high.

23 So the glory of the Lord went vp from the midſt of the citie, and ſtoode vpon the mount

of

of the citie toward the East.

24 And the spirit tooke me vp, and brought me againe to Chaldea to the captiuitie in a vision by the spirit of God: then the vision that I had seene went vp from me.

Those that were led away captines with Jeconias.

25 So I spake vnto thes captiues all ỹ words of the Lord which he had shewed me.

The xii. Chapter.

1 The parable of the captiuitie. 10 The exposition of the parable, by which the taking of king Zedecias is signified.

1 THe word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and yet see not, eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not: for they are a rebellious house.

‡ Make thee vessels to go into captiuitie.

3 Therefore (O thou sonne of man) ‡ prepare thee instrumentes to flyt with, and remooue on the day time that they may see, yea [euen] in their sight shalt thou goe from thy place to another place, if peraduenture they will consider that they be a rebellious house.

4 Thou shalt bring forth thine instrumentes as stuffe to flyt with by the day time in their sight, and thou thy selfe shalt goe forth also at euening before their eyes, as they that goe forth to flyt.

5 Digge thorowe the wall in their sight, and carrie out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare vpon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the darke: hide thy face, that thou see not the earth, for I haue made thee a [a] shewe token vnto the house of Israel.

a That as thou doest, so shall they doe, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague & punishment.

7 And I did so as I was commanded, I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and in the euening I digged thorowe the wall with my handes, and brought it forth in the darke, and bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, saide vnto thee, [b] What doest thou?

b Doe not they deride and mocke thy doings?

10 Then tell them, Thus saith the Lord God, This ‖ burden toucheth the prince at Hierusalem, and all the house of Israel that dwell among them.

‖ Or, prophecie.

11 Tell them, I am your shewe token, like as I haue done, so shal it be done vnto them, they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 The prince that is among them shall loade his shoulders in the darke, & get him away, they shall breake downe the wall, to carrie thorowe by it: he shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

c When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I wil take him in my net, as Ezec. 17. and 32.

13 My net will I [c] spreade out vpon him, and he shalbe caught in my ‡ net, and I wil bring him to Babylon in the land of the Chaldees, which he shall not see, and yet shall he dye there.

‡ tooles.

14 As for all his helpers and all his bandes that be about him, I wil scatter them toward all the windes, and drawe out a sworde after them.

15 So when I haue scattered them among the heathen, and strawed them in the landes, they shall know that I am the Lord.

16 But I will leaue a litle number of them frō the sworde, hunger, and pestilence, to tell all their abominations among the heathē where they come, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

17 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, with a fearefull trembling eate thy bread, with vnquietnesse and sorrow drinke thy water.

19 And vnto the people of the land speake thou, Thus saieth the Lorde God vpon them that dwell in Hierusalem, and vpon the lande of Israel, They shall eate their bread with sorrowe, and drinke their water with desolation, yea, the land after plentifulnesse shalbe laide waste, for the wickednesse of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that now be well inhabited, shalbe voyde, and the lande desolate, that ye may know that I am the Lord.

21 Yet came the word of the Lorde vnto me againe, saying,

22 Thou sonne of man, what maner of prouerbe is that which ye vse in ỹ land of Israel, saying, [d] The dayes are slacke in comming, and all visions fayle?

d Because they did not see the prophecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they neuer should be fulfilled.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saieth the Lord God, I will make that prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 There shall no vision be any more in vaine, neither any flattering diuination within the house of Israel:

25 For I the Lorde speake it, and whatsoeuer I shall speake, it shalbe performed, and not be slacke in comming any more, yea, euen in your dayes, O rebellious house, wil I speake the thing, and bring it to passe, saith the Lord God.

26 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

27 Behold, thou sonne of man, the house of Israel saieth [on this maner,] The vision ỹ he seeth, it wil be many a day or it come to passe: it is farre off yet the time ỹ he prophecieth of.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lorde God, All my wordes shall no more be delayed, looke what I speake, that same shall come to passe, saieth the Lord God.

The

The xiii. Chapter.

The worde of the Lorde against false prophetes, which teach the people the counsels of their owne heartes.

Exec.14.9.

1 THe * word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophecie against those prophets of Israel, which prophecie, and say vnto them that prophecie out of their owne heartes, Heare the word of the Lorde,

3 Thus saieth the Lorde God, Woe be vnto those foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the Foxes in [a] desart places.

a Watching to destroy the vineyardes, reade Cant. 2.

5 For ye haue not stand vp in the gappes, nor made a hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battaile in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saieth it: and the Lord hath not sent them, & they haue made [men] hope that they would confirme the word.

7 Haue ye not seene vaine visions, and spoken false prophecies, when ye say, The Lord hath spoken it, whereas I neuer said it?

8 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie, and haue seene lyes: therefore behold, I am against you, saieth the Lord God:

9 Mine hand shalbe vpon the prophetes that see vanities, and diuine lies: they shal not be in the counsell of my people, nor written in ỹ booke of the house of Israel, neither shal they come in the land of Israel, that ye may know how that I am the Lord God:

10 And that for because they haue deceiued my people, & tolde them of peace, where no peace was: one setteth vp a [b] wall, and they daube it with vntempered clay.

b What one false prophet did say (which is here called the building vp of a wal) an other false prophet would affirme the same, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to beare him. ‖ Or, daubing.

11 Therefore tell them which daube with vntempered morter, that it shal fal: for there shal come a great showre of raine, I will sende hailestones to cause it to fall, & a great stormie winde shall breake it.

12 And loe, when the wal is fallen, shall it not then be saide vnto you, Where is now your ‖ morter that ye daubed withall?

13 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, I will cause a stormie winde to breake out in my wrathfull displeasure, so that in mine anger there shall come a mightie showre of rayne, and hailestones in my wrath to destroy it.

14 As for the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered morter, I will breake it downe, and make it euen with the ground, so that the foundation thereof shalbe discouered, and it shall fall: yea, and ye your selues shall perish in the midst thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I perfourme my wrath vpon this wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with [c] vntempered morter, and then will I say vnto you, The wall is ‖ gone, and the daubers of it:

c That is, whatsoeuer man of himselfe setteth forth, vnder the authoritie of Gods word, and God alloweth it not. ‖ Or, is no more.

16 [To wit] the prophetes of Israel, which prophecie vpon Hierusalem, and looke out visions of peace for it, whereas no peace is, saieth the Lord God.

17 Wherefore, O thou sonne of man, set thy face against ỹ daughters of thy people, which prophecie out of their owne heartes, and prophecie against them:

18 And say, Thus saieth the Lord God, Woe be vnto them that sowe [d] pillowes vnder all arme holes, and put kerchiefes vpō the heads of euery stature, to hunt soules. Will ye hunt the soules of my people, and giue life to the soules that [come] vnto you?

d These superstitious women for lucre would prophecie, tel euery mā his fortune, giuing them pillows to leane on and kerchiefes to couer their heads, ỹ they might ỹ more allure them & bewitch them.

19 And will ye pollute mee to my people for handfulles of barley, and for pieces of bread, to kill the soules of them that die not, and promise [e] life to them that liue not, in lying to my people that heareth your lies?

e These sorcerers made the people beleeue that they could preserue life or destroy it, and that it should come to euery one according as they prophecied.

20 Wherefore, thus saieth the Lorde God, Behold, I will vpon your pillowes wherewith ye hunt the soules to [f] make them flee, and I will teare them from your armes, and will let the soules goe, [euen] the soules that ye hunt to make them flee.

f Making the flock vnto you with deceitable doctrine, as the fowlers doe the birdes with their stales & calles.

21 Your kerchiefes also will I teare in pieces, and deliuer my people out of your handes, so that they shall come no more in your handes to be hunted: and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

22 Seeing that with your lyes ye discomfite the heart of the righteous, whom I haue not discomfited: againe, for so much as ye encourage the hand of the wicked, so that he may not turne from his wicked way, in promising him life:

23 Therefore shall ye see no more vanitie, neither shall ye diuine diuinations, for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, that ye may knowe how that I am the Lord.

The xiiii. Chapter.

The Lorde denyeth his worde to the people for their sinnes sake.

1 THere resorted vnto me certaine of the elders of Israel, and sate downe by me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idols in their hearts, & put the stumbling blocke of iniquitie before their face: should I then answere them at their request?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the prophet: vnto that man will

I

I the Lorde my selfe giue answere when he commeth, according to the [a] multitude of his idols:

5 That the house of Israel may be snared in their [b] owne heartes, because they be cleane gone from me al of them through their idols:

6 Wherefore tell the house of Israel, Thus saieth the Lorde God, Returne, and cause [c] to returne from your idoles, & turne your faces from all your abominations:

7 For euery man, whether he be of the house of Israel, or a stranger that soiourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his wickednes before his face, and commeth to a prophet for to aske counsell at me through him: vnto that man will I the Lord giue answere by mine owne selfe:

8 I will set my face against that man, and wil make him to be an example [for other,] yea, and a common byworde, and will roote him out of my people, that ye may know how that I am the Lorde.

9 And if that prophet be deceiued when he telleth a thing, then I * the Lorde my selfe haue deceiued that prophet, and will stretch out my hand vpon him, to destroy him out of my people of Israel.

10 And they shalbe punished for their wickednesse, according to ỳ sinne of him that asketh, shall the sinne of the prophet be:

11 That the house of Israel may wander no more from me, neither be any more defiled in all their transgressions: but that they may be my people, and I their God, sayth the Lord God.

12 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

13 Thou sonne of man, when the land sinneth against me by committing a trespasse, I will stretch out my hand vpon it, * and breake their staffe of bread, and send dearth vpon them, to destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 And though Noe, Daniel, and Iob, these three men were among them: yet shall they in their righteousnes deliuer but their owne soules, saieth the Lord God.

15 If I bring noysome beastes into the lande, and they spoyle it, and it be so desolate that no man may passe throwe it for beastes, 16 If these three men were also in the midst therof, as truely as I liue, sayth ỳ Lord God, they shal saue neither sonnes nor daughters, but be onely deliuered themselues: and as for the land, it shalbe waste.

17 Or, if I bring a sworde vpon the land, and say, Sworde goe throwe this land, so that I slay downe man and beast in it, 18 And if these three men were ‖ therein: as truely as I liue, saieth the Lorde God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but onely be ‖ saued themselues.

19 If I send a pestilence into this lande, and powre out my sore indignation vpon it in blood, so that I roote out of it both man and beast,

20 And if Noe, Daniel, and Iob were ‖ therein: as truely as I liue, saieth the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter, but ‖ saue their owne soules in their righteousnesse.

21 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lorde God, How much more whē I send my foure ‖ troublous plagues vpon Hierusalem, the sworde, hunger, perilous beasts, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it:

22 Behold, there shalbe a remnant saued therein, which shall bring forth their sonnes and daughters: behold, they shall come forth vnto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterprise, and ye shalbe comforted concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Hierusalem, [euen] concerning all ỳ I haue brought vpon it:

23 They shall comfort you when ye shall see their way and workes, & ye shall knowe how that it is not without a cause that I haue done all against Hierusalem as I did, saieth the Lorde God.

[a] As his abominatiō hath deserued, that is, he shalbe led with ires, according as he delighted therein.

[b] That is, conuince them by their owne consciences.

[c] All such as by your example haue declined from God.

Exec. 13. 1.

Exec. 4. 16. and 5. 17.

[Or, deliuered.

[Or, in the middest of it.

[Or, deliuer.

[Or, foure sore iudgements.

The xv. Chapter.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so saieth he that Hierusalem shalbe burnt.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree more then of euery other tree, and of the wilde vine among other trees of the forest?

3 Doe men take wood of it to make any worke withall? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessell thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be burnt, the fire consumeth both the endes of it, the midst of it is burnt: is it meete then for any worke?

5 Seeing thē that it was meete for no worke being whole, much lesse may there any thing be made of it, when the fire hath consumed and burnt it.

6 And therefore, thus saieth the Lorde God, As the vine tree [that is] among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitantes of Hierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them, they shal go out from the fire, and yet the fire shall consume them: then shal ye knowe that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them,

8 And when I make the land waste, because they haue so sore offended, sayth ỳ Lord God.

[a] Though they escape one danger, yet another shall take them.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 The Prophet declareth the benefites of God towarde Hierusalem. 60 Mercy is promised to the repentant.

1 AGaine the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
2 Thou sonne of man, shewe Hierusalem their abominations,
3 And say, Thus saieth the Lord God vnto Hierusalem, Thy habitation and kinred is of the land of [a] Chanaan, thy father was an Amorite, thy mother an Hittite.
4 In the day of thy birth, [b] when thou wast borne, the string of thy nauel was not cut off, thou wast not bathed in water to ‖make thee cleane, thou wast not salted with salt, nor swadled in cloutes.
5 No eye pitied thee to do any of these things for thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee: but thou wast vtterly cast out vpon the fielde, in contempt of thy person in the day of thy birth.
6 Then came I by thee, and sawe thee defiled in thine owne blood, and I saide vnto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Liue, [euen] when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, Liue.
7 I caused thee to multiplie as the bud of the fielde, thou art growen vp, and waxen great, thou hast gotten a marueilous pleasant beautie, thy breastes are fashioned, thy heare is goodly growen, whereas thou wast naked and bare.
8 Now when I went by thee, and looked vpō thee, behold, thy time was come, yea [euen] ẏ time to woo thee: then spred I my clothes ouer thee to couer thy [c] dishonestie, yea, I made apothe vnto thee, and contracted my selfe vnto thee (saieth the Lorde God) and so thou becamest mine owne.
9 Then washed I thee with water, and purged thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oyle.
10 I clothed thee with broydred worke, and shodde thee with Badgers skinne, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and couered thee with silke.
11 I decked thee with costly apparell, I put bracelets vpon thy handes, a chaine about thy necke, 12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, & earerings vpon thine eares, & a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.
13 Thus wast thou decht with gold and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen, and of silke, and of broydred worke: thou diddest eate fine flowre, honie, and oyle, marueilous beautifull wast thou, and thou didst luckily prosper into a kingdome.
14 And thy name was spred among the Heathe for thy beautie: for it was perfect through my beautie which I put vpon thee, saieth the Lorde God.
15 But thou hast put thy confidence in thine owne beautie, and played the harlot, because of thy renowne, and hast [d] powred out thy fornications with euery one that went by, ‖ thou wast his.
16 Thou diddest take thy garments, and deckt thy high places with [e] diuers colours, and played the harlot thereupon, [f] ‡ they come not, and it shall not be.
17 The goodly iewels which I gaue thee of mine owne golde and siluer, hast thou taken and made thee mens images thereof, & committed whoredome with them.
18 Thy broydred garmentes hast thou taken, and deckt them therewith: mine oyle and incense hast thou set before them.
19 My meate which I gaue thee, as fine flowre, oyle, and honie, to feede thee withall, that hast thou set before them for a sweete sauour: and thus it was, saieth the Lord God.
20 Thou hast taken thine owne sonnes and daughters whom thou hast begotten vnto me, and these hast thou offered vp vnto them to be [g] deuoured: is this but a small whoredome of thine?
21 And thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them, to cause them to passe [through the fire] for them.
22 And yet in all thine abominations and whoredomes, thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, how naked and bare thou wast at that time, and wast defiled in thine owne blood.
23 After all this thy wickednesse (woe, woe vnto thee, saieth the Lorde God,) 24 Thou hast built vnto thee an high place, & hast made thee an high place in euery streete.
25 Thou hast built thine high place at euerie ‡ head of ẏ way, thou hast made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that came by, and multiplyed thy whoredome.
26 Thou hast committed fornication with the [h] Egyptians thy neighbours which were great in flesh, and thus hast thou increased thine whoredome to anger me.
27 Beholde, I did stretch out my hande ouer thee, and did minish thine ordinarie [foode,] and deliuered thee ouer into ẏ willes of them that hate thee, [euen] to the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thine abominable wayes.
28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast [I say] with them played the harlot, and yet hadst thou not ynough.
29 Thus hast thou furthermore multiplied thy fornication from the lande of Chanaan vnto the Chaldees, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.
30 How weake is thine heart, saieth the Lorde God, seeing thou doest all these, [euen] the workes of a presumptuous whorish woman:
31 Buil-

a Thou boastest to be of ẏ seede of Abraham, but thou art degenerate and followest the abominations of the wicked Chananites, as children doe the maners of their fathers, Esai. 1.57.
b When I first brought thee forth of the land of Egypt, & planted thee in this land to be my Church.
‖ Or, to soften thee.
c These words, blood, pollution, nakednesse, and filthinesse, &c. are oftentimes repeted, to beate downe their pride, and to cause them to consider what they were before God receiued them to mercie, honoured them, and couered their shame.
d There was none idolatrie so vile, wherewith thou didst not pollute thy selfe.
‖ Or, that thou mightest be his.
e This declareth howe the idolaters put their chiefe delight in those things which please the eyes and outward senses.
f In such sort, as the like hath not bene, nor shalbe, so that they passed all nations in idolatrie.
‡ there neither shalbe, nor hath bene any that hath done the like.
g Meaning, by fire, reade Leui. 18.2, Reg. 23.
‡ Corner of the streete.
h Ye noteth the great impietie of this people, who first falling from God to seeke helpe at strange nations, did also at length embrace their idolatry, thinking therby to make their amitie more sure.

31 Building thy high places at the head of euery way, & makest thy high places in euerie streete: thou hast not bene as another whore that holdeth scorne of a reward:

32 But as a wife that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in steade of her husband.

33 Giftes are giuen to all other whores: but thou giuest rewardes vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them to come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 It is come to passe with thee in thy whoredomes contrarie to the vse of other women, yea, there hath no such fornication bene committed after thee: seeing þ thou giuest giftes vnto other, and no reward is giuen thee, therefore thou art contrarie.

35 Therefore heare the worde of the Lorde, O thou harlot.

36 Thus saieth the Lorde God, Because thou hast [i] powred out ‖ thy brasse, & discouered thy filthinesse through thy fornications with thy louers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and in the blood of thy children whom thou hast giuen them:

37 Behold therefore, I will gather together al thy [k] louers with whom thou hast taken pleasure, yea, and all them whom thou hast loued, and euery one that thou hatest: I will [I say] gather them together rounde about against thee, and will discouer thy shame before them, that they may see all thy filthinesse.

38 *Moreouer, [l] I wil iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a murderer, and recompense thee thine owne blood in wrath and ielousie.

39 I will giue thee ouer into their handes, and they shall destroy thy high place, and breake downe thy high places, they shall strip thee also out of thy clothes: thy faire iewels shall they take from thee, and so leaue thee naked and bare.

40 Yea, they shall bring a companie vpon thee, which shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee thorow with their swordes.

41 *They shall burne vp thy houses with fire, and punish thee in the sight of many women: thus will I make thee ceasse from playing the harlot, so that thou shalt giue out no more rewardes.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will ceasse, and be angry no more.

43 Seeing thou remembrest not þ dayes of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things: beholde therefore, I will bring thine owne wayes vpon thy head, saieth the Lorde God, so that [m] thou shalt not commit [any more] mischiefe vpon all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all they that vse commō prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe also against thee, saying, Such a [n] mother, such a daughter.

45 Thou art euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children: yea, thou art the sister of thy [o] sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children, your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 Thine eldest sister is Samaria, she and her [p] daughters that dwel vpon thy left hand: but thy younger sister that dwelleth on thy right hand is Sodoma and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations, as a litle and litle: but in all thy wayes thou hast bene more corrupt then they.

48 As truely as I liue, saieth the Lorde God, Sodoma thy sister, with her daughters, haue not done as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 *Beholde, the sinnes of thy sister Sodoma, were these, [q] Pride, fulnesse of meate, and abundance of idlenesse, these things had she & her daughters: besides that, they strengthened not the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were hawtie, and committed abomination before me, therefore I tooke them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath [r] Samaria done halfe of thy sinnes, yea, thou hast exceeded thē in thine abominations, & hast [s] iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Therfore thou which diddest condemne thy sister, beare thine owne shame, for thine owne offences that thou hast committed more abominable then they did, which in deede are more righteous then thou art, be thou [I say] ashamed, and beare thy shamefull rebuke, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie, the captiuitie of Sodom & her daughters, and the captiuitie of Samaria and her daughters, and the captiuitie of thy captiues among them, 54 That thou maiest take thine owne confusion vpon thee, and be ashamed of all that thou hast done, in that thou hast [t] comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state, Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, [u] when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not [x] heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickednesse was [y] discouered according to the time of the reproch of þ daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistines round about her, which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne thy wickednesse and thine abomination, saieth the Lord.

59 For thus saieth the Lorde God, I might [by right] deale with thee as thou hast done, which

The xvii. Chapter.

The parable of the two Egles.

1 THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, put foorth a parable, and speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus sayth the Lord God, There came a great [a] Eagle with great wings, yea with a mightie long bodie, and full of feathers of diuers colours, vpon the mount of Libanus, and tooke the highest branch of a Cedar tree,

4 And brake off the toppe of his twigges, and caried it into the land of [b] Marchants, and set it in a citie of Marchants.

5 He tooke also of the [c] seede of the lande, and planted it in a fruitfull ground, hee brought it vnto great waters, and set it in ‖ an open trench.

6 Then did it growe, and was a [d] spreading vine, but [e] low of stature, whose branches turned toward ‖ it, and the rootes of it were vnder it: Thus there came of it a vine, & it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 But there was another [f] Eagle, a great one, which had great wings, and many feathers: and behold, the rootes of this vine turned towards it, and spread out her bráches towards it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted vpon a good soyle beside great waters, so that it should haue brought out branches, and borne fruite, and bene a goodly vine.

9 Speake thou therefore, thus sayth ỹ Lorde God, Shall this vine prosper? shall [g] he not pul vp the rootes thereof, & destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drie? all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people to plucke it vp by the rootes thereof.

a That is, Nabuchodonosor, who hath great power, riches, & many countreys vnder him shall come to Hierusalem, and take away Iechonias the king, as verse 12.

b Meaning, to Babylon.

c That is, Zedecias, who was of the kings blood, & was left at Hierusalem, & made king in steade of Iechonias, 2. king. 24. iere. 37.

‖ Or, as a willowe tree.

d This was Zedecias kingdome.

e That it might not haue power to rebel against Babylon, as vers. 14.

‖ Or, the Egle.

f Meaning, the king of Egypt of whom Zedecias sought succour against Nabuchodonosor.

g Nabuchodonosor vnderstood by the first Egle.

10 Beholde, it was planted: Shall it prosper therefore? Shal it not be dried vp & withered? when the [h] East winde shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches where it grewe.

h That is, the Babylonians.

11 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Speake now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things [doe signifie?] Tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Hierusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and hath led them with him to Babylon.

13 He tooke of the kings seede, and made a couenant with him, and tooke an oth of him: the princes of the lande tooke hee with him also,

14 That the kingdome might be in subiection, and not lift vp it selfe, but keepe the couenant, and stand to it.

15 But hee rebelled against him, and sent his Ambassadours into Egypt, that hee might haue horses and much people: Should hee prosper? shall hee escape that doeth such things? or shall hee breake the couenant and escape free?

16 As truely as I liue, saieth the Lorde God, he shall die at Babylon in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose othe he hath despised, and whose couenant he hath broken.

17 Neither shall Pharao with his great hoste and multitude of people maintaine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mountes, and built a fort to destroy many persons.

18 For seeing he hath despised the othe, and broken the couenãt (whereas he yet gaue his [i] hand thereupon) and done al these things, he shall not escape.

i Because he tooke ỹ name of God in vaine & brake his othe which he had confirmed by giuing his hand, therefore the prophet declareth that God will not suffer periurie and infidelitie to escape punishment.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, As truely as I liue, I will bring mine othe that he hath despised, and my couenant that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 I will spread my net vpon him, and he shall be caught in my net: and I will bring him to Babylon, & enter into iudgement with him there, for the trespasse which he hath committed against me.

21 As for those that flee from him, with all his host, they shall be slaine with the sworde, and the residue shall be scattered towardes all the windes: and ye shall knowe that I the Lorde haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayth the Lord God, I will also take of the toppe of this high Cedar, and will set it, and cut off the toppe of the tender plant thereof, and wil plant it vpon an high hil and a great.

23 [Namely,] vpon the high hill of Israel wil I plant it, that it may bring forth boughes, and giue fruit, and be an excellent Cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birdes, and euerie fowle fowle ſhall remaine vnder the ſhadowe of the braunches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the field ſhall knowe that I the Lorde haue brought downe ẏ high tree, and exalted the lowe tree, that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the dry tree to flouriſh, [euen] I the Lorde that ſpake it, haue alſo brought it to paſſe.

12 Oꝛ hath oppꝛeſſed the pooꝛe and needie, oꝛ ſpoyled by violence, oꝛ hath not reſtoꝛed the pledge, oꝛ hath lift vp his eyes vnto ẏ idoles, oꝛ hath committed abomination:

13 Oꝛ hath giuen foꝛth vpon vſurie, oꝛ hath taken increaſe: Shall this man liue? he ſhall not liue: Seeing he hath done all theſe abominations he ſhall die the death, his blood ſhalbe vpon him.

14 Now if this man get a ſonne alſo, that ſeeth all his fathers ſinnes which he hath done, and feareth, neither doeth ſuch like:

15 [Namely,] that hath not eaten vpon the hils, neither hath lift vp his eyes to ẏ idoles of the houſe of Iſrael, noꝛ defiled his neighbours wife:

16 Neither hath oppꝛeſſed any, noꝛ hath withholden ẏ pledge, neither hath ſpoyled by violence: [but] hath giuen his bꝛead to ẏ hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment:

17 Neither hath withdꝛawen his hand from ẏ afflicted, noꝛ receiued vſurie noꝛ increaſe, [but] hath executed my iudgements, & walked in my ſtatutes: this mã ſhal not die in his fathers ſinne, but ſhall liue without faile.

18 As foꝛ his father, becauſe he hath cruelly oppꝛeſſed and ſpoyled his bꝛother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, loe, he dieth in his owne ſinne.

19 And yet ſay ye, Wheꝛefoꝛe then ſhould not this ſonne beare his fathers ſinne? Becauſe the ſonne hath done iudgement & righteouſneſſe, he hath kept all my ſtatutes, and done them: theꝛefoꝛe ſhall he liue in deede.

20 * The ſame ſoule that ſinneth ſhall die, the ſonne ſhall not beare the fathers iniquitie, neither ſhall the father beare the ſonnes iniquitie: the righteouſneſſe of ẏ righteous ſhalbe vpon him, and the wickedneſſe of the wicked ſhalbe vpon himſelfe alſo. Deut. 24. 16. 4. king. 4. 6. 2. chro. 25. 4.

21 But if the vngodly will turne away from all his ſinnes that he hath done, and keepe all my ſtatutes, and doe the thing that is iudgement and right, doubtleſſe he ſhall liue, and not die.

22 As foꝛ al his ſinnes that he did befoꝛe, they ſhall not be mentioned vnto him: but in his righteouſnes that he hath done, he ſhall liue.

23 Foꝛ haue I any pleaſure in the death of a ſinner, ſaieth the Lord God? ſhall he not liue if he returne from his wayes?

24 Againe, if the righteous turne from his righteouſneſſe, and doe iniquitie, and ſhal doe accoꝛding to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth: ſhall he liue? All the righteouſneſſe that he hath done ſhall not be remembꝛed, but in his tranſgreſſion that he hath committed, in his ſinne that he hath ſinned, in them he ſhall die.

25 And yet ye ſay, * The way of the Lorde is not [d] indifferent. Heare theꝛefoꝛe ye houſe of Iſrael, Is not my way equal? oꝛ are not your wayes rather vnequal? Ezec. 33. 20.

d In puniſhing the fathers with the children.

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſnes, & committeth iniquitie, & dieth in the ſame: in his inquitie which he hath committed ſhall he die.

27 Againe, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednelle that he hath done, and doeth iudgement and right, he ſhall ſaue his ſoule alliue.

28 Becauſe he † ſeeth and turneth away from all his iniquitie that he hath committed, he ſhall shall surely liue, and not die.

29 And yet saieth the house of Israel, The way of the Lorde is not equal. Are not my wayes equall, O ye house of Israel? are not your wayes rather vnequall?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, euery man according to his wayes, O ye house of Israel, saieth the Lorde God, * returne and bring againe others from all your wickednes, so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

Matth. 3. 2.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions whereby ye haue transgressed, and make you a new heart and a newe spirit: for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

The xix. Chapter.

a The captiuitie of Iehoas and Iehoiakim is signified by the Lions whelpes, and by the Lion.

1 THou also take vp a lamentation for the a princes of Israel,

2 And say, Wherefore lay thy mother that Lioneſſe among the Lions? she nourished her young ones among the Lions whelpes.

a That is, Iehoas & Iehoiakim Iosias sonnes, who for their cruelstie and pride are compared vnto Lions.

3 One of her whelpes she brought vp, and it became a Lion, it learned to catche the pray, and to deuoure folke.

4 The b heathen heard of him, and caught him in their snare, & brought him in ‖ hookes vnto the land of Egypt.

b Meaning, Pharao Nechao king of Egypt.

‖ Or, chaines.

5 Nowe when she sawe that she had wayted, and her hope was lost, she tooke another c of her whelpes, and made him a Lion.

c Which was Iehoiakim.

6 Which went among the Lions, and became a fierce Lion, learned to catch the pray, and to deuoure folke.

‖ Or, and he knew their widowes.

7 He ‖ destroyed their palaces, and made their cities waste, insomuch that the whole lande, and euery thing therein, were vtterly desolate through the voyce of his roaring.

d Nabuchodonosor with his great armie, which was gathered of diuers nations.

8 Then set the d heathen together on euerie side of the countreyes against him, laide their nettes for him, and tooke him in their pit.

9 So they put him in prison in chaynes, and brought him to the king of Babylō: they put him in holdes, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

e He speaketh this in the respect of this wicked king, in whose blood, that is, in the race of his predecessors, Hierusalem was & so should haue been blessed according to Gods promises, and flouish like a fruitfull vine. Osee. 13. 15.

10 As for thy e mother, she is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she brought forth fruite and branches by the abundant waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted on high among the branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was pluckt vp in wrath, cast out vpon the ground, * the East winde dried vp her fruite, [her branches] were broken off and withered, [as for] the rodde of her strength, the fire consumed them.

13 And now she is planted in the wildernesse, in a dry and thirstie ground.

14 And there is a fire gone out of the rod of her branches, it hath deuoured her fruite, so that she hath no strong rodde for a scepter to rule: This is a lamention, and shalbe for a lamentation.

The xx. Chapter.

The Lorde denieth that he will answere them when they pray, for the offence of vnkindnesse which he here obiecteth.

1 IN the a seuenth yeere, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certaine of the elders of Israel came for to aske counsell at the Lord, and sate downe before me.

a Of the captiuitie of Iechonias.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto the elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lorde God, Are ye come to enquire of me? As truely as I liue, I ‖ will not be sought of you, saieth the Lorde God.

‖ Or, when I am asked, I wil not answere.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man, wilt thou iudge [them?] cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers.

5 And tell them, Thus saieth the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and b lift vp mine hand vpon the seede of the house of Iacob, and was knowen vnto them in the land of Egypt, yea, when I lift vp mine hand ouer them, and saide, I am the Lorde your God:

b This was a maner of swearing which was obserued in the king an ordre of all antiquitie, and is yet in diuers countreyes vsed.

6 Euen in the day that I lift vp mine hand vnto them, to bring them out of the lande of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for the, which floweth with milke and hony, and is pleasant among all other landes:

7 Then saide I vnto them, Cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and woulde not hearken vnto me, they did not cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I said I woulde powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them, yea, euen in the middest of the land of Egypt.

9 And I wrote for my names sake, that it shoulde not be polluted before the heathen among whom they were, to whom I was manifestly knowen, in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Now when I had caused them to goe out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse:

11 * I gaue them my statutes, & shewed them my iudgements: which whoso doeth, shall liue

Leuit. 18. 5. rom. 10. 5.

Exod.20.8. and 31.13. deut.5.12. 12 *I gaue them also my Sabboth dayes, to be a token betwixt me and them, and thereby to knowe that I am the Lorde which halowe them.

13 And yet the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wildernesse, they would not walke in my statutes, they haue cast away my iudgements, which whoso doeth, shal liue in them, Exod.16.28. *and my Sabboth dayes haue they greatly polluted: then I sayde I woulde powre out mine indignation vpon them, and consume them in the wildernesse.

14 And I wrought for my names sake, least it should be defiled before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheless I lift vp my hande vnto them in the wildernesse, that I woulde not bring them into the land which I gaue them, that floweth with milke and hony, and is a pleasure of all landes:

16 And that because they cast away my iudgementes, and walked not in my statutes, but haue defiled my Sabboths: for their heart was gone after their idoles.

17 Neuertheless mine eye spared them, so that I would not destroy them, nor consume them in the wildernesse.

18 Moreouer, I sayde vnto their sonnes in the wildernes, Walke not in the statutes of your [c] fathers, keepe not their iudgements, and defile not your selues with their idoles.

[c] Whereby the holy Ghost confuteth them that say, They will folowe the religion & example of their father, and not measure their doings by Gods worde, whether they be approueable therby or no.

19 I am the Lorde your God, walke in my statutes, keepe my iudgements, and do them.

20 Halowe my Sabboths, for they are a token betwixt me and you: that ye may knowe how that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding, their sonnes rebelled against mee also, they walked not in my statutes, they kept not my iudgementes to fulfil them, which he that doeth, shall liue in them, they prophaned my Sabboth dayes, and I said, I would powre out mine indignatiō ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them in the wildernesse.

22 Neuertheless, I withdrewe my hande, and wrought for my names sake, least it shoulde be defiled in the sight of the heathen, before whom I had brought them forth.

23 I lift vp my hande to them also in the wildernesse, that I woulde scatter them among the heathen, and strawe them among the nations:

[d] Because they would not obey my lawes, I gaue them vp to themselues, that they shoulde obey their owne fantasies, as verse 39. Rom.1.

24 Because they had not kept my iudgements, but cast aside my statutes, and broken my Sabboths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I [d] gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements wherein they should not liue.

26 And I defiled them in their owne gyftes, in that they [e] caused all that openeth the wombe to passe, that I might destroy them, that they might knowe howe that I am the Lord.

[e] Causing their first borne to passe thorow the fire in sacrifice to Moloch.

27 Therefore speake vnto the house of Israel, thou sonne of man, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Yet in this also your fathers haue blasphemed mee, and grieuously transgressed against me:

28 For after I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp my hande to giue it vnto them, when they sawe euery high hill, & all thicke trees, they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of [f] anger, there also they made their sweete sauours, and powred out their wine offerings.

[f] Such offring as prouoked God to anger.

29 And I sayde vnto them, What is that high place whereunto ye resort? and the name of it is called [g] Bamah vnto this day.

[g] Which signifieth an high place, declaring that they vaunted themselues of their idolatrie, and were not ashamed therof, though God had cōmanded expresly that they shoulde haue no altar lifted vp on high by staires, Exo.20.

30 Wherefore speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus sayth the Lord God, Are ye not defiled in the wayes of your fathers, and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your giftes, and make your sonnes to passe thorowe the fire, you are polluted with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answere you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, sayth the Lorde God, I ‖ wil not be sought of you.

‖ Or, I will not answere when I am asked.

32 And [that which] commeth into your minde shall not be at all, which you say, We will be as the Gentiles, as ỹ kinreds of countreys to serue wood and stone.

33 As truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, I my selfe will rule you with a mightie hande, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powred out ouer you.

34 And I will bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys wherein yee are scattered, with a mightie hande, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the [h] wildernesse of the people, & there I [i] will be iudged with you face to face.

[h] That is, among strange nations.

[i] I will reason and pleade my cause with you my selfe.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wildernes of Egypt: so wil I plead with you also, sayth the Lord God.

37 I wil cause you to passe vnder the rodde, and I wil bring you into the bond of the couenāt.

38 And I will ‖ purge out of you the rebels, and them that transgresse against mee, and bring them out of the lande of their habitation: as for the lande of Israel they shall not come in it, that you may knowe howe that I am the Lord.

‖ Or, call.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Goe you and serue euery man his idoles, seeing that ye obey not me: and pollute no more my holy name with your giftes and your idoles.

40 For vpon my holy hill, euen vpon the high hill of Iſrael, ſayth the Lord God, ſhall all the houſe of Iſrael, and all that is in the lande worſhip me: and in the ſame place will I fauour them, & there will I require your heaue offerings, & the firſtlings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your ſweete ſauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the landes wherein yee haue bene ſcattered, that I may be halowed in you before the heathen.

42 And ye ſhal know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall bring you into the land of Iſrael, into the lande for the which I lift vp my hande to giue it vnto your fathers.

43 There ſhall ye call to remembrance your owne wayes, and all your workes wherein ye haue bene defiled, and ye ſhalbe cut off in your [l] owne ſight for all your wickednesſe that ye haue done.

44 And ye ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde, when I deale with you for my names ſake, and not after your wicked wayes, nor according to your corrupt workes, O ye houſe of Iſrael, ſayth the Lord God.

45 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

46 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face toward the way of [m] Themanah, and drop [thy worde] toward the [n] South, and prophecie towarde the foreſt of the South fielde,

47 And ſay to the foreſt of the South, Heare the worde of the Lord, Thus ſayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, that ſhall conſume all the [o] greene trees, with all the drie: the continuall flame ſhal not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North ſhalbe burnt therein.

48 And all fleſh ſhall ſee that I the Lorde haue kindled it, and it ſhall not be quenched.

49 Then ſayd I, Ah Lord God, they ſay of me, Doeth not he ſpeake [p] parables?

The xxi. Chapter.

3 He threatneth the ſword, that is to ſay, deſtruction to the citie of Hieruſalem.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face towarde Hieruſalem, and [a] droppe [thy worde] toward the holy places, and prophecie againſt the land of Iſrael.

3 Say to the lande of Iſrael, Thus ſayth the Lorde, Behold, I am againſt thee, and will drawe my ſworde out of the sheath, and cut off from thee both the [b] righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked, therefore ſhall my ſworde goe out of his sheath againſt all fleſh from the [c] South to the North,

5 That all fleſh may knowe howe that I the Lorde haue drawen my ſworde out of the sheath, and it ſhal not be put in againe.

6 Mourne therefore, O thou ſonne of man, yea, [euen] with the [d] breaking of thy ioynts, mourne bitterly in their preſence.

7 And if they ſay vnto thee, Wherefore mourneſt thou? then tell them, For the tidings that commeth: All heartes ſhall melt, all handes ſhalbe letten downe, all ſtomackes ſhal faynt, and all knees ſhall goe as water: beholde, it commeth, and ſhalbe brought to paſſe, ſayth the Lord God.

8 Againe, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

9 Thou ſonne of man, prophecie and ſpeake, Thus ſayeth the Lord God, Speake, The ſworde, the ſworde is ſharpened, and well fourbiſhed.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great ſlaughter, and fourbiſhed that it may glitter: Shall we then make myrth? It contemneth the [e] rodde of my ſonne [as] [f] all other trees.

11 He hath giuen it to be fourbiſhed, to holde it in the hande: this ſworde is ſharpened, and fourbiſhed, to giue it into the hand of the [g] ſlayer.

12 Cry and howle, ſonne of man, for it commeth vpon my people, [it commeth] vpon all the princes of Iſrael: the terrours of the ſworde ſhall be vpon my people, ſmite therefore thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Becauſe it is a tryall, and what if [h] it contemne the rodde? it ſhalbe no more, ſayth the Lorde God.

14 Prophecie, thou ſonne of man, and ſmite thy [i] handes together, & let the ſworde be doubled thrise, [euen] the ſworde of the great ſlaughter, entring into their priuie chambers,

15 To make them faynt at the heartes, and to multiplie their falles, in all their gates haue I giuen the terrour of the ſworde: Ah, it is made bright, and dreſſed for the ſlaughter.

16 Get thee [k] one way or other, either vpon the right hande or vpon the left, whitherſoeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will ſmite my handes together alſo, and make my wrathfull indignation to reſt: euen I the Lord haue ſayd it.

18 The worde of the Lord came yet vnto me againe, ſaying,

19 Thou ſonne of man, appoynt thee two [l] ways, that the ſworde of the king of Babylon may come: both theſe wayes ſhal goe out of one land, and chuſe thee a place, at the head of the cities wayes chooſe it.

20 Appoynt a way that the ſworde may come towarde Rabbath of the Ammonites, and toward [m] Iuda in the defenced Hieruſalem.

two waies, consulting by diuination, he made his arrowes bright, consulted with images, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hande was the soothsaying for Hierusalem, to appoynt captaines, to open [their] mouth to the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with the alarum, to set battell rammes against the gates, to cast a bulwarke, [and] to buylde a fort.

23 And it shalbe vnto them as a false diuination in their sight, for the [o] othes made vnto them: but [p] he wil call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Because yee haue made your iniquitie to be remembred in discouering your transgressions, so that in all your workes your sinnes might appeare, because ye are come to remembrãce, ye shalbe taken by hand.

25 O thou shamefull wicked [q] prince of Israel, whose day is come, euen when wickednesse shall haue an ende,

29 Whiles they see vnto thee vanitie, & diuine a lye vnto thee, to put thee with the neckes of the wicked that be slayne, whose day is come when their iniquitie shall haue an ende.

30 Shoulde I cause it to returne into his sheath? In the place where thou wast created, in the lande of thine habitation will I iudge thee.

31 And I will powre mine indignation vpon thee, and will blowe vpon thee in the fyre of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the handes of desperate people, which are skilfull to destroy.

The xxii. Chapter.

The worde of the Lorde against Hierusalem for manslaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers & mothers, and other wickednesse.

1 MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, and sayde,

2 Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not [a] iudge, wilt thou not iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou not shewe her all her abominations?

3 And tell them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, The citie sheadeth blood in the middest of it, that her [b] time may come, and maketh idoles [c] against her selfe, to defile her selfe.

4 Thou hast made thy selfe gyltie in the blood that thou hast shed, & defiled thee in the idoles which thou hast made: thou hast caused thy dayes to draw nigh, and made the time of thy yeeres to come: therefore will I make thee a reproche among the heathen, and to be a mocking in all landes.

5 Whether they be nygh or farre from thee, they shall laugh thee to scorne, thou that hast gotten thee so foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Israel, euery one in thee [was ready] to his power to shead blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother, in thee haue they oppressed the stranger, in thee haue they vexed the widowe and the fatherlesse.

8 Thou hast despised my holy things, and defiled my Sabboths.

9 ‖ Tale tellers are there in thee to sheade blood, in thee are such as eate vpon the hilles, and in the middest of thee they committe abomination.

10 In thee they discouered their fathers shame, in thee they haue humbled her that was set apart for pollution.

11 * Euery man hath dealt shamefully with his neyghbours wife, and abominably defiled his ‖ daughter in lawe, in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 Yea, gyftes haue bene receyued in thee to sheade blood, thou hast taken vsurie and increase, thou hast oppressed thy neyghbours by extortion, and forgotten mee, sayeth the Lord God.

13 Beholde, I haue [d] smitten my handes vpon thy couetousnesse that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood which hath bene [shedde] in the middest of thee.

14 Is thy heart able to endure? or may thy handes be strengthened in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? Euen I the Lord that speake it, will bring it also to passe.

15 I will scatter thee among the heathen, and strawe thee about in the lands, and will cause thy filthinesse to [e] cease out of thee.

16 Yea, & thou shalt be thine [f] owne inheritance in the sight of the heathen, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord.

17 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

The xxiiii. Chapter.

He prooueth the firing of Hierusalem by a parable of a seething pot.

1 IN the [a] nynth yeere, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the [b] moneth, came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying, a Of Jechonias captiuitie, & of the reigne of Zedecias, 2. king. 25.

b Called Tebeth, cõteining part of December & part of Januarie, in which moneth & day Nabuchodonosor besieged Hierusalem.

2 O thou sonne of man, write thee the name of this day, yea, euen of this present day: for the king of Babylon set himselfe against Hierusalem this selfe same day.

3 And shewe the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God, Prepare a [c] pot, set it on, and powre water into it.

c Whereby is meant Hierusalem.

4 Gather the [d] pieces thereof into it, euery good piece, the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

d That is, the citizens & chief men thereof.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, ‖ and burne also bones vnder it, let it boyle well, let the bones thereof seethe well therein.

‖ Or, heape.

6 With that sayde the Lorde God on this maner, Woe vnto the bloodie citie, to the potte whose scumme is therein, and whose scumme is not gone out of it: bring it out [e] piece by piece, let no [f] lot fall vpon it.

e Signifying, they should not be destroyed all at once, but by litle and litle.

f Spare no state nor condition.

7 For her blood is in the middest of it, vpon a high drie [g] stone hath shee powred it, and not vpon the grounde, that it might bee couered with dust:

g The citie shewed her cruelty to all the world, & was not ashamed therof, neyther yet hid it. Nahum. 3. 1. habac. 2. 12.

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: I haue set her blood vpon an high [drie] rocke, that it should not be couered.

9 Wherefore thus saieth the Lorde God, * O woe be vnto the bloodthirstie citie, for whome euen I my selfe will make a great fire, h Meaning, that the citie should be vtterly destroied, and that he would giue the enemies an appetite thereunto.

10 And heape on much wood, and [h] kindle the fire, and seethe the flesh, and ‖ spice the pot, so that the very bones shalbe burnt.

‖ Or, cast in spice

11 Moreouer, I will set the pot emptie vpon the coales, so that the brasse thereof may bee hot and burnt, and the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scumme of it shalbe consumed.

12 Shee hath wearyed her selfe with ‖ labour, yet her great scumme is not gone off her, in the fire her scumme [must be consumed.]

‖ Or, lyes.

i I laboured by sending my prophet to call thee to repentance, but thou wouldest not.

13 In thy filthinesse is wickednesse: because I [i] would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not be purged any more, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lorde haue spoken it: yea, it is come thereto already that I will do it, I will not goe backe, I will not spare, I will not repent: but according to thy wayes & imaginations shall they [k] iudge thee, sayth the Lord.

k That is, the Babylonians

15 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, beholde, I will take away from thee the [l] pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neyther shall thy teares runne downe.

l Meaning, his wife, in whom he delighted, as verse 18.

17 Mourne in silence, make no mourning of the dead, binde the tyre of thy head vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lippes, and [m] eate no mans bread.

m For mourners were wont to eate bread sent vnto the by their neighbours in time of mourning.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morning, and at euen my wife dyed: then vpon the next morowe I did as I was commanded.

19 And the people sayde vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth towarde vs, that thou doest so?

20 I answered them, The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glorie of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your heartes delite: and your sonnes and daughters whome you haue left, shall fall through the sworde.

22 Like as I haue done, so shal ye doe also: ye shall not couer your lippes, yee shall eate no mans bread.

23 And your tyre [shall be] vpon your heads, and your shoes vpon your feete: ye shall neyther mourne nor weepe, but ye shal pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towardes another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shewetoken: according to all that he hath done, ye shall do: when it commeth, then ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, & the [n] lifting vp of their soules, their sonnes and their daughters:

n Their hearts delite.

26 In that day shall come one that is escaped, vnto thee, [o and bring it] to the hearing of [thine] eares.

o That is, bring the tydings of the destruction of Hierusalem.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The worde of the Lord vpon the sonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hierusalem. 8 Against Moab & Seir, against Idumea, against the Philistines.

1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde the Ammonites, and prophecie vpon them,

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the worde of the Lord God, Thus sayth the Lord God, Forsomuch as thou saidest [a] Ha,ha, ouer my Sanctuarie because it was polluted, and ouer the lande of Israel because it was desolate, and ouer the house of Iuda because they went into captiuitie:

a Because ye reioyced when the enemie destroyed my cities & temple.

4 Beholde therefore, I will deliuer thee to the people of the [b] East, that they may haue thee in possession: these shall settle their [c] palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee, they shall eate thy fruite, and drinke vp thy milke.

b That is, to the Babylonians.
c They shall chase thee away, and take thy gorgeous houses to dwell in.

5 As for [d] Rabbath, I will make of it a stable for Camels, and of the Ammonites a sheepefolde: and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

d Called also Philadelphia, which was the chiefe citie of the Ammonites, & full of conduites, as 2. Sam. 12.

6 For thus sayeth the Lorde God, Insomuch as thou hast clapped with thine handes, and stamped with thy feete, yea, and reioyced ouer the land of Israel with all thy ‖ despite in heart:

‖ Or, tickling of heart.

7 Behold therefore, I wil stretch out my hand ouer thee, and deliuer thee to be spoyled of the Heathen, and roote thee out from among the people, & cause thee to perish out of the lands, yea, I wil make thee to be destroyed, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord.

8 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Forsomuch as Moab and Seir do say, Beholde, the house of Iuda is like as all Gentiles be:

9 Therefore beholde, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from the cities [I say] of his frontiers, the pleasures of the countrey [as namely] Bethiesimoth, Baalmeon, and Kiriathiarim:

e Vnderstand out of the next former verse, I wil open, &c.

10 [e] Vnto the children of the East, against the Ammonites, and will giue it into possession, so that the Ammonites shal no more be had in remembrance among the Heathen.

11 And I wil execute iudgements vpon Moab: and they shal knowe that I am the Lord.

12 Thus sayth the Lord God, For that Edom hath done in auenging reuengement vpon the house of Iuda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himselfe vpon them:

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I will reache out mine hande vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, I will make it desolate from Theman, and Dedanah shall fall by the sworde.

14 And I will execute my reuengement vpon Edom by the hande of my people Israel, they shal doe in Edom according to my wrath and indignation, so that they shall knowe my vengeance, sayth the Lord God.

15 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, For that the Philistines did in vengeance, [namely] in auenging reuengement, with a ‡ despitefull heart to destroy it for the olde enmitie:

‡ tickling heart, as they often haue which delite in seeking reuengement.

16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will stretch out my hande ouer the Philistines, and destroy the [f] Cerethites, and cause all the remnant of the sea coast to perish:

f Which were certaine garisons of Philistines, wherby they oft molested ỳ Iewes. Of the Cerethites Dauid also had a garde, 2. Sam. 8.

17 A great vengeance will I take vpon them, with punishments of my wrath, that they may know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that Tyrus shalbe ouerthrowen, because it reioyced at the destruction of Hierusalem.

1 And it came to passe in the [a] eleuenth yeere, the first day of the moneth, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying, a Eyther of the captiuitie of Jeconias, or of the raigne of Zedecias.

2 Thou sonne of man, because that Tyre hath spoken vpon Hierusalem, Ha,ha, the gates of the people is broken, [b] it is turned vnto me, for nowe that she is destroyed I shall be [c] filled:

b The traffike of marchãdise that was vsed in Hierusalem, shalbe turned to me againe.
c Vp riches and fame shall encrease: thus the wicked reioyce at their fall by whome they may haue any profite or aduantage.

3 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Tyre, I will vpon thee, I will rayse vp many nations against thee, like as when the sea ariseth with his waues.

4 They shall breake the walles of Tyre, and cast downe her towres, I will scrape her dust from her, and make her a drie rocke.

5 She shalbe for a spreading of nettes in the sea, for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God, and she shalbe for a spoyle to the nations.

6 Her [d] daughters that are in the fielde shalbe slayne with the sworde, that they may knowe how that I am the Lord.

d Meaning, ỳ small townes & villages that were in the countrey or territorie of Tyrus.

7 For thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I wil bring vpõ Tyrus Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon from the North, a king of kings, with horses, charets, horsemen, with a multitude, and much people.

8 Thy daughters that are in the fielde shal he slay with the sworde: but against thee he shal make bulwarkes, & cast a mount against thee, and lift vp his speare against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee they shalbe so many, thy walles shall shake at the noyse of the horsemen, wheeles, and charets, when he shall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.

11 With the hoofes of his horses shal he treade downe all thy streetes, he shall slay the people with the sworde, & the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 They shall robbe thy riches, and spoyle thy marchandize, thy walles shall they breake downe, and destroy thy houses of pleasure, thy

40 For vpon my holy hill, euen vpon the high hill of Iſrael, ſayth the Lord God, ſhall all the houſe of Iſrael, and all that is in the lande worſhip me: and in the ſame place will I fauour them, & there will I require your heaue offerings, & the firſtlings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your ſweete ſauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the landes wherein yee haue bene ſcattered, that I may be halowed in you before the heathen.

42 And ye ſhal know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall bring you into the land of Iſrael, into the lande for the which I lift vp my hande to giue it vnto your fathers.

43 There ſhall ye call to remembrance your owne wayes, and all your workes wherein ye haue bene defiled, and ye ſhalbe cut off in your [l] owne ſight for all your wickednelle that ye haue done.

l Your owne conſcience ſhal condemne you as worthie to be cut off from the earth.

44 And ye ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde, when I deale with you for my names ſake, and not after your wicked wayes, nor according to your corrupt workes, O ye houſe of Iſrael, ſayth the Lord God.

45 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

46 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face toward the way of [m] Themanah, and drop [thy worde] toward the [n] South, and prophecie towarde the forelt of the South fielde, m To wit, the South.

n That is, toward Hieruſalem & Juda, which was South from Babylon.

47 And ſay to the forelt of the South, Heare the worde of the Lord, Thus ſayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, that ſhall conſume all the [o] greene trees, with all the drie: the continuall flame ſhal not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North ſhalbe burnt therein.

o That is, both ſtrong & weake in Hieruſalem.

48 And all fleſh ſhall ſee that I the Lorde haue kindled it, and it ſhall not be quenched.

49 Then ſayd I, Ah Lord God, they ſay of me, Doeth not he ſpeake [p] parables?

p Becauſe the people ſayd þ the Prophet ſpake darkely, therfore he deſireth the Lord to giue them a plaine declaration thereof.

The xxi. Chapter.

3 He threatneth the ſword, that is to ſay, deſtruction to the citie of Hieruſalem.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face towarde Hieruſalem, and [a] droppe [thy worde] toward the holy places, and prophecie againſt the land of Iſrael.

a As doctrine is cõpared to raine, euen ſo here wordes are compared to droppes.

3 Say to the lande of Iſrael, Thus ſayth the Lorde, Beholde, I am againſt thee, and will drawe my ſworde out of the ſheath, and cut off from thee both the [b] righteous and the wicked.

b That is, ſuch as ſéeme to haue an outward ſhew of righteouſneſſe by obſeruation of the ceremonies of the lawe.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked, therefore ſhall my ſworde goe out of his ſheath againſt all fleſh from the [c] South to the North,

c Meaning, throw all the land.

5 That all fleſh may knowe howe that I the Lorde haue drawen my ſworde out of the ſheath, and it ſhal not be put in againe.

6 Mourne therefore, O thou ſonne of man, yea, [euen] with the [d] breaking of thy ioynts, mourne bitterly in their preſence.

d As though thou were in extreme anguiſh, wherewith thy ioynes ſhould breake.

7 And if they ſay vnto thee, Wherefore mourneſt thou? then tell them, For the tidings that commeth: All heartes ſhall melt, all handes ſhalbe letten downe, all ſtomackes ſhal faynt, and all knees ſhall goe as water: beholde, it commeth, and ſhalbe brought to paſſe, ſayth the Lord God.

8 Againe, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

9 Thou ſonne of man, prophecie and ſpeake, Thus ſayeth the Lord God, Speake, The ſworde, the ſworde is ſharpened, and well fourbiſhed.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great ſlaughter, and fourbiſhed that it may glitter: Shall we then make mirth? It contemneth the [e] rodde of my ſonne [as] [f] all other trees.

e Meaning, the ſcepter, ſhewing that it wil not ſpare the king, who ſhould be as the ſonne of God, and in his place.
f That is, the reſt of the people.

11 He hath giuen it to be fourbiſhed, to holde it in the hande: this ſworde is ſharpened, and fourbiſhed, to giue it into the hand of the [g] ſlayer.

g To wit, vnto the armie of the Chaldeans

12 Cry and howle, ſonne of man, for it commeth vpon my people, [it commeth] vpon all the princes of Iſrael: the terrours of the ſworde ſhall be vpon my people, ſmite therefore thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Becauſe it is a tryall, and what if [h] it contemne the rodde? it ſhalbe no more, ſayth the Lorde God.

h Meaning, the ſworde of þ king of Babylon, which ſhal not ſpare the ſcepter of Juda.

14 Prophecie, thou ſonne of man, and ſmite thy [i] handes together, & let the ſworde be doubled thrife, [euen] the ſworde of the great ſlaughter, entring into their priuie chambers, i That is, encourage the ſworde.

15 To make them faynt at the heartes, and to multiplie their falles, in all their gates haue I giuen the terrour of the ſworde: Ah, it is made bright, and dreſſed for the ſlaughter.

16 Get thee [k] one way or other, either vpon the right hande or vpon the left, whitherſoeuer thy face turneth.

k He ſpeaketh vnto þ ſworde, giuing it libertie to range at his pleaſure.

17 I will ſmite my handes together alſo, and make my wrathfull indignation to reſt: euen I the Lord haue ſayd it.

18 The worde of the Lord came yet vnto me againe, ſaying,

19 Thou ſonne of man, appoynt thee two [l] wayes, that the ſworde of the king of Babylon may come: both theſe wayes ſhal goe out of one land, and chuſe thee a place, at the head of the cities wayes chooſe it.

l Where the way deuideth and leadeth to many cities.

20 Appoynt a way that the ſworde may come towarde Rabbath of the Ammonites, and toward [m] Juda in the defenced Hieruſalem.

m The tribe of Juda that kept theſelues chiefly in Hieruſalem.

21 For the king of Babylon ſtoode at the [n] parting of the wayes, at the head of the two n To knowe whether he ſhould go againſt the Ammonites, or them of Hieruſalem.

two waies, consulting by diuination, he made his arrowes bright, consulted with images, and looked in the lyuer.

22 At his right hande was the soothsaying for Hierusalem, to appoynt captaines, to open [their] mouth to the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with the alarum, to set battell rammes against the gates, to cast a bulwarke, [and] to buylde a fort.

23 And it shalbe vnto them as a false diuination in their sight, for the [o] othes made vnto them: but [p] he wil call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Because yee haue made your iniquitie to be remembred in discouering your transgressions, so that in all your workes your sinnes might appeare, because ye are come to remembrãce, ye shalbe taken by hand.

25 O thou shamefull wicked [q] prince of Israel, whose day is come, euen when wickednesse shall haue an ende, 26 Thus sayth the Lord God, I wil take away the [r] Diademe, and put off the crowne: this shalbe no more the same, I wil exalt the humble, and abase him that is high.

27 Ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen will I put [s] it, and it shal not be, vntil he come to whome the iudgement belongeth, and to whom I haue giuen it.

28 And thou, O sonne of man, prophecie and speake, Thus sayth the Lord God to the children of Ammon, & to their blasphemie, speake thou, The sworde, the sworde is drawen forth already to slaughter, & fourbished to consume because of the glyttering:

29 Whiles they see vnto thee vanitie, & diuine a lye vnto thee, to put thee with the neckes of the wicked that be slayne, whose day is come when their iniquitie shall haue an ende.

30 Shoulde I cause it to returne into his sheath? In the place where thou wast created, in the lande of thine habitation will I iudge thee.

31 And I will powre mine indignation vpon thee, and will blowe vpon thee in the fyre of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the handes of desperate people, which are skilfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt feede the fire, and thy blood shal be shed in the middest of the lande: thou shalt be put out of remembrance, for I the Lorde haue spoken it.

o Because there was a league betweene the Iewes & the Babylonians, they of Hierusalem thal thinke nothing lesse then that this thing shall come to passe.
p That is, Nabuchodonosor will remember the rebellion of Zedecias, and so come vpon them.
q Meaning, Zedecias.
r Some refer this to the priests attyre, for Iehozadec the priest went into captiuitie with the king.
s That is, the state of the kingdome and priesthood shall euer more and more decay till Christ come, vnto whom of right both belong.

The xxii. Chapter.

The worde of the Lorde against Hierusalem for manslaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers & mothers, and other wickednesse.

1 MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, and sayde,

2 Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not [a] iudge, wilt thou not iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou not shewe her all her abominations?

3 And tell them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, The citie sheadeth blood in the middest of it, that her [b] time may come, and maketh idoles [c] against her selfe, to defile her selfe.

4 Thou hast made thy selfe gyltie in the blood that thou hast shed, & defiled thee in the idoles which thou hast made: thou hast caused thy dayes to draw nigh, and made the time of thy yeeres to come: therefore will I make thee a reproche among the heathen, and to be a mocking in all landes.

5 Whether they be nygh or farre from thee, they shall laugh thee to scorne, thou that hast gotten thee so foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Israel, euery one in thee [was ready] to his power to shead blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother, in thee haue they oppressed the stranger, in thee haue they vexed the widowe and the fatherlesse.

8 Thou hast despised my holy things, and defiled my Sabboths.

9 ‖ Tale tellers are there in thee to sheade blood, in thee are such as eate vpon the hilles, and in the middest of thee they committe abomination.

10 In thee they discouered their fathers shame, in thee they haue humbled her that was set apart for pollution.

11 * Euery man hath dealt shamefully with his neyghbours wife, and abominably defiled his ‖ daughter in lawe, in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 Yea, gyftes haue bene receyued in thee to sheade blood, thou hast taken vsurie and increase, thou hast oppressed thy neyghbours by extortion, and forgotten mee, sayeth the Lord God.

13 Beholde, I haue [d] smitten my handes vpon thy couetousnesse that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood which hath bene [shedde] in the middest of thee.

14 Is thy heart able to endure? or may thy handes be strengthened in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? Euen I the Lord that speake it, will bring it also to passe.

15 I will scatter thee among the heathen, and strawe thee about in the lands, and will cause thy filthinesse to [e] cease out of thee.

16 Yea, & thou shalt be thine [f] owne inheritance in the sight of the heathen, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord.

17 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as drosse: all they are brasse, tin, yron, and lead in the middest of the furnace, euen a That is, wilt thou winke at such horrible faults, and not giue my iudgements against them?

b That is, the time of her destruction.
c To her owne vndoing.
d In token of taking their wickednesse or in token of his wrath and vengeance.
e I will take away the occasion of thy wickednesse.
f Whereas before thou wast Gods inheritance, now thou shalt be left to thy selfe miserable and forsaken.

‖ Or, pickthanks

Ierem. 5.8.

‖ Or, sonnes wife.

drosse of siluer are they.

19 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Forasmuch as ye all are turned into drosse, therefore beholde, I will bring you together vnto Hierusalem.

20 Like as they gather siluer, brasse, yron, tyn, and lead into the middest of the furnace, and the fire is blowen thereunder to melt them: euen so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and let you remaine [there,] and cause you to melt.

g Meaning therebp, that þ godlp should be tryed, and the wicked destroyed.

21 I will bring you together, and blow the fire of my wrath vpon you, and ye shalbe moulten in the middest thereof.

22 Like as the siluer is moulten in the middest of the furnace, so shal ye also be moulten therin, that ye may knowe howe that I the Lorde haue powred my wrath vpon you.

23 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

24 Thou sonne of man, tell her, Thou art an vncleane land, which is not h rayned vpon in the day of wrath.

h Thou art like a barren land which the Lord plagueth with drought.

25 There is a i conspiracie of her prophets in the middest thereof: as a roaring Lion rauening his pray they deuoure soules, they haue taken the rich and precious things, they haue made her many widowes in the myddest thereof.

i The false prophets haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.

26 Her priestes haue broken my lawe, and defiled my holy things, they put no difference betweene the holy and vnholy, neyther discerne they betweene the cleane and vncleane: they turne their eyes from my Sabboths, and I am defiled among them.

27 Thy rulers in the middest of thee are like wolues rauening the praye, to sheade blood, and destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

k They which should haue reproued the, flattered them in their vices, and couered their doings with lyes, Ezech. 13.

28 As for her k prophetes, they dawbe with vntempered morter, they see vanities, and diuine lyes vnto them, saying, The Lord sayth so: whereas the Lord hath not spoken.

29 The people in the lande vsed wicked extortion and robberie, they vexed the poore and needie, and oppressed the straunger against right.

30 And I sought among them for a man that would l make vp the hedge, and set him selfe in the gappe before me in the landes behalfe that I shoulde not destroy it: but I coulde finde none.

l Which would shew himselfe zealous in my cause by resisting vice, Esa. 59. & 63. and pray vnto me to withholde my plagues, Psal. 106.

31 Therefore haue I powred out my cruell displeasure vpon them, and consumed them in the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes will I recompense vpon their heads, sayeth the Lord God.

The xxiii. Chapter.

3 Of the fornication, that is to say, of the idolatrie of Samaria and Hierusalem, vnder the name of Aholah, and Aholibah.

1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, there were two women the daughters of a one mother.

a Meaning Israel & Iuda, which came both out of one familie.

3 And they committed fornication in b Egypt, they played the harlots in their youth: there were their breastes pressed, and there they bruysed the teates of their virginitie.

b They became idolaters, after the maner of the Egyptians.

4 The c names of them [were] Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister, and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus [were] their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Hierusalem Aholibah.

c Aholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in her selfe, meaning Samaria, which was the royall citie of Israel, and Aholibah signifieth My mansion in her, whereby is meant Hierusalem, where Gods temple was.

5 Aholah played the harlot d when shee was mine, and shee was set on fire with her louers the Assyrians her neighbours:

d Or, vnder me, that is, vnder my gouernance, and named the people of God, they became idolaters, forsoke God, and put their trust in the Assyrians.

6 Which were clothed with blewe silke, [both] captaines and princes, they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

7 Thus shee committed her whoredome with them, [being] all chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whome she doted, and defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left she the fornication that she vsed with the Egyptians: for in her youth they e lay with her, they bruysed the breastes of her maydenhead, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

e The holy Ghost vseth these termes which seme straunge to chaste eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatrie so to be abhorred, that vnneth any should abide to heare the name thereof mentioned.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the handes of her louers, [euen] into the handes of the Assyrians vpon whom she doted.

10 These discouered her shame, tooke her sonnes and daughters, and slue her with the sworde, an euil name had she among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 Her sister Aholibah sawe this, and destroyed her selfe with inordinate loue more then shee, and with her fornications, more then her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians captaines and princes her neighbours, clothed with all maner of gorgeous apparel, horsemen riding vpon horses, being all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I sawe that she was defiled, and they tooke both one way.

14 But shee encreased still in whoredome: for when shee sawe men paynted vpon the wall, the f images of the Chaldees paynted with vermilion, f This declareth that no words are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, & therfore the holy Ghost here cõpareth them to those which in their raging loue & filthie lustes dote vpon the images and paintings of them after whom they lust.

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, and with dyed attyre vpon their heads, looking all like princes, after the maner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the lande where they were borne:

16 As soone as she sawe them, she burnt in loue vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them into the land of the Chaldees.

17 Nowe when the Babylonians came vnto her in the bed of loue, they defiled her with their whoredome: & so was she polluted with them, them, and her lust was abated from them.

18 And shee discouered her whoredome, and discloſed her shame: then my heart forsooke her, like as my heart was gone from her sister also.

19 Neuertheleſſe, she encreased her whoredome more, and remembred the dayes of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 She burnt in lust vpon their lechers, whose flesh was like the flesh of asses, and their issue like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou hast called to remembrance the filthineſse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruyſed by the Egyptians, for the pappes of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus sayeth the Lorde God, I will rayse vp thy louers against thee from whom thy heart is departed, and gather them together against thee on euery side.

23 [Namely] the Babylonians & all the Chaldees, ‖ rulers, wealthie, and mightie men, with all the Assyrians, al pleasant yong men, captaines and princes, all valiant and renowmed ryding vpon horses.

‖ Or, Peked, and Shoah, & Koa.

24 These shall come vpon thee with charrets, weapons, and wheeles, & great multitude of people, with buckler, shield, & helmet they shal beset thee on euery side: ‖ I will giue iudgement before them, yea, they themselues shall iudge thee according to their owne iudgemẽt.

‖ Or, I will leaue the punishment vnto them.

25 I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, so that they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shal cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shal fall by the sword, they shal cary away thy sonnes and daughters, and the residue shalbe deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fayre iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednesse to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt turne thine eyes no more after them, and cast thy minde no more vpon Egypt.

28 For thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I wil deliuer thee into the hands of them whom thou hatest, yea, euen into the handes of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shal deale hatefully with thee, and take away all thy g labour, and leaue thee naked & bare, and the shame of thy fornications h shalbe discouered, both thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

g All thy treasures & riches which thou hast gotten by labour.

h All ꝑ world shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serue idoles.

30 I will doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the Heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I giue her cuppe into thine hande.

32 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cuppe deepe and large, thou shalt be laughed to scorne, and had in derision, because it conteineth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with i drunkennesse and sorowe, [euen] with the cuppe of destruction and desolation, with the cuppe of thy sister Samaria.

i Meaning, ꝑ the afflictions should be so great, that they should cause them to lose their senses and reason.

34 Thou shalt drinke it, and sucke it out, and thou shalt breake the sheardes thereof, & teare thine owne breastes: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Forasmuch as thou hast forgotten me, and cast mee aside behinde thy backe, so beare nowe thine owne wickednesse and whoredome.

36 The Lorde sayde moreouer vnto me, Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge Aholah, & Aholibah? shewe them their abominations.

37 [Namely] that they haue broken their wedlocke, and blood is in their handes: and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes whom they bare vnto me, to passe [by the fire] to be their k meate.

k That is, to be sacrificed to their idoles: Reade Eze.16.

38 Yea, and this haue they done vnto me also, they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slayne their children for their idoles, they came the same day into my sanctuarie to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the middest of mine house.

40 And howe much more [is it] that they sent for men to come from l farre, vnto whome a messenger was sent, and loe, they came: for whome thou dyddest wash thy selfe, and paynted thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments.

l They sent into other coūtreys to haue such as should teach them the seruice of their idoles.

41 Thou satest vpon a stately bedde, and a m table spred before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

m He meaneth the altars that were prepared for the idoles.

42 And a noyse of a merrie companie at ‖ it, and with the men, beside the multitude of the people, were brought men of Saba out of the desart, which gaue them bracelets vpon their handes, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

‖ Or, the table.

43 And I sayd vnto her that was worne in her adulteries, Nowe shal her fornications come to an ende, and she also.

44 And they went in to her as they goe vnto a common harlot: euen so went they to Aholah and Aholibah, those wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them after the maner of harlots, and after the maner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their handes.

46 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I wil bring a great multitude of people vpon them, and giue them to be scattered and spoyled.

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, & cut them downe with their swords, they shal slay their sonnes and daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednesse to cease out of the lande, that all [n] women may be taught not to do after your wickednesse.

n Meaning, al other cities & countries.

49 And so they shal lay your wickednesse vpon your owne selues, & the sinnes of your idoles shal ye beare: and ye shal know that I am the Lord God.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

He prooueth the firing of Hierusalem by a parable of a seething pot.

1 IN the [a] nynth yeere, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the [b] moneth, came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying, a Of Iechonias captiuitie, & of the reigne of Zedecias, 2. king. 25.

2 O thou sonne of man, write thee the name of this day, yea, euen of this present day: for the king of Babylon set himselfe against Hierusalem this selfe same day.

b Called Tebeth, conteining part of December & part of Ianuarie, in which moneth & day Nabuchodonosor besieged Hierusalem.

3 And shewe the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Prepare a [c] pot, set it on, and powre water into it.

c Whereby is meant Hierusalem.

4 Gather the [d] pieces thereof into it, euery good piece, the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

d That is, the citizens & chiefmen thereof.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, ‖ and burne also bones vnder it, let it boyle well, let the bones thereof seethe well therein.

‖ Or, heape.

6 With that sayde the Lorde God on this maner, Woe vnto the bloodie citie, to the potte whose scumme is therein, and whose scumme is not gone out of it: bring it out [e] piece by piece, let no [f] lot fall vpon it.

e Signifying, they should not be destroyed all at once, but by litle and litle.

f Spare no state nor condition.

7 For her blood is in the middest of it, vpon a high drie [g] stone hath shee powred it, and not vpon the grounde, that it might bee couered with dust:

g The citie shewed her cruelty to all the world, & was not ashamed therof, neyther yet hid it.

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: I haue set her blood vpon an high [drie] rocke, that it should not be couered.

9 Wherefore thus sayth the Lorde God, * O woe be vnto the bloodthirstie citie, for whome euen I my selfe will make a great fire,

* Nahum. 3. 1. habac. 2. 12.

10 And heape on much wood, and [h] kindle the fire, and seethe the flesh, and ‖ spice the pot, so that the very bones shalbe burnt.

h Meaning, that the citie should be vtterly destroied, and that he would giue the enemies an appetite thereunto.

‖ Or, cast in spice

11 Moreouer, I will set the pot emptie vpon the coales, so that the brasse thereof may bee hot and burnt, and the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scumme of it shalbe consumed.

‖ Or, lyes.

12 Shee hath wearyed her selfe with ‖ labour, yet her great scumme is not gone off her, in the fire her scumme [must be consumed.]

i I laboured by sending my prophet to call thee to repentance, but thou wouldest not.

13 In thy filthinesse is wickednesse: because I [i] would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not be purged any more, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lorde haue spoken it: yea, it is come thereto already that I will do it, I will not goe backe, I will not spare, I will not repent: but according to thy wayes & imaginations shall they [k] iudge thee, sayth the Lord.

k That is, the Babylonians

15 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, beholde, I will take away from thee the [l] pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neyther shall thy teares runne downe.

l Meaning, his wife, in whom he delighted, as verse 18.

17 Mourne in silence, make no mourning of the dead, binde the tyre of thy head vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lippes, and [m] eate no mans bread.

m For mourners were wont to eate bread sent vnto the by their neighbours in time of mourning.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morning, and at euen my wife dyed: then vpon the next morowe I did as I was commanded.

19 And the people sayde vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth towarde vs, that thou doest so?

20 I answered them, The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glorie of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your heartes delite: and your sonnes and daughters whome you haue left, shall fall through the sworde.

22 Like as I haue done, so shal ye doe also: ye shall not couer your lippes, yee shall eate no mans bread.

23 And your tyre [shall be] vpon your heads, and your shoes vpon your feete: ye shall neyther mourne nor weepe, but ye shal pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towardes another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shewetoken: according to all that he hath done, ye shall do: when it commeth, then ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, & the [n] lifting vp of their soules, their sonnes and their daughters:

n Their hearts delite.

26 In that day shall come one that is escaped, vnto thee, [[o] and bring it] to the hearing of [thine] eares.

o That is, bring the tydings of the destruction of Hierusalem.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The worde of the Lord vpon the sonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hierusalem. 8 Against Moab & Seir, against Idumea, against the Philistines.

THE

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde the Ammonites, and prophecie vpon them,
3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the worde of the Lord God, Thus sayth the Lord God, Forsomuch as thou saidest [a] Ha,ha, ouer my Sanctuarie because it was polluted, and ouer the lande of Israel because it was desolate, and ouer the house of Iuda because they went into captiuitie:
4 Beholde therefore, I will deliuer thee to the people of the [b] East, that they may haue thee in possession: these shall settle their [c] palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee, they shall eate thy fruite, and drinke vp thy milke.
5 As for [d] Rabbath, I will make of it a stable for Camels, and of the Ammonites a sheepefolde: and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.
6 For thus sayeth the Lorde God, Insomuch as thou hast clapped with thine handes, and stamped with thy feete, yea, and reioyced ouer the land of Israel with all thy ‖ despite in heart:
7 Behold therefore, I wil stretch out my hand ouer thee, and deliuer thee to be spoyled of the Heathen, and roote thee out from among the people, & cause thee to perish out of the lands, yea, I wil make thee to be destroyed, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord.
8 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Forsomuch as Moab and Seir do say, Beholde, the house of Iuda is like as all Gentiles be:
9 Therefore beholde, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from the cities [I say] of his frontiers, the pleasures of the countrey [as namely] Bethiesimoth, Baalmeon, and Kiriathiarim:
10 [c] Unto the children of the East, against the Ammonites, and will giue it into possession, so that the Ammonites shal no more be had in remembrance among the Heathen.
11 And I will execute iudgements vpon Moab: and they shal knowe that I am the Lord.
12 Thus sayth the Lord God, For that Edom hath done in auenging reuengement vpon the house of Iuda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himselfe vpon them:
13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I will reache out mine hande vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, I will make it desolate from Theman, and Dedanah shall fall by the swoorde.
14 And I will execute my reuengement vpon Edom by the hande of my people Israel, they shal doe in Edom according to my wrath and indignation, so that they shall knowe my vengeance, sayth the Lord God.
15 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, For that the Philistines did in vengeance, [namely] in auenging reuengement, with a ‡ despitefull heart to destroy it for the olde enmitie:
16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will stretch out my hande ouer the Philistines, and destroy the [f] Cerethites, and cause all the remnant of the sea coast to perish:
17 A great vengeance will I take vpon them, with punishments of my wrath, that they may know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

a Because ye reioyced when the enemie destroyed my cities & temple.
b That is, to the Babylonians.
c They shall chase thee away, and take thy gorgeous houses to dwel in.
d Called also Philadelphia, which was the chiefe citie of the Ammonites, & full of conduites, as 2. Sam. 12.
‖ Or, tickling of heart.
‡ tickling heart, as they often haue which delite in seeking reuengement.
f Which were certaine garisons of Philistines, wherby they oft molested ỳ Iewes. Of the Cerethites Dauid also had a garde, 2. Sam. 8.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that Tyrus shalbe ouerthrowen, because it reioyced at the destruction of Hierusalem.

1 AND it came to passe in the [a] eleuenth yeere, the first day of the moneth, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
2 Thou sonne of man, because that Tyre hath spoken vpon Hierusalem, Ha,ha, the gates of the people is broken, [b] it is turned vnto me, for nowe that she is destroyed I shall be [c] filled:
3 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Tyre, I will vpon thee, I will rayse vp many nations against thee, like as when the sea ariseth with his waues.
4 They shall breake the walles of Tyre, and cast downe her towres, I will scrape her dust from her, and make her a drie rocke.
5 She shalbe for a spreading of nettes in the sea, for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God, and she shalbe for a spoyle to the nations.
6 Her [d] daughters that are in the fielde shalbe slayne with the swoorde, that they may knowe how that I am the Lord.
7 For thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I wil bring vpō Tyrus Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon from the North, a king of kings, with horses, charets, horsemen, with a multitude, and much people.
8 Thy daughters that are in the fielde shal he slay with the swoorde: but against thee he shal make bulwarkes, & cast a mount against thee, and lift vp his speare against thee.
9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.
10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee they shalbe so many, thy walles shall shake at the noyse of the horsemen, wheeles, and charets, when he shall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.
11 With the hoofes of his horses shal he treade downe all thy streetes, he shall slay the people with the swoorde, & the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.
12 They shall robbe thy riches, and spoyle thy marchandize, thy walles shall they breake downe, and destroy thy houses of pleasure, thy b The traffike of marchādise that was vsed in Hierusalem, shalbe turned to me againe.

c My riches and fame shall encrease: thus the wicked respect at their fall by whome they may haue any profite or aduantage.
d Meaning, ỳ small townes & villages that were in the countrey or territorie of Tyrus.

stones, thy tymber, and dust shal they cast into the middes of the water.

Iere.7.34. 13 *Thus will I cause the sounde of thy songs to cease, and the noyse of thy harpes shall no moze be heard.

14 I wil bring thee into a dry rocke, thou shalt be for a spreading of nettes, thou shalt neuer be buylt againe: for euen I the Lozde haue spoken it, sayth the Lozd God.

15 Thus hath the Lozde God spoken concerning Tyre, Shal not the Iles tremble at the noyse of thy fall, and at the crye of the wounded, when they shalbe slayne and murdered in the middest of thee?

e The gouernours & rulers of other countries by ꝑ sea: wherby he signifieth that her destruction shoulde be so horrible, that all the worlde should heare thereof, and be afrayde.

16 Al princes of the [c] sea shal come downe from their throncs, they shal lay away their robes, & put off their brodered garments, yea, with trembling shall they be clothed, they shall sit vpon the grounde, they shalbe astonished at euery moment, and be amased at thee.

f Meaning marchants, which by their traffike did enrich her wonderfully, and encrease her power.

17 They shall mourne for thee, and say vnto thee, Howe art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of the [f] seas, the renowmed citie which was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their feare to be on all that haũted therein?

18 Nowe shall the inhabiters of the Iles bee astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the Iles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus sayeth the Lozde God, When I make thee a desolate citie, as other cities be that no man dwell in, and when I bring vp the deepe vpõ thee, that great waters may couer thee:

20 Then wil I cast thee downe vnto them that descend into the pitte, vnto a people of [g] olde time, and set thee in a lande that is beneath, like the olde ruines, with them which goe downe to the graue, so that no man shal dwell moze in thee: but I will reserue honour for the [h] land of the liuing.

g Which are dead long ago.

h Meaning Iudea, when it shalbe restored.

‡ I will bring thee to nought.

21 I will ‡make thee terrours, and thou shalt be no moze: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou not be found for euermoze, saith the Lozd God.

The xxvii. Chapter.

The Prophet is mooued to bewayle the desolation of Tyrus.

1 The wozde of the Lozde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentable complaint vpon Tyre,

3 And say vnto Tyre that is situate at the entrie of the sea, which is the mart of the people for many Iles, Thus sayth the Lozde God, O Tyre, thou hast sayde, I am of perfect beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the middes of the seas, thy builders haue made perfect thy beautie.

5 They haue made all thy [shippe] boardes of Fyre trees of [a] Shenir, from Libanus haue they taken Cedar trees to make thee maste:

a This mountaine was called Hermõ, but ꝑ Ammonites called it Shenir, Deut. 3.

6 And the Okes of Basan to make thee Oze, they of Assyria haue made thy benches of Iuozie, brought out of the Iles of [b] Chittim.

b Which is take for Greece and Italie.

7 Fine linen with brodered wozke out of Egypt was spredde ouer thee to be thy sayle: blue silke and purple out of the Iles of Elishah was thy couering.

8 The inhabiters of Sidon and Aruad were thy mariners: and thy wise men, O Tyre, that were in thee, were the shipmasters.

9 The ancient and wise men of Gebal were in thee thy [c] stoppers of chinkes: all ships of the sea with their shipmen were in thee to occupie thy marchandise.

c Or, calkers, meaning, that they buylt the walles of the citie, which is here meant by the ship. And of these were the builders of Solomons tẽple, 2. kin. 5.

10 The Perses, Lydians, and Phutens, were in thy armies thy men of warre: these hanged vp their shieldes and helmets in thee, these set forth thine honour.

11 They of Aruad were with thine host round about thy walles, and the [d] Pigmenians were thy watchmen vpon thy towres: these hanged vp their ‡quiuers rounde about thy walles, they made thy beautie perfect.

d Cãnadians of Cappadocia which were called Pigmets and dwarfes, because that out of the hygh towres they seemed little. ‡ Shieldes.

12 They of Tharsis [were] thy marchantes for the multitude of all riches, in siluer, yron, tynne, and leade, which they brought to thy fayres.

13 Iauan, Tubal, and Meschech were thy marchantes concerning the [e] liues of men, and they brought vessels of brasse for thy marchandize.

e By selling bondmen, seruants, & slaues

14 They of the house of Thogarma brought vnto thee, at the time of thy mart, horses, coursers, and mules.

15 They of Dedan were thy marchantes, and many Iles the marchandize of thy hands, and brought thee [f] hornes, teeth, and [g] Hebenus, for presents.

f Hornes of Vnicornes, teeth of Elephants, called Iuory.

g Hebenus, a precious wood, bright and blacke.

16 They of Aram [were] thy marchantes for the multitude of thy workes, and occupied in thy faires with Emeraldes, purple, brodered worke, fine linen, coral, and pearle.

17 Iuda and the lande of Israel occupyed with thee, and brought vnto thy markets wheate of [h] Minneth and Pannag, honie, oyle, and tryacle.

h These were two places where the best wheate groweth.

18 Damascus also vsed marchandize with thee, in the wine of Helbon, and white wooll, because thine occupying was so great, and thy wares so many.

19 Dan, Iauan, and ‡ Meusal haue brought vnto thy markets wrought yron: Cassia and Calamus were among thy marchandize.

‡ wandring to and fro.

20 They of Dedan were thy marchantes in precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia and all the princes of Cedar haue occupied with thee, in wethers, rammes, and goates: in these were they thy marchants.

22 The marchantes of Seba and Rema haue occupied occupied also with thee in all chiefe spices, in all precious stones and golde, which they brought vnto thy markets.

23 Haran, Chenne, and Eden, the marchants of Seba, Assyria, & Chelmad, were doers with thee.

24 These were thy marchantes in all sorts [of thinges,] in rayment of blewe silke, and of broyded woorke, and in Cofers for the riche apparell, which were trussed with cordes, and ‖ Cedar boarde among thy marchandize.

‖Or, chaynes were.

‖Or, robbers.

i That is, Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.

27 Thy riches, and thy fayres, thy marchandize, thy mariners, and shipmasters, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy marchandize, and al thy men of warre that are in thee, and all thy multitude that is in the middes of thee, shall fall in the middes of the sea, in the day of thy fall.

k That is, the townes and villages neere adioyning vpon the maine land.

28 The [k] suburbes shall shake at the loude crye of thy shipmen.

29 All that handle the oze, mariners, and all shipmasters of the sea, shall come downe from their shippes, and stand vpon the land.

30 And they shall cause their voyce to be heard against thee, and shall crye bitterly, and shall cast dust vpon their heads, and wallowe in the ashes.

l Which was the maner of the Heathen in mournings and miseries.

31 They shall [l] make them selues balde for thee, and gyrde them wt sackcloth, & they shal weepe for thee with sorowfull heart, and bitter mourning.

32 And they shal take vp a lamentation for thee in their mourning, and lament ouer thee: [What citie] is like Tyrus, so destroyed in the middest of the sea?

33 When thy wares went forth of ỹ seas, thou filledst many people: the kings of the earth hast thou made rich, through the multitude of thy riches and marchandize.

34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the deapths of the waters, thy marchandize, and all thy multitude that was in the middes of thee, shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the yles shall be astonied at thee, and all their kings shall bee sore afrayde, and troubled in their countenance.

m Whereby is meant a long time: for it was prophecied to be destroyed but seuentie yeres, Esay. 23.

36 The marchants of the nations shall hisse at thee: thou shalt bee a terrour, and shalt [m] neuer be any more.

The xxviii. Chapter.

The woorde of God against the king of Tyrus for his pride.

1 THe woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, Tell the prince of Tyre, Thus saith ỹ Lord God, Because thou hast a proude heart, and hast saide, I am a [a] God, I sit in the seate of God, in the middest of the sea: wheras thou art but a man, and not God, [b] though thou set thine heart, as the heart of God.

a Like as God is safe in heauen, euen so I am safe that none can come to hurt me.

b Though thou diddest thinke in thine heart ỹ thou wast equall with God.

3 Beholde, thou thinkest thy selfe wiser then [c] Daniel, that there is no secretes hid from thee.

c Thus he speaketh by derision, for Daniel had declared notable signes of his wisedome in Babylon, whe Ezechiel wrote this.

4 With thy great wisedome and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee great wealthinesse, and gathered treasure of siluer and golde.

5 With thy great wisedome and occupying hast thou encreased thy ‖power, and because of thy great riches thy heart is proude.

‖Or, riches.

6 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, For so much as thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God:

7 Beholde, I will bring strangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations, these shall draw out their swords vpon ỹ beautie of thy wisedome, and shall defile thy glory.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, so that thou shalt dye the death of them that be slaine in the middest of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before them that slaye thee, I am a God? whereas thou art but a man, and not God, in the handes of them that slay thee.

10 Die shalt thou the death of the [d] vncircumcised in the handes of the strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

d Like the rest of the Heathen and infidels, which are Gods enemies.

11 Moreouer, the woorde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyre, and tell him, Thus sayth the Lord God, Thou sealest vp the summe, [e] full of wisedome and perfite beautie.

e He derideth the vaine opinion and confidence that the Tyrians had in their riches, strength and pleasures.

13 Thou hast bene in the pleasant garden of God, thou art deckt with all maner of precious stones, with Rubie, Topas, Diamonde, Turkeis, Onyx, Jasper, Saphyr, Emeralde, Carbuncle, and golde: the workemanshipps of thy Tymbrels, and of thy pipes [that bee] in thee, was prepared in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art an [f] annoynted Cherub that couereth, and I haue set thee [in this dignitie,] thou wast vpon the holy mount of God, thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fire.

f He meaneth the royal state of Tyrus, which for the excellencie and glory thereof, he compareth to the Cherubims which couered the arke, and by this word annoynted, he signifieth the same.

15 From the time of thy creatiõ thou hast bene perfit in thy wayes, til wickednes was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy marchandize they haue filled the middes of thee with crueltie, & thou thou hast sinned: I will cast thee as prophane out of the e mount of God, and I will destroy thee, O couering Cherub, from the middes of the stones of fire.

e Thou shalt haue no part among my people.

17 Thy heart was proude in thy beautie, and through thy brightnesse thou hast destroyed thy wisedome: I will cast thee downe to the grounde, I will lay thee before kings, that they may beholde thee.

h That is, the honour where unto I called thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy h sanctification with the great wickednesse of thine vnrighteous occupying: I will bring a fire from the middest of thee, to consume thee, and will make thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all them that looke vpon thee.

19 All they that haue bene acquainted with thee among the Heathen, shall be abashed at thee: thou hast bene a terrour, and neuer shalt thou be any more.

20 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

21 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Sidon, and prophecie vpon it,

22 And speake, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, O Sidon, I will vpon thee, and I will be glorified in the middest of thee: that it may be knowen howe that I am the Lorde, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, and shalbe sanctified in her.

23 For I will sende pestilence and bloodshedding into her streetes, and the slayne shall fall in the middes of her by the sworde [comming] vpon her on euery side: and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

24 They shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor a grieuous thorne of all that are round about them, and despised them: and they shall knowe that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lorde God, when I gather the household of Israel together againe from the nations among whom they bee scattered, then shall I be sanctified in them in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land that I gaue to my seruant Jacob.

26 They shall dwell with confidence therein, build houses, and plant vineyards, yea, with confidence shall they dwell therein when I haue executed iudgements vpon all those that despise them rounde about, and then shal they knowe that I am the Lord their God.

The xxix. Chapter.

He prophecieth against Pharao, and of the desolation of Egypt, with the sparkling abroad of the Egyptians.

a Called, of the captiuitie of Jeconias, and of the reigne of Zedekias: But note that the disposition of these visions are not set forth according to the order of the times: but according to the nearenesse and distance of the countreys against whome they were written. As, the vision of Tyrus seene in the eleuenth yere, is set before this seene in the tenth yere, because it was nearer to Jurie then Egypt.

1 IN the a tenth yere, vpon the twelfth day of the tenth moneth, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Pharao the king of Egypt, prophecie against him, and against the whole lande of Egypt.

3 Speake and tell him, Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, O Pharao, thou king of Egypt, I will vpon thee thou great Dragon, b that lyeth in the middes of his riuers, thou that sayest, The riuer is mine, I haue made it for my selfe.

b He compareth Pharao to a Dragon or Crocodile which was wont to haunt the riuer Nilus.

4 I will put c hookes in thy chawes, and hang thy fish in thy riuers vpon thy skales: after that, I will drawe thee out of the middes of thy riuers, yea, and all the fish of thy riuers shall hang vpon thy skales.

c I will sende enemies against thee, which shall plucke thee & thy people that trust in thee out of thy sure places.

5 I will leaue thee in the wildernesse [both] thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde, thou shalt not bee brought together, nor gathered: I haue giuen thee for meate to the beastes of the fielde, and to the foules of the ‖ ayre.

‖ Or, of heauen.

6 That all they which dwell in Egypt, may knowe that I am the Lord, because they haue bene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hande, thou brakest and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loynes to stande vpright.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sworde vpon thee, and destroy out of thee both man and beast.

9 Yea, the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord, because he said, The riuer is mine, I my selfe haue made it.

10 Behold therefore, I will vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, I wil make the land of Egypt vtterly waste and desolate, from the towre of Seuench, vnto the borders of Ethiopia.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shall passe by it, neither shal it be inhabited fourtie yeeres.

12 I will make the lande of Egypt to be desolate among other waste countreys, and her cities destroyed fourtie yeeres among other destroyed cities: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and strawe them thorowe the countreys.

13 Againe, thus sayth the Lorde God, When the fourtie yeeres are expired, I will gather the Egyptians together againe out of the nations among whome they were scattered.

d Meaning, that they should not haue full dominion, but be vnder the Persians, Grecians, and Romans: and the cause is, that the Israelites should no more put their trust in the, but learne to depende on God.

14 And I will bring the captiuitie of Egypt againe, and cause them to returne into the lande of Pathros, the lande of their habitation, and they shall bee there a d small kingdome.

15 Yea, it shall bee the smallest among other kingdomes, neither shall it exalt it selfe any more aboue the nations: for I will so minish nish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And they shall be no more vnto the house of Israel a trust, which bringeth their iniquitie to remembrance, when they shall looke after them: and they shall knowe that I am ỹ Lorde God.

e Counting from the captiuitie of Jeconias.

17 In the e twentie and seuenth yeere, the first day of the first moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caused his armie to serue a great seruice against Tyre: euery head was made balde, and euery shoulder bare, yet had neyther he nor his armie any wages for Tyrus for the seruice which hee serued against it.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Behold, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that hee may take away her multitude, and spoyle her spoyles, & take her pray to pay his host their wages withall.

‡ The trauell they tooke about Tyre.

20 For ‡ worke which hee wrought about it, I haue giuen him the lande of Egypt, because they wrought for me, sayth the Lorde God.

21 In that day I will cause the horne of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will giue thee the opening of thy mouth in the middes of them: and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

9 In that day shal messengers goe forth from me in shippes, to make the careleſſe Morians afrayde, and feare shall come vpon them, according to the day of Egypt: for loe, it commeth.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will cause the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hande of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.

11 He, and his people with him, the terrible nations shalbe brought to destroy the land: they shal drawe out their swords vpon Egypt, and fill the land full of slayne men.

12 I will make their riuers drye, and sell the land into the hands of wicked [people:] the lande and all that is therein I will destroy through the hand of strangers: euen I ỹ Lord haue sayd it.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharao with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 He prophecieth a like destruction to them both.

a Of Zedecias reigne, & Jeconias captiuitie.

1 MOreouer, in the a eleuenth yere, ỹ first day of the third moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, & to all his people, Whom art thou b like in thy greatnesse?

b Meaning, that he was not like in strength to the king of the Assyrians, whom the Babylonians ouercame.

3 Behold, Assur is a Cedar in Libanon, with fayre branches, and with thicke shadowing boughes of a high stature, and his toppe was among the thicke boughs.

4 The waters made him great, and the deepe set him vp on high, with the riuers running round about his plants, and set out her c litle riuers vnto all the trees of the fielde.

c Many other nations which were vnder their dominion.

5 Therefore was he higher then all the trees of the fielde, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters which the deepe sent out.

‖Or, heauen.

6 All foules of the ‖ ayre made their nestes in his branches, vnder his boughes did all the beastes of the fielde bring foorth their yong, and vnder his shadowe dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Beautifull was he in his greatnesse, and in the length of his branches: for his roote stood beside great waters.

d Signifying that there was no greater power in the world then he was.

8 No Cedar tree might d hide him in the garden of God, there was no Fyre trees like his branches, the Chessenut trees were not like the boughes of him: al the trees in the garden of God might not bee compared vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him fayre with the multitude of his branches: insomuch that all the trees in the pleasant garden of God had enuie at him.

10 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, For so much as he hath lift vp him selfe so high, and hath shot vp his top among ỹ thicke boughs, and his heart is lift vp in his height:

e That is, Nabuchodonosor, who afterward was the Monarch and onely ruler of the world.

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into ỹ hands of the e mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, [for] in his wickednesse haue I cast him away.

12 And strangers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and haue left him: vpon the mountaines, and vpon all valleyes haue his boughes fallen, and his boughes are f broken by all the riuers of the land: and al the people of the earth are departed from his shadowe, & haue forsaken him.

f Hereby is signified the destruction of the power of the Assyrians by the Babylonians.

13 Upon his ruine shall all the foules of the ‖ ayre remaine, and all the beastes of the fielde shalbe vpon his branches.

‖Or, heauen.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shall bee exalted in their height, nor shoote vp their tops among the thicke boughes, neither shall their trees stand in their height, as many of them as drinke water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the neather partes of the earth, in the middes of the children of men, among them that go downe to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to the graue, I caused a lamentation to bee made, I g couered the deepe for him, I restrayned the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed, I caused Libanus to mourne for him, and all ỹ trees of the fielde fainted.

g The deepe waters that caused him to mount so high, meaning his great abundance and pompe, shall nowe lament as they which in mourning were couered with sackcloth.

16 I made the heathen shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hel with them that descend into the pit: al the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Libanus, al ỹ h drinke waters, shalbe i comforted in the neather parts of the earth.

h That are nourished with waters.

i To cause this destruction of the king of Assyria to seeme more horrible, he setteth forth other kings & princes which are dead, as though they reioyced at the fall of such a tyrant.

17 They also went downe to hell with him vnto them that be slayne with the sword, which were his arme, [and] dwelt vnder his shadow in the middest of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatnes among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt bee cast downe with the trees of Eden, vnto the neather partes of the earth: in ỹ middest of ỹ vncircumcised shalt thou sleepe with them that are slayne with the sword: This is Pharao and all his multitude, sayth the Lord God.

The xxxii. Chapter.

1 The Prophet is commanded to bewaile Pharao king of Egypt. 12 Hee prophecieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.

a Which was the first yere of the generall captiuitie vnder Zedecias.

1 IN the a twelfth yeere, the first day of the twelfth moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon Pharao the king of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art b like a Lion of the heathen, and as a Whale fish in the sea: thou drawest out thy riuers, thou c troublest the waters with thy feete, and stampest in their riuers.

b This the Scriptures compare tyrants to cruell & huge beasts, which deuoure all that be weaker then they, and such as they may ouercome.

c Thou disquietest the world with warre.

3 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I will spreade my nette ouer thee with a great multitude of people, these shall make thee come vp into my net.

4 For

4 For I will leaue thee vpon the lande, and caſt thee vpon the open fielde, and I will cauſe all the foules of the ayre to remayne vpon thee, and fill all the beaſtes of the fielde with thee.

5 Thy fleſh wil I lay vpon the hilles, and fill the valleys with thy [d] highneſſe.

d With the heapes of the carkeiſes of thine armie.

6 I will [e] water thine ouerflowing land with thy blood, euen to the mountaines, and the riuers ſhalbe full of thee.

e As Nilus ouerfloweth Egypt, ſo will I make the blood of thine oſt to ouerflowe it.

7 When thou art put out, I will couer the heauen, and make his ſtarres dimme: I will ſpread a cloud ouer the Sunne, and ẏ Moone ſhall not giue her light.

8 All the lights of heauen will I make darke for thee: and bring darkeneſſe vpon thy land, ſayth the Lord.

9 I will ſtyrre vp to anger the hearts of many people, when I bring thy deſtruction among the heathen, and vpon the countreyes which thou knoweſt not.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings ſhall bee aſtoniſhed with feare for thee, when I ſhall make my ſword to glitter againſt their faces: and they ſhall be afrayde at euery moment, euery man for his owne life, in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, The king of Babylons ſword ſhall come vpon thee:

12 With the ſwordes of the mightie will I ſmite downe thy multitude: they all ſhall bee terrible nations, and they ſhall deſtroy the [f] pompe of Egypt, and the multitude thereof ſhall be conſumed.

f This came to paſſe in leſſe then fourtie yeres after the prophecie.

13 I will deſtroy alſo all the beaſtes thereof from the great waters ſides, neither ſhall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the hooues of beaſtes trouble them.

g The inhabitantes of Egypt ſhall be ſo cleane deſtroyed, that there ſhall remaine none to drawe the waters out of the riuers to water their grounds as before, whereby it ſhall be [h] deeper in his channell.

h That is, cleare and vntroubled with feete paſſing through the fordes.

14 Then wil I make their waters [g] deepe, and cauſe their riuers to runne like [h] oyle, ſaith the Lord.

15 When I make the lande of Egypt deſolate, and when the countrey with all that is therein ſhalbe layde waſte, and when I ſmite all them which dwel in it, thē ſhall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning when they ſhall lament her, The daughters of the nations ſhall lament her, they ſhall make the lamentation ouer Egypt, and ouer all the people thereof, ſayth the Lord.

17 In the twelfth yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, ſaying, i That is, prophecie that they ſhall be caſt downe. Thus the Lord giueth power both to plant and to deſtroy by his word.

18 Thou ſonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and [i] caſt them downe, euen them, and the daughters of the famous nations, to the neather partes of the earth, with them that go downe into the pit.

k Haue not other kingdōes more beautifull then thou perilhed?

19 Whom doeſt thou paſſe in [k] beautie? goe downe and ſleepe with the vncircumciſed.

20 Among thoſe that bee ſlayne with the ſworde ſhall they lye, to the ſworde is [l] ſhee already deliuered: drawe her downe, and al her multitude.

l That is, Egypt.

21 The [m] mightie woorthies ſhall ſpeake to her out of the middeſt of hell, and to her helpers: they are gone downe and ſleepe [with] the vncircumciſed that be ſlayne with the ſword.

m To make the matter more ſenſible, he bringeth in Pharao, as though ẏ dead ſhould mete him when he is ſlayne, and marueile at him.

22 Aſſur is there alſo with al his company, and their graues rounde about him, which were ſlayne and fell all with the ſword:

23 Whoſe graues are made in the ſide of the pit, and his multitude are rounde about his graue, [to wit,] all the ſlayne and fallen by the ſworde, which cauſe a feare [to be] in the land of the liuing.

24 There is Elam alſo, wt all his people round about his graue, which all being ſlayne and fallen with the ſworde, are gone downe vncircumciſed vnder the earth, which neuertheleſſe ſometime brought feare into the lande of the [n] liuing: they beare their owne ſhame, with the other that bee gone downe to the graue.

n They which being aliue, were a terrour to all ẏ world, nowe being dead, are deſpiſed both of the liuing and the dead.

25 They haue made his bedde in the middeſt of the ſlaine, with al his multitude, their graues are round about him: all theſe vncircumciſed ſlayne by the ſworde, although they cauſed their feare in the lande of the liuing, yet haue they borne their ſhame with them that goe downe to the pit, they are layde in the middeſt of them that are ſlayne.

26 There is [o] Meſech alſo and Tubal, & their people, and their graues rounde about him: theſe all vncircumciſed were ſlayne with the ſword, becauſe afore time they made the lande of the liuing afrayde.

o That is, the Cappadocians, and Italians, of Spaniards, as Joſephus writeth.

27 They ſhall not lye with ẏ [p] valiant [which are] fallen of the vncircumciſed, which are gone downe to the graue with their weapons of warre, and haue layde their ſwordes vnder their heads: but their iniquitie ſhall bee vpon their bones, becauſe ẏ terrour of their mighty [was] in the land of the liuing.

p Which dieth not by cruell death, but by ẏ courſe of nature, and are honourably buried with their coate armour, and ſignes of honour.

28 Yea, and among the vncircumciſed ſhalt thou bee deſtroyed, and ſleepe with them that periſhed through the ſword.

29 There is Edom with her kings and princes alſo, which with their ſtrength are layd by them that are ſlayne with the ſworde: yea among the vncircumciſed ſhall they ſleepe, and with them which are gone downe into ẏ pit.

30 Moreouer, there bee all the princes of the [q] North, with all the Sydonians, which are gone downe with the ſlayne: with their feare and ſtrength they are come to confuſion, and lye there vncircumciſed among thoſe that be ſlayne with the ſword, and beare their owne ſhame with them that bee gone downe to the pit.

q That is the kings of Babylon.

31 Pharao

r Like as the wicked rejoyce when they see other partakers of their miseries.

31 Pharao shall see them, and be r comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharao and all his armie [shall be] slaine with the sword, sayth the Lord God.

f I will make the Egyptians to feare me, as they haue caused other to feare them.

32 For I haue giuen my feare f in the lande of the liuing: but Pharao and all his people shal be laid among the vncircumcised, and among them that be slaine with the sword, sayeth the Lord God.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

Hee setteth out the office of the gouernours and ministers. 14 He strengtheneth them that despaire, and holdeneth them with the promise of mercie.

1 AGaine, the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying:

2 Thou sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and tell them, When I send a sword vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him to be their a watchman:

a He sheweth that the people ought continually to haue gouernours & teachers, which may take care ouer them, and to warne them euer of the perils wherewith they be hand.

3 If when he seeth the sworde come vpon the land, he shall blowe the trumpet, and warne the people:

4 Then hee that heareth the noyse of the trumpet, and will not bee warned, and the sworde come and take him away, his blood shalbe vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be warned, therefore his blood be vpon him: but he that receiueth warning, he shall saue his life.

6 Againe, if the watchman see the sworde come, and blowe not the trumpet, so that the people is not warned, if the sword come then, and take any man from among them: the same shalbe b taken away in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hande.

b Signifying, that a wicked shal not escape punishment, though the watchman be negligent: but if the watchman blowe the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he shall receiue double punishment, Chap. 3.

7 And thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the woorde at c my mouth, and thou shalt warne them from me.

c Which teacheth that he that receiueth not his charge & watchword at the Lordes mouth, is a spy and not a true watchman.

8 If I say vnto the wicked, Thou wicked, thou shalt surely die: and thou speakest not to admonish the wicked of his way: that wicked man shall die in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at thy hand.

9 Neuertheless, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, and he yet will not be turned from his way: then shall hee die in his iniquity, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, yea, say thus, If our offences and sinnes lye vpon vs, and we be consumed in them, d howe shoulde we then liue?

d Thus the wicked when they heare of Gods iudgements for their sinnes, dispaire of his mercies, and murmure.

11 Tell them, As truely as I liue, sayeth the Lord God, I haue no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turne from his way, and liue: Turne you, turne you from your wicked waies, for why wil ye die, O ye of the house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, tell the children of thy people, The righteousnesse of the righteous shall not saue him in the day of his iniquitie: againe, The wickednes of the wicked shall not ouerthrow him for it, in the day that he returneth from his wickednesse: neither shall the righteous liue for e it in the day that he sinned.

e Namely, his righteousnesse.

13 If I say vnto the righteous, He shall surely liue, and so he trust to his owne righteousnesse, and doe sinne: then shall his righteousnesse be no more thought vpon, but in his wickednesse that he hath done, in it he shall die.

14 Againe, if I say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye: and so hee turne from his sinnes, and f doe the thing that is lawfull and right, f Hereby he condemneth all them of hypocrisie, which pretend to forsake wickednesse, and yet declare not the selues such by their fruites: that is, in obeying Gods commandements, & by godly life.

15 Insomuch that the same wicked man giueth the pledge againe, restoreth that he had taken away by robberie, walketh in the commaundements of life, and doth none iniquitie: then shall he surely liue, and not die.

16 None of the sinnes that he hath committed shalbe mentioned vnto him: for insomuch as he doeth nowe the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue.

17 And yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equall: but their owne way is rather vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and doeth the thing that is wicked, he shall die therein.

19 But if the wicked turne from his wickednesse, doing the thing that is lawfull & right, he shall liue therefore.

20 Yet yee say, The way of the Lorde is not equal: O ye house of Israel, I wil iudge euery one of you after his wayes.

g When the Prophet was led away captiue with Iechonias.

21 In the twelfth yere, the fifth day of the tenth moneth of our g captiuitie, one which was escaped out of Hierusalem came vnto mee, and sayde, The citie is smitten.

h I was endued with the spirite of prophetie. cap. 8.

22 Nowe the h hande of the Lord had bene vpon me the euening afore this man which was escaped came vnto me, and had i opened my mouth, vntill the morning that hee came to me: yea, my mouth was opened, so that I was no more dumbe.

i Whereby is signified, that the ministers of god can not speake till God giue them courage, and open their mouths.

23 Then came the woorde of the Lorde vnto me, and sayde, 24 Thou sonne of man, these that dwell in the wasted lande of Israel talke and say, k Abraham was but one [man] and he had the lande in possession: nowe are we many, and the land is giuen vs to possesse also.

k Thus the wicked thinke them selues more worthy to enioy Gods promise then the saintes of God to whom they were made: & would binde God to be subiect to them, though they would not be bounde to him.

25 And therfore tel them, Thus sayth the Lord God, In the blood haue yee eaten, your eyes haue yee lift vp to idols, and haue shed blood:

shall shall ye then haue the land in possession:

l As they that are readie still to shead blood.

26 Ye l leane vpon your swords, ye worke abominations, euery one defileth his neighbours wife: and shall ye possesse the land?

27 Say thou thus vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, As truely as I liue, they that are in the desolate places shall fall by the sworde, and him that is in the open fielde, will I giue vnto the beastes to be deuoured: and they that be in the strong holds and dennes shall dye of the pestilence.

28 For I wil make ỹ land so desolate & waste, that the pompe of her strength shall cease: the mountaines of Israel shalbe so waste, that no man shall trauaile thereby.

29 Then shal they knowe that I am the Lord, when I make the land desolate and waste, because of al their abominations that they haue wrought.

30 And thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that talke of thee by the waters and in the doores of their houses, and speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, let vs heare what word is gone forth from the Lord:

m This declareth that we ought to heare Gods worde with such zeale and affection, that we should not onely delight therein to heare it preached, but also in all points obey it: els we abuse the word to our owne condemnation, and make of ỹ ministers as though they were iestes to serue mens fantasies.

31 They come vnto thee as the people vseth to come, and my people sit before thee and heare thy wordes, but they doe not thereafter: for in their mouthes they make a m iest of them, and their heart goeth after their couetousnesse.

n Or a song of pastime and pleasure.

32 And loe, thou art vnto them as a n iesting song of one that hath a pleasant voyce and can sing well: for they heare thy wordes, but doe them not.

33 When this commeth to passe (loe it commeth) then shall they knowe that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

Against shepheards that despise the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gayne.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

Iere. 23. 1.

2 * Thou sonne of man, prophecie against the shepheardes of Israel, prophecie and speake vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God vnto the shepheards, Woe be vnto the a shepheardes of Israel that feede themselues: should not the shepheardes feede the flockes?

a By the shepheardes he meaneth the king, the magistrates, priestes, and prophets.

3 Ye eate vp the fatte, yee clothe you with the woll, the best fed do ye slay: but the flocke do ye not feede.

4 The weake haue yee not strengthened, the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue yee not bound together, the driuen away haue ye not brought againe, the lost haue yee not sought: but with force and crueltie haue yee ruled them.

b For lacke of good gouernment and doctrine they perish.

5 They are scattered without a shepheard, yea all the beasts of the fielde b deuours them, and they go astray.

6 My sheepe goe wandring vpon all mountaines, and vpon euery high hill, yea my flocke is scattered through all the face of the earth, and there is no man that seeketh or searcheth [after them.]

7 Therfore, O ye shepheards, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As truely as I liue, sayeth the Lorde God, for as much as my sheepe are robbed and deuoured of all the wilde beastes of the fielde, hauing no shepheard, and seeing that my shepheardes seeke not my sheepe, but the shepheardes feede themselues, and feede not my sheepe:

9 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye shepheardes,

10 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will vpon the shepheardes, and require my sheepe from their handes, & make them cease from feeding of the sheepe, yea, the shepheards shall feede themselues no more: for I wil c deliuer my sheepe out of their mouthes, so that they shall not deuoure them after this.

c By destroying the couetous hirelings, and restoring true shepheards.

11 For thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I, [euen] I will looke to my sheepe my selfe, and seeke them out.

12 Like as a shepheard when he hath bene among the flocke, seeketh after the sheepe that are scattered abroade: euen so will I seeke after my sheepe, and deliuer them out of all places where they haue bene scattered in the d cloudie and darke day.

d In the day of their affliction and miserie: and this promise is to comfort the Church in all dangers.

13 I will bring them out from the people, and gather them together out of the landes, I will bring them into their owne lande, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel by the riuers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in right good pastures, and vpon the high mountaines of Israel shal their foldes be: there shall they lye in a good folde, and in a fat pasture shal they feede, euen vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, sayth the Lord God.

16 Such as be lost, will I seeke: such as are driuen away, will I bring againe: such as be broken, will I binde vp: such as bee weake, will I make strong: such as bee fatte and strong, those will I roote out, and feede them with e iudgement.

e That is, by putting difference betweene the good and bad, and so giue to either as they deserue.

17 And as for you, O my sheepe, sayth the Lorde God, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell, betweene the rammes and the goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to haue eaten vp the good f pasture, and to treade downe the residue of your pasture with your feete also: to drinke the deepe waters, and to trouble the rest also with your feete?

f By good pasture & deepe waters is meant the pure word of God, and the administratiō of iustice, which they did not distribute to the poore till they had corrupted it.

19 Thus

19 Thus my sheepe must be faine to eate the thing that ye haue troden downe with your feete, and to drinke it that ye with your feete haue defiled.

20 Therefore, thus saieth the Lorde God vnto them, Behold, I [euē] I will iudge betwene the fatte cattell and the leane cattell, 21 Forsomuch as with side and shoulder ye haue shooued, & with your hornes haue pushed all the weake, till ye haue scattered them abroade.

22 I will saue my sheepe, so that they shall no more be spoyled, yea, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell.

Esay 40.11. iohn 10.11. 23 *I will set vp ouer them a shephearde, and he shall feede them, euen my seruant gDauid, he shall feede them, and he shalbe their shepheard.

g Meaning Christ, of whom Dauid was a figure, as Ose. 3.

24 And I the Lorde will be their God, and my seruant Dauid shalbe their prince: euen I the Lord haue spoken it.

25 Moreouer, I will make a couenant of peace with them, and cause euill beastes to ceasse out of the lande: so that they may dwell hsafely in the wildernesse, and sleepe in the woods.

h This declareth, that vnder Christ the flocke should be truely deliuered from sinne and hell: and so be safely preserued in the Church, where they should neuer perish.

26 And I will set them [as] a blessing rounde about my hill, and I will cause raine to come downe in due season, [and] there shalbe raine of blessing.

27 And the tree of the fielde shall yeelde her fruite, and the earth shall giue her increase: they shalbe safe in their land, and shall knowe that I am the Lorde, when I haue broken the bondes of their yoke, and deliuered them out of the handes of those that serued themselues of them.

28 They shall no more be spoyled of the heathen, nor deuoured with the beastes of ỳ land: but safely shall they dwell, and no man shall fray them.

i That is, the rod that shall come out of the roote of Iesai. ‖Or, clembd of hunger staruen.

29 And I will raise vp for them a i plant of renowme, and they shalbe no more ‖ clunged with hunger in the land, neither beare the reproch of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they vnderstande that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, euen the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lorde God:

Iohn 10.11. 31 *And ye my sheepe, the sheepe of my pasture, are men: and I am your God, saieth the Lorde God.

The xxxv. Chapter.

The destruction that shall come on the mount Seir, that is, on the Idumeans, because they troubled the people of the Lorde.

1 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward the mount aSeir, prophecie against it, a Where the Idumeans dwelt.

3 And say vnto it, Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, O thou mount Seir, I will vpon thee, I will reach out my hand ouer thee, yea, waste and desolate will I make thee.

4 Thy cities will I lay waste, and thou shalt lye voyde, that thou mayest knowe howe that I am the Lord.

5 For as much as thou bearest an olde enmitie, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sworde, in the time of their calamitie, [when their] iniquitie had an ende:

6 Therefore as truely as I liue, saith ỳ Lord God, I wil prepare thee vnto blood, yea, blood shall followe vpon thee, except thou b hate blood, euen blood shall persecute thee.

b Except thou repent thy former cruelty.

7 Thus wil I make the mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut out frō it him that passeth out, and him that returneth:

8 His mountaines will I fill with his slayne men, thy hilles, valleys, and all thy riuers, the slayne with the sword shall fall in them.

9 I will make thee a perpetual wildernesse, so that thy cities shall not creturne: that ye may knowe that I am the Lord.

c To wit, to their former estate.

10 And because thou hast sayd, dBoth these nations, and both these lands must be mine, and we will haue them in possession, whereas the Lord was there:

d Meaning, Israel and Iuda.

11 Therefore as truely as I liue, saith ỳ Lorde God, I will euen do according to thy cwrath, and according to thine enuying which thou hast vsed in thy hatred against them: and I will make my selfe fknowen amongst them when I haue iudged thee.

c As thou hast done cruelly, so shalt thou be cruelly handled.

f Shewing, ỳ whē God punisheth the ennemies, the godly ought to consider that he hath a care ouer them, & so prayse his name: and also that ỳ wicked rage, as though there were no God, till they feele his hande to their destruction.

12 Yea, and thou shalt know that I ỳ Lorde haue heard al thy blasphemies, which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They are made waste, and giuen vs to deuoure.

13 Thus with your mouthes ye haue made your boastes against mee, yea, and multiplyed your wordes against mee, which I haue heard.

14 Thus saieth the Lord God, To the ioy of al the world will I make thee waste.

15 And like as thou wast glad because the heritage of the house of Israel was destroyed, euen so will I doe vnto thee, thou shalt be destroyed, O mount Seir, and all Idumea wholly, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

1 He promiseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles.
22 The benefites done vnto the Iewes, are to be ascribed to the mercy of God, not vnto their deseruings.

1 Thou sonne of man, prophecie vnto the moūtaines of Israel, & speake, *Heare the word of ỳ Lord, O ye mountaines of Israel. Ezech. 6.2.

2 Thus

2 Thus saieth the Lorde God, Because your [a] enemie hath saide vnto you, Aha, the [b] high places of the world are now become ours in possession:

a That is, the Idumeans.
b That is, the pulp countreis of Iuda.

3 Prophecie therfore, and speake, Thus saith the Lorde God, For because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you vp on euery side, that ye might be a possession vnto the residue of the Gentiles, and ye are taken vp in the [c] lippes and tongues of men, and to the reproche of the people:

c Ye are made a matter of talke and derision to all the world.

4 Therefore heare the word of the Lord God, O ye mountaines of Israel, thus saieth the Lord God to the mountaines and hils, to the riuers and valleys, to the waste and desolate places, & to the cities that are forsaken, which are spoyled and had in derision on euery side, among the residue of the heathen:

5 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, Surely in the fire of my iealousie haue I spoken against the residue of the Gentiles, and against all Edom, which haue [d] appointed my lande for their possession, which also reioyced from their whole heart, with a despiteful stomacke, to cast it out for a pray.

d They appointed with themselues to haue it, & therfore came with Nabuchodonosor against Hierusalem for this purpose.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and speake vnto the mountaines & hilles, to the riuers and dales, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, this haue I spoken in my iealousie and terrible wrath, because ye haue borne the [e] shame of the heathen:

e Because ye haue bene a laughing stock vnto them.

7 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I haue [f] lift vp my hand, surely the heathen that are about you, shall beare their shame.

f By making a solemne oth, Chap.20.

8 But you, O mountaines of Israel, yee shall [g] shoote out your branches, and bring forth your fruite to my people of Israel: for they are at hand to come.

g God declareth his mercies and goodnes towarde his Church, who still preserueth his, euen when he destroyeth his enemies.

9 Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you wil I turne, that ye may be tilled and sowen.

10 I will multiply men vpon you, [euen] all the house of Israel wholly, the cities shalbe inhabited, and the decayed places shalbe repaired againe.

11 And I wil multiply vpon you man & beast, which shal increase and bring fruite: & I will cause you to dwell after your olde estate, and be better [h] vnto you then at the beginning: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

h Which was accomplished vnder Christ, to whom all these temporal deliuerances did direct the.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walke vpon [i] you, [euen] my people Israel, and they shall possesse [k] thee, & thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth depriue them of [men.]

i That is, vpō the mountaines of Iuda.
k You, changing the number.

13 Thus saieth the Lorde God, For so much as they say vnto you, Thou art an [l] eater vp of men, and a waster of thy people:

l This the enemies imputed as the reproche of the land, which God did for the sinnes of the people, according to his iust iudgements.

14 Therefore thou shalt eate no more men, neither destroy thy people any more, saieth the Lorde God:

15 Neither will I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the heathen any more: neither shalt thou beare the reproch of the people any more, nor cause thy folke to fall any more, saieth the Lorde God.

16 Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

17 O thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt vpon their owne grounde, they defyled themselues with their owne wayes and imaginations, so that in my sight their way was like the vncleanesse of a remooued woman.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrathful displeasure vpō them, because of the blood that they had shed in the land, & because of their idoles wherewith they had defiled it:

19 I scattered them also among the heathen, so that they were strawed about in the lands: according to their wayes, and after their owne inuentions, so did I iudge them.

20 * And whē they entred vnto ỹ heathen whither they went, they polluted my holy name, when they said of them, These are the people of God, and are gone out of his land.

Esai 52.5. rom.2.24.

21 Then spared I my holy [m] name, which the house of Israel had dishonoured among the Gentiles where they came.

m And therefore would not suffer my name to be had in contempt, as the heathen would haue reproched me, if I had suffered my church to perish.

22 Therefore tell the house of Israel, Thus saieth the Lorde God, I [n] doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for my holy names sake, which ye dishonoured among the heathen where ye came.

n This excludeth from men all dignitie and meane to deserue any thing by, seeing that God referreth the whole to himselfe, and that onely for the glory of his name. Rom.2.24.

23 Therefore I will halowe my great name againe, * which among the Gentiles is polluted, for ye your selues haue dishonoured it among them: & the Gentiles shall know that I am the Lord, saieth the Lord God, when I shalbe sanctified in you before your eyes.

24 As for you, I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you together out of all countreyes, and bring you againe into your owne land.

25 Then will I sprinkle cleane [o] water vpon you, and ye shalbe cleane: yea from all your vncleanesse and from all your idoles shall I cleanse you.

o That is, his spirit, wherby he reformeth the heart, and regenerateth his, Esai 44.

26 A newe heart also will I giue you, and a newe spirit will I put into you: as for that stonie heart I will take it out of your flesh, and giue you a fleshie heart.

27 I will giue my spirit among you, and cause you to walke in my commandements, and ye shall keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

28 And so ye shall dwel in the land that I gaue to your fathers: and ye shalbe my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will deliuer you from all your vncleanesse, I will call for the [p] corne, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

p Vnder the abundance of temporal benefites, he concludeth the spirituall graces.

30 I will multiplie the fruites of the trees, and the increase of the fielde, so that ye shall receiue no more reproche of hunger among the heathen.

31 Then shal ye remember your owne wicked wayes, & your imaginations which were not good: so ỳ ye shalbe [q] irksome in your owne eyes for your sinnes and abominations.

q Ye shal come to true repentance, & thinke your selues vnworthy to be of the number of Gods creatures, for your ingratitude against him.

32 But I will not doe this for your sakes, saith the Lorde God, be ye sure of it: therefore, O ye house of Israel, be ashamed and confounded of your owne wayes.

33 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lord God, What time as I shall cleanse you from all your iniquities, then will I make the cities to be inhabited againe, and the places that be decayed, shalbe repaired.

34 The desolate lande shall be tilled againe, which aforetime lay waste in the sight of all them that went by.

35 And they shall say, This waste lande was like the garden of Eden: and these waste and desolate and ruinous cities [were] strong [and] inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen ỳ lie round about you, shal know that I the Lord [r] repaire that was broken downe, & plant againe that that was made waste: euen I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it in deede.

r Ye declareth that it ought not to be referred to the soyle or fertilitie of ỳ earth, that any countrey is rich & abundant, but onely to Gods mercies, as his plagues and curses declare when he maketh it barren.

37 Thus sayth ỳ Lord God, I will yet for this be sought of ỳ house of Israel to doe it for thẽ, I will multiply them as a flocke of men.

38 Like as the holy flocke, and the flocke of Hierusalem are in the high solemne feastes, so shall also the wasted cities be filled with flockes of men: and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

He prophecieth the bringing againe of the people being in captiuitie. 16 He sheweth the vnion of the tenne tribes with the two.

1 THe hand of the Lorde was vpon me, & caried me out in the spirit of the Lord, & set me downe in the midst of a plaine fielde that was full of [a] bones.

a By this vision he prophecieth that the people of Israel shalbe deliuered, whom he compareth to bones of dead men: for as dry bones seeme without all hope of life againe, so the Israelites thought they should neuer returne into their country, as appeareth by their words in ỳ 11. verse, Our bones are dried vp, our hope is gone, &c.

2 And he led me rounde about by them, and beholde, there were very many in the open fielde, and loe, [they were] very dry.

3 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thinkest thou these bones may liue againe? I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 And he said vnto me, Prophecie thou vpon these bones, and speake vnto them, Ye dry bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saieth ỳ Lord God vnto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, that ye may liue.

6 I will giue you sinewes, & make flesh grow vpon you, and couer you ouer with skinne, and so giue you breath, that ye may liue, and knowe that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophecied as I was commanded: & as I was prophecying, there was a noise, and loe, a great motion, so that the bones came neere together, bone to his bone.

8 Now when I had looked, beholde, they had synewes, and flesh grewe vpon them, and aboue they were couered with skinne: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, prophecie thou toward the winde, prophecie and speake to the winde, Thus saieth ỳ Lord God, Come, O thou ‖ ayre from the foure windes, and ‖ blowe vpon these slaine, that they may liue.

‖ Or, breath. ‖ Or, breathe.

10 So I prophecied as he had commanded me: then came the breath into them, & they receiued life, and stoode vp vpon their feete, a marueilous great armie.

11 Moreouer, he said vnto me, Thou sonne of mã, these bones are ỳ whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried vp, our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie thou, and speake vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, I wil open your graues, O my people, & cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel againe.

13 So shal ye know that I am the Lord, when I open your graues, O my people, & bring you [b] out of your sepulchres.

b That is, when I bring you out of these places and townes where ye are captiues.

14 My spirit also will I put in you, & ye shall liue, I wil set you againe in your owne land: and ye shall know that I the Lord haue saide it, and fulfilled it in deede, sayth the Lord.

15 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, take one sticke, & write vpon it, Unto Juda and to the children of Israel his companions. Then take another sticke, and write vpon it, Unto Joseph the ‖ stocke of Ephraim, and to all the housholde of Israel his companions.

‖ Or, tree.

17 And [c] ioyne them one to another into one sticke: and they shalbe as one in thy hand.

c Which signifieth the ioyning together of the two houses of Israel and Juda.

18 Nowe if the children of thy people speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shewe vs what thou meanest by these?

19 Then giue them this answere, Thus sayth ỳ Lord God, Behold, I wil take the [d] ‖ stocke of Joseph, which is in the land of Ephraim, and of the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and will put them with him, [euen] with ỳ stocke of Juda, and make them one ‖ stocke, and they shalbe one in my hand.

d That is, the house of Israel. ‖ Or, tree. ‖ Or, tree.

20 And the sticke whereupon thou writest, shalt thou haue in thy hand, ỳ they may see.

21 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen vnto whom they be gone, and will gather them together on euery side, and bring them againe into their owne land.

22 *Yea, I will make one people of them in the the land vpon the mountaines of Israel, and one king shalbe king to them all: they shall no more be two peoples, neither be diuided from henceforth into two kingdomes.

23 They shall also defile themselues no more with their idoles and abominations, and all their wicked doings: I will saue them out of all their dwelling places wherein they haue sinned, & wil so cleanse them, that they shalbe my people, and I will be their God.

Esai 40.11. iere.23.1. dani.9.24.

24 *Dauid my seruant shalbe their king, and they all shall haue one shepheard: they shall walke in my iudgements, & my commandements shall they keepe, and fulfill them.

25 They shall dwell in the lande that I gaue vnto Iacob my seruant, whereas your fathers also haue dwelt, yea [euen] in the same land shall they, their children, and their childrens children dwell for euermore: and my seruant Dauid shalbe their prince for euer.

Psal.109.4. iohn 18.34.

26 Moreouer, *I will make a bond of peace with them, which shalbe vnto them an euerlasting couenant: I will settle them also and multiply them, my sanctuarie will I set among them for euermore.

27 My tabernacle shalbe with them: yea I wil be their God, and they shalbe my people.

28 Thus the heathen also shal know that I the Lord doe sanctifie Israel, when my sanctuarie shalbe among them for euermore.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shal come with an appointed host into the land of promise.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

Apoc.20.8.

2 *Thou sonne of man, set thy face against [a] Gog, ‖ land of Magog, which is the chiefe prince of Meseeh and Tubal, & prophecie against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Meseeh and Tubal, behold, I will vpon thee:

4 And I wil ‖ turne thee backe, & put hookes in thy chawes, I will bring thee forth and all thine hoste, both horse and horsemen, all armed with all sortes of armour, a great multitude with speares and shieldes, all handling swordes.

5 They of [b] Paras, of Chush, and Phut, with them [euen] all [hauing] shieldes and helmets,

6 Gomer & all his hostes, the house of Togarma out of the North quarters and all his hostes, yea, and much people with thee.

7 Therefore prepare thee, set thy selfe in aray with all the people that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence.

8 After many dayes thou shalt be visited, and in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land that hath bene turned [and tost] with the sworde, and gathered together againe out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue bene alwayes [subiect] to waste: but it is brought out of the people, and they dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascend & come vp like a storme, as a cloude to couer the lande shalt thou be: thou with all thine hostes, and a great multitude of people with thee.

10 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lorde God, At the same time shall things come into thy minde, so that thou shalt thinke [c] euill thoughtes,

11 And say, I will vp to the land of [d] vnwalled villages, I will goe to them that be at rest, which dwell safely, all dwelling without walles, they haue neither barres nor gates:

12 To spoyle the pray, and to take a bootie, to turne thy hand vpon the desolate places that are [nowe] inhabited, and vpon that people that is gathered together from among the heathen, which haue gotten cattel and goods, and dwell in the middes of the land.

13 Then shall Saba and Dedan, and the marchantes of Tharsis with all their Lions, say vnto thee, [e] Art thou come to spoyle a pray? hast thou gathered thy people together to take a bootie, to take away siluer and golde, to carrie away cattell and good, and to haue a great pray?

14 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, thou shalt prophecie & say vnto Gog, Thus saieth the Lorde God, In that day when my people Israel [f] dwelleth safe, shalt thou not knowe it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee, which ride all vpon horses, [euen] a great multitude and a mightie armie.

16 Yea, thou shalt come vpon my people of Israel, as a cloude to couer the land: this shall come to passe in the [g] latter dayes, and I will bring thee vp into my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shalbe [h] sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saieth the Lord God, Art thou not he of whom I haue spoken in olde time by the hands of my seruants the Prophets of Israel, which prophecied in those dayes & yeeres, that I should bring thee vpon them?

18 At the same time when Gog commeth vp into the lande of Israel, saieth the Lorde God, shall mine indignation rise in my wrath:

19 For in my ielousie and fire of my wrath haue I spoken it, surely at that time there shalbe a great shaking in the land of Israel.

20 *The very fishes in the Sea, the foules in the ayre, the beastes of the field, and all that moue and creepe vpon the earth, and all the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, the hilles also shalbe

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Gog & Magog. 13 The graue of Gog and his hoste.

1 THerefore, O thou sonne of man, prophecie against Gog, and speake, Thus saieth the Lord God, Behold, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Meschech and Tubal, I will vpon thee.

‖ Or, I will strike thee with sixe plagues. ‖ Or, I will leaue but the sixth part of thee.

2 And I will ‖ turne thee about, and ‖ I will a prouoke thee forward, & cause thee to come vp from the North partes, and bring thee vp to the mountaines of Israel.

a That is, I wil encourage thee with clapping and stroking, as men doe horses when they wil encourage them.

3 And as for thy bowe, I will smite it out of thy left hand, and cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

b Hereby he signifieth that which is wont to befall in warre: that the bodies of the slaine should be vnburied.

4 Thou, with all thine hoste, and all the people that is with thee, shall fall vpon the mountaines of Israel: then will I giue thee vnto ỹ b flockes of birdes, [euen] to all feathered foules and beasts of the fielde, to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde: for I haue spoken it, saieth the Lord God.

6 Into Magog, and among those that sitte so careleste in the Iles wil I send a fire, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

7 I will make also the name of my holines to be knowen among my people of Israel, and I wil not let them pollute my holy name any more: but the very heathen also shall knowe that I am the Lord, the holy one of Israel.

c That is, this plague is fully determined in my counsel, & cannot be changed.

8 Behold, it is c come, and it is done, saieth the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

d After this destructiō shall be such peace & tranquillitie, that they shall neede no weapons of war, but burne thē all with fire. ‖ Or, launces.

9 They that dwel in the cities of Israel, shall goe forth, & d set fire vpon the weapons, and burne them, shieldes and speares, bowes and arrowes, ‖ handstaues, and swoordes, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeere.

10 So that they shall els bring no wood from the fielde, neither hewe downe any out of the wood: for with weapons shall they make their fire, they shall robbe those that robbed them, & spoyle those that spoyled them, sayth the Lord God.

e For ỹ stinke of the carkeises that shall lie slaine there vnburied.

11 At the same time will I giue vnto Gog a place to be buried in Israel, euen the valley wherethrough men goe toward the East sea: those that trauaile thereby, shall e stoppe their noses: there shall Gog and all his multitude be buried: and it shalbe called the valley of the ‖ multitude of Gog.

‖ Or, Hamon-Gog.

12 Seuen moneths long shal ỹ house of Israel be burying of thē, that they may clense ỹ land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shal burie thē, and they shal haue a name when I shalbe glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 They shall choose out men to go continually thorowe the lande, to f bury as they passe thorowe those that remaine vpon the ground, to cleanse it: after the ende of seuen moneths shall they make their search.

f Partly that the holy lande should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion which the children of God haue euen vpō their enemies.

15 And the trauailers that passe thorowe the lande, where they see a mans bone, they shall set vp a token by it, till the dead buriers haue buried it also in the valley of ‖ the multitude of Gog.

‖ Or, Hamon-Gog.

16 And the name of the citie shalbe called g Hamonah: thus shall they make the land cleane.

g So called, for the multitude of the people of Gog that should be slaine there.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayth the Lord God, Speake vnto all feathered foules, yea, and to all the beastes of the fielde, Assemble you together, and come, gather you round about to my h sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, [euen] a great sacrifice vpon the mountaines of Israel, that yee may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

h As solemne sacrifices were commō feastes to great multitudes of people assembled, so was this slaughter as a great sacrifice and feast for al birdes and beasts to feede vpon.

18 Ye shall eate the flesh of the valiant, & drinke the blood of the princes of the lande, of the rammes, of the wethers, of the goates, and of the bullockes, that be all fed at Basan.

19 Ye shall eate the fat your belly full, & drinke blood til ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Ye shall fill you at my table with horses and ‖ horsemē, with the valiant, and men of warre, saith the Lord God.

‖ Or, charios.

21 I will set my glory also among ỹ Gentiles, that all the Heathen may see my iudgement that I haue executed, and my hande which I haue layde vpon them.

22 And the house of Israel shall knowe that I am the Lord their God, from that day, and so forward.

23 And the Heathen shal knowe, that whereas the house of Israel was led into captiuitie, it was for their i wickednes sake, because they offended mee: for the which cause I hid my face from them, and deliuered them into the hands of their enemies, that they might all be slayne with the swoord.

i The heathen shall knowe that they ouercame not my people by their owne strength, neither yet by ỹ weakenesse of mine arme, but that this was for my peoples sinnes.

24 According to their vncleannesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Nowe will I bring againe the captiues of Jacob, & haue mercy vpon the whole house of Israel, and be ielous for my holy names sake,

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against mee, when they dwelt safely in their land, and no man to feare them:

27 And when I haue brought them againe from among the people, when I haue gathered them together out of their enemies lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations:
28 Then shall they know that I am the Lorde their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen, but haue gathered them againe into their owne land, and not left one of them any more there.
29 After that will I hide my face no more from them, but will powre out my spirit vpon the house of Israel, saieth the Lorde God.

The xl. Chapter.

The restoring of the cities, and of the temple that was to come, is shewed vnto the Prophet.

1 IN the fiue and twentieth yeere of our captiuitie, in the [a] beginning of the yeere, the tenth day of the moneth, that is, the foureteenth yeere after the citie was smitten, the selfe same day came the hand of the Lord vpon me, and brought me thither:
2 Euen into the land of Israel brought he me in the visions of God, and set me downe vpon a marueilous high mountaine, whereupon there was as it had bene the building of a citie toward the South.
3 Thither he caried me, and behold, there was a [b] man, whose similitude was like brasse, which had a twisted line of flaxe in his hande, and a cane to measure with: and he stoode in the doore.
4 And that man said vnto me, Thou sonne of mã, marke wel with thine [c] eyes, hearken to with thine eares, & fastẽ it in thy heart whatsoeuer I shal shew thee: for to the intent that they may be shewed thee, therefore art thou brought hither, and whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certifie the house of Israel thereof.
5 Behold, there was a wal on the [d] outside of the house rounde about: the cane to measure with, that he had in his hand, was sixe cubites long by the [e] cubite, and a hand breadth: So he measured the breadth of the building with one cane, and the height with one cane.
6 Then came he to the gate which looketh toward the East, and went vp the staires thereof, and measured the poste of the gate one cane broade, and the other poste of the gate one cane broade.
7 And [euery] chamber was one cane long, & one cane broade, and betweene the chambers, were fiue cubites: and the post of the gate by the porch of the gate within, was one cane.
8 He measured also the porche of ỹ gate within, with one cane.
9 Then measured he ỹ porch of the gate eight cubites; and the ‖ pentises therof two cubites, and the porche of the gate [was] inward.
10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the pentises had one measure on this side, and one measure on that side.
11 After this he measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate ten cubites, and the height of the gate thirteene cubites.
12 The space also before ỹ chambers, was one cubite [on this side,] & the space one cubite on that side: and the chambers, sixe cubites on this side, and sixe cubites on that side.
13 He measured the gate from the roofe of a chamber to his owne roofe, ỹ breadth of fiue and twentie cubites, doore against doore.
14 He made ‖ frontes also of threescore cubites, [euen] vnto the front of the court rounde about the gate.
15 And from the forefront of the entrie of the gate, vnto the forefront of the gate within, [were] fiftie cubites.
16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chambers, and in the frontes within the gate round about, & so in the arches: and the windowes [went] round about within, and vpon the frontes were Palme trees.
17 Then brought he me into ỹ outward court, whereas were chambers, and a pauement made for the court round about: thirtie chambers were vpon the pauement.
18 And the pauement [was] by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates: and the pauement [was] beneath.
19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, a hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.
20 And the gate in the outwarde court that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.
21 And the chambers thereof [were] three on this side, & three on that side: and the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof were after the measure of the [f] first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.
22 And their windowes, & their arches, with their Palme trees [were] after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East: and the going vp vnto it [had] seuen steppes, and the arches thereof [were] before them.
23 And the gate of the inner court [stoode] ouer against the gate toward the North and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubites.
24 After that, he brought mee toward the South, where there stoode a gate toward the South, and he measured the frontes thereof and the arches thereof according to those measures.
25 And [there were] windowes in it, and in 26 And [there were] seuen steppes at the going vp to it, and the arches thereof before them: & it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side, vpon the front thereof.

27 And [there was] a gate in the inner court towarde the South, and he measured from gate to gate towarde the South a hundred cubites.

28 So he brought me into the inner court thorow the South gate, and he measured the South gate according to those measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, the frontes therof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures, and windowes in it: and in the arches thereof round about, fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broad,

30 And the arches round about [were] fiue and twentie cubites long, and fiue cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof [were] toward the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the frontes thereof, and the going vp to it [had] eyght steppes.

32 He brought me also into the inmost court toward the East, and measured the gate according to those measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, & frontes thereof, & the arches thereof [were] according to those measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof rounde about, it [was] fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof [were] toward the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the frontes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eyght steppes.

35 And he brought me to the North gate, and measured it according to those measures.

36 The chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, and [there were] windowes therein rounde about: and the length [was] fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

37 And the frontes thereof [were] toward the vtter court, and palme trees [were] vpon the frontes thereof on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eyght steppes.

38 And a chamber and the entrie therof [was] vnder the frontes of the gates, there they washed the burnt offerings.

g That is, the inwards or entralles of the sacrifice that was offered for a burnt offering.

39 And in the porche of the gate stoode two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slue the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

40 And at the side without the steppes, at the entrie of the North gate [stoode] two tables, and on the other side which was at the porche of the gate [were] two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, & foure on that side, by the side of the gate, [euen] eyght tables, whereupō they slue [their sacrifices.]

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broade, and one cubite high, whereupon were laide the instrumentes wherewith they slue the burnt offering, and the sacrifice.

43 And within there were ‡ hookes one hand ‡ treuers.

44 And without ẏ inner gate [were] the chambers of the singers in ẏ inward court, which was at the side of the North gate, and their prospect was towarde the South: and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

45 And he said vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is towarde the South, [is] for the priests that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, [is] for ẏ priests that haue charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, which of the sonnes of Leui come neere to the Lord, to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court, which had in length a hundred cubites, and a hundred in breadth, [euen] foure square: and the altar stoode before the house.

48 And he brought mee to the porche of the h house, and measured the porche fiue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

h That is, of the temple.

49 The i length of the porche was twentie cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steppes went men vp to it: by the frontes also were pillars, one on this side, and another on that side.

i From North to South.

The xli. Chapter.

The disposition & deuice of building againe of the temple, and of the other things thereto belonging.

1 After this he brought me to ẏ temple, and measured the frontes, sixe cubites broade on the one side, and sixe cubites broade on the other side, [which was] the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 The breadth of the doore was ten cubites, & the sides of the doore [were] fiue cubites on the one side, & fiue cubites on the other side, and he measured the length a thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

a Of the temple, from this doore to the most holy place.

3 Then went he in and measured the front of the doore two cubites: but the doore it selfe was sixe cubites, and the breadth on the other side of the doore was seuen cubites.

4 He measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the temple: and he said vnto me, This is the most holy [place.]

5 He

5 He measured also the wall of ỹ house six cubites, and the breadth of a chamber foure cubites round about the house on euery side.

6 And ỹ chambers were chamber vpon chamber, ‖ three & thirtie in order: and they entred the wal which was of the house for the chambers rounde about, ỹ they might be fastened, and not be fastened in the wal of the house.

‖ Or, three and thirtie foote high.

7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting stil vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting still vpwarde rounde about the house, therefore the house was larger vpwarde: so they went vp from the lowest [chamber] to the highest by the middest.

8 And I saw the house high round about: the foundations of ỹ chambers [were] a full cane of six cubites [b] vp to the arme holes.

b That is, great, and of ỹ largest syse.

9 The thicknesse of the wal which was for the chamber without [was] fiue cubites, and that which remained was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the wideness of twentie cubites round about ỹ house on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the ‖ place that remained, one doore toward the North, & another toward ỹ South: and the breadth of the place that remained, was fiue cubites round about.

‖ Or, voyde place.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the West [was] seuentie cubites broade: and the wall of the building was fiue cubites thicke rounde about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house, which was a hundred cubites long, and the separate place and the building with the walles, were a hundred cubites long also.

14 The breadth also of the forefront of ỹ house, and of the separate place towarde the East, was a hundred cubites.

15 And hee measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place which was behinde it, and the chambers on the one side, and on the other side, a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the court.

16 The doore postes, and the narowe windowes, and the chambers round about, on three sides ouer against the doore, sieled with wood round about, and from the grounde vp to the windowes: and the windowes themselues were sieled.

17 And from aboue the doore vnto the house within and without, and vpon euery wall round about within and without, [tooke he] measure.

c That is, Cherubims & Palme trees were grauen and carued in the walles.

18 And it was made with [c] Cherubims and Palme trees, so that a Palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub, and euerie Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was towarde the Palme tree on the one side, and the face of a Lion towarde the Palme tree on the other side: [thus] was it made through al the house round about.

20 From the grounde vnto aboue the doore were Cherubims and Palme trees made: and [thus was] the wall of the temple.

21 The postes of the temple were foure squared, and the fashion of the sanctuarie was [d] appearance like appearance.

d That is, the doore postes or cheekes of the sanctuarie, were like the doore cheekes of the temple.

22 The altar of wood was three cubites high, and two cubites long: the corners, ỹ length, and the walles thereof were of wood. And he said vnto me, This is the table that shalbe before the Lorde.

23 The temple and the holiest of all had either of them two doores.

24 And the doores had two [e] doores [apiece, euen] two folding doores, two for the one doore, and two doores for the other.

e That is, two leaues, one on the one side, & the other on the other side, of either of the doores.

25 And vpon the doores of the temple there were made Cherubims, and Palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles: and thick beames vpon the forefront of the porche without.

26 And [there were] narrowe windowes and Palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porche, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke beames.

The xlii. Chapter.

Of the chambers of the temple for the priestes, and the holy things.

1 THen led he me into the vtter court by ỹ way towarde the North, & he brought me into the chamber that [was] ouer against ỹ separate place, which [was] before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubites [was] the North doore: and ỹ breadth [was] fiftie cubites.

3 Ouer against ỹ twentie cubites which were for the inner court, & ouer against the pauement, which was for the vtter court, [was] chamber against chamber, three [orders.]

4 And before the chambers there was a walking place of tenne cubites wide inward, the way of one cubite: and their doores towarde the North.

5 Thus the vpper chambers were alway narrower: for those chambers [seemed] to eate vp these, [to wit,] the lower and the middlemer of the building.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pillars as the pillars of the courtes: therefore were they smaller then the neathermost and the middlemost [to recken] from the ground.

7 And the wal that was without ouer against the chambers, towarde the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, the length thereof was fiftie cubites.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fiftie cubites, and loe, before the temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers [was] the entrie from the East, as one goeth vnto them from the vtter court.

10 In the thicknesse of the wall of the court toward the East, before the separate place, and before the building of the chambers.

11 And the way before them after the appearance of the chambers which were toward the North: as their length, so was their breadth: and all their entries [were] according to their fashion, and according to their doores.

12 And according to ẏ doores of the chambers that were toward ẏ South, [was] a doore in the head of ẏ way, [euen] the way directly before ẏ wall toward the East as one entreth.

13 Then saide he vnto me, The chambers toward the North; and the chambers towarde the South, which are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherein the Priestes that [a] approche vnto the Lord must eate the most holy things, and there must they lay the most holy things, and the meate offering, and sinne offering, & trespasse offering: for it is a holy place.

a That is, which exercise the priests office, as more fully is declared in the next chapter following, ver. 19 14 When the priestes come therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into ẏ vtter court, but there they shall lay vp their garmentes wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shal put on [b] other garments, and so shall approch to those which are for the people.

b That is, their common apparell which they vsed among the people: as some say, was such as the comm̃ people vsed.

15 Nowe when he had finished the measuring of the house within, he led me forth towarde the gate, whose prospect is toward the East, and he measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring cane, fiue hundred canes, [euen] with the measuring cane round about.

17 And he measured the North side fiue hundred canes, [euen] with the measuring cane rounde about.

18 The South side also measured he fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

19 He turned about [also] to the West side, and measured fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

20 So he measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round about, fiue hundred canes long, and fiue hundred broade, to make a separation betweene the [c] sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

c That is, betweene the tẽple and the citie, which in respect of the sanctuarie and ẏ temple was counted prophane.

The xliii. Chapter.

He seeth the glory of God going into the temple, from whence it had before departed.

1 SO he brought me to the gate, [euen] the gate that turneth toward the East:

2 And behold, then came the glory of the God of Israel from out of ẏ East, whose voyce was like a great noise of waters, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

3 * And according to the appearance of the vision which I sawe, [euen] according to the vision which I saw [a] when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the visions which I sawe by the riuer Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

* Ezech. 9. 1.

a When I prophecied the destruction of ẏ citie by the Chaldeans.

4 And the [b] glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the East.

b Which was departed before, Chap. 10.

5 So a ‖ winde tooke me vp, and brought me into the innermer court: and behold, the house was full of the glory of the Lord.

‖ Or, the spirit.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house, and there stoode a man by me,

7 And he said vnto me, O thou sonne of man, this roome is my seate, and the place of my footesteps, whereas I wil dwell among the children of Israel for euermore, so that the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they nor their kings through their whoredome, and through the dead bodies of their [c] kings [in] their high places.

c He alludeth to Ammon & Manasses, who were buried in their gardens neere the temple, and there had erected vp monuments to their idoles.

8 Albeit they haue set their threshholdes by my threshholdes, and their postes by my postes, & a wall betweene me and them, yet haue they defiled my holy name with their abominations that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 But nowe let them put away their whoredome, and the dead bodies of their kings out of my sight, and I will dwel among them for euermore.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, shew thou the house of Israel this house, that they may be ashamed of their wickednesse, and measure themselues an example thereat.

11 And if they be ashamed of all their workes: then shewe them the fourme of the house and paterne thereof, the going out, the comming in, all the maner thereof, yea, all the ordinances thereof, the figures, & all the lawes thereof, and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and doe them.

12 This is the [d] lawe of the house: vpon the top of the mount shall all the limites thereof be, round about the most holy place: loe, this is the law of the house.

d Description.

13 And these are the measures of the altar in cubites: ẏ cubite is a cubite & a handbreadth, the bottome [shalbe] a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, and the borders thereof by the edge thereof rounde about was one spanne, and this [shalbe] the height of the altar.

14 And from the bottome vpon the grounde, vnto the lower piece, [shalbe] two cubites, the breadth one cubite: and from the litle piece to the great piece, [shalbe] foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 The

15 The altar was foure cubites high, & from the altar vpward stood foure hornes.
16 And the altar was twelue cubites long, and twelue cubites broad, square in the foure corners thereof.
17 The frame of the altar [shall be] fourteene cubites long, and fourteene broad in the foure square corners thereof, and the border about it shalbe halfe a cubite, and the bottome thereof [shalbe] a cubite about, and the steps thereof shalbe turned toward the East.
18 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar, in the day whē it is made, to offer burnt offrings thereupon, & to sprinkle blood thereupon.
19 And thou shalt giue to the Priestes, to the Leuites that bee of the seede of Sadoc, and approch vnto me, saieth the Lord God, to minister vnto me, a yong bullocke for a sinne offring.
20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and purge it.
21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of ẏ sinne offering, & burne him in the appointed place without the sanctuarie.
22 The second day, take a goate bucke without blemish for a sinne offering, to cleanse the altar withall, like as it was cleansed with the bullocke.
23 Now when thou hast made an end of cleansing it, then offer a yong bullocke without blemish, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish also.
24 Offer them before the Lord, & let the priests cast salt thereupon, and giue them so vnto the Lord for a burnt offering.
25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euery day a goate bucke for sinne, a yong bullocke and a ramme of the flocke, both without blemish shall they prepare.
26 Seuen dayes shall they reconcile & cleanse the altar, and [c] fill the place thereof.
27 When these dayes are expired, then vpon the eight day, and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offrings, and peace offrings vpon the altar: so I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

[c] Or, consecrate it.

The xliiii. Chapter.

1 He sheweth what doore of the temple is shut. 6 He is commaunded to vpbraid the people with their offence.

1 AFter this he brought me againe to the outward gate of the sanctuarie on the East side, and that was shut.
2 Then said the Lord vnto mee, This gate shall be still [a] shut, and not opened, neither shal any man goe thorow it: for the Lord God of Israel hath entred by it, and it shall be shut.
3 It is for the prince, the prince himselfe shall sit in it to eate bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porche of that gate, & shall go out by the way of the same.
4 Then brought hee me toward ẏ Northgate before the house: and as I looked, beholde, the glory of the Lorde filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.
5 So the Lord spake vnto me, O thou sonne of man, set thine heart, and behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, al that I say vnto thee concerning al the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the lawes thereof, and marke well the entring in of the house, with euery going forth of the sanctuarie.
6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, [euen] to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lorde God, O house of Israel, ye haue ynough of all your abominations,
7 Seeing ye haue brought into my sanctuarie [b] strangers, hauing vncircumcised hearts, and vncircumcised flesh, to be in my sanctuarie to pollute my house, when ye offer my bread, fatte, and blood, and they haue broken my couenant because of all your abominations.
8 And ye haue not kept the [c] ordinances of my holy things, and ye haue set keepers to keepe my sanctuarie [d] for you.
9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Of all the strangers that dwell among the children of Israel, no stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuarie.
10 But the Leuites that went backe from me when Israel went astray, which strayed from me after their idols, [e] shall beare their iniquitie:
11 And they shalbe ministers in my sanctuarie, and keepe the gates of the house, and minister in the house: they shall slay the burnt offerings, and the sacrifice for the people, & they shall stand before them, to serue them.
12 Because they serued before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquitie: therefore haue I lift vp my hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they shal beare their iniquitie.
13 And they shall not come neere vnto me to doe the office of a priest vnto me, neither shall they come nere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place: but they shall beare their owne shame and abominations which they haue done.
14 And I wil make them keepers of the watch of the house, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shalbe done therein.
15 But the Priests, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sadoc, that [f] kept the charge of my sanctuarie

[a] Meaning, from the common people, but not from the priests, nor the prince, chap. 46.
[b] For they had brought idolaters which were of other countries, to teach them their idolatrie, chap. 13.
[c] Ye haue not offred vnto me according to my lawe.
[d] In your place.
[e] That is, the Leuites which had committed idolatrie, were put from their dignitie, and could not be receiued into the priests office, although they had bene of the house of Aaron, but must serue in the inferior offices, as to watch and to keepe ẏ doores, 2. kin. 23.
[f] Which obserued the lawe of God, and fell not to idolatrie, rie when the children of Israel strayed from me, shal come to me, to do me seruice, to stand before me, and to offer me the fat & the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shal go into my sanctuarie, & approch vnto my table to do me seruice, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 Now when they goe in at the gates of the innermer court, they shall put on linnen clothes, so that no wollen come vpon them while they doe seruice vnder the gates of the innermer court, and within.

18 They shall haue linnen bonnets vpon their heades, and linnen ‡ breeches vpon their loines: they shall not girde themselues in the ‡ sweate.

‡ Slops.

‡ In the places of sweate, or els not ouer straite to make them to sweate.

19 And when they goe foorth into the vtter court, [euen] to the vtter court of the people, they shal put off the clothes wherein they haue ministred, and lay them in the chamber of the sanctuarie, and put on other apparell, and they shall not sanctifie the people with their clothes.

§ For that, as S. Hierome saith, was the manner of the Gentiles and Infidels.

20 They shall not § shaue their heads, nor suffer their heare to growe long, but powle their heads onely.

21 All the priests that go into the inmost court shall drinke no wine.

Leuit. 21. 13.

22 *They shal marrie no widows, neither one that is put from her husband, but a maide of the seede of the house of Israel, or a widow that hath had a priest before.

23 They shall shew my people the difference betweene the holy and vnholy, and cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and vncleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stand to iudge, and giue sentence after my iudgements: and my lawes and my statutes shall they keepe in all my solemne feastes, and halow my Sabbothes.

25 They shall come at no dead person to defile themselues, but to father or mother, sonne or daughter, brother or sister, that hath yet no husband, [in those] may they be b defiled.

b They may be at their burial, which was termed a defiling.

26 And whē he is cleansed, there shalbe reckoned vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when hee goeth into the sanctuarie vnto the inner court to minister in the sanctuarie, he shall bring his sinne offering, saith the Lord.

Deut. 18. 1. num. 18. 20.

28 *i There shall be to them an inheritance, [euen] I their inheritance: but possession shal ye giue them none in Israel, for I am their possession.

i Vnderstand the priesthood.

29 The meate offering, sinne offering, and trespasse offering shall they eate: and euery dedicate thing in Israel shal be theirs.

Exod. 13. 2. and 22. 29.

30 *And all the first of the first borne, and euery oblation, [euen] all of euery sort of your oblations shall be the Priestes: ye shall also giue vnto the Priests the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 *But the Priestes shall eate nothing that is dead [by it selfe,] or torne of fowle, or of beast. Leuit. 22. 8.

The xlv. Chapter.

Of iust weights and measures.

1 When ye deuide the land by the lot for an inheritance, ye shal offer an oblation to the Lord, a holy a portion of the land, twentie and fiue thousand canes long, & ten thousand broad: this shall bee holy in all the borders thereof round about.

a Of all the land of Israel the Lord requireth onely this portion, for the temple and for the Priests, for the citie, and for the prince.

2 Of this part there shall belong vnto the sanctuarie fiue hundred cubites [in length] with fiue hundred [in breadth] square round about: and fiftie cubites round about for the suburbes.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure, [namely] of the length of twentie and fiue thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand, and in it shall be the sanctuarie, and the most holy place.

4 That holy portion of the lande shall pertaine vnto the Priestes which doe seruice in the sanctuarie, which come neere to serue the Lord: and it shall bee vnto them a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuarie.

5 And in the twentie & fiue thousand length, and ten thousand breadth, shall the Leuites that minister in the house haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Ye shall giue also vnto the citie a possession of fiue thousand canes broad, and twentie and fiue thousand long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion that shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And [a portion shall be] for the prince on this side and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the citie, [euen] before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the citie, from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward: and the length shalbe by one of the portions, from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppresse my people, and [the rest] of the land shal they giue to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

b The prophet sheweth that ꝑ heads must be first reformed, afore any good order can be established among the people.

9 Thus saieth the Lord God, b Let it suffise you, O ye princes of Israel: leaue off crueltie and oppression, & execute iudgemēt & iustice: take take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

c Ephah and Bath were both of one quantitie, for the Ephah conteined in dry things, that as the Bath did in liquor. Exo. 30. 13. leuit. 27. 25. num. 3. 47.

10 Ye shal haue a true balance, a true c Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah & the Bath shall be alike: one Bath shal conteine ỳ tenth part of an Homer, & the Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equalitie thereof shalbe after the Homer.

12 *The Sicle maketh twentie Gerahs: and twentie Sicles, and d twentie & fiue Sicles, and fifteene Sicles make a Maneh.

d That is, therefore 15. sicles make a weight called Maneh: for he tolleth these three parts to a Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer: the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of wheate, and the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinances of the oyle, [euen] of the Bath of oyle [ye shall offer] the tenth part of a Bath out of ỳ Cor: ten Baths [shalbe] a Homer, because ten Baths [fill] a Homer.

15 And one lambe from two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat offring, whole burnt offring, and peace offring, to reconcile them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall giue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 Againe, it shall bee the princes part to offer whole burnt offerings, meate offerings, and wine offrings in ỳ holy daies, new Moones, Sabbaths, and in all the high feastes of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sinne offering, meate offering, whole burnt offring, and peace offering, to reconcile the house of Israel.

18 Thus sayeth the Lord God, The first day of the first e moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish, & cleanse the sanctuarie.

e Which was Nisan, containing part of March & part of April.

19 So the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the altar, and vpon the postes of the gate of the inner court.

20 And thus shalt thou do also the seuenth day of the moneth, for such as haue sinned of ignorance, or being deceiued, to reconcile the house withall.

21 Upon ỳ fourteenth day of the first moneth ye shall haue the Passeouer, a feast of seuẽ dayes, and ye shal eate vnleauened bread.

22 Upon the same day shall the prince prepare for himselfe and all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seuen dayes of the feast, he shall make a whole burnt offering to the Lord, [euen] of seuen bullockes and seuen rammes without blemish, daily, for seuen dayes, and a hee goate daily for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meate offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ramme, and a f Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

f Read Exod. 29.

25 In the seuenth [month,] in the fifteenth day of the moneth, on the feast, he shall doe according vnto these for seuen dayes: according to the sinne offering, according to the whole burnt offring, and according to the meate offring, and according to the oyle.

The xlvi. Chapter.

1 The sacrifice of the Sabboths, and of the new moones. 8 Thorow which doores they must go in, or come out of the temple.

1 THus saith the Lord God, The gate of the inner court toward the East, shalbe shut the sixe working daies: but in the Sabboth, and in the day of the newe Moone it shalbe opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porche of the gate without, and shall stand by the poste of the gate: and the Priestes shall make his whole burnt offering, and his peace offrings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and goe forth: and the gate shall not be shut till the euening.

3 On the same maner shal the people of ỳ land also do their worship before the Lord, at the doore of this gate vpon the Sabboths, and new Moones.

4 The whole burnt offering that the prince shal bring vnto the Lord vpon the Sabboth, shall be sixe lambes without blemish, and a ramme without blemish.

5 And the meate offering shall bee an Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offering for the lambes a a gift of his hand, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

a That is, as much as he will.

6 In the day of the new moneth, [it shalbe] a yong bullocke without blemish, & sixe lambs, and a ramme also without blemish.

7 With the bullocke he shall giue an Ephah: and with the ramme an Ephah also for a meate offring: but to the lambes b according as his hand shall take, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

b According to his abilitie.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porche of that gate: hee shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land come before the Lord in the high solemne feast, as many as come in by ỳ North gate to do worship, shal go out againe at the South gate: & they that come in at the South gate, shall go forth againe at the North gate: there shal none returne by the gate where he came in, but shall go right forth ouer on the other side.

10 And the prince, he shal go in the midst of the when they goe in, and so come forth when they come forth.

11 Upon the solemne and high feast daies this shalbe the meate offering: an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambes the gift of his hand, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Now

12 Nowe when the prince shall make a free whole burnt offering, or peace offerings freely vnto the Lord: one then shall open him the gate that turneth towarde the East, and he shall make his whole burnt offerings, and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabboth day: after, he shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a whole burnt offering vnto the Lorde of a Lambe of one yeere without blemish, thou shalt doe it euerie morning.

14 Thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it euery morning, the sixth part of an Ephah, and the thirde part of a Hin of oyle to mingle with the fine floure: this meate offering shalbe continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the Lambe, the meate offering, and oyle, euery morning, for a continuall whole burnt offering.

16 Moreouer, thus saieth the Lorde God, if the prince giue a gift vnto any of his sonnes, the inheritance thereof shalbe his sonnes: their possession shalbe by inheritance.

17 But if he giue a gift of his inheritance to one of his seruantes, then it shalbe his to the [c] peere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shalbe theirs.

c Which was at the yeere of Jubilee, Leu.23.

18 The prince also [d] shall take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them frō their possession: but to his sonnes shall he giue his owne possession, ꝑ my people be not scattered abroade euery man from his possession.

d But be content with that portion that God hath assigned him, Ezech.45.

19 And he brought me thorowe the entrance at the side of the gate to the holy chambers of the priestes, which stoode towarde the North, and behold, there was a place vpon the West side of them.

20 Then sayde he vnto mee, This is the place where the priests shal seethe the trespasse and sinne offerings, and bake the meate offerings: that they neede not beare them into the outwarde court, and to [e] sanctifie the people.

e To cause the people to thinke it is lawfull for them to eate them, and so fall into a vaine opinion of holinesse & sanctification.

21 So he brought me into the vtter court, and caused mee to goe by the foure corners of the court: and behold, in euery corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courtes ioyned of fourtie cubites long, and thirtie broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wall rounde about them, [euen] about those foure: & vnder the walles there were ‡ kitchins made round about.

‡ raneges.

24 Then sayde he vnto me, These are ꝑ cookes houses, where the ministers of the house shall boyle the sacrifice of the people.

The xlvii. Chapter.

1 The vision of the waters that came out of the temple.

13 The coastes of the land of promise, and the diuision thereof by tribes.

1 AFterward he brought me againe vnto the doore of the house, and behold, there gushed out [a] waters from vnder the thresholde of the house Eastward: for the forefront of the house stoode towarde the East, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the house, which lyeth to the altar Southward.

a Whereby are meant the spiritual graces ꝑ shoulde be giuen to the Church vnder the kingdome of Christ, as Ioh.n.4.

2 Then led he me to the North gate, and led mee about by the way without vnto the vtter gate by the way that turneth Eastwarde: and beholde, there issued forth waters from the right side.

3 Nowe when the man that had the line in his hand went forth Eastwarde, he measured a thousand cubites, and then he brought me thorowe the waters, the waters were to the anckles.

4 So he measured yet a thousand, & brought me thorowe the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured he a thousand, and brought me thorowe, the waters [were] to the loynes.

5 After this he measured a thousande againe, then was it such a [b] riuer that I might not wade thorowe it, the waters were risen, and the waters did flowe as a riuer that might not be waded ouer.

b Signifying that the graces of God should neuer decrease, but euer abound in his Church.

6 And he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O thou sonne of man? and with that he brought me, and caused me to returne to the riuer banke againe.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the banke of the riuer were very many trees [c] on the one side and on the other.

c Meaning, the multitude of them that should be refreshed by the spirituall waters.

8 Then said he vnto me, These waters flowe out toward the East country, and run downe into the plaine, and come into the [d] sea: which when it commeth into the sea, the [e] waters shalbe wholesome.

d Shewing, that the abundance of these graces should be so great, ꝑ all the world should be full thereof, which is here meant by the Persian sea or Genezareth, and the sea called Mediterraneum, Zacha.14.

e The waters which of nature are salt & vnwholesome, shalbe made sweete & comfortable.

9 Yea, al that liue and mooue, whereunto this riuer commeth, shall liue: and there shalbe a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither, for they shalbe wholesome: and euery thing shall liue whither the riuer commeth.

10 By this riuer shall the Fishers stand, from Engaddi vnto En-eglaim, and there spread out their nets: for their fish shalbe according to their kindes as the fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But the marishes thereof, and the pittes thereof, shall not be made wholesome, they shalbe made salt pittes.

12 By this riuer, vpon the bankes thereof on this side and on that side, shall grow all trees for meate, whose leaues shall not fade, neither shall the fruite thereof faile, but shall bring forth newe fruite according to his moneths, for for the waters thereof run out of the sanctuarie: and the fruite thereof shalbe for meate, ‖Or, for bruises and sores. and the leaues thereof for ‖ medicine.

13 Thus saieth the Lord God, Let this be the border whereby ye shall inherite the land, according to the twelue tribes of Israel, *Ioseph shall haue two portions.
Gene.48.22.
14 And ye shall inherite one as well as another, concerning the which I lift vp my hand to giue it vnto your fathers: and this lande shall fall vnto you for inheritance.
f By the land of promise, he signifieth the spiritual land, whereof this was a figure. 15 This is the border of the f lande vpon the North side, from the maine sea toward Hethlon, as men goe to Zedada.
16 [Namely,] Hamah, Berotha, Sabarim, which are betweene the borders of Damascus, and betweene the borders of Hamah, Hazar, Hatichon, that lyeth vpon the coastes of Hauran.
17 Thus the borders from the sea forth shalbe Hazar Enan, the border of Damascus, and the North Northwarde, and the borders of Hamah: this is the North part.
18 The East side shal ye measure from Hauran and Damascus, from Gilead and the land of Israel by Iordane, and from the border vnto the East sea: and this is the East part.
19 The South side shalbe towarde Teman, frō Thamar to ẏ waters of ‖ strife in Cades, and the riuer to the maine sea: and that is the ‖Or, Meriboth. South part toward Teman.
20 The West part also shall be the great sea, from the borders til a man come ouer against Hamah: this is the West part.
21 This land shall ye part among you according to the tribes of Israel, 22 And diuide it by lot to bee an heritage for you, and for the strangers that dwell among you, and beget children among you: for ye shall take them among the children of Israel, like as though they were of your owne countrey, and they shall haue s heritage with you among the children of Israel.
g Meaning, that in this spirituall kingdome, there should be no difference betweene Iewe nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of his inheritance in their head Christ. 23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, in the same tribe shall ye giue him his heritage, saieth the Lord God.

The xlviii. Chapter.

1 The lottes of the seuen tribes. 23 The lottes of the other tribes.

1 THese are the names of the tribes: from the North side to the coast towarde Hethlon, till thou commest vnto Hamah, and Hazar Enan, the borders of Damascus Northward, the coast of Hamah, Dan shall haue his portion from the East quarter vnto the West.
2 Upon the borders of Dan, from the East side vnto ẏ West, shal Aser haue his portion.
3 Upon the borders of Aser, from the East part vnto the West, shal Nephthali haue his portion.
4 Upon the borders of Nephthali, from the East quarter vnto the West, shall Manasses haue his portion.
5 Upon the borders of Manasses, from the East side vnto the West, shall Ephraim haue his portion.
6 Upon the borders of Ephraim, from the East part vnto the West, shall Ruben haue his portion.
7 Upon the borders of Ruben, from the East quarter vnto the West, shall Iuda haue his portion.
8 Upon the borders of Iuda, from the East part vnto the West part, shall be the a offering which they shall offer, of fiue and twentie thousand [canes] broade, & of length as one of the partes from the East side vnto the West side: and the sanctuarie shalbe in the middest of it.
a That is, the portion of the ground which they shall separate and appoint to the Lord, which shalbe diuided into three partes, for the priests, for the prince, and for the citie.
9 The oblation that ye shall offer vnto the Lord, shalbe fiue and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broade.
10 And for these [euen] for the priestes, shalbe this holy oblation: towarde the North fiue and twentie thousande [long,] and towarde the West ten thousande broade, towarde the East ten thousande broade also, and towarde the South fiue and twentie thousande long, and the sanctuarie of the Lorde shalbe in the middest thereof.
11 This sanctified portion shalbe the Priestes that are of the children of Sadoc, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray in the errour of the children of Israel, like as the Leuites went astray.
12 Therefore this oblation of the lande that is offered, shalbe theirs as a thing most holy, hard vpon the borders of the Leuites.
13 And ouer against the border of the priestes, shall the Leuites haue fiue and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broade: all the length shalbe fiue and twentie thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.
14 Of this portion they shall sell nothing, nor make any permutation thereof, nor alienate the first fruites of the land: for it is holy vnto the Lorde.
15 And the fiue thousande that are left in the breadth ouer against the fiue & twentie thousand, shalbe a prophane place for the citie, for housing and for suburbes: and the citie shalbe in the middes thereof.
16 And these shalbe the measures thereof: The North part fiue hundred and foure thousand, and the South b part fiue hundred and foure thousand, and the East part fiue hundred and foure thousande, and the West part fiue hundred and foure thousand.
b Meaning, that it should be square.
17 The suburbes of the citie shall haue toward the North two hundred and fiftie, toward the South two hundred and fiftie, towarde the East

East two hundred & fiftie, toward the West also two hundred and fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer against the oblation of the holy portion shalbe ten thousand toward the East, and ten thousande toward the West: and it shalbe ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shalbe for their meate that serue the citie.

19 And they that serue the citie, they shal serue it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shalbe fiue & twentie thousand [c] with fiue & twentie thousande: ye shall offer this oblation foure square, for the sanctuarie, and for the possession of the citie.

c Euery way it shalbe fiue and twentie thousand.

21 And the residue shalbe for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the citie ouer against the fiue and twentie thousande of the oblation toward the East border, and Westward ouer against the fiue and twentie thousande toward the West border, ouer against shalbe the portion for the prince: this shalbe the holy oblation, and the house of the sanctuarie shalbe in the middest thereof.

22 Moreouer, from the possession of the Leuites, and the cities possession, that which is in the middest shalbe the princes, betwixt the border of [d] Juda, and the border of Beniamin shalbe the princes.

d So that Juda was on the North side of the princes & Leuites portions, & Beniamin on the South side.

23 Nowe of the other tribes: from the East part vnto the West, shall Beniamin haue his portion.

24 Upon the borders of Beniamin, from the East side vnto the West, shall Simeon haue his portion.

25 Upon the borders of Simeon, from the East side vnto the West, shall Issachar haue his portion.

26 Upon the borders of Issachar, from the East side vnto the West, shall Zabulon haue his portion.

27 Upon the borders of Zabulon, from the East part vnto the West, shall Gad haue his portion.

28 Upon the borders of Gad at the South side toward Temanah, the border shalbe frō Thamar, vnto the waters of ‖ strife to Cades, and to ỹ riuer [that runneth] into the maine sea. ‖ Or, Meribath.

29 This is the lande which ye shall diuide by lot for an inheritance vnto the tribes of Israel, and these be their portions, saieth the Lord God.

30 These be the boundes of the citie, vpon the North part fiue hundred and foure thousand measures.

31 The gates of the citie shall haue the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates of ỹ North side: one gate of Ruben, another of Juda, the thirde of Leui.

32 Upon the East side fiue hundred and foure thousand [measures,] with three gates: the one of Joseph, another of Beniamin, the thirde of Dan.

33 Upon the South side fiue hundred & foure thousand measures, with the three gates: the one of Simeon, another of Issachar, the third of Zabulon.

34 And vpon the West side, fiue hundred and fiue thousande measures, with their three gates also: the one of Gad, another of Aser, the thirde of Nephthali.

35 Thus shal it haue eighteene thousand measures round about: and the name of the citie from that time forth shalbe, ‡ The Lord is there. ‡ Heb. Iehouh Shammah.

The end of the prophecie of Ezechiel.

The Booke of the Prophet Daniel.

The first Chapter.

1 The Prophet sheweth the captiuitie of Iehoakim king of Iuda. 4 Of the children that were in captiuitie, the king commãdeth to choose which of them should be taught the learning & language of the Chaldeans.

1 IN the [a] thirde yeere of the reigne of Iehoakim king of Juda, came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon vnto Hierusalem, and besieged it.

a Reade 2. king. 24. 10.

2 And the Lord deliuered Iehoakim the king of Juda into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he caryed away into the land of [b] Sennar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his goddes treasurie.

b Which was a plaine by Babylon, where was ỹ temple of the great God, & is here taken for Babylon.

3 And the king spake vnto Asphenaz the [c] chiefe chamberlaine, that he shoulde bring him certaine of the children of Israel, of the kings seede, and of the princes:

c Or, master of the Eunuches.

4 Springales without any blemish, but well fauoured, studious in all wisedome, skilfull for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and such as haue liuelinesse in them, that they [d] may stand in the kings palace: and whom they might teache the learning & the tongue of the Chaldeans.

d As wel to serue at the tables, as in other offices.

5 Unto these the king appointed a dayly prouisiō euery day of a portion of ỹ kings meate, and of the wine which he dranke, so to nourish rish them three yeeres, that afterward they might stand before the king.

6 Among these now were certaine of the children of Juda, [namely,] Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias.

7 Unto these the chiefe Chamberlaine gaue [e] other names, and called Daniel, Baltassar: Ananias, Sidrach: Misael, Misach: and Azarias, Abednego.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart that hee would not defile himselfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he required the chiefe Chamberlaine that he might not defile himselfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour and tender loue with the chiefe Chamberlaine.)

10 And the chiefe Chamberlaine said vnto Daniel, I am afraid of my lord the king which hath appointed you your meate and your drinke: wherefore should hee see your faces worse liking then the springales of your age, and so ye shall make me indanger my head vnto the king.

11 Then Daniel sayd vnto Melassar, whom the chiefe Chamberlaine had set ouer Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias:

12 O proue but ten dayes with thy seruants, and let vs haue pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances bee looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the ende of ten dayes their countenances appeared fairer and [f] fatter in flesh then all the childrens which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Melassar tooke away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge and vnderstanding in [g] all learning and wisedome: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all [h] visions and dreames.

18 Now when the [i] time was expired that the king had appointed to bring them in, ỹ chiefe Chamberlaine brought them before Nabuchodonosor.

19 And the king communed with them: but among them all were found none such as Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias: therefore stood they before the king.

20 In all matters of wisedome & vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better then all the wise men and soothsaiers that were in al his realme.

21 And Daniel abode still vnto the [k] first yeere of king Cyrus.

e Either because they would declare their power, as conquerers, to change the names of them they ouercame, or els for hatred of their Hebrew names.

f Or better liking.

g Meaning, liberall sciences and naturall knowledge, which was bled where they were conuersant.

h So that he onely was a Prophet, and none of the other: for by dreames and visions God appeared to his prophets, num. 12.

i Of the three yeeres aboue mentioned, dan. 1.

k That is, he was esteemed in Babylon as a Prophet, and in authoritie so long as that common wealth stood.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The dreame of Nabuchodonosor. 2 He calleth vnto him soothsayers, & requireth of them both ỹ dreame and the interpretation thereof.

1 IN the [a] second yeere of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, had Nabuchodonosor a dreame, wherethrough his spirite was troubled, and his sleepe brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the wise men, and soothsayers, and sorcerers, and the Chaldees, for to shew the king his dreame: So they came, and stood before the king.

3 And the king said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Upon this the Chaldeans answered ỹ king in the Syrians speach, O king, God saue thy life for euer: shew thy seruants the dreame, and we shal shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: If ye will not make me vnderstand the dreame, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall bee drawen in pieces, and your houses made a takes.

6 But if ye tel me the dreame, & the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts, rewards, and great honour, therefore shew me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered againe, and said, The king must shew his seruants the dreame, & so shall we declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered, saying, I perceiue of a trueth that ye would [b] redeeme the time, for so much as ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 Therefore if ye will not tell me the dreame, this is your onely purpose, Ye haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes to speake before me, til the time be changed: therefore tel me the dreame, that I may know that ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Upon this the Chaldees gaue answere before the king, and said, There is no man vpon earth that can tel the thing which the king speaketh of, yea, there is neither king, prince, nor lord, that euer asked such things at a wise man, soothsayer, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the king requireth, neither is there any that can certifie the king thereof, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For the which cause the king was wroth with great indignation, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men at Babylon.

13 So the decree went foorth, and the wise mẽ were slaine: they sought also to slay Daniel, with his companions.

14 Then Daniel staied the counsell and decree with Arioch the captaine of the kings garde, who a The father and the sonne were both called by this name, so that it is meant of the sonne whē he reigned alone: for he reigned also after a sort with his father. Or els in the second yeere of his generall conquest of other barbarous nations.

b Ye seeke occasion of delayes, vntill some other affaires might happen, and make me forget the matter.

who was gone foorth to put to death the wise men of Babylon.

15 He answered & said vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastie from the king? Then Arioch tolde Daniel the matter.

16 Upon this went Daniel, & desired the king that he would giue him leasure, and that hee would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and shewed the thing to Ananias, Misael, and Azarias, his companions:

18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellowes, with other such as were wise in Babylon, perished not.

19 Then was this secret reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by night: then Daniel praysed the God of heauen.

Psal.113.1. 20 Daniel also answered, and said,* The name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisedome and strength are his.

21 He changeth the times and seasons, he taketh away kings, he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisedome vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 He reuealeth the deepe and secret things: he knoweth the thing that lieth in darkenes, for the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisedome and strength, and hast shewed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared the kings matter vnto vs.

24 Upon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to destroy ỹ wise men at Babylon: he went and said thus vnto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babylon, but bring me before the king, and I shal shew the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all the haste, and said thus vnto him, I haue found a man among the children of Iuda that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king and said to Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, Art thou able to shew me the dreame which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of ỹ king, and sayd, As for this secret which the king maketh inquisition, there can neither the men of vnderstanding, nor soothsayers, nor ỹ wise men, nor readers of destinies, declare it vnto the king:

c Whereby he stirreth the king with a certaine feare and reuerence of God, that he might be the more apt to receiue the high mysteries that should be reuealed.

28 But there is a c God in heauen that reuealeth secrets, and sheweth the king Nabuchodonosor what is for to come in ỹ latter dayes. Thy dreame, and that which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O king, whē thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde what should come hereafter: so he that is the opener of mysteries, telleth thee what is for to come.

30 As for me, this secret is not shewed mee for any wisedome that I haue more then any other liuing, but onely that I might shew the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thine owne heart.

31 Thou king sawest, and behold, there [was] a great image: this great d image, whose brightnesse was excellent, stoode before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

d By this is vnderstanded the world.

32 This images e head was of fine golde, his breast and armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of brasse.

e By gold, siluer, brasse, and iron, are meant the Chaldean, Persian, Macedonian, and Romane kingdome, which should successiuely rule the world, till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himselfe and destroy the last.

33 His legs were of iron, his feete were part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his feete that were of iron and clay, & brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer and gold broken all together, & became like the chaffe of Sommer floores, and the winde caried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and now will we shew before the king what it meaneth.

37 O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen vnto thee a kingdome, power, strength and glory.

38 And in all places wheresoeuer the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the foules of the aire hath he giuen into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler in them all: thou art this f head of gold.

f The first monarchie of the Chaldeans.

39 After thee shall arise g another kingdome, inferior to thee, and another h third kingdome shalbe of brasse, which shal beare rule ouer all the earth.

g The second of ỹ Persians.
h That is, of the Macedonians.

40 The i fourth kingdome shall bee strong as iron: for as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things, and as iron bruiseth al these things, [so] shall it breake in pieces & bruise [all.]

i That is, of ỹ Romanes.

41 Whereas thou sawest the feete & toes, part of potters clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shalbe k deuided, but there shal be in it of the strength of iron, for so much as thou sawest the iron mixt with the clay and earth.

k That is, either by ciuill warres and discords, or els into two sorts of people: the one should be warrelike, and therefore compared to iron, the other factious and seditious, & therefore compared to clay & earth.

42 And [as] the toes of the feete [were] part of iron and part of clay: [so] shall the kingdome be part strong, and part broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixt with clay and earth, they shall mingle themselues with the seede of men, and yet not ioyne one with another, as iron will not be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings shall the

God

God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which shal neuer be destroyed, and this kingdome shall not bee giuen ouer to another people: but it shall breake and destroy all these kingdomes, and it [l] shall stand for euer.

l It shall be eternall, for the spirite that is in the Church, is life eternall, Rom. 8.

45 Like as thou sawest that [m] without any hands there was cut out of the mount a stone, which brake the yron, the brasse, the clay, the siluer and golde in pieces: so the great God hath shewed the king what shal come to passe after this: this is a true dreame, and the interpretation of it is sure.

m That is, that the kingdome of Christ should be set vp by God, not by men.

46 Then the king Nabuchodonosor fel downe vpon his face, and bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commanded to ordeine [n] rewardes and sweete odours for him.

n To performe his promise made to him that should interpret his dreame, as verse 6.

47 The king answered Daniel, and sayd, Of a trueth [o] your God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a reuealer of secretes, seeing thou couldest reueale this secrete.

o This confessiō was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharao, Exod. 6. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soone afterward.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great gifts: he made him ruler of all the countreys of Babylon, and the chiefe of the rulers aboue al the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel made request to the king, and he set Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon: but Daniel [sate] in the kings gate.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The king setteth vp a golden image, which he cōmandeth to be worshipped. 8 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego are accused, because they despised the kings cōmandement.

1 NAbuchodonosor the king made an image of golde, which was threescore cubites high, and sixe cubites thicke: he set it vp in the playne of Dura, in the prouince of Babylon.

2 Then Nabuchodonosor the king sent forth, to gather together the Dukes, Lords, & Nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies and sheriffes, with all the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the [a] dedication of the image which Nabuchodonosor the king had set vp.

a Shewing, that the idole is not knowē for an idole so long as it is with ꝑ workemen: but whē the ceremonies and customes are rehearsed and vsed, and the consent of the people is there, thē of a block they think they haue made a god.

3 So the Dukes, Lordes, and Nobles, the iudges and officers, deputies and sheriffes, with all the rulers of the prouince, gathered thē together vnto the dedication of the image that Nabuchodonosor the king had set vp, and they stood before the image which Nabuchodonosor had set vp.

4 Then an Heralde cryed aloude, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when yee heare the noyse of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and al maner of instruments of musike, ye fall downe and worshippe that golden image that Nabuchodonosor the king hath set vp.

6 Whoso thē falleth not downe and worshippeth, shal euen the same houre be cast into the middest of a hot fierie furnace.

7 Therefore when all the folke hearde the noyse of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, and all instruments of musike, then all the people, nations, and languages fell downe and worshipped the golden image that Nabuchodonosor ꝑ king had set vp.

8 Now were there certaine men of the Chaldees, that went euen then, and [b] cryed out an accusation of the Iewes.

b Chaldees, accused ꝑ Iewes with an outcrye.

9 They spake, and sayd vnto the king Nabuchodonosor, O king, liue for euer.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sounde of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, shall fall downe and worshippe the golden image:

11 And whoso then fell not downe, and worshipped not, that he shoulde be cast into ꝑ middest of an hot fierie furnace.

c It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the kings fauour, thinking if these three had bene destroyed, they might haue better occasion to accuse Daniel after: and this declareth that this policie of erecting this image, was inuented by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

12 Nowe are there certaine Iewes, whome thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon, [namely] [c] Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: these men, O king, regarded not thy commandement: yea, they wil not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonosor in his anger and wrath commaunded that Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego shoulde be brought vnto him: so these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonosor spake vnto them, and sayde, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, will not you serue my gods, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

d They should haue done diuine to God, if they should haue doubted in this paip cause, & therefore they say that they are resolued to dye for Gods cause.

15 Nowe therefore bee readie when yee heare the sounde of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, to fall downe and worship the image which I haue made: for if yee worship it not, yee shall bee cast immediately into the middes of a hot fierie furnace: for who is that God that can deliuer you out of my hands?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego answered the king, and sayde, O Nabuchodonosor, wee are not [d] carefull to answere thee in this matter:

17 Beholde, our God whome wee serue, is [e] able to deliuer vs from the hot fierie furnace: and he will deliuer vs out of thy hande, O king.

e They ground on two points: first on the power & prouidence of God ouer them: secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatrie.

18 And though hee will not, yet shalt thou knowe, O king, that wee will not serue thy gods, nor worshippe the golden image which thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenance of his face changed vpon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: therefore hee charged and commanded that they shoulde heate the fornace, one seuen times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And hee charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to binde Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, and to cast thē into the hot fierie furnace.

21 So these men were bounde in their coates, hosen, head attyre, with their other garments, and cast into the middes of the hot fierie furnace.

22 Therefore because the kings commaundement was straite, and the furnace was exceeding hot, the men that put in Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, the flame of the fire destroyed them.

23 And these three men, Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, fel downe in the middes of the hot fierie furnace bound.

24 Then Nabuchodonosor the king was astonied, and rose vp in al haste: he spake vnto his counsell, and sayd, Did not we cast three men bound into the middes of the fire? They answered and sayde vnto the king, It is true, O king.

25 He answered and sayd, Lo, I see foure men loose, walking in the middes of the fire, & they haue no hurt: and the fourme of the fourth is like the sonne of God.

26 Vpon this went Nabuchodonosor vnto the mouth of the hot fierie furnace, he spake also, and sayde, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ye seruants of the high God, go forth, and come hither. And so Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, came foorth of the middes of the fire.

27 The Dukes, Lordes, and Nobles, and the kings counsell came together to see these mē, vpon whome the fire had no maner of power in their bodies: insomuch that the very heare of their head was not burnt, and their clothes vnchanged, yea there was no smell of fire felt vpon them.

28 Then spake Nabuchodonosor, and sayde, Blessed be the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, which hath sent his angel, and deliuered his seruāts that put their trust in him, and haue altered the kings cōmandement, and ieoparded their bodies, rather thē they would serue or worship any god, except their owne God onely.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that euery people, nation, and language, which speake any blasphemie against the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, shall be drawen in pieces, and their houses shall be made a iakes: because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 So the king promoted Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, in the prouince of Babylon.

The iiii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor dreameth againe.

1 NAbuchodonosor king, vnto all people, nations, and languages that dwel vpon the [a] whole earth, peace bee multiplied among you.

a Meaning, so farre as his dominion extended.

2 I thought it good to shewe the signes and marueilous woorkes that the high God hath wrought vpon me.

3 O how great are his signes, and how mightie are his wonders? his kingdome is an [b] euerlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

b Reade Chap. 2.

4 I Nabuchodonosor being at rest in my house, and flowrishing in my palace,

5 Sawe a [c] dreame, which made mee afrayde, and the thoughtes vpon my bed with the visions of my head troubled me.

c This was an other dreame, beside that which he sawe of the foure empires.

6 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

7 So came the wise men, the soothsayers, the Chaldeans, and wysardes, to whome I tolde the dreame: but they coulde not shewe me the interpretation thereof.

8 Till at the last Daniel came before mee (whose name was Baltassar, according to the name of my god) which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him, and before him I tolde the dreame, saying,

9 O Baltassar, thou prince of wise men, for so much as I knowe that thou hast the spirite of the holy gods, and no secrete troubleth thee: tel me therfore the visions of my dreame that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of my head vpon my bed: and behold, I sawe a tree in the middest of the earth, and the height thereof was great:

11 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached vnto the heauē, and the sight thereof to the endes of all the earth.

12 The leaues thereof were fayre, & the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all: the beasts of the fielde had shadowes vnder it, and the foules of the ayre dwelt in the boughes thereof: all flesh fed of it.

13 I sawe in the visions of my head vpon my bed, and behold, a [d] watcher, and a holy one came downe from heauen, d Which was an angel of God.

14 And cryed mightily, saying thus, Hewe downe the tree, breake off his branches, shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruite abroade, that that the beastes may get them away from vnder him, and the foules from his branches.

15 Neuertheless, leaue ꝑ stumpe of his rootes still in the earth, and with a bande of yron and brasse [binde it] among ꝑ grasse of the fielde, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the fielde.

e That is, let him be depriued of naturall reason, and mans vnderstanding.

16 Let his heart bee [e] changed from mans [nature,] and let a beastes heart bee giuen vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

f This was ꝑ decrée of God himself, as appeareth in the 24. verse following, but it is called the decrée of the watchmen or angels, because they brought it and reuealed it: which the holy ones desire to come to passe, so consenting to the decrée of God, that ꝑ proude might bee brought downe, and the humble exalted.

17 This sentence [is] according to the [f] decree of the watchers, and the request according to the word of the holy ones: because liuing men should knowe that the highest hath power ouer the kingdom of men, & giueth it to whom it liketh him, and setteth vp ouer it the basest among men.

18 This is the dreame that I king Nabuchodonosor haue seene: therefore thou, O Baltassar, declare the interpretation thereof, for so much as al the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shewe mee what it meaneth: but thou canst doe it, for the spirite of the holy gods is in thee.

g Partly considering the great iudgements of God in the horrible punishment of this great prince: & partly moued with pitie of his cause, whom God had commanded the Iewes to wish well to, and pray for, as Ierr. 29.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, helde his peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughtes [g] troubled him. So the king spake, and sayde, O Baltassar, let neyther the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Baltassar answered, saying, O my lord, this dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine aduersaries.

20 As for the tree that thou sawest, which was great and mighty, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the sight therof through all the world,

21 Whose leaues were fayre, & the fruit thereof much, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beastes of the fielde had their habitation, and vpon whose branches the foules of the ayre did sit:

22 It is thou, O king, which art great & mightie, for thy greatnesse encreaseth and reacheth vnto the heauen, so doeth thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

23 But whereas the king sawe a watcher, and a holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayde, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a bande of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the fielde, and let it bee wet with the dewe of the heauen, and let his portion bee with the beastes of the fielde, till [h] seuen times passe ouer him:

h Whereby he meaneth a long space, as seuen peres, or seuen quarters of pêres, or seuen moneths: for the interpretation is diuers.

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea, it is the very decree of him that is highest of all, and it toucheth my lord the king.

25 Thou shalt bee cast out from men, and thy dwelling shall bee with the beastes of the fielde: with grasse shalt thou bee fedde like [i] oxen, thou must be wet with the dewe of the heauen, yea, seuen times shall passe ouer thee, till thou [k] knowe that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom he list.

i Not that his shape ꝑ forme was changed into a beast, but that he was rather stricken mad, and so ꝺisposed mans cõpanie: or was cast out for his tyrannie, and so wandered among the beastes, and ate hearbes and grasse.

k Daniel sheweth ꝑ cause why God thus punished him.

26 Moreouer, whereas it was saide that the stumpe of the roote of the tree should be left still: it betokeneth that thy kingdome shall remayne whole vnto thee, after thou hast learned to knowe that the power commeth from heauen.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsell bee acceptable vnto thee, and [l] breake off thy sinnes by righteousnes, and thine iniquities by mercie toward the poore: loe, let there be a healing of thine errour.

l Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy sinnes, and where thou hast cruelly oppressed many poore, be nowe mercifull vnto them in righteousnesse, so shall the errours of thy former life be redressed.

28 All these things touch the king Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after twelue moneths, the King walked in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

30 And the king spake, and sayde, Is not this great Babylon that I haue built for the house of the kingdome by the might of my power, & for the honour of my maiestie?

31 While these wordes were yet in the kings mouth, there fell a voyce from heauen, saying, O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee, 32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens company, thy dwelling shall bee with the beastes of the fielde: so that thou shalt eate grasse like oxen, and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest that the highest hath power vpon the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whom it pleaseth him.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that hee was cast out of mens companie, and did eat grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his heares were growen as Egles [fethers,] and his nayles like birds clawes.

m That is, the seuen times, or pêres mentioned in the verses 16, 23. and 25.

34 When this [m] time was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thankes vnto the highest, I magnified and prayed him that liueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from one generation to another.

35 And all they that dwel vpon the earth are to be reputed as nothing, and according to his wil he worketh in ꝑ armie of heauē, & among the inhabiters of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hande, or say vnto him, What doest thou?

36 At the ſame time was mine vnderſtanding giuen me againe, and I was [reſtored] to the honour of my kingdome, my glorie and my beautie was reſtored vnto mee, and my counſaylours and [n] princes ſought vnto mee, and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

n By whom it ſéemeth he was put from his kingdome before.

37 Now therefore I [o] Nabuchodonoſor praiſe, and extoll, and magnifie the king of heauen, whoſe woorkes are all trueth, and his wayes iudgement, and thoſe that walke in pryde hee is able to abaſe.

o He doth not onely prayſe God for his deliuerance, but alſo confeſſeth his fault, þ God onely may haue the glory, and man the ſhame, and that he may be exalted, and man caſt downe.

The v. Chapter.

1 Balthaſar king of Babylon abuſing the veſſels of the Temple, ſeeth an hande writing on the wall. 8 The ſoothſayers called of the king, can not expounde the writing.

1 KIng Balthaſar made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his princes, & dranke wine [a] before the thouſand.

a That is, not alone, as commonly he was wont, but in a ſolemne banquet, whereunto he receiued all his nobles to accompanie him.

2 And Balthaſar, when hee had taſted the wine, commanded to bring him the golde and ſiluer veſſels, which his father Nabuchodonoſor had brought from the Temple in Hieruſalem, that the king, and his princes, and his wiues, and his concubines myght drinke therein.

3 So were brought the golden veſſels that they had taken out of the Temple of þ Lords houſe at Hieruſalem: and the king, and his princes, his wiues, and his cõcubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and prayſed the gods of gold, ſiluer, braſſe, yron, wood, and ſtone.

5 In the very ſame houre there appeared fingers of a mans hande writing, right ouer [b] againſt the candleſticke vpon the plaſter of the wall of the kings palace, and the king ſaw the knockles of the hand that wrote.

b That it might the better be ſéene.

6 Then changed the king his countenance, and his thoughtes troubled him, ſo that the ioyntes of his loynes were looſed, and his [c] knees ſmote one againſt the other.

c So that he that before cõtemned God, was moued by this ſight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgements.

7 Wherefore the king cryed mightily, that they ſhoulde bring the ſoothſayers, Chaldees, and wiſardes: the king ſpake alſo to the wiſe men of Babylon, and ſayde, Who ſo can reade this writing, and ſhewe mee the interpretation thereof, ſhall bee clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of golde about his necke, and ſhall bee the thirde ruler in the kingdome.

8 Upon this came al the kings wiſe men, but they could neither read the writing, nor ſhew the king the interpretation.

d This ſome thinke was his mother, other, his grandmother, of all likelihood a woman of great age, that could remember the actes of Daniel.

9 Thẽ was king Balthaſar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, & his princes were aſtonied.

10 Nowe the [d] Queene, by reaſon of the talke of the king and his princes, came into the banquet houſe: and the Queene ſpake, and ſayde, O king, liue for euer: let not thy thoughtes trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome that hath the ſpirite of the holy goddes within him: and in the dayes of thy father, light, and vnderſtanding, and wiſedome, lyke the wiſedome of the goddes was founde in him, whome the king Nabuchodonoſor thy father, þ king [I ſay] thy father made chiefe of the [e] wiſemen, ſoothſayers, Chaldeans, and wyſardes, e Read Chap. 4. and this declareth both that this name was odious vnto him, and alſo that he did not vſe theſe vile practiſes, becauſe hée was not among them when all were called.

12 Becauſe that ſuch an abundant ſpirite, knowledge, and vnderſtanding, to expounde dreames, to open ſecretes, and to declare hard doubtes, was founde in him, yea, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Baltaſar: let Daniel be called, and hee ſhall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: ſo the king ſpake vnto Daniel, and ſaide, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Juda, whome my father the king brought out of Jurie?

14 I haue heard of thee that thou haſt the ſpirite of the holy goddes, and that light and vnderſtanding, and excellent wiſedome is found in thee.

15 Now haue there bin brought before me wiſe men, and ſoothſayers, to reade this writing, and to ſhewe mee the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldeſt ſhewe interpretations, and diſſolue doubtes: nowe if thou canſt reade this writing, and ſhewe me the meaning thereof, thou ſhalt be clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of golde about thy necke, and be the thirde ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel anſwered, and ſaid before the king, As for thy rewardes keepe them to thy ſelfe, and giue thy giftes to another: yet I wil reade the writing vnto the king, and ſhew him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the moſt high God gaue vnto [f] Nabuchodonoſor thy father a kingdome, & maieſtie, and honour, and glory.

f Before he read this writing, he declareth to þ king his great ingratitude towarde God, who could not be moued to giue him the glory, conſidering his wonderfull woorke toward his grandfather: and ſo ſheweth that he ſinneth, not of ignorance, but of malice.

19 And for the maieſtie that hee gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: hee ſlewe whome hee woulde, hee ſmote whome it pleaſed him: againe, whom he woulde hee ſet vp, and whom he liſt he put downe.

20 But becauſe his heart was loftie, and his minde ſtrengthened in pryde, he was depoſed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his glory from him.

21 He was driuen out from the ſonnes of men, his heart was made like the beaſtes, and his dwelling

dwelling was with the wilde asses, they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till hee knewe that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that hee appoynted ouer it whomsoeuer he pleaseth.

Or, Belsasar.

22 And thou his sonne, D ‖ Balthasar, hast not submitted thine heart, though thou knewest all these things:

23 But hast lyft vp thy selfe against the Lord of heauen, so that the vesselles of his house were brought before thee, that thou and thy princes, with thy wiues and concubines, might drinke wine thereout: and thou hast praysed the goddes of siluer, and golde, of brasse, and yron, of wood, and stone, which neyther see, heare, nor vnderstande: as for the God in whose hand consisteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou hast not glorified him.

g After that God had so long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendment.

24 g Then was the knockles of the hande sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writting that hee hath written: MENE, h MENE, THECEL, VPHARSIN.

h This worde is doubled, not onely to exaggerate the certainetie of the matter, but also as some thinke, the one to signifie the ende of þ king, the other the ende of þ kingdome.

26 Now the interpretation of the thing is this, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an ende.

27 THECEL, Thou art weighed in the ballance, and art found wanting.

28 PHERES, Thy kingdome is deuided, and giuen to the Medes and Perses.

29 Then commanded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chaine of gold about his necke, and made a proclamation cõcerning him, that he should be the thirde ruler in the kingdome.

i Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

30 The very same night was Balthasar þ king of the Chaldees slayne.

31 And i Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeres of age.

The vi. Chapter.

Daniel is made ruler ouer the lordes.

1 IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome a hundred and twentie gouernours, which shoulde bee ouer the whole kingdome.

a Thus the wicked can not abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface thẽ, therefore against such assaultes there is no better remedie then to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

2 Aboue these he set three princes, of whome Daniel was one, that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them, & the king shoulde haue no damage.

3 Nowe this Daniel was preferred aboue the princes and gouernours, for the spirite [of God] was plenteous in him, so that the king was minded to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours a sought an occasion against Daniel, concerning the kingdome, but they coulde finde none occasion n or fault: for hee was so faythfull, that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then sayde these men, We shall finde none occasion against this Daniel, except wee finde it against him concerning the lawe of his God.

6 Upon this went the princes and lords together vnto the king, and sayde thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for euer.

7 All the rulers of the kingdome, the officers, and gouernours, the counsaylours, & dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, That whoso desireth any petition eyther of any god or man within these thirtie dayes, except of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the Lions denne.

8 Nowe, O king, confirme the decree, & seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and decree.

10 Nowe when Daniel vnderstoode that hee had sealed ẏ writing, hee went into his house, and the b windowes of his chamber towarde Hierusalem stoode open, there kneeled hee downe vpon his knees three times a day, hee made his petition, and praysed his God, as hee did afore time.

b Because he would not by his silẽce shew that he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windowes towarde Hierusalem when he prayed, both to stirre vp himselfe with the remembrances of Gods promises to his people when they shoulde pray towarde the Temple: & also þ others might see that he woulde neuer consent in heart nor deed, for these fewe dayes, to any thing contrary to Gods glorye.

11 Then these men assembled, and founde Daniel making his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the king, and spake before him concerning his commandement, saying, O king, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes whoso requireth his petition of any god or man, but only of thy selfe, O king, he shall bee cast into the denne of Lions? The king answered, and sayde, Yea, it is true, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians that altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and sayde vnto the king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Juda, O king, regardeth neither thee, nor thy decree that thou hast sealed: but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these wordes, hee was sore displeased with him selfe, and set his heart on Daniel to deliuer him, and hee laboured til the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

c Thus þ wicked maintayned ill lawes by constancie and authoritie, which is oft times eyther lightnesse or stubburnesse, when as the innocents therby perishe and therefore gouernours ought neither to feare nor be ashamed to breake such.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and sayde vnto him, Knowe this, O king, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians [is,] that the commandement and statute which the king maketh, may not bee c altered.

16 Then the king commanded, & they brought Daniel, & they cast him into the Lions denne. Nowe the king spake vnto Daniel, and said, Thy God whom thou alway seruest, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a stone, and layd vpon the mouth of the denne, this the king sealed with his owne ring, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose concerning Daniel should not be changed.

18 So the king went into his palace, and remained fasting, neither was there any instruments of musicke brought in before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 But betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, the king arose, and went in all haste vnto the denne of the Lions.

20 Nowe as hee came nigh vnto the denne, hee cryed with a piteous voyce vnto Daniel, yea, the king spake, and said vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God whom thou seruest alway able to deliuer thee from the Lions?

21 Then sayde Daniel vnto the king, O king, liue for euer.

22 * My God hath sent his Angel, which hath shut the Lions mouthes, so that they might not hurt me, for mine [d] vngiltinesse is founde out before him: and as for thee, O king, I neuer [e] offended thee.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded to take Daniel out of the denne: so Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no maner of hurt was founde vpon him, for hee [f] put his trust in his God.

24 And as for those men which had accused Daniel, the king commanded to bring them, and to cast them into the Lions denne, them, their children, and their wiues: so the Lions had the maistrie of them, and brake all their bones a sunder or euer they came at ỹ ground of the denne.

25 After this wrote king Darius vnto all people, nations, and tongues, that dwelt in all lands, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

26 My commaundement is in all my dominion and kingdome, that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels God: for hee is the liuing God which abideth euer, his kingdome shall not fayle, and his power is euerlasting.

27 It is he that deliuereth and saueth, he doeth wonders and marueilous woorkes in heauen and in earth, hee hath preserued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

28 * So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

1.Mac.2 60.

Dan.1.21.

d Mine vprightnesse in this thing wherein I was charged, was approued of God.

e For he dyd disobey the kings wicked commandement to obey God, and so did no iniurie to the king, who ought to command nothing whereby God should be dishonoured.

f Because he committed him self wholly vnto God, whose cause he did defende, he was assured that nothing but good could come vnto him, wherein we see the power of faith, as Heb.11.

The vii. Chapter.

A vision of foure beastes is shewed vnto Daniel.

1 IN the first yeere of Balthasar king of Babylon, sawe Daniel a dreame, and there were visions in his head vpon his bedde: which dreame hee wrote, and declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake, and sayde, I sawe in my vision by night, and behold, the foure [a] windes of heauen stroue vpon the great sea.

3 And foure great beastes came vp from the sea, one diuers from another.

4 The first was a [b] Lion, & had Egles wings: I beheld till his wings were pluckt frō him, and he lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon his feete like a man, and there was giuen him a mans heart.

5 Beholde, another beast [which was] the seconde, was like a [c] Beare, and stoode vpon the one side: betwixt his teeth in his mouth hee had three ribbes, and it was sayde vnto him thus, Arise, eate vp much flesh.

6 Then I looked, and behold, there was another like vnto a [d] Leopard, this had wings as a foule, euen [e] foure vpon the backe: this beast had foure heads, and there was power giuen him.

7 After this I sawe in a vision by night, and beholde, the fourth beast was [f] grimme and horrible, and marueilous strong: it had great yron teeth, it deuoured & destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete, it was vnlike the other beastes that were before it: for it had tenne hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another litle horne, before whom there were three of the first hornes pluckt away: and behold, this horne had eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were set vp, and the ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snowe, and the heares of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fierie flame, and his wheeles as burning fire.

10 There issued forth a firie streame, and went out from before him: a thousande thousandes ministred vnto him, and tenne thousand thousands stoode before him: the iudgement was set, and the bookes opened.

11 Then tooke I heede thereunto, because of the voyce of the proude wordes which ỹ horne spake: I beheld till the beast was slayne, and his body destroyed, and giuen to bee burnt in the fire.

12 As concerning the other beastes, they had their dominion taken away, but their liues were prolonged for a certaine time & season.

13 I saw in visions by night, and behold, there came one in the clouds of heauen, like ỹ sonne of man, which went vnto ỹ ancient of dayes, before whom they brought him.

14 And

a Which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in ỹ world in all quarters.

b The beastes are kings, kingdomes, or monarchies. By the Lion, the kingdome of Babylon is vnderstanded, which speedily vanquished the nations adioyning: but after his wings were pluckt, and his kingdome taken away, he returned to the condition of a man, and no Lion.

c The seconde monarchie of the Persians and Medes.

d The thirde monarchie of the Macedonians.

e That is, his foure chiefe captaines, which had the empire after his death deuided among them.

f That is, the Romane empire which was as a monster, and could not be compared to any beast, because the nature of none was able to expresse it.

g Which signifie tenne kings, as verse 24.

14 And he gaue him dominiõ and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations, and languages should serue him: * his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away, and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

Mich.4 7. luke 1.33.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirite in the middest of my body, & the visions of my head made me afrayde.

16 I gate mee vnto [b] one of them that stoode by, and asked him the trueth concerning all these thinges: so hee tolde mee, and made mee vnderstande the interpretation of these things.

b Meaning, of the angels, as vers. 10.

17 These great beastes which are foure, are foure kinges which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the [i] high saintes shall receiue a kingdome, and possesse a kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

i That is, Gods elect people, which shall haue a kingdome and Church to continue in for euer.

19 After this, I required to knowe the trueth concerning the fourth beast, which was so vnlike the other beastes, and so horrible, whose teeth were of yron, and his nayles of brasse, which deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete:

20 [I desired] also [to knowe the trueth] as touching the tenne hornes that hee had vpon his head, and this other which came vp afterwarde, before whose face there fell downe three, which horne had eyes, and a mouth that spake presumptuous thinges, and looked with a grimmer visage then his [k] fellowes.

k That is, the three other empires.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battell against the saintes, yea, and preuailed against them,

22 Until [l] ancient of dayes came, that iudgement was giuen to the high saintes, and till the time came that the saintes had the kingdome in possession.

l That is, God which was before all times, as vers. 9.

23 Hee gaue mee this answere, That fourth beast shall bee the fourth kingdome vpon earth, it shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes: it shall deuoure, treade downe, and destroy all other landes.

24 The tenne hornes, are tenne kinges that shall arise out of the kingdomes: after whom there shall stande vp another, which shall bee vnlike to the first, and hee shall subdue three kings:

25 And he shall speake wordes against the Highest of all, he shall destroy the high saints, and thinke that hee may change times and lawes: they shall be giuen into his hande vntill a time, and times, and the diuiding of a time.

26 But the iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

27 * And the kingdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen, shall be giuen to the [m] people of high saintes, whose kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and al power shal serue and obey it.

Luke 1.33.

m That is, to the Church.

28 Hitherto the ende of the wordes: I Daniel had many cogitations [which] troubled me, and my countenance changed in mee: but the words I kept still in my heart.

The viii. Chapter.

A vision of a strife betweene a Ramme and a hee Goate.

1 IN the third yere of the reigne of king Balthasar, there appeared a vision vnto me, [euen] vnto me Daniel, [a] after that which I had seene in the beginning.

a After the general vision he commeth to certaine particular visions as touching the destruction of the monarchie of the Persians and Macedonians, for the ruine of Babylonias was at hande, and also he had sufficiently spoke thereof.

2 I sawe in a vision (and when I sawe it, I was in the palace of Susis, which is in the prouince of [b] Elam) and in the vision mee thought I was in the riuer of Ulai.

b Elam, is Persia.

3 Then I looked vp, and sawe, and beholde, there stood before the riuer a [c] Ramme, which had two hornes, and these two hornes were high, but [d] one was higher then the other, and the highest came vp last.

c That is, the kingdome of the Persians and Medes nowe ioyned togither.

d Meaning Cyrus, who after grewe greater in power then Darius his vncle and father in lawe.

4 I sawe that this Ramme pushed with his hornes against the West, against the North, and against the South: so that no [e] beastes might stande before him, nor defend them frõ his power, but he did as him listed, & became great.

e No kings or nations.

5 And as I considered, beholde, there came a hee [f] Goate from the West ouer the whole earth, and touched not the grounde, and this Goate had a [g] horne appeared betwixt his eyes.

f Meaning Alexander, that came with great expedition.

g Though he came in the name of all Grecia, yet he bare the title and dignitie of the generall captaine, so that the strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this horne.

6 And hee came vnto the Ramme that had the two hornes (whome I had seene standing by the riuer) and ranne fiercely vpon him with his might.

7 And I saw him draw nigh vnto the Ramme, being very fierce vpon him, yea, [h] smote the Ramme, and brake his two hornes, neyther had the Ramme so much strength as to stande before him: but hee cast him downe to the ground, trode him vnder his feete, & there was none able to deliuer the Ramme out of his power.

h Alexander ouercame Darius in two battels, and so had the kingdome of the Medes and Persians.

8 Therfore the Goate waxed exceeding great, and when hee was at the strongest, his great horne was broken: then grewe there other foure notable ones in the steade of it, towarde the foure windes of heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a litle horne, which waxed very great, towarde the South, towarde the East, and towarde the pleasant land.

10 [i] It grewe vp vnto the hoste of heauen, wherof it did cast some downe to the ground, and of the starres also, and trode them vnder foote.

i That is, Antiochus, who raged against the elect of God.

k That is, God.

11 Yea, it grewe vp against the k prince of the host, from whom the dayly [sacrifice] was taken away, and the places of the sanctuarie cast downe.

12 And power was giuen vnto it ouer the dayly [sacrifice] for the iniquitie, & it shall l cast downe the trueth to the ground: and thus shal it doe, and prosper.

l This horne shal abolish for a time the true doctrine, & so corrupt Gods seruice.

13 Vpon this I heard one of the Saintes speaking, and one of the m Saintes spake vnto n Palmoni, saying, Howe long shall the vision of the dayly [sacrifice] and of the iniquitie of desolation [endure,] to giue both the sanctuarie and the power to be troden vnder foote?

m One of the angels.

n That is, a secrete one, or a marueilous one, whereby is vnderstãded Christ the reuealer of all secretes.

14 And hee answered me, Vnto the o Euening and the Morning, two thousand & three hundred: then shall the sanctuarie be cleansed.

o Euening & morning, doe signifie a naturall day, that is, 2300. dayes.

15 Now when I Daniel had seene this vision, and sought for the vnderstanding of it, behold, there stoode before me p like the similitude of a man.

p That is, Christ.

16 And I heard a mans voyce q betwene Ulai, which cryed, and sayde, * O Gabriel, r make this man vnderstand the vision.

q That is, betwéne the bankes of the riuer Ulai.

Daniel. 9. 21.

r This power to commande the angel, declareth it was God.

17 So he came and stoode by me, but I was afrayde at his comming, and fell downe vpon my face: then said he vnto me, Vnderstand, O thou sonne of man: for at the s time of the ende this vision [shalbe.]

s That is, the vision shall be fulfilled hereafter in time conuenient.

18 Nowe as hee was speaking vnto mee, I fell in a slumber vpon my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place.

19 And hee sayde, Beholde, I will shewe thee what shall bee in the last wrath: for in the time appoynted it shalbe fulfilled.

20 The Ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, is the king of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the Goate is the king of Grecia: and the great horne that is betwixt his eyes, that is the first king.

22 But whereas it brake, and foure other rose vp in the steade, [it signifieth] that out of one of this people shal stand vp foure kingdomes, but not so mightie as it.

23 And in the end of their kingdome, when the wicked are come to the full, a king of a t fierce countenance, and vnderstanding hard sentences, shall stand vp.

t That is, Antiochus, who should be impudent, shamefull, subtill, & craftie.

24 His power shall be mightie, but not in u his strength, and he shall destroy wonderfully, he shall prosper, and practise, & destroy y x mightie and the holy people.

u That is, not like Alexanders strength.

x Both the Gentiles that dwell about him, and the Iewes.

25 And through his policie also hee shall cause craft to prosper in his handes, hee shall extoll himselfe in his heart, & in prosperitie he shall destroy many, and many one shall bee put to death in his wealthinesse: he shall stande vp against the y prince of princes, but he shalbe destroyed without z hand.

y Meaning, against God.

z God would destroy him with a notable plague, 2. Mac. 9.

26 And the vision of the * Euening & the Morning which is declared, is true: therfore seale thou vp the vision, for it shall bee after many dayes.

Reade verse 14.

27 Vpon this was I Daniel feeble, so that I lay sicke [certaine] dayes: but when I rose vp, I went about the kings businesse, & was astonied at the vision, neuertheless, no man vnderstood it.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Daniel desireth to haue that perfourmed of God, which he hath promised cõcerning the returne of the people from their banishment in Babylon. 26 The death of Christ.

1 IN the first yeere of * Darius the sonne of a Ahasuerus, which was of the seede of the Medes, & was made king ouer ỹ b realme of the Chaldees,

Iere. 29. 10.

a Otherwise called Astyages.

b For Cyrus led with ambition, went about warres in other countreys, and therefore Darius had ỹ title, though Cyrus were king in effect.

2 Euen in the first yeere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstoode by c bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie the Prophet that he woulde accomplish seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.

c Though he were an excellent Prophet, yet dayly encreased in knowledge by reading the scriptures. 2. Esdr. 1. 5.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lorde God, and sought by prayer and supplication, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

4 I prayed vnto the Lorde my God, and made my confession, * saying, O Lord God, great and fearefull, which keepeth couenant & mercie with them that loue ‡ him, and keepe his commandements, ‡ thee.

5 * We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquitie, and haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, and haue departed frõ thy preceptes, and from thy iudgements.

Baruc. 1. 17.

6 We woulde not obey thy seruants the Prophetes that spake in thy name to our kings, and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lorde, righteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs open shame, as is come to passe this day vnto euery man of Juda, and to thẽ that dwel at Hierusalem, yea, vnto all Israel, whether they bee farre or nigh, thorowout all the landes whither thou hast driuen them, because of their offences that they haue done against thee.

8 Yea, O Lorde, vnto vs, to our kings, and princes, to our forefathers that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame.

9 Vnto the Lord our God pertaineth compassion and forgiuenesse, though wee haue rebelled against him.

10 And wee haue not obeyed the d voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in his lawes which he layd before vs, by the hand of his seruants the Prophets, d He sheweth that they rebel against God, which serue him not according to his commandement & word.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy lawe, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voyce: wherefore the c curse and othe that is written in the lawe of Moses the seruant of God, against whom we haue offended, is powred vpon vs:

c As Deu.17. 16. of the curse confirmed by an othe.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, to bring vpon vs such a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, like as it is now come to passe in Hierusalem.

13 Yea, all this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come vpon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lord our God, that we might turne againe from our wickednes, and vnderstand thy trueth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched vpon the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in al his workes which he doeth: for we would not hearken vnto his voyce.

15 And now, O Lord our God, *thou that with a mightie hand hast brought thy people out of the lande of Egypt, to get thy selfe a name, which remayneth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

Baruc.2.11. exod.14.28.

f That is, according to all thy mercifull promises, and performance therof.

16 O Lord, according to all thy f righteousnes, I beseeche thee let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from the citie of Hierusalem, thy holy hill: for because of our sinnes, and for the wickednesse of our fathers, Hierusalem and thy people are a reproche vnto all them that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his intercession: O let thy face g shine ouer thy sanctuarie that lyeth waste, for the h Lordes sake.

g Shew thy selfe fauorable. h That is, for thy Christes sake, in whom thou wilt accept all our prayers.

18 O my God, encline thine eare, and hearken, open thine eyes, behold how we be desolated, yea, and the citie also which is called after thy name: for we doe not present our prayers before thee in our i owne righteousnesse, but in thy great mercies.

i Declaring that the godly flée onely vnto gods mercies, & renoūce their owne workes, whē they séeke for remission of their sinnes.

19 O Lorde heare, O forgiue Lorde, O Lorde k consider, and do it, deferre not for thine owne sake, O my God: because thy name is called vpon thy citie, and vpon thy people.

k Thus he could not content himselfe with any vehemencie of wordes, when he was so led with a feruent zeale, considering Gods promise made to the citie in respect of the Church, & for the aduancement of Gods glory.

20 As I was yet a speaking at my prayers, knowledging mine owne sinnes, & the sinnes of my people Israel, presenting so mine intercession before the Lorde my God for the holy hill of my God:

21 Yea, while I was yet speaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel (whom I had seene afore in the vision) came flying, and touched me about the time of the euening oblation:

22 And he enfourmed mee, and talked with me, and sayde, O Daniel, I am nowe come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications, the commaundement came forth, and I am come to shewe thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderstand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 l Seuentie weekes are determined ouer thy people, and ouer thy holy citie, to finish the wickednesse, and to seale vp the sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, and to bring in euerlasting righteousnesse, to seale vp the vision and prophecie, and to anoynt the most holy.

l He alludeth to Jeremies prophecie, wherby he declared there should be seuentie yeeres of the Jewes captiuitie for the execution of Gods iudgement: but now Gods mercie should seuen folde exceede his iudgement, in giuing them seuentie tunes seuē yeeres of a happier state, though not altogether voyde of affliction, which amounteth to foure hundred and ninetie yéeres, euen to the comming of Christ, and so then it should continue for euer.

25 Knowe therefore and vnderstand, that from the going forth of the commaundement to bring againe the [people] and to build Hierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, there shall be seuen weekes, and threescore & two weekes: and the streete shall be buylt againe, and the wall, [euen] in the straitnesse of time.

26 After these threescore and two weekes shall Messiah be slayne, and not for himselfe: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the citie & the sanctuarie, and the end thereof shalbe with a flood, and vnto the ende of the battell it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 He shall confirme the couenant with many for one weeke, and in the middest of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the ouerspreading of the abominations, * he shal make it desolate, [euen] vntill the consummation determined shall be powred vpon the desolate.

Matth.24.15.

The x. Chapter.

1 There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linen,
11 which sheweth him wherefore he was sent.

1 IN the a thirde yere of Cyrus king of Persia, there was shewed vnto Daniel, otherwise called Baltassar, a matter, yea, a true matter, but it is yet a long time vnto it: he vnderstoode the matter, and perceyued what the vision was.

a He noteth this third yere, because at this time the buylding of ỳ temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus sonne, whē the father made warre in Asia minor against ỳ Scythians, which was a discouraging to the godly, and a great feare to Daniel.

2 At the same time I Daniel mourned for the space of three weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, as for flesh and wine there came none within my mouth: no, I did not once anoynt my selfe till the whole three weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 Upon the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, I was by the side of that great riuer, [euen] Hiddekel.

5 I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a man clothed in linen, whose loynes were girded vp with fine golde of Uphaz.

6 His bodie was like the Turkeis stone, his face to looke vpon was like lightning, his eyes as lampes of fire, his armes and feete were like in colour to pullished brasse, and the voyce of his wordes was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw this vision, for the men that were with me sawe not the vision: but a great fearefulnesse fell vpon them, so that they fled away, and hid themselues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great great vision, & there remayned no strength in me: for my colour was turned in me into corruption, and I reteined no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I fell astonyed vpon my face, and my face towarde the earth.

10 And behold, a hande touched me, which set mee vp vpon my knees, and vpon the palmes of my handes.

11 And he sayd vnto me, O Daniel, thou well beloued man, take good heede to the wordes that I say vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I nowe sent. And when he had sayde these wordes vnto mee, I stoode vp trembling.

12 Then sayde he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for since the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstande, and to chasten thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.

b Meaning, Cãbises, who reigning in his fathers ablece, did not onely hinder thus long the buylding of the temple, but would haue further raged, if God had not sent me to resist him: and therefore haue I staied for the profite of the Church.

13 But the [b] prince of the kingdome of Persia withstoode me one and twentie dayes: but lo, Michael, one of the chiefe Princes came to helpe me, and I remained there by the kings of Persia.

14 And I am come to shewe thee what shall come vnto thy people in the latter dayes: for it will be long yet or the vision bee fulfilled.

15 Now when he had spoken these wordes vnto mee, I cast downe my head to the grounde, and helde my tongue.

16 And beholde, there touched my lippes one very like vnto a man: then opened I my mouth, and spake, & said vnto him that stoode before mee, O my Lorde, by the vision my ‖ ioyntes are turned out of [their] place, and I haue reteined no strength.

‖ Or, my sorowes are turned vpon me.

17 For howe can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lorde, [being] such a one? And as for mee, straightway there remayned no strength in me, neither is there breath left in mee.

18 Then there came againe and touched mee one like the appearance of a man, & he strengthened me:

19 And said, O man greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be strong, and of good courage. So when he had spoken vnto mee, I was strengthened, and sayd, Speake on, my Lord: for thou hast strengthened me.

c Meaning, that he would not only bridle the rage of Cambiles, but also the other kings of Persia, by Alexander the king of Macedonia.

20 Thus sayde he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? nowe will I returne to fight with the Prince of the Perses: as soone as I go forth, loe, the [c] Prince of Greeke land shall come.

d For this angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head therof 21 Neuertheless, I will shew thee that that is noted in the scripture of trueth: and there is none that helpeth mee in these things, but [d] Michael your Prince.

The xi. Chapter.

1 A prophecie of the kings of Persia. 3 Of the kingdome of Greece. 5 Of the kingdome of Egypt, & of the bond thereof. 15 Of the battell with the kingdome of Syria.

1 AND in the first yeere of Darius of Media [a] I stoode to comfort him, and to strengthen him.

a The angell assureth Daniel, that God hath giuen him power to performe these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius when he ouercame the Chaldeans.

2 And nowe will I shewe thee the trueth: beholde, there shall stand vp yet three kings in Persia, but the fourth shalbe farre richer then they all: and by his strength & by his riches he shal stirre vp al against the realme of Greeke land.

3 Then shall there arise yet a mightie king, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe what him list.

4 And when he shall stande vp, his kingdome shalbe [b] broken, and shalbe diuided toward the foure windes of the heauen, and not towarde his posteritie, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdome shall be pluckt vp, euen for others besides these.

b Reade Chap. 5.

5 And the [c] king of the South shalbe mighty, and [d] [one] of his Princes, and he shall preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shalbe a great dominion.

c To wit, Ptolomeus king of Egypt
d That is, Antiochus the sonne of Seleucus, & one of Alexanders princes, shalbe more mightie, for he shall haue both Asia and Syria.

6 And in the ende of yeeres they shall be toyned together, and the kings [e] daughter of the South shal come to the king of the North for to make agreement, but she shal not reteyne the power of [f] the arme, neyther shall he continue nor his arme: but shee shalbe deliuered [to death,] and they that brought her, and he that begate her, and he that comforted her in these times.

e That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolomeus Philadelphus, shalbe giuen in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinitie, that Syria & Egypt should haue a continuall peace together.
f That force & strength shal not continue. for soone after, Berenice & her yong sonne after her husbands death was slayne of her stepsonne Seleucus Callinicus, & sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake.

7 But out of the budde of her rootes shall one stand vp in his steade, which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the fortresse of the king of the North, and do with them [as he lyst,] and shall preuaile,

8 And shall also carry captiues into Egypt their gods, with their moulten images, with their precious vessels of siluer and of golde, and he shall continue more yeeres then the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shal returne into his owne lande.

10 Wherefore his sonnes shalbe stirred vp, and shall gather together a mightie great hoste of people, and one shall come and ouerflowe, and passe thorowe: then shall he turne againe and be stirred vp at his fortresse.

11 Then the king of the South shalbe angrie, and shal come forth to fight with him, [euen] with the king of the North: for he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shalbe giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shalbe proude, and their hearts shalbe lifted vp, for he shall cast downe thousandes: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For

13 For the king of the North shall returne, & shall set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeeres) with a mightie armie and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shal many stand vp against the king of the South, so that the seditious children of thy people also shal exalt themselues to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the North shal come and cast vp a mount, and take the strong cities: and the armes of the South shall not resist, neyther his chosen people, neyther shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 And when he commeth, he shall handle him as he lyst, & no man shal stand against him, he shal stand in the pleasant [h] land, which by his hand shalbe consumed.

17 Againe, he shal set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, and his confederates with him, thus shall he do: and he shal giue him the [i] daughter of women to destroy her, but she shall not stand [on his side,] neyther be for him.

18 After this shall he turne his face vnto the [k] Iles, and shal take many: but a prince shall cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that, he shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon himselfe.

19 For he shall turne his face toward the fortes of his owne land: but he shalbe ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more found.

20 Then shall stande vp in his place a rayser of taxes [in] the glory of the kingdome, and after a fewe dayes he shall be destroyed, neyther in wrath nor in battell.

21 In his steade there shall stande vp a vyle person, to whome they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but he shall come in peaceably, and obteine the kingdome with flatteries.

22 And the armes shall be ouerflowed with a flood before him, and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shal worke deceitfully, for he shall come vp, and ouercome with a small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shall doe that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall diuide among them the pray, and the spoyle, and the substance, yea, and shal forecast his deuices against the strong holdes, [euen] for a time.

25 Also his power and heart shall be styrre vp with a great armie against the king of the South: the king of the South shalbe mooued vnto battell with a great and a mightie hoste also: neuertheless, he shal not stande, for they shall forecast deuices against him.

26 Yea, [l] they that feede of the portion of his meate shall destroy him, and his armie shall [m] ouerflow, and many shall fall and be slayne.

27 These two kings heartes shalbe to do [n] mischiefe, and they shal talke of deceite at one table, but it shal not prosper, for yet the ende shal be at the time appoynted.

28 Then shal he go home againe into his lande with great [o] substance, & set his heart against the holy couenant, so shall he doe, and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appoynted he shal come againe, and goe toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of [p] Chittim shal come against him, therefore he shalbe sory, and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall he doe, he shall [euen] returne and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shal stande on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuarie of strength, & shall take away the dayly [sacrifice,] and they shal set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenant, shal he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that knowe their God, shall preuayle and prosper.

33 Those also that haue vnderstanding among the people, shall enfourme the multitude, and for a long season they shal fall with the sword, with fire, with captiuitie, and with the taking away of their goods.

34 Nowe when they shall fall, they shalbe holpen with a litle helpe, but many shall cleaue vnto them faynedly.

35 Yea, some of those that haue vnderstanding shal fall, that they may be tryed, purified, and made white, till the time be out: for there is a time appoynted.

36 And a king shall doe what him lyst, he shall exalt and magnifie himselfe against all that is good, yea, he shall speake marueylous things against the God of gods, and he shall prosper tyll the wrath be fulfilled: for the determination is made.

37 He shal not regarde the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, yea, he shal not care for any good: for he shall magnifie himselfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shall hee honour the god Mauzzim, & the god whom his fathers knew not shal he honour, with gold and siluer, with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the holdes of Mauzzim with a strange god whome he shall acknowledge, he shal encrease his glory, & shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall deuide the land for gayne.

40 And at the ende of time shall the king of the [q] South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlewinde, with charets, horsemen, & with many shippes:

[a] That is, the Egyptians & their captaine Scopas, were not able to withstande Antiochus.

[b] He sheweth that he shal not onely afflict the Egyptians, but also the Jewes, & shall enter into their rountry, wherefore he admoniseth them before, that they may know by al these things come by Gods prouidence.

[i] Antiochus marryed his daughter Cleopatra to Ptolomens Epiphanes, thereby the rather to ouercome him: but she fauored her husband, and obeyed not the subtil practises of her father.

[k] The Jewes maner was to call all countries, Iles, that were diuided from the by the sea: yet Antiochus inuaded some that were Iles in deede, as Euboca, Phocea, Samos, Cyprus, &c. and at length conducted his armie into Grecia.

[l] Signifying Philometors Princes, and chiefe about him.

[m] Antiochus shall vanquish the Egyptians.

[n] The vncle and nephewe shall take truce and banket together, yet in their hearts they shal imagine mischiefe one against an other.

[o] Which Philometor shall take of the Jewes in spoiling Hierusalē & the temple: & this is tolde them before, to moue them to patience, knowing all things are done by Gods prouidence.

[p] That is, the Romanes power shall come against him: for Popilius Popilius ambassadour appoynted him to depart in the Romanes name, which thing he obeyed, though with griefe: and to reuenge his rage, he came against the people of God the second time.

[q] That is, both the Egyptians and Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shalbe ouercome.

shippes: he shall enter into the countries, and shal ouerflowe, and passe thorow.

41 He shal enter also into the pleasant land, and many countreys shall be ouerthrowen: but these shall escape out of his hande, [euen] Edom and Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hand also vpon the countreys, and the lande of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Libyans and Ethiopians in his passing [by them.]

f When he shal heare that Crassus is slaine, & Antonius discomfited.

44 Neuertheless, the tydings out of the East f and the North shal trouble him, therefore he shal g go forth with great wrath, to destroy and roote out many.

g For Augustus ouercame þ Parthians, and recouered that which Antonius had lost.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betweene the seas, in the glorious and holy mountaine: yet he shal come to his ende, and none shal helpe him.

The xii. Chapter.

2 He prophecieth the resurrection of the dead. 9 The darkenesse of the prophecie of Daniel.

a The Angel here noteth two things: First, that the Church shalbe in great affliction & trouble at Christes cõming. And next, that God will send his Angel to deliuer it: whom here he calleth Michael.

1 AND at that time shall a Michael stande vp, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people: for there shal be a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a natiõ, vnto that same time: & at ỳ time thy people shalbe deliuered euery one ỳ shalbe found written in the booke.

2 And many of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, b shall awake, some to euerlasting life, & some to shame & perpetuall contempt.

b Meaning, al shal rise at the generall resurrection, which here he mentioneth, that the faithfull may euer haue respect vnto it, for in earth shall they finde no comfort.

3 They that c be wise, shal shine as the brightnesse of the firmament: and they that d turne many to righteousnesse, as the starres for euer and euer.

c Or such as teach and instruct others: or such as haue kept the feare of God, and his religion.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut vp the words, and seale the booke till the time of the ende: many shal e go about here and there, and knowledge shalbe encreased.

d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods worde, and next, all the faithfull, which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.

e Not wandring as bagabonds, but to search for the knowledge of God.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and beholde, there stoode other two, the one on this side of the banke of the f riuer, and the other on that side of the banke of the riuer.

f Which was Tygris, in Hebrew Hiddekel, as Eze. 10.

6 And [one] said vnto the man clothed in linen, which was ouer the waters of the riuer, When shall the end of these wonders be?

g Which was a double oth, & did the more confirme the thing.

7 And I heard ỳ man clothed in linen, which was ouer the waters of the riuer, whẽ he held vp his right g hande and his left hande vnto heauen, and sware by him that liueth for euer, that [it shall tarie] for a h time, times, and a halfe: and when he shall haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shalbe finished.

h Whereby the Angel declareth rather ỳ which pertaineth to the comfort of the elect, that these afflictions should once haue a certaine end, then that the time thereof should be certainely knowen, as a thing not expedient for creatures to know, Act. 1.

8 Then I heard it, but I vnderstoode it not: then sayd I, O my Lord, what shal be the end of these things?

9 And he sayde, Goe thy way, Daniel, for the words are closed vp and sealed till the time of the ende.

10 Many shall be purified, made white, and tryed: but the wicked shall doe wickedly, & none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding, but the wise shall vnderstand.

i From ỳ time that Christ by his sacrifice shal take away the sacrifice & ceremonies of the lawe, & the destruction of the temple and citie, which is meant here by the abominable desolation.

11 And from the time that the i daily [sacrifice] shalbe taken away, & the abominable desolation set vp, there shalbe a k thousand, two hundred, and ninetie dayes.

k Signifying, that the time shalbe long, & yet the childs of God ought not to be discouraged, though it be deferred.

12 Blessed is hee that waiteth and commeth to the thousand, three hundred, and fiue & thirtie dayes.

13 But goe thou thy way till the ende bee, for thou shalt rest, and stande vp in thy lot at the ende of the dayes.

The ende of the prophecie of Daniel.

The booke of the Prophet Osee.

The first Chapter.

1 The time wherein Osee prophecied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ is the head of all people.

1 THe worde of the Lord came vnto Osee the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Ozia, Joathan, Ahas, and Hezecias, kings of Juda, and in the time of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas king of Israel.

2 When the Lorde spake first vnto Osee, he sayde vnto him, Goe take vnto thee a wife of a fornications, and children of fornications: for the lande hath committed great fornication, [departing] from the Lorde.

a That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot, not that ỳ Prophet did this in deede, but he sawe this in a vision: or els was commãded by God, to set forth vnder this parable or figure, the idolatrie of the Israelites.

3 So he went and tooke Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: which conceyued and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord saide vnto him, Call his name Jezrahel: for I will shortly auenge the blood of Jezrahel vpon the house of Jehu, and will bring the kingdome of the house of Israel to an ende.

5 And

5 And in that day wil I also breake the bowe of Israel in the valley of Iezrahel.
6 And shee conceyued againe, and bare a daughter: and [the Lord] sayd vnto him, Call her name Loruhamah, [that is, not obteining mercie,] for I will no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel, but I will vtterly take them away.
7 Yet I will haue mercy vpon the house of Iuda, and will saue them, euen through the Lorde their God: and will not saue them by bowe, sworde, battel, horses, or horsemen.
8 Now when she had weaned Loruhamah, she conceyued againe, and bare a sonne.
9 Then said he, Cal his name Leammi, [that is, not my people:] for ye are not my people, therefore I wil not be your [God.]
10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shalbe as the sande of the sea, which can neyther be measured nor tolde, * and in the place where it was sayd vnto them, Ye are not my people: it shalbe sayde vnto them, Ye are the children of the liuing God.
Rom.9.26.
11 Then shal the children of Iuda and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoynt themselues one head, & they shal come vp out of the land: for great shalbe the day of Iezrahel.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 He sheweth their idolatrie, and threatneth them, except they repent.

1 TEll your brethren that they are my people, and your sisters that they haue obteyned mercie.
2 As for your mother, yee shall chide with her, and reproue her, for shee is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredome from her face, and her adulterie from her breastes:
3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her euen as shee came into the worlde, and make her as a wildernesse, and as a dry land, and slay her for thyrst.
4 And I wil haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the children of fornication.
5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and she that bare them is come to confusion: for she sayde, I will go after my louers, that giue me my bread and my water, my wooll and flaxe, my oyle and my drinke.
6 Therefore beholde, I will stoppe thy way with thornes, and make a hedge, that she shall not finde her paths.
7 And though shee runne after her louers, yet shal she not ouertake them: she shal seeke them, but not finde them. Then shal she say, I will go and returne to my first husband: for at that time it was better with me then nowe.
8 And she did not know that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplyed her siluer and golde, which they bestowed on Baal.
9 Therefore will I returne and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and fet againe my wooll and my flaxe, [which I gaue her] to couer her shame.
10 And nowe wil I discouer her shame, [euen] in the sight of her louers, and no man shal deliuer her out of my handes.
11 Moreouer, I will take away all her myrth, her holy dayes, her newe Moones, her Sabboths, and all her solemne feastes.
12 I will destroy her vineyardes and figge trees, whereof shee sayde, These are my rewardes that my louers haue giuen me: I wil make them as a wood, and wilde beastes shall eate them vp.
13 I will visite vpon her the dayes of Baal, wherein shee burned incense to him, and decked her selfe with earings and iewels, she followed her louers, and forgate me, sayeth the Lorde.
14 Wherefore beholde, I will allure her, and bring her into the wildernesse, and speake friendly vnto her.
15 From thence wil I giue her her vineyardes againe, yea, and the valley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and she shall sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came out of the land of Egypt.
16 And at that day (sayth the Lorde) thou shalt call me, O my husband, and shalt call me no more Baal.
17 For I will take away those names of Baal from her mouth, yea, she shal neuer remember their names any more.
18 Then wil I make a couenant for them, with the beastes of the fielde, with the foules of the ayre, and with euery thing that creepeth vpon the earth: As for bowe, sworde, and battell, I will destroy out of the lande, and will make them to sleepe safely.
19 And I wil marrie thee vnto mine owne selfe for euer, yea, euen to my selfe will I marrie thee, in righteousnes, in iudgement, in louing kindenesse and mercie.
20 In faithfulnesse also wil I marrie thee vnto my selfe, and thou shalt know the Lorde.
21 At the same time wil I shewe my selfe gracious vnto the heauens, sayth the Lorde, and the heauens shal helpe the earth.
22 And the earth shal helpe the corne, wine, and oyle: and they shal helpe Iezrahel.
23 * And I will sowe her for my selfe in the earth, and will haue mercy vpon her that had not obteined mercy: and to them which were not my people, I will say, Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God.
1.Pet.2.10. Rom.9.25.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Iewes shalbe cast off for their idolatrie. 5 Afterward they shal returne to the Lord.

1 Then

1 THen sayd the Lord to me, Goe yet and loue a woman beloued of her husband, and yet an adultaresse, according to the loue of the Lorde towarde the children of Israel: and yet they haue respect to strange gods, and loue the wine pottes.

2 So I gate her for fifteene siluerlings, and for an Homer and an halfe of barley,

3 And sayd vnto her, Thou shalt bide with me a long season, thou shalt not play the harlot, thou shalt be to no other man, and I wil be so vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall sit a great while without king, without prince, without sacrifice, without image, without Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 But afterward the children of Israel shalbe conuerted, and seeke the Lord their God, and Dauid their king, and in the latter dayes they shall worship the Lorde, and his louing kindnesse.

The iiii. Chapter.

A complaynt against the people, and the priestes of Israel.

1 HEare the worde of the Lorde, Ye children of Israel, for the Lorde hath a controuersie with the inhabitantes of the land: for there is no trueth, there is no mercy, there is no knowledge of God in the land.

2 But swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft, and adulterie hath gotten the ouerhande, and one bloodguyltinesse foloweth another.

3 Therefore shall the lande mourne, and all they that dwell therein shalbe rooted out, the beastes of the fielde, the foules of the ayre, and the fishes in the sea, shalbe consumed.

4 Yet let no man rebuke or reproue another, for thy people [are] as they that ‖ are at controuersie with the Priest.

‖ Or, contend.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day time, and the Prophet with thee in the night, and I will bring thy mother to destruction.

6 My people perish for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therefore will I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my Priest: and forsomuch as thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 The more they encreased in multitude, the more they sinned against me, [therefore] will I change their honour into shame.

a That is, the priests seeke to eate the peoples offerings, and flatter them in their sinnes. Esai. 24. 2.

8 They eate vp the a sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednesse.

9 * Thus the Priest is become like the people: wherefore I will punish them for their wicked wayes, and reward them according to their imaginations.

10 They shall eate, and not haue ynough, they haue vsed whoredome, but shall not prosper, they haue forsaken the Lorde, and not regarded him.

11 Whoredome, wine, and new wine take the heart away.

12 My people aske counsell at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirite of fornication hath caused [them] to go astray, and they haue committed fornication against their God.

13 They make sacrifices vpon the toppes of the mountaines, and burne their incense vpon the hilles, yea, vnder the Okes, Poplars, and Elmes, for there are good shadowes: therfore your daughters are become harlots, and your spouses haue broken their wedlocke.

14 I will not punish your daughters for being defiled, & your spouses that became whores, seeing the fathers themselues haue medled with harlots, and sacrificed with whores: but the people that will not vnderstande, must be punished.

15 Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Juda sinne, come not ye vnto Gilgal, neither go yee to Bethauen, neyther sweare ye, The Lord liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious like an vnruly Heifer: now the Lord wil feede them as a Lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim [is become] partaker of idoles, let him alone.

18 Their drunkennesse stinketh, they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue [to say] with shame, Bring ye.

19 The winde hath bounde them vp in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

The v. Chapter.

1 Against the priests & rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is in vayne.

1 OYe priestes, heare this, take heede, O thou household of Israel, giue eare, O thou house of the king, for iudgement is against you, because you are become as a snare on Mispah, and a spred nette vpon the mount of Thabor.

2 They ‖ kill sacrifices by heapes, and turne farre from the Lorde, and I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

‖ Or, they were profound wise to offer sacrifices

3 I knowe Ephraim wel ynough, and Israel is not hid fro me: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They will not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirite of fornication [is] in the middest of them, and they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doeth testifie to his face, therefore both Israel and Ephraim shall fall for their wickednesse, and Juda with them also.

6 They shall come with their sheepe and bullockes to seeke the Lorde, but they shall not finde him: for he is gone from them.

7 They

7 They haue transgressed against the Lorde, and brought vp bastarde children: a moneth therefore shall deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow with the shawmes at Gibea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, cry out at Bethauen, after thee, O Beniamin.

9 In the time of the plague shall Ephraim be layde waste, in the tribes of Israel haue I shewed the trueth.

10 The princes of Iuda haue bene like them that remoue the land markes, therefore wil I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because he willingly ‖folowed the commandement.

‖Or, because he beginneth to go about filthines, that is, to worship Ieroboams Calues.

12 Therefore wil I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Iuda as a caterpiller.

13 When Ephraim sawe his sickenesse, and Iuda his disease, Ephraim went vnto Assur, and sent vnto king Iareb, yet coulde not he helpe you, nor ease you of your payne.

14 I will be vnto Ephraim as a Lion, and as a Lions whelp to the house of Iuda: I, [euen] I will spoyle, and goe my way: I will take away, and no man shal rescue.

15 I wil goe and returne to my place, till they knowledge that they haue sinned, and seeke mee. In their aduersitie they shall [a] earely seeke me.

a That is, diligently.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickednesse of the priestes.

1 COme, let vs turne againe to the Lord: for he hath smitten vs, & he shall heale vs, he hath wounded vs, and he shall binde vs vp againe.

1. Cor. 15. 4. 2 *After two dayes shal he quicken vs, in the thirde day he shall raise vs vp, so that we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shall we haue vnderstanding, and endeuour our soules to knowe the Lord: he shal goe forth as a spring of the day, and come vnto vs as the rayne, and as the latter rayne vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I doe vnto thee? O Iuda, howe shall I entreate thee? for your goodnesse is like a morning cloude, and like a deawe that goeth early away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe the prophets, and let them be slayne for my wordes sake, so that thy punishment shal come to light.

Mat 9. 13. and 12. 7. Eccle. 4. 17. 1. king. 15. 22. 6 * For I desired mercie, and not sacrifice: *and the knowledge of God, more then whole burnt offerings.

7 But euen like as Adam did, so haue they broken my couenant, and set me at nought.

8 Gilead is a citie of wicked doers, and [is] polluted with blood.

9 And as thieues [armed] wayte for him that passeth by the way: such is the counsell of the priestes, which with one agreed counsel murder cruelly such as keepe the way, yea, they dare do all vnspeakeable mischiefe.

10 Horrible things haue I seene in the house of Israel: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, and thou Iuda keepest an haruest for thy selfe, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Of the vices and wantonnesse of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

1 WHen I vndertooke to make Israel whole, then the vngratiousnesse of Ephraim, and the wickednes of Samaria came to light, for they go about with lyes, therfore the thiefe robbeth within, and the spoyler destroyeth without.

2 They consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickednesse: Nowe their owne inuentions haue beset them, which I see well ynough.

3 They make the king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lyes.

4 All these burne in adulterie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth when he hath left kneading, till the dough be leauened.

5 [That is] the day of our king, the princes haue made him sicke with bottels of wine, he hath stretched out his hand to scorners.

6 For whyles they lye in wayte, they haue made ready their heart like an ouen, their baker sleepeth all night, in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are altogether as hot as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne Iudges, all their kings are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me.

8 Ephraim hath myxt himselfe among [heathen] people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and he regardeth it not: he waxeth full of graye heares, yet will he not know it.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, yet wil they not turne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for all this.

11 Ephraim is like a Doue that is beguyled, and hath no heart: now call they vpon the Egyptians, nowe go they to the Assyrians.

12 But whyle they be going here and there, I shall spreade my nette ouer them, and drawe them downe as the foules of the ayre: and according as they haue bene warned, so will I punish them.

13 Woe be vnto them, for they haue forsaken me, they must be destroyed, for they haue set mee at nought: I am he that hath redeemed them, yet haue they spoken lyes against me.

14 They call not vpon me with their heartes, but lye howling vpon their beddes: they will assemble assemble themselues for corne and wine, but they rebell against me.

15 I haue bounde [vp] and strengthened their arme: yet doe they imagine mischiefe against me.

16 They turne themselues, but not to the most highest, & are become as a broken bowe, their princes shalbe slayne with the swoorde for the malice of their tongues: this shalbe their derision in the land of Egypt.

The viii. Chapter.

The destruction of Iuda and Israel, because of their idolatrie.

1 SEt the Trumpe to thy mouth, [swiftly] as an Eagle [sh all the enemie come] against the house of the Lorde: for they haue broken my couenant, and transgressed my lawe.

2 Israel should haue sayde vnto me, Thou art my God, we know thee.

3 But he hath refused the thing that is good, therefore shal the enemie pursue him.

4 They haue ordeyned kinges, but not through mee, they haue made princes, and I knewe it not: of their siluer and golde haue they made them idoles, therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy Calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off, for my wrathfull indignation is gone forth against them: howe long will they be without innocencie?

6 For [the Calfe] came from Israel, the workeman made it, therfore can it be no God: but euen in pieces shal the Calfe of Samaria be broken.

7 They haue sowen winde, therfore shall they reape a whirlewinde: it hath no stalke, the budde shal bring forth no meale: and if haply it do, strangers shal deuoure it vp.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shal they be among the Gentiles as a vessell of no reputation.

9 For they haue gone vp to Assyria, [and are as] a wilde Asse solitarie by himselfe: Ephraim hath hyred louers.

10 And though they haue hyred them among the heathen, yet now will I gather them, and they shall begin to be wearie with the burden of the king and the prince.

11 Ephraim hath made many altars to doe wickednesse, his altars [I say] be had to his sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great things of my lawe, [but] they are counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifice of mine offerings, and eate it, [but] the Lord hath no pleasure in it: nowe will he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes, they shall returne into Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten him that made him, and hath builded fayre palaces, and Iuda hath encreased strong cities: but I will sende a fyre into their cities, and it shall consume their palaces.

The ix. Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

1 DO not thou triumph, O Israel, make no boasting ouer ioyous things as do the heathen: for thou hast committed adulterie against thy God, whorish rewardes hast thou loued more then all the corne floores.

2 The corne floore and the wine presse shall not feede them: and the newe wine shal fayle them.

3 They shal not dwell in the Lordes land, but Ephraim shall turne againe into Egypt, and eate vncleane things among the Assyrians.

4 They powre out no wine for a drinke offering vnto the Lord, neyther shall their slayne offerings be pleasant vnto him, they shall be vnto them as the bread of mourners, all they that eate shalbe defiled: for their bread [a] for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lorde.

a The sacrifice which they offered for their sinnes.

5 What will ye doe then in the solemne day, and in the feast day of the Lord?

6 For behold, they are gone away for destruction, [but] Egypt shal gather them, & Memphis shal burie them: the nettles shal possesse the pleasant [places] of their siluer, thornes shalbe in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompence are come: and then shal Israel knowe that they were deceyued by a foolish, mad, and franticke prophet: for the multitude of their iniquitie [God] shall multiplie enemies against thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim [was] with my [b] God, [but] the prophet [is] the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and an abomination in the house of his God.

b At the beginning the teachers instructed the people out of Gods worde onely: but afterward trapped them to idolatrie. Iud. 19. 18.

9 * They haue gone to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibea: [therefore] he will remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

10 I founde Israel like grapes in the wildernesse, and sawe their fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first season, but they went to Baal Peor, and separated themselues to that shame, and became as abominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a birde: from the byrth, from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 And though they bring vp children, yet I wil destroy them before they be men: Yea, woe shal come to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim (as mee thinke) is planted in a pleasant place, like as is Tyrus: but nowe must she bring her owne children forth to the manslayer.

14 O Lord,

14 O Lord giue them: what shalt thou giue them? Giue them an vnfruitfull wombe, and dry breasts.

1.King.8.3. 15 *All their wickednesse is done at Gilgal, there do I abhorre them: for the vngratiousnes of their owne inuentions I wil drive thē out of my house, I will loue them no more, for all their princes are vnfaithfull.

16 Ephraim is hewen downe, their roote is dried vp, so that they shall bring no more fruite: yea, and though they bring forth any, yet wil I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 My God shal cast them away, for they haue not bene obedient vnto him, therefore shall they wander among the heathen.

The x. Chapter.

1 Against Israel and his idols. 14 His destruction for the same.

a As the vine spoyled of her grapes beareth newe the more following, so the Israelites enioying rest after afflictiōs, renewed their former wickednes and idolatrie.

1 ISrael [is] an a emptie vine, [yet] hath it brought forth fruit to it selfe, according to the multitude of the fruite thereof he hath encreased the altars, according to ỹ goodnesse of their land, they haue made them faire images.

2 Their heart is deuided, [therefore] shal they now bee destroyed, [the Lorde] shall breake downe their altars, he shall destroy their images.

3 For now shall they say, We haue no king, because we haue not feared the Lord, & what should then a king do to vs?

b Promising to be faithfull to God. c They pretend sinceritie, but their fruits shewed ỹ contrary, much like as when wormewood groweth where wheate was looked for.

4 They haue spoken words, swearing falsly in making a b couenant: thus c iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the field.

5 They that dwel in Samaria shal feare, because of the calfe of Bethauen, for the people thereof shal mourne ouer it, yea, & the priests also reioyced on it for the glorie thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shalbe brought to the Assyrian for a present to the king Jareb: Ephraim shal receiue shame, and Israel shal be confounded for his owne imaginations.

7 Samaria with his king shall vanish away as the fome vpon the water.

Luke 23.30. apoc.9.16. d In those dayes wast thou as wicked as the Gabaonites, and hast continued in the same euer sithence. e Binding the selues together by leagues to ayde one another, as cattell are poked together at the plough. f Delighting in pleasure and profit without payne,

8 The high places of Auen where Israel doth sinne, shalbe destroyed, thistles & thornes shall grow vpon their altars: * then shall they say to the mountaines, Couer vs, and to the hils, Fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes d of Gabaa: there they stood, the battel in Gabaa against the children of iniquitie did not touch them.

10 It is my desire that I should chastise them, and the people shalbe gathered against them, when they shal ioyne themselues together in their two c furrowes.

11 And Ephraim [is as] an heifer vsed to delite in f treading out the corne: but I will passe by her faire necke, I will make Ephraim to h ride: Juda shal i plowe, & Jacob shall breake his clods.

g I will lay the yoke of affliction on his necke. h To be caried away into captiuitie. i The remnant of the people shall remaine and till the ground.

12 Sowe to your selues in righteousnesse, and reape the fruites of well doing, plough vp your fresh land: for it is time to seeke the Lord, till he come and raine righteousnes vpon you.

13 For you haue plowed vngodlines, you haue reaped iniquitie, you haue eaten the fruite of lies, because thou puttest thy confidence in thine owne wayes, and leanest to the multitude of thy strong men.

14 There shall growe a seditiō among thy people, all thy strong cities shalbe laied waste, euen as Salma destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battell, where the mother with ỹ children were dashed in pieces.

15 Euen so shall Bethel do vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shall the king of Israel be destroyed.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The benefits of the Lord toward Israel. 5 Their ingratitude against him.

1 WHen Israel was yong, I loued him, and called my sonne * out of the land of Egypt. Mat.2.13.

2 They a called them, [but] they went thus from them, they sacrificed vnto Baal, and burned incense to images. a The prophets called the people.

3 I gaue to Ephraim one to leade b him, who should beare him in his armes: but they knew not that I healed them. b Ye meaneth Moses.

4 I led them with cordes of a man, [euen] c with bandes of loue: and I was to them as he that taketh off the yoke from their iawes, and I laid d meate to them.

c That is, friendly, not as beastes. d He fed them with Manna in the desart.

5 He shall no more returne into Egypt, but Asshur c shalbe his king, because he refused to conuert. e For their vnthankefulnesse they shall be led captiue into Assyria.

6 Therefore shall the sword fall on his cities, and shal consume his f branches, and deuoure them, because of their owne counsels. f The villages adioyning to the cities.

7 And my people shall be in a doubt for their rebellion against me: for whē the [prophets] called thē to the most high, not one yet would giue him his glory.

8 How shal I giue thee vp Ephraim? [how] shal I deliuer thee Israel? *how shal I make thee as g Adama? [how] shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled within me. Gen.19.24. amos.4.11. g Which were two of the cities destroyed with Sodome.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath, I will not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee, and I will not enter into the citie.

10 They shall walke after the Lorde, he shall roare like a Lion: when he shall roare, thē the children of the West shall feare.

11 They ‖ shall feare as a sparowe out of ‖ Or, flee.

Egypt, and as a doue out of the land of Assur, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceite: but Juda yet ruleth [h] with God, and is faithful with the saintes.

[h] Ruleth their people agreing to Gods word.

The xii. Chapter.

He admonisheth by Iacobs example to trust in God, and not in man.

1 EPhraim is fed with the winde, and followeth after the East winde, he daily encreaseth lies and destruction, they be confederate with the Assyrians, their oyle is caried into Egypt.

2 The Lord hath a controuersie with Juda, & will visite Iacob according to his wayes, according to their owne inuentions, will he recompence them.

Gen.25.25. 3 *He tooke his brother by the heele when he
Gen.32.24. was yet in his mothers wombe, *and in his strength he wrestled with God:

4 He stroue with the angel, and gate the victorie, he wept and praied to him, he found him at Bethel, and there he spake with vs.

5 Yea, the Lord God of hostes, euen the Lord himselfe is his memorial.

6 Therefore turne to thy God, keepe mercy & iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

[a] More like to the wicked Canaanites, then to Abraham, and the godly patriarches.

7 [He is] [a] Chanaan, the ballances of deceite are in his hand, he loueth to oppresse.

8 And Ephraim hath sayd, Tush, I am rich, I haue good ynough: in all my workes shall not one iniquitie bee found wherein I haue offended.

9 Yet am I the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, I will yet make thee dwell in the tabernacles, as in the high feast dayes.

10 I haue spoken through the Prophets, and haue multiplied visions, and shewed similitudes by the ministerie of the Prophets.

11 In Galaad is iniquitie, they are fallen to vanitie: at Gilgal they haue sacrificed oxen, & their altars are as heapes in the furrowes of the field.

Gen.28.5. 12 *Jacob fled into the land of Syria, and Israel serued for a wife, and for a wife hee kept [sheepe.]

Exod.14.31. 13 *By a Prophet the Lord brought them out of Egypt, & by a Prophet was he preserued.

14 But Ephraim hath prouoked him to displeasure through his abominations, therfore shall his blood be powred vpon himselfe, and the Lord his God shall reward him his blasphemies.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The abomination of Israel, 9 and cause of their destruction.

1 WHen Ephraim spake, there was trembling, he was exalted among the Israelites: but hee hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more and more, and of their siluer they haue made them moulten images after the imaginations of their owne braines, [that is] very idols, and yet all is nothing but the worke of the craftesman, they say one to another, Whiles they [a] sacrifice a man, let them kisse [b] the calues.

[a] When they sacrificed their children to Moloch.

[b] That is, worship the Calues set vp by king Jeroboam.

3 Therfore they shalbe as the morning cloud, & as the deaw that early passeth away, & like as dust ẏ the whirlwind taketh away from the floore, & as smoke ẏ goeth out of the chimney.

4 *Yet I am ẏ Lord thy God [which brought thee] out of the land of Egypt, & thou shalt know no God but me onely, neither is there any sauiour besides me. Esay 43.11.

5 I did know thee in the wildernes in ẏ land of drought.

6 But when they were wel fed & had inough, they waxed proud, and forgate me.

7 Therefore wil I be vnto them as a lion, and as a leopard in the wayes to the Assyrians.

8 I will meete them as a shee beare that is robbed of her whelpes: and I wil breake that stubborne heart of theirs, there wil I deuoure them like a lion, yea, the wilde beasts shall teare them.

9 O Israel [thine iniquitie] hath destroyed thee: but in me [onely is] thy helpe.

10 I am: where is thy king now that should helpe thee in all thy cities? yea, and thy iudges of whom thou saidest, *Giue me a king and princes. 1.Sam.8.5.

11 I gaue thee a king in my wrath, and in my displeasure I tooke him from thee againe.

12 The wickednes of Ephraim is bound together, and his sinne lieth hid.

13 Therefore shall sorowes come vpon him as vpon a woman that trauaileth: an vndiscrete sonne is he, els would he not stand still at the time [c] of birth of children.

[c] As a woman not labouring at the birth of her childe, destroyeth her self and the childe: so the people, if they do not repent whē God punisheth for sinnes, are occasion of their owne destruction. Ezec.19.12.

14 I will redeeme them from the power of the graue, and deliuer them from death: O death, I will be thy death: O hel, I wil be thy sting: yet can I see no comfort.

15 Though he grew among his brethren, *the East winde [euen] the winde of the Lord shal come vp from the wildernes, and dry vp his veine, and his fountaines shal be dried vp: he shal spoile the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

16 Samaria shal be made waste, for she is disobedient vnto her God: they shall perish with the sword, their children shall bee dashed in pieces, and their women great with child shal be ript vp.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The destruction of Samaria. 3 He exhorteth the Israelites to turne to God, who requireth praise & thanks.

1 O Israel, returne vnto ẏ Lord thy God, for thou hast fallē through thine owne wickednesse.

2 Take

2 Take these wordes with you when ye turne to the Lord, and say vnto him, O forgiue vs all our sinnes, receiue vs graciously, and then wil we offer calues of our lips vnto thee.
3 Ashur shall be no more our helper, neither will we ride vpon horses any more, neither will wee say any more to the worke of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee ỹ fatherlesse findeth mercie.
4 I will heale their rebellion, I will loue them freely: for mine anger is turned away frō him.
5 I will be vnto Israel as the dewe, & he shall growe as the lillie, and his roote shall breake out as the [trees] of Libanus.
6 His branches shall spred out abroad, and be as faire as the Oliue tree, and smell as Libanus.
7 They that dwel vnder his shadow, shall returne and growe vp as the corne, and florish as the vine: he shall haue as good a ‖ name as the wine of Libanus. ‖ Or, sauour.
8 Ephraim [shall say,] What haue I to doe with idoles any more? I haue heard him, and looked vpō him, I am like a greene firre tree, vpon me is thy fruit found.
9 Who so is wise, shal vnderstād these things, and he that is right instruct, wil regard them: for the wayes of the Lord are righteous, such as be godly wil walke in them: as for ỹ wicked, they shall stumble therein.

The ende of the prophecie of Osee.

The Booke of the Prophet Ioel.

The first Chapter.

1 A prophecie against the Iewes. 14 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting, for the miserie that was at hand.

1 THe worde of the Lorde that came to Joel the sonne of Pethuel.
2 Heare ye this you elders, & hearken with your eares all you that dwel in this lande: was there euer such a thing in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?
3 Of this thing tell your children, & let your children [shew it] to their children, and their children to [their] posteritie afterward.
4 That which the caterpiller hath left, the grashopper hath eaten, and what the grashopper left, hath the * canker worme eaten, and what the canker worme left, the locust hath deuoured.
5 Awake ye drunkards, and weepe, howle all ye wine bibbers for lacke of new wine: for it is cleane taken away from your mouth.
6 For a nation is come vp vpō my land, mightie, and without number: his teeth are as the teeth of a lion, and he hath the iawes of a great lion.
7 He hath destroyed my vine, and barked my figge tree, he hath pilled it, and cast it from him, and hath left boughes thereof white.
8 Lament as a virgin girded with sackcloth, for the husband of her youth.
9 The meate offring and drinke offring is cut off from the house of the Lord, the priests [I meane] the Lordes ministers mourne.
10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth: for corne is destroyed, the new wine is dried vp, the oile is vtterly taken away.
11 Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howle, O ye vine dressers, for the wheate and for the barley: for the haruest of the field is perished.
12 The vine is dried vp, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomegranate tree, and ỹ palme, and the apple tree, [euen] all the trees of the field are withered vp: for ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.
13 Gird your selues, and lament, O ye priests, howle ye out ye ministers of the altar, come, and lie all night in sackcloth ye seruants of my God: for the meate and drinke offerings are taken away from the house of your God.
14 *Proclaime a fast, call a congregation, gather the elders together, [with] all the inhabitants of the land, vnto the house of the Lord your God, and cry vnto the Lord, Ioel.2.15.
15 Alas for this day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, euen as a destruction from ỹ almightie shall it come.
16 Is not the meate cut off before our eyes, [yea] mirth and ioy from the house of our God?
17 The seede is rotten vnder their clods, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is withered.
18 O how cattel mourne, the heards of beastes are in woful case for lacke of pasture: and the flockes of sheepe are destroyed.
19 Vnto thee, O Lord, will I cry, for fire hath destroyed the fruitfull places of the desart, and the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the field.
20 The beasts also of the field cry out vnto thee: for the riuers of water are dried vp, and fire hath deuoured vp the fruitfull places of the desart.

* That is, a worme that hath wings, chaneth off the vtmost rine of herbes, and the tender barke of trees, feeding on them. Nah. 3.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the comming and cruelties of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18 The loue of God toward his people.

1 BLowe vp a trumpet in Sion, & showte in my holy hill, let all the inhabitants of the earth tremble: for the day of ỹ Lord is come, for it is nigh at hand.

2 A darke and gloomie day, a cloudy & blacke day: as the morning is spred ouer ỹ mountaines, [so is this] populous and strong people: like it there was none from the beginning, nor shalbe hereafter for euermore.

3 Before him is a deuouring fire, and behinde him a burning flame: the land is as a pleasant garden before him, & behind him a waste desart, yea and nothing shall escape him.

4 The shewe of him is as the shewe of horses, and like horsemen, so shall they runne.

5 Like the noise of charets vpon the tops of the mountaines they shall skippe, like ỹ noise of a flaming fire deuouring the stubble, [and] as a strong people prepared to battell.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble, the countenance of all folkes shall waxe blacke.

7 They shall runne like strong men, & clime the walles like men of warre: and euery one shall marche on his way, and they shall not linger in their pathes.

8 No man shall thrust another, but euery one shall walke in his path: and if they shall fall on the sword, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shal runne to and fro in the citie, they shal runne vp and downe vpon the wall, they shal clime into the houses, they shall enter in at the windowes like a theefe.

18 And [then] the Lord will bee ielous ouer his land, and will spare his people.

19 Yea, the Lord will answere and say to his people, Beholde, I will send you corne, and wine, and oile, and wil satisfie you therewith, and will not giue you ouer any more to be a reproch among the heathen.

20 And I will remoue farre off from you the Northren [armie,] & I will driue him into a land barren & desolate, with his face towards the East sea, and his hinder partes towardes the vttermost sea: and his stinch shall arise, & his corruption shal ascend, because he hath exalted himselfe to doe this.

21 Feare not, O thou land, be glad and reioice: for the Lord will do great things.

22 Be not afraid ye beasts of the field, for the fruitefull places of the desart are greene: for the tree beareth her fruite, the figge tree and the vine yeelde their strength.

23 Bee glad then, yee children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for he ‖ hath giue you moderate [a] rayne, and he will send downe for you the rayne, [euen] the first rayne, & the latter rayne, and in the first [moneth.]

The iii. Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God againſt the enemies of his people.

1 FOr behold, in thoſe dayes & in that time when I ſhall bring againe the captiuitie of Iuda and Hieruſalem,

2 I wil alſo gather all the Gentiles, and cauſe them to come into the valley of [a] Iehoſaphat, and I wil plead with them there for my people and heritage Iſrael, which they haue ſcattered amongſt the natiõs, and haue parted my land.

3 And they haue caſt lots for my people, and changed the boy for an [b] harlot, and ſolde the girle for wine, that they might drinke.

4 And what haue ye to do with me, O Tyre & Sidon, and all the coaſt of Paleſtine? will ye render me recompẽce? and if you recompenſe me, I ſhall ſwiftly [and] ſpeedily returne your recompence vpon your owne heads.

5 For ye haue taken my ſiluer and my gold, my pleaſant and precious things, and haue caried them into your temples.

6 You haue ſold alſo the children of Iuda, and the children of Hieruſalem to the Grecians, that you might ſend them farre from their owne countrey.

7 Behold, I will raiſe them out of that place whither you haue ſold them, and will returne your recompence vpon your owne heads.

8 And I wil ſell your ſonnes and your daughters into the hands of the children of Iuda, & they ſhall ſell them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre off: for the Lorde hath ſpoken it.

9 Publiſh this thing among the Gentiles, proclaime warre, wake vp the mighty mẽ, let all the men of warre draw neere, & come vp.

10 Breake your plough ſhares into ſwordes, & your ſithes into ſpeares, let the weake ſay, I am ſtrong.

11 Aſſemble your ſelues, and come all you heathen, and gather your ſelues together round about, there ſhall ẏ Lord caſt downe thy mightie men.

12 Let the heathen ariſe, and come vp to the valley of Iehoſaphat: for there will I ſit to iudge all nations round about.

13 *Put in your ſithes, for the harueſt is ripe, come ye [and] deſcend, for the [c] wine preſſe is full, [yea] the preſſes ouerflow: for their wickednes is multiplied. Apoc. 14. 15.

14 O people, people, [come] into the valley of finall ‖ iudgement: for the day of the Lord is at hand in the valley of finall iudgement.

15 *The ſunne and the moone ſhalbe darkned, and the ſtarres ſhall withdraw their light. Ioel. 2. 31.

16 *The Lord alſo ſhall roare out of Sion, & out of Hieruſalem ſhall he giue his voice, the heauens and the earth ſhall ſhake: but ẏ Lord wil be the hope of his people, and the ſtrength of the children of Iſrael. Ierc. 25. 30. amos. 1. 2.

17 So ſhal ye know ẏ I am ẏ Lord your God, dwelling in Sion my holy mountaine: then ſhal Hieruſalem be holy, & there ſhal no ſtrangers paſſe thorow her any more.

19 Egypt ſhalbe waſte, and Edom ſhalbe a deſolate wilderneſſe: for the iniuries [done] to the children of Iuda, becauſe they haue ſhed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Iuda ſhall dwel for euermore, & Hieruſalem from generation to generation.

21 I will alſo cleanſe the blood of them [that] I haue not cleanſed, and the Lord dwelleth in Sion.

‖ Or, bring her againe, or turne to it.

‖Or, cut off. ‖Or, valley.

and ‖ roote out the inhabiters frō the ‖ plaine of Auen, and him that holdeth the scepter, out of the house of ‖ Eden, and the people of Syria shal go into captiuitie vnto Kir, saieth the Lord.

‖Or, pleasure.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of ‖ Azza, and for foure, I will not spare her: because they caried ‖ away prisoners into captiuitie, to shut them vp in Edom.

‖Or, Gaza. ‖Or, away prisoners the whole captiuitie.

7 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon the walles of ‖ Azza, which shall deuoure her palaces.

‖Or, Gaza.

8 And I wil cut off the inhabiter from Asdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ascalon, and turne my hand to ‖ Ecron, & the remnant of the Philistines shal perish, saieth the Lord God.

‖Or, Accaron.

‖ Or, transgressions.

9 Thus saith the Lord, For three ‖ wickednesses of Tyre, and for foure, I will not spare her: because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembred the [b] brotherly couenant.

b For Esau (of whome came the Edomites) and Iacob were brethren.

10 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the wall of Tyre, and it shall consume the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saieth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure, I wil not spare him: because he pursued his brother with the sword, and did ‡cast off al pitie, and ‖ in his anger spoiled him continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.

‡Heb, corrupt his compassions. ‖Or, his anger spoyled.

12 Therefore will I send a fire into Theman, which shall deuoure the palaces of Bozra.

13 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not spare them: because they [c] haue ript vp the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their borders.

c Ye noteth the great cruelte of the Ammonites, that spared not the women with childe.

14 Therefore wil I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbath, that shall consume her palaces, with a great cry in the day of battell, & with a tempest in the day of the whirlewind.

15 And their king shall goe into captiuitie, he & his princes together, saieth the Lord.

The ii. Chapter.

He prophecieth against Moab, Iuda, and Israel.

1 THus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Moab, and for foure I wil not ‖ spare him: because he burnt ye bones of the king of Edom into [a] lime.

‖Or, turne to him. a That is, into ashes.

2 Therefore will I send a fire into Moab, which shal consume the palaces of Carioth, & Moab shal die with tumult, with showting, and with the sound of the trumpet.

3 And I wil cut off the iudge out of the mids thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Iuda, and for foure I will not spare him: because they haue cast away the law of the Lorde, and haue not kept his ordinances, and their lies caused them to erre, after the which their fathers walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire into Iuda, which shall consume the palaces of Hierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Israel, and for foure I will not spare him: because they sold the righteous for siluer, and the poore for a paire of shoes.

7 They ‖ gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the way of the ‖ meeke: A man and his father will go in to one ‖ maide, to dishonour my holy name.

‖Or, preasse vnto the head, or treade vpon the head. ‖Or, wretched. ‖Or, young woman.

8 And they ‖ lie vpon clothes laide to pledge by euery altar: and in the house of their God they drinke the wine of ‖ the condemned.

‖Or, sit downe. ‖Or, of such as they haue fined or molten.

9 *Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the Cedar trees, and he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding, I destroyed his fruite from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

*Num. 21. 25. exod. 14. 6.

10 *Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeeres thorowe the wildernesse, to possesse the land of the Amorites.

*Exod. 14. 6.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your yong men for ‖ Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

‖Or, abstayners.

12 But ye gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Behold, I am pressed vnder you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

14 Therefore the ‖ flight shall not perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty saue his life.

‖Or, swift by flight shal not escape.

15 Nor he that handleth the bowe, shall stand, nor he that is swift of foote shall escape, neyther shal he that rideth the horse saue his life.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among ye strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, sayth the Lord.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude, foreshewing Gods most iust punishment for the same. 9 Strangers are called to see the equitie of Gods iudgement against Israel.

1 HEare the word that the Lorde pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, euen against the whole family which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You onely haue I knowen of all ye families of the earth, therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together, except they be agreed?

4 Wil a Lion roare in the forest when he hath no pray: or wil a lions whelpe cry out of his denne if he haue taken nothing:

5 Can a birde fall in a snare vpon the earth where no fowler is: or will he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all:
6 Or shall a trumpet bee blowen in the citie, and the people be not afrayd: or shall there be [a] euill in a citie, and the Lorde hath not done it:
7 ‖ Surely the Lorde God will doe nothing, but he reuealeth his secret vnto his seruants the Prophets.
8 The lion hath roared, who will not bee afraid: The Lord God hath spoken, ‖ who can but prophecie:
9 Proclaime in the palaces at Asdod, and in the palaces of the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressed in the midst thereof:
10 For they know not to doe right, sayeth the Lord, they store vp ‖ violence and robberie in their palaces.
11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersarie [shall come] euen round about the countrey, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoiled.
12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepeheard taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus [as in] a couche.
13 Heare & testifie in the house of Iacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes:
14 That in the day that I shal visite the ‖ transgressions of Israel vpon him, I will also visite the altars of Bethel, and the hornes of the altar shall bee ‖ broken off, and fall to the ground.
15 And I will smite the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of Iuorie shall perish, and the great houses shalbe consumed, saieth the Lord.

[a] That is, calamitie, or aduersitie.
‖ Or, for.
‖ Or, who wil not prophecie?
‖ Or, injurie.
‖ Or, wickednes.
‖ Or, cut off.

The iiii. Chapter.

Vnder the name of fat kine of Basan, he inueieth against the gouernours of Samaria, and foresheweth their punishment.

1 HEare this worde, ye kine of Basan, that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, and destroy the needie, which say to their [a] maisters, Bring, and let vs drinke.
2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that loe, the dayes shall come vpon you, that he will take you away with [b] thornes, and your posteritie with fishhookes.
3 And ye shall goe out at the breaches, euery [cowe] forward, & ye shall ‖ cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.
4 Come to Bethel, and ‖ transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression: and bring your sacrifices in the morning, & your tithes after three yeeres.
5 And offer a thanksgiuing of leauen, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, sayeth the Lord God.
6 Therefore haue I giuen you [c] cleannesse of teeth in all your cities, & scarcenesse of bread in all your places: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you whē there were yet three moneths to the haruest, and I caused it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to rayne vpon another citie: one piece was rayned vpon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.
8 So two [or] three cities wandered vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
9 I haue smitten you with blasting and mildeaw, your great gardens, & your vineyards, and your figge trees, and your oliue trees did the ‖ palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
10 Pestilence haue I sent among you after the maner of Egypt: your yong men haue I slaine with the sword, and haue taken away your horses, and I haue made the stinke of your tentes to come euen vp to your nosethrils: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.
11 * I haue ouerthrowen ‖ you, as God ouerthrew Sodoma and Gomorrha: and ye were as a firebrand pluckt out of the burning: yet haue yee not returned vnto mee, saieth the Lord.
12 Therefore thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel, [and] because I will do this vnto thee, [d] prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.
13 For loe, hee that fourmeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, which maketh the ‖ morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, ỹ Lord God of hostes is his name.

[c] That is, lack of bread and meate.
‖ Or, commit wickednes.
Gen. 19. 24. ose. 11, 8.
‖ Or, among you, meaning some part of their countrey to haue bene ouerthrowen.
[d] Turne to him by repentance.
‖ Or, morning and darkenesse.

The v. Chapter.

1 The Prophet lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4 He calleth to repentance. 8 Hee describeth the power of God.

1 HEare yee this worde which I lift vp vpon you, [euen] a lamentation ‖ of the house of Israel.
2 The virgine Israel is fallen, and shal no more rise, she is left vpon her land, and there is none to raise her vp.
3 For thus sayth the Lorde God, The citie

[a] That is, to the creditors, to whom the poore are indebted.
[b] He alludeth to fishers, which catch fish by hookes and thornes.
‖ Or, cast downe the palace.
‖ Or, O ye house.

which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred, and that which went foorth by an hundred, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saieth the Lorde vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and go not to Beer-seba: for Gilgal shal goe into captiuitie, and Bethel shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue: least he breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph, & deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, and forsake righteousnesse in the earth.

8 He maketh the seuen starres and Orion, & he turneth the [a] shadow of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: * he calleth the waters of ỹ sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

a That is, the thickest darkenesse into the morning light. Amos 9.6.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mighty, and the destroyer shal ‖ come against the fortresse.

‖ Or, assault.

b That is, in open assemblies.

10 They hate him that rebuketh [b] in the gate, & they abhorre him that speaketh vprightly.

c Ye take both his money and also his food wherewith he should liue.

11 For as much then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye [c] take from him burdens of wheate: ye haue built houses of hewed stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shal not drinke wine of them.

‖ Or, great wickednesse.

12 For I know your ‖ manifold transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewards, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the wise shall keepe silence in that time: for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good, and not euil, that ye may liue: & so the Lord God of hostes shal be with you, as you haue spoken.

Psal. 97. 10. Rom. 12. 6.

15 * Hate the euil, and loue the good, & stablish iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lord God of hostes will be merciful vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streetes, and they shall say in all the high wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, ‖ to mourning.

‖ Or, shall mourne.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe thorow thee, saith the Lord.

Iere. 30. 7. Ioel 2. 11. Soph. 1. 13.

18 * Woe vnto you that desire the day of the Lord, what haue ye to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darkenesse, and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a beare meete him, and went into the house, & leaned his hand vnto the wall, & a serpent bite him:

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkenesse, and not light? euen darkenesse, and no ‖ light in it?

‖ Or, shine.

21 * I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I wil not [d] smell in your solemne assemblies.

Esai 1. 11.

d That is, I will not delight in the smell of your incense.

22 Though ye offer me whole burnt offrings, and meate offerings, I will not accept them, neither will I regard the peace offering of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs, for I will not heare the melodie of thy vials.

24 And ‖ let iudgement run downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

‖ Or, iudgement shal run downe.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres, O house of Israel?

26 But ye haue borne [e] Siccuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

e That idole which ye esteemed as your king, and caried about as ye did Chiun: in the which images ye thought that there was a certaine diuinitie.

27 Therefore wil I cause you to go into captiuitie beyond Damascus, saith ỹ Lord, whose name is the God of hostes.

The vi. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth against the princes of Israel, liuing in pleasures.

1 WOe to * them that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, & the house of Israel came to them.

Luke 6. 24.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence go you to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be [a] they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their land greater then your border?

a If God haue destroyed these excellent cities in three diuers kingdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistines, & hath brought their wide borders into a greater straightnes then yours yet are, thinke ye to be better, or to escape?

3 Ye that put farre away the euil day, and ‖ approch to the seate of iniquitie.

‖ Or, bring vpon you.

4 They lie vpon beds of Iuorie, and stretch themselues vpon their couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viall, and inuent to themselues instruments of musike, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and anoint themselues with these ointments: but no man is sorry for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore now shall they goe captiue with the first that goe captiue, and ‖ the sorrowe of them that stretched themselues is at hand.

‖ Or, the ioy of them that stretched themselues shall depart. Iere. 52. 14.

8 * The Lord God hath sworne by himselfe, saieth the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the ‖ excellencie of Iacob, and hate his palaces, therefore will I deliuer vp the citie, with all that is therein.

‖ Or, magnificencie, that is, the riches and pompe.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vncle shall take him vp, and burne him, to cary out the bones out of the house, and shall say to him that is by the [b] sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shal say, None. Then shal he say, Hold thy tongue:

b That is, to some neighbour that dwelleth neere about.

tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lord.

11 For behold, the Lorde commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the litle houses with clefts.

c Ye compareth them to barren rockes, whereupon it is in vaine to bestowe labour, shewing that Gods benefites can haue no place among them.

12 Shall horses runne vpon the c rocke? or wil one plowe there with Oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruite of righteousnesse into wormewood.

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of nought, ye say, Haue not we gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But beholde, I will raise vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, saieth the Lorde God of hostes, and they shall afflict you from the entring of Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

The vii. Chapter.

1 God sheweth certaine visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel.

1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto mee, and beholde, he fourmed Grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter grouth, and loe, it was in the latter grouth, after the a kings mowing.

a After ỳ publique commãdement for mowing was giuen, or as some reade, after the kings sheepe were shorne.

2 And when they had made an ende of eating the grasse of the land, then I saide, O Lorde God, spare, I beseech thee: Who shall raise vp Jacob? for he is smal.

b That is, staied this plague at my prayer.

3 So the Lord b repented for this: It shal not be, saieth the Lord.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, and it deuoured the great deepe, and did eate vp ‖ a part.

‖ Or, the possession, meaning the whole fielde.

5 Then saide I, O Lorde God, ceasse I beseeche thee: Who shal raise vp Jacob? for he is small.

6 So the Lorde repented for this: This also shall not be, saieth the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed me, and behold, the Lord stood vpon a wall [made] by line, c with a line in his hand.

c Signifying ỳ this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would deferre his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lorde saide vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lorde, Beholde, I will set a line in the midst of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the high places of Isahac shalbe desolate, and the ‖ temples of Israel shalbe destroyed, and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sworde.

‖ Or, sanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middest of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saieth, Jeroboam shall die by the sworde, and Israel shalbe ledde away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amazia said to Amos, O thou ỳ Seer, goe, flee thou away into the land of Juda, and there eate thy bread, and prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Bethel: for it is the kings Chappel, & it is the kings Court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said vnto Amazia, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wilde figges.

15 And the Lorde tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lorde said vnto me, Goe, prophecie vnto my people Israel.

16 Nowe therefore heare thou the worde of the Lorde: Thou sayest, Prophecie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Isahac.

17 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Thy wife shalbe an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes & thy daughters shal fall by the sword, and thy land shalbe diuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

The viii. Chapter.

By a vision of a Basket of Sommer fruite, the end of the kingdome of Israel is shewed.

1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me: and behold, a Basket of Sommer fruite.

2 And he saide, Amos, what seest thou? And I saide, A Basket of Sommer a fruite. Then saide the Lorde vnto me, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

a Which signified the ripenes of their sinnes, and the readinesse of Gods iudgements.

3 And the songs of ỳ temple shalbe howlings in that day, saieth the Lord God: many dead bodies shalbe in euery place, they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O ye that swallow vp ỳ poore, ỳ ye may make the needie of the land to faile,

5 Saying, When will the newe moneth be gone, that we may sell corne? and the Sabboth, that we may set forth Wheate, & make the b Ephah smal, and the sicle great, and falsifie the weightes by deceite?

b That is, the measure small, and the price great.

6 That we may buy the poore for siluer, and the needie for shooes, yea, and sel the refuse of the Wheate?

7 The Lorde hath sworne by the excellencie of Jacob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shal not the land tremble for this, & euery one mourne that dwelleth therein? and it shal rise vp wholy as a flood, and it shalbe cast out, and c drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

c That is, the inhabitants of the land shalbe drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, saieth the Lorde God, I will euen cause the d Sunne to goe downe at noone, and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

d In the midst of their prosperitie, I will send great affliction. Tob. 2. 7. 1. mac. 8. 41.

10 And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all loynes, and baldenesse vpon euery head, and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

and

11 Beholde, the dayes come, saieth the Lorde God, that I will send a famine in the lande, not a famine of bread, nor thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shall they runne to and fro, to seeke the worde of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

e For the idolaters did vse to sweare by their idoles, which here he calleth their sinne.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins, and the young men perish for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the [e] sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, & the [f] maner of Beer-seba liueth, euen they shall fall, and neuer rise vp againe.

f That is, the common maner of worshipping, and the seruice or religion there vsed.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Threatnings against the temple. 5 The subuersion of the people.

a Which was at Hierusalem.

1 I Sawe the Lord standing vpon the [a] altar, and he said, Smite the lintel of the doore, that the postes may shake, and ‖ cut them in pieces, euen the [b] heades of them all, & I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

‖ Or, wounde them in the head, euen al.

b Both the chiefe of them, and also the common people.

Psal. 138.8.

2 * Though they digge into hell, thence shall my hand take them, though they clime vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselues in the top of Carmel, I will searche and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence wil I command the [c] serpent, and he shall bite them.

c That is, the Whale, or some other huge beast of the sea. Amos 5.8.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I commande the sword, & it shall slay them, * & I will set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hostes shall touche the land, and it shal melt away: and all that dwel therein shall mourne, and it shal rise vp whole like a flood, and shalbe drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his ‖ spheres in the heauen, and hath laide the foundation of his globe of elements on the earth: * he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

‖ Or, ascentes, or degrees.

Iere. 44.11.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians [d] vnto me, O children of Israel, saieth the Lord? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the lande of Egypt? and the Philistines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

d That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Ethiopians, or black Moores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greater benefites.

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Lorde God are vpon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheless, I will not vtterly destroy the house of Jacob, saieth the Lord.

9 For loe, I will commande, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a siue: yet shall not the [e] least stone fall vpon the earth.

e Meaning, that none of his should perish in his wrath.

10 But all the sinners of my people shal die by the sworde, which say, The euill shall not come, nor hasten for vs.

11 * In that day will I raise vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, & close vp the breaches thereof, & I wil raise vp his ruines, and I wil build it as in the dayes of olde:

Act. 15.16.

12 That they may possesse the remnant of Edom, and of all the Heathen, ‖ because my name is called vpon them, saieth the Lorde that doeth this.

‖ Or, vpon whom my name is called.

13 Beholde, the dayes come, saieth the Lorde, that the ploweman shall [f] touche the mower, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seede, and the mountaines shall drop sweete wine, and all the hilles shal melt.

f Signifying, that there shalbe great plentie of all things, so that when one kinde of fruite is ripe, another should follow, and euery one in course. Leui. 26.

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people of Israel, and they shall builde the waste cities, and inhabite them: and they shall plant vineyardes, and drinke the wine thereof, they shal also make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I will plant them vpon their land, and they shall no more be pulled vp againe out of their land which I haue giuen them, saieth the Lord thy God.

The ende of the prophecie of Amos.

The Booke of the Prophet Abdias.

Against Edom, and the trust that they had in riches.

1 THe vision of Abdi. Thus saieth the Lord God against Edom, * We haue heard a rumour from the Lorde, and an Ambassadour is sent among the heathen: Arise and let vs rise vp against her to battell.

Iere. 49.14.

2 Behold, I haue made thee small among the Heathen, thou art vtterly despised.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rockes, whose habitation [is] high, that saieth in his heart, Who shall bring me downe to the ground?

4 * Yea though thou exalt thy selfe as the Eagle, & make thy nest among ỹ starres, thence wil I bring thee downe, saieth the Lord.

Iere. 49.16.

5 Came

5 Came thieues to thee, or robbers by night: howe wast thou brought to ſilence: woulde they not haue ſtollen till they had ynough: If the grape gatherers came to thee, woulde they not leaue [ſome] grapes:
6 Howe are the things of Eſau ſought vp, [and] his treaſures ſearched:
7 All the men of thy confederacie haue driuen thee to the borders, ẏ men that were at peace with thee haue deceiued thee, and preuailed againſt thee, [they that eate] thy bread haue laide a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderſtanding in him.
Eſa.29.15. 8 *Shal not I in that day, ſaith the Lord, euen deſtroy the wiſe men out of Edom, and vnderſtanding from the mount of Eſau:
9 And thy ſtrong men, O Theman, ſhalbe afraid: becauſe euery one of the mount of Eſau ſhalbe cut off by ſlaughter.
Gen.27.41. 10 *For thy crueltie againſt thy brother Jacob, ſhame ſhall couer thee, and thou ſhalt bee cut off for euer.
11 When thou ſtoodeſt on the other ſide, in the day that the ſtrangers carried away his ſubſtance, and ſtrangers entred into his gates, and caſt lots vpõ Hieruſalem, euen thou waſt as one of them.
12 But thou ſhouldeſt not haue beholden the day of thy brother in ẏ day that he was made a ſtranger, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Juda in the day of their deſtruction, thou ſhouldeſt not haue ſpoken proudly in the day of affliction:
13 Thou ſhouldeſt not haue entred into ẏ gate of my people in the day of their deſtruction, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their deſtruction, nor haue laid hands on their ſubſtance in the day of their deſtruction:
14 Neither ſhouldeſt thou haue ſtande in the croſſe wayes to cut off thẽ that ſhould eſcape, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue ſhut vp the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.
15 For the day of the Lorde is neere vpon al ẏ Heathen: as thou haſt done, it ſhalbe done to thee, thy reward ſhall returne vpõ thine head.
16 For as ye haue [a] drunke vpõ mine holy mountaine, ſo ſhall all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they ſhall drinke and ſwallowe vp, and they ſhalbe as though they [b] had not bene.
17 But vpon mount Sion ſhalbe deliuerance, and it ſhalbe holy, and the houſe of Jacob ſhal poſſeſſe their poſſeſſions.
18 And the houſe of Jacob ſhalbe a fire, and the houſe of Joſeph a flame, and the houſe of Eſau as ſtubble, and they ſhall kindle in them and deuoure them, and there ſhall be no remnant of the houſe of Eſau: for the Lorde hath ſpoken it.
19 And they ſhall poſſeſſe the South ſide of the mount of Eſau, and the plaine of the Philiſtines, and they ſhall poſſeſſe the fieldes of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Beniamin [ſhal haue] Gilead.
20 And the captiuitie of his hoſt of the children of Iſrael, which were among the Chananites, [ſhal poſſeſſe] vnto Sarephath, and the captiuitie of Hieruſalem which is in Sepharad, ſhal poſſeſſe the cities of the South.
21 And they that ſhall [c] ſaue, ſhall come vp to mount Sion to iudge the mount of Eſau, and the kingdome ſhalbe the Lords.

a That is, reioyced and triumphed.
b That is, at the length they ſhall vtterly periſh.
c Meaning, that God will raiſe vp in his Church ſuch as ſhall rule & gouerne for the defence of the ſame, and deſtruction of his enemies vnder Meſſias.

The end of the Prophet Abdias.

The booke of the Prophet Ionas.

The firſt Chapter.

3 Ionas fled when he was ſent to preach. 4 A tempeſt ariſeth, and he is caſt into ẏ ſea for his diſobedience. 5 Then the Mariners were afrayde, and cried euery man vnto his god, and caſt the wares that were in the ſhip into the ſea, to lighten it of them: but Jonas was gone downe into the ſides of the ſhip, and he lay downe ſleeping. 6 And the ſhipmaſter came vnto him, and ſaid, What meaneſt thou ſleeper: Up, and call vpon thy God, if ſo bee that God will ‖ ſhine vnto vs, that we periſh not. 7 And they ſaide euerie one vnto his fellowe, Come, let vs caſt lots, that we may know for whoſe cauſe this euil is on vs. And they caſt lottes: and the lot fell on Jonas. 8 Then ſaid they vnto him, Tell vs, for whoſe cauſe is this euil come vpon vs: what is thine occupation: whence cameſt thou: what coũtreyman art thou: and of what nation: 9 And he anſwered them, I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen, which hath made the ſea, and the drie land.

a Ye prophecied vnder Jeroboam the ſeconde, 2.King.14.
b It was the greateſt citie of the Aſſyrians, ſituate vp the riuer Ipcus, as Strabo writeth, hauing in number an hundred & fifty towres.
c It is an hauen towne in the which Peter lodged, Actes 10.
d It is ẏ name of a place likely to be Cilicia, for there was a great citie of ẏ name, where alſo Paul was borne.

‖ Or, be fauourable.

e As the Leuites which miniſter to the Lorde, are ſaid to ſtand before him: ſo they which forſake his commandement, are ſaid to flee before his preſence.

1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto [a] Jonas the ſonne of Amittai, ſaying,
2 Ariſe, and goe to [b] Niniue the great citie, and crie againſt it: for their wickednes is come vp before me.
3 And Jonas roſe vp to flee into Tharſis from the preſence of the Lorde, and went downe to [c] Joppa, and found a ſhip going to [d] Tharſis: ſo he payed his fare, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Tharſis from the [e] preſence of the Lord.
4 But the Lorde ſent out a great winde into the ſea, and there was a mightie tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip was in danger of ſplitting in ſunder.

10 Then

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraide, & said vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had tolde them.)

11 And they said vnto him, What shall we doe vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? for the sea wrought, and was troublous.

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, & cast me into the sea, & the sea shalbe calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheless, the men assaied with rowing to bring the ship to land, but they coulde not, because the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried vnto the Lord, & said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseeche thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Ionas, and cast him into the sea, and the sea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lorde exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, & made f vowes.

f To serue the Lord, to call vpon him, as Dauid oftentimes in the Psalmes maketh mention, and none other vowes.

17 And the Lord prepared a great fish to swallow vp Ionas: and Ionas was in the belly of the fish three dayes and three nightes.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Ionas is in the fishes belly. 2 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

1 AND Ionas prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the a fishes belly, a The afterward called it hell, and the word is taken often for the graue. Being come to himselfe, he in great affliction called vpon the Lord.

2 And said, In affliction I cried vnto the Lorde, and he heard mee: out of the belly of hell cried I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 Thou hadst cast me downe into the deepe, into the middest of the sea, & the floods compassed me about: al thy billowes and waues passed ouer me.

Psal. 120. 1. 4 And I said, * I am cast away out of thy sight, yet will I looke againe towarde thine holy temple.

Psal. 69. 2. 5 * The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the depth closed me on euery side, and the weedes were wrapt about my head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines, the earth with her barres was about me for euer: yet hast thou brought vp my life from corruption, O Lord my God.

b Which is lying vanitie that a man inuenteth of him selfe to trust in. ‖ Or, their owne. c Iosephus in the ninth booke of antiquities saith, He was cast out on the shore of the sea Eurinum, which is not far from Asia.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembred the Lorde, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.

8 They that holde vpon b lying vanitie, forsake ‖ his mercie.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thankesgiuing, and will pay that that I haue vowed: for saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionas vpon the dry c land.

Ionas.

The iii. Chapter.

2 Ionas is sent againe to Niniue. 3 The repentance of the king of Niniue.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ionas the second time, saying,

2 Arise, and goe to Niniue that great citie, and preache against it the preaching which I speake vnto thee?

3 So Ionas arose, and went to Niniue, according to the worde of the Lorde: (Niniue was a great citie, and a excellent, of three dayes iourney.)

a In the Hebrue it is, A great citie to God: but so the Hebrues call great & excellent things. So the hill of God, the Cedar of God, for a great hill and high Cedar. Mat. 12. 41. Iuke 11. 32.

4 And Ionas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, & he cried, and said, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue shalbe destroyed.

5 * And the men of Niniue beleeued God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, to the least of them.

6 And worde came vnto the king of Niniue: which arose from his throne, and put off his robe, and couered himselfe with sackcloth, and sate downe in ashes.

7 And he caused a crier to cry, and say thorow the citie by the counsell of the king & his nobles, Let neither man nor beast, bullocke, nor sheepe taste ought at all, neither feede nor drinke water.

8 And let both man & beast put on sackcloth, and cry mightily vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in his handes.

b God is said to repent, when he doeth those things which men doe repenting. c Of the euil, that is, of the plague which is euill to our selfe, although not in his owne nature.

9 Who can tel whether God wil turne and be mooued with b repentance, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

10 And God sawe their workes that they turned from their euill wayes, and he repented of the c euill that he said he would doe vnto them, and did it not.

The iiii. Chapter.

The great goodnes of God toward his creatures.

1 AND this displeased Ionas greatly, and he was a angry [within himselfe.]

a Because here by he shoulde be taken as a false prophet, and so the name of God which he preached, should be blasphemed. ‖ Or, preuented. Psal. 86. 5. ioel 2. 13.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, & said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I ‖ hasted to flee vnto Tharsis: * For I knewe that thou art a gratious God, & mercifull, long suffering, and of great kindnes, and repentest thee of euill.

3 And now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from mee: for it is better for me to dye then to liue.

4 Then said the Lorde, Doest thou well to be angry?

5 And Ionas went out of the citie, & sate him downe on the East side thereof, & there made him a boothe, & sate vnder it in the shadow, til he might see what should be done in the citie.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, & made it spring vp ouer Ionas, that it might be a shadow ouer his head, to deliuer him from his griefe:

So

So Jonas was exceeding glad of the gourd.
7 But God prepared a worme, when the morning rose the next day, which smote ỳ gourd, that it withered.
8 And when the Sunne rose, God prepared a feruent East winde, & the Sunne beat vpon ỳ head of Jonas that he faitned, & wished vnto his soule that he might die, and saide, It is better for me to die, then to liue.
9 And the Lord said vnto Jonas, Doest thou well to be so angry within thy selfe for the gourd? And he saide, I doe well to be angry, euen vnto death.
10 Then saide the Lorde, Thou hast had compassion on the gourd, about the which thou bestowedst no labour, neither madest it grow, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night:
11 And shall not I spare Niniue that great citie, in the which are more then sixe score thousand persons that know not their right hand and their left, and also much cattell?

The ende of the prophecie of Ionas.

The Booke of the Prophet Micheas.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria, because of their idolatrie.

1 The word of the Lorde came vnto Micheas the Morasthite, in the dayes of Jotham, Ahas, and Ezecias, kings of Juda, which he sawe concerning Samaria, and Hierusalem.

Deut. 32. 1. esai 1. 2. 2 *Heare all ye people, marke this well, O earth, and all that therein is, yea, let the Lord God himselfe be witnesse against you, [euen] the Lord from his holy temple.

Esai. 26. 21. 3 *For behold, the Lord shall come out of his holy place, and come downe, and treade vpon the high things of the earth.
4 The mountaines shal melt vnder him, and the valleyes shall cleaue asunder, like as waxe [melteth] before the fire, and as the waters runne downeward.
5 And all this shalbe for the wickednes of Jacob, and the sinnes of the house of Israel: but what is ỳ wickednes of Jacob? is not [a] Samaria? Which are ỳ high places of Juda? is not Hierusalem?
6 Therfore I wil make Samaria an heape of the fielde [meete] for the planting of a vineyard: her stones wil I tumble downe into the valley, and discouer her foundations.
7 All her images shalbe broken downe, and all her ‖ garments shalbe burnt in the fire, yea, all her idoles wil I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hire of an [b] harlot, and into an harlots hire shall they be turned againe.
8 Wherefore I wil mourne & make lamentatiõ, bare & naked wil I go: I wil mourne like the Dragons, and take sorow as ỳ Ostriches.
9 For their wound is past remedie, it is come into Juda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem already.
10 Declare it not at Gath, neither weepe ye: for ỳ house of Aphra roule thy selfe in ỳ dust.
11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir get thee hence naked with shame: she that dwelleth at [c] Zaanan, shal not come forth in the mourning of Bethezel: [the enemie] shall receiue of you for his [d] standing.
12 For the inhabitants of Maroth waited for good, but the plague shall come from ỳ Lord, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalem.
13 O thou [e] inhabitant of Lachis, binde ỳ charet to the swiftest [f] beast, she is the beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.
14 Therefore shalt thou bring presentes to [g] Moresheth Gath: the houses of Achzib [shalbe] as a lie to the kings of Israel.
15 And as for thee, O thou ỳ dwellest at Maresa, I will bring a possessioner vpon thee, he shal come to Adullam, the glory of Israel.
16 Make thee balde, [h] & shaue thee, because of thy tender children: make thee cleane balde as an Eagle, for they shalbe carried away captiue from thee.

a Samaria & Hierusalem were ỳ chiefe cities of ỳ two kingdomes: idolatrie vsed in them sheweth a generall corruption through all.

‖ Or, gifts.

b Euill gotten, euill spent.

c Names of cities that should be first annoyed by ỳ enemies.

d The long continuance of an armie in one place is hurtfull.

e It appeareth that this citie was one of ỳ first which receiued the worshipping of the golden Calues, set vp by Jeroboam.

f Make haste to flee Away.

g A citie so named.

h Shaving and plucking off heare, was vsed in time of mourning.

The ii. Chapter.

Threatnings against the sinfull people. 6 They would teache the Prophets to preach.

1 WOe vnto them ỳ imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beds: when the morning is light they practise it, because their hand hath power.
2 And they couet fieldes, & take them by violence; and houses, & take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, [euen] man and his heritage.
3 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, against this houshold haue I deuised a plague, whereout ye shall not plucke your neckes: ye shall no more goe so proudely, for it will be a perilous time.
4 In that day shall this parable be vsed, and a mourning shalbe made ouer you on this maner: We be vtterly ‖ desolate, ỳ portion of my people is changed: howe wil ‖ he part vnto the land that he hath taken from vs?
5 Therefore there shalbe no mã to diuide thee thy portion in the congregation of the Lord.
6 Ye shal not [a] prophecie [say they] to the that prophecie: [b] they shal not prophecie to them,

‖ Or, what shall he take counsel and to restore it vnto me (seeing the enemie) hath diuided it?

a The people tooke vpon them to forbid the Prophets to preach & rebuke sinne. b God threatneth he wil send no mo Prophets to preach vnto them, which is the greatest plague ỳ can come to a nation.

neither neither shall they take shame.

7 O thou that are named the house of Iacob, is the spirit of the Lord shortened? are these his workes? are not my wordes good vnto him that walketh vprightly?

8 But he that was yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side [as] against an enemie: they spoyle the beautifull garment frō them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye shut out from their pleasant houses, and taken away ‖ mine excellent gifts from their children.

‖Or, my glorie.

10 Vp, get you hence, for here shall ye haue no rest: because [the land] is defiled, it shall destroy [you] with vtter destruction.

c Taking vpō them the office of a prophete, & pretending that he is directed by the spirit of God.

11 If a man c walke in the spirit, and would lie falsely [saying,] I will prophecie to thee of d wine and strong drinke: that were a Prophet for this people.

d Flattering them by promising plentie, and not reprouing their sinnes.

12 I will surely gather e thee wholy, O Iacob, I will surely gather the remnant of Israel, I will put them together as the sheepe of f Bozra, as the flocke in the middest of their folde, they shall make great noise by reason of the [multitude] of men.

e To make an vniuersall destruction.

f Where was great plentie of sheepe, by reason of the good pastures.

13 The breaker shal come vp before them, they shall breake out, & passe by the gate, & goe out by it: and their king g shall goe before them, and the Lord shalbe vpon h their heades.

g As a prisoner or captiue.

h To shewe his wrathfull indignation against the Idolatres, for their obstinate wickednesse.

The iii. Chapter.

Against the tyrannie of princes and false prophets.

1 AND I saide, Heare, I pray you, O heads of Iacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, should not ye knowe iudgement?

2 [But] they hate the good, and loue the euil, they plucke off their skinnes from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eate also the flesh of my people, & flay off their skinne from them: & they breake their bones, & chop them in pieces as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they cry vnto the Lorde, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus saieth the Lorde concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, a & bite them with their teeth, and cry peace: but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

a False prophets deuoure the substance of their followers, and make gaine of religion.

6 Therefore b night [shalbe] vnto you for a vision, & darkenes [shalbe] vnto you for a diuinatiō: & the sunne shal go downe ouer ỳ Prophets, and the day shalbe darke ouer them.

b The knowledge which we now haue, shalbe imputed to be grosse ignorance.

7 Then shal the seers be ashamed, & the soothsaiers confounded: yea, c they shal al couer their lippes, for they haue no answere of God.

c They shall couer their faces for shame.

8 Yet notwithstanding, I am full of power by the spirit of the Lorde, and of iudgement, and of strength, to declare vnto Iacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heads of ỳ house of Iacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, & peruert al equitie.

10 d They build vp Sion with blood, and Hierusalem with iniquitie.

d They fortifie and garnish their citie with goods wrongfully gotten, which here are called blood and iniquitie, Eze. 22. 27.

11 *(The heads thereof iudge for rewards, & the priests thereof teache for hire, & the prophets thereof prophecie for money: yet will they leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among vs? no euill can come vpon vs.)

12 *Therefore shall Sion for your sake bee plowed [as] a fielde, and Hierusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house as the high places of the forest.

Ierem. 26. 18.

The iiii. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentiles, and conuersion of the Iewes.

1 BUT * in the a latter dayes it will come to passe, that the hill of the Lordes house shall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shall bee set vp higher then any mountaines or hilles, and people shall presse vnto it.

Esai. 2. 2.

a When Christ shall come.

2 Yea the multitude of the Gētiles shal haste them thyther, saying, Come, let vs goe vp to the hill of the Lorde, and to the house of the God of Iacob, & he shall teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes, for the lawe shall come out of Sion, and the word of God from Hierusalem.

3 And he shall iudge many people, and rebuke mightie nations of farre countreys: so that of their swordes they shall make plowshares, and sithes of their speares: one people shall not lift vp a sworde against another, yea they shall no more learne to fight.

4 But euery man shall sit vnder his vineyard, and vnder his figge tree, and no man shall make them afrayde: for the mouth of the Lord of hostes hath spoken it.

5 Therefore all people will walke euery man in the name of his God: and we wil walke in the name of our Lord God for euer and euer.

6 At the same time, sayeth the Lorde, will I gather vp the lame and the outcast, and such as I haue chastened,

7 *And will giue a remnant vnto the lame, & make of the outcast a mightie people: * and the Lord him selfe shalbe their king vpon the mount Sion, frō this time forth for euermore.

Soph. 3. 19.

Dan. 7. 14. luke 1. 33.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towre of the flocke, thou strong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the lordship and kingdome to the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou cry & lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counsailours perished, that thou art so pained as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And nowe, O thou daughter Sion, sorowe and lament as a woman in her trauaile: for nowe nowe must thou get thee out of the citie, and dwell vpon the playne fielde: yea, vnto Babylon shalt thou goe, [but] there shalt thou bee deliuered, and there the Lorde shall redeeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Nowe also are there many people gathered together against thee, saying, Sion shall bee condemned, & our eye shall looke vpon Sion.

12 But they know not the thoughts of ỹ Lord, they vnderstande not his counsell: for he shall gather them together as the sheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and threash out the corne: for I will make thy horne yron, and thy bones brasse, that thou mayest breake in pieces many people: their goods shalt thou cõsecrate vnto the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

The v. Chapter.

Of the destruction of Hierusalem.

[Or, nowe assemble thy garrisons O daughter of garrisons.

1 NOwe ‖ shalt thou be robbed thy selfe, O thou robbers daughter: they shall lay siege against vs, and smite ỹ iudge of Israel with a rod vpon the cheeke.

Matth. 2.6. iohn 7.42.

2 *And thou Bethlehem Ephrata art litle among the thousands of Juda, out of thee shal he come forth vnto mee which shall be the gouernour in Israel, whose outgoing hath bene from the beginning, and from euerlasting.

3 Therefore wil he giue them vp for a season, vntill the time that she which shal beare, haue borne: then shall the remnant of his brethren be conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shal stand fast, & giue foode in ỹ strength of the Lord, and in the maiestie of the name of the Lorde his God: and when they be conuerted, he shall be magnified vnto ỹ farthest parts of the world.

5 And he shalbe our peace: when the Assyrians shall come into our land, when he shall treade in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seuen shepheards, and eight principall men.

6 These shal subdue the land of Assur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons: thus shal he deliuer vs from the Assyrian when he commeth within our land, and setteth his foote within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall bee among the multitude of people as the deawe of the Lorde, and as the drops vpon the grasse, that tarieth for no man, and waiteth on no body.

8 Yea, the residue of Jacob shalbe among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the Lion among the beastes of the wood, and as the Lions whelpe among ỹ flockes of sheepe, which whē he goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in pieces, & there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thine hande shall be lift vp vpon thine enemies, and all thine aduersaries shall perish.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, sayth the Lorde, that I will take thine horses from thee, and destroy thy charrets.

11 I will breake downe the cities of thy lande, and ouerthrowe all thy strong holds.

12 All witchcraftes will I roote out of thine hand, there shall no mo soothsayings be within thee.

13 Thine idoles and thine images will I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bowe thy selfe vnto the workes of thine owne hands.

14 Thy groues will I plucke vp by ỹ rootes, and breake downe thy cities.

15 And I wil execute a vengeãce in my wrath, and indignation vpon the heathen, such as they haue not heard.

The vi. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkind. 8 What maner of sacrifices do please God.

1 HEarken ye nowe what the Lord saith, Arise thou, and contende with the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare, O ye mountaines, the Lords quarel, and mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarrell against his people, and will pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieued thee? giue me answere.

4 *I haue brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, & deliuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee. Exod. 15.16.

5 Remember, O my people, *what Balac the king of Moab hath deuised against thee, and what answere that Balaam ỹ sonne of Beor gaue him, from Sethin vnto Galgal, that ye may knowe the righteousnesse of the Lord. Num. 22.5. and 23.7.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lorde, and bowe my selfe to the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calues of a yere olde?

7 Hath ỹ Lord a pleasure in many thousands of rammes, or innumerable streames of oyle? shall I giue my first borne for mine offences, and the fruite of my body for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee, [namely,] to do iustly, to loue mercy, and to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lords voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shall bee saued considereth thy name: hearken what is your rodde, and heare him that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and ỹ scant measure, which is abominable?

11 Should I iustifie the false ballances, and the bagge of deceitfull weightes?
12 For the riche men thereof are full of cruelties, and the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lyes, and haue deceytfull tongues in their mouthes.
13 Therefore I will take in hande to punish thee, and to make thee ‖ desolate because of thy sinnes.
‖ Or, sicke.
14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue inough, yea, thou shalt bring thy selfe downe in the mids of thee, thou ‖ shalt flee, but not escape, and those that thou wouldest saue, will I deliuer to the swoorde.
‖ Or, the women shall conceiue, but not bring forth, & whom they bring forth wil I deliuer to the sworde. Deut. 28. 38. agge. 1. 6.
15 *Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out Oliues, but oyle shalt thou not haue, to anoynt thy selfe with oyle: thou shalt treade out sweete Must, but thou shalt drinke no wine.
16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Amri, and all the customes of the house of Ahab, yee walke in their counsailes: therefore will I make thee waste, and cause thy inhabiters to bee hissed at, and ye shall beare the reproch of my people.

The vii. Chapter.

1 A complaint of the little number of the righteous. 5 Againſt the trueth ought wee not to holde with our greateſt friends. 14 The proſperitie of the Church.

1 WO is mee, I am become as the Sommer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there are no mo grapes to eate, yet woulde I faine with all my heart haue of the best fruite.
2 There is not a godly man vpō earth, there is not one righteous among men, they all lie in waite for blood, and euerie man hunteth his neighbour as with a net.
3 To make good the euill of their hands, the prince & the iudge [a] asketh a reward, therefore the great man speaketh out of the corruption of his soule, and so they wrappe it vp.
[a] Both the prince & iudges for gaine peruert iustice, and so þ mightie & the rich escape vnpunished, though they commit grieuous crimes.
4 The best of them [is] as a brier, the most righteous of them is [sharper] then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmē [and] of thy visitation cōmeth: then shalbe their confusion.
5 Let no man beleeue his friend, nor put his confidence in ‖ his brother: keepe the doore of thy mouth from her that lyeth in thy bosome.
‖ Or, an elder.
6 For the sonne dishonoureth his father, the daughter riseth against her mother, þ daughter in law agaynst her mother in lawe: *and a mans foes are eue they of his owne household.

7 Neuertheless, I will looke vp vnto the Lord, I will paciently abide God my Sauiour: my God shall heare me.
8 O thou enemie of mine, reioyce not at my fall, for I shall rise againe: and though I sit in darkenesse, yet the Lord is my light.
9 I will beare the wrath of the Lorde, for I haue offended him, till hee sit in iudgement vpō my cause, and see that I haue right: then will he bring me forth to the light, and I shal see his righteousnesse.
10 She that is mine enemie, shall looke vpon it, and bee confounded, which nowe sayeth, Where is the Lord thy God? mine eyes shall beholde her when she shalbe troden downe as the myre in the streetes.
11 This is the day that thy walles shall bee built, this day shall driue farre away the [b] decree.
b Thou shalt no more be subiect to the forrain tyrannie of the Babylonians.
12 And at that time shall they come vnto thee from Assur, from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes, euen vnto the riuer: from the one sea to the other, and from mountaine to mountaine.
13 Notwithstanding, the land must be wasted, because of them that dwel therein, and for the fruits of their owne imaginations.
14 Therefore feede thy people with thy rodde, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwelt desolate in the wood) let them feede vpon the [c] mount of Carmel: in Basan, and Gilead, as aforetime.
c That the people may returne out of the captiuitie of Babylon, & enioy the land of promise, as they did before.
15 Marueilous things wil I shew thee, like as when thou camest out of the land of Egypt.
16 This shall the Heathen see, and be ashamed for all their power: so that they shall lay their hand vpon their mouth, and their eares shall be deafe.
17 They shall licke the dust like a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in their holes: they shall be afraide of the Lorde our God, and they shall feare thee.
18 *Who is such a God as thou, that pardonest wickednesse, and forgiuest the offences of the remnant of thine heritage? He keepeth not his wrath for euer: for his delite is to haue compassion.
Acts 10. 43.
19 He shall turne againe, and be merciful to vs, he shall put downe our wickednesses, and cast all our sinnes into the bottome of the sea.
20 Thou shalt performe to Jacob thy trueth, and thy mercie to Abraham, like as thou hast sworne vnto our fathers in olde time.

The ende of the prophecie of Micheas.

The

The booke of the Prophet Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

a The Ninivites were spared, because they repented at ẏ preaching of Jonas: but afterwardes they returned to their former wickednesse, therefore God threatneth them by this Prophet.

1 The burden of a Niniue: the booke of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 God is iclous, and the Lord auengeth, the Lorde auengeth and hath wrath in store: the Lorde taketh vengeance of his aduersaries, and keepeth wrath in store for his enemies.

3 The Lorde is slowe to anger, and [also] of great power, and in no case will acquite [the wicked,] the Lords dealing is with blustring tempest and whirlewinde, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and dryeth it vp, all the riuers also he maketh drye: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the spring also of Libanus is destroyed.

‖Or, for him.

5 The mountaines quake ‖ at his power, and the hilles are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the worlde, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stande before his wrath? or who can rise vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out like fire, yea, the rocks cleaue in pieces at his might.

7 The Lord is gracious, a strong holde in the day of trouble, & knoweth them ẏ trust in him.

8 But with an ouerrunning flood he will destroy her place, and will pursue his enemies with darkenesse.

b Meaning Ninive, and the Assyrians.

9 What imagine b ye against the Lorde? he maketh an vtter destruction? ye shall not be troubled twise.

10 For though they be as thornes folden one in another, & as drunkardes in their banket, yet shall they be deuoured vp as very dry stubble.

11 There came out of thee such as thought euil against the Lord, such as gaue wicked cõsel.

12 Thus sayth the Lord, Though ye be in concord, and also many, yet shal ye be cut downe, and passe: and [though] I haue afflicted thee, yet will I trouble thee no more.

13 And nowe I will breake off his yoke from thee, and I will breake thy bondes in sunder.

14 The Lord also hath giuen a commandemẽt touching thee, that there shall be no more ofspring of thy name: from the house of thy God I will cut off the carued & moulten image, I wil make [it] thy graue, for thou art vile.

Esa. 52.7. rom. 10.15.

15 * Behold vpon the mountaines the feete of him that bringeth good tydings, ẏ preacheth peace: keepe thy festiuall dayes, O Juda, pay thy vowes: for the wicked shal hereafter passe no more thorow thee, he is vtterly cut off.

The ii. Chapter.

He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans against the Assyrians.

1 The destroier is come vp before thy face, keepe thy fort, see to [thy] way, strengthen [thy] loynes, encrease [thy] strength mightily:

2 For the Lord restoreth againe the glorious estate of Jacob, as [also] the glorious estate of Israel: for spoylers haue spoyled them, and haue waited their branches.

3 The shield of his valiant souldiers [is] dyed redde, his captaines of warre are cladde with skarlet: the charet [is compassed] with flaming torches in the day of his expedition, and the Fyre staues are drenched in poyson.

4 The charets shall rage in the streetes, they shal make a terrible noyse in the broad wayes, to looke to like [flaming] cressets, shooting as lightning.

5 He shall remember his notable souldiers, they shal stumble in going, they shal hasten to the wall, the couering fence is prepared.

6 The riuer gates are opened, and the palace dissolued.

a The name of the queene of ẏ Assyrians, so called, because she stoode by her husband the king.

7 a Huzab is brought forth captiue, made to ascend [into the charets,] her handmaydens also leading [one another] as in the voyce of doues, knocking vpon their breastes.

8 Yea, many a day Niniue was as a pond ful of water, yet [nowe] they flee: Stande ye, stand ye, and no man looketh backe.

9 Take your spoyle of siluer, take your spoyle of golde: for there is no ende of riches, and her treasure passing all treasure.
